Labour Unrest

BRITISH NEWSPAPERS GIVE CONSIDERABLE SPACE TO THE AMERICAN LABOUR CRISIS.

A PARALLEL

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Oct 27.—The morning newspapers give a vast amount of space to the American labour crisis, and parallels are drawn with the present situation across the Atlantic and industrial events in Great Britain since the first of the year.

"The general resemblance is remarkable," says the Chronicle, which suggests some profound underlying rhythm in the causation of the labour unrest. "We fear President's illness will make it extremely difficult for him to meet the demands of the situation."

The Daily News remarks upon the coincidence of the strike in the American bituminous field, which was announced on the same day that the British miners began their campaign for the nationalisation of the mines at a meeting held at Manchester.

"As far as American workers are aiming at a reasonable improvement in the standard of living, this coincidence is a satisfactory one," says the newspaper. "The imminence of the Labour Conference at Washington has a direct effect upon this object, as the Conference will be able to recognise the urgency of the problems and evolve some policy tending to its solution."

The Labour organ, The Herald, says:

"The second industrial revolution is now taking place. The first deprived a man of his individuality, and made him part of a machine to manufacture profits. The second is an organised co-operative movement to restore individuality to ensure a man the results of his own labour and of his master's machine. That is the explanation of the American unrest and of a similar unrest in our country."

PECULIAR ACCIDENT ON GEORGE STREET

TWO WOMEN AND AN AUTOMOBILE PARTICIPATED.

Another accident took place at the corner of Charlotte and George street yesterday afternoon at 4.30 when Mrs. Herbert Johnston, Proprietoress of the King George Hotel, attempted to evade two women who were holding a consultation in the middle of the road.

Mrs. Johnston was driving east on Charlotte street and was turning north on George street, when the accident occurred. Mrs. Johnston blew her horn but the two consultants became flustered, dodged and made a jump for the sidewalk. Mrs. Johnston tried to avoid running over a little child, with the result that she ran over a hanging shoeface, which made one of the ladeis lose her balance, precipitating her over the curb.

Her injuries are not serious and Dr. A Moir is attending her.

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Any optician can buy glasses of a certain kind; so can an artist buy paints of any color. But, glasses don't help you unless they fit, nor paints make a picture unless properly applied. Do not take unnecessary chances with your eyesight. Our lenses are the best made, they are perfectly fitted properly adjusted, you always look well in them. You take no chances in consulting W. H. TEXT OF STATEMENT FROM LABOUR PARTY

HAMILTON, October 27.—The text of the official statement from the Independent Labour Party, meeting here on Saturday, as given out by Walter Rollo, follows:

"This meeting of the elected and defeated candidates of the Independent Labour Party, with the Provincial Executive of the I. L. P., has unanimously decided to co-operate with the United Farmer of Ontario in the formation of a Government in the Provincial Legislature, and to that end it was decided to appoint a committee of two elected I. L. P. candidates, Mayor M. M. McBride of Brantford and Walter Rollo of Hamilton, to confer with the committee of nine appointed by the U. F. O.

"The object of such conference is to draft a programme of legislative action agreeable to both the I. L. P. and U. F. O. members. The programme agreed upon by the joint committee will be submitted to the elected and defeated candidates of the Labour and U. F. O. groups at Toronto on Wednesday, 29th October, for their endrosation, after which the programme will be submitted to a joint meeting of elected I. L. P. and U. F. O. candidates at the headquarters of the United Farmers, 130 King Street East, Toronto, at 4 p.m."

LABOURITES WILL JOIN HANDS WITH FARMERS

POLICY OF NEW PARTY WILL BE TO INTRODUCE PROGRESSIVE LEGISLATION.

WORK TOGETHER

HAMILTON, Oct. 27.—That there is strong feeling among the members-elect of the Ontario Legislature as representatives of the Independent Labour Party in favour of joining hands with the United Farmers of Ontario in the formation of a Government for the Province was indicated by the statement issued to the press by the Labour men on Saturday. It was at the conclusion of a conference held in the afternoon at the call of Walter H. Rollo, M.P.P.-elect for West Hamilton and president of the Ontario Labour Party, that this sentiment was made known.

As a result of Saturday's gathering an effort will be made to find some common ground on which the Labour Party and the United Farmers can get together for the purposes of taking over the reins of government. To this end a committee appointed by Saturday's Labour Conference will confer in Toronto on Tuesday with a committee representing the U. F. O., and both committees will report back to gatherings of their respective parties to be held the following day in Toronto.

Mr. Joseph Marks.

"A U. F. O.-Labour coalition is a fact. Its policy, as soon as the Government has been formed and the Legislature can meet, will be to introduce progressive legislation and force Liberal and Conservative alike to toe the mark and show where they stand."

Such was the announcement made by Mr. Joseph T. Marks, Provincial organiser of the Independent Labour Party, at a meeting in the Labour Temple. The assembly hall was well filled in response to an advertisement that Mr. Walter Rollo of Hamilton, Leader of the Labour group, would speak. Mr. Marks' announcement was greeted with cheers.

Can Work Together.

"It is an actual fact that Labour is taking part in the formation of a Government.

"There is much talk about the Farmer and Labour man not being able to work together. However, you notice that this opinion does not come from our side of the House. If you could see the broad spirit exhibited by the committee from the U. F. O. you could come to the conclusion that we can work well together. When this Government is formed, Grit and Tory alike will have to toe the mark and show where they stand."

Mr. Marks said that the U. F. O. did not expect that they would elect as many representatives as they did, or be in a position to take over the reins of government. They had decided, however, that they are big enough to take over the government.

A Fair Proposition.

"When we met them," proceeded Mr. Marks, "they made us a fair and square proposition. They were generous and liberal in every way. They declared that the only party with which they could enter into an agreement was the Labour Party. They declared that they regarded Labour as a part of their movement, and expressed the opinion that if given an opportunity the coalition would earn for itself the goodwill of the electors."

MAJOR DUNCAN SENDS INVITATION TO PRINCE

H. R. H. Prince of Wales, who is now in Kingston, has been invited by the City Council to visit Peterborough on Wednesday. A wire was sent to Rear Admiral Sir Lionel Halsey, Chief of the Prince's Staff, and a reply was expected hourly this afternoon.

KING FLIES OVER OLD NEW YORK

KING ALBERT AND PARTY ARE DELIGHTED WITH THEIR VISIT TO THE STATES.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (By Don. E. Chamberlain). — King Albert and Queen Elizabeth may visit the South, it was learned to-day. The King has expressed a strong desire to go as far as Richmond, Va., after he has concluded his stay in Washington.

J. N. Nye, State Department representative in charge of the King's tour, said the Government had been requested to complete arrangements for the trip through Virginia to see tobacco in its various stages of growth and manufacture.

The King was expected to "kill a little time" by flying over New York before his party started for Washington at 10.55 o'clock to-day.

Last night the King visited John D. Rockefeller, Sr., at Tarrytown, N.Y. The visit was clothed in secrecy, and nothing was forthcoming from the King as to what transpired.

King Albert and Queen Elizabeth are so delighted with their experiences in America that they are coming back for another visit. This was learned to-day on the authority of Countess De Caraman-Chimay, the Queen's lady-in-waiting, who said, in speaking of the Queen's reluctance to leave at this time, that "she will be back in a few years."

COMMENDED THE VICTORY LOAN

'OWE NO MAN ANYTHING BUT TO LOVE ONE ANOTHER."

The Victory Loan was commended to the congregation of Trinity Church by Rev. F. E. Malott in his sermon on Sunday evening. The text was, "Owe no man any thing, but to love one another. The subject was "Debt," and Rev. Mr. Malott pointed out that subscribing to the Loan the people of Canada were helping to pay the war debt. He said that the fact that 71 per cent. of the country's debt was held in Canada was significant, and a matter for congratulation.

During the course of his sermon, the preacher referred to a number of forms of dishonesty, and touched on the unrest throughout the land. He said it was dishonest for an employer not to give adequate wages for adequate labour, and that it was equally dishonest for the employee not to give his best effort in return for just and fair wages. Love between men was, however, the only thing that would bring an end to the labour unrest now felt all over the world.

Echoes of Victory

A CLAMOROUS ANNOUNCEMENT SWEPT OVER THE CITY SHARP AT NINE O'CLOCK THIS MORNING.

CITY TAKES $75,000

Plenty of punch and pep was introduced into Peterborough's Victory Loan campaign, when it opened this morning at nine o'clock, to the accompaniment of wild hurrahs from the "big bens" at the Canadian General Electric and Quaker Oats plants, "Picolo Pete" at other manufacturing plants, the People's Chimes and the Fire Department all acclaim their quota, and a few minutes later the canvassers were out and at it.

Peterborough, city and county, is asked to subscribe $1,000,000, the amount being equally divided.

A few minutes after the campaign was officially opened, the first large subscription was received, in the form of an order for seventy-five thousand dollars' worth of Victory Bonds, the subscribers being the Peterborough City Trust Commission. The announcement was received with cheers. The City Trust Commissioners, evidently know a good thing, and they have set a fine example for the citizens.

As the morning progressed, very encouraging reports were received, and it was intimated that further large subscriptions would be reported before nightfall.

Just a word in appreciation of the efforts being put forth by the business houses of the city. Everybody is willing to do everything possible to make sure that Peterborough will be up at the top. The merchants are going to considerable pains to decorate their stores and show windows, and their efforts will become more in evidence as the campaign grows.

The banks have also entered the campaign with the determination to see the job is properly finished, and they are prepared to make loans of 98 per cent. to customers who wish to invest in Victory Bonds.

The factories, too, are out to make a bid for the honors. When 75 per cent. of the employees of any concern subscribe to bonds to the extent of ten per cent. of the annual payroll the firm gets the Principal Allies' honor flag. When 90 per cent. of the employees subscribe, a crown is added to the flag; when 100 per cent., two crowns. When subscriptions are to the extent of 12 1-2 per cent. of the payroll an extra crown is given, and when subscriptions mount to 15 per cent. of the payroll two extra crowns are granted.

STATES PURCHASE BRITISH DIRIGIBLE

Will Cost U. S. Government Over Two Million Dollars.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. — An early closing of the contract for the purchase by the United States' Navy Department of the British rigid airship, R-38, the largest airship in the world, now under construction in England, is expected, it was stated at the Department to-day. Two and a half million dollars were appropriated by Congress for the purchase of this airship and for the training of pilots.

MAYOR COMMENDS THE VICTORY LOAN

Peterborough, Oct. 27, 1919.
W. H. Bradburn, Esq.,
Chairman Peterboro County,
Victory Loan Campaign.

Dear Mr. Bradburn:

On this opening day of the Victory Loan campaign let me wish your organization all success. I shall subscribe to the Loan, believing it to be the patriotic duty and also good business. I feel that the citizens of Peterborough will respond generously and that the objective will be [illegible].

[illegible] the Prince of Wales' flag and crest will be a fine advertisement for this city. We need all the notice we can get in these days when big American industries are making a critical inspection of the most prosperous and wide-awake cities of Canada with an eye to locating branches in the Dominion. We must be at the top.

I can assure you that the campaign has the best wishes of every member of the City Council.

Yours faithfully,
George H. Duncan, Mayor.

WOOLSTOCK FACTORY FIRE ALMOST A COMPLETE LOSS

SMALL BUT FLOURISHING INDUSTRY IN ASHBURNRAM GAVE FIRE DEPARTMENT A STUBBORN FIGHT THIS MORNING—THREATENED NEARBY STORES.

HAD SPREAD RAPIDLY

Within an hour this morning the busy Woolstock Facory at 62 Hunter Street, Ashburnham, owned by Alexander Stewart, was reduced to an ugly mess of burned and sodden rags and charred timbers by a stubborn fire that also caused extensive damage to the building and for a time threatened the closely adjoining Maple Leaf Hotel. Mr. Stewart was slightly burned about the head and hands in his efforts to check the flames.

The fire started in the picking room at the rear of the building where rags and other cloth materials were pulled apart and made into woolstock that is used for shoddy and other purposes. This morning the machine was working on old cotton and the air in the room was heavy with a fine dust that arose from the machine.

Thought It Was Overcome.

An employee named Babcock was operating the machine. When he first discovered the fire, shortly after 10 o'clock, he turned an emergency hose on to it and managed to extinguish it. He then started the machine again, but before it had caught up its speed flame burst from the blower, which served to blow the dust into the open air, and in a moment the whole room was ablaze. Apparently the fire had continued in the blower, unobserved by Babcock. His hair and moustache were singed as he rushed into the yard. In a moment the flames had spread to the upper floor and before the Fire Department arrived the whole building was gushing smoke and flames from the roof and every window. The motor truck was delayed in the long run by way of the Smith street bridge.

Fire in Full Possession.

By that time there was no hope of saving the plant, and Chief Grange confined his efforts to the flooding of the building in order to save the nearby shops. The roof of the Maple Leaf Hotel, owned by Mr. George Lipsett, caught fire and broke into the interior, causing slight damage. The firemen turned two lines of hose onto the roof and used the chemical engine from the inside, the fire in the factory proved exceedingly stubborn. It had spread from one end of the building to the other and found a ready fuel in the stock of rags and other textile refuse.

Caused by a Spark.

It was stated that it was nearly fifteen minutes after the fire broke out before the Department arrived, but this was explained by the long route the motor truck had to travel because of the closing of Hunter Street bridge to heavy traffic. The origin of the fire is believed to have been a spark in the picking machine which, it was said, was consuming part of an old couch that probably contained pieces of metal. It was believed that a spark from the machine was sufficient to set off the inflammable cotton dust with which the air was surcharged.

Chief Grange said that Mr. Stewart should make some provision for separating the picking room from the rest of the factory, and it was also remarked that when operations are resumed the building occupied by Mr. Stewart should be at safe distance from other houses. The Chief pointed out that this morning's fire illustrated the need of better fire protection for Ashburnham than can be supplied under the present conditions. The factory gave employment to three men. This was its third fire, but the others were not serious. The building is owned by Mr. E. R. Wilson, who formerly used it for the Peterboro Lubricating Company.

CREDIT ELECTION OF FARMERS' MAN

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 27. — Eleventh hour forecast credits the election of O. R. Gould, the Assiniboia farmers' candidate, by an overwhelming majority, although Hon. W. T. Motherwell is maintaining his strenuous campaign up to the last moment.

The riding contains 107 polling divisions, and few towns of any size.

While returns should be received from most points on Monday night, some from outlying polling places may be delayed.

THE FARMERS ARE NOT ANTAGONISTIC

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO WORK UP STRIFE BETWEEN FARMERS AND TOWNSPEOPLE

(Special to The Examiner.)

CORNWALL, Oct. 27.—The last gun in the fight for the Glengarry bye-election was fired on Saturday night. General Hervey, the Unionist candidate, addressed a meeting first in Cornwall and then in Milleroches, Avonmore, and Harrison's Corners.

J. Wilfrid Kennedy, the United Farmer candidate, held a meeting in the East-end and another in the Town Hall, and had a great array of talent to support him. J. J. Morrison, of Toronto, Provincial Secretary of the U. F. O., was to have been the headliner, but was unable to come. A. A. Powers, of the Farmers' Sun, came in his stead, and addresses were also delivered by R. J. McMillan, of Seaforth, a Provincial director of the U. F. O., Mr. Lavergne of Alexandria, who spoke in French, and Mr. Kennedy.

Mr. McMillan asked for support for the national house cleaning. After that was attained, "we would have national housekeeping," he said. "One Government had been turned out last Monday," and he appealed for assistance in turning another out Monday, as the latter was more badly needed than the former.

Mr. Kennedy said there was no antagonism between the farmer and the townspeople, and expressed regret that efforts were being made to create it.

Mr. Powers went extensively into figures to show that the professional man predominated in the House of Commons, and in every Legislature in the Dominion. They did not want to govern, he said, but they did want recognition.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE AS SOLDIERS' HOME

In view of the stand taken by some of the newly elected members of the Provincial House and the Toronto press, it is interesting to note that during the recent election campaign, Mr. R. R. Hall frequently said in his speeches: "I would build two wings to the Lieutenant-Governor's mansion. I would give it an angel's touch. I would turn it into a home or an hospital for the maimed or diseased soldier."

It will be remembered that during the election of 1914, Mr. Hall denounced his Mansion of Folly in unmeasured the mansion of folly in unmeasurexempt on the part of the Conservative government to encourage the millionaire to ape "the Lordling's pomp," instead of endowing hospitals and homes to relieve suffering and want.

(United Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 27. — Officials of the United Mine Workers of America to-day stood pat on their strike call for next Saturday.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the Union, on his arrival at his home here from Washington, stated that the situation was unchanged by the appeal of President Wilson to cancel the strike order.

NARROWLY ESCAPED DEATH WHEN HOUSE BURNED TO GROUND

CHARLES HEALEY WAS AWAKENED BY NEIGHBOUR WHO SAW REFLECTION OF FLAMES.

The home of Charles Healey, 133 Woodbine Avenue, Ashburnham, was burned to the ground on Sunday morning, between three and four o'clock. Healey saved only his working clothes and was lucky to escape with his life. The reflection of the flame awakened Mr. L. Coughlin in a neighboring house. Coughlin immediately gave the alarm and when Healey was aroused the flames had a fatal hold of the house. It was impossible to save any of the furniture or the personal belongings of the occupant except his working clothes. The building was a frame structure and was situated nearly 1,800 feet from the nearest hydrant. The Fire Department were helpless and could give no aid. The house was valued at $1,000 and was insured for that sum. It was stated that Healey was to be married in the near future and had newly furnished the house. He had [illegible] the fire originated. He and his father were together until eleven o'clock on Saturday night. They had a hardwood fire in the stove. Healey had no idea of how the fire could have developed between that hour and three o'clock.

The Coming of Siam.

Strangers with an eye to business are more frequent in Siam than they were before the war, and are likely to be actively engaged in studying a country whose merchants now see their way to escape from a trade with Germany that was far from satisfactory. Before the war Siam, whose 9,000,000 people have practically no manufactures of their own, dealt chiefly with Germany. Conditions had given the Germans what was almost a monopoly of Siamese trade, and the fact had been taken advantage of to send the country merchandise of such inferior grade that Germany was there said to consider Siam a dumping ground for goods that could not be sold anywhere else. Larger than the combined area of Belgium, Greece, Portugal, Montenegro, Cuba, Hayti, and Panama, Siam remained commercially an unknown country to nearly all the rest of the world, although Barnum had once made the name temporarily famous in America by his advertisements of the white elephant. Nevertheless the present King of Siam had gone to Europe for his education, had become an influence for good in the Government of a nation of industrious and peace-loving people, had shown wisdom in securing able men for official positions, and was introducing modern ideas and methods throughout the country. Siam, in fact, has been for some time preparing, although perhaps without fully realizing it, for the wider international acquaintanceship that now follows the war, and is visible in the presence of business representatives from nations that five years ago gave no thought whatever to the possibilities of trade relations.

See Him as He stands before Pilate, His garments stained with tears and with blood, and yet a King—"For this purpose was I born that I might witness to the truth." He did not witness to the truth because He was a King, but because He witnessed to the truth He was a King. He borrowed His ideas from no man; He stood alone among the prophets. Moses said, "Thus saith the Lord"; others said, "The word of the Lord came unto me"; but He spoke as if His own eyes had looked upon eternal things. He created nothing; He simply witnessed to truth, or told the world of things already existing. To kill Him would alter no fact, destroy no truth. To burn the map of Canada does not affect Canada. To destroy all the Bibles in the world would not destroy one single truth. The map of Canada created nothing, the Bible created nothing. Each is only a revelation of things already created. So is the life of Jesus. He was a witness. He saw truth everywhere. He told men to look at the sower, the shepherd, the husbandman, the mustard seed, the lily, the leaven that a woman took, the sparrow that fell to the earth, and He revealed to them the truth He saw. He saw God and truth everywhere and in everything. "Blessed are the pure in heart," He said, "for they shall see God." He wanted men to look and see it, and to believe it, not because He said it, but because it was there, because it existed, and because it was true. Heaven and earth migh pass, but with Him an existing truth was eternal. All real success in anything depends upon being true to truth. The farmer that sows his grain cannot make it grow. Sowing the grain does not make the sun shine nor the rain fall; but, knowing that the sun will shine and the rain fall, he sows and reaps a harvest—"the substance of things hoped for." The carpenter must obey the law of the plumb-line and the square or his building will fall.

Yes, Christ was a King, because He witnessed to truth. Every man who witnesses to truth and tells the world a new thing is a king in the realm of truth. Every man in some sense is original and sees some things no one ever saw before. Men are interpreters between God and men, and between men and men. They are here in this world to learn, to look, to listen, to report what they see and hear; to be Josephs, interpreting Pharoah's dreams; to be Philips, reading truth correctly for others; to be Jonathans, strengthening their David's hands in God. Water ran downhill and light was reflected and refracted before Newton told the world the reason; he learned himself and reported his observation. The earth went round the sun before Galileo said so. There was as much electricity in the world when Adam was here as there is now, but Edison has told us what Adam failed to tell us. Edison, Galileo, and Newton witnessed to the truth, each in his own realm; and though they never sat on thrones, yet in the realm never sat on thrones, yet in the eyes of their Maker they are kings, and in the realm of truth they rule the minds of men. If we but look and learn and tell to others what we see, we can all rule somewhere — every mother in her home, every boy among his playmates, every teacher in his school, every preacher among his people. What a privilege! What a duty! Every inventor, every discoverer, every reformer, every genius, every original mind of history who has ever witnessed to truth and told the world something new, is in a real sense a king. Jesus witnessed to truth, and lived truth, and was Himself truth, and to Him has been given a name above every name, and "His throne is prepared in the heavens and His kingdom ruleth over all." He made of His disciples witnesses, witnesses to truth, and in the truest sense they have sat on the twelve thrones of Israel for two thousand years, reigning as kings and priests before God.

Now to do this a man must necessarily tread the winepress alone. Many geniuses and inventors and reformers have been thought to be crazy. When Watt got his first idea of the power of steam he also got his ears boxed for fooling with the kettle. When Stevenson told the House of Parliament in England he could use steam in locomotion they laughed at him in derision and drove him out. Morse, who gave us the telegraph, and Fulton, the steamboat, were both thought to be fools by those who knew them.

Look at poor Columbus. No one believed in him or in his mission. From throne to throne in Europe he tells his story, until almost broken-hearted he at last presents his case to Isabella of Spain, who, more out of sympathy for him than because of any faith in his mission, gives him three ships. See the spectators as they laugh at him as he leaves the shores of the old world. Weeks and months pass, but there is no sign of land. Then his crew mutiny and threaten to bind him for a fool and take him back to Europe. But he cries, "There is land over the western wave, give me yet three days." And for the next three days we see him standing on the forecastle of his ship. At midnight of the third day he shouts, "Land ahead," and he gives the race a new world. But he had to tread the winepress alone to do it; Paul might have added, in the eleventh of Hebrews, if he were writing it to-day, "By faith Columbus discovered America"; for it was as truly an act of faith as any of the deeds of sacred story.

Yes, a man must believe in himself and tread his winepress alone if he would witness to truth and give the world a new thing. There is a great difference between the forces of a combined Protestantism and the heroism of a Luther; between the forces of organized Methodism and the brave Wesley; and a vast difference between the united forces of Christianity to-day and the heroic and lonely Jesus. How pathetic the words, "He came unto His own and His own received Him not." Behold Him weeping over the city He came to redeem. The seventy leave Him; turn to the twelve He cries, "Will ye also go? Will you leave me too?"

will not always find like Joseph's brethren, your coin returned to you in your sack. You may find that the price of being true to God and to yourself will be the cross, not success, for it takes less time in this world to become rich than to become heavenly-minded. Conflicts you will have. There are greater battlefields than Waterloo, and you may often cry, "Would God, night, or Blucher would come!" But you live in your heavenly Father's world, therefore be at home and learn like Job to say, "My Redeemer," and trust your all to Him who alone can save, who alone can deliver. Your one duty in this world is to be true—true to God, true to yourself, and true to your own convictions. Do this and you will always be about your "Father's business." You may sometimes have to stand alone, but remember truth is eternal: and every time you are true yourself and true to truth you are building within you that house not made with hands, and laying a stone in the temple of your God.

Nothing useless is or low,
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise
Time is with materials filled;
Our to-days and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these,
Leave no yawning gaps between;
Think not, because no man sees,
Such things will remain unseen.

FRENCH MINISTER MAY DEMAND KAISER.

THE HAGUE, Oct. 24. — Regarding the statement appearing in the Chicago Tribune's Paris edition that the newly appointed French Minister to the Hague, Charles Benoist, who will arrive here in a few days, will bring the demand for the extradition of the ex-Kaiser to the Netherlands government, your correspondent has reason to believe that should the demand be made the representative of the French government at The Hague would present the note as from the President of the Peace Conference in Paris to the Netherlands government.

LONDON.—Sir Edward Penton, who throughout thewar acted as director of the Army Boot Department at Cordwainers' Hall, Cannon street, states that the department handled over 52,000,000 pairs of marching boots, without taking into account such supplies as field boots for the cavalry, boots for the flying corps, for munition workers, Q.M.A.A.C., W.R.A.F., and many other patterns.

In his experience shoes on the riveted system had proved the superiority of their construction, while the welted showed themselves to be the least capable of standing the strain.

In the early part of 1916 there was a demand for 7,000,000 pairs for Russia, 4,000,000 of these being the long Cossack boots, and they were all delivered in time.

All for Canada Canada for all

Canadians! This is a call to National Service—
The Victory Loan 1919 which opens to-day.

YOU are citizens of no mean country.

Canada is a fair, free land.

Canada is your country.

Canada—now—has need to borrow from you—Lend:

Lend without restraint of politics or fine distinctions of creed or party.

The leaders of the political parties endorse the Loan.

It is CANADA that asks:

And why—

To clean up the last of the War's commitments and expenses;

To establish beyond all question the capacity and credit of your country;

To care for the wounded and the maimed soldier;

To finance the bonus of the returned soldier already paid;

To enable the fruits of Victory to be garnered;

To ensure the prosperity of you, her citizens.

The guns of war are silent—but they are not yet cool.

The Victory Loan 1919 is a War Loan.

Canada's book of war is gloriously written—make this, the closing chapter, a worthy one. The responsibility is yours. LEND!

LEND! LEAD!

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, OCTOBER 27TH, 1919.

FASHION NOTE.

Victory Loan Buttons are being generally worn.

ONE GOOD REASON.

Peterboro industries are one good reason for investing in Victory Bonds.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Eventually, why not now? Buy Victory Bond.

A QUICK CHANGE.

"Ain't it funny what a difference just a few hours make?" Raymond Hitchcock used to sing. A few days ago farmer orators were declaring that there were only seventeen agriculturists in the Legislature. And now the people of Ontario are waiting for the farmers to tell them the name of the new Premier.

THE VICTORY LOAN.

The excitement and war-time fervor that distinguished the other Victory Loan campaigns, are absent from the drive which commenced this morning, yet the necessity for investing liberally in the loan remains as great as ever. Every reason that was given for buying Victory Bonds in previous campaigns, applies equally to this one. Canada needs many millions of dollars to complete the work of demobilizing her army and of paying pensions and taking care of her disabled soldiers. She needs many millions more to extend credits to the nations who can only purchase Canadian goods on credit and upon whose purchases the industries of Canada, to a considerable extent, will depend. The money that is needed can only come from one source, the Canadian people, so that it is as much a patriotic duty to buy Victory Bonds now as it was during the days of the war. And putting the question of duty on one side there are few better investments that can be made. The interest rate is 5½%, and the whole resources of the Dominion of Canada stand back of the Loan.

Peterboro won an honour flag in the last drive. It should be the resolve of every citizen to see that the city makes an equally successful showing in the present campaign.

A SOLDIER GROUP.

The announcement that the newly-elected members of the Legislature who are returned soldiers, may unite to form a soldiers' group in the House, is an interesting feature of the present political crisis. There are nineteen of them, altogether, running in rank from Sergt.-Major McNamara up to Briadier-Generals Hogarth and Ross, and although some of them were elected as Liberals, some as Conservatives, and still others as United Farmers, there is the common bond of having served overseas to knit them together, and in view of the unusual situation that exists at present, the organization of the nineteen into a compact group might not be a difficult matter. The interests of Ontario's returned soldiers would be more sure of attention with a united body of nineteen veterans to press the claims of the men who fought, and the returned men throughout the province would undoubtedly be delighted to hear that the suggested union of the soldier members had become a reality.

PROTECT THE FISH.

In an intrview with the Examiner, which appears elsewhere in this issue, Tris Speaker, the famous American League ball player, and manager of the Cleveland club, touches on a subject that has been attracting the attention of a number of local citizens recently, the necessity of better protection against illegal fishing at Rice Lake and in the other fishing grounds in the Peterborough district. Mr. Speaker is a keen sportsman and naturally when in the course of a few days' fishing and duck shooting at Rice Lake last week, the party of which he was a member found five nets, all of them with lunge caught in the meshes, he was indignant at this glaring violation of the law. The anglers of the district owe Mr. Speaker a vote of thanks for bringing this matter to the public's attention. The people of Peterborough do not realize what an advantage it is to have splendid fishing facilities so close to their doors, nor do they understand that illegal fishing with nets and spears, especially when the lunge are spawning,is playing havoc, and that in a few years, under the present conditions, there will be few fish to be found. His Worship Mayor Duncan has been discussing the formation of a Fish and Game Protective Association for some time, and now that the question has been put before the public by reason of Mr. Speaker's remarks, the sportsmen of the city and district should be prepared to fall in line and see what steps can be taken to reduce illegal fishing to a minimum.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE.

The appeal of Mr. E. N. McDonld, the newly-elected member for East Peterborough in the Legislature, that the people should have confidenc in the farmers' movement until they have been given a fair chance to show what they can do, is timely and wise. The United Farmers did not expect to have to assume the task of forming a government. The limit of their ambition was to secure a more adequate representation in the Legislature for the agricultural interests. The remarkable turn-over of last week, however, not only swept the Hearst government out of power but left the United Farmers the strongest group numericale in the Legislature. The great task of attempting to organize a government is being undertaken. There are many difficulties in the way. The Farmers have not a majority in the Legislature; many of their members are new to Parliamentary duties. But they are courageously attacking the problem and there is no reason to doubt that they will endeavour to govern the province honestly and well. They will make mistakes, of course; every government has done that, but so long as their regime is actuated by the desire to be fair to the whole people, they will have the support of the province. In the meantime, while the Farmers' movement is still suffering from growing pains and while not even a leader has been selected, the people of Ontario should not be hasty in their judgment. The Farmers must be given a chance.

LONDON TO AUSTRALIA BY AIRPLANE.

The British Air Ministry is nothing if not audacious. Its approval of the Australian project of an airplane race from England to the Antipodes in thirty days and its ready co-operation makes a case in point. It seems to be the British Government habit to encourage the daring always; if men are willing to risk their lives in a fantastic adventure let them do it for the glory of the empire. The flight from England to Australia is such an adventure. Success may crown it, but there is only one chance in a great many that one of the aviators who are soon to take wing will ever reach the goal. The perils in some parts of the route are so great that a man must be a visionary to face them. Doubtless the British bookmaker, who offers odds on everything will make them long against the arrival dead or alive of Captain Howell in his Martinsyde or Captain Matthews in his Sopwith, or Lieutenant Rendle, Lieutenant Williams, Captain Watkins, and iLeutenant Potts in a big Kangaroo, or Lieutenant Douglas, in an Alliance, at the Antipodes.

A flight across the Atlantic we know is feasible, for a British pilot left Newfoundland one Saturday afternoon and arrived in Ireland in time for church the next morning. But no one has since attempted the Atlantic passage without stops, or apparently has any heart for it. On paper it may be shown that with luck, an almost incredible lot of it, a man could fly from London to North Australia. Nowhere is there more than 500 miles of sea to cross, a trifling matter if the barometer is not low; but, what is much worse than 2,000 odd miles of Atlantic, there are vast jungles to traverse. "Between Bandoeng and Port Darwin," says a London despatch, "a distance of 1,750 miles, " (500 miles of sea,) there are no airdromes of any description," and General Barton, who knows his geography, says that, after the aviators leave Calcutta, Burma, the Malay Peninsula and the East Indies "offer only a slight chance of a successful emergency landing in an airplane."

And then there are stretches in Asia Minor, Persia, and Baluchistan where the facilities for flying men must be very limited and the desert and its people are hostile to intruders from the air. Meteorological conditions in Asia, particularly as the Far East is reached, are uncertain and often cruel. These Britishers and Australians will set out with only prospects, no certainties about anything. Whatever preparations have been made at some of the dubious spots on the long route must be tentative and incomplete. Columbus in his caravels did not take a tenth of the risks that these bold air pioneers will have to face. Luck be with them but they will be throwing dice with death!

ESCAPED FOR WEDDING

BRISTOL.— W. Whitefield, the veteran Bristol miners' agent, who recently celebrated his golden wedding, told the story of his marriage and how he escaped to be wed.

"I was in the 98th regiment, stationed at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and was undergoing 'C. B.' for being absent," said he, "To get to my fiancee's house for the wedding I had to scale a wall of the barracks when the sentry was not looking. I walked eight miles in the night and was married the next day. I returned to barracks three days later, and there spent my honeymoon—seven days' pack drill. And I had seven days' pay stopped, too."

E. N. M'DONALD RETURNED HOME

ATTENDED THE U.F.O. MEETING IN TORONTO

E. N. McDonald, M.P.P., the successful Farmers' candidate of East Peterboorugh, has just returned from Toronto, where he has been attending a conference of the members-elect of the United Farmers of Ontario, in the Provincial House. He makes a statement to the electors of both East and West Peterborough to the effect that from his conference in Toronto, he has returned with the opinion that Ontario is safe in the hands of those who will undoubtedly be entrusted with the government of this province for the next four years.

The situation was a peculiar one, inasmuch as the Farmers' party went to the country without a political head, but they will take up the work with humility, realizing all the responsibilities that come with the honour, and will make an honest effort to give this province good government. One of the worst features in the business, social or political life of a country, is lack of confidence, and Mr. McDonald asks that if the people will only have confidence in the new movement, until such times as they are proven incompetent to govern the country, that a great deal of unrest and upheaval of business conditions will be avoided.

Tobacco Habit Dangerous

says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health to-day were it not for the deadly drug, Nicotine. Stop the habit now, before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed, and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning, and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result. (c)

NEIL TELLS BARBARA THAT HE WANTS HER TO GIVE A SMART AFFAIR

CHAPTER CI.

Neil made no reply to my plea for forgiveness and love. I I said no more as I was thoroughly convinced that something very out of the ordinary had happened to make him act as he was doing. It was no simple headache which had brought him home in the middle of the day, something he never had done before. He had been unlike himself for days. It had been obviously an effort for him to him appear natural before his aunt or to join in the conversation. He had been self-centred, absent-minded. Had Frederick's refusal to go in this last deal with him caused others to fall out, and was he worried about that? He had said nothing about economizing, so it could not be money. I had been quietly cutting down our expenses wherever I could. I had finished a complete inventory of everything in the house. I hoped to be able to remain in my beautiful home if we could do so honestly; but I also hoped Neil would be willing to change our manner of living if it were necessary.

Aunt had spoken of ending her visit soon. I hoped she would. She was very observant. Very little escaped her, and she never hesitated to question both Neil and me. I was very fond of her as was Neil; but I could see he resented her questions, that she was beginning to make him nrevous. I wanted her to go, yet I knew I should miss her. Ever since I had invited Mr. and Mrs. Powers and they had sent regrets I had been too depressed over my social success that I had felt I might as well give up entertaining entirely. Aunt and I often had been alone at dinner, and for the evening. If Neil persisted in remaining out, I should be entirely alone after she left. The prospect was not at all alluring.

"We'll give one more dinner before aunt goes," Neil had said to me and while I had not objected, I had made no plans for going on with it. It now recurred to me and I said:

'Shall we give the dinner you spoke of before your aunt leaves?"

"Yes, and invite everyone you know who is anybody. Give a bang up affair." I was surprised at his animation. He had seemed so depressed.

"How many covers?"

"Oh, twelve or fourteen, then have a musicale or dancing or something afterward and invite a lot more. Get Leanord (a florist) to decorate for you. He always does things up brown."

"Bue he is horribly expensive and I thought"—

"I said to make it a bang up affair, didn't I? I don't recall that I mentioned expense."

"Very well I will do my best." Capitulating as usual in spite of all my good resolutions as to economy, etc. Surely if he were in any financial trouble he would not want to give an extravagant affair for his aunt.

"I wish we could have Tearle, but I suppose it is out of the question. But be sure to ask Scott and Thompson. Scott may not come. He is peeved with me, but it won't do any hurt to ask him."

"Very well." I saw he wanted to conciliate Scott. "I passed him the other day, and he almost snubbed me," I volunteered, not telling that I had purposely put myself in his way.

"He did! I don't like that. He must be more put out than I thought. Well, ask him anyway." He rose and began to fuss with some papers. "Frederick is coming up this afternoon. Send him right in here. I told him I should not go back to the office," Neil explained.

"All right dear. I am glad he is coming. He will cheer you up."

"Perhaps," dryly. Someway I couldn't help but think Neil wanted Frederick to do something; to back him up in someway. I so hoped he would see a way to do it. Yet I knew all the time that he would be doing it for me, not for Neil should he interest himself further in Neil's schemes.

"Poor Neil. I wish I could help him," I muttered as I went up to Robert. I was still with him when Mr. Frederick came. But about six o'clock Neil sent for me, and said that Mr. Frederick was going to stay to dinner.

"I am delighted," I said frankly, and I meant it. Neil looked so much brighter, so different from the way he had looked since he came home in the morning that even had I not liked Frederick I should have welcomed him for my husband's sake.

REV. JOHN M'NICHOL OCCUPIED ST. PAUL'S PULPIT ON SUNDAY

TWO HELPFUL SERMONS BY PRINCIPAL OF TORONTO BIBLE TRAINING COLLEGE—THE MORNING SERVICE

The Rev. Principal John McNicol, B.D., of the Toronto Bible Training College, who filled the pulpit of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church yesterday, in the absence of Rev. Robt. Pogue, preached a very helpful sermon at the morning service, taking as his text Exodus 15;23:

"And when they came to Marah, they could not drink of the waters of Marah, for they were bitter," and Exodus 15;27: "And they came to Elim, where there were twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees; and they encamped there by the waters."

Trial and Bitterness.

Rev. Mr. McNicol explained that these two oasis which the people of Israel passed in their exodus from Egypt were symbolical of trial and bitterness and joy and rest. This was the experience of God's people after they had been redeemed and was to-day the experience of God's people.

The Healing Tree.

he Israelites left the bondage of Egypt in exultaion and joy but were compelled to travel through the desert for three days without water. At last they sighted the oasis of Marah but when they reached it their joy turned to disappointment when they found that the waters of the spring were bitter and could not be drunk. They began to murmer, forgetting how the Lord had delivered them from Egypt and brought them safely through the Red Sea. But this readiness to forget God was as common to-day as it was in Israel.

Moses Realized.

Moses realized their need and went directly to God with the matter, showing that in times of trial we should not criticize but rather open our hearts. God showed Moses the healing tree which grew beside the Spring, and which, when dipped in the water, turned it sweet. Likewise, beside our springs of bitterness there grew a healing tree, Mr. McNicol thought.

Word of God.

The speaker then asked what was this tree and answered his question by declaring that is was the Word of God for one thing. In days of trial we had all had the experience of some passage which we had learned, perhaps at our mother's knee coming back to us to strengthen us. Morley, in his "Life of Gladstone" pointed out several such instances in Gladstone's life when Bible passages had come to him in times of stress which helped him to meet the exigiencies of the moment.

Another Healing Tree.

Continuing, Mr. McNicol pointed out that another Tree was the Cross of Jesus Christ. It transformed our bitter experiences into joys. When we had these experiences it merely meant that the Father was chastening us by the paths of trial that we migh be perfected. Those who follow the Cross must suffer. Most of us would say that it was our bitter experiences, our trials, and our sorrows which had really moulded our characters. Through the Valley of the Shadow we passed to the sunshine beyond.

Elim, Place of Rest.

Turning to the consideration of Elim, Mr. McNicol stated that it was the place where Israel obtained joy and rest and that we to-day have many Elims. Life was an alternation of experience. It was like that part of "Pilgrim's Progress" in which Bunyon speaks of going over the Hill of Difficulty of the Palace Beautiful. Elim lay always beyond Marah.

The speaker next pointed out the great Elims in our lives. One of these was the Christian home to which the worker could retire after the day's toil, safe from trial and temptation. We should endeavor to make it still more of an Elim, however.

Anther Elim was the Sabbath Day in which we could lay aside the thoughts and worries of the world and relax. We should be thankful that our country had the best observed Sabbath in the world.

Still another Elim was the Church of God. Here we obtained fellowship such as could not be obtained elsewhere. Here we were able to touch the unseen things and renew our acquaintance with God. No man could keep alive his own sould but needed the assistance of the Church.

And then there was the last Elim, the Holy Jerusalem of our Lord, always ahead of us with its promise of rest for all the world, Mr. McNicol concluded.

THE SEMI-READY REJUVENATED STORE

Since the Thornton Bros. took over the Semi-Ready Store in Peterborough, indications have not been wanting of the rapid expansion of the business here. The store front and window displays have taken on new, bright dress. The backgrounds of the windows have been touched up with a floral and bud effect, which is very unique and out of the ordinary for a clothing store, lending an appearance of quality to the window displays of goods. The windows are dressed attractively. The lay-out reflecting credit to the taste and judgment of the dresser. The store is laid out on the most modern style, and there is a proper place, or case, or bracket for every single article in stock, whether small or large. Glass enclosed cases furnish protection from dust and dirt and soil. The stock just now is large and varied.

Thornton Bros. are thorough believers in advertising, both in the local papers and with attractive signs, the distinctive features of which are strictly in accordance with Semi-Ready good taste and design and harmonize with the tasteful character of smart Semi-ready Clothing.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM GOES TO CHURCH

(BY THE MEMBER HIMSELF)

"This morning I went to hear the Rev. Dr. Patterson of Winnipeg, at the First Baptist Church here. The great convention of the Baptists of all Canada is being held, at which 500 delegates are in attendance. It is especially interesting because of the heroic efforts being made by the party led by Chancellor Wallace and Dr. Patterson to stem the tide that is gradually but surely humanising all Protestant churches. Criticism of the Scripures they regard as especially dangerous since it gives the idea that God guides with regard to them and all else, those who seek Him in spirit and in truth and since it pretends that the truth is only got at by the investigation and final statement of men. Science insists that principles shall square with experience and that practice must do likewise. Religion insists that experience and practice must square with principles since religious principles are of God while science is only of man. That Protestantism is on the brink of ruin on account of the struggle here involved is of course well known. Dr. Patterson sought for some anchor and in the course of his remarks on authority took occasion to state unhesitatingy his great respect for the Roman Catholic church, which he said, instead of being blown about by the average mind (Democracy) to the people, proclaimed to the world: "This is the doctrine of the Catholic Church. You can take it or leave it." This certainly and self-respect on the part of the Roman Catholic Church appealed strongly to him. He further stated that if God kept watch over His people they need not be afraid and look for support in popular movements or parties, as politicians do. The sermon was intended to be a weighty message to the Baptists of Canada at a critical time, and it was. To me, his whole sermon was a protest against those mere people or denominations who would take the daily guidance and protection of the people not at the hands of God at any stage. Either we have faith and complete faith or we have none. Hence biblical criticism is unnecessary to say the least of it and most dangerous in every particular. You know, Mr. Editor, the Methodists have run wild by letting their physical energy carry them away like a runaway horse. The Presbyterians who furnish the thought of modern Protestant theology are fairly stumped out and at a standstill. Their Dods, Adam, Smike, Robertson Smith, etc., etc., have left them in a quandary. Anglicanism has had but one great theological thinker, Canon Driver, and "he's dead." The Baptists have much of the theological-mindedness of the Presbyterians and some of the fury of the Methodists, so instead of being tied up like donkeys to a post like many of the church I most affect hey have got going and none too soon. The attempt of the People to take the principles upon which certain things are founded into their keeping as well as the people's decision concerning them is bound to lead to disaster to those principles. It is the consecration of ignorance and egotism combined and in the last analysis will produce revolution. Dr. Patterson most truly said that if "Christ is the vine and ye are the branches," as the text book said, it was high time people relied more on Christ and less on themselves and their fancy stunts.

J. H. BURNHAM.

Dear Sir:

I find on reflection that I left out a most important observation by Dr. Patterson.

Please scratch out the word "Methodists" and all references to them and their physical energy also my reference to the Anglicans, in one of my sentences, I forget which, but I think it is that in which I refer to the Presbyterians. Put in these words instead: "Dr. Pattterson, however, took occaion to condemn as most dangerous to religion and the church those who would reform the world through the state. This reformation, he said, could be brought about only through the hearts of men and the direct action of the things of God. A state-reformed man was not one of the children of God but one of those who said in his heart that there was little need of Chr[illegible]. He made no reference to the Anglicans who he seemed to consider harmless."

IS ICE-COLD WATER BAD FOR RHEUMATISM?

A BRITISH SEAMAN'S EXPERIENCE

This story of Wm. Rogers, a seaman in the Mine Sweeping Branch of the Royal Navy, is absolutely true and can be readily verified.

At Niagara Camp, in 1914, Rogers contracted Rheumatism. He was sent to the Toronto General Hospital, where for over 19 months he was a patient, finally being discharged as incurable. In despair he took a friend's advice and tried Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules. The results were astounding—in a short time he was able to pass the stiff examination set by the Navy, and became an A.B. in the Mine Sweeping Branch.

For 17½ months he did service in the North Sea. On three occasions he was blown into the sea and remained in the ice-cold water as long as eleven hours at a stretch. Despite these hardships Rogers had no return of his previous trouble. Think about it. If T.R.C.'S did so much for Rogers—will they not do the same for you?

Ask your Druggist or write us for our new booklet; it is interesting (it costs you nothing (Templetons, 142 King ...est, Toronto). We mail T.R.C.'s anywhere on receipt of $1.00.

FORMER LAKEFIELD RECTOR WAS ENTERTAINED BY YOUNG PEOPLE

ABOUT THIRTY-FIVE GUESTS SPENT A PLEASANT EVENING IN LAKEFIELD.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 27.—On Wednesday evening the members of the A. Y. P. A. entertained their former rector and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Ben-Oliel, to a banquet and social evening in St. John's School Room. About thirty-five were present, and the evening passed all too quickly. It was a gathering such as the A. Y. P. A. has not had for more than four years. After the tables had been cleared away, the evening was spent in games.

At the close Major Ben-Oliel, speaking on behalf of himself and his wife, thanked the society for a most enjoyable evening, and expressed his deep gratitude for the help in both gifts and money he had received from them while he was overseas. They were always acceptable, and were used, not lavishly, but with providence, and several times a new offering arrived before the previous was used. During the four years and a quarter of his absence, he served first as a temporary chaplain with the 21st Battalion at Shorncliffe, and later was transferred to Cliveden Military Hospital at Taplow, where he spent eight months. The work there was interesting and strenuous, as he was the only chaplain connected with the hospital. For eight months he remained there, and then was transferred to No. 2 Canadian General Hospital, Le Treport, France, where he served through the battle of the Somme. There, too, he was alone, and the work was very heavy, and included ward visiting, several Sunday services, Holy Communion services and Communion for the dying, and funerals. After five months he was relieved and returned to Hastings, England, where he was made chaplain of the Hastings Area. There the work was much lighter, and he was able to recuperate. In the summer of 1917 he was again moved to No. 5 Canadian General Hospital, Kirkdale, Liverpool, where he remained till the hospital was cleared. While at Kirkdale he received his majority. In Liverpool he was senior Canadian chaplain of the Liverpool Area, and was responsible for the Canadian soldiers, not only in Kirkdale, but in the hundred hospitals in the Area. There also he had charge of the entertainments and outings of the patients, as he had also at Cliveden.

Mrs. Ben-Oliel was a Red Cross visitor, and did splendid service in England.

The A. Y. P. A. enjoyed especially the re-union with their former president and his wife.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice; combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

THREE SEATS SAID TO BE AVAILABLE FOR SIR ADAM BECK

NOTHING DEFINITE IN TORONTO'S DAILY GOSSIP ON ONTARIO'S POLITICAL PUZZLE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Oct. 27.—Reports circulating in Toronto to-day say that Sir Adam Beck, who has been prominently mentioned as the probable leader of the Labour-U.F.O. coalition and next Premier of Ontario, and who was defeted as Independent Conservative in London last Monday, has been offered the opportunity of running in any one of three seats, namely, Port Arthur, East Hamilton, and Seat B., South-East Toronto.

Brigadier-General D. M. Hogarth, Conservative, is the member-elect for Port Arthur, George Halcrow is the Labour member for East Hamilton, and John O'Neil is Liberal member-elect for the Toronto seat.

On the other hand it is stated in some quarters that while, U. F. O. members have every confidence in Sir Adam's conduct of Ontario Hydro-Electric interests, and will support any move to retain the London knight as chairman of that body, they are not prepared to give him whole-hearted support as leader, because he has not, it is asserted, taken a strong stand on the matter of Prohibition, on which the great majority of U. F. O. members-elect desire a clear-cut declaration.

Except for committee meetings of various parties, there were no apparent activities of any of these bodies to-day.

There will be a conference of U. F. O. and Labour committees to-morrow, and a general meeting of the members of both these parties on Wednesday.

No statement was forthcoming from Hearst Government circles to-day, and the Liberals are still waiting to see what happens in the other party folds.

There were no further indications to-day in support o fthe story this morning that J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, might be selected as leader of the Coalition, and Premier.

UNION GOVERNMENT DEEPLY INTERESTED IN BYE-ELECTIONS

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 27.—The eyes of the ministers and members of Parliament are turned to-day in the direction of five Federal constituencies, whereby elections are in progress. From the standpoint of the government the chief interest naturally centres in the contest at Victoria, B.C., where Hon. Dr. Tolmie, the new Minister of Agriculture, is seeking re-election, and is opposed by a returned soldier running under Labour auspices. Advices from the coast have been to the effect that the fight has been a warm one, with chances somewhat in favour of the new Minister. The election in Assiniboine, where the Grain Growers' candidate is being opposed by W. R. Motherwell, is being watched with interest, and with the expectation that while Motherwell may poll a large vote, his opponent will win the contest with a considerable margin. In view of the resulting count of Glengarry at the recent Provincial elections, when the U. F. O. candidate was elected by a large majority, inclination here is to pick Wilfrid Kennedy, the farmer candidate, as a favourite over General Harvey, Unionist in Glengarry and Stormont. The Federal constituency is larger than the Provincial and includes the town of Cornwall, and this may help the Unionist candidate in to-day's contest.

In Quebec East, the election of Mr. Ernest Lapointe, the Liberal candidate, over F. Gadbois, his Liberal-Labor opponent, is regarded as practically certain. His defeat would occasion considerable surprise here. The contest in Clareton, N.B., is admittedly a close one, between Col. Melville, and James Caldwell, United Farmer. The later entered the field early and has the bulk of Liberal support, while Colonel Melville entered the contest just previous to nomination day. His chances have probably been considerably improved by the presence in the constituency during the week end of Hon. Arthur Meighen, Hon. G. D. Robertson and Hon. F. E. Blondin.

In North Ontario, where the v ting was ot have taken place to-day, the voting has been postponed because of the death of Mr. James Cowan, Unionist candidate.

Puccini's LION BRAND Maccaroni

The Factory Behind the Product

IN this airy, sunlit factory, at St. Catharines, Puccini's "Lion Brand" Maccaroni is made. Only the BEST QUALITY of "Durum" wheat is used. Experts prepare it in the original Italian way. This takes time—and care—and patience. No artificial drying is permitted. The maccaroni must dry, naturally, on long, clean wooden poles. More than 60,000 of these poles are in use all the time.

The result is a pure, nutritious product of delicious flavor, containing greater food value than the ordinary brands of maccaroni.

Always INSIST on Puccini's "Lion Brand." Your grocer has it, or will get it for you.

BOOK OF REVELATIONS MEETS ALL DIFFICULTIES

Mr. E. W. Brown, of South America, addressed a good audience last night on the first chapter of "Revelation." Space prevents a full report of the address, but some things were very practical. He said this book very carefully read and believed met every difficulty a Christian has in this critical time thro' which we are passing Revelation gave a seven fold manifestation of Jesus Christ. Mr. Brown spoke of the special benediction of Jesus Christ, the faithful witness, unto Him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood to Him be glory. He said if any in Peterborough had anything else or were depending on anything else for heaven they were still in their sins and would miss it forever. After all the apostles had finished their work and died except John the Lord himself came to John and gave him the revelation and it tells of events soon to be fulfilled on the earth. He made a loving appeal to all not saved to get in a hurry for the time is near.

To-night the subject will be, "The Silence of God," so long not a word from heaven. All should hear this address.

LOCAL DELEGATES IN PORT HOPE

EPWORTH LEAGUE HELD A VERY SUCCESSFUL GATHERING

The Bay of Quinte Conference of the Epworth League closed on Sunday afternoon at Port Hope, after a three days session. It was the first conference in four years. Of the 210 delegates present, 15 represented Peterborough.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were:

Pres., G. H. Griffin, Belleville.
Sec., Rev. H. A. Frost, B.A., B.D, Trenton.

Rev. G. H. Clark of Cavan and Rev. A. M. McLaughlin of Port Hope, were appointed to the executive.

Features of the Conference.

Some of the more interesting features of the conference were an address of welcome by Mr. Stanley B. Burnham, Mayor of Port Hope, which was given on Friday;, a "Missionary Pagent," given by the senior and junior Epworth Leagues of Port Hope, on Friday evening; an address, "Our Greatest Need," by Rev. R. N. Burns, D.D., of Toronto, who is the General Secretary of the Young Peoples' Work, given at the Saturday afternoon session, and a mission play, given in Chinese costume.

Definite Service.

One of the most encouraging results of the conference was the fact that at the close of the consecration 100 members signed for definite service.

Why Stay Fat? You Can Reduce

The answer of most fat people is that it is too hard, too troublesome, and too dangerous to force the weight down. However, in Marmola Prescription Tablets, all these difficulties are overcome. They are absolutely harmless, entail no dieting or exercise ,and have the added advantage of cheapness. A large case is sold by druggists at $1. Of if preferable they can be obtained by sending price direct to the Marmola Co, 864 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich. Now that you know this you have no excuse for being too fat, but can reduce two, three or four pounds a week without fear of bad after-effects.

TRIS SPEAKER ADVISES ACTION TO PREVENT ILLEGAL FISHING

MANAGER OF CLEVELAND BALL TEAM SAYS PETERBORO DOESN'T APPRECIATE ITS FISHING AND DUCK SHOOTING GROUNDS--FOUND FIVE NETS IN RICE LAKE.

COMING BACK NEXT FALL

This Speaker, manager of the Cleveland baseball team, who with several Peterborough friends, was the guest of Mr. T. H. Hooper at Idyl Wyld, Rice Lake, last week, was so pleased with the duck shooting and fishing in this district, that he has decided to return next season.

"I am making all the arrangements right now," he told the Examiner on Saturday night, "and I hope that nothing will prevent me from coming back. You have a wonderful country here, but I want to tell you that unless something is done to protect the fish they will be as rare as sea serpents five years from now. We came across four or five nets while we were at Rice Lake, and every one of them had 'lunge in the meshes. You should have a Fish and Game Protective Association, which should impress upon the government the necessity of appointing enough wardens to reduce illegal fishing to a minimum."

Mayor Duncan's Idea.

This suggestion coincides with a proposal Mayor Duncan made several weeks ago. He informed the Examiner that he had mentioned to some of the residents of Gore's Landing the idea of forming an association such as Mr. Speaker outlined, and had found that the opinion around the lake is strongly in favour of an united effort to preserve the supply of fish.

"You have no idea of the value of these resources of fish and ducks," Mr. Speaker continued, "and your own men who like fishing won't realise the importance of such grounds as you have in Rice Lake until the fish are depleted. And if this netting game is allowed to continue you won't have any fish in five years."

Government Will Help.

Mr. Speaker pointed out that the Government desires to propagate fishings in the Ontario streams. This was shown by the hatcheries that are kept up for the purpose of restocking. It would be unnecessary to restock Rice Lake if the fish are properly protected in the spawning seasons and netting prohibited at all times.

"Why they're spawning right now," said the famous "Big Leaguer" with a tone of indignation that becomes the ardent sportsman. "If you had a Protective Association you could soon get a warden; every member would be a warden ex-officio. He would consider it his duty to report to the authorities any man he found breaking the game laws."

A Booster For Peterborough.

Mr. Speaker is a member of the Ohio Fish and Game Protective Association, which he states more than justifies its existence every year. "I'd like to catch a netter over there. I'd take a real delight in reporting him to a warden. That's the way the men would feel here if they had a society and were all working together to protect the fish. You can say that I'm a booster for this Peterboro fishing district, but I'll be disappointed if the sportsmen don't get together and determine to put an end to neting and other illegal practices the average fisherman disapproves."

Mr. Speaker referred to the fact that he had paid $25 to the government to fish in Ontario. This money, he contended, should be used to pay both regular and special wardens. He expressed the opinion that the local fishermen should be required to pay one or two dollars for a license. This provision would help to eliminate the law-breakers and would foster a local appreciation of, and pride in, the advantages afforded on the Trent waters, speaking specifically of this district.

There is no doubt that Mr. Speaker has emphasized a spirit of indifference that has developed with the increasing neglect by whatever officials are appointed by the Provincial Government to safeguard the game fish in the local waters. It seems to be nobody's business, with the result that there has been little or no enforcement of the law, at least there have been extremely few reports of apprehensions, and under the apparent laxity the netters have become emboldened to the point of selling large quantities of Rice Lake fish in the city during the spring closed season.

There are many men in this city and district who are interested in the preservation of the fishing grounds, and if they could be brought together there should be no difficulty in forming an aggressive and energetic protective association. In that event Tris Speaker deserves at least an honorary office.

Mr. Morris Ackerman, editor and publisher of the Sportsmen's Guide, Cleveland, accompained his friend, Mr. Speaker. They have both enjoyed the fishing and duck-shooting trips from their Peterborough base, and next week will find them on the moose runs in Nipigon. Mr. Ackerman and Mr. Speaker show the effects of the outdoor life, and and in their visit here afford a reminder of the advantages within easy reach of Peterborough that are overlooked by the great majority of the citizens.

Voice Of The People

Editor of The Examiner,

Sir,—I see by your issue of Thursday evening that my friend, Mr. Burnham, is still of the opinion that God makes alcohol. I imagined that the arguments of the Collegiate science master, in his letter of last summer had quite demolished Mr. Burnham's reasoning. Evidently I was mistaken, for he returns to the subject as firmly convinced in his opinion as if no light had been furnished him.

I cannot describe the method of alcohol's manufacture in nature with the same scientific precision as did the science master in his letter. But possibly a plain man's way of explaining it may shed light where, evidently, it is so much needed. Alcohol, instead of being made by God, is the waste product the excrement of a microbe. Just as in the case of our bodies, there are millions of Lilliputian soldiers which the Parisians call parasites, the Germans call germs, and the Irishman calls microbes, waiting to send their poison arrows into our blood whenever they get a chance to do so, as when we receive a cut or wound—so there are millions of germs, parasites, bacteria, always watching for a chance to get into fruits and grains for their sweet juices. They cannot get at the grapes when they are whole, but an army of "ferments" camps on the grape, and waits for it to be wounded, broken. When this takes place in the wine-press or any other way, these ferments, microbes, rush in and gorge themselves, and leave their liquid excrement. That excrement is alcohol, one of the most deadly poisons known. In the same way, when barley is crushed the yeast plants, hovering in the air, get in and gorge themselves on the sweets and excrete alcohol.

Now, God made the grapes. He did not make the ferments. God made barley. He did not make the yeast plants. To say that the excrement of these bacteria was made by God and was intended for man's consumption is just as absurd as to say that God made a bad apple, or a rotten egg, and intended man to eat the one or the other. Of course, you can never account for people's tastes. It is conceivable that there are people who prefer a bad egg to a good one, or a bad apple to a good one, just as there are people who prefer their drink with the excrement of bacteria in it. But it seems to me that when they know the facts they will prefer their drinks as God made them—without alcohol.

Yours very truly,

ROBERT POGUE.

"The Bridge from War to Peace" —The Prince of Wales.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE OF THE DOMINION OF CANADA offers for Public Subscription the

Victory Loan 1919

300,000,000. 5½% Gold Bonds

Bearing interest from November 1st, 1919, and offered in two maturities, the choice of which is optional with the subscriber as follows:

5 year Bonds due November 1st, 1924
15 year Bonds due November 1st, 1934

Principal payable without charge at the Office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the Office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria.

Bonds may be registered as to principal or as to principal and interest, as hereinafter provided, at any of the above-mentioned offices.

Interest payable, without charge, half-yearly, May 1st and November 1st, at any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold
Denominations: $50, $100, $500 and $1,000

Issue Price: 100 and Accrued Interest,

Income Return 5½% per Annum

The proceeds of the Loan will be used to pay indebtedness incurred, and to meet expenditures to be made in connection with demobilization (including the authorized war service gratuity to our soldiers, land settlement loans, and other purposes connected with their re-establishment into civil life), for capital outlay upon shipbuilding, and other national undertakings forming part of Canada's industrial reconstruction programme, and for the establishment of any necessary credits for the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, timber and other products, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:

10% on application; 20% January 9th, 1920;
20% December 9th, 1919; 20% February 10th, 1920;
31.21% March 9th, 1920.

The last payment of 31.21% covers 30% balance of principal and 1.21% representing accrued interest at 5½% from November 1st to due dates of the respective instalments.

A full half-year's interest will be paid on May 1st, 1920, making the cost of the bonds 100 and interest.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at the time of application at 100 without interest, or on any instalment due date thereafter together with accrued interest at the rate of 5½% per annum.

This Loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest are a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The amount of this issue is $300,000,000, exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds of previous issues. The Minister of Finance, however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $300,000,000.

Payments

All cheques, drafts, etc., covering instalments are to be made payable to the Credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions other than those paid in full on application must be accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed. Official Canvassers will forward subscriptions or any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will accept subscriptions and issue receipts.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at time of application at 100 without interest, or on any instalment due date thereafter, together with accrued interest to time of making payment in full. Under this provision, payment of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid in full on or before November 15th, 1919, par without interest or 100%.
If remaining instalments paid on Dec. 9th, 1919, balance of 99% and interest ($00.52 per $100).
If remaining instalments paid on Jan. 9th, 1920, balance of 70% and interest ($70.84 per $100).
If remaining instalments paid on Feb. 10th, 1920, balance of 50% and interest ($51.08 per $100).
If remaining instalment paid on Mar. 9th, 1920, balance of 30% and interest ($31.21 per $100).

Payment of instalments or payment in full after November 15th, 1919, can be made only on an instalment due date.

Denomination and Registration

Bearer bonds, with coupons, will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, and may be registered as to principal. The first coupon attached to these bonds will be due on May 1st, 1920.

Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000, $50,000, $100,000, or any multiple of $100,000.

Payment of Interest

A full half-year's interest at the rate of 5½% per annum will be paid May 1st, 1920.

Form of Bond and Delivery

Subscribers must indicate on their applications the form of bond and the denominations required, and the securities as indicated will be delivered by the bank upon payment of subscriptions in full.

Bearer bonds of this issue will be available for delivery at the time of application to subscribers desirous of making payment in full. Bonds registered as to principal only, or fully registered as to principal and interest, will be delivered to subscribers making payment in full, as soon as the required registration can be made.

Payment of all instalments must be made at the bank originally named by the subscriber.

Non-negotiable receipts will be furnished to all subscribers who desire to pay by instalments. These receipts will be exchangeable at subscriber's bank for bonds on any instalment date when subscription is paid in full. All receipts must be exchanged before 1st June, 1920.

Form of Bonds Interchangeable

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance or any Assistant Receiver General.

Forms of application may be obtained from any Official Canvasser, from any Victory Loan Committee, or member thereof, or from any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Subscription List will close on or before November 15th, 1919

COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE ELEVEM DEFEATED THE BELLEVILLE TEAM

GROUND WAS WET AND THE BALL SLIPPERY—SCORE WAS 7-6.

In a drizzling rain the local Collegiate Institute Rugby team defeated the Belleville High School team, at the Nicholls Oval, on Saturday afternoon by a score of 7-6.

Despite the condition of the grounds and the wet, slippery ball, both teams did some fast, clever work.

First Half.

The kick-off was followed by a period of see-sawing up and down the field which was brought to an end by Sloane of Peterborough breaking through the Belleville line and scoring the first point, and Hunter, the P. C. I. flying wing making an end run and crossing the Belleville goal for a touch down.

The tide then turned and Weir, the Belleville half back, scored a touch down.

Score at the end of the first half: Peterboro 6; Belleville 5.

Second Half.

In the second half, Dyes, the Belleville flying wing, tied the score and Green of the P.C.I., broke the tie by a goal kick.

Final score: Peterboro 7; Belleville 6.

Line Up.

The teams lined up as follows:

Peterboro: Flying wing, Hunter; Halves, Greene, Brooks, Mowat; Quarter backs, Stevenson; Scrimmage, Fanning, Lancashire, Walker; Inside wings, Sloane, Huff; Middle wings, Rishor, Blecker; Outside wings, Carmichael, Shortly, Pogue.

Belleville: Flying wind, Dyes, Halves, Cooper, Weir, McGee; Quarter back, Deacon; Scrimmage, Kerr, Rightmeyer, Hagerman: Inside wings Vanderwater, Cole, Middle wings, McWilliams, Diamond; Outside wings, Maddens, Swain.

Referees: C. S. Browne and H. S. Graham.

TENDER GUMS —A WARNING

Beware of gum tenderness that warns of Pyorrhea. Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea—many under forty also. Loosening teeth indicate Pyorrhea. Bleeding gums, too. Remember—these inflamed, bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Forhan's positively prevents Pyorrhea, if used in time and used consistently. As it hardens the gums the teeth become firmer.

Brush your teeth with Forhan's. It cleans the teeth scientifically—keeps them white and clean.

If gum shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

PETERBORO HOCKEY CLUB IS READY EOR SEASON

At an enthusiastic meeting last week the Peterboro Hockey Clube was re-organized for the season. A team will be entered in the intermediate series of the O.H.A. and there seems to be plenty of material for an outfit that will take some beating. It is not the intention to enter a junior team this year as practically all of last year's outfit are not eligible this year and there does not seem to be much material in sight. The following officers were elected:

President—R. M. Glover.
Vice President—F. D. Craig.
Secretary—A. Canfield.
Treasurer—M. Campbell.
Manager—Rev. Father O'Gormon.

The executive committee which will consist of three players will be chosen later. Arrangements are being made to commence training at once.

PRICE OF TEA HAS ADVANCED

PRICE IS DUE FOR ANOTHER IN CREASE IN THE NEAR FUTURE.

So gradually has the price advanced, that the consumers of tea in the city are as a general rule, unaware of the fact that they are paying 80 per cent. more for tea than in 1914 and will in the near future pay from 7 to 8 cents more a pound, due, one of the leading grocers said to-day, greatly to freight conditions. Coffee has not advanced to any great extent during the past five years, but will probably go up soon on account of freight prices.

THE CLASSES ARE WELL ATTENDED

ACTIVITIES AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Activities are now in full swing at the Young women's Christian Association.

The gymnasium work as usual interests a great many girls. The five evening classses, the three held in the afternoon and the two morning hours, are all doing good work, and in addition some of the girls are preparing dances for the Y. M. C. A. Minstrel Show.

Two of the six talks of the Art of Story Telling have already been given with an average attendance of 28. This week the third of the series, "How to Tell a Story," will be given on Thursday night at 7.30, instead of at 8 as heretofore.

The first of the vesper services was held on Sunday afternoon at 4.30. A helpful talk on friendship was given by Miss Layton and Miss Ila Wilson sang, after which tea was served.

Next Sunday Miss Layton will speak again on the subject, "Our Guest."

On Friday evening the annual Hallowe'en party will be held. It is expected that a number of ghosts will be present.

On Saturday afternoon at three o'clock there will be a party for the juniors. Perhaps there will be some fairies there.

It is hoped that the swimming pool which has been closed since the last of September, will be re-opened the middle of November, both for plunges and swimming lessons. Further notice of this will be given later.

The Training Course for leaders in Canadian Girls in Training Work, which has been held each week under the auspices of the Girls' Council, will meet as usual at the Y.W.C.A. on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock.

After a discussion of the physical standard Mrs. Pettit will speak on the intellectual characteristics and needs of the 'teen-age girl.

Following the Training Course there will be a meeting of the Girls' Council. It is honed that every class will be represented as important business is to be discussed.

MOST EVERYONE USES THEM FOR THE STOMACH

They Act Quickly, and Make You Feel Lively as a Kid

A crowning curative triumph in medicine is now given to the world, and all who have been sufferers from stomach ailments, indigestion and headaches can be cured by a purely vegetable remedy.

Calomel, salts and such like are no longer necessary. They are harsh and disagreeable. Science has devised something far superior, and you can go to-day with 25c to any druggist and buy a box of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are considered the very quickest and safest cure for the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys.

Half sick men and women, who scarcely know what ails them, will be given a new lease of life, with Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Depressed spirits disappear, headaches are forgotten, appetite increases, blood is purified and enriched, pains at the base of the spine are cured, the nerves are toned up, ambition to work is increased, and day by day the old time health and vigor return.

A trial only is necessary to prove how beneficial Dr. Hamilton's Pills are to all who are weak, nervous thin, depressed or in failing health.

FOOD CHEAPER, SAYS PALMER.

Attorney General Declares Prices have Fallen 25 Per Cent.

PHILADELPHIA. — Living costs will soon fall, Attorney General Palmer predicted to-day in an interview.

"Prices have dropped in all parts of the country," he said. I am surprised that the same condition does not prevail here. But it will come."

"Throughout the United States the cost of food has fallen 25 per cent. Beef on the hoof has gone down so low in some localities that the producers are protesting.

"The campaign in Pennsylvania for lower prices will have a similar effect."

NEURALGIC PAINS

GIVE WAY TO SOOTHING HAMLIN'S WIZARD OIL.

Hamlin's Wizard Oil is a safe and effective treatment for headache and neuralgia. Rubbed in where the pain is it acts as a tonic to the tortured nerves and almost invariably brings quick relief.

Its healing, antiseptic qualities can always be relied upon to prevent infection or other serious results, from sprains, bruises, cuts, burns, bites and stings. Just as good too for sore feet, stiff neck, frost bites, cold sores and canker sores.

Get it from druggists for 30 cents. If not satisfied return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick head ache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30 cents. Guaranteed.

HAD A RECOUNT IN WEST KENT

LIBERAL HAD A LARGE MAJORITY OVER TWO OTHER CANDIDATES.

(Special to The Examiner.)

CHATHAM, Oct. 27.—The recount of the ballots in the West Kent election, as completed yesterday in the office of Charles Keller, enumerator for the Liberal candidate, gives Brackin a majority of 2,928 over Elliott W. Hardy, the United Farmers' representative, and 4,526 over Milton W. Shaw, the Conservative candidate.

The recount of the ballots of the Referendum issue will probably be finished to-day, but not in time for publication, it is expected.

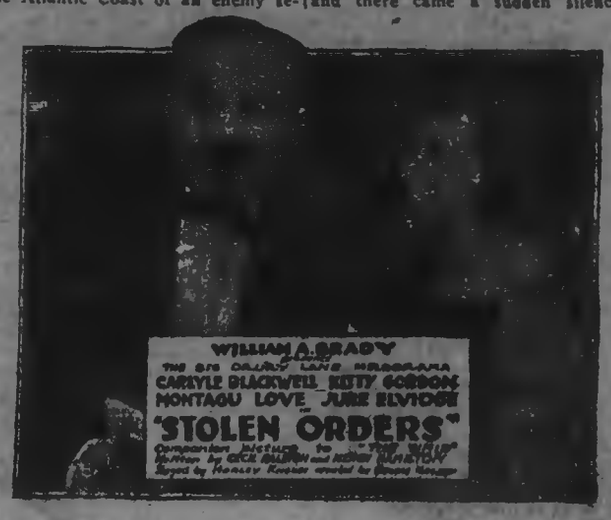
FROM HYDROPLANE BRADY PHOTOGRAPHS BOMBED BALOON

In "Stolen Orders," William A. Brady's spectacular film production, which will be shown at the Allen to-day and to-morrow, are several scenes which show a big balloon somewhere over the Atlantic. These scenes depict an attempt at flight from a desolate spot somehere on the Atlantic Coast of an enemy secret agent, personated by Montague Love. The balloon, one of the largest in the country and capable of long distance journeys with as many as four pasengers—is his means of escape. A series of exciting episodes in connection with his flight—including a fight in the basket of the balloon—the fall of the fighters into the ocean hundreds of feet below, and the shelling and final demolition of the big sausage by anti-aircraft guns on the shore, were caught by a battalion of cameras and probably will thrill many a picture goer. And the thrills experienced by the audience which will see "Stolen Orders" will compare with those experienced by the thousands engaged at one time and another in its production.

Mr. Brady for one will long remember the balloon episodes. During the filming of these scenes, and when the balloon was high in the air, the advisability of having a camera above the huge gas filled bag to shoot down and catch at close range the action in the basket became apparent. A hydroplane which a few minutes later was to figure in the story, was handy, and with it an aviator. But there arose immediately the question as to which of the cameramen would go up. No one stepped forward to volunteer—and there came a sudden silence.



Mr. Brady on the ground sensed the situation. Time and light were fleeting and necessity great. Mr. Brady grabbed a nearby camera, stepped into the vacant seat beside the hydroplanist and a few minutes later was in the air above the balloon. The result you will see in "Stolen Orders," which in addition to enlisting the services of its producer as a high-flying camera man, enlisted those of six stars: Kitty Gordon, Carlyle Blackwell, Mantague Love, June Elvidge, George MacQuarrie, and Madge Evans, to interpret its stirring story.

It will be shown at the Allen for two days only, commencing to-day.

CAPTAIN COOKE FEELS FINE, NOW

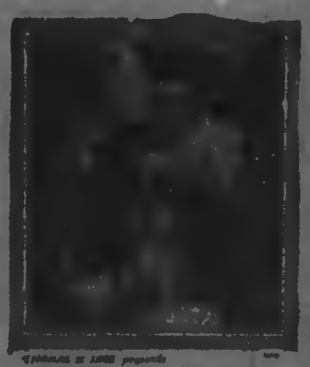
VETERAN CONDUCTOR PRAISES TANLAC FOR OVERCOMING HIS TROUBLES.

"A few bottles of Tanlac has made me feel just like a new man," was the statement made by Capt. F. M. Cooke, residing at 144 East Winifred street, St. Paul, Minn. Captain Cooke has been a conductor on the Great Northern Railroad for fifteen years, and is one of the most popular men in the service of the Company.

"For years," continued Captain Cooke, "I suffered from stomach trouble and had scarcely any appetite, and what little I ate disagreed with me so that I would become terribly nauseated. Gas would form on my stomach and affect my heart so I could hardly breathe. I had terrible headaches that would last for two or three weeks at a time and nearly drive me wild, and I would become so dizzy at times that I would have to grab hold of something to keep from falling. My nerves got in such bad shape I could sleep very little, and I would get up in the morning feeling dull and heavy and all run down.

"Nothing I tried seemed to do me any good, and I kept getting worse all the time. A few weeks ago some one suggested that I try Tanlac and I got a bottle and began taking it, and after taking two bottles I felt a great deal better. I have a fine appetite now, and what I eat agrees with me perfectly. Gas has quit forming in my stomach and I am not troubled with shortness of breath. I never have any more headaches or dizzy spells and can sleep fine, and get up in the morning feeling full of life and energy. I never felt better in my life, and feel at least ten years younger. I am very grateful for what this Tanlac has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Peterboro by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.



At the Grand Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"NEVER TOO OLD" IS NEW SENNETT FILM

EXCELLENT COMEDY FILMED WITH HUMOROUS SITUATIONS.

Charlie Murray and Bert Roach are proprietors of a delicatessen, a business which might have been hugely successful had the partners paid more attention to it than to other people's business. Charlie's weakness for pretty women gets him into trouble and then more trouble, so that his life becomes one continuous whirl of catastrophes. Bert is a philanthropists and his ideas keep him from pinning his mind down to pickles, other than those he gets himself into.

Marie Prevost is a pretty manicurist who manages to complicate the action considerably, in fact it is hardly likely that any other manicurist in the universe ever stirred up so much excitement as follows whenever she waves her pretty hands in the vicinity of Charlie and Bert.

When Phyllis, the wife of Bert, who is jealous, gets into action and seeks to evolve certain mysteries, there is something doing every minute. She does some strange detective work which would put a Pinkerton man to the blush, and the fun becomes fast and furious. How the tangle was unravelled the comedy will show when it is displayed at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow.

If you would have a peaceful home all you have to do is to pay the freight and let your wife run it.

MUTT AND JEFF COMING HERE

Once again those two bona fide humorists, "Mutt and Jeff," are in our midst, and will be seen and heard at the Grand on Saturday, matinee and evening.

This time they appear as seekers after fame and fortune, their adventures taking place in the "Land of Dreams" and, as usual, that astute and far discerning manager, Gus Hill, is sponsoring their exploits, having arranged for their presentation in a three-act musical comedy which is said to be the best and most entertaining of the Mutt and Jeff series produced upon the stage. These two cartoon characters quickly make their way to the heart of the kiddies and grown-ups, where the indulge in all sorts of side-splitting capers and escapades with the results that their antics and frolics arouse incessant and wholesome laughter from the opening to the final curtain.

The action is punctuated with ten of the latest song hits, ensembles, dance features, novelties, surprises, screams, rib tickling bits and high-class revelry, without the semblance of any lulls of monotonous moments.

A pretty and fascinating chorus, attired in captivating array have been engaged in conjunction with an extremely competent cast.

POEM ON MR. "B"

Miss Lancaster, matron of the Peterborough Protestant Home, is responsible for the following:

There is a man in our good town,
And he is wondrous wise;
He offers up the ladies' plumes
All for a sacrifice.
No more on light fantastic toe
May man and maid get leave to go.
He thinks the time is amply ripe
To snatch the workman's evening pipe.
In vain may ladies fair implore—
There's no bridge parties any more;
For tragedy and comedy,
No further use has Mr. B.

Eggs, cream and butter are the essentials of a vast amount of good cookery.

SIXTH WEEK OF STEEL STRIKE SEES NO CHANGE

(Special to The Examiner.)

PITTSBURG, Oct. 27. —The sixth week of the steel workers' strike in the Pittsburg district opened to-day with Union leaders and representatives of employers advancing conflicting claims. Strike leaders declared that the ranks of the men were holding firm, while the companies said their mills were operating at almost normal capacity and that many men were returning to work daily.

TORONTO AFTER 90 MILLION.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Oct. 27.—With syrens screeching, bombs bursting, fire apparatus charging up and down the streets, and sundry other demonstrations, this city to-day started after ninety million dollars, which the optimistic ones expect to raise for the Victory Loan of 1919.

The Dominion Special Subscriptions Committee has announced ten big subscriptions who subscribed one hundred per cent. more than in 1918.

Topping this list are the Sun Life and the Canada Life Insurance Companies, who each have subscribed ten million.

In fact, most of the life insurance companies, Canadian and United States, doing business in this country, have doubled their last year's subscriptions.

Specially mentioned among the firms winning the Prince of Wales Honour Flag is the Heinz Company of Leamington, who get this flag with two crowns as a result of every employee subscribing to the Loan.

WANTS WOMEN JURISTS.

NEW YORK.—Judge Otto Rosalsky, of the local court of General Sessions, believes and hopes that the Legislature will soon pass a law permitting women to sit on juries here.

"The time has come,' he announced in court recently, "when New York courts should avail themselves of the intelligence and keen judgment of women and utilize them as jurors. I propose to petition the Legislature to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure so that women will be eligible as jurors.

BURR-HAMILTON PISTOLS.

PHILADELPHIA. — The duelling pistols which were used in the famous encounter between Aaron Burr and Alexander Hamilton, in which the latter was slain, brought $55 at an auction sale here. The articles were part of the estate of Caesar Rodney, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Harry B. Harner, of this city, was the purchaser.

MAN CAUSES WIFE'S ARREST AS FORGER.

Woman Accused of Signing Husband's Name to Cheques.

ST. CATHARINES, Oct. 27.—Mrs. Mildred Abbott, wife of Earl Abbott, was arrested at the instigation of her husband on a charge of forgery. It is alleged that Mrs. Abbott had forged her husband's name to cheques to the amount of his account in the Bank of Nova Scotia here, $237, and had cashed them unknown to him. This discovery came when he bought a horse and gave his cheque in payment therefor. The cheque was returned to the seller of the horse marked "not sufficient funds."

THREE MEN LOSE LIVES

(Canadian Press.)

QUEBEC, Oct. 27.—Three men lost their lives in a storm on the St. Lawrence River, barely five miles from Quebec Harbour during the night of Friday and Saturday, and the fourth victim was rescued unconscious after being lashed to the mast of the vessel for the entire night.

Pierre Dion, aged seventy, an old navigator, was taking his schooner down from Quebec to the Island of Orleans. He had with him his two nephews.

The old man was at the rudder, and near a point off Lauzon, a squall suddenly sprang up, and the boat went down.

The crew took to the lifeboat, but a huge wave struck the rowboat and broke her into kindling wood.

The younger sailor managed to reach the schooner again, and was rescued the next morning.

MORLEY SMITHSON NEW HEAD OF COUNTY U.F.O.

A meeting of the representatives of the Farmers' Clubs of the County was held in the Farm and Dairy Offices Saturday afternoon to appoint a County Director to succeed Mr. Ernest N. Macdonald, who was elected to the Ontario Legislature. Lieut.-Colonel J. T. Johnston, of Otonabee, presided. Mr. Morley Smithson, of Otonabee, and president of the Zion Club, was selected for the position. Speeches were made by Mr. H. B. Cowan, Mr. G. A. Brethin, of Norwood; Mr. Wallace Anderson, of Warsaw; Mr. S. Armstrong, of Indian River; and Mr. Morley Smithson. General satisfaction was expressed as a result of the Ontario elections. The speakers showed an appreciation of the seriousness of the situation and the necessity for the organized farmers adopting policies that will be eminently fair to every class in the population, and thereby prevent cleavage between the cities and rural sections.

NEW METHODS THAT SAVE YOU MONEY

The high price of food has brought people to realize that sensible and practical economy has become a national virtue. But how to economize in the face of the high cost of everything, even conveniences such as deliveries, telephone and credit accounts which previously amounted to nothing are to-day a big factor in cost of goods. To overcome this problem The Groceteria, at the old Market Arcade, furnished the link in the chain and by the new methods is saving the consumer, not in a few special lines, but every article in groceries.

ALD EDGAR SAYS HE HAS NOT DECIDED

Ald. Edgar stated to-day that the Examiner had apparently misunderstood his remarks on Saturday, referring to the likelihood of his candidacy for the Mayoralty in the municipal elections. He said he did refer to last Monday's Provincial results, but also stated that he didn't know yet whether he would contest the Mayoralty or not. Ald. Edgar is one of the deans of the City Council, and is generally recognized as one of its strongest members.

FARMERS MAY COMBINE THEIR CHEESE INTERESTS

A meeting of the representatives of the cheese manufacturers of the county will be held on Tuesday, November 4th, in the city to incorporate and take over and operate all the cheese factories in Central Ontario. The company will be capitalized at $1,000,000, or more and will run about 150 factories the first year. The cheesemakers believe that the victory of the farmers at the polls has greatly facilitated the promotion of the country in general.

NTI-BOLSHEVIK TROOPS MAY NOT BE ABLE TO CAPTURE PETROGRAD BEFORE WINTER

(Special to Examiner.)

ONDON, Oct. 28. — Winter mov- southward from the Arctic re- is coming to the aid of the sheviki troops in Petrograd, and ability of General Yudenitch to pture the former Russian capital ore the cold weather puts an end his campaign, seems doubtful. The Soviet forces fighting desper- ly against the North-western ssian army, have succeeded in re- pturing Tsarskoy, Seloa and Pav- vsk, south of Petrograd, and ap- ar to be in a position to prolong e defence of the city for an inde- nite period. Some of the best soldi rs in the nks of the Soviet army are said have been rushed to Petrograd m Moscow, and it is believed they formed the main portion if the Red forces, which have initiated what appears to be a successful counter-offensive. Yudenitch troops are reported to have fallen back along a front south of Petrograd, but unofficial reports would seem to indicate they have moved nearer Petrograd on a line running from Catchina to Krasnaia Gorka.

It is said that the town of Gurila on this front have been taken from the Bolsheviki.

Furious fighting is going on in and around Kovw, which was taken last week by General Denikens' forces. At some points Denikine troops were forced to retire slightly. Lettish troops are now holding Dunamunde, below Riga, and have maintained their control of the right bank of the Duna river.

The Miners Predict 100 Per Cent Strike

EXECUTIVE MEETING WILL MEET AT HEADQUARTERS TO-MORROW MORNING—PRESIDENT WILSON'S CABINET WILL DISCUSS THE SITUATION.

STRIKE COMMENCES ON FRIDAY NEXT

United Press:

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 28. — The Executive Committee of the Miners of America, representing twenty union districts, presidents of coal-producing States and members of the Miners' Schedule Committee, will meet at headquarters here at 10 o'clock to-morrow to draft an answer to President Wilson's appeal that the strike order be withdrawn. Officials say that the strike must go on unless the demands are met by mine operators, was the opinion at miners' headquarters to-day. The blame for the strike will be placed on the mine operators in the answer it was certain. Only the members of the Executive Committee were scheduled to attend to-morrow's meeting, when it was first called. However, due to the added importance of the situation, as a result of the President's appeal, Jno. J. Lewis, acting president of the union, sent out a call last night from his home at Springfield, Ill., for the district presidents and the scale committee members to join in the session. Lewis called each member by telephone and urged him to attend. Meantime preparations for the strike continued. A hundredr per cent. strike was predicted by union officials here.

CABINET MEETING.

United Press:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—President Wilson's Cabinet, meeting in regular weekly session to-day, was to consider the threatened coal strike and complete plans for the industrial conference. Attorney-General Palmer and Secretary of Labour Wilson are working out plans for law enforcement, which are based principally on the conspiracy section of the Lever Food and Fuel Act, and they will report to the Cabinet to-day. In connection with the strike, there will probably be brought before the Cabinet the method by which the demands of the miners and counter propositions of the operators can be arbitrated in case both sides consent to this plan which was proposed by the President. Methods of bringing pressure on the operators, as well as the miners, will be discussed, and the Cabinet has determined that if the strike order is rescinded, the miners will get the same consideration as the mine owners. To-day's Cabinet session will probably see the completion of plans and personnel of the new Industrial Conference, which officials believe should be called together at the earliest possible time.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Officials to-day pinned their hope of averting the strike of the bituminous miners, called for Saturday, on the meeting to-morrow in Indianapolis of the Executive Board of the United Mine Workers of America. A study of union by-laws, officials said to-day, revealed that the Executive Board has power to call off the strike, or at least to order a postponement. Should President Wilson's appeal to the miners be heeded to the extent of a postponement, officials here are of the opinion that the strike will be averted, for a postponement would be certain to bring with it negotiations for a new wage agreement.

DRUG CLERKS WILL GO OUT ON STRIKE

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The strike that will vitally affect New York's millions was voted early to-day by representatives of four thousand five hundred drug clerks. After an all-night meeting, the men voted 1,430 to 70 to walk out during the week, leaving the date to be determined by their officers. Union officials said that men involved comprised ninety per cent. of all the drug clerks in the city. The clerks demand an eight-hour day, a closed shop and an average increase in wages of 35 per cent.

TWO AUTOMOBILES IN A COLLISION

ONE CAR WAS TURNED UPSIDE DOWN ON SIDEWALK.

One car turned turtle and another was badly damaged last evening at 8 o'clock, when W. J. Clancy, 508 Sherbrooke Street, driving south on George Street, struck the car of Mr. Edward Wood, of the Stewart House, Hunter Street, who was driving east on Charlotte Street. Mr. Wood's car was badly damaged, the radius rods being broken, and was pushed up on the sidewalk near the marble works on the corner of Charlotte and George Streets.

Mr. Clancy states that he was driving slowly, and that he applied the brakes, but they would not work. His car lay upside down on the pavement, and the top and wind shield were broken into splinters. Both parties settled by paying their own damage.

The police state that Mr. Clancy failed to give the right-of-way to Mr. Wood.

REFLECTS EVERY MOOD

The tone of the art pianos made by Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, George and Hunter streets, Peterborough, is such that every mood of the most famed artists is reflected in this instrument. When one bears this in mind it is not difficult to understand why an artist of the high standing of De Pachmann, who has travelled all over the world and as he says himself has had the opportunity of using many different makes of pianos—those of the greatest piano-builders of all countries, and yet says in plain Anglo-Saxon that the Heintzman & Co. piano which he used in Canada, "surpasses in beauty of tone and delicacy of touch any piano that he had ever used."

TEN PERSONS LOST THEIR LIVES IN LAKE MICHIGAN TRAGEDY--VESSEL SUNK.

CAUGHT IN STORM

(Canadian Press.)

MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 28.— Ten persons lost their lives this morning when the Crosby liner, "City of Muskegon," formerly the City of Holland, while trying to make the harbor here, struck the south pier at the Muskegon channel and was smashed to pieces, sinking in four minutes.

Three of the victims were passengers, the remainder being members of the crew. There were about 25 passengers aboard, but the vessel lay against pier, so that most of them were able to make their wa yto safety. City of Muskegon left Milwaukee in clear weather last evening, but was caught in a raging north-wester that struck Lake Michigan early this morning. Riding the storm well Capt. Miller decided it was safer to attempt to make harbor than to turn about. Just as the bow of the vessel came into the channel a big wave caught it and smashed the craft against the end of the pier.

UNITED FARMERS OPEN STORE HERE

FARMERS MET LAST EVENING AND DISCUSSED THE PROSPECTS.

The United Farmers of West Peterboro will open a co-operative store in the old stand of F. R. J. McPherson Plumbing Company on Simcoe Street, as soon as a Board of Directors can be elected and a stock put in. A meeting of the U. F.O. of this constituency was held last evening in the Sons of England Hall and President R. B. Rogers occupied the chair. The co-operative store plan had been in favor for some time but up to last night only 271 shares had been sold. The meeting was enthusiastic and with the result of the Provincial elections in the back of their minds the farmers grabbed the remaining 29 shares and the success of the co-operative movement here was assured. Each share is valued at $25, the farmer paying $12.50 on each share and the Co-operative Society of Ontario buying the other half.

The store will carry a full line of general merchandise and is a double store with a large warehouse in the rear. Mr. J. C. Smith of the Farm and Dairy publications spoke briefly of the success of the co-operative movement in Ontario and of the Seaforth store in particular.

Mr. Loblaw of Toronto, who at a former meeting urged the establishment of such a store here, will be here to-morrow on Thursday and make all arrangements for the opening of the store.

The initial capital of the store is $7,500.

PETERBORO MAN IN POLICE COURT

HAMILTON, Oct. 27.—Charles Morgan, representing Charlie Hickey, Peterborough, charged with stealing a suit of clothes and a tie pin, the property of Clifford Owen, Salvation Army Hostel, asked for leniency in Police Court yesterday, as his client is a returned soldier and is desirous of returning to his home.

Detective Crocker stated that the suit of clothes had been sold for $3 and the tiepin recovered concealed in the mattress of his bed.

Sentence was deferred while enquiries are being made. Hickey pleading guilty.

CONSTITUENCIES WHERE BYE-ELECTIONS WERE HELD YESTERDAY

Results of Federal by-elections:
Glengarry-Stormont—J. W. Kennedy, U.F.O.
Victoria—S. T. Tolmie, Unionist.
Assiniboia—O. R. Gould, U.F.O.
Quebec East—E. Lapointe, Liberal
Victoria-Carleton—T. W. Caldwell, U.F.O.

Defeated Candidates.

Brigadier-General D. L. Hervey, Unionist.
M. W. Mellville, Unionist.
W. R. Motherwell, Liberal.
T. A. Barnard, Independent Soldier.
F. X. Galibois, Independent.

The list of constituencies and brief histories of their recent records are given below:

Quebec East.

In the general election of December 17, 1917, the Right Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Liberal, was elected over F. O. Drouin, Unionist, by a majority of 6,385, Sir Wilfrid polling 6,957 votes and Mr. Drouin only 572. The seat was rendered vacant by the death of Sir Wilfred on February 17, 1919. Quebec East has been called "the Gibraltar of Liberalism," and Sir Wilfrid had represented the constituency in the House without a break since 1878.

Victoria and Carleton, N.B.

In the general election of December 17, 1917, the Hon. F. B. Carvell, Unionist, was elected by acclamation. Mr. Carvell was Minister of Public Works in the Union Government from October 12, 1917, and the seat was rendered vacant by his appointment to the chairmanship of the Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada, on August 4, 1919. Victoria and Carleton were two separate constituencies until the general election of 1917.

Glengarry and Stormont.

In the general election of December 17, 1917, John McMartin, Unionist, was elected by acclamation. Mr. McMartin died very shortly after the election and the constituency has remained without representation in the House. Glengarry and Stormont were two separate constituencies until the general election of 1917.

Assiniboia, Sask.

In the general election of December 17, 1917, J. G. Turriff, Unionist, was elected over E. Waddington, Liberal, by a majority of 4,538, Mr. Turriff polling 6,838 votes and Mr. Waddington 2,312. The seat was rendered vacant by the appointment of Mr. Turriff to the Bench on September 1918.

Victoria City, B.C.

In the general election of December 17, 1917, Dr. Simon Fraser Tolmie, Unionist, was elected over T. Henderson, Liberal, by a majority of 8,784. Dr. Henderson, 2,601. A. S. Wells, Independent, also ran, polling 551 votes. Dr. Tolmie was appointed Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion on August 4, 1919, and, therefore, having accepted an office of emolument with the Crown, has to seek re-election.

DUFFUS GARAGE SELL LARGE NUMBER OF TRACTORS

About two weeks ago the Duffus Garage received a shipment of eight tractors which went out in eight days. The middle of last week another carload was received which was all gone by Saturday.

It is the general opinion that the "Fordson" tractor and Oliver Plow are universally adapted for Ontario farms. Notwithstanding the large number sold this year Mr. Duffus states he is confident that there will be four times as many sold next year, due to several reasons; one of which is that the tractor itself is just as practical and handy as a team of horses, in fact takes up less room and will turn quicker.

The price, $750 f.o.b. the factory, is very attractive, taking into consideration the fact that it can be used for all kinds of power purposes on the farm; and, unlike horses, when it is not in use, does not cost anything, besides doing away with the usual morning and evening work of taking care of the horses, thereby reducing the labor to a considerable extent. 1d-98-1w44

WHERE ARE MY READING GLASSES?

You often hear that question asked by persons who wear two separate pairs of glasses. They probably have never heard of our Kryptok lenses, the two vision lenses with the reading portion invisible.

There is no line or crack to make them look unsightly. They are wonderfully convenient for [illegible] and cost less than two separate pairs. Specify Kryptok when you consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, George street. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

RUMMAGE SALE.

THE WOMEN'S GUILD OF ST. LUKE'S CHURCH WILL HOLD A RUMMAGE SALE ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH, IN THE STORE OPPOSITE BARRIES'. THOSE HAVING ARTICLES TO DISPOSE OF PLEASE PHONE 195 R 1609W.

Apply Closure

GOVERNMENT WILL NOT PERMIT A PROTRACTED DEBATE ON THE GRAND TRUNK BILL.

CAN CARRY BILL

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.— Is closure coming in the House of Commons on the Grand Trunk bill? A few days ago opinion would have been almost unanimous that there would be no closure, first because it would not be necessary, and secondly because the government had no intention of applying it. A change has been coming steadily, however, and now a protracted debate in Commons in the committee stage has passed the position of surmise and is already here. The Opposition is asking an endless series of questions. The Government believes the period of obstruction has begun, although the Opposition declare they are merely safeguarding the public's interests in subjecting the proposed agreement to the closest scrutiny. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Hon. Mr. Reid and other ministers have repeatedly declared that there would be no hurrying of the legislation and that there would be ample time for the fullest discussion. So specific have the declarations been that the government is not likely to suggest the closure unless or until the Opposition's tactics become obviously those of a blockade rather than a search for information. It will be difficult to decide just where the border line comes. Meanwhile, the Government will not hurry the coming of the closure, for this interim period is allowing them time to size up the situation in the Senate and to see what steps, if any, are necessary to ensure the passage of the bill through the Upper House. There is no doubt of the Government's ability to carry the legislation in the Commons. The only question there is the length of the debate. If the Government eventually does apply cohsure, it will give the Opposition a talking point, for victims of a shutting off of discussion, whether justified or not, can always claim the role of martyr.

SOCIAL WAS HELD ALL SAINTS' CHURCH

INTERESTING PROGRAMME WAS PROVIDED---NEW EQUIPMENT.

A congregational social was held in the basement of All Saints' church last evening. The occasion was the opening of the new primary department, the rooms of which have recently been completed. These will provide increased accommodation for the Sunday school and are a very creditable addition to the church.

The rector, Rev. R. B. Grobb, was in the chair, and a programme was rendered, consisting of the following:

Piano solo—Mr. W. H. Barry.
Vocal solo—Mr. John Smith.
Vocal solo—Miss Doris Rathbone.
Banjo trio — Messrs. Parkins and James.
Vocal solo—Miss E. Worth.
Vocal solo—Miss Beryl Bates.
Reading—Mr. John.
Vocal solo—Mr. Chandler.
Piano solo—Miss Flowers.

Mr. L. G. Dobbin spoke on behalf of the Wardens, Mrs. Stevenson, representing the Adult Bible Class Department, Mr. Curtis, representing the Junior Department, and Miss Cairns representing the Primary Department.

The committee which had the work in charge was represented by Mr. Wm. Buller, who presented a very encouraging financial statement.

Alderman J. J. Turner brought the greetings of the Peterborough Sunday School Association and congratulated All Saints' upon its splendid new equipment.

A social hour, with the serving of refreshments, brought a very pleasant evening to a close. All present spoke in glowing terms about the splendid addition to the church's equipment.

A special piano for the occasion was very kindly provided by Mr. W. Lawson, of the local Heintzman firm.

FOUR FARMERS IN COMMONS

HON. T. A. CRERAR LEADER OF NEW GROUP.

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—The election of four farmer members to the Federal House yesterday will give the farmers a small but compact group in the cross benches of the Commons—four in all, with their leader, Hon. T. A. Crerar.

It is expected that they will not always vote against the Government, but instead sometimes on one side and sometimes on another.

[illegible] which now cannot take place [illegible] of the Liberal [illegible] the G. T. R. Purchase Bill.

Sir Adam Beck Still a Likely Prospect

LABOUR IS MORE DISPOSED TO HAVE HIM AS PREMIER THAN THE FARMERS--A COALITION GOVERNMENT.

FARMERS ARE IN SESSION TO-DAY

Special to the Examiner:

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—The U.F.O.'s Committee of Nine went into session at the farmers' headquarters on King Street East at nine o'clock this morning. The sub-committee of three that went to Hamilton to confer with the Independent Labour Party made its report, and a conference took place between the main committee and the committee of two, Walter Rollo and Mayor MacBride, appointed by the Independent Labour Party to confer with the U.F.O. The business on hand is the consideration of a joint legislative programme. All that was done in Hamilton, under instructions from the U.F.O., was to ask the Labour Party to appoint two representatives to confer with the farmers. The I.L.P. was not promised two or more seats in the Cabinet, but as the U.F.O. and I.L.P. co-operated in the election, and are holding a joint "caucus" to-morrow to consider a joint legislative programme, the prospects are good for a hard and fast coalition government. The name of Beck has not been entirely dropped by those who are canvassing the leadership situation. On the whole, Labour is more disposed to have him as Premier than are the farmers, but high authorities on both sides of the coalition believe that the Hydro champion will be retained as chairman of the Hydro and not given a Cabinet position.

REV. WHATTAM IS CONFERENCE ORGANIZER

has been honored by being asked to take up the work of the National Campaign as Conference Organizer of the Bay of Quinte Conference. The deputation making the request comprised: Rev. R. N. Burns, D.D. Toronto, Rev. W. G. Clarke, B.A., of Trenton, and W. H. Hopper, of Cobourg, and they asked that Mr. Whattam be released from the responsibilities of pastoral work in Colborne in order that he might give his attention to the work in the wider sphere.

The officials of the church gave a reluctant consent to sparing him and stipulated that their pulpit be satisfactorily filled in the meantime.

JOSEPH PERRY SHOT HIS WIFE

(Canadian Press.)

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 28.— Joseph Perry, night clerk in the Postal Telegraph Company's main office, shot and killed his wife, Grace Perry, night chief operator in the stone exchange of the Rochester Telephone Company at their home in the outskirts of the city last midnight. Jealousy is believed to have been the motive. Perry turned his revolver on a policeman who attempted to arrest him, but the mechanism failed. He was arrested on a charge of murder in the first degree.

STATES AFTER THE PROFITEER HOUND

FINAL WARNING HAS BEEN GIVEN BY THE GOVERNMENT—BACON SEIZED.

United Press:

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—With an announced programme of heavy fines and jail terms for food hoarders and profiteers, profiteering to-day became a dangerous pastime, the Government warned. Arthur Williams, Federal Food Administrator, announced a change of the Government's policy of allowing those convicted of hoarding and profiteering to escape with a refund of their excess profits. We have given two months' notice that the food laws must be observed, said Williams, "and we have done all we should be asked to do. Hereafter we are going to ask prosecution of all cases of violation in which we find evidence. Government agents, under the United States Marshal power, last night seized 1,300,000 pounds of bacon, stored in a Brooklyn warehouse.

CITY HALL NEWS

SETTLING ACCOUNT.

The city's Fuel Committee has received another $500 from the Canadian Coal Supply Company, of which Miss Sophie Cohen is the leading spirit.

Ald. Taylor told the council last night that another $500 remained to be paid and he expected that this account would be settled in a short time.

ENGINEER A TRESPASSER.

The Council has been warned to keep City Engineer Parsons off the Wilson property in North Monaghan, according to the statement of one of the Aldermen last night.

While surveying the proposed site for the outfall sewage plant, Mr. Parsons, it was said, cut down two trees, and thereby aroused the ire of Mr. Wilson, the owner of the property.

COMMISSIONERS UNPAID.

Some of the aldermen have been wondering whether the city should offer the Police Commissioners any remuneration for their week's work in investigating the charges against members of the Police Department. Several stated that they knew of no precedent that might guide them and for that reason they hesitated to break ground in such payments.

DOWNIE STREET CREEK AGAIN

Ald. Edgar last night urged the Mayor and Ald. Phelan to get busy on the negotiations with Police Magistrate Dumble with a view to opening up the Downie street creek, in order that floods may be avoided next Spring.

It was stated that while Ronaco, and some of the other Italians who live in that section, were unable to pay for legal advice against Mr. Dumble, there were other citizens who jointly could easily afford to press a suit for relief from the annual washout.

Mayor Duncan said that he had neglected the matter but had been unable to arrange a meeting with Mr. Dumble.

TO EXCAVATE FOR PIER.

The Russell-Townsend Company are unloading a steam shovel on the siding at the old mill in Ashburnham, and will set it to work in the near future excavating for the eastern pier of the maid arch.

The cement forms for the smaller arches on the east side are being sheeted preparatory to the pouring of the cement, to facilitate which a big crane has been built.

The cement mixture will be delivered by means of a long spout to barrows for which runways will be laid above the arched forms. It is understood that this part of the work will be rapidly carried out when once begun.

ESENTATION TO IR. AND MRS. FRY

LY LEAVING FOR DETRO; A PLEASANT EVENING.

e members of the Men's and the Bible Classes and the Sunday staff of Park Street Baptist ch met at the home of Mr. and Fry, Wescott Street on Thurs- evening, to bid them God-speed their departure for Detroit. A pleasant evening was spent, and eshments were served. A happy ure of the occasion was the pre- tation of an address and a cabinet silver to the departing host and ess, whose active assistance in day School work will be greatly ed. The address was as follows: r. and Mrs. Fry, Peterborough. Christian Friends—This even- we have gathered here to spend r social hours with you ere your arture from our midst.

t causes us sorrow to part with whom we have learned to hon- and respect, but God's ways are our ways, and we must all do His Where He leads we must ow.

We ask you to accept this silver as small token of the high esteem in ch you are held by all.

We wish you peace and happiness your new home. We will say, as did to our gallant lads who fought Flanders Fields: Au revoir, but not good-bye, soldier boy.

Truly, you both have been Soldiers of [illegible]

Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Bible Class, Men's Bible Class, and Sunday School staff.

HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural colour and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

GREAT VICTORY LOAN DRIVE OPENED EARLY THIS MORNING

CANVASSERS ON THE JOB TO GET SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR AN INVESTMENT THAT INSURES A GOOD RETURN IN MONEY AND A BIGGER ONE IN CONTENTEDNESS.

Early yesterday morning an army of canvassers stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific went out to battle. They were the great Canadian Victory Loan Corps, and they had the big objective "three hundred million dollars" to take. On the taking of this strategic amount depends to a great extent the continued prosperity of the Dominion of Canada. Every citizen in the country can do more than cheer and wait—not one but can assist in the victory, can aid this army to go "over the top."

Canadians never lost a gun, and never failed to take an objective. That was in France. Will Canadians in Canada not measure up to the standard set over there?

The Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada offers for sale $300,000,000 in Gold Bonds. These bonds are in four denominations—$50, $10, $500, $1,000, and are offered at par. The interest, which is at the rate of 5½ per cent., is payable every six months without charge at any chartered bank. The bonds are issued in two maturities of 5 or 15 years just as the subscriber prefers. Payment may be made in full at the time of application or in installments at any chartered bank. The installments are as follows: 10 per cent. at the time of application, 20 per cent. on 9th December, 1919, 20 per cent. on 9th January, 1920, 20 per cent. on 10th February, 1920, and 31.21 per cent. on 9th March, 1920. This last payment is made up of the balance of the principal and interest at 5½ per cent. from 1st November on the installments. The first interest will be paid on 1st May, when a full half-year's interest will be forthcoming to all.

The outstanding feature of this Victory Loan is that "every dollar will be spent in Canada." The fact that none of the money will go outside the country will be a welcome bit of news to all, for this assures Canada a continuance of the splendid prosperity she has enjoyed for some time.

The money from the Victory Loan is to be used to finish defraying the expenses of demobilisation, to keep up the military hospitals, to re-establish soldiers in civil life, and to establish credits with overseas countries so that they may purchase Canada's surplus foodstuffs and manufactured goods.

The Victory Loan is the connecting link between the war and the peace that is to remain, it is hoped, for ever.

NEGRO STABS WOMAN DEAD

GRUESOME MURDER COMMITTED IN DAYLIGHT IN BRANTFORD STREET

BRANTFORD, Oct. 28.—Mrs. Arthur Giles, an English woman, aged 28, was stabbed to death on Market street, a busy thoroughfare, at 4.45 yesterday afternoon, by a colored man named George Jones, aged 26. The affair took place amid the presence of witnesses, old and young, of both sexes. Beaten down into insensibility by Roy Thornton, a local traveller, who wielded his umbrella on the head of the assassin, Jones was promptly arrested by the police arriving on the scene.

Jones had gone across the street to the home of the woman, chased her out, and followed her, when he inflicted the wounds with a long knife. He had been paying attentions to the woman, and the police allege that the pair had eloped some six week ago.

Daughter Shows Fight.

The murder was a most vicious one. Jones first went about 4.30 in the afternoon to the boarding-house, at 117 Mark street, of Mrs. Giles and family, went upstairs, and there threatened, in the presence of the daughter, to take the life of the mother. The daughter, aged fourteen, showed fight and threatened to scratch the eyes out of Jones. In the meantime Mrs. Giles made her escape and ran across the road. She was closely followed by Jones, who ran with an eight-inch knife outstretched, and, reaching his victim on the sidewalk, stabbed her several times. Death was almost instantaneous, and the body was left stretched across the sidewalk, pending the arrival of the Coroner, Dr. Fissette.

BETTER PROTECTION.

The fact that it took nearly fifteen minutes for the fire apparatus to reach the scene of the fire at the Woolstock factory on Hunter street, East City, yesterday morning, is ample justification for the Fire Chief's desire to afford better protection for Ashburnham. The long run via the Smith street bridge to a fire in the southern part of Ashburnham is a serious handicap to the department and it gives the flames a chance to make rapid headway before the fire-fighters can arrive. Yesterday's fire might have been checked before it destroyed the whole building, had it not been for the time lost in the round-about route the Department had to take. The lesson should not be lost sight of by the members of the City Council.

THE COAL STRIKE.

The developments in the threatened strike of the bituminous coal miners in the United States will be watched with interest for the next few days, for Canadians are as much concerned in the matter as are their neighbors across the line. The emphatic tone of the message issued by President Wilson, who declares that "the law will be enforced and means will be found to protect the interests of the nation in any emergency that may arise out of this unhappy business," and that the projected strike is "not only unjustifiable but unlawful," does not seem to have had any effect upon the officers of the unions affected. The miners are apparently "standing pat" and the strike call that was issued to go into effect on Saturday remains unchanged. The Labor Department of the United States' government has failed to bring the miners and operators together, and unless there is a sudden change of front in the next day or two, the strike, with all its far-reaching consequences, will take place on Saturday. The President's charge that the strike has apparently been ordered without a vote of the miners having taken, has not been answered by the leaders of the miners, who content themselves with the statement that the situation is unchanged by President Wilson's formal statement.

THE BY-ELECTIONS.

The result of the five by-elections yesterday to fill the vacancies in the Dominion House, furnished another demonstration of the strength of the farmers' movement. The United Farmers captured Glengarry-Stormont in Ontario and Victoria, Carleton in Ontario from government candidates, while the Grain Growers won a victory in Manitoba from Hon. Mr. Motherwell, running as a Liberal candidate, so that in the three campaigns in which farmer nominees were engaged all three were successful, the old line parties being beaten in straight fights. The only consolation the government can extract from the results is that the new Minister of Agriculture, Dr. S. F. Tolmie, was successful in Victoria, B.C. The loss of the contest would have been fatal to the government's prestige. As it is the Borden administration can point to Dr. Tolmie's success as their only victory in three ridings in which they placed candidates, and the triumph of the farmer standard-bearers, following upon the spectacular victory of the United Farmers in Ontario, will give the Ottawa government a great deal to worry about and will strengthen their decision to defer an appeal to the country as long as possible. Yesterday was anything but a good day for the Unionists.

LABOUR IS READY.

Following the conference of the elected and defeated candidates of the Independent Labour Party at Hamilton on Saturday, comes the announcement that Labour has unanimously decided to co-operate with the United Farmers in the formation of a government for Ontario. Delegates representing the Independent Labour Party are conferring with a committee from the U.F.O. and a programme of legislative action is being decided upon which will be submitted to the members of the U.F.O. and Labour groups to-morow. In announcing the coalition Mr. Joseph T. Marks, provincial organizer of the Labour party, declares that its policy "as soon as the government has been formed and the Legislature can meet, will be to introduce progressive legislation and force Liberal and Conservative alike to toe the mark and show where they stand." That is a high-sounding promise, and Mr. Marks did not go into details as to the character of the legislation, but one thing that can be confidently counted on is a revision of the Department of Agriculture. This is a reform that the United Farmers are determined upon and their efforts will receive the cordial co-operation of labour. The farmers have always complained that the Department of Agriculture was utterly out of touch with the desires and aspirations of the agricultural interests and now that the United Farmers have come into their own politically, there will be a speedy re-organization of the Department.

WHY IT IS NEEDED.

Why is it necessary to have another Victory Loan? Have you heard this query? Or have you asked it?

The Victory Loan of this year stands out as the bridge between war and peace. The war is over. Our boys won that. The reconstruction period is dawning and we at home must win that.

Much of the money that Canada is asking for will be needed to clean up the war debt. The expenses of demobilization were heavy, and there is still much of it unpaid. Now that our men are back, let it not be said that we repudiated the debt for bringing them back.

The sick and wounded soldiers still in hospitals are expecting that Canada will care for them and their dependents until they have been returned to health and strength. The hospital services must be maintained at full strength as long as there are returned men needing attention.

Many men through disability are unable to return to their pre-war occupations. The Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment is doing a fine work in training returned soldiers in trades and professions that they can earn a living at, and is following up the training and seeing that they obtain remunerative employment. The maintaining of this branch of reconstructive service calls for much funds, and the Victory Loan will be used to pay for it as well as the other purposes.

Under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, enough money is lent to returned soldiers to enable them to buy and stock a farm. This money will be repaid at a low rate of interest. The soldier is thus given a chance to re-instate himself in civil life, and production is given a boost. Of the total amount of the forthcoming loan, $24,000,000 has been apportioned to finance these soldier-farmers.

Pensions to the disabled and dependents of our glorious dead, as well as the authorized gratuities will be other items on the expense sheet. These are some of the obligations owing to the returned soldier who is now in health.

The maintaining of Canada's prosperity is an important reason why the Victory Loan should be a smashing success. The money is needed to finance the credits to overseas countries so that they may continue their trade relations with us. If Canada cannot give these credits other countries will, and then Canada will lose all that great overseas trade that has been the mainstay of our agricultural and industrial life for so long.

As an investment Victory Bonds are eminent. Paying 5 1-2 per cent., selling above par on the open market, and guaranteed by the Dominion—what further reason can you have for hesitating? The Victory Loan 1919 ought to be oversubscribed, and all right-thinking citizens will do their utmost to see that such a result is obtained.

LABOUR AND THE FARMERS.

The Otawa Journal has dire misgivings over the political alliance of the United Farmers and the Independent Labour Party. Here is the way the Journal looks at the matter:

"A report comes from Toronto that an idea exists there of a provincial political alliance between the farmers and the Labour party for the purpose of forming a provincial government. The report is a rather amusing one. It becomes more so when details are suggested. One story, for instance, is that Mr. James Simpson might be a choice as leader of the alliance. Mr. Simpson is nominally a Labor man, but in reality a political radical of pronounced views, with some of which neither Labor nor the farmers would hold. Mr. Simpson is a socialist, and neither our farmers nor our Labor unions are socialits. Mr. Simpson is said to be popular with the U. F. O. leaders, but that probably is merely because he is a free-trader, and the farmers are thinking about him in that respect, and not in any other. The chances are that if Mr. Simpson by some weird turn were to be accepted by the farmers as Prime Minister of the Province, a general smash-up would come inside six months. Mr. Simpson is a sincere man, and would start to put some of his socialistic theories into practice, and the farmers in general have about as much use for socialism as they have for the drug habit.

Similarly, no bond of principle exists to cement a political alliance between Labor and the Farmers with or without Mr. Simpson or Sir Adam Beck or anybody else. The farmer is an employer and does not wish to pay any more wages than he can help. Labor is calling for shorter hours of work. The farmer objects to any limitation of working hours, seeing that in this climate he can use only part of the year to full working advantage. The farmer wants free trade, or at least lower tariff; most of our Labor men think first of protection for Canadian industry. In the recent vote on prohibition, the farmers were overwhelmingly for a "dry" Ontario, whereas in the cities and towns, where Labor is strongest, the vote was indecisive. As to other political or social issues, we imagine that any subjects on which Labor and the farmer fully agree, such as vigorous promotion of education, good roads, good housing, good health regulations, and of course—oh, of course—economical administration. Labor and most other classes of the community are calling for price regulation to reduce the cost of living; the farmer is ready to lynch Mr. O'Connor because he proposed to fix a price for milk.

The cold fact is that between the Labor party and the U.F.O. greater differences exist of political and social principle than exist between even the Conservatives and the Liberals, or indeed between either the U.F.O. or the Labor party and either the Conservatives or the Liberals or both. It would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to say what vital differences exist at all in political or social principals between the Conservatives and the Liberals in Ontario provincial politics or between either the Conservatives or the Liberals and either of the other parties in the province. But no difficulty arises to point out radical differences between Labor and the farmers.

If politics were merely a game to get and keep office and salaries, a political alliance between the U.F.O. and the Labor party might not be indecent. But it would be a ludicrous commentary on the denunciations which have been lavished on politicians of the old parties, Conservative or Liberal, for alleged lack of high principle—ludicrous, because the people who have been prone to such denunciations are probably mostly at present classing themselves as admirers of the revolt against old party lines.

The alliance the Journal says will be impossible seems to be assured in view of the unanimous decision of the Labor party to cast in their lot with the farmers. So that the people of Ontario will have an opportunity of judging the ability of the Ottawa paper as a prophet. Its predictions have very often failed in the past and in this particular case the Journal may be wrong again.

OFFICER DESCRIBES EARLY TILT OF WAR

GERMANS WERE HELD SEVEN DAYS WITHOUT REST.

NEW YORK.—"We had orders to fight to the death. We merely followed orders."

This was the terse explanation here by Lieut.-Gen. Baron Jacques, commander of the Third Belgian Army Division, and who fought at Liege, Antwerp, on the famous victory of a single Belgian brigade of infantry which stopped the Germans at Dixmude in October, 1914.

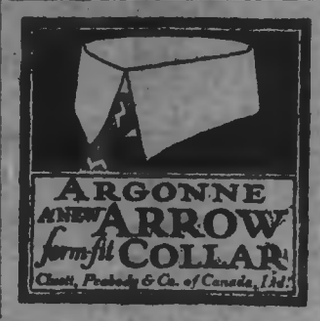
"From October 19 to 26 we fought and held thm without budging an inch," Jacques told the United Press. "The Germans were advancing. The fighting was very hot. It was an inferno all the time. I was wounded twice. More bodies were strewn over the ground than there were effectives. The Germans were absolutely mad — charging, charging, morning, noon and night. We had to keep our finger on the trigger all the time. We couldn't get forward even to relieve our outposts, all of which but one held. This one had its men wiped out. We couldn't even succor our wounded.

"But in those seven days we held every inch of ground and stopped the German onrush. Finally after the battle we retired to the south side of the river. The Germans didn't enter Dixmude until November.

"We simply had been ordered to fight to the death. We merely followed orders.

"As an example of the terrific strain we were under: On the night of the 25th a German battalion forced its way through Dixmude to the south bank of the river in our rear. I blew out my candle light. Some officers were killed because their lights gave the Germans a target to shoot at. Throughout the night we heard the Germans in our rear singing, shooting and killing. In front of us they were constantly charging our lines.

"But our morale held. The Germans finally stopped and the battle was ours. The German battalion which had forced its way through our lines never returned. We killed or captured the entire battalion."



NOW IS THE TIME of the year when it is necessary to start fires in the furnace and range, the same to be kept up for the next six months, day and night, whether you are on hand to look after them or not. It is important to see that everything is kept in good condition to avoid accidents which may occur, and also more important to see that your fire insurance is in force and in a good company. Do not delay to get your policy made out and in your possession. You never know when or where a fire is going to break out. Be prepared for it at all times even if it never happens. The cost of maintaining a good policy is very small if you let us write it. But your protection will be perfect, and your loss, should one occur, promptly settled. A VISIT TO FORTUNE TELLER

CHAPTER CII.

We had a delightful dinner. I may have appreciated it the more because of late they had seemed rather lonely and dull without Neil, as he had been distrait, uninterested. But both he and Mr. Frederick mastered themselves and we had a really lively time. Aunt fairly bubbled. The conversation turned on fortune telling, and while we all declared our skepticism, each of us confessed to having at some time gone to hear what the seers could tell us. Mr. Frederick said:

"There is a very good one here now, a man named Cary. He has apartments at one of the hotels uptown, and does a smashing business."

"I should like to visit him,' aunt said to him, "it is years since I have had my fortune told. Then it was by a travelling Gypsy.. She used a greasy pack of cards. I was afraid of disease."

"Oh, this man is a well-groomed fellow, I imagine he makes money," Frederick replied.

"You have visited him?" I asked quizzically.

"I have to confess that I have, not once, but several times. The last time in San Francisco."

"But did he tell you anything? Anything you cared to know, and didn't know before you went to him?-' I again questioned him.

"Yes —yes—I think he did tell me somethings I wanted to know. Some that I didn't care about also."

"Come Frederick," Neil broke in. "You'll have Bab running to all the fortune tellers in town. ' I for one don't believe they know any more than we do about the future. They are merely good readers of character. He will probably tell Bab she is to be married again, have half a dozen children, and go on a journey. I believe that is about the extent of their stock in trade." We all laughed at him, but aunt was not to be turned from her purpose. So she insisted upon learning the name of the hotel at which the seer was staying, and after dinner she telephoned and asked his office hours.

"We will go to-morrow morning," she said to me as she turned from the 'phone. "We'll get an early start so there won't be too many ahead of us."

"Judging from the crowd waiting for him in San Francisco some of them must have been there all night," Mr. Frederick told her.

"I shan't be happy unless I can see him before I go home," she said. I have heard one can ask them questions and that they answer them perfectly"

"You have to write the question on a slip of paper. He lays them on his forehead, then repeats the question, afterwards giving you his answer." I was amused at the naivete with which Mr. Frederick told her all about this man. Evidently he had some faith in him, his prognostications.

We played bridge for a little while then he left early, promising Neil to drop in the office next day.

"You seem much better Neil, Mr. Frederick has done you good, his aunt remarked, giving expression to my thought.

We had scarcely finished breakfast the next morning before aunt commenced to hurry me so that we might get to the hotel where the fortune teller was staying. Even so we found several waiting in the reception room. It gave me an uncanny feeling to hear them whisper and see them keep looking toward a closed door. I began to think there might be something he could tell me after all. I overheard one woman say:

"We must think of what we are going to ask him. I am sure if I don't I'll be so frightened I won't find out a single thing I really want to know." I at once commenced to think of questions I wanted to ask.

We waited nearly an hour before it came our turn. I then insisted that aunt go in first. She came out beaming.

"He is wonderful Bab, simply wonderful! I will tell you all he told me after you come out."

Silly as I felt it to be I trembled as I walked into the presence of a quiet looking, quietly dressed man.

"Write six questions on these slips of paper," he laid them on the table beside me. It took me but a few moments as I knew exactly what I was going to ask, thanks to the woman whom I had overheard. He took them from me, laid one on his forehead, waited a moment, then said:

"You want to know if some one you love is perfectly honest in his business methods, and if he is going to continue his past success."

It was the one of all my questions in which I was particularly interested. I almost held my breath while I waited for his reply.

WHEN OTHERS FAIL

Zam-Buk cures the most stubborn skin diseases and sores. This is because Zam-Buk's method of healing is entirely different and superior to that of ordinary ointments!

When Zam-Buk is applied it does not remain on the surface skin, as an ordinary ointment would. Because of its unusual refinement it penetrates to the underlying tissues. This is where all skin troubles have their origin. The germicidal properties of Zam-Buk then destroy all germs and thoroughly cleanse the diseased parts. Having done this, the healing essences contained in Zam-Buk also stimulate the tissues that new, healthy skin is quickly produced. The result is a complete and permanent cure of the sore or injury.

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, ringworm, scalp sores, boils, pimples teething rash, ulcers, abscesses running sores, "barber's rash," blood-poisoning and piles. As a first-aid, too, Zam-Buk is indispensable. It stops bleeding, ends pain, draws out soreness and inflammation, prevents blood-poisoning and heals quickly. All dealers 50c. box.

Woms Clothe Women

Silk Has Been Used For Over 5000 Years

A grey, ugly, ungainly-looking little insect, with 12 eyes, 16 noses, 16 feet, and a very strong mouth—such is the worm that plays so important a part in clothing the fair sex, says Tit-Bits.

Silk worms are divided into two classes, domestic and wild. The former feed only upon mulberry leaves, and the latter on various leaves, but principally those of the oak tree. The silk produced from the domestic worms is naturally superior to that from the wild insects.

Silk worms come from the eggs of the silk-moth. Each moth lays about 300 to 500 eggs, about the size of a pin's head. It takes 440,000 eggs to weigh a pound. These eggs are laid in June, and in the following April they are hatched, a caterpillar emerging from each egg.

They remain in the larva or "grub" stage for about six weeks, changing their skins four times during that period. Before each of these "ages" the worm ceases to eat, but afterwards it feeds with a voracious appetite. When it is full-grown the worm begins to make its cocoon, an oval case of silk threads, about the size of a pigeon's egg.

Having wrapped itself securely in its cocoon, it becomes a chrysalis, and remains asleep for about twenty days. Then it gnaws its way through its covering of silk and emerges a winged moth. In a few days, if a female, it deposits its 300 or so eggs, and speedily dies. And so the marvellous process begins all over again.

Naturally, only a certain proportion of domestic or specially cultivated silk-worms are allowed to reach the moth stage. Their cocoons are taken away in order to obtain the tiny thread-silk which is ejected by the worm from a tube in its under lip.

In order to unreel the silk that the worms have so methodically woven into cocoons these are placed in hot water containing a solution of soap and a little acetic or vinegary acid.

From now until the silk has reached its final stage it is subjected to a series of delicate manipulations at the hands of experienced silk makers. Care has to be taken that the raw silk does not lose its brilliance; that too much of the natural gum and grit are not removed from its surface, as this would weaken the already extremely delicate thread; that the threads are dried properly, so that the color remains uniform, and so on. Then follow other chemical and mechanical operations. The raw silk is boiled, pounced, purged, combed, cut into convenient lengths, twisted, spun, and wound into yarn.

Twisting plays a great part in the manufacture of silk. The more it is twisted the less brilliant, but the stronger it becomes. In the making of some silks that are semi-transparent and dull (such as crepe) there are about 3,000 twists to every yard, but the average "twistage" to the yard is 650.

It is about 3,000 years since silk was first used, after being discovered and made in China. During many centuries the Chinese guarded the secret; then Japan found it out, and so it spread slowly over Asia and then Europe.

It is less than 800 years since the silk industry developed in Europe. To-day the annual production of silk is produced in Italy, from which country about £18,000,000 worth is annually exported. About 700,000,000 pounds of silk cocoons are yearly produced all over the world.

Sixty Years In Orders.

Rev. Louis Campbell Wurtele, one of the oldest clergymen in Canada, died on April 4th at his home in Montreal after an illness of several months' duration. He was in his 87th year, and had been in Holy Orders for nearly sixty years, most of which term of service was spent in Astonvale. He was the brother of the late Hon. Mr. Justice Wurtele, and leaves a widow, one daughter, Mrs. A. H. Moore, of St. Johns, Que., and two sons, Rev. A. H. Wurtele, rector of Rochester, Minnesota, and Mr. J. F. H. Wurtele.

Lizards Protect Sugar-cane.

The chief menace to sugar-cane in the West Indies is the froghopper, an insect that sucks the sap from the root and leaves of the sugar-cane, and that owes its name to its ability to take prodigious leaps. In recent years the insects have multiplied enormously, especially in Trinidad, where their natural enemies—frogs, toads, and lizards—have been nearly exterminated by the mongoose, originally brought from India to kill the rats and snakes. Wherever the mongooses were plentiful the lizards disappeared and the froghoppers flourished. Five years ago a leading planter, after exterminating as many mongooses as possible, placed thousands of ground lizards in his canefields, with the result that the froghopper has almost disappeared, and the sugar yield is greatly increased and improved. Other large sugar-cane growers have since started a lizard farm, where the lizards are brought in hundreds and encouraged to thrive and multiply for the sole object of combating the froghopper pest. Thousands of bats too are kept for the same work.—Family Herald.

Clearly Barred.

The German authorities, distressed, not to say outraged beyond expression, at the harshness of the Allied peace terms, and seeking for the German people some adequate means of expressing their feelings on the matter have, according to recent despatches from Copenhagen, sent out a telegram to the German states of which the following is a paragraph: "By a decision of the Imperial Government, the Free States are requested to have all public amusements suspended for a week, and to allow in the theatres only such productions as correspond with the seriousness of these grievous days." No one would wish to be unkind about the matter, but such a request as this latter surely places a terrible responsibility on theatre managers. It is not easy to think of suitable plays, but "All's Well That Ends Well," by Uncle Shakespeare, is clearly barred.

Marriage Customs.

The courtship and marriage customs among the Greenlanders were in early times simple and unceremonious enough, since we are told that when a lovelorn youth made up his mind as to the girl he wanted to adorn and be useful in his hut of icy snow he went to her house, seized her by the hair or wherever he could obtain a good grip on her, and dragged her to his own domain, where she was expected to "stay put" without any further marriage ceremony. If an affluent bridegroom he would perhaps soothe her lacerated feelings by presenting her with a lamp or some article of household utility.

Overdoing

How Women Break Down

Owing to the modern manner of living and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much each day, they overdo, and as a consequence develop ailments peculiar to their sex, as is indicated by backache, headache, nervousness, the blues, displacements and weakness.

Women who find themselves in this condition should slow down, and depend upon that good old fashioned root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, to restore them to health and strength, for there is no other remedy known that so quickly restores a healthy, normal condition.

Here is the Story of a Most Remarkable Recovery

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night, and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old, and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from me, so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."
Mrs. A. L. MILLER,

After-war conditions, and the telephone No. 9

Why "Wrong Number"?

THE vast majority of telephone operators are conscientious and painstaking. To them a "wrong number" is as distressing as to the person who gets it.

It is to the operator's interest that the caller should reach his party promptly, should finish his talk without interruption and then be disconnected. A "wrong number" means, besides irritation for two subscribers, double work for the operator.

Aside from failure to consult the latest telephone directory, wrong numbers arise chiefly through failure of the operator to hear clearly the number asked for. This failure in turn arises from two causes:—

1. Indistinct speaking.
2. Speaking away from the telephone, instead of directly into the mouthpiece.

May we not count on your co-operation in these two important respects? Always speak distinctly, directly into the mouthpiece.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

WILL REPAIR. THE FACTORY

NASHUA GUM AND COATED PAPER COMPANY WILL OCCUPY CORDAGE BUILDINGS IN JANUARY.

CITY OWNS IT NOW.

A final settlement between the city and the Stickney Motors Limited has been reached to the entire satisfaction of both parties. The old Cordage Company's buildings are now the property of the municipality, the insurance has been transferred, and the Nashua Gum and Coated Paper Company have notified the city that they expect to be ready to occupy the premises immediately after New Year's.

Mayor Duncan told the committee of the Whole last night that Mr. Stickney in relinquishing his control of the Cordage property, had dismissed the day and night watchmen. This would have left the place unprotected last night, and the Mayor took the responsibility of instructing the men to remain on duty until the Council ratified his act. This was done at last night's meeting.

According to the agreement with the Nashua Company the city must spend $7,000 on repairs to the buildings, to be exact $6,700, for the recent by-law cost the city $800. The Mayor estimated the cost of the painting that is required to be done, ex-Ald. Jones gave an estimate of the general repairs and Mr. A. McLeod of the roof.

Ald. Hamilton moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison, that the Nashau Company be requested to make whatever repairs they desire, within the city's appropriation, and, in the event of their refusal, that Ald. Hamilton advertise for tenders for the work, for which specifications shall be prepared.

The buildings are insured for $106,000, the Mayor stated, at the rate of 27 cents.

PRESIDENT WILSON IS ABOUT THE SAME

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.— President Wilson's condition this morning was about the same, according to information at the White House last night. Dr. Carry T. Grayson said: "The President has had a very good day." Work has not interfered with the President's gains, it was stated, although his physicians are careful to prevent over-exertion.

PALE-CHEEKED WOMEN TOLD ABOUT RESTORING A ROSY COMPLEXION

A few years ago the girl with pale, drawn cheeks scarcely knew what to do in order to restore her fading appearance. At that time there was no blood-food medium made that really would put colour and strength into systems that were more or less worn out.

To-day it's different. The blood can be quickly nourished, can be made rich, red and healthy. All you have to do is take two Ferrozone Tablets with a sip or two of water after meals. The effect is almost magical.

Mothers, look at your children. Are they ruddy and strong—do they eat and sleep well, or are they pale, weak, and anaemic?

FERROZONE will rebuild them. Take your own case—is your blood strong and rich? Have you that old-time strength and vigor, or are you somewhat under the weather?

FERROZONE will supply the strengthening elements you require. It is a blood-forming, nourishing tonic that makes every ailing person well.

FERROZONE is a marvellous remedy, it contains in concentrated form certain rare qualities that especially fit it in cases of anaemia, poor color, thin blood, tiredness, and loss of weight.

Every day you put off using FERROZONE you lose ground. Get it to-day, sold in 50 cent boxes by all dealers, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

NO PROVISION FOR GERMAN REPRESENTATION

But Austrian and German Delegates Are Coming to Washington—Americans Have No Seats Either.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — German delegates to the International Labour Conference scheduled to open here to-morrow, will land in the United States Sunday. Austrian delegates are on the way and will arrive soon after the Germans. Neither Germany or Austria is entitled to representation in the conference under Internation Labour charter of the Peace Treaty, under which the conference was called. Neutral nations, through their representatives, are expected to make a fight to change the conference rules and seat the Germans and Austrians. American delegates are also without standing in the conference since Congress has not ratified the peace treaty. Two International Labour meetings were to begin here to-day, preliminary to the International Labour Conference.

KING OF BELGIANS APPEARS BEFORE CONGRESS TO-DAY.

EIGHT COTTAGES BURGLARIZED AT PLEASANT POINT THURSDAY NIGHT—LINEN CARRIED AWAY

BURGLARS RANSACKED SUMMER HOMES—DETECTIVE CROWE OF TORONTO, FIRST TO DISCOVER COTTAGES HAD BEEN ENTERED.

Eight summer cottages at Pleasant Point were entered by burglars on Thursday night and ransacked from top to bottom. They are owned by the following gentlemen:

O. Hexzlewood, Toronto.
H. Brimmell, Lindsay.
W. D. Hay, Toronto.
Mr. Goldstein, Toronto.
Dr. Irvine, Lindsay.
Conductor G. Thompson, Lindsay.
Miss M. Morton, Lindsay.
Ford W. Moyes, Lindsay.

Discovered by a Detective.

On Thursday last Mr. Thos. Ballantyne, of Toronto, motored to the Point, in the interests of Mr. Arthur Black, to close up and do some carpenter work at the latter's cottage, which is situated next to the Brimmell cottage. He was accompanied on the trip by Detective Crowe, of Toronto, who was on pleasure bent. It will be remembered that Detective Crowe is the man who captured Frank McCullough recently in the Queen City. They worked about during the day and retired fairly early. The next morning, on arising and wandering about the vicinity, Detective Crowe noticed that a window in the Brimmell cottage was up, and on investigating found that the house had been entered and ransacked from top to bottom. On passing through town Friday morning on their way back to town, Mr. Ballantyne acquainted Mr. Brimmell of the burglary, and said that other cottages had also been entered.

Visited the Scene.

Mr. Brimmell motored to the Point early in the day, and found that the eight cottages mentioned above had been entered. At his own cottage he discovered that the window had been forced open with a "jimmie," and that everything under cover had been covered. Shelves were swept bare of articles, mattresses were taken off the beds, and the contents of drawers scattered about the dwelling. He surmises that considerable household articles are missing.

Operated at Midnight.

That the burglars operated at midnight is the belief of Dr. Irvine, as he along with Mr. M. H. Sisson visited his cottage on Thursday and were there until 9.30 o'clock the same evening. In this cottage burglars stole a large quantity of bed linen, sheets (comforter, pillow slips, blankets, etc., but did not touch any cutlery, dishes, etc.

Other Cottages Pillaged

Other cottages were entered in a similar manner and articles broken or carried away. The burglars apparently made a whole night of the proceedings, and from the class of articles stolen, it is surmised that they were not boys.

Police Notified

It is understood that the county police have been notified and that they visited the scene of the robbery this morning to make investigations.

DEATH LURKS IN RIPE OLIVES

SEIZURE OF ALL BRANDS IN DETROIT STORES IS ORDERED BY AUTHORITIES

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 28.— Following a telegraphic report from the University of Michigan confirming the finding of Harper Hospital bacteriologists, who on Saturday discovered the germ of botulismus poison in a jar of ripe olives, Inspectors of the Department of Health were to-day ordered to seize all brands of ripe olives in Detroit groceries. Five persons died from eating the olives here last week.

200 Cases Confiscated.

Two hundred cases, approximately nine thousand bottles, were confiscated in downtown markets. Every delicatessen and grocery store in the city will be searched.

Wholesale houses have been ordered to discontinue the sale of all olives, ripe or green, and hotels and restaurants were simultaneously advised to strike olives off their bills of fare.

"Detroit is not safe until every bottle or can of olives is analyzed," said Dr. D. M. Griswold, Director of Medical Service of the Department of Health. "Samples of canned corn, asparagus, tomatoes and every other form of canned food preserved by the cold-pack method will also be viewed with suspicion."

Five Deaths From Olives.

The tragedy which occasioned the investigation and order prohibiting the sale of ripe olives occurred at the home of Murray W. Sales on the evening of October 18. Five deaths resulted from eating olives—A. Ingersoll Lewis, Detroit capitalist, a son and a daughter of Mr. Sales and two maids in the household.

Dr. C. G. Jennings, who was called in, diagnosed the cases as bacillus botulismus poisoning, an infection usually confined to animals.

After an investigation by the Board of Health an order was issued prohibiting the sale of all canned and bottled foods prepared by the so-called "cold" process. A warning was also sent out to the public against eating such foods, particularly olives, corn and asparagus, pending a report to be made immediately.

SPECIAL DESCRIPTIVE ITINERARY TOUR OF H.R.H. PRINCE OF WALES.

The Grand Trunk Railway System has supplied for the use of the Prince of Wales and his staff on their tour through Eastern Canada, over the lines of that railway a specially designed descriptive itinerary. The book is bound in real leather, is magnificently illustrated and a notable production in every way. On the olive green leather of the cover is die stamped, in gold, the arms of His Royal Highness, with crest, badges and supporters, while in the corners are the emblems of England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales and Canada. The frontispiece is a copper etching of Niagara Falls signed by the artist. The other illustrations are printed in sepia on heavy suede finished coated stock, and show the features of the territory which his Royal Highness will visit during his tour of Ontario and Quebec; also the striking developments in motive power and bridge building. The letterpress is printed on the finest of hand made loft dried stock and is descriptive of the points of interest between North Bay and Hamilton, Niagara Falls and Brantford, Guelph, Stratford and Woodstock, Chatham, London and Windsor, and Toronto, Kingston, Brockville and Montreal. Maps of the Grand Trunk System are mounted in silk in specially provided pockets. The "edition de lux" is limited to one hundred copies all numbered, and these are enclosed in handsome boxes with the arms of His Royal Highness stamped on them. In the foreword to this beautiful book reference is made to the important part played by the Grand Trunk in the development of Canada.

"The building of the railway linking up the widely separated centres of population and activity, has been described," says this foreword, "as the most important forward step in the period immediately preceding Confederation. Without the means of communication provided by the creation of railway lines, the Union of British North America would have been a union in name only. It was one of the Fathers of Confederation, Sir George Etienne Cartier, K.C.M.G., who presented to the Canadian Legislature the Act to incorporate the Grand Trunk Railway Company, and that distinguished statesman regarded with pride the prominent part that he had taken in the establishment of the railway. 'I had charge of the Act which created the Grand Trunk,' said Sir George in one of his parliamentary utterances, 'and I am prouder of that than of any other action of my life. The line has been the greatest benefit that has ever been conferred upon the country.'"

Just a few of the Big Chorus with Budd Fisher's Latest Musical Cartoon Success, MUTT & JEFF'S DREAM, Grand Opera House, Matinee and Night, Saturday, November 1

NEW HITS IN MUTT AND JEFF

"Mutt and Jeff" in their latest and greatest "fun phest" entitled "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" will make their annual visit to the Grand Theatre Saturday matinee and evening.

The new play is said to be the one big laugh hit of the season, combining fun that is clean and wholesome, likewise original, music of the "catchy" variety settings, mountings, and a scenic production that dazzles. Comedians and vaudeville acts of the better grade and a company of thirty, mostly girls, including a chorus of sprightly maidens, who can both sing and dance are some of the things that make "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" the foremost of all popular-priced musical farce comedies.

Although the high cost of everything has pervaded the theatrical line, same as all other business, it is Mr. Hill's intention to give the theatre-going public the benefit of pre-war prices just as long as it is possible to do so. Advance sale of seats will open Thursday.

"STOLEN ORDERS" A PLAYS OF INTENSE TIMELINES

FEATURING AN ALL-STAR CAST.

"Stolen Orders," William A. Brady's big photoplay, which was shown for the first time yesterday at the Allen Theatre, is a stupendous play of the present time. President Wilson, himself, appears in several scenes in the production in a striking manner, these scenes being secured while Mr. Wilson was delivering one of his memorable addresses.

As would be judged from the title, this play deals with the theft of some highly important war documents from the commander of a great American fleet. The manner in which these documents were stolen and what came of the theft make a superb feature of extraordinary entertaining powers, an attraction that holds every spectator spellbound from the start of the first reel to the end of the very last reel.

One of the most exciting occurrences ever seen in motion pictures is the great fight in the basket of a dirigible baloon, the fall of the fighters into the water below and the rescue by a hydro-aeroplane of a girl who falls into the water. These scenes were taken at Atlantic City, where the presence of the monster dirigible attracted an extraordinary amount of attention.

From start to finish "Stolen Orders" is a master production, and is filled with interest and entertainment. It will be shown to-night for the last time. Owing to the length of the feature it will only be shown once at eight o'clock.

"HOUSE DIVIDED" WAS ADAPTED FROM POPULAR NOVEL

The novel "The Substance of His House" from which J. Stewart Blackton's newest superfeature, "A House Divided" which comes to the Allen Theatre for two days, commencing to-morrow, has been adapted, was written by Ruth Holt Boucicault, author of many popular romances and dedicated by her to Margaret Mayo, the playwright. The book was copyrighted and first printed in 1913. It proved such an immediate success that second and third editions were issued within the month of original publication. The dedication is a poem reading:

"Friend of my heart, out of the years behind us
I've plucked and weaved this chain of leaves for you,
Knowing its little worth, except to bind us
With one tie more which time cannot undo.
Yours was the gift, and yours the faith unbroken
When fate assailed and life but mocked my tears,
Take now my thanks, and though so slight the token,
My love that glows still greater through the years."

The author apparently found her inspiration and title for the novel in a quotation from "The Song of Songs" to the effect that "Many waters cannot quench love, nor can the floods drown it; if a man give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be condemned."

On this theme she built a dramatic story of love, marriage and divorce, her characters being interesting and intelligent individuals prominent fictionally in the social and political life of London. The novel was brought to Commodore Blackton's attention some months ago and, feeling that it offered exceptional screen possibilities, he immediately acquired the picture rights and held the novel until such time as it accorded with his plans to produce it. He has completed the film version which is called "A House Divided."

The cast selected by Commodore Blackton to present the principal characters include Herbert Rawlinson and Sylvia Breaer. Lieutenant Lawrence Grossmith, little Charles and Violet Blackton, William Humphrey, Eric Mayne, Sallie Crute and Marie Burke.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"A NINE O'CLOCK TOWN."

"A Nine O'clock Town," the feature picture at the Grand Opera House, featuring Charles Ray, is a film based upon an entirely new theme and tells a story of unusual interest. David, the son of a small town merchant, imports some big ideas from the cities where he has visited and endeavours to put them into practice, using his father's principle, much against the wish of his old-fashioned parent. After persuading the old gentleman to build a huge departmental store in place of the progressive little shop he kept before, David further wishes such city attractions brought into the store as models and an orchestra. Upon his father's refusal to go so far he leaves the little "Nine O'clock Town" for the city, where he finds a position as clerk at the tie counter in a big dry goods store. With his customary bluff he wires his parent he has connected himself with the big store and keeps his position until a designing female works the long lost brother act on him and robs him not only of all his money but of his position in the store. Out of work he wires his parents that without they wish him to return home he will connect himself with Macys in New York, and is immediately sent for. His customary bluff sees him through to a six months' monopoly of the store, where he not only sells at less than cost, but becomes involved in a frame-up by the woman who worked the long lost brother act whose supposed husband demands $5,000 before six the next evening. Terrified at the prospect of being exposed, to raise the money he immediately announces another sale at his father's store, advertising such bargains that the people from the neighbouring towns flock to the sacrifice sale. During the sale the supposed husband of David's denouncer is recognized by a corset model as her husband, the frame-up is exposed, and the principals taken to prison. Meanwhile the owner of a chain of stores has watched the crowds coming to the store, and thinking it to be a good investment, buys out David's parents at a huge profit to them, placing David as manager.

Sloth, one of the McClure series of the Seven Deadly Sins, is a big attraction upon the programme, while the Vod-a-Vil Movies are perhaps the livest shown yet.

SODIUM SULPHATE DEPOSIT FOUND IN SASKATCHEWA

REGINA, Oct. 28. — Announcement was made to-day by H. H. Elliott of the White Shore Chemical Co. that active work would be started very soon on the development of the Sodium Sulphate deposits on the shore of Lake White Shore. This is the largest deposit in the Dominion and according to Mr. Elliott its use will revolutionize the pulp making industry in Canada. It will increase the output of by-products of the pulp mills from twelve, as at present, to more than forty, it is stated, the most important of these being artificial silk, which can be manufactured from the pulp. The mine is situated northwest of Biggar, west of Oban, and close to both the G.T.P. and C.P.R. Shipments will commence early next year.

$20,000,000 FOR CANADIAN PACIFIC

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Oct. 28.—It is announced to-day that the C. P. R. has taken twenty million dollars of this year's Victory Loan, which is three millions more than last year.

Employees of the C. P. R. will also take another big slice.

Reports from all over Ontario indicate that canvassers are working well and turning in subscriptions that augur well for the success of the campaign.

FIRST DAY'S WORK IN PETERBORO

J. J. TURNER AND SONS SUBSCRIBE $17,000—HONOR EMBLEM FOR ROYAL BANK

For the first day's work in Peterborough, the Victory Loan subscriptions total $148,850, of which $75,000 represents the bonds taken by the Sinking Trust Commission. The results are satisfatcory in the light of the fact that the canvassers found it necessary to spend considerable time getting a line hold.' There were reported many promises which will be fruitful.

J. J. Turner and Sons show their absolute confidence in the Loan by subscribing $17,000. This does not include the fatcory employees, who may be expected to be up with the top-notchers.

Another incident worthy of record is the contribution from the Royal Bank, which Institution is the first to win the Prince of Wales' Honor Emblem card awarded to establishments where 75 per cent. of the staff subscribe an aggregate amount equal to at least 10 per cent. of the annual payroll. Every member of the bank staff subscribed for a total of 12 per cent. of the payroll.

The enthusiasm in evidence throughout the province is indicated in the following telegram received by Mr. Harold Fry, the organizer for Peterborough County:

"All conservative feeling about this loan seems gone. The campaign has opened with the smash of success. Returns so far are amazing. The first fifteen special subscriptions reported total sixty-four millions and show one-third increase over last year. For the early hours of the campaign Waterloo reports $5,250,000, Peel $100,000, Wellington $800,000, Dundas $50,000, Stormont and Glengarry and the entire Lake Huron division had exceeded all objectives. No doubt a number of specials are promised which will force some units over the top in a few hours.

To-morrow, at the Conservatory Hall, the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., are holding a Victory Loan Hallowe'en dance. The Chapter will invest the proceeds in Victory Bonds.

Ontario's contribution on the first day to the Victory Loan was $10,220,000. This includes the share from Toronto, amounting to $2,530,150. Forty-two units out of sixty reported their results to headquarters yesterday. Ontario's objective in the loan is $200,000,000.

Special subscriptions promised in Ontario amount to $10,650,000.

RED LETTER SUNDAY AT MARK STREET

MONEY WAS PROVIDED FOR THE SEASON'S FUEL SUPPLY.

A red letter Sunday and Hallowe'en banquet took place at Mark St. Methodist Church on Sunday and Monday last.

By request of the Trustee Board the Pastor took charge of the Anniversary Services in Mark Street Church last Sabbath, and the result was abundantly successful. The sum of $300.00 was required to meet the connexional funds and fuel for the year, and Sunday saw this amount promptly provided for. The congregations were the largest that have yet greeted the new pastor and there are bright prospects for East City Methodism. Since the 13th of July last this congregation has provided nearly $1,200.00 for the carrying on of the cause of God. This surely spells progress.

The morning subject was "Bringing in the Tithes" and that of the evening "Bread Cast Upon the Waters." The music by the choir was excellent at both services and we are free to say that the splendid rendering of the anthems both at the morning and evening service would do credit to any choir in the city.

On Monday evening a Hallowe'en banquet was given to the successful competitors in the recent contest for new members for the Epworth League. The losing side covered themselves with glory by their splendid ability to entertain, and the caterer's gay attire, mingling with the gorgeous colors of the artistic decorations of the banqueting hall, reminded one of a magnificent feast.

Nor did the winning side forget their host on this occasion. The Pastor, as toast-master, called for a toast to Madam President, Mrs. W. H. Morton, and Mr. H. Nellist replied with a well-prepared and pithy address. A toast to "The King" called out a splendid patriotic reply by Mr. Gamble, Superintendent of the Sunday School, while a toast to the royal entertainers was responded to by all the guests rising and, led by Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Ross, singing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows," with rhymes eulogizing the good things provided by the youthful entertainers.

Between fifty and sixty Leaguers met on this occasion and the result reflects much credit on the president and her helpeds.

AN INVENTION.

C. W. Robinson makes one for Cultivator.

Charles W. Robinson, formerly of Peterboro, has secured a patent for an invention to eliminate effort on the part of an operator on a heavy field cultivator. Hitherto the shovels were so arranged that when they encountered an obstruction, such as a stone, they flew back and the operator had to replace them himself. In the shovel which Mr. Robinson has invented he has overcome the difficulty and the tooth returns home to its original position immediately it has passed the obstruction.

The International Harvester Co., where Mr. Robinson is employed, has purchased the invention.

MINISTER DEFIED THE CONVENTION

STORMY SCENES AT THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

OTTAWA, Oct. 28—Scenes of wild disorder occurred at last night's session of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Convention. It seemed for a few moments that Rev. J. Henderson, of Eglinton Baptist Church, Toronto, would be forcibly ejected. He refused to sit down when told to do so by the President, Rev. Dr. O. C. S. Wallace, and insisted on speaking.

He could not be heard for many of the delegates, including several venerable ministers, rose to their feet and shouted at the top of their voices: "Throw him out!" and "Sit down!" It is very probable that means would have been taken to remove him from the building had not several of his friends gathered around him and induced him to take his seat.

The cause of all the trouble was an address given by E. H. Scammell, Assistant Deputy-Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, who is a member of the First Baptist Church, Ottawa. He spoke on "The Church and the Returned Soldier." Intimating that if the Church expected or hoped to get the returned men again in their midst they would have to change their methods, he asked: "How can you expect men who have made the sacrifices our soldiers have made to come to church and sing:

"'I'm but a stranger here.
Heaven is my home;
Earth is a desert drear.
Heaven is my home.'"

Several delegates at this stage shouted: "Yes, they will sing that."

Continuing, Mr. Scammell asked did they think that a returned soldier, after his experiences at the front, would sing:

"I would not breathe for worldly joy
Or to increase my worldly good;
My future days or powers employ
To spread a sounding name abroad."

A great commotion then occurred, several interrupting and trying to speak at the same time. There were cries of "Heresy!" "Lies!" and "Blasphemy!"

Says Old-style Religion Holds Them.

Rev. Mr. Henderson then rose to his feet, and, shouting at the top of his voice, said they certainly could expect soldiers to sing these hymns. He had found that soldiers were held, kept, and drawn together by the old-fashioned God and the old-fashioned Christ.

The President: I call on you to sit down.

Mr. Henderson: Before I sit down I will renounce this blasphemy and Would Not Apologize.

It was then that the trouble started, and for several minutes many tried to speak at the same time. Mr. Henderson finished what he had to say, despite the repeated protests of the President.

After Mr. Scammell had finished his adress he again rose and tried to address the meeting, but Dr. Wallace said he would listen to nothing but an apology from Mr. Henderson.

Mr. Henderson: I apologise to the Chair only.

The President: Then sit down.

The Church and the Soldiers.

In the course of his address, Mr. Scammell made reference to the returned soldiers who formerly were Church workers and who did not now go to any church. As a matter of fact, the soldier did not think there was room in the Church for a robust, virile manhood, while the Churches knew that they needed the influence of these splendid young lives. There was too much stress laid on the fact what it was the Church's duty to look after the returned man. If there was the compelling influence of love, which there should be, they would not know the word "dirty."

The throat, breathing passages and lungs are the weak spots at which colds strike. And these are the very organs most difficult to treat, because only a breatheable remedy is capable of reaching the trouble lodged there.

Pepe provide a breatheable remedy, and their superiority over remedies which are swallowed into the stomach is therefore obvious. For convenience, this breatheable remedy is condensed into tablet form. To take the treatment, merely dissolve Pepe in your mouth, and the medicinal vapor that is released is carried by the breath to the remotest parts of the breathing passages and lungs, healing, soothing and strengthening every part with which it comes in contact. At the same time, by destroying all disease germs, these medicinal fumes prevent the development of colds, coughs and serious chest trouble.

Carry Pepe with you, and when you go from an overheated building to the bitter cold of outdoors, put a pastille in your mouth. Also as a protection against germs, keep a Pep in your mouth, when breathing the impure air of a crowded theatre or store.

For colds, asthma, or chest troubles, which have already developed, Pepe are equally invaluable; also for bronchitis, sore throat, laryngitis, etc. All dealers, 50c. box.

TORONTO EXPERT TO INSPECT PLUMBING

PROPERTY COMMITTEE PROCEEDS TO OBTAIN INDEPENDENT REPORT.

The Property committee last night received a letter from Dr. Hastings, M.O.H., of Toronto, expressing his willingness to send his Chief Inspector to Peterborough to prepare for the Council an independent report on the city's plumbing.

Ald. Edgar moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe, that Ald. Hamilton be instructed to arrange for the visit of the Toronto inspector.

This action is a development of the situation created by Mr. Edwin Newsome's condemnation of certain local plumbing which he unofficially examined.

Extend Garbage Collection Area.

Ald. Edgar moved, seconded by Ald. Crowe, that tenders be called for the collection of garbage in 1920. It was decided to extend this service to the following sections of the city:

South Ward —East side of Park street from Romaine to Lansdowne street; north side of Lansdowne street to Haggart street; on Haggart street to Crescent street, and on Crescent street to Lock street.

In the North Ward, down the G.T.R. to Smith street, west on Smith street, both sides, to Downie street, and on Downie street, both sides, to London street.

Buy Victory Bonds Through the Banks on the Instalment Plan

CANADA'S banks will make it possible for every Canadian man and woman to buy all the Victory Bonds they can pay for in ten months.

The Finance Minister has made arrangements with the bank managers throughout the Dominion to give every co-operation to enable you to buy all the Victory Bonds you can possibly pay for on the instalment plan.

You do not need to be a customer of a bank to buy bonds under this instalment plan—it is open to everyone.

Put every dollar you can gather together into Victory Bonds—and then go to any bank and buy on the instalment plan all the Victory Bonds you can pay for during the next ten months.

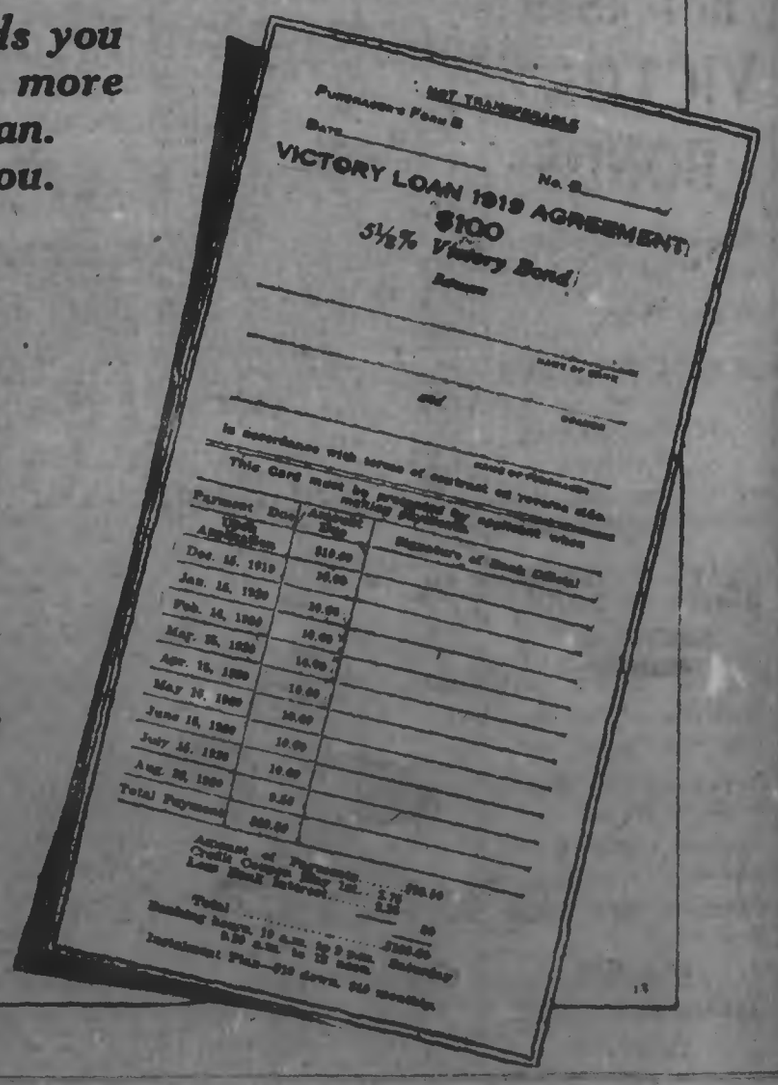
Under this plan you pay ten per cent. on or before November 15th, and ten per cent. each month till August 16, 1920, when you will get your bond. The interest charged you by the bank is balanced by the interest you get on your Victory Bonds.

Any branch of any bank will store the Victory Bonds of small investors for safe keeping for a year without charge.

Buy all the Victory Bonds you can pay for — then buy more on the instalment plan. The banks will help you.

Employers' Credits—The banks have decided to make loans to employers of labour covering the subscriptions of their employees — the rate of interest to be the same as the yield of the bonds—5½%—the loans to be made for 90 per cent. of the amount subscribed—and to be paid off in monthly instalments. The banks have unanimously agreed that these loans will not be considered as impairing the amounts of credits for other purposes.

Advances to Investors— The banks have agreed also to grant reasonable credits to subscribers to the Loan at the rate of 5½% per annum, on loans to be repaid within one year. The amount loaned will be 90 per cent. of the subscription.



Issued by Canada's Victory Loan Committee, in co-operation with the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada.

$1000,000 FOR FIRST SHAKESPEARE COPY.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 27. — What is said to be a new world record on the price of books was established by the Rosenbach Company of this city, when they sold a single volume for $1000,000. The purchaser is a New York collector, who asked that his name be withheld for a few days.

The book in question is considered the most valuable in the world, containing ancient manuscripts. It is the only known edition of Shakespeare's works, published in London by Thomas Pavier in 1619 and printed the famous folio edition of 1623. The volume [illegible] belonged to Edward Gwynn, the [illegible] actor.

$10 FOR SMACKED FACE.

LONDON — Because a little girl [illegible] and fined $10.

The young leaves—the tender leaves—those full of flavor and richness—are selected for Red Rose Tea. The strength, flavor and freshness of these choice, delicate leaves is fully preserved for your enjoyment by the sealed Red Rose package which keeps out odors, dust and moisture.

Oceans of Silence.

Straws do, indeed, show which way the wind blows. But this is a story of a flag rather than of straws. When Japan for the 'purposes of maintaining peace and strengthening friendship" a few years ago delivered her notorious ultimatum to China, demanding a satisfactory reply within 48 hours, there was created a general attitude of apprehension among the Chinese which still "very much obtains." A Chinese authority affords an instance. An exhibition of motion pictures was being given in Shanghai. The audience was a Chinese one, not composed of politicians, or statesmen, or scholars, but simply of "plain, common folks." At the close of the entertainment flags of the Allied nations were shown. The Chinese greeted them with hearty applause one after another, until there appeared on the screen the Japanese flag. On a sudden, as says the narrator, it was greeted with "oceans of silence." The jubilant audience, in others words, became instantly hushed, and the state of suspense thus created remained for many minutes after the disappearance of the flag.

Depends.

Mrs. A.—Does your husband consider you a necessity or a luxury?

Mrs. B.—It depends, my dear, on whether I am cooking his dinner or asking for a new dress.

For Fire-fighting.

The latest design of truck for fire-fighting has a steel cage which is raised ar lowered on a steel cable to the to of the ladder to aid entrapped p sons to escape from the upper stories of burning buildings.

A Prehistoric Peep.

The interesting disclosure was made by Capt. W. King, the geologist employed on the Western front, that the remains of a mammoth were discovered during the making of a dugout near Bapaume.

Col. David went down to inspect the site, and returned with a tooth and some chipped flints. On arriving at the place he found everyone talking about the mammoth; the war that day was quite a secondary thing in that area. Later Prof. Commont of Amiens collected a tusk which showed signs of having been hacked with flint implements.

STOMACH O. K.

Indigestion, Acidity, Sourness and Gases ended with "Pape's Diapepsin"

Millions of people know that it is needless to bt bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralize acidity and give relief at once.

When your meals don't fit and you feel uncomfortable, when you belch gases, acids or raise sour, undigested food. When you feel lumps of indigestion pain, heartburnr headache, from acidity, just eat a tablet of Pape's Diapepsin and the stomach distress is gone.

The cost is so little. The benefits so great. You, too, will be a Diapepsin enthusiast afterwards.

Social Change of Half Century.

How great are the social changes of the last half century can be seen from the general attitude towards the wedding of Princess Patricia to Commander Ramsay, as compared with that of the Princess Louise to the Duke of Argyll in 1871. Princess Patricia's marriage is felt generally to be in keeping with the spirit of the age, and, far from insisting upon her royalty, she is dropping her own title, as she takes the name of her husband, while on his side it has not been thought necessary to give him a step up to equalize things. In 1871 great efforts were made to popularise the marriage of Princess Louise, but there were numbers of people who shook their heads, wondered what the world was coming to when royal blood did not marry royal blood, and firmly believed that the default of issue to the marriage was a judgment upon so great an innovation.

FIVE OF DETROIT'S "400" DIE FROM OLIVES EATEN AT BANQUET

GUESTS AT FASHIONABLE DINNER WERE VICTIMS OF THE BACILLUS BOTULINUS—UNUSUAL SYMPTOMS PUZZLED DOCTORS.

ANTI-TOXIN MAY SAVE HOSTESS

DETROIT.—Ripe olives bought for a formal dinner in the Grosse Pointe home of Murray W. Sales, Saturday evening, October 18, caused the death of A. Ingersoll Lewis, Detroit capitalist; Mr. Sales' daughter and son and two maids. Bacillus botalinus poisoning, an infection usually confined to animals, had set in, Dr. C. G. Jennings announced in his conclusion, Saturday.

Anti-toxin, rushed by special messenger from the bacteriological laboratories of the University of Illinois, was administered in vain to the fifth victim, Miss Frances Sales, 22 years old, who died Saturday morning.

Mother Seriously Ill.

But it is believed this remedy will save the life of the mother of two of the poison victims, Mrs. Murray W. Sales, who is seriously ill as a result of having eaten the tainted olives.

Dr. Francis Duffield, president of the Board of Health, Saturday issued an order prohibiting sale of all canned and bottled foods prepared by the so-called "cold" process. And he issued, further, a warning to the public against eating such foods, particularly olives, corn and asparagus, pending report on investigations now being conducted.

At the dinner, October 16, the following, all leaders in Detroit social life, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sales: Mr. and Mrs. John S. Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Currie and Mr. and Mrs. A. Ingersoll Lewis. Mrs. Sales, Mrs. Currie and Mrs. Lewis each ate one olive. The two last have felt no ill-effects. Dr. Seming said it is not known how many olives any of those who died ate.

Five Have Died.

Mr. Lewis, Miss Sales, her 12-year-old brother, Leonard A. Sales, Miss Julia Manes, a maid in the Sales home, and Mrs. H. Cassell, 2812 East Jefferson Avenue, who had been called in to assist in serving dinner, October 18, are those who have died.

Mr. Lewis, Miss Manes and Mrs. Cassels ate olives the night of the dinner. The tainted food was served again Sunday and Monday, and Miss Sales and her brother ate them.

According to Dr. Jennings, who was one of the five physicians called in consultation by Dr. J. A. Belanger, physician to the Sales family, symptoms of this rather rare poisoning developed 50 to 75 hours after infected food has been eaten.

Mr. Lewis First to Die.

This proved true in each case, Mr. Lewis became ill Sunday afternoon, dying early Thursday morning. Mrs. Cassel also felt first ill effects Sunday, but she died Sunday night. Young Leonard Sales died Thursday, and the maid, Miss Manes had been ill since Wednesday afternoon.

At the dinner Cameron Crurie gave a casual warning that Mrs. Newberry, seated on his left, heeded.

"This olive seems to be a trifle overripe," he smilingly remarked.

Mrs. Newberry has not become ill.

Mrs. Sales, seated on the right, made light retort to the criticism of her guest, but she ate an olive and Saturday showed some symptoms of poisoning.

Test Made With Guinea Pig.

Dr. Jenning's announcement as to the precise cause of the poisoning followed a test made with a guinea pig Friday afternoon, and analysis of the olives by Dr. V. C. Vaughn, at the University of Michigan laboratories.

Following consultation with Dr. Jennings, the latter's son, Dr. A. F. Jennings, Dr. E. R. Witwer and Dr. William Mayer, Friday afternoon, Dr. Belanger took samples of the olives suspected to Dr. P. F. Morris, pathologist for Harper hospital. A teaspoonful of the fluid found in the olives was administered to a guinea pig by means of a stomach pump The pig died in six hours.

The physicians had first believed canned corn had caused the poisoning, but they soon discovered all the victims had not eaten corn. A process of elimination of foods partaken by all finally singled out the olives.

Cases Are Rare.

"This case is very interesting form a medical point of view," said Dr. Jennings Saturday afternoon "There have been very few in this country like it. Until rather recently the medical profession has regarded the bacillus botilinus as belonging to a group of germs found in tainted meat. But now we know it may also be present in decomposing vegetables.

"It can develop only in the absence of air; that is, in sealed cans jars and the like, although food may actually become infected before it is sealed.

"This poisoning has not afflicted humans much in this country, but it has taken considerable toll in the congested cities of Europe. The only frequent outbreak resulting from it in the United States has been among domestic animals. "Blindstaggers" among horses, for instance, is caused by bacillus botulinis poisoning."

The English Badger.

It is a general belief that the badger is dying out, but proof of the presence of badgers in a tract of woodland that lies about midway between two Cheviot streams was unexpectedly provided recently. A local pack of foxhounds, out enhaunting, were led to an "earth" where a fox had taken refuge. Digging operations showed that the hole formed the entrance to two separate chambers, from one of which a couple of foxes were drawn, while the other held four badgers, all of which were captured. — Family Herald.

"Robin Adair" Claimed by Irish.

It is a pretty safe venture to affirm that the great majority of us have always considered "Robin Adair" a Scotch song. It was so listed in numerous folios. But now, unless otherwise proved, we have to accept the claim that the piece is really of Irish origin. Reference books on music credit its composition to an Irish harper O'Daly, who is said to have loved a colleen, Ellen O'Cavanagh. But her family objected. After a necessary absence O'Daly came home to find his sweetheart forced by her parents to promise to marry another man.

The disturbed lover composed a new air Eileen Aroon, claimed to be the melody of "Robin Adair," and, at the wedding festivities, at the bride's request, he played the new air while under the disguise of a harper. Eileen recognised in the supposed travelling musician the person of O'Daly and eloped with him that night.

This melody was printed, it is said, as an Irish air as early as almost two hundred years ago, but later appeared in collections of Scotch songs. It was the custom in those days of wandering Irish musicians to take trips to Scotland and that is perhaps how the air was introduced to Scotland. However, there is no need for controversy over the origin of "Robin Adair" for it is a good song we can all enjoy in any land.

It is a folk song that is wider than any national boundaries.

Largest Island in World

Was Divided Three Ways And British Have One Part

NEW GUINEA, had it determined its sovereign powers itself, might be said to have "played both ends against the middle" with a vengeance; for it was divided among Britain, Germany, and neutral Holland.

This island the largest in the world, if Australia be ranked as a continent, and in many respects the most primitive, furnishes one of the perplexing colonial problems before the Peace Conference.

Conditions in New Guinea, in the period before the war, are described in the following communication from Thomas Barbour:—

New Guinea, the last great area remaining in the tropics which is still almost completely unknown, has a peculiar charm for the naturalist.

Lying between the Equator and Queensland, Australia, its length is about 1,490 miles and its maximum breadth is 430 miles. Its area is greater than that of Borneo, being about 306,000 square miles. Practically it is divided into three parts.

The lower coasts bordering Torres Straits form British Papua as it is now called. The eastern coast as far as 140 degrees 47 minutes east longitude, with a considerable hinterland, goes to make up Kaiser Wilhelms Land, or German New Guinea. In both of these districts there are a considerable number of white settlements and mission stations; and mining and copra farming are carried on. The great western region of Papua is Dutch and it is of this region that we are dealing especially.

It is this very absence of white folk which gives this land an added interest, for here the native may be seen in his primitive simplicity. With such a bewildering variety of human types among the Papuan tribes, each speaking its own language, the ethnologist has a great field, one which is certainly unexcelled.

In coming to Papua from Malasia it is the sudden contrast in the people which makes the most startling impression on one's mind. The Malay, grave, reserved, and dignified, is as unlike his New Guinea neighbor as a Chinaman is unlike a European. These islanders are a happy, boisterous lot until some little thing offends them, when they at once become sullen and treacherous; but as we had no occasion to cross them, we got along admirably.

The pure Papuan is very dark brown, usually a well-built, thick-set man of medium height. Occasional individuals are seen who are slight, short, and who have strongly marked Negritos characteristics. These probably represent survivals of the very earliest human inhabitants of the region, as were the Negritos in the Philippines. Out on the Pacific coast toward German territory the human type is markedly different. Here in varying degrees we meet people who have characteristics of other island groups to the eastward, for there probably has been accidental colonizations along this shore.

From Wisk it is a short journey to Jobi Island, another of the group which lies in the mouth of Geelvink Bay. The people here vary little in appearance from the other Papuans of the region, but their manners and customs differ much from village to village. Indeed, while this island is hardly larger than Long Island, New York, eleven mutually unintelligible languages are spoken on it. Many feuds exist, and when our ship came to anchor in Pom Bay, canoes attracted by the smoke and which had come from neighboring harbors did not spend the night even close to the ship, because their occupants were afraid of the people of Pom.

The raiding canoes of Pom were enormous affairs, with bows decorated with fretwork carving, in elaborate designs, and with wooden heads which were made to look like real ones, by having enormous mops made of cassowary feathers stuck to them.

Simple Home Method Easily Erases Wrinkles

Thousands have reported great success with the famous saxolite wrinkle-removing formula. One ounce of pure powdered saxolite is dissolved in a half-pint of witch hazel and the solution used as a face wash. The effect is almost magical. The deepest wrinkles and crow's feet, as well as the finest lines — whether due to age, illness, weather or worry— are immediately affected. No one need hesitate to try this simple lotion, as it will not harm any skin. Any druggist of course can supply the ingredients.

When you have that tired, careworn look and you want to freshen up for the afternoon or evening, bathing the face in the saxolite lotion will produce a wonderful transformation. You will find this more refreshing than an hour's rest.

Grain for Fattening Purposes.

A grain ration consisting of corn 60 per cent., barley 30 per cent., and wheat middlings 20 per cent. by weight should give good results for fattening purposes, especially if pigs are given a little milk with it.

Coupons for Drinkers.

Why should moderate drinkers have to go dry because some are foolish?" asks a Church of England chaplain to the forces in France, referring to an article headed "Should England Go Dry?"

"A system of coupons," he suggests, "would be fair to all classes, and yet restrain the sale of drinks.

'Books could be issued to people of over a certain age, and each coupon should represent one, two, or three drinks, according to the alcoholic strength of the beer, wine or spirits.

"This system would not immediately prevent drunkenness, as a man could use too many coupons on one day, but he would have to become 'dry' and would soon learn wisdom.

"Each merchant could also present coupons for the amount he was trawing from bond."

The Nujol Treatment as Sickness Prevention

Science, with anti-toxins, serums, and modern sanitation, has done much to prevent dangerous disease; but the diseases so checked are comparatively few. On the other hand, 90% of all diseases have one common origin—constipation.

The dangers of constipation are so far-reaching, because the blood receives poisons from an infected mass within, and carries them directly to every organ of the body; and because constipation itself keeps the system in a run-down condition so that any infectious germs from without readily gain foothold.

Keep clear of constipation and you guard against serious disease. Nujol will remove constipation and prevent its return.

The action of Nujol is entirely different from that of any other constipation remedy. It is not a drug. Nujol softens the food waste and encourages the intestinal muscles to act naturally.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) 50 Broadway, N.Y.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark, as shown here. Beware of products represented to be "the same as Nujol". You may suffer from substitution.

RESENT THE OPPOSITION OF TEMPERANCE FORCES

OMINION ALLIANCE ASK FOR DOMINION-WIDE PROHIBITION —MEMBERS PREFER TO LEAVE IT TO THE PROVINCES—USES HARD TERMS.

HE TWO BILLS NOW BEFORE PARLIAMENT

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.— There is no dication that the Government has y intention of doing as the Domin- n Alliance asks, in the literature sent members of Parliament, to intro- uce a bill to prohibit the manufac- ure, importation, exportation and in- er-provincial shipment of all intoxi- ting liquor for beverage purposes. n fact the Government seems to re- ort the opposition of the temperance ople to the two bills now before arliament. They say that the Domin- n Alliance course is going to make all the harder to get the present gislation through. As for these bills is understood that the Dominion rohibition committee approved of e principle underlying them, and prohibition member of the Cabinet, hen they were introduced, spoke nthusiastically about them, saying ey represented the greatest temper- nce advance yet made in Canada. The rinciple underlying the government's egislation is that provinces should e enabled to go dry to whatever ex- nt they themselves may decide. The ominion Alliance literature says that hat is wanted is Dominion-wide ac- ion. Members are impressed with the mperance vote in the Ontario refer- ndum, but they point out that the overnment that brought in the leg- lation was defeated, and they also irm that the Ontario Temperance ct, prohibiting the sale of liquor in e province is quite a different thing om total prohibition of the manufac- re and importation of liquor all ov- the Dominion. Even temperance ople admit that the most effective way in the long run, is to give each pro- the opportunity by referendum become bone dry as it desires. The minion Alliance literature uses rd terms in reference to the Gov- rnment's bills. By no stretch of im- gination it says, can they be looked on as other than compromising, morizing and procrastinating, they annot be effective. They are not in- ended to be so. The puerile amend- ents to the Doherty Act, embodied Bill 21, and the complicated, im- erfect provisions of Bill 36 "extend- g the Canada Temperance Act," ith the evasion of responsibility im- licit therein, are not worthy of the arliament of Canada in this nation- l crisis

LAWYERS SUPPLY TOBACCO FOR MEN

The five Russian prisoners who are waiting execution at the County Gaol are not visibly affected by the fate which apparently awaits them, and continue to show no fear. On account of the fact that tobacco is strictly forbidden by the authorities to be used in the gaol none has been supplied to the men by the county. Any tobacco which has found its way into the death cells came from the lawyers for the defence.

EMBARGO PLACED ON WESTERN CATTLE

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 29.— An embargo has been placed on the cattle at the Union Stock Yards, W. W. Fraser, Provincial Live Stock Commissioner announced. Heavy local receipts and the large number of cattle shipped to France and Belgium is the cause of the embargo, he said. TTrains carrying cattle to seaports are made up here and cattle also fed in the stock yards. Sheep receipts have trebled during the past weeks, hog receipts are light, Mr. Fraser asserted.

CROSS BENCHES FOR THE FARMERS

FIVE NEW MEMBERS TO FEDERAL HOUSE TRY OUT THEIR NEW SEATS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—It is anticipated that before prorogation comes the five new members elected on Monday will be able to try out their new seats. About a week must elapse before the various formalities which precede the return of the writs are complied with. The question as to who will introduce the three farmer members and as to where they will sit is arousing some interest. To-day there is no man in the House who was elected on the farmers' ticket or as representing the new agrarian political movement. It is anticipated, however, that Hon. A. T. Crerar will perform the small formality of announcing to Mr. Speaker that the three new members have signed the roll, taken the oath and desire to be seated. It is likely also that they will sit with Mr. Crerar on the cross benches when that permission has been graciously granted by the first company.

RUSH FOR WHISKEY SENDS PRICES HIGH

CANADIAN LIQUORS INCREASED $1 TO $4 FOR TWELVE BOTTLES.

When the news was received in Montreal that President Wilson had vetoed the prohibition bill, the price of Canadian whiskey increased almost automatically. Even though the United States House of Representatives passed the bill later, over the veto, the act had no effect and to-day whiskey is from $1 to $4 per case higher. The new prices for Canadian draught whiskey show that the increase is from 50 cents to $3 per gallon. Foreign brands, including "Scotch, Irish and brandy," are to be increased proportionately.

The distribution of whiskey in Canada is controlled almost entirely in Montreal, but the most of the distillers are located in Ontario. The majority of the Ontario vendors procure their supply from Montreal and hence the higher prices will effect the consumers in a very short time.

While the importation of liquor into Ontario is not legal, the order-in-council prohibiting importation will be nullified on the proclamation of peace ,until the new legislation to be passed in the Commons becomes effective, The world, it is expected, will be officially at peace within three weeks, and then liquor may be purchased in Quebec for shipment direct to the consumer. The man or woman who wants to stock a cellar will find that prices are high.

The distillers' explanation of the increase is that there is a very heavy overseas demand for Canadian whiskey and that the fact that the United States may be selling liquor until the end of the year makes the demand greater than the supply.

Within a few days those fortunate citizens who have doctors' prescriptions for liquor will find that the vendor will charge more for the "hard stuff" because the manufacturer is charging more.

WHERE ARE MY READING GLASSES?

You often hear that question asked by persons who wear two separate pairs of glasses. They probably have never heard of our Kryptok lenses, the two vision lenses with the reading portion invisible.

There is no line or crack to make them look unsightly. They are wonderfully convenient for everything and cost less than two separate pairs. Specify Kryptok when you consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, George street Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

A Legal Battle

IMPOSING ARRAY OF LEGAL TALENT GATHERED TOGETHER EOR DEFENCE OF STRIKERS IN WINNIPEG.

THE LIST

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 29.— An imposing array of barristers has been engaged to conduct the defense of the eight strike leaders charged with sedition ,who are scheduled to appear for trial at the forthcoming assizes on November 4. The total cost will be $500 a day. The list includes J. E. Bird, socialist lawyer of Vancouver, now on his way east to appear in the defense of several Finlanders under Federal indictment in Port Arthur; Robert Cassidy, Victoria; W. W. Lefeaux, of Vancouver, known in labor circles in Alberta and British Columbia; T. J. Murray, W. M. Noble and E. J. McMurray of Winnipeg. According to a statement made by one of th Winnipeg labor organizers to-day, nothing has been left undone to assure any possible points in the trial the strike leaders are facing and if any of the men are sent to jail on any of the charges arising out of the strike it will only be after a legal battle that will shake the whole of Canada.

VICTORY BONDS

Some men are funniest in the hour of their deepest gloom, and Victory Loan salesmen are no exception. If you want to hear real comedy, pack a few thousand dollars in your jeans some night, stroll to the Victory Loan headquarters, whack down your greenbacks at the counter, and get your receipt entitling you to partake of the hilarity. Watch the salesmen as they saunter in to report at the Temple of Bonds. Pick out the stout and pleasant looking canvasser. There is only one.

As he talked last night to the crowd about him, his auditors shook sides and howled. It had been a bad evening. His objective had refused to part with a cheque for $10,000. He had told the salesman it hurt him to buy a postage stamp from the government, and furthermore his tongue was contaminated when he moistened the glue. In this strain he gave his opinion of governments, Victory Bonds, canvassers, et al.

When the V. L. C. had finally relieved himself, he had the whole crowd thoroughly convinced that a Victory Loan campaign was one of the merriest experiences of a lifetime, and not to be missed. As he sauntered out his muttered vow was, "I'll get that $10,000 yet."

Mary bought a little Bond,
With shillings, dimes and ickels;
And now Miss Mary takes it soft—
The maid does all the pickles.

Some men are born rich, others buy Victory Bonds.

The boy stood on the burning deck,
The crew had swam the pond;
The boy was safe because he had
A hundred dollar Bond.

"Money talks," sang the Victory Bond holder.

"But it always says good-bye to me." sighed the grouch who hadn't bought.

The M.C. has been added to the list of official honours. It goes to the canvasser who takes the most knocks, comes through with the best smile, and tells the best story. It stands for Master of Comedy. Ward Patterson received one last night.

Backward turn backward oh Time in your flight.
Give me the time to buy bonds while it's light.

RETAIL PRICE OF MILK MAY BE 14c

FARMERS SAY TORONTO DAIRIES ARE OFFERING MORE THAN CONSUMERS PAY HERE.

An increase of at least two cents a quart in the retail price of milk, to take effect on November 1st, is impending, according to reports from some of the dairy farmers. It was stated that Toronto creameries and milk vending companies are offering prices throughout this district that will divert the milk from local consumption unless the price here is increased to meet the outside competition. Farmers are convinced that they have not received for their milk a price corresponding with the prices in other cities of this province. It is reported that the milkmen will decide this week what action they will take in regard to local prices, and it is possible that fourteen cents a quart may be the winter quotation in Peterboro.

LEADER [illegible] BE SELECTED TO-DAY BY U.F.O. COMMITTEE OF NINE

LABOUR WILL SUPPORT ANY LEADER THE FARMERS NAME —PARTY POLICY WILL BE DISCUSSED.

WILL WATCH TWO OLD LINE PARTIES

TORONTO, Oct. 29—With E. C. Drury, of Simcoe, Ont., the well-known agriculturist leader, again apparently the most likely possibility for Government leadership and the post of Premier of Ontario, the separate convention of the U. F. O. and the Independent Labour Party opened here to-day to settle the matter.

Added interest is given to the situation to-day by the report that the Liberals have now officially approached the Farmers with a proposition for entering the proposed Farmer-Labour Coalition, on the understanding, it is said, that one or two portfolios in the Cabinet will go to their members.

The U. F. O. members and the unsuccessful candidates met in their headquarters, and the I. L. P. met at the Labour Temple to consider the reports of their respective committees in the matter of Coalition leadership and general policy.

Nothing was announced officially, but it seemed to be the popular hint from both caucuses that E. C. Drury would get the leadership.

There seems to be no doubt about it that committees of both Farmer and Labour organizations have agreed on the get-together principle, and it is thought that the alliance, temporarily at least, will be quickly accomplished.

To-morrow there will be a joint convention of the U. F. O. and the I. L. P., with the prospects of an agreement for united action of all essentials with a view to taking over the reins of government in the Province of Ontario.

J. J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O., is to-day spoken of as the second choice for leadership, and Brantford, Fort William, Owen Sound, Sault Ste. Marie and Peterborough.

At the Peterborough County Headquarters yesterday, everything was running smoothly, and as reports came in it was felt that while Peterborough has a reputation for being a slow starter in a campaign it is nevertheless not far behind once it gets into its stride.

In spite of the inclement weather, the Canvassers rolled up a total for the day of $79,350, bringing the total for city and county for the first two days up to $223,800, from 388 applicants.

One or two amusing incidents were encountered. One man brought in a snap shot of himself attached to the application, but was informed that he wasn't needed to go overseas to clean up the war,, all that was required now being the almighty dollar to pay for it. The usual hard-shell was also encountered, but he usually trums out to be a big buyer when his liver becomes normal.

On the whole the canvassers met with a good reception and the consensus of opinion points to larger amounts being taken by the subscriber to the Loan than in former years.

SOCIAL AFTERNOON AT COLLEGIATE

A social afternoon is planned by the Collegiate Domestic Science classes after the regular classes, which are dismissed at four o'clock, are concluded. The Domestic Science teacher is the originator of the idea and it awaits but the sanction of the principal of the Collegiate to be put into effect. It is one more step in the development of the community spirit.

"MASHER" ACTIVE IN NORTH WARD

A "masher" of the persistent type has scared a number of young women in the North End of the city lately. His tactics are to stand on a street corner and wait for girls to pass him, after which he follows, gradually decreasing the distance between them. He does not address the girls as his forced attentions generally scare the girls, who take to flight. He followed one young lady for three blocks Monday evening, and another young lady took refuge in a Water Street house.

He is described as being fairly tall and elderly, wearing a brown suit and a slight hump on one shoulder He was not in evidence last night.

He is a wise man who says never a word when the other fellow happens to be a few sizes the larger.

Stormy Session

MR. J. H. BURNHAM SUGGESTS THAT GOVERNMENT GO TO THE COUNTRY ON GRAND TRUNK BILL.

FROWNED UPON

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.— The Grand Trunk bill has for the past few days been laboring in the choppy waves of committee nad has made slow progress against head winds. It is anticipated, however, that it will shortly arrive in haven of the third reading and that thereafter it will proceed on its more dangerous voyage through the uncertain shoals and unchartered rocks of the Senate. Pilot Meighen is more hopeful that these obstructions will be finally navigated round in safety than he was at the beginning of the week when the skies looked dark in the direction of the Senate and when nasty weather promised. There has been no obstruction of the bill by Opposition members as yet and there is not likely to be. It is inconceivable that the government, after promising free discussion, will resort in the end to the closure and that being the case it is useless even if they so desired for the small band of fighters. Mr. J. H. Burnham, of West Peterborough, from the cross benches, created a diversion by advising the government to go to the country on the issue of the bill. The suggestion did not meet with any degree of enthusiastic response, for the aftermath of the Ontario Provincial and the Federal by-election has not passed away, and talk of elections is generally frowned upon in government circles.

RELIEF FOR NEEDY SETTLERS

PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT COMPLETED ARRANGEMENTS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

REGINA, Sask., Oct. 29.—The provincial government has completed its plans for the relief of settlers in those portions of the province where the crops failed. The relief will consist of fuel and clothing. The latter and flour will be supplied to the individual settler on application being gathered from the municipal women's organizations and is being distributed through the Provincial Bureau of Labour. In rural municipalities the distribution of relief will be undertaken by the rural municipal council, assistance by way of guaranteed credit for this purpose being provided by the government, which will also exercise supervision over quantities distributed and prices paid by the municipalities for the goods. The plan involves municipal responsibility and also the use of local sources of supply as far as possible. In unorganized areas the distribution of relief will be undertaken by the Department of Agriculture through its field representatives.

BIG SURPRISE COMING

QUIET PREPARATIONS AND STORE CLOSED THURSDAY AT H. J. ZACKS' EXPLAINED TO-MORROW

For several days there has been the bustle of quiet preparation in the ladies' wear store of H. J. Zacks, that presaged doings of importance.

This state of affairs culminates in the final act, when the store is announced to be closed all day tomorrow (Thursday) to give the staff an opportunity to put the finishing touches to what they promise will be the biggest sensation of the year.

Thursday's (to-morrow's) paper will contain a full page announcement, and with the information it will give the public will impatiently wait for the opening hour on Friday morning. Be on the look out for the big announcement. It is going to be a surprise, and will create a rush on Friday and Saturday, such as has not been seen before in Peterboro.

SEIZED HAUL OF WET GOODS

THREE SUIT CASES AND A HAND BAG IN SHIPMENT.

A big haul of whiskey was seized at Norwood Station yesterday afternoon by License Inspector Joseph Stewart. There were twenty-six quart bottles in all contained in three suit cases and a hand bag. Mr. Stewart took the "goods" to his home and this morning shipped them by train to the Board of License Commissioners, Toronto. Mr. Stewart stated yesterday that he knew to whom it was consigned but that he would not divulge the name. He also stated that one bottle was partly empty, as is somebody had been drinking from it. This bottle he threw away.

CANVASSERS HAD A GOOD DAY

ONE OR TWO AMUSING INCIDENTS ENCOUNTERED

With the Canadian Pacific Railway subscribing for $20,000,000 of Victory Bonds, one-fifth of the total amount required to finance the Dominion has been completed. This huge subscription does not include purchases of bonds by employees of the railway.

For the first day among the cities, Hamilton led the way in province with $3,529,500, with Toronto second [illegible] $2,593,000. Barrie's total was [illegible] and St. Catherines [illegible].

Two outstanding declarations by Labour's representatives were made yesterday before their prospective allies, the United Farmers, at the U. F. O. headquarters. Both were made by Mayor M. M. MacBride, of Brantford, in the joint committee session.

The first was that the Independent Labor Party doesn't care whom the U. F. O. select for a Leader to-day. Labor members will give him their support.

The second, made in response to a question put by a Farmer member-elect, was that should the Liberal or Conservative Opposition precipitate a catch vote in the Legislature on an eight hour day issue Labour would stand with the Farmer members.

No official statement was issued at the conclusion of the committee sessions at 11 o'clock last night. Secretary J. J. Morison simply informed the press that to-day the U.F.O. Committe of Nine would make their recommendation for the leadership to the general meeting of the U. F. O. and Labor members-elect and defeated candidates.

He stated that "probably" the Leader would be definitely decided upon at this afternoon's meeting, and that there would be a definite statement forthcoming to-night. The whole question of party policy will also be thrown open for discussion.

To-day is the big day and whether or not all the planks are definitely nailed into the U.F.O. platform before nightfall, it should be a red-letter day in the history of Ontario's politics.

Platform and policy was really to be the one topic of discussion for the joint meeting of the U. F. O. Committee of Nine, the Political Committee and Labor's two representatives, Walter Rollo and Mayor MacBride. But from platform discussion wandered early to the possibilities and probabilities involved in Labour and U.F.O. working together at the Queen's Park. Farmer members wanted to know what the working basis would be and how would Labour view certain policies to which the Farmers were committed. It was in the midst of this that Mayor MacBride of Brantford made his two important statements for Labour.

Go Ahead with Cabinet.

In the opinion of one attendant at yesterday's conclaves, U. F. O. and Labour after they have settled the question of leadership and have have some definitely anounce policy will go ahead on Thursday of this week and prepare an approximate draft of the new Cabinet. "That is only my conjecture of what will be the next step," he said, "but they realize that they have to be prepared for a call from the Lieutenant Governor to enlighten him on intended procedure."

The Committee of Nine has settled on its recommendation for the new Leader, and members admitted that his name was being "whispered around U. F. O. headquarters last night. If it was the whisper will not come through the keyhole of the locked door to the reporters waiting outside. Hon. T. A. Crerar, al

Found on Flanders' Fields.

I found on the shelled ploughed fields of Flanders an English Book of Prayer, and as I turned back its tattered leaves something fluttered out like a startled bird from its lair. I stooped to look at the crimson thing, that lay quivering at my feet, when there came to my heart a great longing for my own, my native heath, as in my hand I held and gazed with yearning upon a crimson maple leaf. It was not dyed this deep dark color by autumn's hoary frost, but in the life blood of the Canadian lad who so nobly paid the cost.—Mabel Sandilands Robb.

Touching Tribute to Kitchener.

A touching tribute to Britain's great field marshal, the late Lord Kitchener, was witnessed a few days since. A large body of American soldiers and sailors were visiting the Houses of Parliament, and in the Peers' lobby the majority of the soldiers, one by one, took off his hat and for a second hung it upon the peg labelled with the name of Lord Kitchener. Although this is a breach of the regulations, and any civilian who took the liberty would be promptly reprimanded, no special notice was taken of the action, which, from the demeanor of the men was apparently one of regard for the dead field marshal.—Sparg Moments.

T. PAUL WOMAN AFTER SUFFERING 32 YEARS GAINS 14 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

"I have taken only two bottles of anlac, but they have entirely stopped my thirty-two years of suffering nd almost made a new woman out f me," said Mrs. Julius Hoanhause, f 469 Clinton Ave., St. Paul, Minn., ecently.

"For thirty-two years I suffered om stomach trouble and chronic indigestion," she continued, "and at mes even the pressure of my clothes gainst my stomach would hurt me. I ad to be very careful about what I e and even then it was hard for me o retain anything on my stomach nd sometimes I was so nauseated I ould have to give up and go to bed efore I could get relief. I suffered o end of misery from gas, and many night I slept hardly a wink because f the pains in my stomach. For onths at a time I was off in weight s much as ten pounds and if I gained back I didn't gain in strength, but lt as weak and draggy as ever, if not ore so. I spent hundreds of dollars nd used all kinds of medicines, but ot no relief, and I was beginning to ink I would have to go on through e and never get rid of my old trou-

"But a good friend of mine who new what I had gone through heard out Tanlac and suggested that I y it, and to-day I feel thankful to at friend and even more thankful Tanlac, for I can honestly say it the best medicine I have ever tak-. My stomach is in fine condition w and no matter what I eat it diests and I don't suffer any more afr eating. I'm gaining in weight and trength right along, in fact, I've gain fourteen pounds already and weigh ore than I ever did in my life. I eep fine every night and I've gone ck to doing all my housework by yself and I don't feel a bit overred after I get through, either. Since ve taken Tanlac and it has helped e so wonderfully I understand why many people are coming out and ying it is the finest thing they have er seen."

PETERBOROUGH THE MOST IMPORTANT UNIT IN THE TRENT VALLEY DIVISION.

Peterborough County is the most important unit in the Trent Valley Division, which also includes Parry Sound, Muskoka, Victoria, and Haliburton, Durham, and Northumberland. In the 1918 Victory Loan, our Division obtained 137 per cent. of their objective, only two out of sixteen divisions showing a better result. This year fifteen aggressive divisions are after our scalp. The Trent Valley Division looks to Peterborough for leadership. On results from this County will largely hinge the success of the entire Division. To reach our objective of $7,000,000, a daily total of over $350,000 for this Division is required. The first day's result was $261,500, or in other words, over $100,000 of our objective.

Peterborough County is off to a good start, and will soon be hitting on all four cylinders. The team members yesterday turned in $30,000 more than the first day.

All through the Division the spirit is splendid.

From Parry Sound this message reached Divisional Organiser G. R. Warburton:

"Return five out of 20 districts, first day twenty-five thousand three hundred. Bad storm; wires disorganised. More to-morrow. Watch our smoke."

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

To-night Mr. E. W. Brown, returned missionary from the Argentine, will continue his addresses on the Revelation. He will speak on "The silence of God broken, the throne scene and the opening of the seven seals.

Last night he spoke on the last four of the seven churches. After a review of the things dealt with in the two preceding nights, he proceeded to show that the devil, having tried to destroy the church by persecution from without, set up his throne at Pergamos, which signifies marriage, and ever since has been trying to destroy the church by inducing the children of God to mix up with the world in their views of doctrine and their pleasures and that plan he is still perfecting and will continue until the beast (or world emperor) appears, when he will divide his honors with a man in order to defeat God.

In considering the church of Chyotira, it is necessary to note how closely it is connected with the church of Pergamos. Verse 14 shows that there were a few there that held the doctrine of Balaam who taught Balak to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols and to commit fornication. Our Lord complains of the angel in Chyotira because he permitted Jezebel to teach and seduce his servants, to commit fornication and eat things sacrificed to idols. So what was held in the pew in Pergamos, in Chyotira was preached from the pulpit. Jezebel, a woman teaching in the church, a prophetess, represents somebody adding to the word of God. These facts show that the church and the world were working together. The reference to Jezebel carries us back to those awful times in the history of Israel, when a pagan princess married to a well intentioned but weak Jewish king, parctically ruled Israel and persecuted Elijah and the other children of God. How terrible they are, may be judged from the twice repeated words of Elijah to God, "I have been very jealous for the Lord God of Hosts, for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, thrown down thine altars and slain thy prophets with the sword, and I only am left, and they seek my life to take it away." As an incentive to the overcomers, he says that they shall have power over the nations and shall rule them with a rod of iron. And to the poor, downtrodden, true child of God, persecuted by the world, it comforts him and satisfies his heart to know that some day he shall partake in the greatest kingdom this world has or ever will see, the thousand-year kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, when from the city of Jerusalem he shall rule the world in righteousness.

The church of Sardis gives us an example of a church whose ministry is not converted, and yet down in the pews, lost amid the great multitudes of unsaved "worshippers" are a few saved people occupying an entirely insignificant place. Yet our gracious Lord says that these shall walk with him in white and they, insignificant as they are in the church of Sardis, shall have an introduction to Jesus' Father and the angels.

The church of Philadelphia is one of the two churches of which he speaks all good and no bad. Christ promises this church an open door and so we know that no one can take away our privileges. He promises them that they shall not go through the hour of temptation known in other parts as the "great tribulation." This indicates that the translation of the church comes first. Jesus also promises them that they shall be pillars in the temple of God and all this because they have kept his inspired word when others tore it to pieces and did not deny his name and had kept the "word of his patience."

The church of Laodicea shows the worst and most awful state to which any pre-translation church shall arrive. It was neither warm nor cold, it had arrived at that insipid state that God could not bear.

Nevertheless they thought they were rich and increased with goods and had need of nothing. Here our Lord stands outside the door and knocks waiting, not that the church shall receive him, but that possibly some one may open and allow him to come in and take away his curse and leave his blessings. And to the overcomers in Laodicea he offers the high honours of sitting with him on his throne, the highest possible honours.

FOGGY?

If Bilious, Constipated or Headachy take "Cascarets."

To-morrow the sun will shine for you. Everything will seem clear, rosy and bright. Your system is filled with liver and bowel poison which keeps your skin sallow, your stomach upset, your head foggy and aching. Your meals are turning into poison, gases and acids. You can not feel right. Don't stay bilious or constipated. Feel splendid always by taking Cascarets occasionally. They act without griping or inconvenience. They never sicken you like Calomel, Salts, Oil or nasty, harsh pills. They cost so little too—Cascarets work while you sleep.

No man was ever blamed for being a gentleman, but many are accused of it.

J. M. GREENE CO. IS SELLING $100,000 PREFERRED STOCK

WILL OPEN IN ORILLIA ITS FIFTH BRANCH STORE—TOTAL CAPITAL IS $300,000.

The J. M. Green Music Company, Limited, with stores in Peterborough, Lindsay, Belleville and Kingston, is preparing to open branches in other towns, the first of which will be in Orillia. The company's announced intentions are to open at least one new store a year during the next few years. To provide for this expansion the company is selling $100,000 of 7% per cent. preferred stock. The J. M. Greene Company has grown steadily from year to year, and is to-day flourishing, stronger and more progressive than ever. The turnover and profits show mounting increases from year to year, and in this period after the war they are preparing to enlarge their interests with the same caution that has guided their extensions throughout Eastern Ontario.

So attractive is their preferred stock regarded that there has been no difficulty in marketing it, and it is understood that the offering is being rapidly subscribed. For its projected extensions the company has carefully considered plans based upon the successful experience in Peterborough and other cities in this district. Mr. J. M. Greene, the managing director, is confident that the company's growth will bound ahead within the next few years.

LEADER WILL BE SELECTED TO-DAY

though many miles away from the U.F.O. councils in body, is still a predominant spirit at the King street offices. Telegrams are constantly being exchanged by Secretary Morrison and the ex-Minister of Agriculture and it is still said that the Westerner could if he wished be the Premier of Ontario.

See Disruption Attempt.

In events of the past few days active members of the Labor party see an attempt on the part of the older parties to disrupt their movement. Openly they declared yesterday that they could not be too careful in selecting their members from the many who have expressed a willingness to join the party.

"One of the great dangers at the present time to the Labour party is the attempt of political heelers an ward politicians to gain admission for the purpose of disrupting the organization," said Mr. James Simpson. "A supreme effort may be made to defeat a Farmer-Labour coalition through the Labour party by party politicians who have their own interests and those of their parties at heart."

There was sufficient evidence during the recent election, according to Mr. Simpson, of the willingness of members of the trades union movement to serve the interests of other parties. Mr. Simpson said that it was peculiar that some members of the Labour movement who had been so active in the past in decrying direct action and radical thought within Labour organizations should have kept away from the Labour party, a movement which was designed to overcome the use of force and direct action.

With the Farmer-Labour coalition Mr. Simpson believed that there would be fewer struggles upon the economic field.

"My point of view is this," said Mr. Simpson. "The coalition of the Farmer and Labour groups, cementing as it does the agricultural and industrial workers, will result in fewer strikes. Labour sincerely hopes that it will reduce the number of strikes by removing their causes."

Other members of the Labor party, too, scrutinise some of their friends very carefully. Mr. James T. Gunn said the party must be certain of the sincerity of its members before accepting them into its ranks. In no manner could the party afford to be identified with either the Liberal or the Conservative party. The party sought individuals who would assist in the promotion of progressive legislation for the workers.

"Don't worry. We don't intend to make our party a resting place for ward politicians," said Mr. John Vick, who in the Riverdale constituency learned something of the principles of certain trade unionists.

The famous King Charles statue in Whitehall, London, was protected from air raid danger at a cost of £450.

LIGHT EXPENSES FOR LABOUR PARTY

TOTAL OF ELECTION BILLS EXPECTED TO BE LESS THAN $800.

The Independent Labour Party's expenses in electing Mr. Thomas Tooms to the Legislature were considerably less than those of the U.F.O. in East Peterboro. Mr. McDonald's accounts totalled more than $1,000, but Labour's accounts are expected to be under $800. Nothing definite in this connection was given out from last night's meeting of the executive which met to arrange for the payment of the bills, but it is understood that the expenses were unusually light for a Provincial contest.

On the question of Labour support to the U.F.O. in the House it is understood that Mr. Tooms was elected as the representative of both Labour and the Farmers and will be expected to stand by both these sections. Mayor McBride of Brantford, who was elected to the Legislature as a Labour representative and who has been mentioned as a possibility for the premiership, has said that should the Liberal or Conservative opposition introduce a catch vote on an eight-hour day issue Labour would support the Farmer members. Several local Labour men, discussing this declaration, intimated that there was a possibility of it creating disaffection if the result of a vote on such a resolution ran counter to the interests of Labour. It was remarked, however, that there were no fears of an untoward situation arising and that everything would work out satisfactorily.

It is the understanding locally that Mr. Tooms is pledged to both wings of the U.F.O.—Labour coalition if it materializes. And from the present outlook there is every reason to expect their union of forces.

ASSAULT CASE IN POLICE COURT

A charge of assault laid against Mr. William H. Meharry by Mr. Thompson of Brownton was aired in Police Court this morning. Mr. Thompson alleged that Mr. Meharry hit him with his fist on the back of the head and then pushed him back, throwing his dinner which was on his lap to the ground. Meharry then, according to Thompson and a number of other witnesses, picked up a pick handle and wielded it in a threatening manner over Thompson's head. The trouble was the outcome of two saws which Meharry commissioned Thompson to file. The price was to be 30c a saw, but Meharry offered Thompson ten cents extra if he did a good job. Thompson filed the saws and charged 75c, explaining that the cost of the files would not allow him to do the job for less. The matter seemed satisfactory but Meharry yesterday began a search for Thompson after which the alleged assault took place.

The Magistrate decided that Mr. Meharry was guilty, and fined him $5.00, and costs—$9.00.

MR. BURNHAM REPLIES TO REV. POGUE

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Sir:—In reply to Rev. W. Pogue. He says, "Now God made the grapes. He did not make the ferments. God made barley. He did not make the yeast plants." This is a case of the most appalling ignorance I have ever seen. If God did not make these things something else did. Is there another equal to the power of creating? If so, who is it. Let me tell Mr. Pogue that there is not one thing in this universe that has any existence whatever that God and God alone did not make. Scientists tell us that all life is the result of ferments. What a scientific education Mr. Pogue must have! Or does he see and fear the difficulty? His present position is simply unthinkable.

When preparing for the season's hunt see that you are equipped with a Remington 22 Caliber Repeating Rifle.

This little rifle is liked better by more shooters and is the most popular rifle of its caliber on the market to-day.

Take one with you and when not after the deer have practice shoots with the Remington 22. It is good sport and 22 caliber ammunition is not expensive.

A PROTECTION.

Protect your pay envelope. Buy Victory Bonds.

HARD TO BEAT.

The embattled farmers seem to be able to win on any field. Three victories in three starts was Monday's record.

WON ANYWAY.

Even the splendid war record of Brigadier General Hervey, D.S.O., and the fact that he ran as an Independent, could not beat the United Farmers' candidate in Glengarry-Stormont.

AS AN INVESTMENT.

Putting to one side the necessity for buying Victory Bonds as a patriotic duty, the present Victory Loan should appeal to the common sense of the people of Canada as a most attractive and safe investment. It is indeed a better security than that sold in 1918, because the war is over and the country is, therefore, not faced with a further there huge increase in the national debt.

It is stated on the best authority that not since the Napoleonic wars of more than a hundred years ago, has any country of Canada's present financial strength offered to its people anything like such an attractive issue as the present loan.

In the opinion of high financial authorities the fifteen year bond will sell at 109 or 110 within the next three years, while the five year bond will also go to a substantial premium.

Patriotism and business alike call for the purchase of Victory Bonds.

TO-DAY'S CONFERENCE.

The result of the conference of the United Farmers and the Independent Labour party in Toronto to-day will be awaited with intense interest by the people of the province. Before the revolutionary results of the election had changed the situation, a meeting of either one body or the other would have elicited only passing attention from the people generally, but to-day the province awaits for the announcement of the formation of a new government, a government organized by the Farmers' and Labour party and with the old political parties left out in the cold. It is expected that to-day's conference will decide the question of a leader for the U.F.O. Labour alliance and that a programme of legislative action will be decided upon and announced. The resignation of the Hearst government cannot be long delayed, once the new party has decided upon its leader and policy.

INTERESTING FIGURES.

The Examiner is indebted to Mr. H. O. Fiske of the local Automobile Association for a report of a census of traffic, taken by the Ontario Motor League on three main highways radiating from Toronto, a report that contains much interesting and unusual information. The census was taken on the Toronto-Hamilton highway, Yonge street and the Kingston road, covering a period of ten hours before 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. One striking feature of the finding of the Motor League is the almost complete elimination of the horse-drawn vehicle from the main highways. On the three roads during the period under review 9,304 vehicles passed the checkers, and only 47 of these were drawn by horses. There were 9,187 motor vehicles, the Toronto-Hamilton highway accounting for 4,026 of these, the Yonge street highway for 1867 and the Kingston road for 1,271. Contrary to the allegation that is often made that the highways of Ontario are speedways for motorists from across the line, the Motor League census shows that only fifty-two cars which passed on the three roads were owned outside the province. Another interesting feature was that the peak traffic in the morning was found to be between 11 and 12 o'clock and the afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock.

CANADA'S BIG TASK.

The impossibility of any general gratuity scheme such as that proposed by the United Veterans' League of $2,000 for every soldier who went to France, $1,400 for those who served in England, and $1,000 for service in Canada becomes strikingly apparent in the face of figures dealing with the financial commitments of the Dominion submitted by Mr. T. C. Boville, the Deputy Minister of Finance. Mr. Boville, in a statement to the committee on Soldiers' Re-establishment, showed that in addition to the capital expenditure of $529,122,456, covered in the estimates for the current year, there will have to be raised $15,000,000 to meet the cost of the Grand Trunk Pacific receivership, and $125,000,000 to provide credits for Great Britain and her allies. Approximately $800,000,000 would have to be paid out in the current fiscal year. To meet the expenditures in sight it will be necessary for Canada to borrow possibly $800,000,000 during the next twelve or eighteen months, and unless financial conditions improve abroad, this vast sum will have to come from the people of Canada. To add hundreds of millions for soldiers' gratuities to the vast expenditures that have to be met looks, on the face of it, impossible, and the report of the Department of Finance will settle the matter of gratuities in so far as the special committee is concerned.

FARMERS AND THE LOAN.

Mr. J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, has sent a circular letter to the farmers of the province urging them to support the new Victory Loan. In the other Victory Loan campaign the farmers in many districts did not contribute their fair share towards the success of the Loan. Although the investment was of a safe and sane nature, such as might have been expected to appeal to the farmers, the results in rural sections fell far below the urban average. The farmers of all people should hasten to invest in the new loan, for a study of what the 1918 Victory Loan was used for shows that no less than one-third of the $610,000,000 raised was paid out for farm products. Actually the sum of $207,750,000 was advanced out of the 1918 Loan as advances to Great Britain and our allies for the purchase of Canadian wheat and other foodstuffs. The farmers therefore, have a very direct and personal interest in the campaign, and they should invest far more liberally in the present Loan than they have seen fit to do in the past. Mr. Morrison does well to remind the farmers of Ontario that the Victory Loan "is of vital interest" to them. If the farmers of the country are to receive good prices with a ready market for their products, it is all important that there should be an over-subscription, is a statement in Mr. Morrison's letter that should not be overlooked.

AN AMERICAN VIEW.

Opinions in regard to the present Victory Loan have been quoted from many different Canadian sources. It is interesting to hear the view of an outside authority on the subject, and therefore the following endorsement of the Loan which appears in the editorial columns of the current issue of the widely-read Saturday Evening Post, is of importance.

Says the Post:

For her needs during the war Canada successfully raised funds by popular loans—by the last of these loans more than six hundred million dollars. These bonds were bought by one and a half millions of people. The Dominion is now asking for subscriptions to another loan to settle obligations to her soldiers, and to enable her to carry on trade, very properly calls attention to her fortunate financial position as a reason why the new bonds should be regarded as a sound investment.

Even some months after the Armistice was signed the Dominion still had on hand part of the proceeds from her latest loan, and only because of the pressing demand for credits was she finally forced to borrow extensively from the banks.

She therefore does not face the necessity of liquidating short-term liabilities to a large extent or under the adverse conditions which exist in European countries. Her immediate problem is the comparatively simple one of finding money to be used for the most part to pay bills she is about to contract. Success under such circumstances would seem to depend almost entirely upon her ability to prove the reasonableness of her proposed expenditures. Her statement made on these points is interesting.

Two hundred and sixty million dollars is required for the transportation, pay and care of the soldiers still undemobilized, many of whom are sick and wounded, many of whom are so situated that they must be helped over the period of idleness between their discharge from the service and their civilian re-employment. Also under her Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, Canada is obliged to loan money to soldiers who may wish to become farmers, so that they may purchase land, stock and implements — the money so loaned to be secured by a first mortgage until it is paid back. Up to August 15th, of the nearly thirty thousand men who had applied for land under the terms of this act the applications of more than twenty-two thousand had been approved. For the continuance of this work it is estimated that fifty-seven million dollars will be required.

Canada also proposes to provide what is referred to as National Working Capital. This is, in fact, money with which to pay farmers and manufacturers for their products which go into trade outside the Dominion. She realizes that her opportunity for trade depends for the time being largely upon her ability to carry on that trade upon a credit basis, and that the loss of such trade would mean an immediate increase of unemployment at home. So she calls upon her people to lend her the cash needed for this trade and for her programme of general development.

The Canadian Government has good reason to regard the outcome of its appeal for the Victory Loan of 1919 with confidence. The gallant part borne by Canadians in the war, both by those who fought and by those at home who supported the armies, is assurance of the country's spirit. The purposes of the loan itself have been plainly stated, and they claim the support of common sense as well as of patriotism. It is not to be expected that at this hour Canadians will fail to carry on.

How Friction Surfacing Lowers Manufacturing Cost

To the average mechanic, when belting a machine to a shaft pulley, a belt is just a belt, if it is the right size.

Efficiency and economy of operation, or that it was made for a particular purpose, is not considered.

For more than fifty years we have solved transmission belting and equipment problems, and have developed a special friction rubber compound for our transmission belting, and unless you and your employees avail yourselves of our knowledge and experience, our efforts to lower your manufacturing cost will, in a measure, be lost.

Dominion Friction Surface Belting

is not coated with a dressing—a friction surfacing—it is special frictionized rubber with which the entire belt is saturated. Therefore, it retains a pulley grip that prevents practically all power waste, even when worn wafer thin.

Our engineers will, without charge, gladly show you how friction surfacing will help to lower your manufacturing cost.

Tell your transmission troubles to our nearest Service Branch.

BY JANE PHELPS

BARBARA'S QUESTION IS ANSWERED

CHAPTER CIII.

The question the seer first picked was the only one I had asked in which I was vitally interested. I had purposely made the others innocuous. I turned hot then cold as I waited. Could he, and would he tell me anything worth knowing about Neil, and his business methods? I waited impatiently as he held the paper against his forehead.

"The man is not fundamentally dishonest, but he has in some way lost his perspective where business integrity and probity are the issues. He is going to have some sort of trouble. This trouble will be caused by his lack of probity in business. But I see happiness if not success for him, too."

That was all. He then took the other questions and answered them, some of them at much greater length than he had this one in which I was so intensely absorbed.

Robert would live to grow up, father and mother would not die for many years, etc., etc. But almost as he answered the questions I forgot what he said, so intent was my mind upon what he had said of Neil. Could it be that this man really knew anything of the future?

I asked myself this question, not realising in the least that in my written query I had given him the answer myself.

"What did he tell you?" aunt asked excitedly as we gained the street.

"Oh, not very much." I repeated his answers to my other questions anent Robert, father, and mother, etc.

"But I think he told you a lot. It will make you so easy about little Robert, and your father and mother. But didn't you ask him a thing about Neil?"

"Oh, certainly. He said he saw happiness ahead of him." I had no intention of confiding any more.

"Well, I asked him all about Neil's business. I mean, if he were to be successful, and if whatever was worrying him would get straightened out. You see, Neil is all the relative I have in the world, and I have been dreadfully worried about him lately," she added apologetically. "He is in some sort of trouble, I am sure."

"What did he say to you?" I felt a little indignant that aunt had asked questions about Neil's business affairs, yet I was so anxious to know what she had been told that I hid the resentment from her.

"He said that the man I asked about was on the verge of some trouble in his affairs. That his health was giving way under the strain; and that unless he changed his tactics he would regret it always."

I shivered with dread and apprehension. I had no way of knowing that aunt, as had I, had given the information in her question. That almost anyone with a keen brain would have made the same deduction as had the man to whom we had paid ten dollars for a few minutes of his time.

"It is ridiculous for him to have talked that way. I know Neil is worried and anxious, what man as young as he who made so much money wouldn't be? But the very idea of his daring to say that Neil must 'change his tactics.' It is almost insulting." Then after a moment's silence I added: "I hope you won't repeat that to Neil. I wouldn't let him know you had questioned the man about him or his affairs if I were you. He doesn't like anything that looks like interference, you know." I said, thinking of his wish that his aunt would go home.

"I guess I have the right to ask anything I want to. And as for interfering, it would have been better if I had done that when I first came. I am not blind, Bab. I know there is something queer about Neil's business affairs. I also know you are aware of it, and that it worries you, causes you great anxiety."

"I do worry," I admitted. Then anxious to disabuse her mind of any suspicion of Neil, I added, "But only because of his health. Why, Mr. Frederick told me only the other day that Neil was perfectly wonderful in business." I did not add: "If he used his keenness in the right direction," which had been the way Mr. Frederick had finished.

"Well, Frederick is all right himself, but I am convinced Neil isn't," aunt said decidedly just as we reached home.

DON'T DRUG KIDNEYS
DRIVE BACKACHE AWAY

Instant Relief! Rub Pain, Soreness and Stiffness From Your Back With "St. Jacob's Liniment."

Kidneys cause backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment." Rub it right on the ache or tender spot, and instantly the pain, soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Liniment" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache, sciatica or lumbago pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolour the skin.

It's the only application to rub on a weak, lame or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain.

TEMPERAMENTAL MAIDS.

Cooks and Housemaids Are a Mystery to Everybody.

An opera-singer who gets $50,000 a year goes up in the air—and we call it temperament. The idea is that if we're going to have grand opera then we've got to have a high-strung woman who gets cranky and bawls out the service, the kitchen, the laundry, the dry cleaners, the florist and the new gown that—hang it all, Oh, everybody's against me—came with a spot on it.

But housemaids and cooks are different, as a general rule. They are a mystery. Usually when they quit, nobody knows why. It's a secret they keep to themselves. They explain, but they know, the explanation is only half the story, if it's that much.

Sphinxes—that's what the cooks and housemaids are these days. Our best medicine man and psychologists and high-ups in learning try to read these sphinxes and write magazine articles on how to keep a good cook or house girl. And it's no go. They can't tell us.

A good classy girl who knows how to keep a kitchen straight, and wash babies and dress babies right, is a mystery to herself. She quits when she wants to quit and not before then nor till then. And, of course, when she wants to quit then it's up to her to find another place, to go somewhere else. And when she goes she is a mystery to herself like the tribes of Israel starting for the Promised Land or Columbus on his way to undiscovered America.

A sphinx, a mystery, to herself as well as others, she demands the right to be as temperamental as a $150,000 a year opera singer, retreating instinctively behind the impregnable fact that while opera singers have temperament, they never have housemaid's knee.

The London Times recently had an interview with a titled Englishwoman who said that a housemaid should be called "Miss" and referred to as a "home bird." This would be democracy in the home.

Home bird — that sounds poetic. And a real home bird, the real thing, flits and wings her way hither and yon from cellar to garret, keeping the place clean. She is a helper and builder, the human wren.

Doctor Tells How to Detect Harmful Effects of Tobacco

Try These SIMPLE TESTS

New York.—Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, says: Many men who smoke, chew or snuff incessantly, and who are seemingly healthy, are suffering from progressive organic ailments. Thousands of them would never have been afflicted had it not been for the use of tobacco, and thousands would soon get well if they would only stop the use of tobacco. The chief habit-forming principle of tobacco is nicotine, a deadly poison, which when absorbed by the system slowly affects the nerves, membranes, tissues and vital organs of the body. The harmful effect of tobacco varies and depends on circumstances. One will be afflicted with general debility, others with catarrh of the throat, indigestion, constipation, extreme nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of memory, lack of will-power, mental confusion, etc. Others may suffer from heart disease, bronchial trouble, hardening of the arteries, tuberculosis, blindness, or even cancer or the cancer affection known as tobacco heart. If you use tobacco in any form you can easily detect the harmful effects by making the following simple tests: Read aloud one full page from a book. If in the course of reading your voice becomes muffled, hoarse and indistinct, and you must frequently clear your throat, the chances are that your throat is affected by catarrh, and it may be the beginning of more serious trouble. Next, in the morning before taking your usual smoke walk up three flights of stairs at a regular pace, then step. If you find that you are out of breath, your heart beat is forced, trembling or irregular, you may be a victim of functional or organic heart trouble. If you find that you must smoke, chew or snuff to quiet your nerves you are a slave to the tobacco habit, and are positively poisoning yourself with the deadly drug, nicotine. In either case you have but two alternatives—keep on with the self-poisoning process, irrespective of the dangers, and suffer the consequences, or give up the habit and escape the danger. You can overcome the craving and stop the habit in a very short time by using the following inexpensive formula: Go to any drug store and ask for Rhodol tablets, take one tablet after each meal, and in a comparatively short time you will have no desire for tobacco, the craving will have left you. With the nicotine poison out of your system your general health will quickly improve.

Note.—When asked about Rhodol tablets one of our leading druggists said: "It is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit; away ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Rhodol tablets are sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists. (5)

WIVES AND MOTHERS NEED NOT HAVE SORE BACKACHES

Constantly on their feet, attending to the wants of a large and exacting family, women often break down with nervous exhaustion.

In the stores, factories, and on a farm are weak, ailing women, dragged down with torturing backache and bearing down pains.

Such suffering isn't natural but it's dangerous, because due to diseased kidneys.

The dizziness, insomnia, and other symptoms of Kidney complaint can't cure themselves, they require the assistance of Dr. Hamilton's Pills which go direct to the seat of the trouble.

To give vitality and power to the kidneys, to lend aid to the bladder and liver; to free the blood of poisons, probably there is no remedy so successful as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For all womanly irregularities their merit is well known.

Because of their mild soothing and healing effect, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are safe, and are recommended for girls and women of all ages. 25c. per box at all dealers. Refuse any substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Apple Blossoms and Sheen

It is not, of course, only apple blossom. Apple blossom is, indeed, the last to appear, but apple blossom, at Sheen, always seems to be the crowning mercy. Many days before its pink and white spreads itself in dainty riot over the orchards, which still, in spite of the builder, crowd up, in places, to the high road, the plum blossom and the pear blossom seem to have done the same. To the traveller from the north, or indeed from almost any part of England, there is always something rich and prodigal in the growth of things in the Thames valley. Here, in the little thickets of Richmond Park, the Wilderness of Hampton Court, or by the hidden paths of Kew, one finds always the first signs of spring, whilst the uplands of Buckinghamshire, or even Surrey Hills, are still "waiting" in their soft gray winter mists.

And so the Thames valley seems to keep ahead all the time until high summer wraps the whole countryside, far and near, in one bright garb of uniformity. One notices it as soon, almost, as Clapham Junction has been left behind. The old trees still standing in sadly neglected back gardens are clearly determined to keep up the reputation of the valley and burst out into a positively amazing green against the grayness of all around. As to Putney, a little farther on, it has never given way to London. Trees are everywhere, gardens everywhere, creeper everywhere, and though, in winter time, the town seems to gain the victory, with each returning spring, Putney puts on its country dress. And then, of course, after Putney, the green has it all its own way, and, about now, the blossom. Around the great curve of the river, circling Richmond Park, one sees, as one looks out of the train window, blossom everywhere, now in great masses where an orchard has been left intact, and now in splashes. Anon it is a single tree at the corner of some old garden that gladdens the eye as it enjoys its short spell of special glory. It is no more or less all the way round the loop, from Barnes to Wimbledon, but, somehow or another, its blossom at Sheen seems to stand out as specially worthy of note.

Now, as everybody knows, who knows anything about these parts, Sheen is the old name for Richmond. Many kings and queens of England had sojourned at their place of Sheen before "Henry VII, Earl of Richmond," changed the name to the Palace of Richmond. The eastern portion of the old town, however, did not conform itself to the change. It had long been known as East Sheen and so it elected to remain, and so it has remained to this day. When it began to specialize in orchards it is hard to say, but one may still find them there, every year, it is true, a little more restricted, as the new roads and houses spread themselves in and out amongst them but still as radiant as ever. The traveller may leave the train at East Sheen, and, if he knows where to go, he may still catch wonderful glimpses of a sea of white and pink, just as it was a decade or more ago. He may still find the lily of the valley growing in long rows between the trees, "for Covent Garden Market," and may still look over the fence by the roadside, and see the ground, far and near, thickly covered with fallen petals.

O, Vale of bliss! O, softly swelling hills!
On which the Power of Cultivation lies,
And joys to see the wonders of its toil.

The Thames valley has changed not a little since Thomson's day, but what he says of it in "The Seasons" is still strangely apt and true.—Christian Science Monitor.

A Solomon Islands Question.

In the British Solomon Islands the war has brought about new conditions that will make this part of the world much more livable than it has been. Before the war the British and German Solomons "neighbored" each other in a way that was anything but satisfactory to the white residents, or natives either, on the British side of the boundary. Two of the islands are separated only by a narrow strait, so shallow that at low water it is almost possible to go from island to island on foot. Had the government of the islands been similar, this would have made little difference, but Germany was ruling on her side of the water in a way that put a premium on emigration by natives, and the emigrants who crossed over were in no state of mind toward white rulers in general to make them welcome additions to the population of the British island. Troupes of savages, black of skin and grotesquely daubed with white pigment, were constantly crossing the narrow strait, and, as a consequence, there was always trouble brewing between the British and German authorities. British administration of the German island has calmed the native discontent, and the ease with which the strait can be crossed no longer disturbs the peace of mind of the next door neighbor.

Washing after every wearing saves Silk Underthings

HALF the charm of silken things lies in keeping them fresh and sweet. Moreover perspiration discolors and shortens their life. Why not wash them after every wearing?

It's delightfully simple. Use the pure, gentle, cleansing LUX suds. Make just a bowlful, anywhere, any time. Just dip them up and down—press out the water—rinse—iron with a warm iron—and it's done.

LUX will hurt no fabric that pure water may touch. Sold at all grocers and departmental stores.

A Gigantic Raft.

The largest timber raft constructed in Norway recently arrived from Meraker timber yards at Trondhjem, where she awaits the arrival of tugs from England to tow her across. The raft, containing 1,200 standard logs, about three ordinary steamship loads, looks like a submarine, and it took two strong tugs to tow her at half a mile an hour.

DOMINANCE OF MOTOR TRANSPORT REVEALED

On 28th September the Ontario Motor League took a census of traffic on three main highways radiating from Toronto—the Toronto-Hamilton Highway, Yonge Street, and the Kingston Road. The census covered the ten hours between nine in the morning to seven in the evening, which would catch approximately 75 per cent. of the vehicles passing over the roads on the day in question.

Much interesting information is deducible from these tabulations. For instance, the fact that of the 8,234 vehicles that passed the checkers, only 47 were horse-drawn; the fact that of the 8,187 motor vehicles, only 52 were cars owned outside the Province—a refutation of the allegation that our highways are nothing but speedways for Yankee motorists; that although the day was Sunday, 71 trucks were counted; that the hour of peak traffic in the morning is between 11 and 12 o'clock, and in the afternoon between four and five on all three roads.

Here are the O. M. L. tabulations of the census by hours:

THIRTY NATIONS AT THE CONFERENCE

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. — More than thirty nations, including Canada, are represented here to-day for the opening of the International Labor Conference, created by the Treaty at Versailles for the improvement and standardization of labour conditions throughout the world. In opening the conference at noon, United States Secretary of Labor Wilson said he would designate the assembly as the "conference in the process of being organized," by this interpretation he believes he abides by contention that only those States which have ratified the Treaty can participate in the official conference. The programme for to-day as outlined by the Organizing committee, called for addresses by Secretary Wilson and John Barrett, Director of the Pan-American Union, and the report of Arthur Fontaine of France, chairman of committee and organization of Assembly.

LOSS OF LIFE WILL BE HEAVY

(Canadian Press.)

MUSKEGON, Mich., Oct. 29. — Twenty-one persons were officially unaccounted for early to-day, and fourteen were known to have lost their lives in the sinking yesterday of the Crosby Line Lake Steamer Muskegon, which was driven into a pier by a gale which she had battled across Lake Michigan from Milwaukee, and pounded to pieces by the heavy sea. The coroner and Crosby Line officials stated they believed all the missing had perished. The purser was unable to give the names of those unaccountde for, but thought they include four of the crew and three passengers.

RADICAL PLOT WAS UNEARTHED

(Canadian Press.)

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 29. — Discovery of a radical plot to spread terror throughout the nation by another series of explosions next spring, was announced by the police here to-day, following the arrest last night of five men and one woman suspected of having planned the destruction of the central police station. Believing they were members of an anarchistic circle, that has been working in more than one hundred cities, the police questioned the group all night in an effort to learn details of their plans or the extent of their organization.

NEW YORK STRIKE AFFECTS PETERBORO

The longshoremen's strike in New York has delayed a shipment of bulbs to Peterboro and as a result about three hundred members of the Horticultural Society are without their fall option. The bulbs were shipped from Holland to New York and when the vessel was about half unloaded the men went on strike. The bulbs will be forwarded as soon as possible. Other societies as well as florists throughout the country are similarly effected.

REMEMBERING OLD PRICES AND OLD FRIENDS

SOME REMENISCENSES WHICH SHOW HOW THE FORD MOTOR CAR BUSINESS HAS EXPANDED IN PETERBOROUGH—INCIDENTS OF PAST AND PRESENT.

Just about a year ago to-day the formal opening took place of the present commodious fireproof building, situated on the corner of Water and Charlotte Streets—the home of the Duffus Garage.

This unique building, now one of the largest wholesale and retail modern-built motor car plants in Canada, is the offspring of the phenomenal growth of the Ford automobile business in Peterborough, dating back to 1906.

When the Ford car was in its swaddling clothes the services of Mr. Joe. J. Duffus, the present proprietor of the Duffus Garage, were enlisted for the Ford. Shortly before that period the first Ford car sold in Peterborough was bought by Dr. Frederick of this city. Needless to say it was not one of the Ford models of to-day, but was known as a Ford Model "N." Since that time many stirring events have transpired, among them being the greatest world war of modern history.

Incidentally, it may be mentioned that Dr. Frederick, who bought the first Ford sold in Peterborough, took leave of the city one fine morning and went overseas to give his services to his country in the hour of its peril, in the capacity of war surgeon. It has been gratifying to his friends to know that, after giving some of the best years of his life to the cause of the Allies in practical patriotism he was able to return again to take up his practice once more in Peterborough.

These facts having been alluded to in an interview with Mr. Duffus yesterday, elicited from him the following remarks:

"Business to-day owes much to motor cars. The ways in which the motor car has benefitted the professional man, as well as the merchant, are as obvious as they are numerous. By covering a greater distance in less time they have done what was physically impossible, because of distance, to deal with before."

The Ford Sedan.

"Speaking of Dr. Fredericks," continued Mr. Duffus, "reminds me that just to-day I completed the sale of a handsome new Ford Sedan car to our friend. It is another instance of the growing demand for the closed car, which furnishes a degree of comfort for medical men not to be had within an open model."

"The Ford Sedan is a dignified business and family car, and gives the motorist the utmost protection from inclement weather."

Evolution of the Ford.

The first of the present Model "T" Ford Cars sold in Peterborough was purchased by Dr. Halliday, which played a prominent part in his extensive practice. This type of Ford car helped much in the pioneer work of popularizing light-weight construction. Since then the new 1919 Ford has been equipped with electric starting and lighting systems, and demountable rims, making the car more resourceful both in condition and performance.

A Smooth-Running Service.

The thing that strikes a visitor to the Duffus plant most forcibly is the apparent ease with which the big business is carried on. Everything works with a systematic swing to it that leaves no room for noisy bustle or hurry. No matter whether you are a big corporation distributor or a member of the U.F.O., you will be equally welcome.

When one considers the conservative policy that has from the first controlled this concern, and the fact that the output has kept crowding the factory facilities to supply sufficient cars, one is not surprised at the steady and continuous growth which it has developed year after year.

These, together with completely equipped repair and work shops to take care of all kinds of car troubles—with stocks of repair parts and accessories, ample floor space for the storage and service requirements of car owners, and covering a floor space of 25,000 feet—constitute a modern motor car plant that Peterborough may well feel proud of.

Mr. Duffus contemplates leaving in a few days for a business trip through the United States, with the object of securing closer connections with the large manufacturers of automobile supplies and accessories. Mr. Duffus has felt the need of getting into closer touch with the manufacturers in order that he may be even better equipped for handling the trade of the various garage owners throughout this district.

CELEBRATED THEIR WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reynolds, George Street, on Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were taken by surprise when a few friends and relatives came in to celebrate their wedding anniversary. The evening was spent in music, games and other amusements after which refreshments were served. The evening was fittingly closed by the forming of a circle and the joining of hands and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" and "For They are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were the recipients of some very nice presents.

Wants the Prince's Honour Banner in Every Factory

GET THE PRINCE'S HONOUR BANNER—because the Prince's Honour Banner hanging in your factory will show that you have done your share to make it possible for Canada to fulfil her obligations to her army.

GET THE PRINCE'S HONOUR BANNER—because the Honour Banner in your factory will be the evidence of your sound business judgment. It will show that you have done your part to insure steady orders, and jobs for everyone at good wages. Every factory in Peterboro must win the Princes's Honour Banner.

GET THE PRINCE'S HONOUR BANNER—because the Prince's Honour Banner will show that the men and women in your factory are Victory Bond buyers, that they are thrifty, industrious and far sighted. Put it up strong to the other factories—before they put it up to you. Show that Peterboro knows a good investment.

GET THE PRINCE'S HONOUR BANNER—because the Prince's Honour Banner in your factory will show that the men and women in the factory are Canadians. Show your patriotism by winning your banner, and in doing it make a record for Peterboro.

AN EXCHANGE OF MONEY THAT PAYS

When you buy Victory Bonds, you simply exchange one kind of money for another.

A dollar bill is Canada's promise to pay.

So are Victory Bonds.

But Victory Bonds pay interest.

Consider the security behind Victory Bonds--
Canada and all that is contained therein.

Consider the good rate of interest--
Victory Bonds pay 5½%--nearly twice as much as Savings Banks.

Consider the saleability of Victory Bonds---
Their use as collateral for a loan.

Their prospective advancement in price.

Consider the purpose for which Canada requires the money:---

Cleaning up our obligations to the army and maintaining the prosperity of the country.

Are not these reasons the best in the world for exchanging one kind of money for another?

Should not every Canadian put all his weight behind this Loan?

Should not he exchange all the money he has for Victory Bonds?---and all the money he can save for the next ten months to come?

COALITION PLAN TO HELP THE CONSUMER AND THE PRODUCER

NEW COALITION MAY ADOPT PROPOSAL TO AID CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT.

TAX REFORM PART OF BIG PROGRAMME

TORONTO Oct. 29.—A radical change in taxation is likely to be agreed upon as part of the legislative program of the Farmer-Labor coalition. Here are some changes that the joint committee may agree upon for submission to the joint caucus or conference today:

Tax on unearned increment.
Higher tax on unimproved land.
Higher graduated income tax.
Higher inheritance tax.
Tax on profits.
Lower tax on improvements.
Income tax on profits of corporations.

The U.F.O. platform has been more definite than the Labor platform as to the taxation policy, but little difficulty is experienced in the two groups getting together on that subject. The bulk of the farmers in the Province may be suspicious of any move to make the land carry most of the burden of taxation but local option for towns and cities would leave the rural districts free to adjust matters to suit themselves.

The Labor group also desires a change in the banking system, with a tendency towards nationalization. This is a matter for the Federal Government, but the Provincial authorities may be able to speed it along.

Help Co-operative Movement.

The program for legislative action promises to include something not indicated by either the Farmer or Labor platforms, namely the encouragement of some form of co-operative organization whereby the consumer in the cities will obtain cheaper foodstuffs without a reduction in the prices secured by the producer on the farm. The laws as regards co-operative societies are not nearly as favorable to enterprises of this kind as they should be. The U.F.O. already is conducting a chain of co-operative stores.

The coalition policies are certain to provide for an early change in the electoral laws so as to give proportional representation. Provision will be made for the initative and the referendum. It is held that far more frequent Government measures should be submitted for the approval of the people.

The new majority group will pledge itself to the heartiest support of Hydro enterprises and public ownership generally. The U.F.O. probably will not seriously object to the proposal of Labor that all property qualifications for public office and election deposits shall be made unnecessary. Pensions for mothers and the aged, also maternity benefits are expected to be adopted by the coalition caucus.

Some Ticklish Questions.

Some matters on which a difference of opinion might arise are not within the purview of the Legislature, or else are matters for combined action by the Federal and Provincial Governments. These include the democratic control of industry, the eight-hour day and compulsory collective bargaining. The Farmers know little about the fine points raised by these questions and feel they must go cautiously. Labor seems disposed to be reasonable and not force the issues at this stage. The same observation applies to the minimum wage. Labor recognizes that the eight-hour day cannot be made applicable to the agricultural or lumbering industries, and while it may favor the Whitley scheme for the regulation of industry, it will give the Farmers time to find their bearings.

I.L.P. and Prohibition.

Those who have the task of harmonizing the Farmers and Labor have been surprised at the slightness of the variations between them. Perhaps the only question on which there is a real divergence of opinion is as to temperance legislation. The Labor party is not favorable to bone-dry prohibition, but the Farmers will insist on it being part of the policy of the new Government, and as Labor always has expressed its willingness to abide by the result of referendums, the I.L.P. will accept the decision as gracefully as possible.

Both groups are keen for the abolition of patronage, and the I.L.P. agrees with the U.F.O. that better educational facilities should be provided in rural detrcts.

Cody to Quit Politics.

In this connection it is learned that Hon. Dr. Cody is contemplating dropping out of the Legislature as well as giving up his portfolio of education. He went into politics only because of his desire to put Ontario on the map in an educational sense, and in his election addresses, with one possible exception, discussed nothing but the development of the child life of the Province. The one exception was the occasion on which he turned aside to comment on the danger of class movements.

DUMMER TOWNSHIP COUNCIL MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Drummer, was held in the Town Hall at Warsaw, on Friday the 24th day of October, commencing at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon. Mr. A. F. Choate and Dr. Munro presented to the Council the following resolutions and request from the Board of Trade, of Warsaw and the Township of Drummer.

At the nomination held in the Town Hall in December 1918, it was Resolved that this meeting recommend and pledge its support to the Council in any action taken by them to commemorate the sacrifice of the men who fell in the great war, by the erecting of a memorial in Warsaw.

At a meeting of the Warsaw and Dummer Board of Trade, held on October 3rd, 1919, it was Resolved that the most suitable memorial would be in the form of a monument erected in a suitable place, and that the Council be requested to take action by appointing a committee (of say 5 members) with power to prepare plans, estimates, select a site, etc., and report to a future meeting of Council for their concurrance; it was also resolved that the necessary funds be raised by voluntary subscriptions, supplemented by a general levy by the council on the whole Township. The following motion was passed by the Council:—Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by W. D. Robson, that the following committee be appointed in compliance with the foregoing request made by the representative members of the Board of Trade:—C. J. Darling, Dr. Munro, A. F. Choate, E. Hawthorne, Mrs. Ed. Hamblin, Mrs. D. Miller, Mrs. Garfield Crowe, and W. D. Robson. Moved by J. J. Crowe, seconded by E. Hamblin that a special grant, of $50 be made to be expended by Alvin Drain, by filling up the holes on the sideroad through the eighth concession, Stoney Lake road; the following accounts were passed by the Council for payment:—Harry Patterson, for gravel $7.95, Roy Baker, for gravel $6.30, Wilford Quinlan, for gravel $7.50, Hugh Dodds, for refund on taxes on a dog in the year 1917 $1, Robert Gollaher, for balance of appropriation on road across the eighth con. between lots five and six $20, Sam Kavanagh, for repairing three culverts on the eighth line $23, Rober Gardner, for cedar for culverts $16.57, T. L. Payne, for attendance at Court of Revision on Assessment Roll $3.50, and for attendance at Meeting of Assessors and Clerks at Peterborough for equalization of Union Schools $5, and for service as selector of Jurors $3.50, and for attendance at Judges' Court of Revision on appeals against the Voters' List $3.50, Richard Deen, for service as a commissioner respecting the complaint of Fred Calder for a road, one half day $1.75, for attending at meeting respecting equalization of Union Schools $5, for selection of Jurors and making returns thereof to the Clerk of the Peace $7, for service at Court of Revision on appeals against the Voters' List $3.50, Chris. Darling, for service as per appointment respecting Fred Calder's complaint for a road to his lot, one half day $1.75, for attendance as selector of Jurors $3.50, John F. Elliott, for refund of statute labor tax $3, J. G. Keefer, for part printing account $65.95, Charles Calder, for a Pipe wrench $4, C. J. Darling, for payment of accounts for part of construction work on the new bridge in Warsaw $400.

Council adjourned, to meet on Friday, Nov. 28th, 1919, at 10.30 o'clock in the forenoon.

RICHARD DEEN, Clerk.

BOY SCOUT NOTES

The Y.M.C.A. have sent an invitation for all the scouts to join in the parade on Hallowe'en night (Friday) in the interest of the Victory Loan committee, which has been accepted by the Boy Scout Society.

Every Boy Scout is wanted to turn out in some kind of get-up (comic). No part of uniform to be used. False faces will be supplied, so as you mothers won't know you, boys.

The St. Andrews Band will turn out in full force.

The time and route will be published later.

Scout Masters whose meeting falls on that night are asked to arrange so as to be with us.

AN ELOPEMENT AND NOT SUICIDE?

Married Man and Young Daughter of Employer Are Missing.

WOODSTOCK, Ont. 28.—That the two persons, a man and a woman, whose clothes were found on the bank of Southside Pond Friday night, did not comit suicide, is the belief of the local police. On the contrary, it is presumed that these clothes were left for the purpose of deception, as a married man aged 30, and a young girl aged 18 (the daughter of his employer), are reported missing, and it is supposed that they purchased new clothing in this city and sought to cover their tracks by leaving the old apparel on the bank. The man's wife is living. So far no clue as to their whereabouts has been found.

When They Went Away Singing "Tipperary"

In those brave days of '14 and '15, they were indeed the idols of the Nation. To their support Canada brought all that the weight of money could bring.

And when they came to the furnace of their testing, we acclaimed them proudly as of no common clay.

"Tipperary" is forgotten, swept like a butterfly caught in a tornado or a catch of song in the throat of death. But Ypres, St. Eloi, Vimy, Hill 70, Passchaendale, Cambrai and Mons have placed its singers among the Immortals.

In these brave days—that to some of us are still but of yesterday—Canada proclaimed herself in the fight to the last man and to the last dollar.

Well has man played his fighting part. It is our Dollar that must now redeem the pledge.

To make the Victory Loan a success is a National obligation.

If the fighting were still raging you wouldn't hesitate to invest.

Be thankful then that it is ended, and be glad that your part now is but to lend money to pay the Debts of Honour.

The spirit that moved you to buy Victory Bonds one year ago and two years ago should impel you to buy them again.

But even if you suppress that spirit—grant that you may not—the material advantage of the investment cannot fail to appeal to your good common sense.

Think of it. The peerless security of a mighty nation—a nation at peace—the great uncertainty of war past—and 5½% interest. Where can you find its equal?

Whichever way you look at it, if you are true to yourself you must

DR. DICKINSON'S SALARY WAS FIXED AT $[illegible]

Dr. G. A. Dickinson, Medical Health Officer at Port Hope, has won his case against the town. His Honour Judge Ward has handed out judgment fixing Dr. Dickinson's salary at $[illegible] a year, and ordering the town to pay the costs. The salary of Dr. Dickinson was formerly $600 a year and was later reduced to $[illegible] a year by resolution by the Council.

The case was thoroughly argued before the Judge and a large number of witnesses were heard. Mr. W. F. Kerr was counsel for Dr. Dickinson

In giving judgment His Honor stated that he had read the memorandum showing salaries paid to Medical Health officers in other municipalities of the size and importance of Port Hope, but was not inclined to allow that to influence his judgment, as he believed these municipalities were receiving in service exactly what they paid for.

BOWLING NEWS

The Y. M. C. A. Bowling League got off to a fine start on Monday night. A number of the old time bowlers were on hand as well as some new ones.

The first games were played on schedule time, when the Busy Bunch proved too many for the Lawn Bowlers.

The teams were well matched and considerable excitement prevailed throughout the games.

Scoring—

Busy Bunch.
C. Lacheur,	13	76	124—334
A. Hardell,	167	121	168—476
C. Gilliam,	170	120	119—409

C. Everett,	137	137	120—394
C. Maynard,	133	78	100—311
	547	676	600-1973

The next League game will be played on Wednesday night at 7.30, when E. Walton's Centrals clash with Barrie's Big 5 for a place at the top of the list.

The alleys are open every night at 7 o'clock. Good pin boys are on the job and the best of service assured.

Summary.

M. Hardill's and A. Gillman's fly-up start helped to swish the first game for the Busy Bunch, but Pratt and Elliott came to the rescue and easily tied the score by winning the second game.

The last game was close but Hardill managed a lead of thirty points, making the game safe for the winners of the first.

The gymnasium classes are progressing strongly. The senior roll shows a list of 40 who are taking this means of keeping fit. Returned soldiers are taking advantage of the Gymn Classes to bridge the difference between the active, fully occupied day of army routine and the less vigorous round of civilian life.

The Business Men's Class has been changed from Friday to Thursday night at 5.30 ,so that from now on it will meet on Monday and Thursday. To those so desiring supper will be served after the class.

In a strongly contested game of basket ball on Monday evening the Senior Class Representative proved much too strong for the business men—winning out by a score of 25 to 17.

Basket ball has every appearance of a great boom this coming season.

The Business Men's Five Pin League are calling a meeting on Friday evening at the Water Street alleys to draw the schedule for the coming season. Captains from each team should be on hand.

Yesterday afternoon in the Quaker Oats' Ten Pin League at the Water Street alleys the Saxons won the two games from Buckeyes. For the Saxons, Cunningham was high man passing the three hundred mark. Kirn came next with 297. For the Buckeyes Hunter was high with 285.

"BABE" RUTH WANTS ONLY $20,000 FOR NEXT SEASON

BOSTON, Oct. 29.—George (Babe) Ruth, world champion home-run hitter of the Boston Americans, said before leaving for Los Angeles last night that he would demand $20,000 salary next year.

"I will not play with the Red Sox," he declared, "unless I get $20,000. I feel that I made a bad move last year when I signed a three years' contract to play for $20,000. The Boston club realized much on my value, and I think that I am entitled to twice as much as my contract calls for."

Ruth, who plans to make an indefinite stay on the Pacific coast, said that he did not expect to hear from President Harry H. Frazee, of the club, until the club was ready to move south. Frazee, who was here, did not see Ruth and had nothing to say about baseball before leaving for New York last night. Ruth will get $300 a game while at the coast, it is said.

THE GROUPING FOR PETERBORO

DR. R. M. WADDELL ON THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Four thousand members of the Ontario Curling Association attended the 45th annual meeting held in the Granite Club, Toronto, yesterday. Mr. R. M. Waddell of this city was elected to the executive committee. The presidency went to Mr. W. A. Boys, K.C., M.P., of Barrie.

Rule 3 of the Ontario Tankard was changed so that if only three clubs were entered they should each play the other and one that wins to count first. In case of ties points to count.

It was also decided that four new cups be provided so that there be one for each district in the District Cup competetition.

This year Peterboro is grouped with Bobcaygeon, Cannington, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay, Norwood, and play at Lindsay. Mr. J. P. Flavelle is umpire of the group.

The Delegates.

The delegates to the meeting from Peterboro were Mr. R. M. Waddell and M. A. H. Wright.

"A HOUSE DIVIDED" IS A THRILLING SOCIETY STORY

WILL BE SEEN AT THE ALLEN TO-DAY

In the Blackton play it is shown that "Just a Song at Twilight" is a favorite one of the heroine, Mary Lord, an orphan living in England. At a Christmas party at the home of her school chum, Jessie Baldwin, Mary meets Philip Carmichael, a rising young statesman whose career in the House of Parliament is fostered by Mary's guardian, Sir Arthur Stanhope. Carmichael's personality attracts Mary but he ignores the young school girl. A few evening later Philip plays the role of bridegroom in a mock marriage to Sheelah Delayne, of the Variety Theatre, staged during a wild party. The morning after the night before" Sheelah has disappeared and Philip forgets the affair.

Later, Mary in her loneliness, becomes the wife of her guardian. Soon after, Philip again meets her, finding her now a fascinating woman, and their love is mutual. Sir Arthur discovers it but Mary is opposed to divorce. Fate solves the problem when Sir Arthur suffers a fatal stroke after denouncing Philip in the house. Mary and Philip go to France where they are happily married. Returning to London on a pleasure trip, Philip recognises Sheelah in the play they see. She has discovered that their mock marriage was illegal, having been performed by a justice of the peace, and the following day [illegible] Philip arrested for bigamy, intending to prove her claim for the sake of her child. The climax of the play is in Mary's renunciation of her own good name when, to acquit Philip, she declares on the stand that she is not his wife but "just the woman who loves him."

She then disappears. Months later, Sheelah, who on the death of her little boy has become a canteen worker in France, finds Mary wandering in the devastated country near her old home. Sheelah has her marriage to Philip annuled and when he comes to Mary, the latter's memory is restored by the strains of "Just a Song at Twilight" sung by a group of doughboys billeted nearby, on their way to port for return to America.

The principal characters in this problem play of love, marriage and divorce are played by Herbert Rawlinson and Sylvia Breamer, the Blackton stars. Lieutenant Lawrence Grossmith, Julie Crute and [illegible] Ward. It will be shown for two days commencing to-day at the Allan Theatre in conjunction with regular programme, consisting of the Outing Chester, Harold Lloyd Comedy, the serial "The Great Gamble," weekly and the Victory Loan film "The Grouch."

VICTORY LOAN FILMS BOOKED AT THE ALLEN

Commencing Monday the manager of the Allen Theatre has booked for the duration of the Victory Loan drive a complete series of descriptive Victory Loan films. The first known was Private George Dilby, which depicts in a thrilling story, how a private wounded unto death, captured single handed and killed the crew of a machine gun operated by the Huns. For this daring work he paid with his life. But he saved the day for his battalion, and now it is up to each and every one of you to save the day for the Victory Loan campaign.

Some of the other films that will be shown are "The Grouch," "When it Strikes Home," "James Wilson," "Paying Debts of Honour," and "Ready Money Ringfield."

These films will be shown with the regular programme.

PUBLIC MEETING WAS HELD IN NORWOOD ON TUESDAY EVENING

A NUMBER OF PETERBORO MEN DISCUSSED THE VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN --THE NEWLY ELECTED PROVINCIAL MEMBER WAS PRESENT AND GAVE AN ADDRESS

Norwood has made up its mind, judging from the enthusiastic meeting here last night in the town hall, to even better the remarkable record of subscriptions made by the Norwood people to the Victory Loan of 1918. Col. Birdsall was chairman.

That Norwood's allotment of the 1919 Victory Loan will be greatly oversubscribed is a foregone conclusion. Every purchaser last year will purchase this year, and those who failed to buy a 1918 will not make the same mistake in 1919.

In a masterly, lucid and thorough going explanation of the 1919 Victory Loan, its purposes and objects, Mr. G. J. Sherry held the intense interest of his audience and made so clear to his hearers the unquestionable desirability of the 1919 Loan, both from the self-interest and from the patriotic standpoint, that if there were any in the audience who had not made up their minds to purchase the Bonds to the limit of their power, Mr. G. J. Sherry's explanation convinced them.

The speaker prefaced his remarks by recalling to his audience the fact that he had at one time been a resident of Norwood and spoke of his interest in seeing his old home town maintain the high standard set for it in previous campaigns.

Money Not Tied Up.

Mr. J. G. Campanale, next speaker, expressed his pleasure in having an opportunity to address, as chairman of the Publicity committee for Peterborough County the people of Norwood on the subject of Victory Loan. Norwood's record had been an exceptional one that the speaker felt as thought he was "carrying coals to Newcastle." As the people of Norwood by their high per capita buying in previous Loans had evidenced a very clear appreciation of the value of these securities. One point that the speaker felt should be particularly dwelt upon, was the necessity of a clear understanding on the part of the general public of the fact that Victory Bonds are as liquid as currency.

Unfortunately there were some who still believed that when they bought a Victory Bond, that their money was tied up until the maturity date of the Bond and this idea hindered many subscribers from investing to the extent that they would have otherwise. The speaker made it clear, that a 1919 Victory Bond, for instance a $100 Bond, was just as available as currency ten ten dollar bills, and that in addition to this the high rate of interest of 5 1-2 p.c. must be taken into account. Investors should bear in mind also that Victory Bonds will appreciate their value and that judging from the current prices of former issues that 1919 Victory Bonds would be selling within 6 or 8 months at a premium of 5, 6, or even 7 p.c. on par price. This, bear in mind, in addition to the interest.

Of the security behind the bonds, the speaker emphasized the whole wide Dominion of Canada, the resources of which had hardly been scratched on the surface; the whole assets of this great Dominion and its people were pledged to make good these bonds.

As to the ability of Canadians to finance to this Loan within Canada itself, Mr. Campanale pointed out that whereas on August 1st, 1918 there were deposits in Canadian Banks at the rate of $128.00 per capita, that on Sept. 1st. 1919, there was on deposit in Canadian Banks drawing 3 p.c. interest $1,781,000,000 or a per capita deposit of $231.00. What was even more remarkable was the fact that during the five year period covered by these figures that Canadian people had bought $1,400,000,000 worth of Canada's war and Victory Bonds.

As Mr. Sherry had clearly gone into the purposes of the Loan, the speaker would not dwell on this phase of the work except to recall to the minds of his hearers that the debt that civilization owed Britain was one that could never be repaid, that as Canadians should grasp the opportunity to assist England in every possible way in our power and particularly in this case, by subscribing to the Loan and so make possible the financing of credits to the extent required. Let the fact always be before us that Britain and the British Army, and particularly the British Navy, were the two real reasons that German burgomasters were not ruling things throughout the civilized world.

Mr. K. N. MacDonald, M.P.P., in a brief address endorsing the Loan, assured his hearers that everything would be done in so far as he and his associates were concerned to push the Loan to the utmost. This is a task that Canada had to do, a task that Canada would do, and a task that Canada would be proud to do.

In closing the meeting Mr. Herold Fry dwelt on the wonderful record made by Norwood, and expressed the confident hope that last year's figures would be surpassed.

That the G.W.V.A. association had heartily given its support in the endorsement to the work of selling the Victory Bonds in Norwood and vicinities was a source of much gratification to Mr. Fry and his co-workers and this augured for the overwhelming success of the campaign in Norwood.

Col. Birdsall in bringing the meeting to a close, requested his hearers to consider carefully their duty as Canadians, but expressed the confident knowledge that the motives that would actuate the purchasers of Bonds in Norwood, would be inspired by that high patriotism that has always been characteristic of the people of that section.

The singing of "God Save the King" brought the meeting to a close.

MUTT AND JEFF

When manager Gus Hill some years ago decided to transfer the famous cartoon characters Mutt and Jeff from the confines of the newspaper to the stage, there were many doubting folks who were ready to proclaim that these two noted personages would never be very funny outside the pages of the dailies where their mirth-provoking propensities won both fame and fortune for their creator, "Bud" Fisher. That Mr. Hill's judgment has been as far reaching as it has been effective has been demonstrated. Probably no production of the many he has offered since he entered the show business has been as successful as those in which this world-renowned pair have figured. Each season he has surrounded the two in a new musical play until to-day their advent is looked upon with as much importance as the return of our fighting heroes. And why not? Everyone likes to laugh and forget their troubles, especially just now when the high cost of living has gripped us all.

Their excuse for cutting up all kinds of capers, tom-foolery and didoes that would compel the silent Sphinx to get up and yell; adventures that would make the boldest and most heroic saviour of the nation stop and ponder, is called "Mutt and Jeff's Dream." It will be the attraction at the Grand on Saturday, matinee and evening.

It is in three acts and three scenes with a plot permitting of innumerable surprises, features, novelties and irresistable hilarity, plausible action and the introduction of specially written song hits, dancing ensembles and other hits calculated to place the average theatre-goer in a state of infectious hilarity from start to finish. In the vocabulary of the day, "It is to laugh." Seats on sale Thursday at 10 a.m.

ANNE LUTHER IS A RED-HAIRED ATHLETIC BEAUTY WHO REALLY ACTS

Real red hair of the classic Titian hue is a rare thing in nature, but Anne Luther, co-star with Charles Hutchison in the Pathe-Western serial, "The Great Gamble" which is shown at the Allan Theatre every Wednesday and Thursday of each week has the actual thing. In addition to this she possesses a beauty of face and figure that photographers despair of ever catching in all its glory on the film. As one well known professional photographer has said, she is "so beautiful for a mere photograph to do her justice."

Miss Luther was born in Newark, N.J., in 1894, and is one of the youngest successful stars on the screen. She began her screen career under the direction of David Wark Griffith, and because of her rare ability, and beauty, she forged rapidly ahead.

Among her screen successes are "Her Father's Stamp," "The Island of Destiny," and Hell a Poppin' Valentine". She instantly won the approval of the press and audiences all over the country for her work in "Moral Suicide" in which she was co-starred with Mr. Mason. In addition to her histrionic skill, Miss Luther is an athlete and a skilled boxer. She drives all kinds of cars, plays golf and tennis and is an expert horsewoman, all of which accomplishments she has an opportunity to display in "The Great Gamble."

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

SECURITY BEHIND VICTORY BONDS

Every country of any consequence in this world has a national debt. In a few cases the debt is small; in others it is moderate, and in others it is very heavy. In most cases where the debt is heavy it is the result of the war which has just closed. These various debts are represented in large part by bonds that the respective countries have issued and sold, either at home or in some country where it desired to establish a credit. Canada, like all other countries that made an earnest contribution to the winning of the war, has contracted a national debt which now amounts to about $1,750,000,00. Fortunately for the people of Canada, nearly 90 per cent. of its debt has been incurred at home and the bonds to that extent issued by the Government were sold to and are owned by the Canadian people. Another very important fact in regard to Canada's debt is that a large amount of this debt is represented by credits extended to Great Britain and other Allies, and of course such credits are owing to Canada and will be ultimately repaid.

Victory Bonds are a full and direct obligation of the whole of the Dominion of Canada, just the same as a promissory note is an obligation of an individual. Every man, woman and child in Canada is a party to the obligation. The interest on these bonds and the principal must be paid out of the revenue of the Government, and it is interesting therefore to see what the possibilities are in this regard.

The Government of Canada puts an import tax on certain articles, and has the power to put this duty as high as may seem necessary on every article that comes into the country. The Government can, if it were necessary, put an export duty on every article or pound of manufactured goods or pound of produce, exported from the country. The Government could put a direct tax on everything of value in Canada. The Government could, and does, impose a heavy income tax, and if necessary this could be increased. The Government of Canada could impose a heavy inheritance tax on all estates. The Government of Canada could make a direct levy on all properties. There is also taxes that could be raised by increased railway rates, telephones and telegraphs, amusements and a thousand and one other means that need not be mentioned. So far the Government has only found necessary to have a moderate import tariff, some excise duty and income tax, etc. The means of revenue available to the Government have never been fully used and yet there has been a time when there has been the slightest difficulty in Canada's meeting its obligations.

ODE TO MR. J. H. BURNHAM

Is it only since eve "slugged" the booze,
Dear Mr. Burnham that you choose,
To make a raid on a ladie's bonnet,
If she should have a feather on it?

It's not so very long ago,
Mr. Burnham don't you know;
That you brought home a winsome wife,
To share your sorrows and your strife.

I believe that you've made up your mind,
That with times we'll be behind;
I suppose it is your poor wife's doom,
To wear a hat without a plume.

'Twould surely save you lots of cash,
If you should do a thing so rash;
A black straw sailor, I'm going to buy
One just like yours,—Won't I look shy?

On tobacco too you'll make a raid;
Have I not seen you in the shade
Of some big tree, you remember where,—
With your smoke a-curling in the air.

You'll never make that sacrifice,
If you do I'll think you're awful nice:
But I believe you like your smoke
So forget it Burnham! You're a joke!

WILL FORECLOSE AND TAKE OVER THE G.T.R. LINES

(Special to The Examiner.)

REGINA, Oct. 29. — Unless Saskatchewan is refunded every dollar paid in interest on the bonded indebtedness of the Grand Trunk Pacific branch lines secured under provincial guarantee the province will foreclose and take over the lines, is Premier Martin's reply to press reports quoting Hon. Arthur Meighen and Hon. J. D. Reid to the effect that the province would still remain liable on its bonds, despite the proposed Federal legislation to take over the Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific.

REORGANIZING THE 57TH BATTALION

Plans for the reorganization of the 57th Battalion were formed last evening at a large meeting of the officers of the old 57th, held in the Armories. After a discussion of general business and the appointment of new officers for the Battalion, the personnel of which will be announced later, a supper was held in the mess rooms. Colonel Joseph Mills was in charge of the meeting.

ASK DOCTORS TO HELP

Manitoba's Plan to Limit Prescriptions Not Workable Here.

Officials of the Ontario Licence Commission are doubtful of the practicability of the plan to be adopted in Manitoba, under which physicians will be permitted to prescribe liquor only for their regular patients. "Every patient must be a new one some time," observed W. E. Dingman, Vice-chairman of the Board. "And no doubt there have been a lot of new ones since the Manitoba Temperance Act came into force?"

"Yes, perhaps."

The Ontario License Commission have requested the co-operation of physicians in restricting the issuing of prescriptions, and have warned those believed to have issued too many, in a few cases resorting to more drastic measures, but they have not considered such a project as that adopted in Manitoba.

Don't Neglect Your Breakfast

The Fear of Indigestion Often Prompts One to Start the Day Wrong. Eat What You Like, Take a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet And You're Safe.

Breakfast offers many of the most savory dishes of all the things we eat. And yet more people than otherwise go without breakfast save a roll and cup of coffee for fear of indigestion. If you like a fried egg, or some buckwheat or sausage for breakfast go to it and follow with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. You'll have no trouble. The average person who neglects breakfast will be hungry before noon. Most men smoke to kill the appetite, or munch on something to carry on till lunch time. An empty stomach under these conditions is not storing up energy, but on the contrary, is susceptible to many influences that may work hardship for the next meal.

It is advisable to eat three good meals a day and digest them. If the stomach seems to be weak, to help it or give it assistance is the rational thing to do. Try a good breakfast and follow it with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and you'll soon learn that regularity of meals follows a natural tendency, not an acquired one. You will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale in almost all drug stores throughout the United States and Canada.

VANDERLIP'S JUDGMENT NOT QUITE ACCURATE

NEW YORK.—When Frank A. Vanderlip returned some months ago from Europe he was quoted as having said that Europe is in grave danger of bankruptcy and that upon the United States rests the responsibility of preventing disaster of that kind.

Recently, however, there have come authoritative reports from Europe which indicate that Mr. Vanderlip's judgment was not accurate. For it is now said that Europe is not bankrupt, and is in no danger of falling into a misfortune of that kind, although it will be necessary for the United States to aid the people of Europe in restoring their productive industries.

A leadin gauthority asserts that if the industries of Europe are restored and modernized and if the progress for the next twenty-five years is similar to the rate of progress between 1800 and the beginning of the European war, then the great debts which Europe owes will be very rapidly reduced. European nations will be able to pay their debts to the United States and never miss the wealth if they have time to build up their productive organizations.

STRIKE WILL TIE UP THE INDUSTRIES OF THE COUNTRY

(Special to Examiner.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 29. — Executives of the United Mine Workers of America met here to-day to take final action on President Wilson's appeal that the nation wide strike of the bituminous coal miners ordered for November 1st, be called off.

But with 60 hours only left before the time for stoppage of production of the nation's fuel supply, the meeting assumes the character of the most weighty one which has yet been held in connection with the miners' demands for the six hour day, five day week and 60 per cent. increase in wages.

Out of it will come the final word of the miners on the situation. Representatives of the coal miners in all parts of the country, were here to-day for while it was originally planned to hold only a meeting of the executive board of organization at this time.

In view of the demand of President Wilson last Saturday that the strike order be rescinded, Acting President John Le is broadened the scope of the conference.

A discontinuance of the production of coal would mote effectually tie up the industries of the country than would a strike of any other order of workers and any such action would cause untold suffering among millions of the country's inhabitants.

FORECASTS SERIOUS SCARCITY OF MEAT.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Oct 29.—Secretary McCurdy, of the Food Ministry, last night held out no hope for any great fall in food prices. He emphasized the necessity of food control, advocating its definite continuance over a number of years. Mr. McCurdy clearly indicated a very serious position regarding meat supply, declaring that there would not be enough meat in the world next year to feed even Europe alone.

CHURCH HAS THE CURE FOR TROUBLED WORLD

INTER-CHURCH FORWARD MOVEMENT, HOWEVER, NEEDED, DR. GANDIER TELLS BAPTISTS

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—A vigorous defence of Church ideals as "The very things that the world needs," was the theme of Principal Alfred Gandier, of Knox College, Toronto, in his address to the Baptist Convention yesterday on "The Forward Movement."

"Nothing less is needed," said Dr. Gandier, "than a change in human nature, a new heart and a right spirit in man; and that, Jesus only can give."

Need Organized Effort.

"The church professes to have and to give what the world needs. Have we really got it? Are we giving it? The inter-church forward movement is an organized effort on the part of the Protestant churches of Canada to meet this challenge. The forward movement is a call to penitence, to prayer and to personal consecration. It is a call for recruits and for a new sense of stewardship, in the use of money. It is a call to united effort.

"Men care less than ever for the things which divide the churches and more than ever for the things over which they are agreed," continued Dr. Gandier. "The allies had to give up their separate ambitions during the war and unite under one supreme command. The churches must do the same if they wish victory."

Rev. Dr. Patterson, Winnipeg, cautioned the convention to weigh carefully the importance of mission work among the ever-increasing foreign population of the West. He called the growth a menace. Dr. Whidden, Unionist M.P., for Brandon, and president of Brandon Baptist College, commended the work of the board, remarking that he himself, started his career in the West as a home mission pastor at a salary of $500 a year and a parsonage.

Delegates Joseph Wearing, Peterboro; Donald McIntyre, Ingersoll; A. P. McDonald, Brampton; and Rev. John MacNeill, Toronto, were appointed members of the Western Mission Board. The members of the Foreign Missions Board are: Mrs A. H. Ayers, J. N. Shenstone, A. A. Ayer, and Rev. E. T. Fox.

Try Making Your Own Cough Remedy

You can save about $1, and have a better remedy than the ready-made kind. Easily done.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and heals the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

The Transportation Outlook

Three tons have fallen from the average load of the Canadian freight car. Instead of carrying 27.4 tons, as in 1918, the average car is now carrying only 24.4 tons. This does not mean a decrease in the total volume of freight moving, but an increase in the number of cars required to handle a given tonage; an increase in the amount of tare-weight (weight of cars less freight) to be handled in each train; an increase in the number of engines required, the crews on duty, the coal consumption and the track-room occupied. The reserve margin of cars and engines is thus diminished and an unfavorable situation created alike for the railways and the shippers. To the latter, it may therefore be of interest to consider the following review of the transportation situation and the prospect for the approaching winter.

The cessation of hostilities in Europe with its profound effect upon industry on the North American continent, as elsewhere, has had corresponding influence upon the traffic movements and railway problems. The task of moving munitions of war eastward was quickly replaced by the task of moving returning soldiers westward. Following a lull in all domestic freight movement, new currents of traffic set in tending to approximate, in some degree, the old movements prior to the war. On the whole, however, up to the first of July last, the transportation situation became easy. Cars were plentiful. The necessity for loading them to full capacity became less apparent and, in spite of warnings from this Board, the average load dwindled seriously, as noted at the beginning of this article.

Conditions now, however, are not so satisfactory. In March and April, the usual movement of box-cars to the wheat-growing areas commenced in both the United States and Canada.

The shipper can protect himself by—

1—Loading all cars to full visible or carrying capacity.
2—Prompt loading and release of the carrier.
3—Ordering cars only when actually required.
4—Reducing the diversion and reconsignment of cars to a minimum.

The consignee can protect future deliveries by—

1—Prompt unloading of cars and notice thereof to the carrier.
2—Ordering goods in quantities representing the full safe carrying capacity of cars and disregarding trade units.
3—Ordering from the nearest available source.
4—Pooling orders so as to secure full carload.

Mr. Station Agent and Mr. Yardmaster

YOU can help cure this light loading evil—

YOU can raise the efficiency of your road—

BY seeing that shippers get, as nearly as possible, the best kind of car for their respective needs.

FOR INSTANCE:

A 40-ton car loaded with oats is a waste of car-capacity, engine-capacity, track-room, and crew-time. Oats are light and 40 tons cannot be packed into that car. Use the 40-ton car for wheat. Wheat in a lighter car is wasting, just as oats waste the capacity of a heavy one. So with furniture, fruit, lumber and machinery—whatever the freight!

TRY if at all possible, to give the shipper the kind of car that he can load to the greatest advantage to all concerned. It is important!

What helps the shipper load heavily, helps your road.

What helps your road, helps you!

"Gee-Whiz! How it Hurts—The Pain in My Foot!"

"Sometimes it is in my arm. Merciful Heaven, how my back hurts in the morning!" It's all due to an overabundance of that poison called uric acid. The kidneys are not able to get rid of it. Such conditions you can readily overcome, and prolong life by taking the advice of Dr. Pierce, which is "keep the kidneys in good order." "Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking Anuric." This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night, take heed, before too late. Get Anuric (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package.

PRODUCTION IS OUR BIG NEED

VICTORY LOAN THE BRIDGE OVER WHICH FARMERS DRIVE THEIR SURPLUS PROFITS TO EUROPEAN MARKETS.

M. Clemenceau in submitting the Peace Treaty to the French Chamber ,and Mr. Lloyd George in the British Parliament, warned their people of the fearful consequences that must attend failure to carry on production in as thorough-going a manner as in pre-war days.

These warnings apply with equal force to Canada as to France and Britain, but compared with these countries Canada is in a favorable position. Her debt abroad has not increased materially since the outbreak of the war; her chief products are foodstuffs, for which the demand continues great, while under the stress of war her machinery for their production has gained in efficiency.

The advantages of the position at present enjoyed by Canada must be maintained. Canada's big need is production. She must continue to keep her industrial machinery humming. While rebuilding of European States is in progress Canada should be ready to take advantage of her position by being prepared to extend credits to them for purchases of her surplus produce. This cannot be done unless her people continue to labor and to save.

One of the chief purposes of the new Victory Loan is to provide working capital to enable Canada to contue to give credits to Great Britain and other countries which are the chief markets for the surplus products of Canada's farms. In a word, the Victory Loan is a bridge over which the farmers of Canada drive their hogs, their cattle, their grain and all the surplus crops to the profitable European markets.

It is up to the Canadians, therefore, not only to invest to their utmost ability in Victory Bonds, but to use their influence among their neighbors to make the Loan an overwhelming success.

All Fat People Should Know This

Marmola Prescription Tablets can now be obtained at all drug stores or by writing direct to Marmola Co., 864 Woodward Ave, Detroit, Mich., and their reasonable price ($1. for a large case) leaves no excuse for dieting or violent exercise for the reduction of the overfat body to normal proportions.

DISPOSES OF A LEGEND

THERE WAS NO BATTLE OF CHATEAU THIERRY.

Frank H. Simonds, the Most Famous American War Correspondent, Says That the United States Army Did Not Save Paris and Win the War In a Battle That Never Was Fought.

IN a special despatch from Paris the most eminent of American war correspondents, Frank H. Simonds disposes of the legend that the Americans at "the battle of Chateau Thierry" rolled back the Huns, saved Paris, and won the war.

Mr. Simonds is the foremost American writer on the war, and he deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which he has handled this case, going into the facts thoroughly and setting them forth explicitly. In doing this he knows what a legend has been built up about the battle of Chateau Thierry all over the United States, and how painful it will be to his countrymen to have to abandon the fancy that in that fight the Americans "saved Paris" and rolled back the German host "After Everybody Failed." But Mr. Simonds decided that it was in the best interests of his country that the truth should be told. He visited the scene, he interviewed the various American officers engaged in that sector, and he sets forth the facts. After doing so he says there was really no "battle of Chateau Thierry" unless the name be applied to the whole operation between the Aisne and the Marne, since, except for the action of the machine gun detachment of the Third Division on June 1 of last year, no fighting took place in the immediate vicinity of Chateau Thierry itself. He adds:—

"When the Second and Third Divisions arrived on June 1 the great German advance was almost at an end. The victorious Germans had been advancing for six days. They had outrun their artillery and their supplies. The best proof that the advance was about at an end is found in the fact that the Americans were never attacked on the lines they took up, save as the Third Division participated in the general German offensive six weeks later.

"It is therefore inaccurate to assert that the intervention of the Second Division on the Chateau Thierry saved Paris, stopped the great German drive, or did more at the moment than to support and to relieve the exhausted French divisions and conceivably halt the Germans a mile or two short of the position they might have reached before they were compelled to abandon their advance."

The fighting of the Americans at Belleau Wood was, Mr. Simonds says, "brilliant, magnificent, but a highly localized affair in which the marines and the Ninth and Twenty-first infantry gave a splendid indication of the fighting qualities of our new troops." And he says: "The capture of Belleau Wood did not materially change the situation, nor did it supply a vantage point of any particular value in the later offensive." In concluding his article Mr. Simonds says:

"I have found in the United States a general notion that in some fashion or other the marines saved Paris in the June fighting, in the Belleau Wood engagement generally described as the battle of Chateau Thierry. This is, of course, an entire misconception of the size of the fight, the numbers engaged, as compared with Foch's great counter-stroke and the final battles along the line taken as a whole vast engagement."

In exploding this "legend" which sensational writers at home had built up about Chateau Thierry, in defiance of the facts as all Europe knows them, Mr. Simonds is doing his country a service. The Americans fought splendidly at every opportunity in the war; those who got into the fighting showed in every instance such qualities as made the presence on the side of the Allies of huge American forces a reserve power that the enemy recognized as an overwhelming menace. The Germans had adhered to the senseless theory that the Americans, having no experience, would not fight when the test came. Their experience with Canadians should have taught them something, but evidently it did not. When the test came the Americans proved to be hungry for all the fighting they could get within reach of. They ate it up.

But while this is true the legend about Chateau Thierry, about saving Paris, and rolling back Hindenburg's hordes "After Everybody Failed" is another matter. The legend was largely due to stay-at-home sensationalists, like Wesley O. Howard, Supreme Court judge, Third Judicial District of New York, who in the New York Herld rhapsodied in an article covering an entire page about a machine gun engagement in a local sector, as if it were the greatest battle in the history of the world.

Washington's Ancestral Home.

In aid of the restoration and endowment of the famous Sulgrave Manor, Washington's ancestral home in Northamptonshire, England, which has been purchased by a British committee, the Daily Telegram of London has launched a fund to collect $150,000. It is headed by Lord Burnham with a donation of $2,500. Other subscribers include the American Ambassador in London, chairman of the board of governors of the Manor House and the Marquis of Crewe. Sir Thomas Lipton has given $1,000, Joseph Duveen, $500; Col. Isaac N. Lewis, $500; Mrs. H. Fairfield Osborn of New York gives $100 and promises to present the famous House with a fine autograph letter of George Washington on its restoration. Contributions from New York total $3,000.

The historic home of the Washingtons is now the centre of the Sulgrave Institution, which has been formed in the United States and England for the promotion of international friendship and for the prevention of misunderstanding between the American and British peoples. It is a shrine of pilgrimage for many Americans during the tourist season and a rallying ground for all those who speak the English tongue.

Among those who have sent messages to London cordially supporting the plan of the Daily Telegraph are Cardinal Gibbons, who says "from the restoration will come not alone benefit to our respective nations, but also help and example to all mankind." There are also cabled messages from many other prominent and representative Americans and a special message from W. Lanier Washington, direct descendant of two brothers of George Washington and hereditary representative of George Washington's family, in the Society of the Cincinnati.

USED ORANGE PEEL INSTEAD OF COAL

Italy's Desperate Lack of Fuel for Munition-making.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Italy's lack of fuel was so desperate during the war that dried orange peels were burned under boilers to generate motive power in munition plants. This statement was made by Luigi Luiggi, Italian delegate to the International Trade Conference just concluded at Atlantic City, before the Clerical Conference of the New York Federation of Churches here to-day.

Only a third of the railroad equipment of Italy is in operation now, and most of the woods have been cut down to furnish fuel for that. Signor Luiggi said. A big part of the floors and other woodwork of Italy's fishing fleet of 1,500 vessels has been entirely wiped out, he continued, cutting off the fish complement of the food supply.

Canada Fights to Win

When Canada fought—Canada fought to win.

We are now in the midst of another campaign.

The Victory Loan is a campaign to raise money to pay the obligations that the war has left us, and to keep Canada prosperous.

The Victory Loan 1919 calls for vigorous individual and concerted action.

It is a national platform on which all citizens concerned in their country's prosperity and welfare can, without reservation, take a strong, emphatic stand.

The Victory Loan 1919 is the "clean-up" chapter in Canada's War History—it is needed to round out the most glorious of our achievements.

It is needed to "carry on" the National Business—to successfully bridge the period from War to Peace—and to speed our country along the highway of international commerce in successful competition with other great nations.

Your personal co-operation is imperative.

Your support is vital.

It is unthinkable that Canadians—united for years when things looked dark—would not, in the spirit of patriotism, unite in this last great war effort.

Let us show the world again that what Canada undertakes Canada accomplishes.

STEAMER SINKS; TWO LIVES LOST

GOES DOWN DURING GALE IN LAKE ONTARIO.

(Canadian Press.)

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 29.—The finding at daybreak to-day of two bodies on the shore of Lake Ontario, both wearing life preservers bearing the name of the steam barge Homer Warren, of Toronto, revealed the total loss of that vessel with her crew of eight.

The shore was strewn with wreckage.

The Homer Warren was in charge of Captain Scaller, of Toronto, and left Oswego, homeward-bound, yesterday morning with five hundred tons of coal.

She was last seen off Pultneyville, 35 miles east of here, at 11 a.m. yesterday while the gale was raging fiercely.

She is believed, therefore, to have gone down during the night.

The bodies have not been identified.

TORONTO, Oct. 29—At the offices of the Milne Coal Company, it was stated that the barge Homer Warren usually carried a crew of seven men, generally signed on at United States ports.

Nothing official concerning the wreck had reached the offices of the company up to 1.30 p.m.

Some of the Government's keenest critics are among the supporters of Coalition, including such staunch Unionists as Sir Edward Carson and Lord Robert Cecil.

THE LOAN TOTALS

Ontario Has Contributed Over 43 Millions.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Oct. 29.—The Victory Loan totals for the Dominion up to 11 this morning were reported as aggregating between sixty-seven and sixty-eight million dollars. Of this, Ontario has contributed forty-three millions. The large contributions through social subscriptions come, such as C.P.R., twenty millions, are not included in the above amounts. Saskatchewan and Quebec have not yet reported.

WERNER HORNE FOUND GUILTY

Canadian Press:

FREDERICTON, N.B., Oct. 29.—Werner Horn was found guilty to-day on the charge that he dynamited the Canadian end of the international bridge at St. Croix, N.B., on Feb. 2, 1915. The jury was out only thirteen minutes. Horn, in conducting his own defence, said he was a German officer, and was acting under orders of the German Government in war time.

C. Follis, an employee of the Henry Hope, did not appear in court, but pleaded guilty by hand to a charge of speeding on Albert street. Residents of that street complained of his speed trials, which occurred every day at noon. A plain clothes man was detailed, with the result that Mr. Follis paid $18.10.

CHAMBERLAIN IS VERY OPTIMISTIC

BRITISH GOVERNMENT IS BETTER FINANCIALLY.

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 29.—Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, speaking in the Commons on the financial situation on which the Government is asking for a vote of confidence, said that there was every reason for caution, economy, and wise husbandry of resources, but none for panic. He hoped that the House would not confuse hysteria with strength, and announced that the position of the Government "was distinctly better than had been anticipated in August."

WEDDING BELLS

DAVIS—STEVENSON.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stevenson, Lakehurst, was the scene of a pretty wedding, on Wednesday, Oct. 15th, when their daughter, Martha, was united in marriage to Richard Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Davis, Emily. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about seventy guests by the Rev. Mr. Scott, assisted by the Rev. Mr. James, both of Omemee. The bride was given away by her father and at six o'clock entered the parlour to the strains of the wedding march, beautifully rendered by Miss D. Pearson, and took her position with the groom under an arch of ferns and bridal roses. The couple were unattended.

The bride looked charming in her dress of white satin and Georgette, trimmed with chenille and pearls. She also wore the bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms, carrying a sheaf of white roses and carnations. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful necklace, and to Miss Pearson a suitable cheque.

After the ceremony and congratulations the bridal party led the way to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served. The home was beautifully decorated with asters and autumn foliage. The guests from a distance wre: Mr. and Mrs. James Watts, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Crothers, Oshawa; Rev. Mr. Scott and Rev. Mr. James, Omemee. Many useful and beautiful presents were received by the bride, testifying the high esteem in which the young couple were held.

After an enjoyable evening the happy couple left amid showers of confetti and good wishes for their home in Emily, the bride wearing a travelling suit of seal brown, tricotine, with hat to match, and mink neck scarf.

FLOOD—HICKEY.

St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, was the scene of a quiet wedding on October 21, when Estella, youngest daughter of Mr. Thos. Hickey, Emily, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Harold Flood, Ennismore, by the Rev. J. V. McCauley. The bride, who was prettily attired in a suit of brown broadcloth, was assisted by her cousin, Miss Lorine Archambault, Peterboro, while the groom was supported by his brother Hubert.

Mr and Mrs. Flood will reside in Ennismore.

OBITUARY

The death occurred in South-end-on-Sea, Essex, Eng., of Mr. Robert Clark, in his sixty-third year. Mr. Clark had been a sufferer for some time from heart trouble. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his sorrowing wife, one daughter, Mrs. H. G. Bollen, London, Eng.; also two sons, Capt. R. C. Clark, France, and Charles E. Clark, Downie street, city.

CAPT. HAROLD ASHLEY.

The death took place (suddenly) in St Andrew's Military Hospital, Rosedale, Toronto, on October 21st, of Captain Harold Ashley McComb in his 30th year.

Mrs. Hone of Landon, formerly of Peterboro, is a sister of Capt. McComb.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

In an account of Mrss Ami's reception held in honor of her daughter, Miss Marguerite Ami, who is one of the season's debutantes in Ottawa, and of Lady Bourinot, her guest, the Ottawa Journal says: Miss Nora Hatton, Peterboro, who is visiting Miss Winifred Orde, was amongst those present.

Mrs. W. T. Holloway, Nova Scotia Apartments A, will receive for the first time on Friday, October 31st, from three-thirty to six-thirty and afterwards on the third Friday in each month.

Mrs. R. J. Hutchison of Huntsville is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. T. Holloway, and will receive with her on Friday next.

IN MEMORIAM.

FLINDALL.—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Mrs. Flindall, who died on October 30, 1918.

Earthly home, adieu, adieu,
Earthly friends, farewell to you;
Softly breathe my last good-bye,
Jesus calls me, let me die.
Hallelujah, Christ has come.
Hallelujah, I'm most home;
Friends and loved ones, weep no more,
Meet me on the other shore.
Hark, I hear the angels sing,
Heavenly harp is on the wing;
There my mansion bright I see,
There the angels wait for me;
There's no sorrow, pain or fear,
There's no parting farewell tear,
There's no cloud, no darkness there,
All is bright and clear and fair.

"HOW DOES IT FEEL, MR. DRURY?"

"NOT SO FAST," REPLIES LEADER OF THE U.F.O. AND LABOUR COALITION—A PEN PICTURE OF THE COMING PREMIER.

TORONTO, October 30.—"How does it feel to be Premier of Ontario?" That was the question put to E. C. Drury last night, an hour or two after he had been selected as head of the Farmer-Labour Coalition.

"Not so fast," replied Mr. Drury smilingly. "The programme has yet to be finally approved of by the delegates outside this room, and then we have to be called upon by the Lieutenant-Governor to form a ministry. Unless something intervenes, I expect to get the early morning train back home. I can think best when I am ploughing, and there is a lot to turn over in my mind; and then there are family arrangements I will have to make."

Mr. Drury has a farm of 250 acres. He has five children—three boys and two girls, and his eldest boy is only thirteen. That means that Mr. Drury will have to depend on hired help to run the farm. It has been one hundred years in the family, and he would not part with it under any consideration. He does not even expect to move his family to Toronto to live.

"We are pretty well anchored to our home," he observed. "Mrs. Drury and I have discussed the matter from every angle, and we have decided the children will stay north, unless possibly for a month or so in the winter."

Mr. Drury's manner was natural, unassuming, with no suspicion of arrogance or "side." He frankly appreciated congratulations and expressions of goodwill.

The Premier-to-be is a tall, broad-shouldered, broad-headed man, with a tenacious jaw, clean-shaven face, brown eyes, and black hair, becoming thin except on the sides. He wore a neat grey suit, while his hands show signs of honest toil. He bears no resemblance to the usual be-whiskered caricature of the Ontario farmer. His manner suggested earnestness and sincerity, and a deep sense of the responsibility about to be imposed upon him. He had been so busy he had not left the U. F. O. offices for supper, but had snatched a lunch inside.

The Baptists Emerge From Debate Without Injuring Doctrine

OLD BAPTIST DOCTRINES WERE UNANIMOUSLY REAFFIRMED—HARMONY PREVAILED AT YESTERDAY'S DEBATE.

Special to the Examiner:

OTTAWA, Oct. 30. — Harmony again reigns in the ranks of the Baptists of Ontario and Quebec. They have had their widely advertised "debate" on the subject of the inspiration and authority of the Scriptures, and their confidence is more united to all appearances than ever, but the debate that took place in the convention hall yesterday was not the denomination-splitting debate that was expected, for it never, in the four and a half hours of its duration, was more than one-sided on the main question. Not one of the delegates expressed an unorthodox view. In the resolution proposed by Rev. Dr. T. T. Shields, and passed without a dissenting voice, the old Baptist doctrines of "the divine inspiration of the Old and New Testaments, and their absolute supremacy and sufficiency in matters of faith and practice," and also that "the Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were given by the inspiration of God and are the only sufficient certain and authoritative rule of saving knowledge, faith and obedience, were unanimously re-affirmed."

H. J. ZACKS SELLING OUT

$25,000.00 STOCK OF NEW LADIES' WEAR TO BE CLOSED OUT AT COST, OR AWAY BELOW.

The big outstanding feature of the business season in Peterborough is the selling out announcement of H. J. Zacks, which means the throwing on the market of his $25,000 stock of new and up-to-the-minute Ladies' Wear for immediate clearance. Mr. Zacks in his twelve years of business has had occasion to put on extensive sales, and the public have long remembered these events, as the most pronounced money-saving sales of the year in which they occurred. Now, however, Mr. Zacks is leaving the city, and is going to give the people of this district one last, and greatest of all, his sales, an opportunity both for him to show how sweeping he can make his price reductions and the thrifty buyers to show their appreciation by taking advantage of the big chance while it is theirs.

Mr. Zacks is entirely cleaning up his Peterborough business, as he has become interested in another proposition in New York, consequently there is absolutely no reservation to this sale, and his one anxiety is to sell and sell quickly, leaving him free to move at as early a date as possible.

What this really means can only be understood by carefully reading his bargain list over, and a visit to the store, where it is easy to see the wonderful values that are being offered.

The place is easily form by locating the big selling out sign over the door, nearly opposite the Examiner.

TEXT OF THE NOTE SENT TO GERMANS

GERMANY INVITED TO PARTICIPATE IN BLOCKADE OF BOLSHEVIST RUSSIA.

(Canadian Press.)

PARIS, Oct. 30. — The text of the note sent by Marshal Foch to the German government, inviting Germany to participate in the blockade of Bolshevist Russia, is similar to that sent to the neutral states.

The note follows:

"The president of the Peace conference has been requested by the peace conference to inform the neutral governments of the decision taken by the Supreme Council of the allied and the associated powers in regard to economic pressure which is to be executed on Bolshevist Russia. The German Government is asked to take measures similar to those indicated.

The avowed hostility of the Bolshevists toward all governments and their international programme of revolution which they are now spreading abroad, constitute a grave danger for the national security of all the powers.

Every increase of strength of the Bolshevists would increase the danger and would be contrary to the desire of all peoples who are seeking to establish peace and social order."

SIGN PROCOTOL.

United Press.

PARIS, Oct. 30. — The Supreme Council to-day decided to force Germany to sign a procotol guaranteeing that she will carry out the terms of the armistice. This will be attached to the original treaty as soon as it can be executed.

NOTED EVANGELIST WAS KNOWN HERE

NEW YORK—Oct. 30.—The Rev. Albert B. Simpson, pastor of the Gospel Tabernacle, 692 Eigth Avenue, and one of the leading evangelists and executives in foreign missionary work, died yesterday at his home at Nyack, N.Y., aged 75 years.

Born in Canada and educated in a Toronto college, Mr. Simpson was ordained in the Presbyterian ministry in 1865 and came here in 1881. Six years later he founded the Christian Alliance, combined afterwards with the International Missionary Alliance, of which he was President until his death. In addition to sending out hundreds of foreign missionaries he conducted a vast amount of relief work among the poor.

There was almost no end to Mr. Simpson's religious activities. Among the many books he wrot were "The Gospel of the Kingdom," "Christ in the Bible," and "The Cross of Jesus."

The late Mr. Simpson has on different occasions preached in Bethany Tabernacle and also in some of the other city churches. Of late he has been in failing health, and his end was not unexpected. Paul Rader, the well-known evangelist, will likely take the place of the work acquired by Mr. Simpson.

LABOUR SATISFIED WITH E. C. DRURY

NOW WAITING FOR HEARST TO MOVE OUT AND LET NEW PARTY IN.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—E. C. Drury, leader of the U.F.O. and Labor coalition and prospective Premier of Ontario, left the Provincial capital today for his farm near Barrie, Ont., without making announcement of his selections for the new Cabinet, although it has been intimated that the men are already picked. Mr. Drury said the coalition would await the call of the Lt-Governor to take over the government. He had so far no communication with Sir John Hendrie or any one representing the present government in regard to the matter.

In an interview this morning Drury affirmed his position that he must have the final say in the choice of the members of the Ontario Cabinet. It was this stand apparently, taken early in last night's U.F.O. and Labor conference, which caused the defection of Mayor McBride of Brantford, Labor member elect for South Brant. In another statement issued this morning by James Simpson, on behalf of the other Labor candidates, successful and otherwise, it is declared that the Labor group considers that Mr. Drury was exceedingly fair with Labor.

Now that coalition has selected a leader, it is expected that an announcement may come any time from the Hearst government of its intention to immediately resign and ask the Lieut.-Governor to call on the new leader to form a government.

MACHINE GUN FOR LAKEFIELD

LAKEFIELD'S "400" WILL BE PROTECTED AGAINST INVASION.

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 30.—Captain J. M. Bygott received this week a German machine gun of the 1918 design. It is an air-cooled machine, and evidently one of their latest models. Captain Bygott may well be proud of his trophy.

Boulton-Darling.

A quiet wedding was celebrated in St. John's Church on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Bella Darling, daughter of Mr. Frank Darling, of Dummer, was united in marriage to Mr. Norman Boulton, lately returned from overseas, and son of Mr. Fred. Boulton, of Burleigh. They were attended by Miss Chloe Boulton and Mr. Alf. Boulton. Rev. Dr. Archibold, Rector of the church, officiated. The happy couple will reside in Burleigh.

Personals.

Miss Hattie Curtain, of New Liskeard, Ont., was in the village this week visiting friends.

Mr. Jack Curtain, of Peterborough, was a visitor this week in Lakefield.

Mrs. Robbins, of Pittsburg, went through the village on Tuesday to occupy her cottage at Jack's Lake, after an absence of three years.

Mr. R. C. Strickland, of the Eel's Creek Ranch, was in the village this week.

RETURNED SOLDIERS

There are now many government railways in Canada and as returned soldiers with a knowledge of the work will get preference for positions, any of them entitled to vocational training can qualify in six months at Mr. Paton's Railway School in Lindsay. The course includes telegraphy, freight and passenger work. It pays better wages than any other line of business in Canada. Write Mr. Paton for particulars. Address A. M. Paton, National School of Railway Instruction and Telegraphy. 141w

Mayor McBride Bolts From the Conference

POLE HORSE OF THE LABOUR PARTY LOOPS THE LOOP AT THE FINAL CONFERENCE OF THE U.F.O. AND LABOUR.

TWO STATEMENTS

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—After taking part in the deliberations of the party on Saturday and again yesterday without evidence of any difference of opinion, and, on the contrary, showing every desire to cement the coalition, Mayor M. M. MacBride, of Brantford, successful candidate of the Labour Party in South Brant, last night bolted the final conference of the U. F. O. and Labour Party.

The conference was discussing the Cabinet positions, when the Mayor, without a word of explanation, according to the Labour members, picked up his hat and coat and left the room.

The U. F. O. Complaint.

"We were straightening out the matter when Mr. MacBride decided to leave," said a U. F. O. member. "A man who does a thing like that does more injury to his cause than good."

Labour Party members and representatives were not downhearted at the defection. In fact, in discussing it after the conference, they stated that it would not affect the coalition in the slightest manner.

"Don't worry, the new Leader has a good working majority," said one of their number, who declared that both sections of the meeting laughed at Mayor MacBride's action. "It is just as well it occurred when it did."

To Reply To Him.

James Simpson, of Toronto, and Walter Rollo, of Hamilton, were detailed by the meeting to reply to any statement which Mayor MacBride might make. They refused to tell anything of the reasons which led to Mr. MacBride's action, but said that the Labour Party was prepared to take care of the interests of the party if it were attacked.

The Labour group also thought that perhaps the confirmation of Walter Rollo of Hamilton in his position as Leader had some bearing upon the decision of Mayor MacBride. They thought it over, to carry along with Mr. Rollo in the formation of the coalition and then desert him at the last moment. Mayor MacBride was the other member of the Labour Party committee which conferred with the U. F. O. committee to reach a programme satisfactory to both parties.

Mr. MacBride's Statement.

Mr. MacBride last night made the following statement:

"At Hamilton on Saturday last I was chosen as one of Labour's representatives to confer with the U.F.O. Committee of Nine, looking toward a co-operative effort on the part of the U.F.O. and the I.L.P. to form a Government. From the outset I took the ground that every honest endeavour should be given to effect a as time progressed I felt that the U. F. O. were not meeting us in the same spirit. However, I realised the position in which the Province was placed because of the peculiar circumstances arising out of the election of four separate groups, none of which are numerically strong enough to form a Government, and I therefore determined that we should not quibble over any points upon which our platforms might differ, but that it should be a truly 'get together' effort to give an honest, progressive Administration.

"The Joint Committee met twice on Tuesday, and at the evening session we unanimously agreed to submit our reports to the Labour and Farmer groups separately this morning, after which we were to meet in joint session. In this arrangement Labour kept the faith, but it appears that no report was presented to the Farmer group until this evening's session, and the Labour members were asked to 'step into the side room while it was being considered.' This procedure appeared strange to me, in view of our pledges to present the reports this morning.

"However, I determined to await developments, and they were not long in coming. First, we were informed that Mr. Drury had been elected Leader. Then Mr. Rollo and one or two others spoke. Mr. Rollo making a statement to the effect that in future he hoped it would not be two parties, but one party. I was asked to speak, and used these words: 'We have entered into the effort of co-operation in a broad, frank manner, and if the Farmers and Labour cannot co-operate it will be the fault of the Farmers, not the fault of Labour. We expect that you will meet us as we have met you, without quibbling.'

Mr. Drury's Stand.

"Then Mr. Drury took the floor to make his address, and while he 'talked' of co-operation and democracy he negatived his own utterances in toto when he insisted that he as Premier should choose Labour's other representative in the Government.

"We had agreed upon Mr. Rollo as Minister of Labour, and all we asked the U. F. O. to do was to name the other portfolio to be allotted to Labour and then let Labour choose its man. When Mr. Drury took this at-

GERMANS ON WAY TO UNITED STATES

United Press:

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The admission of the German and Austrian delegates was expected to precipitate a fight when the International Labour Conference resumed session late to-day. The German delegation is not entitled to be seated at the conference under the rules provided in the Peace Treaty, since Germany is not yet a member of the League of Nations. The delegation embarked at Rotterdam in the hope that the conference would change the rules. The Germans are due to land Sunday. They are travelling on passports vised for admission to the United States by this Government. Those backing the movement to seat them now say the purpose of the conference will be defeated unless Germany has a share in framing the recommendations for uniform world industrial legislation.

REGARDS DRURY AS A GOOD SELECTION

OPINION OF HON. GEORGE LANGLEY, WHO IS ASSOCIATED WITH FARMING INDUSTRY.

Special to the Examiner:

REGINA, Oct. 30.—Commenting on the selection of E. C. Drury as the leader of the U.F.O. in the Ontario Legislature, Hon. Geo. Langley, vice-president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company, who attends meetings of the Canadian Council of Agriculture as representative of that company, made the following statement:

"Mr. Drury is not unknown in the west, having been in attendance at more than one Grain Growers' Convention. He is an excellent speaker and well read and with good education. Among all the men who are taking part in the farmers' movement in Ontario, he is probably the most capable as a Parliamentary leader. He is, however, above and beyond everything else, a man of the soil, but the leader of the farmers' movement in Ontario to-day must have both courage and restraint. Mr. Drury certainly does not lack in courage. He will be prepared to lead his politicians now elected, and by so doing will consolidate the voters who have placed his party in its present position. It will be equally necessary that he should exercise restraint. The capitalist classes, which up till now have been the backbone of both the Conservative and Liberal parties, may be trusted to conserve their forces in the sense that their privileges are threatened. We are evidently on the eve of a great experiment in eastern government, and the forces which have by recent election been brought into existence contain nothing that need be afraid by those who believe that justice should be the ruling element of Canadian politics. The first test which the party has taken by the selection of Mr. Drury as leader will be satisfactory to the farmers' movement all over the Dominion."

YEAR AGO TO-DAY

Oct. 30. — $175,800 is total of first two days of Peterboro's Victory Loan Campaign.

Provincial Board of Health prohibits all Hallowe'en parties on account of the epidemic.

Mayor Duncan, chairman, W. Buller, of the Board of Health, and Dr. Amys, M.O.H., are appointed a Board of Governors for the Emergency Hospital.

WHERE ARE MY READING GLASSES?

You often hear that question asked by persons who wear two separate pairs of glasses. They probably have never heard of our Kryptok lenses, the two vision lenses with the reading portion invisible.

There is no line or crack to make them look unsightly. They are wonderfully convenient for everything and cost less than two separate pairs. Specify Kryptok when you consult W. H. Lucas Optical Specialist, George street. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

MAYOR MCBRIDE BOLTS FROM ETC.

titude it was quite evident to me that there was at least a touch of autocracy showing itself. I told him quite frankly from the floor that so far as I was concerned, I would not be a party to Labour sitting on his or any other party Leader's doorstep. We were there to insist upon the same privilege for the two Labour seats as the Farmers had taken unto themselves in naming him as Premier.

"In my judgment the Farmers 'broke faith' with Labor to-day. First, when they held back their report from their morning caucus, and second, when Mr. Drury assumed to be more qualified to select a Labor man than the members of the I. L. P., who had been awaiting their pleasure all day.

"I have no desire to prevent in any way a real co-operative effort, but I am only the servant of the people of Brantford, and while others may do as they choose, I will always try to remember that it is my duty to represent the people who elected me, and I am quite sure they would not sanction my delegating to Mr. Drury, or any other individual (whether momentarily or permanently exalted), the privilege of saying who Labor's representative in the Cabinet might be.

"That is a matter that only Labor can deal with intelligently, and my other procedure is giving the negative absolutely to every plank on any democratic platform. I left the meeting because the real spirit of co-operation vanished with Mr. Drury's demand that he be allowed to be Labor's dictator. I shall take my seat in the Legislature as an Independent Labor man, and will continue to do my duty by the people who elected me, without fear or favor."

Mr. Simpson Explains.

Mr. James Simpson, who was deputed to reply to Mayor MacBride of Brantford if the Mayor should desire to publicly discuss his differences, issued the following statement last night:

"You can say that in every matter, with the exception of the naming of the second portfolio for Labor, Mayor MacBride was in perfect agreement with the U. F. O., and that it was only when Mr. Drury asked the Labor group to give him reasonable time to determine which portfolio other than Labor should go to the Labor group that Mayor MacBride departed from the attitude which the remainder of the Labor group were prepared to assume.

"The Labor group was unanimous in a matter of that kind that Mr. Rollo should express the attitude of the group, but Mayor MacBride departed from the understanding that Mr. Rollo should declare the position of the group. When Mayor MacBride declared to the U. F. O. that Mr. Drury would have to state the second portfolio which Labor would receive or he would sever his connection with the alliance he was speaking for himself, and not carrying out the spirit of the understanding which the Labor group had.

Says It Was Undue Haste.

"It was clearly understood that it might be several days before they knew the second portfolio to Labor. The Labor group was quite prepared to reconvene to appoint the second man for the Labor portfolio. It was the opinion of the Labor group that Mr. Drury was asking nothing more than what was reasonable in giving him time to think over the situation before he decided, which would be the second portfolio. In declaring that the Labor group would give Mr. Drury time to think over the matter Mr. Rollo was supported by every representative of Labor at the conference with the exception of Mayor MacBride. In the judgment of the Labor group Mayor MacBride showed undue haste in demanding that the second portfolio be named by Mr. Drury last night.

"Following Mayor MacBride's departure from the conference the Labor group met and endorsed the action of Mr. Rollo, expressing regret that Mayor MacBride had acted in the manner in which he did. The Labor group passed a unanimous resolution endorsing Mr. Drury as Leader and commending his action with reference to the naming of the second portfolio other than Labor."

UNIQUE WEDDINGS IN OLD ENGLAND

NOISY "COWBOY WEDDING"—NEW ZEALAND COUPLE TRAVELLED 13,000 MILES TO BE MARRIED WHERE BRIDE'S PARENTS WERE MARRIED

A couple were married not far from London the other day, who a few weeks previously had had a "flip" at Hendon together, says Answers. They enjoyed their first aerial trip so much that they booked the aviator to take them on their honeymoon then and there. The machine in which they departed on their wedding trip of two hundred miles was a limousine, and the cabin in which the happy pair were seated tandem fashion—the only drawback—was decorated with a bouquet of roses.

It was two-thirty when the machine left the shadow of the church. Luggage was stored in the back of the machine; the lady had a book to read, although it is not on record whether she read it or not. The machine arrived at Fowey at seven-thirty, stopping at Bournemouth and Plymouth en route. The actual flying time was two hours and thirty-five minutes.

Coal-Pit Honeymoon.

A honeymoon down a coal pit sounds weird and dark but that at least, was the first trip made by bride and groom after the church ceremony. The bridegroom was a coal pit manager, and his new wife had never been down a coal pit or even seen one till the welding day. At her own request they went from the church, donned suitable attire, stepped into the cage, and were taken to the bottom of the shaft, where they had a rousing reception from miners armed with pick and shovel.

At one of the Canadian camps there was a cawboy wedding lately, and enough cowboy gear—radiant shirts and neckwear, with the inevitable sheepskin "trews," not to mention the six-shooters—could be found to rig out an escorting band which would not have disgraced the Wild West. After the ceremony the cowboys, who were all suitably mounted on untamable buckskin mustangs and bronchos, gave vent to a fearsome yell, and wildly escorted the happy pair to the train, firing salvos all the way. It was sail to be the noisiest wedding on record.

A thirteen-thousand mile honeymoon is a pretty long one, but a good many happy brides are having it now in returning to Australia with their colonial husbands. Yet this is not new. Before the war a couple both hailing from Auckland, New Zealand, came to a little village church in Cumberland to be married. It was the church where the bride's parents had been married just twenty-five years before. The couple had come thirteen thousand miles to be married in that church, and they set off on their honeymoon back to Auckland.

Lord Reading is nothing if not original. His honeymoon was quite unique. He told his friends that after being called to the bar he was to be married and spend his honeymoon in Spain. That sounded extravagant for a budding barrister, probably not over-burdened with pocket money. But he was business-like even then, and it was found out later that a certain firm of solicitors had given him as a wedding present a commission to take evidence in Madrid. So he took his wife with him, and combined business and pleasure.

A young professor of physical culture married a beautiful and athletic pupil of his in the suburbs of Paris. The couple appeared before the mayor in tennis costume, and after the ceremony the wedding party sat down to breakfast on the banks of the Seine. Hardly was the coffee finished than on a given signal, the whole party retired, and reappeared in bathing costume. Fancy the hardihood of a swim after wedding cake! Later the couple started on a bicycle tour for a honeymoon.

A demobilized man had a honeymoon brain-wave the other week during the hot weather. He arranged to spend his honeymoon under canvas, just to let his new wife see how nice it was. They had a perfectly "dry" time, and the young wife thinks she would like to live under canvas always—instead of returning to a house where rooms need cleaning and windows washing. She says a tent saves labor. But, then, her honeymoon was in summer, and there is the winter to face. Her hubby said: "It's all right, my love, but stop till it snows!"

INFLAMED GUMS— THE CAUSE OF TOOTH-BASE DECAY

Just as the strength of a building is dependent upon its foundations, so are healthy teeth dependent upon healthy gums.

Permit the gums to become inflamed or tender and you weaken the foundation of the teeth. This condition is called Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease). Loosening of teeth is a direct result. And spongy, receding gums invite painful tooth-base decay. They act, too, as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting the joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) attacks four out of five people who are over forty. And many under that age, also. Its first symptom is tender gums. So you should look to your gums! Use Forhan's, which positively prevents Pyorrhea if used in time and used consistently. It also scientifically cleans the teeth—keeps them white and clean. Brush your teeth with it.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

NOW WE'EL HAVE VICTORY COINS

The suggestion that a new victory coinage shall be introduced in order to celebrate peace, has plenty of precedents to back it. Britain's earliest Naval victory, that of Sluys, won in 1340, was commemorated by King Edward III. by the introduction of an entirely new gold coin, the "noble," bearing a representation of a war galley.

Queen Anne also had a victory coin struck from the silver taken from the Spaniards at Vigo; and Napoleon, after he had overrun all Europe, when at the zenith of his power, introduced an entirely new French coinage in celebration of his successes.

Then, too, there is the precedent of the design of our now vanished sovereign, with St. George slaying the Dragon. This was first coined in 1816 in the memory of the victory of Waterloo. It was afterwards, however, superseded by the long-familiar shield device, to be eventually resuscitated in 1871.

The St. George and Dragon sovereign, by the way, is merely a rough copy, so far as the design is concerned, of yet another English victory coin, the gold angel of Edward IV. This was coined by him in 1465 to celebrate his success over his enemies the Lancastrians, in the Wars of the Roses, and it derived its name from the fact that the figure of the horseman on it was intended to represent St. Michael.

THREE AUTOGRAPHS OF PRINCE STOLEN FROM THEIR PROUD OWNERS

KINGSTON, Oct. 29.—In the vestry at St. George's Cathedral on Sunday the Prince signed the register, and at the same time placed his autograph on two copies of the Royal Military College program for Dean Starr. The Dean had hardly time to turn around when some person appropriated both of the programs. Mayor Newman had a similar experience; the Prince presented him with his portrait bearing his signature at dinner on Saturday evening. The mayor laid it on a table for an instant and it disappeared.

ST. PAUL WOMAN AFTER SUFFERING 32 YEARS GAINS 14 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

"I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac but they have entirely stopped my thirty-two years of suffering and almost made a new woman out of me," said Mrs. Julius Hoanhauss, of 469 Clinton Ave., St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"For thirty-two years I suffered from stomach trouble and chronic indigestion," she continued, "and at times even the pressure of my clothes against my stomach would hurt me. I had to be very careful about what I ate and even then it was hard for me to retain anything on my stomach and sometimes I was so nauseated I would have to give up and go to bed before I could get relief. I suffered no end of misery from gas, and many and many a night I slept hardly a wink because of the pains in my stomach. For months at a time I was off in weight as much as ten pounds and if I gained it back I didn't gain in strength but felt as weak and draggy as ever, if not more so. I spent hundreds of dollars and used all kinds of medicines but got no relief, and I was beginning to think I would have to go on through life and never get rid of my old troubles.

"But a good friend of mine who knew what I had gone through heard about Tanlac and suggested that I try it, and today I feel thankful to that friend and even more thankful to Tanlac for I can honestly say it is the best medicine I have ever taken. My stomach is in fine condition now and no matter what I eat it digests and I don't suffer any more after eating. I'm gaining in weight and strength right along, in fact, I've gained fourteen pounds already and weigh more than I ever did in my life. I sleep fine every night and I've gone back to doing all my housework by myself and I don't feel a bit overtired after I get through, either. Since I've taken Tanlac and it has helped me so wonderfully I understand why so many people are coming out and saying it is the finest thing they have ever seen."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by J. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Coutts, in West [illegible] by C. Pr[illegible] & Son.

POLICE DID WORK GOVERNMENT GOT FINES

When the report of the Police Department for September was being considered by the Lindsay Council Deputy-Reeve O'Reilly drew the members' attention to two items, Inspector Broddy for Ontario Government," and "Dairy Act," $25. The former had to do with the arrest by Lindsay police of a number of gamblers at the Fair Grounds during the fair. A fine of $100 was imposed and although the local police did the work, Inspector Broddy coralled the fine.

The other item referred to a charge laid by Dairy Inspector Cameron. This fine also went to the Government.

Deputy Reeve O'Reilly characterized this as unfair to the municipality.

THREE AUTOGRAPHS OF PRINCE STOLEN FROM THEIR PROUD OWNERS

KINGSTON, Oct. 29.—In the vestry at St. George's Cathedral on Sunday the Prince signed the register, and at the same time placed his autograph on two copies of the Royal Military College program for Dean Starr. The Dean had hardly time to turn around when some person appropriated both of the programs. Mayor Newman had a similar experience; the Prince presented him with his portrait bearing his signature at dinner on Saturday evening. The mayor laid it on a table for an instant and it disappeared.

ST. PAUL WOMAN AFTER SUFFERING 32 YEARS GAINS 14 POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

"I have only taken two bottles of Tanlac but they have entirely stopped my thirty-two years of suffering and almost made a new woman out of me," said Mrs. Julius Hoanhaus, of 469 Clinton Ave., St. Paul, Minn., recently.

"For thirty-two years I suffered from stomach trouble and chronic indigestion," she continued, "and at times even the pressure of my clothes against my stomach would hurt me. I had to be very careful about what I ate and even then it was hard for me to retain anything on my stomach and sometimes I was so nauseated I would have to give up and go to bed before I could get relief. I suffered no end of misery from gas, and many and many a night I slept hardly a wink because of the pains in my stomach. For months at a time I was off in weight as much as ten pounds and if I gained it back I didn't gain in strength but felt as weak and draggy as ever, if not more so. I spent hundreds of dollars and used all kinds of medicines but got no relief, and I was beginning to think I would have to go on through life and never get rid of my old troubles.

"But a good friend of mine who knew what I had gone through heard about Tanlac and suggested that I try it, and today I feel thankful to that friend and even more thankful to Tanlac for I can honestly say it is the best medicine I have ever taken. My stomach is in fine condition now and no matter what I eat it digests and I don't suffer any more after eating. I'm gaining in weight and strength right along, in fact, I've gained fourteen pounds already and weigh more than I ever did in my life. I sleep fine every night and I've gone back to doing all my housework by myself and I don't feel a bit overtired after I get through, either. Since I've taken Tanlac and it has helped me so wonderfully I understand why so many people are coming out and saying it is the finest thing they have ever seen."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by J. C. Deake, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. E. Crum, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

POLICE DID WORK GOVERNMENT GOT FINES

When the report of the Police Department for September was being considered by the Lindsay Council Deputy-Reeve O'Reilly drew the members' attention to two items, Inspector Broddy for Ontario Government," and "Dairy Act," $25. The former had to do with the arrest by Lindsay police of a number of gamblers at the Fair Grounds during the fair. A fine of $100 was imposed and although the local police did the work, Inspector Broddy coralled the fine.

The other item referred to a charge laid by Dairy Inspector Cameron. This fine also went to the Government.

Deputy Reeve O'Reilly characterized this as unfair to the municipality.

EVERYBODY'S LOAN.

The Victory Loan is a democratic institution. It is like the Irishman's fight—and everybody is welcome to get in on it.

CHRISTMAS SHOPPING.

A Victory Bond is a sane, acceptable Christmas gift. Shop early.

RIGHT FOR ONCE.

Mr. Burnham says that he does not expect to return to Parliament. On that point anyway he is in touch with the sentiment of his constituency.

BACK TO THE MOTH BALLS.

The eagerly awaited spectacel of the city council wearing silk hats fades away with the announcement that the Prince is not coming to Peterboro.

AN IMPOSSIBILITY.

"Virtuous man" in seven reels read the advertisement at a local theatre the other day. But can a man reel so often and still deserve the title "virtuous?"

MORE APPROPRIATE.

"Wait Till the Clouds Roll By" is the favorite song of the Unionists at Ottawa but "Where do we go from here" would be a more appropriate ditty.

QUEER REASONING.

The Mail and Empire says the conduct of Ontario's affairs under the next government ought to be on the line of the Hearst Government policy. Does the Mail look upon the result of the Ontario election as a vote of confidence in the Hearst policies?

OVERDOING IT.

The Prince of Wales in his tour of Canada has earned the title of the prince of all democrats. The story of each great reception that has been tendered him is also the story of how th Prince's smile, his courtesy and tact, his ability to "mix", have won every heart. Never has the heir to the throne of a great empire been so close to his people as Canada's royal guest has succeeded in getting. And Canadians generally will rejoice that this is so. But is the democracy business, on the part of the people at least in danger of being over done? The reports from different cities visited by the Prince recently are not such as to cause pride in Canadian manners or courtesy. Such boorish acts as snatching cigarettes from the lips of the future King as has been done by ill-mannered souvenir-hunters in several places, or the inconsiderate crowding in Montreal where His Royal Highness was so closely jostled by the mob his face and hands were scratched by those anxious to shake hands with him will be regretted by many people who will regard them as like to cause false impressions of Canadians.

SPLENDID AUGURY FOR LOAN.

Canada's Minister of Finance must have been filled with elation when he read the financial pages of the daily press on Oct. 16th and learned that on the preceding day Victory Bond sales had created a new record on the Montreal Stock exchange: and that on Toronto and other changes they had been extremely active. The trading was of course in Victory Bond issues of the past two years. At Montreal $1,514,600 of bonds maturing in 1933 were sold at a premium of nearly four per cent. Other sales including large transactions in 1937 bonds at a premium of nearly five per cent. brought the sales up to nearly $2,255,000. Coming on the eve of the new 1919 Victory Loan this trading furnishes the most extraordinary proof of the confidence of the bond-buying public in Canadian bonds.

Ordinarily it would be supposed that the imminence of a new bond issue would tend to depress the market in some slight degree, but it is obvious that the unshakable nature of the security, and the handsome return places them above ordinary currents in the stock markets. Such activity furnishes abundant proof that financial men are convinced that Canada is still well within the limits of safety and security in her borrowings.

THE GRATUITY QUESTION.

The report of the Special Soldiers' Re-establishment Committee is disappointing in its utter failure to meet the requests of the returned soldiers or to suggest any adequate solution of the re-establishment problem. The turning down of the United Veterans' League's request for the adoption of the Calgary gratuity scheme, will occasion no surprise. It was a half-baked proposition, involving the expenditure of close into one billion dollars, this vast sum to be handed over indiscriminately to all former members of the C. E. F. There was not the slightest probability in view of the financial condition of the country, that the committee would favorably report the Flynn scheme to Parliament.

The re-establishment plan of the Great War Veterans' Association, however, was on quite different lines. It was a comprehensive, carefully thought out proposition based upon the service of the individual soldier, and upon his personal requirements in the matter of re-establishment.

The committee, however, has brushed the plans to one side on the ground that the expenditure involved is too great to be considered. The carefully planned suggestions of the Great War Veterans have been ignored, not only in the matter of gratuities but in regard to other reforms in the re-establishment scheme to such extent that the Veterans' Advisory Committee to the Reparation Committee have handed in their resignations. In doing so, the members of the commitee after outlining some of the recommendations made by them, point out that the greater part of such recommendations have been ignored or only partially considered.

"Had these matters been dealt with in a statesmanlike manner the present Parliamentary Committee would have been unnecessary," declares the statement, "and the unrest among returned men—the direct result of inaction and half-conceived measures, would have been prevented. Even after the Parliamentary Committee met and the facts had been presented to them, its recommendations are apparently such that we are constrained to regard them as unsatisfactory, and we are therefore placing our resignations in your hands once more as a protest against inadequate measures of re-establishing the man from the battle fields of Europe."

Outside of the gratuity question altogether the Special Committee's report is a disappointment. Considering the opportunities the committee have had of securing all the information available in regard to the returned soldier problem, the report is inadequate. It is surprising to find that there is very little attention paid to the most important question of pensions. The present scale is in need of revision. In many cases the pension paid seems pitifully inadequate in view of the disability sustained and it was confidently expected that one of the recommendations of the committee would have been for increased pensions. Instead the committee merely recommended that the Pensions Committee consider the question of an increase in pensions at the next session.

The present gratuities are to be paid Canadians who served in Imperial units—a reform that is but rectifying an unjust condition of affairs. Unfortunately the committee, however, does not seem to have placed British reservists who were citizens of Canada before the war on the same scale as the others. These men are deserving of special consideration and their case seems to have been overlooked by the committee.

Many of the suggestions made in the report are good as far as they go, setting right a number of defects in the present re-establishment scheme but in so far as meeting squarely the whole problem of repatriation is concerned, the sessions of the special committee seem to have been wasted. The report will be received by returned soldiers generally as a futile effort to deal with the situation. The action of the C. W. V. A. Advisory Committee in resigning as a protest against the failure of the Re-establishment Committee is significant. The C. W. V. A. officials have been reasonable and sane in their views on the question of re-establishment and have earned general admiration by the moderate and courteous manner in which they have pressed for justice for the returned men. The Re-establishment scheme of the Association was the result of many months' study of the situation and the abrupt manner in which it has been set aside by the committee will arouse the ire of the men who hitherto have endeavoured to the best of their ability to assist the government to solve the many problems of the reconstruction era.

The committee's findings of course are not final and Parliament may decide upon more generous treatment. The outlook, however, is not bright.

PROTECTING THE FISH.

The comment made by Tris Speaker on the necessity of better methods of protecting the fish in Rice Lake from beng killed by illegal methods has aroused considerable interest among the sportsmen of the district. Here are the views of one local fisherman:

Peterboro, Ont., Oct. 28, 1919.
Editor Examiner,—

Dear Sir;—Relative to illegal fishing at Rice Lake I read with considerable interest the article published in yesterday's Examiner on the above named subject. The protection of game in Rice Lake is a joke. Well not exactly a joke but rather a scandal and it has been so far for a number of years. At one time Rice Lake and the Trent River from the foot of the Lake to Healey Falls was one of the finest Bass and Lange fishing grounds anywhere in Ontario. Some years ago the Writer was in Hastings and saw a fishing party come in with their catch. The party consisted of the guide and two gentlemen from Toronto. The catch counted was 193 bass. These were boxed up and shipped to Toronto. In conversation with the guide I was informed that this party had been fishing two weeks and that the average catch per day was over 200 bass. All were shipped to Toronto. Later on after the Bass fishing was about destroyed a law was passed making the limit 8 fish per fisherman and 2 lunge. Now regarding the Lunge fishing. It is the taking of these fish in the spawning season that has depleted the stock of fish. The hundreds of acres of marshes which are the spawning grounds are the favorite fishing grounds of the fish poachers. At night the Jack Lights are seen all around the marshes and in the day time as many as 18 men have been seen on one big marsh spearing lunge. This occurred last spring and no one was detected or fined. One man came down the river with 20 lunge in his canoe and counted it only a fair haul. The Writer has been going to Rice Lake for years to enjoy a day's fishing, but this season's trip was rather discouraging. You see after paying your guide, hotel bill and transportation, you feel that you should have returned home with enough fish for one meal but you could not catch the fish when they were not there. The parent fish had been slaughtered and therefore there is no stock to repdenish these waters. The goose that lay the golden egg is dead. The people who live at Hastings and around the shores of Rice Lake have the solution in their own hands. They can put a stop to illegal fishing if they care to do so. I think it is up to them.

Yours truly,
ANGLER.

The interest of the fishermen in the subject seems to have been awakened and the present is an opportune time for the formation of a Fish and Game Protection Association as suggested by Mayor Duncan. Such a body could do a great deal if the movement was entered in by the real sportsmen of the district.

DEMOCRACY, PARTYISM AND AUTOCRACY.

Certain persons who rejoiced in the victory of Union Government in 1917 are by no means pleased with the result of the Ontario election of 1919. The professed reason for joy in 1917 was the defeat of the old party system and the establishment of a system in which party should be ignored, and nothing considered except efficiency and a patriotic service. And one would suppose that the result of the Provincial election of 1919 would be hailed as another evidence of emancipation from the party shackles. But in certain quarters it is regarded with horror. An old gentleman sitting in the Board of Trade rooms waiting for the returns, and confronted with the election of a new independent group, mainly of Farmers exclaimed "the country is going mad." Others will be heard saying, "Are we going to be governed by the farmers?"

Why the difference? The reason is that the election of 1917 was not an expression of independent public opinion. There was a "deal" between one party and a section of the other. The old party tricks were used. Exemptions from military service were promised. The candidates whom the Government favored were ticketed and in many cases chosen by Sir Robert Borden. Money and influence were all one one side. The loyalty cry, the old race and religious cries were raised. There was no revolt against partyism. There was a deal between partisans, each using all the tricks of their trade, not against each other, but to uphold autocracy against the popular will. That was the reason why the enemies of democracy rejoiced in 1917. They had objected, not to the evils of partyism, but to its virtues—for partyism has at least the merit of allowing two sections of the people to express their views and fight for them. They rejoiced at the suppression of all opinions hostile to those of a ruling clique.

But the people have now interpeted the new movement in a different way. They too objected to many of the old features of partyism. But they objected for democratic reasons. They were resolved to throw off party shackles, but not to submit to be bound by the stronger and more galling chains of autochatic rule. On that historic election day of October, 1919, they rose in their might and made a real democratic demonstration, not only against partyism but against autocracy and government by-cliques and self-constituted plutocratic bosses. Hence these tears. Here are the people actually presuming to assert themselves and govern themselves. All kinds of tyrants are shaking in their shoes. Where will this terrible movement end? What will become of the power of the social and moneyed cliques whose influence has been so long felt in politics? The situation has its comic features, for some of those who are now horror-stricken were probably quite eloquent about the evils of partyism when it suited their views to have the parties conspiring with each other to suppress public opinion. But a non-partisan movement that spells real democracy! That is something quite different; and the more the people rejoice, the more the autocrats howl.—Farmers' Sun.

How strange the old-time pictures of sport would look today—baseball teams boasting at least half-a-dozen sets of whiskers—full-bearded cricketers—champions of the scull with their chins concealed.

Today the athlete knows the importance of the well-shaven chin. He is conscious that he is most keen when he is well-groomed—just as is the business man and the soldier.

For men who love outdoor life and sports, men of virile minds and active bodies, we have designed a Gillette Safety Razor with an extra stocky handle—the "Bulldog" Gillette, shown to the left.

Not that the Gillette needs a sturdy grasp. A light touch, with the angle stroke, removes the most stubborn beard with surprising comfort.

But there is a certain appeal in the thicker handle of the "Bulldog". Ask to see this special set and appreciate the point for yourself.

The case, you will notice, is almost as compact as the famous Pocket Edition Gillette, and the price is the same, $5.00.

Sold by all dealers catering to men's needs.

The "BULLDOG" Set includes oval Morocco Case with two blade boxes to match, and 12 double-edged blades.

BY JANE PHELPS

NEIL'S AUNT IS ANXIOUS BECAUSE OF HIS CONSTANT OVERWORKING.

CHAPTER CIV.

"Well what did you learn this morning?" Neil asked when he came in to dinner. "Did you get your money's worth?" he spoke brightly, but I noticed at once the tired lines in his face, the dark shadows under his eyes. Then too a twitching of his hands, which of late I had noticed, was more pronounced. But I made no mention of any of these things. It would only have started his aunt questioning and fussing over him.

"Oh, he was wonderful! Perfectly marvelous!" aunt replied enthusiastically. "He read my questions without the slightest hesitation by just holding them on his forehead. Then he answered them so clearly. I don't wonder your friend Mr. Frederick goes to him so often. Were he in our town I should frequently consult him when anything worried me."

"But you haven't told me what he said." Neil turned to me. "What did he tell you Bab?"

"Oh I asked him about Robert, of course! He said he would live to grow up; and that father and mother would be spared a long time yet; and that you were to be happy."

"Your questions were all of sickness then?"

"Nearly all. I guess that is what most people think of when they consult a man like him. They want to know if those they love are going to be spared to them. It's only natural they should."

"Easy money I call it."

"Oh Neil you must go to him! I have noticed how worried and anxious you have been lately. Go and ask him about anything that worries you. It surely is worth ten dollars."

"Nonsense! I should feel like an idiot pretending to take any stock in such rot! I'll bet most of his money comes from women."

I don't know but you would lose your bet. There were two men waiting when we got there, and more came in afterward. I think there were as many men as women waiting when we left."

"Fools!"

Nothing more was said about the matter, but someway I had a feeling that Neil was not so skeptical as he appeared. I was convinced that he would also go and question this man although he might not tell me of the visit.

He remained at home for the evening, but shut himself in the library, and asked that he be not disturbed.

"You shouldn't work to-night dear. You don't look well," I said as I followed him to the door of the library.

"I am perfectly well!" he returned impatiently; "Please don't fuss about me. And for godness sake keep aunt out."

Neil was extremely fond of his aunt, but sometimes persons of whom we think a great deal gut, on our nerves. This had happened because of her questions, and her constantly expressed anxiety for his health; and her curiosity anent his business affairs.

"Neil looks ill," she said to me as I joined her. "He is overworking I am sure."

"I know aunt, but there is nothing we can do to prevent him, and he gets so annoyed when we mention it."

"Well I shall soon be gone, and I know I am going to be very anxious about him. I shall tell your father to write him and caution him. Perhaps he won't resent his care for his health."

"Please don't say anything to father or mother to worry them. Neil told me when his deal was finished he would go away with me for a week's rest. I don't want father worried." I thought of his dear old face so anxious when he said that Neil was making money to fast, and how he wished he would go more slowly. I also recalled mother's surprise at our home, and the lavish way we spent money. "They never had been quite comfortable about us I knew.

"I shan't promise. Someway I feel that that man was right, and that Neil is on the verge of some great trouble. He looks like a man who has something suspended over him which he expects to drop upon him at any minute and injure him. He has lost all that happy care-free look he had before he was married."

"He has more responsibilities now," I returned rather coldly. "I do not care for the money, neither does he I think—not so much as people give us credit for. I spend it because he gives it to me. He works as he does because he is ambitious to make a name for himself in the financial world."

"Ambition has ruined many a man—when it is wrongly directed," was her sententious answer.

Royal Funds

King George Inherited Money From Grandparents.

King George owes his private fortune largely to the sagacity of his grandfather, the Prince Consort, and to the prudence of his grandmother, Queen Victoria. From the time of his marriage until the day of his death, he invested nearly every cent of his British civil list allowance of $150,000 a year in real estate in the then unInviting district of South Kensington. To-day it is one of the smartest and wealthy quarters of the British metropolis, and the land mostly held on 99-year leases is becoming every day more valuable and yields very large revenues. The Prince Consort also established extensive whisky distilleries on his Balmoral estate in Scotland, which still remain a source of considerable profit to King George. Queen Victoria was also the recipient of a number of very large bequests; in three instances from millionaire subjects, without any representatives or legal heirs, who were led by sentiments of patriotism and loyalty, as well as by admiration for her character to devise to her their fortunes. Then, too, Queen Victoria lived well within her means, and her savings from her civil list were most ably administered by the late Lords Sydney and Cross, who were her trusted counsellors in all business matters. Thanks to this, she was able to provide very liberally for her favorite son, the Duke of Connaught, and to leave the bulk of her private fortune entailed for the benefit of her grandson, King George, and for his children.

King George differs from all other rulers, in this respect, that neither he nor the members of the reigning house cost the British taxpayers in the United Kingdom, and in his overseas dependencies, a single cent. On his accession to the throne, George, following the example of his father, Edward VII, and of his grandmother, Queen Victoria, voluntarily turned over, for the term of his life, the crown property to the national treasury, in return for a civil list. When Victoria became Queen in 1837, the revenues of the crown property about equalled the civil list voted to her and to the members of her family by Parliament. Since then, by dint of careful management, and also through the generous increase of values, the income derived from the crown property, the ownership of which is vested in the sovereign, has not merely doubled, but more than trebled, while the civil list has remained to all intents and purposes the same. The consequence is that the national treasury is a very great gainer by the transaction.

Coutts' Bank, where King George keeps his private account, as does also Empress Eugenie, following in this respect the example of her husband, Napoleon III, has been in existence since 1692. The principal owner of the bank is Francis Money Coutts, in whose favor the ancient Barony of Latimer has been revived by the crown, after an abeyance of centuries. He inherited his holdings from his aunt, the celebrated philanthropist, Baroness Burdett-Coutts, whose American-born husband, William Burdett-Coutts, M.P., formerly William Lehman Ashmead-Bartlett, a native of Brooklyn, still survives. Lord Latimer is the great-grandson of the celebrated banker, Tom Coutts, who on one occasion when threatened by the Queen Charlotte, in the reign of George III, with the withdrawal of all her money account, in consequence of the radicalism of his son-in-law, Sir Francis Burdett, insisted upon the removal of her name from the books of his firm within two hours, and absolutely refused all her urgent applications to reopen her account.

Donizetti.

So much have Donizetti and his operas been surrounded in our minds by Italian thoughts and incidents that we forget the Scotch blood in this composer's veins. Indeed, Scotland has been the inspiration of more than one of his operas. This was the case with what is generally considered his greatest work "Lucia di Lammermoor," the libretto of this being founded on Sir Walter Scott's "Bride of Lammermoor."

Donizetti's grandfather was one Isett, the son of a Perthshire weaver. He left his native heath to go to the war. A French general took him prisoner and afterwards carried him off to Italy. There Isett became Isetti. He settled and married. It is claimed that out of compliment to the lady of his choice he put Don before his name thereby becoming Donizetti.

The great composer was the son of humble parents neither of whom were musical. But his brother became a band leader and later on concert-master for the official palace of the Sultan of Turkey in the city of Constantinople. At the present time the most popular selections in "Lucia di Lammermoor" are the "Mad Scene" and the famous "Sextette."

Too Ill to Work

Scores of Women

in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

St. John, N. B.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bladder and kidney troubles and backache and find it the best medicine I ever took. I used many other remedies with very little result. I had two miscarriages and would have been in my grave are this if it had not been for your medicine. I always keep a bottle of Vegetable Compound in the house, and I feel fine to do my work for five in the family. I have recommended your Compound to many people, and you may use this testimonial if you like. It may help some other woman."

And Another

Regina, Sask.—"I was going through the Change of Life and suffered two years with headaches, nervousness, sleepless nights and general weakness. Some days I felt tired and unfit to do my work. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and found good results. I also find it a very helpful spring tonic and useful for constipation from which I suffer much. I have recommended Vegetable Compound to several friends and am willing you should publish this."

AFGHANISTAN.

That Asiatic Country Is a British Problem.

Britain herself sought no territorial aggrandisements beyond the natural boundaries of India, and her chief purpose was to preserve intact the two states, Afghanistan and Persia, which covered them where they were most vulnerable against land attack, says Sir Valentine Chirol, in Asia Magazine. The most tragic of the many blunders committed, often with the best intentions, was unquestionably the first Afghan war of 1841-42. The fanatical Mohammedan tribes of the wild Afghan highlands were ready enough to fly at each other's throats, but they sank their differences to fly at the throats of the British infidels who ventured to interfere in their affairs. For many years afterwards the British refrained from plunging their hand again into that hornet's nest and Anglo-Afghan relations were gradually restored to such a tolerable footing that in 1869 the Amir Shere Ali himself paid a friendly visit to the Viceroy of India, and in return for an annual subsidy, pledged himself to have no dealings with any other European power. But nine years later his reception of a Russian embassy and his acceptance of Russian protection, when the Russo-Turkish war had strained our relations with Russia, were more than British patience could stand. After a vain attempt to secure satisfaction by diplomatic means, British forces moved up into Afghanistan. History seemed to be repeating itself, for a British convoy was again treacherously murdered in Kabul. But a second expedition not only broke the resistance of the Afghans, but indirectly paved the way for the accession to power of a strong Afghan ruler. The Amir Abdurrahman knew how to curb his unruly tribesmen and, with the growing menace of Russia pressing steadily up to the very banks of the Oxus, he came to realize the supreme value of British friendship. He died in 1901 and his son Habibullah, who succeeded him, showed an equal appreciation of British friendship in far more critical circumstances. For, during the Great War, German agents were busy magnifying all through Central Asia the triumph of German arms, and nowhere did the story of the Kaiser's conversion to Islam find readier credence than amongst the bellicose "mullahs" of Afghanistan, whose fanaticism was stirred to a white heat by the proclamation at Constantinople of a holy war against the British infidels. Habibullah played a difficult hand with great skill and never swerved from his loyalty to the British, who wisely asked nothing of him but the maintenance of a friendly neutrality.

Canada's Future Depends On Loan

Steady Employment and Prosperity Hangs on Victory Loan

Canada's future prosperity depends to a great extent upon the success of the Victory Loan. No country can exist upon trade within its own boundaries. Canada counts on the trade with Great Britain and other allied countries to keep the flood of good times in the country.

The surplus products of the farm and the factory find their way across the seas. The revenue of the farmer and the manufacturer is dependent on this trade relationship being sustained. The employment of many hands depends on the orders that come to the firm. The pay envelope only comes with steady employment.

Great Britain and overseas countries are still desirous of continuing trade relations, but, overwhelmed with war expenses, they must be given credits for the time being. The farmer and the manufacturer must be paid for their products and manufactured articles in cash. Therefore, Canada must finance the proposition to keep the tide of commerce coming this way. But in order to have the money on hand to do this great thing, Canada must borrow from her people.

The Victory Loan offers bonds to subscribers paying 5½ per cent. interest. The guarantee behind the bonds makes them an absolutely safe investment. Victory Bonds are accepted as collateral at any bank, and can easily be turned into money at a profit. It is then to the interests of every Canadian to subscribe for all the Victory Bonds he can, for it is profitable, it is patriotic, and it is necessary for the continued prosperity of the country.

CANADA NEEDS MONEY

War Expenditures Still to Be Met From Proceeds of Victory Loan.

The war is over and won; but Canada's main expenditures for war will not be complete until well on into 1920. The $610,000,000 raised last year has all been spent, $400,000,000 having been largely devoted to soldiers—to maintaining them, bringing them home, providing the necessary medical services, training them. Most of the balance of the loan was lent to Great Britain to enable her to buy our surplus products. And money is still necessary — for soldiers, for providing markets, for our surplus products, for the needs of reconstruction. And that is why another Victory Loan is necessary. Canada still needs money, and needs it badly.

A Good Investment.

Speculation is one thing. Investment is another. The majority of citizens want an investment, not a speculation. And they want a safe investment. Victory Bonds fill that requirement as does no other investment. Because behind every bond there is the national wealth of Canada—a wealth so great that it staggers the imagination.

Canadian Bank Clearings.

That Canada is well able to support the Victory Loan is clearly shown by the Canadian bank clearings for the current year. They indicate that the year's total will exceed $15,000,000,000 compared with $13,774,000,000 in 1918. And the year's total clearings should be three times those of 1909.

Must Subscribe More.

Dividing the people of Canada into three classes — the comparatively poor, the moderately wealthy, and the very wealthy — it would seem that if contributions to the Victory Loans constitute service to the nation, the moderately wealthy class is hardly doing its share. Of the money subscribed to the Victory Loan 1918, two hundred and seventy-one million dollars were in bonds of $5,000 and under, ninety-four millions in bonds of between $5,000 and $25,000, and three hundred and one millions in bonds of $25,000 and over.

Be true to yourself. Buy Victory Bonds.

You did it before. You can do it again. Buy Victory Bonds.

Canada pledged her last man and her last dollar. Redeem that pledge in Victory Bonds.

If the fighting were still raging, you wouldn't hesitate to buy Victory Bonds.

To make the Victory Loan a success is a national obligation. It may be that you are the deciding factor.

If you are concerned about the future welfare of Canada, buy a Victory Bond and make it a sure thing.

Don't forget the future of your children. Lay a good foundation with a Victory Bond.

Would you lend a soldier $10 if you knew it would save his life? Buy Victory Bonds and keep the military hospitals up.

If you appreciate a good investment you will buy a Victory Bond.

You deceive no one but yourself when you say you can't afford a Victory Bond.

HASTINGS NEWS

HASTINGS, Oct. 29.—Mr. W. A. Gillespie is receiving the congratulation of his friends upon the occasion of his marriage to Miss Rachael Yule of Percy. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. A. Thomson at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Yule. Their many friends join in wishing the happy couple a long and prosperous wedded life.

A meeting in the interests of the Victory Loan campaign is called for Friday evening in the Town Hall.

A week's mission was begun on Sunday in the Roman Catholic Church here. Two Redemptionist Fathers of Toronto are present to address the congregations.

The ladies of the congregation have also fitted up the store adjoining the Toronto Bank for the sale of mission goods and devotional articles.

Town Council.

At a recent meeting of the Town Council a communication was read from J. T. Daley, secretary of the Children's Aid Society, of Port Hope, asking for aid.

Moved by Dr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Plant, that this Council send the sum of $15 to the society.

Moved by Dr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Plant, that the Municipal Council of the village of Hastings heartily endorse the Victory Loan campaign of 1919, and wish it every success, and a copy of this resolution be forwarded to S. B. O'Harr, county organizer, Cobourg, accompanied by the name of our Reeve, Dr. Hess.

Moved by Mr. Doxsee, seconded by Mr. Plant, that the collector's salary be $55, and pay his own postage.

The Reeve appointed, along with himself, Dr. Wilson and Mr. Doxsee, a committee to make arrangements about the town scales.

Mr. W. P. Plant and son are building an addition to the foundry, as more room is found to be required for the increasing trade.

Workmen are engaged in Mr. Sherwin's house, Front Street, fitting up part of the building for a grocery store.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church held their October meeting on Thursday afternoon in the church parlour. It was decided to change the date of the Hallowean social from Friday until Monday evening, so as not to conflict with other meetings previously arranged for.

At the residence of the bride's parents on Wednesday last, the marriage was solemnized of their daughter, Miss Ada Kemp, to Mr. Herb. Shorter, a returned soldier. The young couple will reside in Hastings.

A serious accident was narrowly averted on Thursday evening, when two automobiles collided on Albert Street, both being badly damaged. However, the occupants were unhurt.

Mr. Lew. Beavis is in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, where he was operated on for appendicitis. We are pleased to learn that he is doing as well as could be expected.

The funeral of the young child of Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn was held on Saturday afternoon to the T.V. Cemetery.

We are sorry to learn of the death of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Crowley.

An addition is being built to the foundry to accommodate the increase of trade.

At the Epworth League in the Methodist Church on Monday evening a debate, "Resolved that Winter Sports are More Numerous than Summer Sports," was given. The judges decided in favour of the negative.

Mr. and Mrs. Blue left last week to take up residence in Campbellford.

MR. JOSEPH WEARING WELL ACQUAINTED WITH LEADER OF COALITION

GIVES A CLOSE-UP VIEW OF MR. E. C. DRURY—FARMERS WELL PLEASED WITH THE RESULT.

Mr. E. C. Drury, the new leader of the combined U.F.O. and Labor parties, and the next Premier of Ontario, is a personal friend of Mr. Joseph Wearing of this city, both having been brought up in the same locality. Mr. Drury is a farmer in the township of Oro, on the north shore of Lake Simcoe, living on what is known as the Penetang Road being a continuation of Dundas street. To the Examiner Mr. Wearing had this to say this morning of the new leader:

"I know Mr. Drury very well indeed. We were boys together on the farm and frequently worked together at threshings and barn-raisings, and while we have not seen much of each other for years we have always been friends and have been interested in each other's progress. I may say that I am not at all surprised that Mr. Drury is the farmers' choice for Premier, as I have predicted for years that he would eventually become a greater man than his father, who was the Minister of Agriculture when I came to this country, and whose name is venerated in Oro to this day. After graduating from the Ontario Agricultural College, Mr. Drury settled down on the old family homestead, and while successfully operating his own place as an ordinary farmer, gradually became a leader among the farmers of Ontario. At one time he was Master of the Grange. He is in no sense of the word a gentleman farmer. Half the time he has been without any hired help and has had to do all the work of the farm himself, but all the time he has been a hard student and it is common knowledge in Oro that many a night he has been poring over books and pamphlets when he should have been in bed. He reminds me a lot of Winston Churchill. He has the same little hunch in the back, with his head bent forward and his face keen and eager. Somewhat impulsive perhaps, but with plenty of brains and sound judgment! He will never be known as the Beau Brunnell of the Legislature. Around Oro he drives an old Ford car and cares nothing for appearances. But I miss my guess if he does not quickly take his place as one of the leading statesmen of Canada. From boyhood he has been grounded in the principles of Liberalism, and saturated through and through with politics, even though never elected to Parliament. Although a farmer he is much the same type as Mackenzie King and is in the same class as a speaker. Ontario need have no fear of this man as her Premier, although he will be the youngest Premier this Province ever had. I think he is about forty-two. Mrs. Drury, who was a school teacher and a daughter of one of the best families in that neighbourhood will also be well able to fill her position in Toronto. If I remember correctly, they have five children. Farmers pleased.

This last week end I was up home visiting my mother and found the farmers there hoping that Mr. Drury would not accept the leadership. This was because they were anxious to have him represent them in the Dominion House. He is an expert on the tariff and would have made a great running mate for Dr. Michael Clarke. I was told that when the word came for him to go up to Toronto a week ago he was out in the field ploughing, so he literally goes from the plough to the Premiership. I do not know of any such parallel in a British country, but it will be remembered that Cato, the Roman statesman, left the plough to become Consul. I believe that Mr. Drury will become as great as Cato and at the same time show himself a good deal more broad-minded. He will truly represent and consider, not the farmers alone, but every class and interest in the Province."

FOUR BODIES OF WRECK VICTIMS ARE IDENTIFIED

Canadian Press:

SODUS, N.Y., Oct. 30.—The four bodies of the victims of the wreck of the steam barge Homer Warren, of Toronto, in the gale on Lake Ontario on Wednesday were identified here today by J. P. Milne, of the Milne Coal Co., of Toronto, and William Kerr, chief engineer of the company's fleet.

They are as follows: George Stalker, first mate, brother of Captain William Stalker; Joseph Kerr, second engineer, brother of William Kerr; George Kerr, fireman, brother of William Kerr; Patrick Howe, cook, of Oswego.

No more bodies have been found, though the beach has been scoured for several miles east and west of the spot where the vessel is believed to have gone down.

REV. A. J. THOMAS GAVE ADDRESS

At the anniversary service of the Millbrook Methodist church held last Sunday, Rev. A. J. Thomas, of Peterborough, preached eloquent sermons before large congregations at both morning and evening services. Special music was rendered for the occasion by the splendidly trained choir, and the church had been fittingly decorated in autumn leaves and flowers by Miss Hampton.

HAD HIS HAND BADLY LACERATED

Mr. Gilbert Moore, 484 Union street, sustained a painful accident yesterday afternoon at a quarter to five while working in the box factory at the Quaker Oats plant. In some manner one of his hands came in contact with a rip saw, terribly lacerating it. He was rushed to Nicholls Hospital, and the thumb and first two fingers of his right hand amputated. By a queer co-incidence, he was taken to the hospital the same day that his brother, a returned soldier, was admitted to Nicholls Hospital. He was reported as resting quietly to-day. Dr. M. McClelland is attending him.

BAR STUDENTS FROM POOLROOMS

Principal Kirkconnell, of the Collegiate Institute Lindsay, in a letter to the Town Council, complained that Collegiate students under age were being allowed in pool-rooms, and requesting that the by-law be amended so as to prevent all boys under 18 years of age, and all students whose expenses are being paid by parents, be passed, making it unlawful for such to be allowed to enter the pool-rooms.

Several of th councillors approved of the idea, and a resolution was passed accordingly.

GEORGE STREET CHOIR ENTERTAINED

Some fifty members and friends of the George Street Methodist Church choir gathered in joyful anticipation at the home of one of the most popular members, Miss Minnie Higgins, Water Street, who is also secretary, last evening, for a social time. A most enjoyable evening was spent at guessing contests, music, etc. Refreshments completed a most enjoyable evening. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Miss Higgins, on behalf of the choir, by Messrs. C. S. Thompson and Leonard Fraser, who expressed the indebtedness of the choir for the hospitality extended to them.

VICTORY LOAN DANCE

Charmingly decorated in Victory Loan posters, Jack o' Lanterns and Hallowe'en emblems the Conservatory of Music Hall presented a gay and festive appearance last evening when the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., held a Victory Loan dance. The affair was a complete success from a standpoint of numbers who attended, the music which was supplied by Moher and Fitzgerald, and the floor, which was in excellent condition.

Those Present.

A few of those present were: Mrs. J. W. MacDiarmid, Mrs. Killaly and Mrs. J. W. VICTORY LOAN NOTES

FIRST OVER THE TOP.

J. J. Turner and Sons, Limited, are the first industrial firm to win the Prince of Wales Honour Emblem. Over 75 per cent of the employees subscribed for a total of over ten per cent of the annual payroll.

The employees are so enthusiastic over the loan that they have decided to make a special flag sufficiently large to carry the Prince's banner, and hoist it on the flag pole over their establishment.

BOY SCOUTS TO THE FRONT

Leave it to the Boy Scouts to get busy. The Peterboro lads belonging to the various troops have arranged to hold a big parade on Friday night, finishing it with a bon fire on the parade grounds in front of the armouries. Incidentally the Boy Scouts are doing their best to boost the loan in a practical way by investing part of their savings in the bonds.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—Totals of Victory Loan reported up till eleven o'clock this morning: Ontario $52,000,300; Dominion $53,826,300.

KITCHENER, Oct. 30.—Kitchener raises an honour flag to-morrow being headquarters of Lake Huron Division; first division in Canada to exceed its special subscription objective.

MUNICIPALITIES DEMAND RETENTION OF ADAM BECK

FOUR HUNDRED DELEGATES FROM ALL PARTS OF THE PROVINCE ATTESTED THEIR LOYALTY TO HIM AND DECLARED THEIR DESIRE THAT HE CONTINUE TO LEAD THE HYDRO-ELECTRIC COMMISSION.

PETERBORO REPRESENTED

Four hundred representatives of the municipalities of Ontario, at a Hydro-Electric convention in the Toronto City Hall yesterday afternoon, gave Sir Adam Beck a wonderful demonstration of confidence and esteem, and by a unanimous resolution, called upon the new Provincial Government to retain him in the office of chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

Peterborough was represented by Mayor Duncan, Aldermen Edgar, Morrison, Phelan, Crowe and City Clerk Armstrong. Members of the local deputation stated that the reception to Sir Adam Beck was a splendid testimonial to his efficient and non-partizan administration of the Hydro-Electric scheme, and also a high tribute to his personality and leadership.

The main resolution, moved by Controller Maguire, of Toronto, and seconded by Mayor Winter, of Windsor, was as follows:

"That this meeting demand that Sir Adam Beck be continued as Chairman of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission, and that the Commission shall consist of three members only: Sir Adam Beck as Chairman, one member from the municipalities and one representing the Government, and that in the event of the request of the municipalities being refused of representation thereon, Sir Adam Beck should have the approval of at least one representative; and, further, that the term of office for the said Commissioners should be for not less than six years."

A second resolution provided that steps be taken to secure a seat for Sir Adam in the Legislature, while a third expressed the feeling of the meeting that his continuance in office was essential to the interests of Hydro and its approval of his leadership in the past.

Referring to his defeat in the Provincial elections, Sir Adam said that for personal and family reasons he would be glad to retire from public service. His first duty, however, was to the municipalities and to the public.

"I have not been able to resign yet, because there is not a Government that I could resign to in a sense. I felt I should resign to the incoming Government, and that is the position I made at the time, and that is the course I must pursue unless I feel and you feel that my services are still needed, that I am still necessary in this work, and that you believe, notwithstanding what happened, that I might still be of some value to you."

"Because the fact is that a man in my position who has not the confidence of the people he serves, his services are of little value to them or of little satisfaction to himself. Therefore I am before you to-day as a defeated candidate, with my word given to the people of the city of London."

Sir Adam went into statistics concerning the present and probable future position of the Hydro scheme, and commented: "With a new Government, new personnel, it is difficult to know how they may look upon it; how they may view the expenditure of additional money upon Hydro. I notice on the U.F.O. platform that they criticize the debt of one hundred millions of dollars of the Province and say there must be retrenchment. Well, of that one hundred millions, over fifty-five millions are invested to your account in the Hydro-Electric power scheme, which never cost the taxpayers a dollar and never will if it continues to be properly managed."

LAKEFIELD.

Lakefield Preparatory School won an easy victory over T.C.S. III. team. The score was Lakefield 41, T.C.S. 8.

The teams were evenly matched as to weight but "Hamilton I" for Lakefield, was easily the best man on the field, running through the opposing team on several occasions. In the fourth quarter "Smith II" intercepted a T.C.S. pass and eluding by tackling of the halves, scored a try.

For Port Hope, McCall showed splendid form in tackling, and Rose played a brilliant game as outside wing, for Lakefield.

A LOCAL BUTCHER MAKES TEN PER CENT.

INTERESTINF CASE HEARD IN THE COUNTY COURT TO-DAY.

"What do you make net on dressed cattle?" asked Mr. G. N. Gordon in County Court this morning.

"About ten per cent." replied Mr. John Mervin, a local butcher, who was in the witness box.

"That isn't what William Davies Company made," replied Mr. Gordon. "They made sixty-five per cent."

"Oh, boys!" replied Mr. Mervin, to the amusement of the Court, at the same time signifying that it was beyond his comprehension.

The case arose out of a dispute over three head of cattle. Mr. Robert Cocks, a farmer, claimed the cattle were bought for Cassell and Cocks and claims half of the profits from the sale of them. Mr. Ruben A. Cassell, a butcher in East City, who personally bought the cattle, claims that he bought them for himself and, therefore, is entitled to all the profits. Mr. G. N. Gordon is defending for Mr. Cassell and Mr. C. R. Widdicfield is prosecuting on behalf of Mr. Cocks.

The case is still proceeding.

MUCH CANADIAN WHEAT TO ITALY

The Deal Consummated Through Trade Mission For Cash.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—The Canadian trade mission has closed a deal with Italy for 100,000 tons of wheat, to be delivered during the next three months. The price is most favorable. Italy provides the ships, and it is understood that the fleet has been obtained. All shipments are from St. John and Halifax. No credit is given and payment will be made in dollars at Montreal, thus entailing no loss in exchange. Negotiations are also proceeding with France for other huge quantities.

The disposal of the whole of Canada's surplus crop at a high figure is most probable

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

"The Silence of God Broken. The Opening of the Seven Seals."

To-night Mr. E. W. Brown will give his fifth address in the Gospel Hall on the Book of Revelations, the subject being the 'Silence of God Broken, the opening of the Seven Seals.' This is a continuation of the subject of last night which dealt with "The Silence of God Broken; the Throne Scene." These are the centre of the teachings of this marvellous book. The Christ revealed the second time, but this time as a lamb slain, manifested in the midst of the throne in heaven to which Christ calls John to ascend.

On the throne there is one sitting described only by the brightness of jasper and sardine stones, because God knew how prone this world was to image worship and idolatry.

Around about the throne there was a rainbow which always refers to mercy But the fact that "out of the throne proceeded lightnings and voices and thunders," indicates that mercy was highly mixed with judgments.

The seven lamps of fire burning before the throne are the seven spirits of God (seven-fold spirit).

Around about the throne there were 24 seats and on them 24 elders, 12 representing the saints of the old testament and 12 representing the church. There is a resurrection in 1st Thessalonians and another in Daniel.

The next group in the scene are the four beasts (or living creatures.) The word translated "beast" in chapters 11, 12, 13 and others is wild beast.

These two companies join in praising God. In this chapter we have praise to God as the Creator. How strange it sounds to the ear of men to-day. The utmost that man has ever yet been able to do, is to move the things that God has created, but addition to this creation or destruction of a single particle is not possible. Through faith we understand that the worlds (or ages) were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen, were not made of things which do appear. Heb. 11:3. But human pride will seek another theory to bridge the appalling difference between the uncreated God and ourselves. The universe of God has only two classes of beings, the uncreated and the created, the Lord and the slaves, he who gives but never receives, the eternal gives, and those who never do anything but receive. So the angel said to John, "I am thy fellow servant and of the prophets and of those who keep the sayings of this book." (Rev. 22:8.) The distance of farthest heavenly body from us is an illustration so tame as to be almost useless to represent the difference in nature between God and the highest archangel, to say nothing of sinful man.

The next remarkable feature in this throne scene is a book in the high hand of him that sits upon the throne. A considerable consternation is caused in John's mind and makes him weep because no one is found worthy to open the seventh sealed book until the lamb in the midst of the throne comes and takes the book. This is the signal for renewed praise. But now we have redemption song. How strange that wonderful love song, sung by the prostrate (elders) saints lost in love. They doubtless remembered his dying cry and realized that while the Christ (John 1:1-4) could create worlds by his simple word when he died the just for the unjust he uttered his only 'why.' My God (not by father). My God why hast thou forsaken me." It was easy to create but difficult to redeem.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor—

Dear Sir.—I am a returned soldier and have been discharged for have been at every factor in Peterboro have been at every factor yin Peterboro looking for work. I have been refused every place that I have been. I have noticed in every place that I have gone to that there are more foreigners than there are Canadians.

Now, I am a citizen of Peterboro, and I keep wondering why I cannot get work in my own home town.

I am willing to work, if I can get it. I did my bit at the front, and when I come home I am turned away from factories without work; and there are factories in Peterboro that employ Germans.

I was a prisoner of war in Germany and I know what they are like. If there is a firm in Peterboro that will give me work let them answer this letter. I am no tradesman but I am willing to learn a trade. I hope that you will oblige me by putting this letter in the Examiner.

I am, yours very truly,
R. H. MARTIN.

30 BRITISH WARSHIPS WAITING AT VIBORG

10,000 TONS OF FOODSTUFFS READY TO SUPPLY PETROGRAD

VIBORG, Finland, Oct. 28.—More than thirty British warships, including four light cruisers, are at Bjorko, a short distance southeast of Viborg, where also is situated a large British airdrome. The vessels are protected from Bolshevik submarines by a net of islands a thousand yards distant. The correspondent learns that British airplanes from Bjorko and Terijoki have been bombing Kronstadt almost daily for three months.

Ten thousand tons of foodstuffs were brought to Viborg in June by the American steamers Democracy and Dio and are now being loaded on barges for shipment to Petrograd. The Gulf of Finland freezes over next month, but if Petrograd is captured food could be sent by the railway now operating from the Russian border.

It is not believed here that Gen. Yudenitch will be able to take Petrograd without the aid assistance of the Finns. The Finnish Premier in an interview said there was no intention of supporting Yudenitch unless satisfactory guarantees are given to safeguard Finland's independence. He adds that no such offer had been received from Admiral Kolchak, head of the Omsk government, or Gen. Denikine, head of the anti-Bolshevik forces in the south.

SARNIA LABOUR MEN OPPOSED TO CITY GOV'T BOARD

SARNIA.—Officials of the Trades and Labor Countil, following a meeting here, state that they are absolutely opposed to the proposed adoption of the Commission and Manager form of city government, and to-day forwarded a resolution to the council declaring they would fight the movement from start to finish. The Trades and Labor Council favor a general election and a paid council and declare they are out to see that their demands are complied with.

At their meeting the following resolution was passed and enthusiastically endrosed:

Whereas there is an agitation on foot to have the present system of municipal government changed to that of the Commission or Managerial form of city government, and,

Whereas the interests of the people as a whole must be the paramount consideration, it is

Resolved, that we, the Sarnia Trades and Labor Council are strongly opposed to any such change, being in favor of the system of aldermen and mayor chosen by general election as last adopted in this city.

And we are further resolved that the mayor should receive some remuneration for his services, at least $1800 per term, and the committee chairman should receive at least $100

Be it known, as resolved, that the Sarnia Trades and Labor Council will oppose any attempt to have the Commission or Managerial system of city government adopted by this city.

We strongly urge that the present city council take the necessary steps to have the practice of paying the Mayor and Chairmen some remuneration brought into effect.

RADIUM FOUND BEST CURB FOR CANCER, DECLARE SURGEONS

Many Scientists Describe Results in Destroying New and Advanced Cases.

NEW YORK.—Radium was classed as one of the deadliest enemies to cancer at the recent session of the clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons, in the ball-room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. Basing their endorsements upon years of experience with the wonderful agency discovered by the Curies, distinguished surgeons told the gathering of two thousands of the colleagues that radium has more than proven its worth both as a palliative and curative measure in combating cancer. While not claiming for radium the qualities of a cure-all, the surgeons, among whom were Dr. Curtis F. Burnam, colleague of Dr. Howard Kelly, of Baltimore, in research, gave the results of their use of radium in destroying incipient and advanced cases of cancer.

Dr. Harold C. Bailey described the results which he has had with radium in cancer treatment as miraculous and declared that its future held great possibilities. Dr. Burnam described the results which Dr. Kelly and himself have obtained from seven hundred cancer cases, cures having been effected in a far larger percentage of cases than they had dared to hope.

Dr Henry K. Pancoast described the use of the X-ray as an adjunct to radium and the operation in battling against cancer.

BELGIAN BELIEVES GERMANY A MENACE

VETERAN OFFICER JUDGES GERMANS ARE STILL DANGEROUS.

NEW YORK—That Germany is still a menace and that it is up to the Allies to see that they are "kept put" if the world doesn't want to wake up one day and find another world war on their hands, was the opinion expressed here to the United Press by Lieut.-Gen. Baron Jacques, of the Belgian army.

Baron Jacques, who earned fame at the battle of Dixmude, where for seven days he held the Germans at bay without budging an inch, is touring the United States with King Albert, and expects to take back home with him some lessons in military tactics as used in America.

"'Might is right' is the religion of Germany from the officers and doctors down to the workers.

"The great war was not a war of the Kaiser, but a war of the German people," said Baron Jacques. "Germany still has arms. It is up to the Allies to keep an eye on the Germans to see that they don't use them, particularly in aviation. I consider the Germans a race of barbarians.

"They always believe in 'Might is right.' This spirit is bred in the children from birth by their mothers. It will always be necessary to watch them. They want to war because they thought they could take Paris, Belgium, northern France, and get riches—loot—and later divide the spoils. The German idea is loot. They are a band of looters."

Baron Jacques, as a colonel of a Belgian regiment, commanded the first detachment to clash with the Germans on August 4, 1914. It occurred on the bridge of Vise, near Liege. The Germans were driven back and lost their regimental flag. A Prussian colonel and several German officers and men were killed.

"I never doubted the outcome of the war. From the start I was sure we couldn't be defeated. I was never greatly impressed by the Germans' bombastic noise. I did believe it would be the greatest conflict the world had yet seen. But I knew Belgium was right, and had the greatest confidence the world would see it. The knowledge we were in the right strengthened our moral.

Face Peeling Easy— Blonde or Brunette

"The blonde's complexion fades early, because her skin is extraordinarily thin and fine," says Mme. Lina Cavalieri. "The brunette's, as a rule, is the reverse. The skin is thicker and has a tendency to an oily appearance."

For either the faded blonde's skin or the brunette's oily or sallow complexion, the best remedy is ordinary mercolized wax. Used every night, this will give one an entirely new complexion within about a week's time. The wax gradually peels off the worn-out surface skin, with all its defects, a little each day, without affecting the delicate underskin in the least. The latter will have the exquisitely beautiful glow of youth—indeed, one may readily lose ten or fifteen years from her age, so far as appearance goes, by a course of this simple treatment. The wax, procurable at any drug store, is applied like cold cream.

SALTS IF KIDNEYS OR BLADDER BOTHER

...to Flush Kidneys and Neutralize Irritating Acids.

...this acid from the ...on to the bladder, ...remains to irritate and ...causing a burning, scalding ...or setting up an irritation ...in the bladder, obliging ...seek relief two or three times ...the night. The sufferer is in ...of dread, the water passes ...times with a scalding ...

...and is very profuse; again, there is ...difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple troubles to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. It is splendid for kidneys and cause no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

ENID BENNETT, DAINTY INCE-PARAMOUNT STAR, CHARMING EXEMPLAR OF THE BEAUTY OF AUSTRALASIAN WOMEN

THIS PROVES THAT MANY OTHER BEAUTIFUL THINGS ASIDE FROM KANGAROOS, BOOMERINGS AND PRIZE FIGHTERS ARE REARED IN THIS ANTIPODEAN STATE.

There are many things emanating from Australia besides kangaroos and boomerangs. For instance, some of the greatest fighters the world has ever seen or ever will see, come from this Antipodean state, while the beauty of the Australasian women is an admitted fact. There is a concrete example of this in the person of dainty, delightful Enid Bennett, who was recently married to Fred Niblo, a leading star of the legitimate stage.

Miss Bennett as all know, is and to-morrow, in "The Marriage Ring," the scenes of which are partly laid in San Francisco but mainly in Hawaii. And they say it is the best ever, because the star's hubby directed it. Think of making your wife do whatever you wish and being able to scold or fine her if she balks! Jack Holt is the leading man, too. That's another point in favour of the picture.

Anyway, we're all waiting to see Enid Bennett in a new play. You see, she has given us all a memory we won't soon efface, even if we try, the a star in Paramount pictures, and that means the best. She appears in films produced by Thomas H. Ince, the expert screen artist under whose careful supervision so many fine dramas have grown into being and who has made as many stars as a silversmith.

Enid Bennett hasn't been here so very long. She came over to play with that celebrated actor, Otis Skinner—and she was almost literally kidnapped by Thomas H. Ince, who saw her on the stage and knew she was just the one he needed for the screen. When the producer became affiliated with Paramount, along came Enid, sweet demure, naive as ever, with a little twinkle in her eye that said plainly, "even if I am from Australia, don't you try 'spoofing' me.

And Enid became camera-wise and America-wise very soon. She has done a lot of fine pictures and now she will be seen at the Grand Theatre to-day memory of a very sweet and demure little Antipodean girl who has in a very short time climbed clear up to the star class and twinkles there, as effectively as any.

The story of "The Marriage Ring" opens with Anne Mertons, the role played by Miss Bennett, who is unhappily married to a brute who seeks to gain his own ends by any means at his command. In a struggle over a revolver the weapon is discharged and she leaves him for dead and goes to Hawaii where she learns to love Rodney Heathe a sugar planter whom she has met on the steamship. Then Mertons shows up and forces his wife to go with him to his hut where he keeps her a prisoner. She overhears a plot to burn a sugar cane plantation and after making her escape, saves the plantation. The husband is burned to death and she left free to wed Heathe.

MANY UNUSUAL SETTINGS FOR "A HOUSE DIVIDED"

One of the most important settings in "A House Divided" which was shown at the Allen Theatre last night, is a cottage in the French town of Belleau. This cottage was constructed in the Blackton studios in Brooklyn, of brick and plaster, from photographs of a cottage which stood in Belleau before the Germans besieged the town. After the peace-time scenes concerning this cottage were filmed by Commodore Blackton, it was then bombed in the studio to put it in realistic condition for the after-the-war scenes set therein.

The auditorium and stage of the Criterion Theatre in New York provided very realistic scenes for "A House Divided," the Broadway playhouse being used through the courtesy of James K. Hackett, lessee, and Messers. Smith and Golden, producers whose "Three Wise Fools" is the current Criterion success. Sylvia Breamer, Herbert Rawlinson, Lawrence Grossmith and Sally Crute play the characters involved in these theatre scenes.

A Brooklyn church offered the English architecture demanded for a cathedral setting, and other important reproductions for backgrounds necessary are the British House of Parliaments in session and an English ballroom, each of which taxed the capacity of the Blackton studios.

"A House Divided" is the sort of picture that is sure to please all those seeing it to-night, which is the last time it will be shown at the Allen locally.

CHARLES RAY BATS 1,000 IN HIS LATEST FILM, "THE BUSHER"

To speak in the parlance of baseball, which furnishes the atmosphere of his latest story, Charles Ray bats an average of 1,000 in "The Busher," which will be shown at the Allen Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

The story concerns a youth in a small town who is gifted with a remarkable throwing arm and attracts the attention of a league manager. He is promoted into professional baseball, but suffers a noticeable affliction of inflated cheat and falls down on the job, just when all his home folks are at the game to see his baseball picture, "The Pinch Hitter," in which he turned the tide of events at the bat.

He is supported by Colleen Moore, Jack Gilbert and Otto Hoffman. The story was written by Earl Snell, picturized by R. Cecil Smith, and directed by Jerome Storm.

wonderful pitching.

He takes an oath never again to play, but to save his sweetheart's home, which is jeopardized by her brother's betting, he goes again to the pitcher's slab and wins the season's rubber for his own home town. There is a pretty love story and the picture sparkles with humor throughout.

The situations are novel and refreshing. It will tickle the lovers of the great American game, for there are some subtle bits of diamond satire. It is especially interesting to those who saw Ray in his previous

MUTT AND JEFF'S DREAM COMING

Gus Hill's latest hit "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" will be the attraction at the Grand on Saturday, matinee and evening. In this piece the famous cartoon characters which have set the whole world laughing will figure in new adventures and escapades sure to increase tenfold their already enviable popularity. This time their adventures will be in the "Land of Dreams." Prior to the denouement the two humorists engage in plenty of lively situations which increase with laugh-compelling velocity until the final curtain reaches them. There are many surprises, dances, lilting songs, features, original bits, complications, screams and other ingredients destined to amuse the grouchiest person on earth. Those who have seen the show, declare it to be the best of the Mutt and Jeff series, which is something to remember in view of the many successful vehicles the two have appeared in since they became real stage personages. The company includes a cast of clever entertainers including a real singing and dancing chorus of pretty girls. Gorgeous costumes a massive scenic equipment, electrical effects and other novelties are also promised.

DRAW FOR THE DISTRICT CUP

Peterborough, Oct. 30, 1919.

Editor, Examiner:

Sir,—Kindly correct your report in this evening's paper re O.C.A. annual meeting.

In the Ontario Tankard the cortect draw is as follows: Group No. 3—Bobcaygeon, Cannington, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay, Norwood, Peterborough. Play at Lindsay. Umpire, Mr. J. D. Flavelle.

In the District Cup as follows: District No. 2, Group A — Bobcaygeon, Cannington, Fenelon Falls, Lindsay. Play at Lindsay. Umpire, W. A. Reesor. Group B—Keene, Lakefield, Millbrook, Norwood, Peterborough. Play at Peterborough. Umpire, R. M. Waddell.

Winners to play off at Peterborough.

I never heard of a Mr. M. A. H. Wright ever belonging to the Peterborough Curling Club. If there is a man of such a name here, I am sure Mr. F. Brownscombe, secretary-treasurer, would be glad to have him join.

The rules of the Ontario Tankard have been so that if only three clubs were entered, each should play the other and one that wins to count first. In case of a tie, points to count.

The amendment to the rules were that this should also apply to the District Cup competition.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
R. M. Waddell.

BOWLING NEWS

The games were played as scheduled in the "Y." Bowling League last night when the Big Five went down to defeat to the Centrals. The pace set by the Centrals appeared too fast for the furriers, although Irvine, McIlmoyle and Smith bowled hard to keep in line. The Centrals were on the job all night chalking up high scores in each game. Mr. Walton, as a captain, is a great asset to his team, only once letting his score range short of 200. Heaslip, the star for the Centrals, was at a disadvantage, having spent the previous hour at basketball. Scores:

Cadiou Case Up at Brest—Probe of German Capital in Firm.

BREST, France.—A case involving one of the most mysterious murders ever committed in France came before the Brest assizes to-day. The murder dates back to December, 1[illegible]

Jean Cadiou, manager of a powder factory near Brest, which had been organized with German capital, disappeared Dec. 30, 1918. His body was found some weeks later in the river near the factory, the searches for which being directed to the spot through the revelations of a clairvoyant.

Louis Pierre, Chief Engineer of the factory, was arrested, charged with the killing of Cadiou, but later was released and joined the French army with which he served brilliantly and rose to the rank of a commissioned officer.

Great interest has been aroused throughout France in the outcome of the court investigation, as revelations are expected concerning the organization of the powder company with German capital. Some of the powder furnished the French Government proved of an inferior quality, and the Government's contract with the company was revoked.

BRASS CHECKS FOR FRANCE.

Some Shops Are Using Them to Relieve the Small Currency Shortage.

PARIS.—The small change famine in France has been intensified by the attention given to the matter through the passage of legislation making it illegal to melt down silver money and forbidding its exportation. The public is now hoarding small change, and business is greatly handicapped through inability to make change.

Some cafes are issuing stamped paper slips, good only where issued, for sums of less than 5 francs. Some shops and restaurants are also issuing brass checks of 1 franc denomination for use as change.

Many shops have posted signs announcing to customers that they must bring their own change if they desire to make purchases for amounts of less than 5 francs or for sums which are not a multiple of 5 francs.

The Government is firm in its decision not to issue paper money in denominations of less than 5 francs to meet the emergency, which it hopes soon to relieve by increased issues of silver.

German Orgy of Hate

COPIES of German newspapers from the days immediately following the publication of the Peace Treaty confirm the impression immediately gained from the cable despatches as to the German attitude toward the terms of the Allies, an attitude best designated as an orgy of impotent rage. There is not the slightest indication of a consciousness of proportion between guilt and retribution, of a willingness to balance up what Germany deserves with what she gets, or of a determination to make the most of the actual situation.

Apart from that isolated bourgeois freelance, Maximilien Harden, and the Independent Socialists, it would appear, there was not one voice raised in Germany in recognition of even the inevitability, not to say substantial justice, of the peace terms. From extreme Conservatives to Government Socialists, from Prussian jingoes to Bavarian particularists, from the pro-English group led by Theodor Wolff, of the Berliner Tageblatt, and Prince Lichnowsky to the pro-French clique of George Bernhard, of the Vossische Zeitung, the comment is one of unreserved, unqualified condemnation.

In the beginning the rage of the German press was directed mainly against the territorial and economic clauses of the treaty. The issue of membership in the League of Nations seems to have been altogether neglected. The loudest shots were fired against the "betrayal" of Germany by President Wilson, whose fourteen points had furnished the basis for Germany's surrender. The following comment by Dr. Ludwig Haas, member of the Baden ministry, published in the Berliner Tageblatt, is typical. Herr Haas (not to be confused with Hugo Haase, leader of the Independent Socialists, quotes President Wilson's utterances on the self-determination of peoples, and continues:

"Should Wilson have made the mental reservation that it (the principle of self-determination) did not apply to the Germans of the Saar district and to those Germans who are now to be made Poles without any plebiscite?

"If Wilson subscribes to this peace it would be much better for his reputation to declare cynically that all his words were empty phrases, not seriously meant, calculated to deceive the world.

"We cannot believe that the President of a great and honorable people should in this manner gamble with his reputation and the good name of his nation. We still hope that he will in the course of further negotiations take a stand for Germany's rights and his own honor.

"German indignation is not aroused by the fact that the Allies want to coerce us in the most brutal manner. We are vanquished, and it would not be the first time in the world's history that a vanquished people is made to pay. The mood of boundless bitterness is caused by the fact that faith and loyalty have no validity in the world any more.

"There is only one way out for Germany—to reject the peace unless it is altered in its very foundations. And this regardless of consequences."

This demand for unqualified rejection, although at the start encouraged by the highest government officials, was within a few days slightly modified. The storm was laid, not on ultimate refusal, but on immediate protest.

Perhaps even more than the territorial settlement, the economic clauses of the treaty are denounced as impossible both of acceptance and fulfilment. The Frankfurter Zeitung declares that the Peace Treaty achieves the strangulation of German economic life. It points out that the Allies demand first mortgage on Germany's full resources until all Allied claims are paid. Such first mortgage, the paper believes, would mean inevitably the cancellation of German internal debt, including pre-war Government bonds held in the country; and this, again, would lead to the collapse of the total economic structure of Germany.

The Berliner Tageblatt declares the economic conditions are wholly intolerable and asks the German people to realize that the Allies are imposing on them a new and autocratic sovereign in the form of the reparation commission, which shall be in control of German life and property for years to come.

Preparing For a Holiday.

It is much easier to die than to take a vacation. A man who is summoned to his last long voyage may set his house in order in an hour; a few words, written or dictated, will dispose of his possessions, and his heirs will gladly attend to the details. This done, he may fold his hands on his chest and depart this vexatious life in peace. It is quite another matter to prepare for a few weeks away from town. There are bills to be paid; the iceman, and the milkman, and the laundryman must be choked off and the daily paper restrained from littering the doorstep. There is hair to be cut, and teeth to be tinkered, and so on. In short, it takes days to stop the machinery of living for a fortnight, and days to start it going again. But, my dear, one must have a change.

Wants a Seat.

Miss Christabel Pankhurst intends to become a member of Parliament. Her latest intention is to contest the Westminster constituency if it should be rendered vacant, as is probable, by the retirement of Mr. Burdett-Coutts. At a public meeting she addressed recently Miss Pankhurst said she was all for lifting the workers to the level of the proletariat, not for bringing the proletariat down to the level of the workers. She was sure that with the introduction of fresh machinery and better living conditions, wages would be higher, and production greater under a six days' working scheme such as outlined by Lord Leverhulme.

GERMAN COMMUNISTS SPLIT

Minority Forming a Bolshevist Party of the Russian Type.

COPENHAGEN.—There has been a split in the German Communist Party, says a Berlin despatch to the National Tidends.

Eighteen of forty-three delegates to the party's convention quit the gathering because they considered the programme of the leaders insufficiently radical. The minority, says the despatch, favours Bolshevism after the Russian method, and has begun the formation of a new party.

Norwood Correspondence

NORWOOD, October 29. — On Tuesday, October 21st, in Asphodel, the death occurred of Mary Ann Golloher, aged 61, wife of Mr. David Andrews. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon to the Norwood cemetery.

John Gardner.

The funeral of the late John Gardner of Chicago, took place on Wednesday afternoon to the Norwood cemetery, from the home of his son, Mr. William Gardner, 5th line of Dummer. The late Mr. Gardner was a former Dummer resident but for several years had resided in Chicago.

Parker Stevenson.

On Tuesday morning word was received that the death had occurred on Monday in Hamilton hospital of Mr. Parker Stevenson, who until within a few years ago had been a highly respected and useful citizen of this town. The late Mr. Stevenson was in the veterinary business here for many years previous to going to Palermo where he had purchase a farm. He was an active member of the Methodist church and the superintendent of the Sabbath school.

Over 30 years ago he married the elder daughter of the late Rev. R. Sanderson, who was pastor of the Methodist church in this village.

Besides his widow he leaves to mourn his loss one daughter, Zella, and two sons, Frank and Ray.

The funeral will take place from his late home at Palermo, on Wednesday afternoon. The bereaved family will have the deepest sympathy of many old friends and acquaintances in Norwood and vicinity.

The Churches.

Rev. Mr. McKay of Toronto, conducted the service in the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning in the interests of the Forward movement of the Presbyterian church.

The Methodists.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered in the Methodist church on Sunday morning. In the evening there will be a song service.

Wedding Bells.

On Tuesday at half past twelve, in the Methodist Church, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Hazel Morrison, elder daughter of Mr. Thos. Morrison and Mr. Clarence Varcoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Varcoe of Roseneath.

The bride, who was daintily attired in a navy blue suit with hat to match and carrying a bouquet of white roses, was given away by her father.

The bride and groom were unattended but the bride's little four-year-old sister, Joy, acted as flower girl.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Terrill, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties.

The best wishes of many will follow the young couple to their new home.

Anniversary services were observed in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday and Monday. Splendid congregations listened to the Rev. Major Birch deliver two inspiring addresses on Sunday. The choir also rendered special music.

On Monday a fowl supper was held in the basement of the church, when an exceptionally large crowd attended and the Presbyterians won a reputation for themselves, if never before. All that goes to make up an appetizing dinner was there in abundance, with plenty to spare, so much so, that a supper was held the following evening.

Major Birch delivered an interesting talk; also a short programme was provided. The proceeds amounted to over $155.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. As Fall Nights Grow Chill

It is a real joy in damp Fall weather to spend the long, chilly evenings by a cheery, comfort-giving Perfection Oil Heater. For that "between seasons" period when it is too early to start the furnace, yet cool enough to require heat of some sort, the Perfection proves invaluable.

Upstairs or down, it warms any room, any time, without trouble or inconvenience. There are no ashes or coal to bother with, and the house doesn't become uncomfortably hot and stuffy.

The Perfection Oil Heater is well made and good-looking. Its brass burner insures years of service and burns every drop of Imperial Royalite Coal Oil into blue, odorless heat. The wick-stop prevents smoking.

Nickel trimmings, with the drum black japanned or blue enameled.

SAYS PETERBORO ONCE ELECTED A NEGRO FOR MAYOR

RECENT ELECTION INTENSIFIES IMAGINATION OF CURBSTONE POLITICIANS.

The unexpected outcome of last week's election has given the street corner cliques a new subject for discussion and the old timers are busy raking their experience for comparisons. Many of these are evidently the result of hard imaginative work and sometimes the effect of the discussion on passers-by bear a close resemblance to that given by a group of fishermen lately returned from Ketchecum. Of late the comparisons have been inclined to run in a circle but this morning a new one was heard to the effect that Peterboro at some time in the dim and distant past had a negro mayor over night.

According to the story the preliminaries at this particular election were becoming rather wearisome and someone to relieve the strain nominated an old negro, residing in a shack on lower George Street for the office of Mayor. Someone else seconded the nomination.

Election day came around and the negro candidate for Mayor had become a standing joke. But that night when the votes had been counted the community received a jolt for lo, the negro's name led all the rest. Next morning bright and early, so the tale continues, the newly elected City Fathers presented themselves at His Worship's residence with a rather copulent bank roll in their midst. Profering this the City Fathers intimated to His Worship that they were willing to pay it for the pleasure of bidding him farewell. Their offer was accepted in the proper spirit and His Worship departed bag and baggage on the first train for the west leaving his office vacant.

HIGH WIND SET HOUSE ON FIRE

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM KEENE... NUMBER OF ACCIDENTS.

KEENE, Oct. 29.—During the high wind on Tuesday morning the house belonging to Miss Jessie eRnnir caught on fire from a defective flue. The blaze was soon extinguished by the men in the neighborhood without any serious damage being done.

Mr. William Puffer has finished taking stock at the store of the late A. D. Anderson and returned to his home at Norwood last Friday.

Miss Olive Lumsden has returned to Wick after a week's pleasant visit with her sister, Miss Alice.

Mr. Harold Rochr is visiting freinds at Toronto and Niagara.

Leg Broken

While helping to load a scow load of wheat at Keene wharf on Tuesday evening of last week, Mr. William Connal met with the misfortune of having one of his limbs broken in two places. We are pleased to report Mr. Connall doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Fitzgerald of Lakefield and Mrs. McCoy of Peterboro were guests last Friday at the home of the Misses Lumsden

Mrs. Peter Hervie returned last Wednesday from the West where she spent the past three months visiting friends.

Mrs. (Dr.) Harrisson returned on Saturday from Toronto, where she spent the past week with friends.

Mr. Roy Kempt met with a very painful accident last Thursday while on his farm, by one of the traces of the team he was driving breaking and cutting a bad gash on one of his limbs. Mr. Kempt was driven to St. Josephs Hospital at Peterboro and the X-rays used, but no serious damage to the limb was found.

The young men of Keene and vicinity gave a Hallowe'en dance at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening of this week. The affair was a very enjoyable one.

Miss Agnes Lumsden is visiting Peterboro friends this week.

St. John's Church which has been under a course of repair for the past three weeks was re-opened last Sunday morning. Rev. Fr. McGuire, the pastor, assisted by Bishop O'Brien of Peterboro, conducting the services. The choir of St. Paul's Church, Norwood, rendered the music for the occasion.

Mrs. P. Kindred returned on Saturday from Toronto where she attended the meeting of the Methodist Provincial Sunday School Association.

Mrs. Thomas Taylor has returned from Monaghan and Peterboro where she was visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Mrs. Andrew Davidson, and Mrs. A. D. Anderson were in Peterboro on Thursday of last week.

Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered by Rev. Honey next Sunday morning, at 10.30. Sunday School will be held in the evening, at which a report will be given by the delegate, Mrs. Kindred, of the meeting of the Provincial Sunday School, held in Toronto in the past week.

The appearance of a wild cat and lynx in the vicinity of the village during th past week has caused a good deal of excitement. Several of our local young men having seen both.

Mrs. Thomas O'Neil of Hastings visited her sister Mrs. Daniel McCartney a few days last week.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR WEEK

November 2, 119.

Temperance Lesson, (World's Temperance Sunday.) Jeremiah 35: 1-8, 12-14; 18, 19.

Golden Text: Whether therefore, ye eat or drink or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God. — I Cor. 10:31.

1. Verse 1. How did the Lord convey his "word" to Jeremiah?

2. If Jeremiah were living to-day, why would God or not speak to him as in that day?

3. Why is it reasonable to suppose that every man has the potential ability to hear God speaking to him if he will but develop it?

4. Verse 2. What was God's purpose in instructing Jeremiah to offer to the Rechabites wine to drink, seeing that they were pledged abstainers from strong drink?

5. Verses 3, 4. Who were these Rechabites and how did they come to be abstainers from strong drink? (See vs. 6, 8.)

6. Verses 5, 6. What can you tell about Jonadab, the original ancestor of the Rechabites?

7. Verses 5, 6. What was the chief motive of Jonadab in being a teetotaler, and in binding his progenitors to total abstinence?

8. To what extent should parents who are abstainers, impress upon their children that the only way to be sure of not becoming inebriates is to be total abstainers?

9. Verse 7. Which is more likely to tempt men and women away from God, city or country life?

10. Why is it quite logical that while we in these days advocate the Rechabite practice of total abstinence that by the same process of reasoning we do not advocate living in tents?

11. Verse 8. To what extent should we obey our parents and keep up their habits?

12. When we are tempted to drink even by good people what should our answer be?

13. Verses 12-14. What are the strongest reasons why church people should not drink strong drink even in so called moderation? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by the members of the club.)

14. Verses 12-14. Why was it that while the Rechabites strictly obeyed their earthly Father, that the men of Judah disobeyed their heavenly Father?

15. Verse 18. Would you say or not and why that it was according to the will of God that Jonadab was a teetotaler and made total abstinence a rule of his house?

16. What reason is there to believe that total abstinence has always been God's preference for mankind?

17. Verse 18. Would you say or not and why that no well informed man can habitually take strong drink as a beverage and be a true Christian?

18. Verse 19. Who are the successors of the Rechabites?

19. Why is a race of strictly temperate people more virile and likely to survive longer than a race of people addicted to strong drink?

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 9, 1919:—Peter's Great Confession. Matt. 16: 13-24.

BLISS NATIVE HERB TABLETS

A RUN DOWN SYSTEM is like a run-down clock. Unless tuned up it is of little use. If you are run-down from over-work, don't neglect your condition. Get a box of Bliss Native Herb Tablets, take one or two at bedtime, and you will note an immediate improvement. For over thirty years they have proved a wonderful aid to men, women and children in maintaining health and vigor. George Greenhalf, Denville, Tenn., writes: "I was all run-down in health, and it seemed nothing would help me. I was induced to try Bliss Native Herb Tablets. I am thankful for this wonderful remedy, because I am enjoying good health." Don't delay taking Bliss Native Herb Tablets. There is nothing to equal them for removing the causes of constipation, liver and kidney trouble, sick headache, rheumatism or disordered stomach. They stimulate the liver, purify the blood and tone up the system; also improve the appetite. Get the genuine. Look for the trade mark and money back guarantee on every box. Price $1.00 per box of 200 tablets.

A Slow Process.

Tit-Bits:—Mrs Brown was at the back of the church waiting to have her baby christened. Baby was getting restless, so she beckoned the verger.

"Is the sermon nearly finished?" she whispered.

"No mum," replied the verger, "another half hour of it yet. He's only on his 'lastly'."

"But," said Mrs. Brown, "will it take him half an hour to get through his 'lastly'?"

"No, mum," was the demure reply, "but there's the 'one more word and I'm done,' and the 'finally,' and the 'in conclusion' to come yet. Don't be impatient."

Principal payable without charge at the Office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the Office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria.

Bonds may be registered as to principal or as to principal and interest, as hereinafter provided, at any of the above-mentioned offices.

Interest payable, without charge, half-yearly, May 1st and November 1st, at any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold

Denominations: $50, $100, $500 and $1,000

Issue Price: 100 and Accrued Interest,

Income Return 5½% per Annum

The proceeds of the Loan will be used to pay indebtedness incurred, and to meet expenditures to be made in connection with demobilization (including the authorized war service gratuity to our soldiers, land settlement loans, and other purposes connected with their re-establishment into civil life), for capital outlay upon shipbuilding, and other national undertakings forming part of Canada's industrial reconstruction programme, and for the establishment of any necessary credits for the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, timber and other products, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:

10% on application; 20% January 9th, 1920;
20% December 9th, 1919; 20% February 10th, 1920;
31.21% March 9th, 1920.

The last payment of 31.21% covers 30% balance of principal and 1.21% representing accrued interest at 5½% from November 1st to due dates of the respective instalments.

A full half-year's interest will be paid on May 1st, 1920, making the cost of the bonds 100 and interest.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at the time of application at 100 without interest, or on any instalment due date thereafter together with accrued interest at the rate of 5½% per annum.

This Loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest are a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The amount of this issue is $300,000,000, exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds of previous issues. The Minister of Finance, however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $300,000,000.

Payments

All cheques, drafts, etc., covering instalments are to be made payable to the Credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions other than those paid in full on application must be accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed. Official Canvassers will forward subscriptions or any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will accept subscriptions and issue receipts.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at time of application at 100 without interest, or on any instalment due date thereafter, together with accrued interest to time of making payment in full. Under this provision, payment of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid in full on or before November 15th, 1919, par without interest or 100%.
If remaining instalments paid on Dec. 9th, 1919, balance of 90% and interest ($90.58 per $100).
If remaining instalments paid on Jan. 9th, 1920, balance of 70% and interest ($70.84 per $100).
If remaining instalments paid on Feb. 10th, 1920, balance of 50% and interest ($51.06 per $100).
If remaining instalment paid on Mar. 9th, 1920, balance of 30% and interest ($31.21 per $100).

Payment of instalments or payment in full after November 15th, 1919, can be made only on an instalment due date.

Denomination and Registration

Bearer bonds, with coupons, will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, and may be registered as to principal. The first coupon attached to these bonds will be due on May 1st, 1920.

Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000, $50,000, $100,000, or any multiple of $100,000.

Payment of Interest

A full half-year's interest at the rate of 5½% per annum will be paid May 1st, 1920.

Form of Bond and Delivery

Subscribers must indicate on their applications the form of bond and the denominations required, and the securities so indicated will be delivered by the bank upon payment of subscriptions in full.

Bearer bonds of this issue will be available for delivery at the time of application to subscribers desirous of making payment in full. Bonds registered as to principal only, or fully registered as to principal and interest, will be delivered to subscribers making payment in full, as soon as the required registration can be made.

Payment of all instalments must be made at the bank originally named by the subscriber.

TAKING SCRATCHES OFF THE FURNITURE

Polished Articles Must Be Rubbed Vigorously With Linseed Oil.

A scratch on polished furniture can be almost obliterated by rubbing vigorously with linseed oil.

Add a little lemon juice to the water you cook a tough fowl in.

Cotton the same shade is better to mend gloves with than silk.

When pressing silk spread over it a sheet of tissue paper. This will prevent that ugly shine usually seen on pressed silks.

A good broomholder may be made by nailing two reels to the wall about two inches apart. Hang the broom upside down between the reels.

To clean rusty needles, run them up and down in the earth. Have the needles threaded, with the thread double, so that there will be something to catch hold of to extract the needles.

SHORTER SKIRTS COMING IN AGAIN

NEW YORK.—The pope notwithstanding, New York designers will go the limit in their sartorial creations this winter. And the "limit," according to the confession of some of them, will be enough to make father hide behind his paper.

Instead of striking terror into the hearts of the brave men who make the fashion, the pope's pronouncement against the modern "indecency" in dress has given some of them a fillip. One prominent designer was bold enough to say that the pope's hints of modification and restraint would send women in the opposite direction, just as prohibition made some people want to drink who had never tried it before.

If skirts are to be, well—short, and bodices low—the creative gentlemen are willing to take full responsibility.

They freely admit that some women besides Gaby Deslys, will wear skirts above their knees, with pretty silk garters entwining their hose, and that a great many will have 100 per cent. backless dinner gowns.

M. G. Bernard, of the Maison Bernard, said: "This winter we anticipate the most extreme display of extravagance and elegance ever witnessed. It is a reaction after the uniforms and modest dress of war time.

"The perfectly bare back, with the slim harness — like straps — is the vogue. Skirts, short as they can be, of course—yes, and chic garters on view. Sheer materials will continue to be popular. Women want those things because French women are wearing them, and what they want they must have."

Merchants Must Build "Backfire"

Can Beat Mail Order Houses at Their Own Game If They Will Do It

Advertising Only Weapon

Catalogue Concerns Spend Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Annually to Create Demand For Their Merchandise

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

The forest ranger and the prairie farmer have learned that they must fight with fire. They know that when the all-consuming forest or prairie fires are sweeping toward them their only hope of safety lies in the "backfire." By kindling and carefully controlling a fire of their own, they force the bigger fire to burn itself out, finding no further fuel on which to feed.

The merchants of the small cities and towns are learning that in waging their fight for existence they must adopt the tactics of the men of the West. The great mail order houses of the cities are the consuming flames which threaten to wipe out the retail merchants of the small towns unless the latter, realising their danger, take steps to remove the menace. The retail merchants, as a whole, are beginning to realise that they must fight fire with fire and that to save themselves they must build a "backfire."

Advertising is the weapon with which the mail order houses conduct their warfare on the retail merchants of the small cities and towns. The mail order houses do their advertising through their own catalogues and through certain publications which are known as mail order advertising mediums. A big mail order house spends hundreds of thousands of dollars merely on the preparation and publication of its bulky catalogues.

Business Built Upon Advertising.

The catalogue houses also spend thousands upon thousands of dollars in advertising in the mail order publications which look for their circulation to the people of the small towns and the rural districts. Advertising in some of these mediums costs as much as from $40 to $85 for a single inch, yet the mail order houses find it profitable to pay these high rates. Their business is built upon advertising and if they were denied the use of the mails for their advertising for a single month, their business would be destroyed.

In advertising, the local merchants find the only weapon with which they can beat the mail order houses at their own game. This does not mean necessarily only newspaper advertising, although that is the big gun in the battery employed by the successful merchant in his battle for trade. Advertising is a big word and it covers a big field. There is no longer to be found the man who does not believe in advertising. Every merchant believes in advertising of some sort. The placing of a display in a show window is advertising. The only difference between that kind of advertising and advertising in a newspaper is that where the one reaches dozens the other reaches hundreds. Attractive window displays are, of course, an important adjunct of any retail store. They serve their purpose, but this purpose is only to attract the attention of those who may be passing by the store. There are other forms of advertising, such as personal solicitation, but printed matter must always continue to be the chief reliance of merchants in attracting customers to their stores.

Advertising Begets Confidence.

The buying public has learned that the store which takes the people into its confidence through its advertising is the one in which it may expect to get the best bargains and the most satisfactory treatment. It knows that the store which advertises consistently and regularly has the best and the most up-to-date stocks because this store sells its goods more rapidly than the one which does not advertise, and, therefore, is not forced to carry over old stock from one season to another. The public knows that the store which advertises can place lower prices on its goods because it turns over its stock oftener than the store which does not advertise and therefore does not have its capital tied up in slow-moving merchandise.

The mail order house does not get its business by merely letting the public know that it has dry goods or hardware or groceries or some other commodity to sell. It creates a demand for its goods by placing in its catalogue attractive pictures and detailed descriptions of the articles which it has to sell. The lure of the mail order catalogue lies in the fact that the merits, or alleged merits, of the merchandise offered are placed before the prospective purchaser in the most graphic manner. The local retail merchant has the same opportunity to do this that the mail order house has, and can do it much more effectively than the mail order house can. The retail merchant can talk to the people of his community through his home newspaper and that is something which the mail order houses as a rule cannot do, for the local newspapers, through a sense of loyalty to their communities and their home merchants, will not accept the advertising with which the mail order houses would flood them if they had the opportunity.

East Meets West

THOUSANDS of young Canadians, sons and daughters, grandsons and granddaughters of Ontario men and women, are out building up Western Canada. They are pioneering in the West as their parents or grandparents pioneered in Ontario. Many are helping to build up thriving community centres, on the prairies, the foothills, and in the fruit districts of British Columbia,

The Globe is the newspaper which pays special attention to drawing the East and the West together.

The Globe has always appreciated the close family ties existing between East and the West. It has always advocated unity and accord as the only means of great national development.

For years its own representatives, writers of note and distinction, have travelled through Western Canada at frequent intervals during the year, sending back information about what Ontario's Sons and Daughters are doing in the West. They report events and comment upon development in the Great Land beyond the Great Lakes.

Back in the early 60's of the last century, J. H. Ashdown chanced to read an article in The Globe dwelling on development in the West, that lured him to Winnipeg. Today The J. H. Ashdown Hardware Co., Limited, is one of the great business organizations of Western Canada.

For these reasons, Ontario Men and Women should read The Globe.

Yet this is but one phase of the work accomplished by The Globe. Nothing is overlooked to make The Globe what its founder, George Brown, would have it be—a Great Family Newspaer—a newspaper for all the family in the home—a newspaper for all thoughtful people in every walk of life.

Its discussions of public questions, its great news gathering and news editing organizations, its many features and departments—a department for almost every important phase of human endeavor—give it a peculiar status in the newspaper world, and make it worthy of a place in every Canadian home.

What The Globe has been during 75 years' service to the Canadian people is a surety of what it will be in the days to come.

The Globe to-day stands unique in its facilities and possibilities for service. Its publishers guarantee that these will be employed for the continued enhancement of The Globes' value to its readers.

NOW IS THE TIME of the year when it is necessary to start fires in the furnace and range, the same to be kept up for the next six months, day and night, whether you are on hand to look after them or not. It is important to see that everything is kept in good condition to avoid accidents which may occur, and also more important to see that your fire insurance is in force and in a good company. Do not delay to get your policy made out and in your possession. You never know when or where a fire is going to break out. Be prepared for it at all times even if it never happens. The cost of maintaining a good policy is very small if you let us write it. But your protection will be perfect, and your loss, should one occur, promptly settled. THE WAR TAX ON CHEQUES

Wholesale houses of Canada lose thousands of dollars annually because of the fact that customers in paying their bills forget to affix stamps as required by Dominion law. This point was discussed at the annual meeting of the Canadian Credit Men's Association held a few weeks ago, and it was decided to take the matter up with the Bankers' Association with a view to having the stamp printed as part of the check; the check books could then be sold to customers for the cost of the stamps. This has been the custom in England for some time past.

The proposal is one which deserves the careful consideration of the Canadian Bankers' Association, for even if it does not affect the banks to any great extent, the change suggested should be a benefit to facilitate commercial transactions. If the stamp tax is to be a permanent form of federal revenue, the most economical means of collection should be adopted. As all checks must bear this stamp, and it was intended to fall upon the drawer, the suggestion would seem to be a good one. By impressing upon the drawer the fact that to issue a check costs money, their use for small payments might be curtailed, with a saving of labour to the banks. As it is at present, creditors are usually glad to have the opportunity to stamp their customers' checks, with the result that parsimonious debtors make it a point to forget this little detail

SLANG IN NEW DICTIONARY.

Funkhole Means a Government Position and Cushy a Soft Job.

LONDON, — Cassell's New English dictionary contains many new words which it was stated in the introduction, are likely to make good their claim to be included in the English language.

Following are some examples: Cushy, meaning a soft job; conchy, meaning a conscientious objector; bud, meaning a closed friend or companion; eyewash, meaning humbug; fed up, meaning to have a sufficiency; funkhole, meaning a government job; hot-stuff, meaning an unscrupulous or formidable person; movies, meaning moving pictures; the push, meaning outkicked; strafe, meaning vent of hatred; tophole, meaning feeling fine; unsteen, meaning an unknown number; the wind-up, meaning to show fear; old bean, meaning the head; bus, meaning an aeroplane; brass hat, meaning a staff officer.

CRUSOE AND HIS ISLAND

ANY person with a bowing acquaintance with history, actual, literary, or otherwise, could no doubt call to mind offhand a number of stories which, in spite of their being hopelessly fictitious, have implanted themselves so firmly in the popular fancy, that all the King's horses and all the King's men could not, by this time, budge them. Three, all taken at random, will serve, and curiously enough Defoe is the plaintiff in the case of two of them. They are the confusion of Crusoe's island with Juan Fernandez, the Ride to York, and the existence of the original Old Curiosity Shop. It is of no avail to insist that Dickens himself declared that the Old Curiosity Shop was no more; that the ride to York was good, or bad, history two centuries before Turpin was endowed with it; and that no one who had ever read Robinson Crusoe could confuse the famous island with Juan Fernandez. The man in the street, ignoring that caustic phrase of the great Birreller, "What in the name of Bodley has the public to do with literature?" smiles indulgently, and gets along with his mistake.

Yet, in all seriousness, the question must arise, why should men waste their time arguing as to the original of an island in a story written early in the eighteenth century. The answer is very simple, because men love to be amused. Dr. Johnson once declared that there were only three books in existence which the ordinary reader would rather see lengthened than shortened. Robinson Crusoe was one of them, and if the aforesaid ordinary reader does not perchance know what the other two are, the opportunity is open to him for his amusement. Anyhow Dr. Johnson's famous contemporary, the Frenchman Marmontel, was equally explicit. "Robinson Crusoe," he said, "is the first book I ever read with exquisite pleasure; and I believe every boy in Europe might say the same thing."

About a century later, a critic, with an overpowering attraction to the banal, summed up the attractions of the book in a couple of sentences, which should be preserved in the interests of the gayety of nations:—"If it be inquired by what charm it is that these surprising adventures should have instantly pleased, and always pleased, it will be found that few books have ever so naturally mingled amusement with instruction. The attention is fixed, either by the simplicity of the narration, or by the variety of the incidents; the heart is amended by a vindication of the ways of God to man; and the understanding is informed by various examples, how much utility ought to be preferred to ornament; the young are instructed, while the old are amused."

Even so brilliant a writer as Mr. R. H. Dana joins the worshipping throng, and, in a delightful description, in "Two Years Before the Mast," tells how, as the brig Pilgrim left the "deep blue cloud" of the island behind it, he "gave a parting look and bade farewell to the most romantic spot any eyes had ever seen."

All of which is very good, but from Juan Fernandez to the mouth of the Orinoco happens to be some 9,200 miles, measuring from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and with all South America in between. And it was "near the mouth of the Great River of Oroonoque," as Defoe is careful to insist, on the frontispiece of the first edition and in the story itself, that Crusoe's island lay. Indeed, in order that there should be no mistake whatever about the matter, Defoe brought out, in a conversation between Crusoe and Friday, the fact that the land the former "perceived to the west and northwest was the great island Trinidad on the north point of the mouth of the river."

How, then did the wonderful muddle arise? It is all extremely simple. Defoe, like Shakespeare and innumerable other writers, borrowed his plot ready made. Seven years before Captain Worder Rogers had published a book, in which he had told the story of how he had rescued Alexander Selkirk from his self-imposed maroonment, if the word may be coined, on the island of Juan Fernandez. The idea appealed to the fancy of Defoe, just as later it did to Cowper and many others. The effect on Cowper was seen in the well-known poem beginning, "I am monarch of all I survey," on Defoe, in Robinson Crusoe, which, be it said, owes nothing at all but its idea to Selkirk or to Rogers.

Still, when the eighteen century was young, every man knew all about Selkirk, and every boy had read Crusoe, and knew that Crusoe was Selkirk. As time went on, what followed became inevitable. Crusoe was Selkirk, Selkirk's island was Juan Fernandez, therefore Juan Fernandez was Crusoe's island. Post hoc, propter hoc, what more could anyone demand. But,—Defoe explains, carefully, that it was not. Yes! but so did Dickens explain that the Curiosity Shop had been pulled down, and Defoe, again, that Nevinson rode to York. The fate of the Curiosity Shop, the position of Crusoe's island, these are details which are forgotten as soon as learned. Our business is with Codlin and Short, Dick Swiveller and Marchioness, Sally Brass and Quilp, with Crusoe and Friday, and all the other puppets. The positions of islands, the sites of shops, such things are the affairs of the surveyor and the hydrographer. As for the Ride to York, the Circus settled all that, decades and decades ago.

Women as Brave As the Men

THEIR STRUGGLE SHOWS A REMARKABLE SPIRIT.

Talk of the bravery of men, but where can you find a finer spirit than among the half-sick women who are fighting and struggling to do their duty against the terrible odds of ill-health, and who will not give up.

One woman in every three is struggling against weakness. Most of them are not exactly sick, but, oh, how miserable!

The burden and misery of it all has its foundation in the blood which is thin and watery. The red cells are too few. The very stream of life is reduced in vitality. Weakness and inevitable ill-health are the certain result.

Every ailing or weak women can quickly regain her health in this very simple way. By filling the system with the nutrition that comes from rich red blood, a quick change for the better will result. To accomplish this, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets after each meal. You'll feel better immediately for the simple reason that Ferrozone renews the blood. It gives you vim, vigor, endurance, restores a tired, worn-out system very quickly.

You'll feel like new all over once you get Ferrozone, working through your blood. It puts color into faded cheeks, brightens the eye, quickens the step, brings back that wonderful feeling of youth.

One of the finest things Ferrozone does is to make you eats lots and digest it as well. With keen appetite, sound sleep, strong nerves and lots of nourishing blood you're bound to regain robust health. Any sickly girl or ailing woman that Ferrozone won't make well must be incurable. There is a secret power in Ferrozone and it is worth a trial at all events. Fifty cents per box, six for $2.50. At all dealers in medicine, or by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Sir Edward Jenner

The Modern Medical Idea —Sickness Prevention

Back in 1796, when he developed the vaccine treatment to combat smallpox, Edward Jenner helped to start the trend of medical thought in the new direction of Sickness Prevention.

Today anti-toxins, serums, vaccines and sanitation—all these check disease before it can gain hold. But constipation still remains one of the most devastating of all plagues, because by reducing the body's power of resistance it makes it an easy victim of every and any disorder.

Leading medical authorities agree that 90% of disease has its origin in the intestinal tract—in constipation.

Your physician will tell you that pills, salts, castor oil, mineral waters, etc., simply force the system and weaken the intestinal muscles

Nujol is entirely different.

Nujol prevents constipation because it softens the food waste and encourages the intestinal muscles to act naturally.

Nujol helps Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

The "Examiner's" "Buy-at-Home" Campaign

IS EARLY CLOSING CARRIED TOO FAR?

The Buy-at-Home Campaign in the Examiner has been receiving a great deal of favourable comment from the buying public, merchants and others, and little expeficences are being sent in to The Examiner Office, especially by the city shoppers. We are reproducing two of them to-day. The shopper feels that he should be represented in matters of this kind as well as the merchants, believing that the co-operation of the merchants with the buying public of both town and country is desirable in the matter of service given by the stores of Peterborough.

The first experience is as follows:

A gentleman of means in the city, holding a lucrative position in one of our large establishments, recently went to a certain hardware store in Peterborough to buy some paint and other supplies, but had just come from his place of business, that closed at 5.30 o'clock. It was after that hour, perhaps 15 minutes, when he reached the store, and was told that they could not sell him any paint or any other goods after 5.30 o'clock. The result was that this gentleman went home, took up an out-of-town catalogue, and sent off a good-sized order, that Peterborough should have had the benefit of. The gentleman could not find it convenient to personally order his goods until he quit work in the evening, and had no idea the stores were closed for business at 5.30 o'clock. This gentleman thinks some of the clothing and shoe stores should be open on Wednesday evening until 9 o'clock, to help take the load off Saturday.

Another experience:

A mother living on Charlotte Street, requiring two winter coats for her little girls, obtained some in Peterborough at a price of $10.50 each. The exact same coat was advertised in the Toronto papers by a catalogue house at $14.50. There was no difference whatever in the coats, as the matter had been gone into fully by the purchaser, who knew exactly the style and everything pertaining to the article. This woman has always been of the opinion that careful purchasers can buy better in Peterborough than in Toronto, and this little incident makes her more certain of her opinion.

CONDON—GRADY

At six o'clock yesterday morning in the Church of the Sacred Heart, the marriage of John Condon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Condon, to Margaret E. Grady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Grady, was quietly solemnized by Rev. Father J. J. O'Brien. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore her travelling suit of navy blue Panama cloth, with seal collar, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums the gift of the Altar Society, of which she was secretary. Her bridesmaid, Miss Ethel R. Kennedy, wore taupe velour suit with seal trimmings, and carried pale yellow chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Mr. Jack McCarney.
Mr. J. L. Armstrong, organist, played the wedding marches and special music during the ceremony, after which the parties partook of a dainty wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents.
Mr. and Mrs. Condon will reside in the city.

JONES—WANNAMAKER.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wannamaker, 485½ Bolivar St., on Thursday evening, Oct. 23, at 7.30 p.m. the marriage took place of their daughter, Edith Hazel, to Mr. Ernest J. Jones, youngest son of Mrs. Arthur Jones, Patterson Street.
The ceremony was performed in the presence of 60 guests. Adjutant W. Bunton, of the Salvation Army, officiating. The bride was attended by Mrs. Irene Young and the groom was attended by Mr. Henry J. Parnell. After the ceremony and congratulations a sumptuous repast was served in the dining room.
Mr. and Mrs. E. Jones left on the midnight train for their honeymoon, to be spent East. On their return they will take up their residence in the city.
The young couple were the recipients of a large number of presents, showing the esteem in which they were held by their many friends.

FARMERS' LEADER FINE PERSONALITY

MR. H. B COWAN SAYS MR. E. C. DRURY WILL BE A PRIDE TO THE U.F.O.

Speaking of Mr. E. C. Drury, who was chosen yesterday as the leader of the United Farmers and Labour coalition, Mr. H. B. Cowan said to-day that the new premier was a wonderfully likeable man and one of the best public speakers in the province: "I have seen him hold the member of the Dominion Cabinet at Ottawa for an hour, in a discussion on National policy," said Mr. Cowan. "He is a thorough student of economic and social problems. He understands the veiwpoint of the workingmen and farmers thoroughly. He is absolutely honest and sincere. He has the ability to make and keep friends, and as leader of the party will prove a great force in interpreting the aims and objects of the U.F.O. movement to city and country audiences. The farmers are sure to be proud of him."
Mr. Cowan remarked that the press reports failed to do justice to Mr. Drury's speech of acceptance at yesterday's meeting in Toronto. He emphasized the point that the movement did not lead to class legislation and that it would surely fail if it was conducted only in the interests of the farmers. Its success would depend upon the extent to which it voiced the desires of all the people. For this reason it might be necessary to go outside the party for Cabinet material.
Mr. Drury is a Methodist in religion and a Sunday School teacher of long standing. He is strong for prohibition, and is a thoroughly practical farmer. He was one of the first farmers in this district near Barrie to buy a tractor. He has a splendid farm a fine home and good land.
Mr. E. A. Peck said that he had heard Mr. Drury speak on quite a number of occasions, and had been deeply impressed by him. He believed that the new leader would be a strength to the farmers and that he could safely be depended upon for a sound progressive administration.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Florence Eastwood, Toronto, is visiting Dr. and Mrs. Eastwood, Brock street.

Rev. Father McFadden, of Parry Sound, is in the city for a few days.

At Deer Park Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon the wedding was quietly solemnized of Miss Theodora Lee and Mr. Lionel Amaden. Miss Lee was a frequent visitor in Peterborough.

Miss W. Higgins entertained the members of the George Street Methodist Choir last evening at her home 943 Water Street. The forty present spent a most enjoyable evening, games, contests and music, and after dainty refreshments were served, departed in a car which had been specially put on by the Street Railway Company for the occasion, at 12.30.

Mr. Fred. Amys, of Lakefield, was in the city to-day.

The condition of Miss Chamberlain, who is in Nicholls Hospital, remains unaltered.

Miss Maude Leahy left to-day to visit friends in New York accompanied by her brother, Dr. W. H. Leahy, who will resume his duties in the Broad Street Hospital.

Miss Robena Hardwick spent the week end with friends in Toronto.

Miss Olive Leahy left to-day for Rochester where she will resume her duties.

Misses Edith Savigny and Isobel Taylor are attending a Hallowe'en party in Lindsay.

Mr. G. N. Gordon was in Toronto on Tuesday on business.

The Bachelors and Benedicts are holding their third annual "At Home" at the Conservatory of Music Hall to-morrow night. Mr. Al. Linton with Mosher's six-piece orchestra, will be in attendance.

On Tuesday, four days after celebrating her 82nd birthday, Mrs. Elizabeth Hodges, 190 Antrim street, mother of Mrs. Martin Spencely, met with an accident, when she fell and broke her leg. She was taken to Nicholls Hospital.

To-night Will Be the Zero Hour for Coal Miners' Strike

OVER FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND COAL MINERS WILL BE EFFECTED —UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT PREPARES TO MOBILIZE TROOPS IN THE STRIKE AREA.

FIRST DIVISION VETERANS MUSTERED FOR DUTY IN THE WEST VIRGINIA COAL FIELDS

(United Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, October 31.—An application of the United States Government for a temporary injunction restraining strike activities of the United Mine Workers of America was granted by the Federal District Court to-day, on the ground that national disaster was impending, and the Government had the right to enforce laws and protect the people from the calamity.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—The approach of the hour in the threatened strike of more than 400,000 coal miners—to-night—found the Government secretly moving troops to strategic points in the affected area, while steps were taken to enjoin Union leaders from directing the proposed walk-out.

The troops' movements were as carefully guarded during the war. The Government officials believed that nothing short of the demands of the miners from quitting work at 12 o'clock to-morrow, and every precaution was being taken to prevent [illegible] mining regions from being the scenes of a civil strike.

Without official announcement, it became known [illegible] that the Illinois Militia is ready for strike duty if needed. [illegible] authorities for mobilization were so far completed that four hours [illegible] was believed sufficient to gather the Guardsmen, and put them for transportation to any part of the State.

Nothing less than a modern miracle, it appears early [illegible] morning, can prevent a strike of the bituminous coal miners [illegible] vation at midnight to-night.

Between four and five hundred thousand men, according to statements made at the headquarters of the Mine Workers of America, will lay down their tools in open defiance of the [illegible] officials of the Federal and State Governments.

The men demand a six-hour day, a five-day week, [illegible] per cent. increase in wages. Their employers contend that there [illegible] an agreement with the miners, which will extend until Peace is [illegible] declared. The exact words of the contract are that it shall "Remain in force for the duration of the war."

The miners contend the contract was terminated when the Armistice was signed.

If the strike continues for three weeks, industrial activities may be brought to a stop. Railroads probably will not be able to continue operations. Other public utilities will also face a tie-up, and industry in the country would be affected.

More than half of the coal miners of the country are members of the Miners' Union. Officials of the Union are confident at least 200,000 more than the total Union membership will join the strike.

Nearly 10,000 First Division veterans from Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., were due in Huntington last to-day for duty in the Virginia coal fields during the miners' strike, mine officials say they were informed to-day.

MAY APPEAL FOR AN INJUNCTION.

Assistant Attorney-General Ames was understood to be in Indianapolis, and the plan was to have him appear before a Federal Judge and apply for an injunction forbidding John L. Lewis and other Union leaders to conspire to violate the Lever Act, which makes it illegal to interfere with the nation's fuel supply.

This injunction step, it was reported, was undertaken by Attorney-General Palmer after careful consideration. It cannot halt the men striking, it was believed, but may keep their leaders from activly directing them.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—Here are the strike figures:
Number of bituminous coal miners, 655,000.
Paid-up Union members, 351,687.
Mines operated by Union men, 4,167.
Tons of coal mined weekly, 11,000,000.
Union fund reported back of the strike, $15,000,00.00.

MAXIMUM PRICES ESTABLISHED FOR FUEL.

WASHINGTON, October 31.—President Wilson to-day issued an executive order re-establishing the maximum prices for fuel as they existed when the Fuel Administration ceased to function. The President acted under the authority of the Food and Fuel Control Act.

The order, officials said, will reduce the prices of coal in many sections of the country.

MINERS LAYING DOWN THEIR TOOLS.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio, October 31.—The coal strike is already under way in Eastern Ohio. Early to-day 16,000 miners laid down their tools in various mines throughout this section, according to reports received here.

Other Union workers were reported leaving their work, and the Union leaders claimed 15,000 men would be out before night.

MOTOR DRIVER LOST CONTROL

AUTOMOBILE CRASHED INTO THE BANK OF TORONTO BUILDING.

Somebody tried to break the Bank of Toronto last night. Mr. Edward Wood, of the Stewart House, Hunter street, who was one of the participants in an automobile smash-up at the corner of George and Charlotte streets last week, was the principal in the affair. A young lady was with him in the front seat, and when he went to turn on to Hunter street from George street, the radius rods locked and all control of the car was lost. The car left the road and banged into the Bank of Toronto, "but did little damage thereto," after which it smashed into a show case of the Trevor studio next door to the bank. The headlights and radiator o fcar were badly damaged. Nobody was hurt. Some zealous canvasser placed a Victory Loan poster in the case, "right where the photos ought to be."

NEW TIMES

You can't halt time by tying the clock. It's double-stepping these days. Business is going through a quick-shift period.

The house which is marching with the times is turned to progress. Future leaders are helping the public adapt itself to new conditions.

This means publicity. For a quick-shift period the wise leader is using quick-action publicity—newspaper advertising.

And he isn't willing till Father Time has finished his new deal and turned the corner.

CONTENDS THE ALLIES ARE USING WRONG METHODS TO COMBAT BOLSHEVISM.

GERMANY'S REPLY

(United Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 31.— Germany is convinced that Bolshevism thrives on starvation, and cites this as the principal reason for refusing to join the Allies in an economic blockade of Russia. This was revéale in a wireless from Berlin to-day, outlining Germany's note of refusal to the Allies. The Ebert government also cited humanitarian principles as the ground for not co-operating in the proposed blockade, but emphasized its attitude that the Allies were using a wrong method in combatting Bolshevism.

MAY BRING IN A MINORITY REPORT

REPORT WILL EMBODY PROPOSAL FOR CASH ASSISTANCE TO SOLDIERS.

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—There will be a minority report on the finding of the Committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. The report, already made public, will not have the unanimous support of the members of the committee. It is said that the minority report will be backed largely by the Liberal members of the committee and will embody a proposal for cash assistance along the lines laid down in the resolution passed at the Liberal convention last July. This resolution called for cash grants of an indefinite amount to assist soldiers in civil life in distinction to the present arrangements for land settlement and vocational training. Both reports are still being [illegible] and [illegible] may be presented to the House this session.

A HALLOWE'EN WISH

Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight,
Make me a boy again just for to-night.

* * *

A small boy who is afraid of policemen, and is exceedingly uncomfortable in the dark; who is rich with a nickel and unhappy until he has spent it; who thinks it unfair to stretch across the sidewalk a rope in a dark part of the street, but who snickers with the rest of the gang behind a fence when unsuspecting adults trip over it; who regards a tic-tac and a reained string pinned against a window pane as the greatest idea ever invented, and who thinks it the height of daring to throw a cabbage at the door of a crotchety neighbour; who sees himself before Magistrate Dumble when the most venturesome of his companions carries off a verandah chair and laboriously drapes it over a bill board, and would far rather purloin a plate of taffy set out to cool than be invited into a girl friend's house to eat it and snow apples with the decorum that mothers insist upon; a boy who thinks false faces are great fun to scare the smaller children, but who is unaware of the false faces society makes use of it in its devious courses; who declares that girls should keep to themselves on Hallowe'en, with their sissy ways and screeching, giving the gang away, and who isn't sure whether witches stalk the street on the eve of All Saints' or whether that is just another of his father's attempts to scare him; and who thinks that nine o'clock is too early to go home and that Chief Thompson shouldn't be too strict on the best night of the year. And finally the boy who is happiest when Hallowe'en comes on Friday and there's no thought of school lessons or other bothersome duties that interfere with boyish pleasures. The small boys are envied more than they can know until their care free years have rolled past them.

SMALL FIRE ON RINK STREET.

At 4.30 yesterday afternoon the explosion of a blue torch at the Canadian Canoe Company's building, 316 Rink Street, caused a small fire, which, with the barrels of water stored in the building, was extinguished by the employees of the factory before the Fire Department arrived. Very little damage was done.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT MURRAY STREET.

The Hallowe'en party held last evening under the auspices of the Murray Street Baptist Church in the Murray Street Church Parlour was attended by the greatest success, and each of the forty members present spent a thoroughly enjoyable evening in music, games and ghost stories. The rooms had been most attractively decorated in appropriate Hallowe'en emblems.

THIRD READING THE G.T.R. BILL

HOUSE ADJOURNED TO ATTEND A STATE DINNER.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31. — The Grand Trunk Bill having been [illegible] out of Committee shortly before [illegible] o'clock last evening, the House proceeded to order that the [illegible] might receive the Governor-General. To-morrow the Opposition will move [illegible] last [illegible] on the question of the [illegible] ring, and will [illegible] a series of amendments, the effect of which will be [illegible] that the [illegible] Government has authorized [illegible] to Parliament [illegible] since before having [illegible] for consideration. It is [illegible] that the bill will pass the Upper House by a narrow majority, and that it will be further amended before it does pass is more than likely. The bill as it came before the Commons originally was passed through committee with a few minor changes. During the consideration of the bill to-day, Hon. Arthur Meighen announced that Clause five had been amended and that the Government may redeem the stocks of the company in five instead of thirty years, as was at first provided for. The effect of that amendment is sentimental rather than practical, for there is little possibility of any government, for some considerable time to come, buying bonds when it can carry along by paying the interest instead.

WILL ADDRESS THE PETERBORO GIRLS

The Inter Senior Sunday School Girls' Council have arranged to have Miss Ziegler, of Toronto, visit the Inter-[illegible] city of Peterborough next Wednesday evening, when she will address a mass meeting of girls at 8 o'clock in the gymnasium of the Y.W.C.A. All girls are invited, especially girls from 13 to 20 years of age.

Miss Ziegler is a well known speaker to girls in Canada, and has had a great deal of training and experience in all branches of girls' work.

Miss Ziegler will address a mass meetieng of girls at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening in the gymnasium of the Young Women's Christian Association. All girls are invited, especially girls from 13 to 20 years of age.

At a quarter to six o'clock the leaders of 'teen-age girls will meet. Tea will be served, after which Miss Ziegler will give an address and lead the discussion. All those who have been taking the training course for leadership in Canadian girls in training, and any others interested, are urged to be present. Those planning to come for tea are asked to notify the Y.W.C.A., 'Phone 223, not later than Tuesday.

JAPAN RATIFIES PEACE TREATY

Will Set Definite Time For Return of Shantung to China.

(Canadian Press.)

TOKIO, Oct. 31. — The Japanese government to-day ratified the German peace treaty. The Emperor signed the pact after the Treaty committee of the Privy Council had unanimously approved of it. Japan is the fourth Allied power to ratify the treaty. She has given assurance that immediately after the ratification she will fix a definite time for returning Shantung to Chinese sovereignty.

You often hear that question asked by persons who wear two separate pairs of glasses. They probably have never heard of our Kryptok lenses, the two-vision lenses with the reading portion invisible.

There is no line or crack to make them look unsightly. They are wonderfully convenient for everything and cost less than two separate pairs. Specify Kryptok when you consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, George street. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

LAST SAD RITES WILL BE ADMINISTERED TO-DAY OR TO-MORROW—CANON CODY WILL GO BACK TO THE MINISTRY.

[illegible] NOT [illegible]

TORONTO, Oct. [illegible] Hearst is expected to announce the [illegible] nations of his Cabinet [illegible] of his Cabinet [illegible] Hendrie, Minister [illegible] day.

A meeting of the Cabinet was held yesterday afternoon, when the [illegible] business of discussion was the date when the Ministers should tender their resignations, in view of the action of the United Farmers and Independent Labour Party in choosing as leader Mr. E. C. Drury.

The position taken by the Ministers, it is learned, was that they should get out of office as soon as possible, and that there should be no "jockeying," as one Minister put it. This opinion also prevailed that, while they were willing to retire at once, it would be unwise for them to hasten handing in their resignations if Mr. Drury was not yet prepared to undertake the formation of a Government.

Drury in Conference With Premier Hearst.

Shortly after the Council meeting adjourned Mr. Drury arrived at the Parliament Buildings, and immediately went into conference with Sir William Hearst. This meeting lasted for between 20 minutes and half an hour. Mr. Drury subsequently left on the 5 o'clock train for his home at Crown Hill, stating that he would return to the city on Monday.

"Mr. Drury came up and we had a chat," Sir William said later, in reference to the U. F. O. Leader's visit, "and we came to an understanding with regard to the matter that will be announced. The Cabinet has not announced as to when we would tender our resignation to the Governor-General, but it is probable that Sir William would hand in his resignation either to-day or Saturday.

Cabinet Not Complete.

Contrary to an earlier report that Mr. Drury had already completed the selection of his Ministerial colleagues, it was learned last night that Cabinet construction was not nearly so far advanced. While there was much guessing yesterday as to who will compose the Cabinet, there are likely to be some surprises when it is actually announced, and this will probably not be done until next Monday night or Tuesday. Even if the Hearst Administration does resign to-day, and Mr. Drury is called shortly after to form a Government, it is not necessary that he shall announce his Cabinet for a few days.

In the Cabinet slates published yesterday Hon. Dr. Cody was again mentioned as the probable Minister of Education in the Farmer Government. Dr. Cody has been so repeatedly mentioned as the possible incumbent of this office that he yesterday assured The Globe that even if he were approached by the Farmers and asked to take the position, which he did not think probable, he would not do so.

Dr. Cody to Quit.

"When the present Ministry resigns," he said, "I go out with them, and, under the circumstances, have no intention of continuing my connection with the Department of Education. My congregation are most anxious that I should return to my full parochial work, and, now that the opportunity has come to do so, I intend to embrace it."

Asked as to whether he would drop out of politics entirely, Dr. Cody replied that he had not decided.

The committee of Liberal members of the Legislature held both morning and afternoon sessions again yesterday, but broke up last night without giving out any statement. They will meet again on Monday.

VOICE CULTURE

MR. W. McKEE BINGHAM, LATE SOLOIST, FROM NEW YORK, TO RESIDE IN PETERBORO.

It is a pleasure to announce that Peterborough is to have the presence in the city of a gentleman, in the person of Mr. William McKee Bingham, late of New York, as a valuable addition to local musical circles. Mr. Bingham comes to the city with a record among New York and other large city critics not only as the possessor of a rich tenor voice of unusual purity, but as a teacher of a successful method of his own for carrying his pupils through a course of voice culture and technique leading to all branches of concert and operatic work. His studio will be at 366 Water street. This will be interesting news to lovers of music in Peterborough. His professional card appears in another column to-day.

Synod Sends Warning to the License Board—Teachers' Salaries Brought Up.

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—The Presbyterian Synod of Toronto and Kingston, adopted the following motion yesterday: "That this Synod respectfully requests the Ontario License Commission to be very vigilant in regard to orders given by physicians for intoxicating liquors, and if the board should discover that a physician is issuing unnecessarily a large number of such orders they take steps to have him adequately punished."

Dr. William D. Lee, of Millbrook, proposed that the Synod discuss the subject of teachers' salaries, but this suggestion was referred to a committee which will decide whether the Synod will discuss the subject or not.

Dr. Thurlow Fraser, in presenting the report of the committee on Foreign Missions, said that the Foreign Mission Board last year faced a deficit of $40,000. This year the deficit was $70,000, and next year it was expected to reach $96,000.

It was proposed that the names of vacant charges should be published wekely in the "Presbyterian" and "Westminster" in order to shame the congregations and help the unsatisfactory state of affairs in regard to the appointment of ministers.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

To-night, Mr. Brown will continue his address in the Gospel Hall on the Book of Revelations. The subject will be a parenthesis entitled, "The Sealed Jews and the Saved Gentiles," after which he will proceed with the theme, "The Opening of the Seventh Seal."

Last night he dealt with the opening of the six seals.

The seven seals are the sevenfold reply of God to the sevenfold sin of men, but during the present age of grace, God is not replying. This is the period of the "Gospel of the Grace of God" in the widest and purest sense of grace. God is not judging now but is drawing men to himself by pure grace. All men of all ages are saved on the basis of the work of Christ upon the cross but during the last two thousnad years it has not been accompanied by judgments. When the seals are opened, the "Gospel of the Grace of God" gives way to the everlasting gospel, which is, "Fear God and give Him glory for the hour of His judging has come and worship Him which made heaven and earth and the sea and the springs of waters" (Rev. 14: 6, 7) and so the seals represent the hour of his judging.

When the first four seals are opened four horses are sent forth by the four living creatures that have supervision over the four great relations of God to man.

Like a Lion.

The first living creature is like a lion and when the lamb opens the first seal the lion calls and a white horse goes forth. The one upon this horse has a bow and a crown was given to him and he went forth, conquering and to conquer. White represents righteousness and the lion had supervision of the righteousness of God in the world. Now if there is one thing more than another that men do not believe in it is the righteousness of God. Only those who believe in the sacrificial work of Christ in our room an dstead believe in the righteousness of God in these days. But this seal indicates that God is beginning to do what many demand, that he show his righteousness in judgment. Then, again, we would have crushed our enemies in our battle if we could and Jesus could, as he does in chapter 19: 11-20, but al these judgments from Chap. 6 to 19:10, beginning lightly and becoming slowly more heavy and more terrible as man hardens his heart and refuses to repent and rejects judgment, just as he has rejected free grace for nearly 2,000 years, these judgments represent the unspeakable long-suffering patience of God. He went forth, conquering and to conquer—chapters 6 to 19:10 should be read between these words "conquering and to conquer."

The second living creature has supervision over the sacrificial work of God in the world. He is like the calf which was one of the principal animals of sacrifice; and as men deny more and more the sacrificial work of Christ and the "blood religion" as they term it and substitute crime will increase. The great restraining influence during these last 2,000 years has been the fact that so large a part of humanity believed tht Christ was their "peace," that before they were guilty before God and their mouths stopped, that they were dead in trespasses and sins and so helplessly under the power and that the love God and the sacrificial work of Christ for them, and the energyzing power of the Holy Spirit had lifted them from the pit and the miry clay. They were forgiven and recreated, all through the powe of another, Our Lord Jesus Christ, and all upon the basis of this work on the cross.

And not only has there been the restraining influence of the real Christian who has received the light of the gospel, but the world that came in contact with them has received the wiligh and has often taken to himself the credit, although he knows he has been influenced to do things by God's true children. But when this influence becomes extinct by the sudden translation of the church then crime will increase in an alarming way and they shall kill each other.

INTERESTING CHINESE GROUP PICTURE

One of the recent interesting samples of group photography contributed by the Roy Studio is at present on view in the ground floor show cases at No. 140 Hunter Street. As a sample of photography its charm lies in the successful grouping of a number of local Chinese boys, from the Chinese class taught by the Salvation Army. Mrs. Bettes, the teacher of the class, and Adjutant and Mrs. Bunton, are also shown in the picture. The group is valuable as serving to demonstrate the unifying of the races through patient Missionary work. There is nothing to indicate the "Heathen Chinee" in the picture, but, on the contrary, a creditable exemplification of the refining influence and teaching of the Gospel of good. The following are the names of the Chinese in the group: Hop Sing, Lee Yet, Lee Chee, Lee Num, Lee Ping.

ST. PAUL MAN GAINS 20 POUNDS

CARLSON ALSO GETS RID OF THIRTY FIVE YEARS TROUBLE WITH RHEUMATISM.

"I only weighed one hundred and thirty-three pounds when I commenced taking Tanlac, but now I tip the scales at one hundred and fifty-three, which gives me a gain of twenty pounds," said J. W. Carlson, who lives at 96 Phelen Creek, St. Paul, Minn., the other day.

"I am sixty years old now," continued Mr. Carlson, "and up to the time I commenced taking Tanlac I had been suffering from rheumatism since I was a young man about twenty-five years old. During that time I had the very best of treatment and tried many different kinds of medicine, but I never got any permanent relief until I got hold of Tanlac. I was in such bad shape last year that I was laid up for three months on a stretch. I also suffered from stomach trouble so bad that what I ate would sour and cause me to be bloated up with gas for hours at a time. Very often I would have raging headaches and was so restless and nervous at night that I never got any real good sleep. All these troubles together got the best of me, and not long ago I had to give up and go to the hospital for awhile.

"That was the condition I was in when I commenced taking Tanlac, and I really didn't think that I would ever be any beter. Well, sir, the way Tanlac knocked that rheumatism out is simply wonderful. Why, I never have a sign of it any more, and the same with the stomach troubles. I can eat just anything I want and I never suffer a particle afterwards. I eat a lot, too, for I have such a ravenous appetite that I am actually hungry all the time. My strength has come back to me, and it beats the world how I am gaining in weight. In fact, Tanlac has completely overcome my troubles, and I never felt better in every way in all my life before. It gives me pleasure to recommend Tanlac, for it is certainly a real medicine, and will do just what they say it will do."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by . C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowlers Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Ecott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

MAKES AN ATTACK ON THE GOVERNMENT

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, Oct 30. — The Tribune makes another attack on President Wilson and the American government in connection with an article on Italian claims. Complaint is made by the newspaper that the United States lavishly poured men, arms and money into Europe, but that Italy got none of these.

A PRESENTATION TO MRS. JOHN CONDON

A presentation and address was made to Mrs John Condon (nee Miss Margaret Grady) who until a few days ago was a valued member of the Examiner staff The address follows

Peterborough, Oct 27th, 1919.

Miss Margaret Grady City:

Dear Miss Grady, In congratulating you upon the happy event in which you are soon to be one of central figures, we, who have been associated with you in the Examiner Office, cannot help feeling a sense of regret as well, for it means the removal of your familiar face from our midst. In the years that you have been with us, you have won a warm place in the affections of all of us and you will be greatly missed by the Examiner employees.

We ask you accept the table as a little memento of your association with the Examiner Office and at the same time, allow us to extend to you our heartiest best wishes for your future

THE BRIDGE.

Victory Bonds, the bridge from war to peace.

THAT HONOUR FLAG.

If Peterboro' cannot have the Prince of Wales she can have the Prince's Honour Flag. Buy Victory Bonds.

A CURTAIN RAISER.

The Mayor McBride-James Simpson controversy may be only a preliminary bout with the main attraction to come later.

WHERE IS HE?

We are anxiously waiting for the man who knew a month ago that E. C. Drury would be the next Premier of Ontario.

SPENT IN CANADA.

Every dollar of the money from the 1919 Victory Loan will be spent in Canada for Canadian goods and products and will go to Canadian farmers, Canadian merchants, and Canadian workmen.

ONE WEAKNESS.

One weakness in the G.W.V.A. Reestablishment scheme pointed out by the Special Committee is that the date at which the soldier reached France is made the basic principle of the scheme. There is no doubt that such a system would not satisfy many of the returned men for length of service is not considered in the veterans plan. For instance the man who went to France in 1914 and was wounded, invalided home, discharged and returned to civilian life, perhaps to a lucrative position in 1915 would receive a bigger gratuity that the soldier who did not reach France until 1915 but who served until the end of the war. This seems to be the only serious defect in the G.W.V.A. plan.

A NEW POLITICAL PARTY.

One development of the failure of the Special Re-establishment Committee to adequately deal with the problem of the re-establishment of Canada's fighting men is almost certain to be the formation of a political party by the returned soldiers. The heads of the Great War Veterans' Association, the biggest and most representative returned soldiers' organization in the Dominion have fought against the entrance of the soldier into politics and have succeeded up to the present but the resentment of the veteran at the inadequate nature of the committees findings will make it difficult to restrain them from plunging into political arenas. The next Dominion election will undoubtedly see a large number of soldier candidates in the field, the probabilities being that an Independent Soldiers' party will be formed to carry on the political activities of the returned men. Organizations such as the G.W.V.A. would not as a body enter politics but the members would merge with other returned soldiers in the Soldiers' Party when an election was being fought.

GET YOUR SHARE.

From one point of view the success of the Victory Loan is already assured. The Loan will be subscribed, and over-subscribed. The people with money to invest will see to that. They know a good thing when they see it. As a cold-blooded business proposition, they find the Loan a most desirable investment, and they are subscribing liberally, with an eye to their own profit as well as the country's benefit.

So far so good. But the Loan will not be the success it ought to be unless its popularity is attested by the number of small subscribers who take advantage of the opportunity it affords. These Loan campaigns are educational in a very important sense. They afford important lessons in citizenship. They encourage people of all degrees of financial standing to take an interest in the affairs of the country, and they offer the means of showing a practical interest. Moreover, they offer to the very people who need it most an inviting opportunity for the practice of thrift. Every bond, no matter how small, represents so much saving profitably invested. With many people saving is largely a matter of habit, a habit to be acquired or neglected.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS.

In view of the fact that pensions for mothers formed one of the planks in the platform of the Independent Labour party and is likely to be strongly advocated by the Labour members of the House, the report of Dr. W. A. Riddell, superintendent at the Trade and Labour department of the Ontario Government, is of more than usual interest. Dr. Riddell was instructed last January to prepare a report on the subject and his findings have been made public by Sir William Hearst. The cost of the scheme annually is estimated at $1,078,000, which would take care of some 10,000 widows and 8,900 children and Dr. Riddell proposes that the municipality in which the pensioner resides should pay one half the cost of the pension, the other half to be assumed by the province, while the Act is to be administered by a provincial commision of five, assisted by local committees in the different sections of the province. A number of conditions are imposed, one of the most important being that to be eligible for a pension the mother and dependent children must not own property valued at more than $2,500 or own more than $500 in cash or in securities, other than household goods that could be converteed into cash, and that their condition is such that they can not be properly provided without Government assistance. The report will probably come before the new Legislature at the first session and the Labour men, at least, may be counted upon to put up a strenuous fight for the adoption of this plan or of some other method along the same lines.

THE NEW PREMIER.

The new premier of Ontario will be Mr. Ernest Charles Drury of Crown Hill, near Barrie—the unanimous choice of the United Farmers as their leader and endorsed by the members of the Independent Labor party. In the course of a few days Mr. Drury will undoubtedly be called upon to form a government at which of course he will be Prime Minister. It is a strange twist in the world of politics that a man whose name, in so far as Provincial politics is concerned was unknown to thousands of people a few days ago and who was not even a candidate at the last election should occupy the most prominent place in the formation of Ontario's government. Mr. Drury's activities up to the present time have been concerned largely with problems the cause of the agricultural interests in the Province and it speaks well for his ability and character that when the task of governing Ontario fell upon the shoulders of the organized farmers of Ontario, they unhesitatingly placed the leadership in the hands of Mr. Drury. Those who know him best declare that the man who is to be the new Premier of Ontario is broad-minded, wide-visioned, enthusiastic a splendid speaker, well versed in economics and in politics. The fact that all the elected members of the U.F.O. were passed over, or rather passed over themselves to select Mr. Drury is an endorsation of his qualities that is emphatic proof of their faith in him.

Mr. Drury has a big task before him in carrying on with a government that even with the assistance of the Labor members has a bare majority in the House, there are manifest difficulties. The people of Ontario should appreciate the fact and withhold criticism until the new leader has been given a fair chance to make good. His address to the United Farmers has the right run. "If we are called to prove" declared Mr. Drury "we must stand for no class legislation of whatever kind. Our legislative programme must be framed for the benefit of every just and honest and legitimate interest in the Province."

Among the people of the towns and cities there have been many fearful ones who profess to believe that the United Farmers intend to govern entirely in their own interests. Mr. Drury's pronouncement against class legislation is therefore both timely and welcome. So too is his declaration that the success of the new government "depends not on political manoeuvring but on the breadth and fairness of our policy and on our adherence to the high ideals of democracy and public service which have made this movement a broad thing in the life of the nation." These words will do much to instil in those who know nothing of the new leader, confidence in his fairness and common sense. He has begun well.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE.

There are now before the U.S. congress two bills dealing with railway administration, and both of them contain provisions against strikes on railways. Officials of railway employees' organizations and Labor leaders generally regard this legislation with alarm as an attempt to deprive workers of one of their most cherished rights—the right to strike in order to enforce their demands for better working conditions. It has even been openly threatened that if either of the bills is passed, a general strike will be ordered throughout the United States.

It is natural and justifiable for organized workers to stand steadfastly by their right to strike—under ordinary circumstances. It would be foolish and shortsighted on their part to forego that right in the case of the workers employed by private individuals or corporations. But in the case of the workers who are directly employed by a government—national or municipal—and who are public servants whose business it is to supply necessary public services, the question is debatable.

A strike of public employees, involving the suspension of a necessary public service, with widespread inconvenience and suffering and loss to a whole community, is in the nature of an act of warfare against the public. Certainly it is not in the public welfare. Now the test of the righteousness and even the permissibility of any action is the public welfare. Anything which is clearly against the welfare of the whole community, even if it be in the interest of particular individuals, is not right and ought not to be allowed.

Suppose one man occupying a position of responsibility in the public service had it in his power to put a whole community in danger by suddenly quitting his post, and suppose he were to take advantage of that power to demand, as the price of his remaining on duty, an enormous bonus to be paid down immediately: what would be thought of such a demand? Would it not be properly denounced as a case of blackmail? And if a dozen officials were to combine to take similar action against the community, would the offence be any less heinous? And if the number of officials were to be increased to a hundred or a thousand or five thousand, the principle would not be altered.

Public service employees are in a position different from that of ordinary employees. They are trusted servants of the public. They should be worthy of public trust. If they conspire to put the public to inconvenience and suffering in order to enforce recognition of their demands for higher pay or easier working conditions, they are false to their trust, and deserve condemnation.

But if strikes by public servants ought not to be tolerated, the public which employ them should be careful to see that they are fairly treated and have no just cause for complaint. And among the concessions which ought to be made to public-service employees as a matter of right is a share in the power of fixing the rate of wages and arranging working conditions.—Hamilton Hearld.

WAKEFIELD AVENUE

Mr. H. J. McCannan asked the Property Committee last night to include Wakefield Avenue in the garbage area. It is a new street running at right angles from Monaghan Road is part of what is known as Victoria Heights. Mr. McCannan's house is some distance in from Monaghan Road and the Committee thought it impossible to ask the garbage collectors to go the length of the Avenue to collect the garbage of one house. Mr. V. J. McCiderry's house is on Monaghan Road but not in the garbage area. The situation will be explained to Mr. McCannon.

Voice Of The People

Editor of The Examiner:

May I be allowed to express on behalf of the members of the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, our hearty thanks to those citizens who voted in favour of the by-law granting the G.W.V.A. exemption from taxation on our Murray street hall, and to those who so kindly assisted us in getting the vote out. The majority in favour of the by-law is appreciated b yall our members as furnishing still another proof that the citizens of Peterborough are ready to support us in any worthy cause.

The Promoter's Wife

BY JANE PHELPS

MRS. CARTER RETURNS HOME AT LAST

CHAPTER CV. ....

Aunt had gone. Neil had been too busy to go to the station when she left, but Robert and I had driven down with her, and I had brought her back the late magazines, and a basket of fruit to help her pass the time pleasantly on her long lonely journey. I was fond of her, yet it was with a sense of relief that I turned away from bidding her good bye. She had been with us so long, Neil had become so impatient of her questions, and I'll admit though they were, and I had grown tired of never being alone. There are people who never want to be isolated, to whom staying alone is a real punishment. But I was not one of those. It was restful to know that I could read or sew without interruption. I only hated my evenings alone. I had felt always that Neil should give me his society after dinner. Either at home, or that we should go out together. I knew now that she had gone I should have to spend many of them alone. Although I hoped to persuade Neil to remain with me more often than he had while se hwas with us. He had felt no responsibility then. He knew I never was alone.

Blanche Orton called the day after aunt left. She expressed her sorrow at missing her, then said:

"I have wanted to come and see you ever since—that night you came to my house." She had hesitated and flushed. I too flushed as she referred to my uninvited appearance. "It was a very brave thing to do—considering."

"Considering what?" I asked.

"Considering you know you would meet the very people you had refused to entertain yourself. I'm not so squeamish. I can't afford to be. But your frank admission that you wanted to help Neil—Mr. Forbes, made me like you beter than I ever had before, and so I am going to trust you."

"Trust me!" I returned, wondering.

"Yes, trust you! Strange isn't it I suppose you have thought that because I was unconventional that I was not quite — well, not quite all right. That because I received those people I was one of them—like them. I wouldn't blame you if you had, don't try to deny it," I had made a gesture of dissent. "You know that I love luxury, dress, good food and service. I am miserable without these things. Well Mr. Orton left me almost a beggar. I thought he had plenty of money. He never told me much of his affairs. I supposed when he died I could go right on living just as I had been doing. I could—for a month or two. Then you gave me the means to go on living in the way to which I was accustomed, and—"

"I gave you the means?" I do not understand."

"Neil told me you objected to receiving Scot and such men at your table. You had the society bug in your bonnet and feared to hurt yourself with people like the Powers if it were known. He said too that you were fastidious, that their manners were unbearable to you."

They were. I could scarcely endure to sit at table with them," I admitted.

"Well Mrs. Forbes, I am fastidious too. Do you recall the day you called and I received you in negligee because I had to rest that afternoon I had to rest so that my nerves would be in shape to play the part I was getting paid for playing. Do you suppose I like to receive such men as Tearle and Connor? Do you imagine for a moment that those ordinary women you met at my house are the sort of women I like to entertain? If you do you do not know me. But I cannot live on air, and neither can I do anything the ordinary woman might do. I cannot go out and earn money, so I stay at home and earn it."

"You mean?" A light was dawning upon me, I was beginning to understand many things.

"I meant to put it in plain English that your husband had paid me generously for entertaining the men he could not entertain in his own home, and whom he could not entertain at his club because they were men who considered an evening incomplete without women's society, and who also wanted to gamble. I hesitated at first—really I did. But when I considered the alternative, giving up my home and all it meant to me I hesitated no longer. I just gritted my teeth and told Neil to go as far as he liked. I would do all I could do to help him in return for the handsome reward he had offered me. But my dear you couldn't do it. So don't try. There's one other thing," after a moment. "I feared you were thinking things—about me and Neil. Don't! You wrong us both. He is as true as steel. And I—well I have other fish to fry."

I scarcely knew what to say to her, but someway I managed to let her know I should never betray her confidence; and that I trusted Neil with her. When she went away we were nearer really liking each other than ever before. Yet she had made me very anxious. What was Neil getting from these men that he went to so much trouble? If he were giving them value received was it necessary?

LOOK OUT FOR 'FLU

Don't Trifle With a Cold.

Influenza was not stamped out last winter. It has appeared again. Many cases are reported.

You can't afford to neglect a cold. With the nose, throat and bronchial tubes inflamed and the system weakened you simply invite the germs of Influenza to attack.

Break up the cold with DOMINION C. B. Q. (Dominion Cascara, Bromide and Quinine Tablets) in the red box.

In a few hours, after taking these tablets, the head will clear; the stuffy feeling and headache will disappear. You should keep DOMINION C. B. Q. always in the house through the winter. No telling when you will need this reliable remedy. All druggists have DOMINION C. B. Q. in the red box. This is one of the standard preparations of the National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited. 14

DON'T TAKE 'FLU but DOMINION C. B. Q. TABLETS (in the red box) 25c. The Best Preventative

Manifesto Was Issued By Indian Moderates Against the Extremists

THE special correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, writing from Calcutta, says: The Indian Moderates have issued a manifesto condemning the attitude taken up by the recent National Congress under the influence of the Extremists. "We deplore," they say, "that the Indian National Congress should have passed resolutions which, in our opinion, not only amount to a rejection of the scheme, as it stands, but also lay down a course of action highly detrimental to the best interests of this country. We have in mind the resolutions passing a vote of censure upon the British committee, and thus paralyzing its activities at this juncture; sending a deputation to England with no discretion vested in it, but bound by a resolution of the congress to advocate and press for a set scheme; and, lastly, putting forward three gentlemen as representatives of India at the Peace Conference, and thus raising a hornet's nest in the country, since only Governments and not unofficial bodies like the Indian National Congress can send such representatives."

The Moderates express the hope that the Montagu-Chelmsford scheme will be given legislative form without delay. "It is clear," they observe, "that the Montagu-Chelmsford scheme does propose a very good beginning in the desired direction, and it has the further merit of providing for future stages of progress toward the goal of complete self-government. The scheme is not perfect, and is capable of improvement in several important particulars. It is the duty of every Indian reformer to make the best endeavor he can to obtain improvements which will make it more conveniently workable, and more adequate to the conditions and requirements of the situation in India. Nothing would have been more helpful to the cause that all Indians have equally at heart than that they should have made a united endeavor to persuade the authorities to accept reasonable and practical proposals of improvement, on the basis of a common whole-hearted acceptance of the scheme as far as it goes. We consider it unfortunate in the extreme that the attitude of antagonism assumed by a section of Indian politicians who, though far from representing the majority of their countrymen, have succeeded in organizing for the present a majority in the congress, has rendered such united action impossible.

"A careful survey of the political situation in England," pursues the manifesto, "and in India in all its aspects leads us to think that it is a vain hope that the Montagu-Chelmsford scheme will be altered beyond recognition, as the congress wishes. We are persuaded that it is the part of wise patriotism at present to accept the scheme to prevent its being narrowed or curtailed in its scope, and to seek improvements that can be effected without the framework being destroyed. We therefore feel ourselves compelled to say that we cannot endorse many of the resolutions which found favor with the majority of the delegates of the late congress, or approve of their general attitude toward the reforms. We must equally protest against every attempt, by whomsoever made and by whatsoever means, at any mutilation of the Montagu-Chelmsford proposals. We are constrained to utter a grave warning against the inevitable disastrous effects of such a grievous mistake on the future relations of the British Government and the Indian people, which will result in discontent and agitation on one side, followed by repression and suffering on the other.

"That would indeed be a bitter irony on the glorious victory that Britain and her allies have won for liberty and justice and a sad commentary on the righteousness in international dealings, which has been so often affirmed by the great statesmen of the age. We dissociate ourselves from extremism of all varieties, radical or reactionary; we stand for the policy of gradual attainment of responsible government, enunciated in the creed of the Indian National Congress, and the declaration of August, 1917. We are satisfied that the Montagu-Chelmsford proposals of reform are a concrete expression of this policy and worthy of support both in England and in India; and we therefore make an earnest appeal to all to accept the scheme and help in its translation into law at the earliest possible date."

It is generally agreed that the Extremists have lost ground both in India and in England during the past few months, and that their action at the congress of December proves them to be wild visionaries with whom it is impossible for the authorities to discuss matters. The boldness with which the Moderate manifesto condemns them is in itself strong evidence that the Extremists are in a bad way; for the Moderates have not proved conspicuous for their courage, and they would hardly have ventured to attack their opponents in this decided fashion unless they had reason to believe that the attack would be feebly responded to. Such has, in point of fact, been its reception; the Extremists, evidently feeling that they have gone too far, are now making clumsy and half-hearted attempts to "hedge."

"CEETEE"

THE PURE WOOL UNDERCLOTHING THAT WILL NOT SHRINK

'CEETEE' underwear is made especially for those who appreciate quality and comfort.

While the first cost is higher than ordinary underwear, the better wear, greater warmth, lighter weight and all-round satisfaction make it much more economical in the long run.

You cannot buy pure 'CEETEE'—it is not made.

The process of manufacture is different and expensive—there is nothing else like it made in Canada—special machinery—specially trained operators—each garment with individuality.

Only the very finest, softest and cleanest Australian Merino wool is used—so soft that a baby can wear it.

There are no seams—as the garments are made with a selvedge and the joins are knitted together—not sewn as in ordinary garments.

Each 'CEETEE' garment is knit, not cut, to fit the body.

Each 'CEETEE' garment goes through our special secret process, making it absolutely unshrinkable.

As a matter of fact, 'CEETEE' is better than imported, it is in a class by itself—without competition and is superlative.

Made in all sizes for Men, Women and Children —in Union Suits or Separate Garments.

AS HIRAM SEES IT

"Hiram," said a reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "you present a funereal aspect this morning. Get your tax bill?"

"Between you and me," said Hiram, "I wouldn't mind helpin' at a funeral if I was allowed to name the party. I've alwus been agin hangin', but that was for human critters. There's a lot of onhuman ones around nowadays that orto be hung without waitin' for jedge or jury. Two of 'em come along in an ottomobeel last night an' run into me an' upset the kerridge, throwin' Haner an' me right out into the ditch. It was as dark as a nigger's pocket, an' they was goin' like a streak round a turn. They didn't stop to see whether we was livin' or dead. I'm gonto carry a shotgun after this—an' the scalawag that tries to bump me on the road'll stop or git a nice warm shower o' buckshot. I've got an old musket that'll scatter like a sprinkler. You kin jist say for me that it's loaded an' that I got a hull string of medals fer shootin at the range. I kin bring down a woodcock on th' wing as easy as some shots kin hit a barn door. I never went after a road-hog yit, but there ain't a-goin' to be no close season for that kind o' game in Peterboro from now on —By Hen!"

"Hiram," said the reporter, "if you circulated a petition in Peterboro I think that you would find a very wide sentiment in favour of a bounty on road-hogs."

"That's what we orto hev," said Hiram, "I'm goin' around to buy a Victory Bond, an' I'll jist drop in an' mention it to Mayor Duncan. We might as well have a little sport while it's going'. I wouldn't ask no big bounty, nuther—jist enough to pay for that ammunition. They ain't really wuth that."

Tobacco Habit Dangerous

says Doctor Cosser, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health to-day were it not for the tobacco drug, Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed, and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting advertisement by Doctor Cosser soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning, and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result. (6)

VICTORY LOAN 1919 IS BRIDGE BETWEEN WAR AND PEACE

Agricultural and Industrial Prosperity of Canada Depends on Success of the Loan.

Why is it necessary to have another Victory Loan? Have you heard this query? Or have you asked it?

The Victory Loan of this year stands out as the bridge between war and peace. The war is over. Our boys won that. The reconstruction period is dawning and we at home must win that.

Much of the money that Canada is asking for will be needed to clean up the war debt. The expenses of demobilization were heavy, and there is still much of it unpaid. Now that our men are back, let it not be said that we repudiated the debt for bringing them back.

The sick and wounded soldiers still in hospitals are expecting that Canada will care for them and their dependents until they have been returned to health and strength. The hospital services must be maintained at full strength as long as there are returned men needing attention.

Many men through disability are unable to return to their pre-war occupations. The Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment is doing a fine work in training returned soldiers in trades and professions that they can earn a living at, and in following up the training and seeing that they obtain remunerative employment. The maintaining of this branch of reconstructive service calls for much funds, and the Victory Loan will be used to pay for it as well as the other purposes.

Under the Soldiers' Land Settlement Act, enough money is lent to returned soldiers to enable them to buy and stock a farm. This money will be repaid at a low rate of interest. The soldier is thus given a chance to re-instate himself in civil life, and production is given a boost. Of the total amount of the forthcoming loan, $24,000,000 has been apportioned to finance these soldier-farmers.

Pensions to the disabled and dependents of our glorious dead, as well as the authorised gratuities will be other items on the expense sheet. These are some of the obligations owing to the returned soldier who is now in health.

The maintaining of Canada's prosperity is an important reason why the Victory Loan should be a smashing success. The money is needed to finance the credits to overseas countries so that they may continue their trade relations with us. If Canada cannot give these credits other countries will, and then Canada will lose all that great overseas trade that has been the mainstay of our agricultural and industrial life for so long.

As an investment Victory Bonds are eminent. Paying 5½ per cent., selling above par on the open market, and guaranteed by the Dominion—what further reason can you have for hesitating? The Victory Loan 1919 ought to be oversubscribed, and all right-thinking citizens will do their utmost to see that such a result is obtained.

TO CARE FOR WOUNDED

Money From Victory Loan Will Be Used to Re-establish Soldiers.

Our soldiers in France faced perils other than those of shell and gas and machine-gun fire. There was the peril of tuberculosis. Up to August last 5,909 soldiers suffering from this disease had been returned to Canada. These were placed in sanitoriums under the direction of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, and they are one of the departments of that branch that must be maintained, and come under the head of capital war outlay.

All of these men and some 10,000 others, disabled or ill, will be looked after with money raised through the Victory Loan 1919. It is the sacred duty of Canadians that the money is forthcoming.

Credits Must Be Established for Sale of Surplus Products.

Success of Victory Loan 1919 Will Insure Steady Markets for Farmers.

It takes some six bushels of wheat to feed the average person in Canada annually. Roughly, therefore, the eight million people here consume about 50,000,000 bushels each year. But even in a poor year the crop is some five times that amount, and the surplus must be sold if the farmers are to get a return for their time and labor. But the sale of the crop must be financed. Great Britain, which provides our greatest market, has not the ready cash; and so Canada must find means of raising the money. Hence the Victory Loan 1919. In view of the fact that the prosperity of the Dominion is dependent to a considerable extent upon the sale of her surplus grain the necessity of the money being forthcoming is patent.

OTTAWA GETS BUSY ON REDISTRIBUTION

NEW SCHEME WHEREBY FARMERS WILL NOT HAVE ADVANTAGE MAY BE EVOLVED.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30.— Election results of the past week or so have set Ottawa politicians cogitating as to the next census and redistribution and as to the new election law.

But the next election will not be held before important changes have been made in the Parliamentary representation of the Dominion. The usual decennial census will no doubt be taken next year, and following that there will be a redistribution of seats throughout the Dominion. In this latter respect the only fixed provision in the British North America Act is that Quebec, with a fixed representation of 65 seats, shall through her population provide the representation unit. For instance, placing the population of Quebec at 2,361,000, the unit of representation for the Dominion is the quotient gained by dividing 65 into that total, or 36,000. In the past there have been many advocates of representation by population, but it has always been felt that the cities are not entitled to the number of representatives which under that system strictly applied they would secure. So that small rural counties have been accorded representation on a unit of representation far below that of the cities. For instance, Ottawa with 110,000 people, has but two members, while Carleton County, adjoining it, with only 30,000, has one.

It is obvious that under these conditions the agrarian electorate throughout the Dominion will dominate any election which is held. Among the suggestions being made by the men in the corridors therefore, is that at the next redistribution the cities be given representation more nearly in proportion to their population. Strictly adopted the application of the unit of representation to the cities would mean that Ottawa instead of having two members, would have five, that Toronto's representation would be more than doubled, and that in Quebec, where the number of seats is fixed, Montreal, Quebec City, Sherbrooke, Hull, Three Rivers, St. Hyacinthe and the other cities would send about half the representation of the whole Province to Ottawa. In other words the urban representation would be very much increased.

MAY DROP "DRY" BILL NOW.

Rowell in Washington.

Government, However, May Decide to Pass it and Throw Responsibility Thus on Provinces and Get Rid of It.

OTTAWA, Oct. 30. — While the Dominion Alliance presses for an immediate Sahara Act, making Canada one dry and allowing for no interim between the lapse of the War Measure and further legislation, there are some doubts whether the bills now before the House will be proceeded with this session or passed after they are taken up.

Mr. Rowell, who is much interested in the subject, has gone to Washington as one of the Canadian delegates to the International Labour Conference and while his attendance here is not vital to a consideration of the measure, some see in his absence an indication that it may not be pressed. Inquiry in Ministerial circles yesterday, however, elicited no confirmation of the report that the bills may be dropped. In substance, they refer the whole question to the provinces and the desire to get rid of it now "once and for all," as a Minister expressed it, suggests the probability of the bills being pressed.

There is no present likelihood of legislation on the lines advocated by the Dominion Alliance.

UNITED STATES DICKERING WITH BRITAIN FOR GIGANTIC AIRSHIP

DEAL EXPECTED TO BE CLOSED FOR R-34 SHORTLY—IS LARGEST CRAFT OF THE KIND IN THE WORLD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. — An early closing of the contract for the purchase by the United States Navy Department of the British rigid airship R-38, the largest airship in the world, now under construction in England, is expected, it was stated at the department to-day.

Two and a half million dollars were appropriated by Congress for the purchase of this airship and for the training of the pilots.

"The success," said the statement, "of the British in building and operating rigid airships is proved by the trip of the R-34 to the United States and its return to England. While the Germans had many years start of the British, the latter have made wonderful progress in the past few years.

Will be Much Greater.

"The R-38, to outward appearances, will look like the R-34, but her dimensions, horsepower, speed and radius of action will be much greater. When full of gas she will have a 2,724,000 cubic feet capacity, which is fifteen times that of the C-5, the United States naval dirigible that blew to sea and was lost last spring at Newfoundland on the eve of an attempt to cross the Atlantic."

The R-38 is 694 feet in length, 86 feet in diameter, 93 feet six inches high, and carries a useful load of 45 tons. She is expected to have a maximum speed of 60 knots.

The British Air Ministry has offered to train personnel for the R-38, so that upon delivery the airship can be taken over immediately, by an American crew and be flown to the United States.

RESULTS OF PLOUGHING MATCH HELD ON THE FARM OF MR. A. B. KENNEDY

The annual plowing match of the Cavan and South Monaghan Plowing Association was held at Mr. Archie Kennedy's farm, Lot 10, Concession 10, Cavan, on Friday, October 17th. With the large attendance the match was conceded to be the best ever held under the auspices of the above mentioned association. Peterborough, Hope and Port Hope were well represented amongst the hundreds of spectators, all of whom enjoyed the event. Dinner was provided by the ladies of St. John's Church, Ida, and the bountiful repast sustained the reputation St. John's ladies have already earned.

The Prize-Winners.

Doubtless the great success of this year's plowing match will be a stimulus to even greater efforts for next season. The prize-winners in the different events were:

Class 1—High Cut.

1st, George Berry, Jr., Millbrook.
Best crown—1st, G. Berry, Jr.
Best finish—1st, G. Berry, Jr.

Class 2—Jointer Plows.

Best finish—S. Gray.

Class 7—Single Riding, Sulky.

1st, Thomas McClamus, Ida.

During May one hundred and seventy ships, with a total of 335,000 American soldiers, sailed for the United States. This constitutes a world's overseas transport record.

SOME FAMOUS WELCOMES.

How English Cities Met Returning Soldiers.

The informal but none the less enthusiastic, welcome given to the Scots Guards on their return from the front recently, will doubtless be repeated in the near future on many similar occasions, says Pearson's Weekly.

The Britons are keen to greet their returning heroes after this fashion. Nor will they be denied.

When, for instance, the Brigade of Guards returned to London after Omdurman in November, 1898, the public gave them such a welcome as took the authorities completely by surprise.

Their coming had been little heralded in advance, and no attempt had been made officially to receive them. Nevertheless the citizens of London cheered themselves hoarse all along the line of route taken by the khaki-clad columns, which in places were hardly able to force a way for themselves through the densely-packed throngs.

Much the same thing, too, happened when the C.I.V.'s returned from South Africa two years later. In this case, however, the authorities, warned by their previous experience, made elaborate preparations to keep a passage clear for the soldiers.

Vain effort! So great was the enthusiasm of the welcoming crowds in the Strand and Fleet street that many of the companies had almost literally to fight their way through, and were consequently somewhat late for the banquet prepared in their honor by the city fathers at the Guildhall.

Yet another historic home-coming of the kind was that in which Lord Wolseley figured in October, 1882, when he led his victorious troops, fresh from their triumphs in Egypt, through London to Whitehall. On this occasion the streets were superbly decorated, and over two million people, it was estimated, were present to do honor to the heroes of Tel-el-Kebir.

Eight thousand excursion trains were run to London from all parts of the country in May, 1856, laden with people desirous of being present at the homecoming of the troops who had fought in the Crimean War. The scenes in the streets on May 26th, when the regiments marched to St. James' Park, where they were reviewed and personally thanked by Queen Victoria, were unprecedented, while at night the whole metropolis was a blaze of illuminations and fireworks, the first rocket being sent up by the Queen herself from the roof of Buckingham Palace.

A SIMPLE METHOD TO REMEDY RHEUMATISM

AGE DOES NOT INTERFERE IF TREATMENT IS PROPERLY FOLLOWED

Many persons contend that there is no sure remedy for Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Neuritis, or their kindred diseases, but don't be biased: draw your own conclusions from the proof submitted.

Over two years ago, William Nesbitt, of 113 John St., Toronto, Ontario, was attacked by Rheumatism. Mr. Nesbitt was 53 years of age at the time and he feared the worst. After trying many remedies and prescriptions without obtaining relief he took a friend's advice and used Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules. Result—to-day Mr. Nesbitt says, "He hasn't lost a day's work since nor fears Rheumatism any more."

Mr. Nesbitt gives the entire credit for his recovery to T.R.C.'S. Profit by his experience. Try them.

FINANCIAL DEBATE ENTERS SECOND DAY

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 30. — The second day of the financial debate opened in the House of Commons with a full attendance of members. The House had before it the amendment to the government financial resolution offered by John R. Clynes, Labor member calling for levy upon capital and reversion to the state of fortunes made from the war. Premier Lloyd George is expected to speak this evening.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

When one stops to consider the host of people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of intruding angles with the usual bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to many and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English-speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. The assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness, and lack of energy, and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

LAW OF GRAVITATION UPSET

Startling New Deductions Based by Italian Professor on Simple Experiment With Lead and Mercury.

ROME, Oct. 28.—Newton's theory of gravitation has been attacked by Professor Maiorana, who, speaking before a gathering of prominent scientists here to-day, declared that results of experiments he has performed upset the hitherto accepted laws of physics governing the motions of celestial bodies.

Lead Gets Lighter.

Newton's theory, while hitherto considered absolute is only an approximate hypothesis, according to Professor Maiorana, who supports this assertion by showing that a ball of lead floating in mercury becomes slightly lighter.

Four Conclusions.

From this the professor deduces four things. First, that bodies have both a true and an apparent mass, the true mass of the sun being double the apparent mass. Second that the stars attract other bodies with forces entirely different from those hus far admitted to exist.

Evolution of World.

Third, the professor argues, that the solar heat of stars is generated by the force of gravitation emanating from interior strata. (From this he argues, the solar system has had an immensely longer life than has been believed by scientists up till the present.) Fourth, that the evolution of the world has been closely linked to the phenomenon which he has discovered.

Scientific Revolution.

Professor Maiorana explains by this means the fact that all stars are more or less luminous, and claims that his theory will bring about a revolution in astro-physical science.

ORIGIN OF "BUNCOMBE."

How a Colonel's Name Came to Be a Term of Reproach.

Whenever I pick up a copy of the Congressional Record and numerous other publications and read the irrelevant speeches therein reported I sigh for the memory of Colonel Edward Buncombe, "Girard" writes in the Philadelphia Ledger.

Through no fault of the gallant gentleman himself, there clings to his name an unpleasant significance which many of our brave public men do naught to mitigate. Indeed, if there be such a thing as one shade's taking vengeance upon another in the future world Colonel Buncombe will at least pull out Felix Walker's tongue.

It was all Walker's fault that "buncombe" became a term of reproach, and the incident which made it so happened a century ago.

Walker represented in congress a district of North Carolina of which Buncombe county was a part. The county had been named away back in 1791 in honor of Colonel Buncombe.

Walker was one of those long distance orators who without half trying could empty the halls of congress and put them in a condition beside which the dead streets of Pompeii appear great white ways. When upbraided one day for talking about everything except the question at issue Walker used this immortal phrase:

"I am only talking for Buncombe," meaning his home county.

And so "buncombe" became a new word in our language, which has been conveniently shortened into the colloquial "bunk."

Soap and Hard Water.

The hardness of water is measured by degrees. When a gallon contains one grain of lime it is said to have one degree of hardness. When soap is used with hard water about two and one-half ounces of it to each hundred gallons of water must be used for each degree of hardness just to overcome hardness. It combines with the lime, forming a mineral product, and not until enough soap has been dissolved to overcome all the hardness does the soap do any good for cleansing purposes.

CASUALTIES IN THE FIRST DAY'S CAMPAIGN

(Special to The Examiner.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Results of the first day's campaign to enforce the new National Prohibition Act to-day showed: Wounded by revenue agents' revolver shots 2; saloons closed, 6; arrested on a charge of violating war-time prohibition, 18.

BEAUTY SECRETS!

Whereshe gets her good looks, her healthy skin, her pink cheeks, is known to every one, because it is apparent that it is not due to cosmetics, paint and powder. But the true womanly beauty comes from good health, and this good health is a woman's secret.

Health comes with good physical machinery and good spirits, an active digestion. A body free from pains and aches comes with a tonic known for over fifty years as the best "temperance" tonic and nervine for woman—namely, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It can be obtained in any drug store in liquid or tablet form, or send 10c to Dr. Pierce Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cleansing of the intestinal tract is important. Take castor oil or select a vegetable pill. Such a one is composed of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and made into tiny sugar-coated pellets, to be had at every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

CHOSE PETERBORO AS FISHING CENTRE AFTER 6,000 MILE SEARCH

MR MORRIS ACKERMAN AWARDS THE PALM TO THIS DISTRICT AS THE BEST FISHING AND DUCK SHOOTING TERRITORY---EVIDENTLY DEEPLY IMPRESSED.

Its any a day since Peterboro received as much free and desirable advertising as that which has followed the recent visit of Tris Speaker and Leslie Nunamaker of the Cleveland baseball team and Morris Ackerman, big game hunter and writer on outdoor life. The latest appreciation of the hunting and fishing resources of this district appeared in the sporting page of the Toronto Star last night in the form of an interview with Mr. Ackerman, in part, as follows:—"Last spring I covered some six thousand miles in Ontario securing information of the fish and game conditions in more than one hundred points in this Province. Neither 'Spoke' or 'Les' had ever seen a 'lunge,' while they were both anxious to do battle with these splendid game fish. As a result of that trip I picked Peterboro as the ideal location, as lunge and ducks were both to be had there. "I am sure both the boys are tickled with the trip, for not only did we have nice fishing and nice shooting but wonderful treatment as well, Graham and his friends going the limit to make our stay a pleasant one.

"For a combined moose and caribou trip I have picked a location in the vicinity of Nipigon Bay. We expect success on that end of the trip, but as the stunt is new, in that we intend to cruise the north shore of Lake Superior, it will be hard to say much until after our return."

Big Game Quest.

Speaker and Nunamaker have hunted big game for several years past on New Brunswick, but Ackerman "sold" them on the wonders of Ontario possibilities for this fall and if both moose and caribou can be secured on the one trip the hunters in the States, as well as local Nimrods, will be greatly interested in learning the detail. Ackerman, who spends his entire time fishing, hunting and writing stories of his travels "believes" he has found "something good" as a result of a trip of "location" he made last spring.

"And man, how those chaps can shoot," says Morris, "Spoke is a 95 per cent. man at the traps and is a rifle crack, while Les used to be State champion rifle shot of Nebraska, and can step into the bluerocks with the best in any gun club in the country. Natives around Peterboro will bear me out in the statement that Nunamaker knows a lot about duck shooting, too."

The party will have three guides and a cook. They will arrive in Sudbury tomorrow morning, at which place food supplies will be laid in, and they will step off at the east end of Nipigon Bay on Saturday morning, reaching camp that night or the day following.

Speaker Gets 25-lb. Lunge.

The three men enjoyed a great outing in the vicinity of Peterboro, where they were guests of Chris Graham, former boxing and hockey star. The first afternoon the party went fishing in Pigeon creek, southeast of Bobcaygeon. Speaker landed a ten-pound lunge. While on a duck hunt the following day all hands got some shooting, bagging about twenty ducks, which included canvasbacks, redheads, bluebills, blacks and a couple of scoters.

Four days were spent on Margaret's Island, on Rice Lake. Here the boys got some nice duck shooting, garnering a bag of twenty-seven from one blind the first morning, which was followed later in the day by Speaker hooking and landing, on rod and reel, with phantom minnow lure, a lunge that tipped the beam at twenty-five pounds and four ounces. On the following day Nunamaker landed a ten and an eight-pounder, and "Spoke" followed up on the third day with another brace of nice fish.

The big lunge is being mounted by a local taxidermist in Peterboro, and has been viewed with interest by many persons in that vicinity, especially those who had an idea that these fish wouldn't strike this late in the season. Over a hundred ducks were taken during the stay, mostly bagged at Margaret's Island, on Rice Lake, and from Tamarac Point, on the south end of Pigeon Lake. And this notwithstanding the fact that weather during the last week or ten days has not been ideal duck weather by any means.

WILL MAKE REPAIRS TO PLANT OF NASHUA PAPER COMPANY

PROPERTY COMMITTEE HELD A MEETING LTST EVENING---WANT GARBAGE AREA EXTENDED .

The Property Committee was in a repairing mood last night and received tenders for repairs to be made to the old Cordage plant according to the agreement with the Nashua Gummed and Coated Paper Company. The Paper Company by telegram asked for speeding up in the repairs. The Mayor reported that he has engaged Mr. Victor Hamilton to continue as watchman at the building in the daytime at 50c an hour. Mr. Noris who was watchman for two nights is succeeded by Mr. McLeod an engineer who is making repairs to the boiler.

Mr. Alexander McLeod's tender for repairing the roof of the plant and making it watertight for two years for $280, was unanimously accepted by the Committee. The Council will also do necessary brickwork and have the boiler repaired. Fences will be fixed and the platforms given the once over so that everything will be in first class condition when the Paper Company move in on the New Year. Tenders for carpentery work and painting will be received up to 5 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon.

MOTOR VEHICLE ACT IN PETERBORO

(Contributed.)

The changes in the Act relating to automobiles made this year do not appear to be known to drivers of motor cars, or if known, are not observed in this city; and it would be well for owners of cars to learn and obey them. This might prevent accidents which occur too frequently.

The main provisions are as follows:

1.—Every motor vehicle must be equipped with a noise muffler, and no contrivance for releasing the muffler shall be attached to the car, which can be operated from any seat in it.

2.—Every motor vehicle used for commercial purposes must be equipped with a mirror placed in such a position that the driver will have a clear view of the highway in the rear or of any vehicle approaching from the rear.

3.—No motor vehicle can be driven on any street in the city at a greater rate of speed than 20 miles an hour, nor out side the city at a greater rate of speed than 25 miles an hour.

4.—At a street intersection or curve where the driver has not a clear view of aproaching traffic, the speed in the city must be reduced to a rate of speed not exceeding 10 miles an hour, and in the country to a rate of speed not exceeding 12½ miles an hour.

This provision is not observed. If it were there would be fewer accidents and near-accidents at such corners as George and McDonnel Streets, George and Charlotte Streets, Hunter and Aylmer Streets; and pedestrians would be safer in making crossings at these places.

Could not the police be induced to enforce this provision for the general benefit of the public?

It is much easier to form a new habit than it is to refrom an old one.

It is said that every man has his price—yet lots of men give themselves away.

Cigarette Cadgers Are Now Blacklisted.

Since cigarettes joined the cost-of-living aviation corps, the chronic fag-cadger, hitherto merely obnoxious, has become a positive pest, in the same class that the "Gotamatch?" chap joined when lucifers "riz." One of these dead-beat smokers operated on the early H. B. & B. car this morning. He started off by rolling his own with borrowed tobacco and borrowed papers, but quickly hid the hand-made "smoke" when his first victim appeared. No sooner was Victim No. One's cigarette well under way than Victim No. Two boarded the car. Hiding the lighted fag behind him, the "O.P.T." fiend bumped into another "smoke." By working this trick all up the line, the "baccer" bum accumulated about 18 cents worth of cigarettes. But he will not work it off to-morrow. His victims have enrolled hemselves in the Smokers' Defensive league.

The CRESSMAN Company Limited

J. TURNER SONS COMPANY WIN FIRST VICTORY LOAN EMBLEM

PLOYEES OF COMPANY WENT ER THE TOP IN GRAND STYLE —MADE A SPECIAL FLAG

he employees of the J. J. Turn- Sons, Company were presented h the Victory Loan Honour flag County Chairman, W. H. Brad- n yesterday afternoon at 4 ock for having gone over the top subscriptions to the Loan. To the flag 75 per cent. of the em- ees must contribute ten per t. of the annual pay roll but the ner employees not content with minimum went beyond the mini- m and contributed nearly twenty cent. of the annual pay roll. e banner which was presented m by Mr. Bradburn is in the shape a shield and has on it as an utcheon, the Union Jack quarter- the British coat of arms and nce of Wales' motto—"I serve—".

This banner not being large enough to fly at the Turner flag pole the Company made a flag of larger dimensions which is seen flying aloft to day.

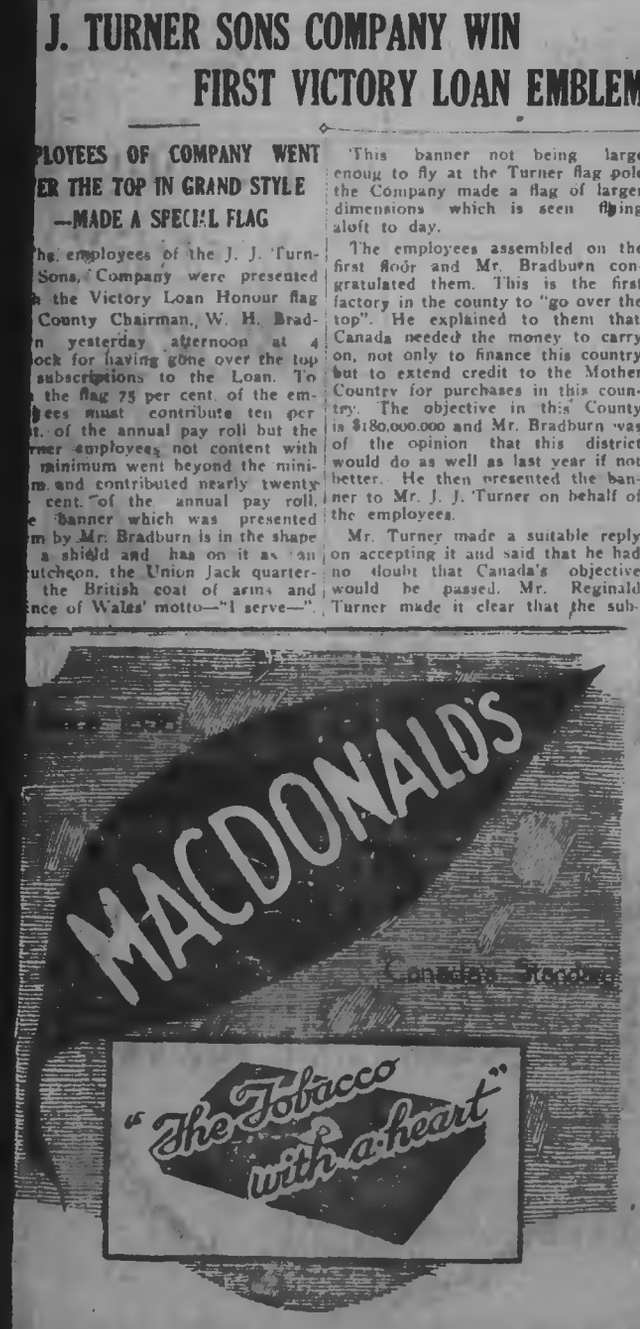
The employees assembled on the first floor and Mr. Bradburn congratulated them. This is the first factory in the county to "go over the top". He explained to them that Canada needed the money to carry on, not only to finance this country but to extend credit to the Mother Country for purchases in this country. The objective in this County is $180,000,000 and Mr. Bradburn was of the opinion that this district would do as well as last year if not better. He then presented the banner to Mr. J. J. Turner on behalf of the employees.

Mr. Turner made a suitable reply on accepting it and said that he had no doubt that Canada's objective would be passed. Mr. Reginald Turner made it clear that the subscriptions by the employees was entirely voluntary and those that did not subscribe were not able and most of them replied that they would contribute before the Loan is closed.

Mr. Vincent Eastwood declared that the J. J. Turner Company did more to advertise the city than any other factory as their goods went to all parts of the earth. "The spirit that prevails in this factory is striking and is always noted."

Mr. Harold Fry, Organizer for the County was gratified that such magnificent spirit was shown especially now that the war fervour has passed away.

A telegram was read by Mr. J. J. Turner from Mr. G. H Wood, Toronto, Chairman of the Loan for the province congratulating the employees on their magnificent contributions.



PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. KIDD

THE RECIPIENT WILL REMOVE TO PETERBORO—NEIGHBORS BID FAREWELL.

A large circle of friends of the Kidd families at Indian River met at the home of Mr. Fred Fife, Otonabee, on Tuesday evening the 28th inst., to bid them farewell on their removal to the city of Peterborough. As Harry Lauder said of the American recruits: "They came from the east and the west and the north and the south," and taxed the capacity of Mr. Fife's capacious residence to its utmost, while a number of automobile loads were only deterred from being present by the famine in gasoline.

After the guests had all arrived, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kidd were requested to come forward, when they were presented with a beautiful electric reading lamp and a gold handled umbrella. Mr. J. H. Pallin made the presentation, while Mrs. Elmer Davis read the following address:

Indian River, Ont., Oct. 28, '19.

To Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kidd:

We, your friends and acquaintances desire to take this opportunity tonight of expressing to you in some slight degree the esteem with which you are held and our appreciation of your valuable services to this community during the time you have been residing amongst us.

We wish you to know that we deeply regret your removal from our midst, but we realize that our loss will be the gain of another community.

During the time you have lived amongst us you have always taken a deep interest in the church, Sunday school and all other worthy institutions, and we know that you have given of your best to every good cause.

Therefore we ask you to accept this lamp and umbrella, not for their value, but rather as a remembrance of the host of friends you have made and the pleasant connections you have formed at Indian River. We trust that you may long be spared to continue to give the same splendid services to a new circle of friends.

We wish you God speed in your new sphere of work, and hope that health and prosperity shall be your lot for the future.

Signed on behalf of your many friends— Andrew L. Evans,
John Armstrong.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Kidd were taken absolutely by surprise, but managed to thank those present for the splendid tokens of friendship and to express in return their deep feeling of appreciation of their esteem and good will as evidenced by the gathering that night.

A handsome chair was sent to the residence, Homewood avenue, of Mr. David Kidd and sisters, who had unexpectedly removed a few days earlier to the city, and were included in the general felicitations.

The evening was spent in music, games and general good fellowship, some of those present meeting that evening for the first time. Afterwards, luncheon was served and all went away feeling the better for the general sociability and comradeship evidenced by all.

GRILL AUSTRIAN LEADER.

Investigators Examine Waldstaten on Delinquencies During the War.

VIENNA.—Major-General Arz von Straussenburg, Chief of Staff of the Austro-Hungarian army in the final stages of the war, and Field Marshal von Waldstaten, Chief of the Division of Operations, appeared before the commission appointed to investigate delinquencies of military officers during the war. They were examined particularly regarding the circumstances under which a premature armistice report was circulated thirty-six hours before the armistice was actually signed. This false report resulted in the capture by the Italian of several hundred thousand Austrian prisoners.

General Arz von Straussenburg refused to testify on the ground that he was a Hungarian subject. The court overruled his objection, but gave him time to communicate with the Hungarian Government. Field Marshal von Waldstaten was describing in detail conditions at the front at the time of the armistice when the session ended.

PAULINE FREDERICK CHARMS ANEW IN BIG MODERN DRAMA

COSMO HAMILTON'S "ONE WEEK OF LIFE," COMING TO GRAND THEATRE GIVES GOLDWYN'S FAMOUS EMOTIONAL ARTISTE STRIKING ROLE.

Pauline Frederick's second Goldwyn Picture is "One Week of Life," to be seen at the Grand Theatre, beginning Monday.

Again Samuel Goldwyn keeps his promise made to the exhibitors of America when Pauline Frederick became the newest star in his constellation by presenting her in what is distinctly an emotional drama of modern life. Not only is the star provided with a splendid story, which gives her the opportunity to dominate one powerful situation after another, but she is enabled to appear in a succession of costumes more gorgeous than she has ever worn on the screen.

As if that were not enough for the public, the scenario is cleverly arranged to present her in two distinct roles. By itself each would be a brilliant one; together they afford Miss Frederick sweeping scope for her emotions. Yet the interest of the play does not depend on any trick of double exposure. Each heroine lives apart. They do not even meet.

Written by Cosmo Hamilton, famous playwright and novelist, arranged for the screen by Willard Mack, directed by Hobart Henley, and with a cast including the leading man who aided Miss Frederick to achieve fame in "The Eternal City"—Thomas Holding—together with Sydney Ainsworth and Corinne Barker, Goldwyn offers "One Week of Life" with pride.

The Plot.

Marion Roche (Pauline Frederick), a girl of high ideals and honor, comes to New York to visit her friend, Lola Canby (Corinne Barker), a successful painter. Neither knows of the existence of Mrs. Kingsley Sherwood (also played by Pauline Frederick. She is a blase society woman whose selfish indifference more than anything else has made Kingsley Sherwood (Thomas Holding) seek consolation in self-indulgence. His weakness is drink. Mrs. Sherwood is involved in an intrigue with LeRoy Scott (Sydney Ainsworth), with whom she is tempted to run away, but for the disgrace and loss of her position. Repeatedly both declare they would give their souls for but one week of life together. But there is no way to bring this about.

Lola Canby gives a quiet little studio party in honor of Marion and amongst the guests is LeRoy Scott. At once he is struck by the resemblance between Marion and the woman he loves. Almost immediately a daring scheme is born in his mind. He telephones Mrs. Sherwood and once more she repeats her desire to seek a week of life with him. Scott electrifies her by declaring that he has found a way—perhaps. To Marion he presents a hypothetical case—a woman who is prevented from visiting the sick child she loves by a cruel husband. He wins Marion's sympathy, for the girl's fondness for children is well known. Then he tells her that she is the counterpart of such a woman of his acquaintance. Would she not become his friend's substitute, and take her place in Mrs. Sherwood's home? After long consideration, and the assurance that the deception can only bring happiness to the anguished mother, Marion consents. Veiled, she enters the Sherwood home and slips into Mrs. Sherwood's boudoir while the latter steals out, later going to the country with LeRoy Scott.

Marion dons Mrs. Sherwood's gowns and assumes her duties. She meets Sherwood and instead of being repelled, her sympathy is awakened. He notices a subtle difference in the woman he thinks is his wife. With the return of love he abstains from drink, but finds his wife's door locked against him. By chance Marion learns there is no child. Then she knows she has been duped. Still she fights against the love he has awakened in her. Sherwood, too, learns that he has been deceived and at the moment he confronts her comes word that LeRoy Scott has been drowned with an unknown woman. Then Sherwood and Marion know the truth. Loving each other, it is finally agreed that soon a marriage will be privately arranged, a marriage which will keep Marion in the first Mrs. Sherwood's place without anyone being the wiser.

LOCAL RUGBYISTS OFF TO BELLEVILLE

WILL PLAY THE BELLEVILLE AGGRE GATION TO-MORROW.

The Collegiate Institute senior rugby team left this afternoon for Belleville, where they will play the High School team to-morrow afternoon. They are making the trip in automobiles. They defeated Belleville here last Saturday, showing considerably more speed that the Bay of Quinte aggregation and are confident of the outcome of to-mordow's game.

The second team will likely play in Lakefield against the Lakefield High School team.

JOE HAD THE FLU

Joe Martin, Universal's $10,000 orang-outang, who has appeared in scores of Universal productions, and is now in the "Red Glove" which is being run serially at the Allen Theatre every Friday and Saturday, is the latest sufferer from the Spanish Influenza. He was narrowly saved from having double pneumonia by the tireless efforts of Dr. Richard Goodwin, the well known Pacific Coast veterinarian and "Curly" Stecker his faithful trainer. For two days and nights his life was dispaired of. He is now out of danger but is wearing a "flu" mask to prevent spreading the disease among the other simians of the Universal zoo. He has a very important part in this Marie Walcamp serial.

CHARLES RAY'S PICTURE, "THE BUSHER," HAS BASEBALL ATMOSPHERE

Ben Harding is a hired man in the country with an exceptional fine control of his throwing arm. He sustains the baseball reputation of Brownville, but to win the most important thing in life is the amiration of Mazie, the village belle.

A washout on the railroad obliges the limited to lay over in Brownville for a few hours, and the Blue Sox climb out for a stretch. An amateur baseball game is being played a short distance away and they wander over to see the "Bushers." Manager Steve Brady is astonished at the remarkable pitching of Ben Harding and a few weeks later sends for him to join the Blue Sox.

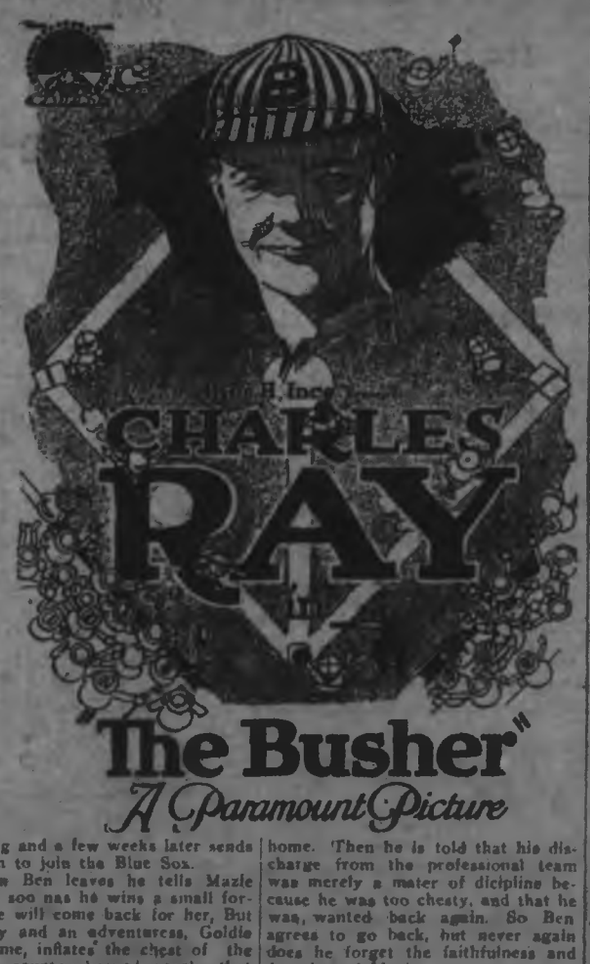
When Ben leaves he tells Mazie that as soo nas he wins a small fortune he will come back for her, But the city and an adventuress, Goldie by name, inflates the chest of the young country boy so much that Steve Brady believes it time to knock out his conceit. On a holiday, most of Brownville comes to the city to see Ben and the rest of the Blue Sox win. In the pitcher's box, Ben loses his nerve and after he 'passes' a few men, Brady pulls him out and tells him he is through. Of course, Goldie throws him down.

When completely down and out Ben returns to Brownville and asks Deacon Nashy for his old job as hired man, swearing he will never play another game of baseball. But Steve Brady keeps an eye on him, and concludes it is about time to bring him back to the big league, so he holds a secret conference with the Deacon, who, despite his religious connections, is an ardent baseball fan.

Brownville is in for the championship game of the bush league and at the beginning of the ninth inning, the team is on the verge of igominious defeat. The deacon urges Harding to go in and pitch, but Ben holds to his oath of abstinence. Then the Deacon tells him he has to go in as Mazie's brother has taken all the money with which they intended to pay off the mortgage on her home, and bet it on Brownville.

So Harding enters once more the pitcher's box and saves for Brownville the game and for Mazie her home. Then he is told that his discharge from the professional team was merely a mater of dicipline because he was too cheaty, and that he was wanted back again. So Ben agrees to go back, but never again does he forget the faithfulness and devotion of Mazie.

"The Busher" goes to the Allen Theatre for two days commencing to-day, and is one of the best pictures in which Mr. Ray has ever appeared in.



THE BAFFLING ART OF CINEMA "MAKE-UP"

(By TOM MOORE)

A star's popularity is largely due to his camera appearance. The make-up required by the script of "The City of Comrades," my latest picture, which will be shown at the Allen Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, caused me no end of annoyance in getting the correct detail.

I had to consider a number of "angles." First, there was my appearance as a tramp, which I got by growing a fierce-looking beard, using considerable shading about the eyes and accentuating the lines about the chin with pink and red grease-paint. After my pictorial "reformation," I used my ordinary camouflage — yellow, "whitener" on the face, only a touch of color on the lips, and very light lining about the eyes.

Later in the story I was a victim of the Halifax disaster. For this scene my face was heavily lined and shaded about the eyes, nose and mouth. A grease-paint gash appeared on my forehead and my hands were streaming painted blood.

The art of make-up is really fascinating to the photoplayer. He is constantly experimenting with new light-and-shadow effects, new kinds of make-up, and the use of various colors in getting unusual camera impressions. If he is careless it will show up not only in his make-up, but also in his work.

MUTT AND JEFF

Tired humanity, war burdened, and tax ridden, demand diversion with little thought or worry as to its artistic origin.

If a play or its actors are able to extract incessant laughter from an audience, naturally disposed to be serious in these trying times, that play or actor becomes an unqualified success as well as a national benefactor.

Mutt and Jeff started a tidal wave of merriment that has been continuous and multiplying year by year since its inception. Like Bud Fisher's daily cartoons, as long as Mr. Hill is able to offer new comedy features each season, so long will "Mutt and Jeff" play its yearly engagements to capacity audiences.

Situations ludicrous in the extreme are suggested by these funny fellows and one does not have to stretch his imagination to any great extent to conceive just how funny they will be in their latest fun festival "Mutt and Jeff's Dream."

Mr. Hill has furnished an entire new scenic equipment in keeping with the bright, gorgeous costumes that rival many Broadway productions, and a chorus of real beauties who can both sing and dance. Theatregoers who have laughed at Mutt and Jeff, perhaps many times, will find this offering so entirely new as to have the effect of being an innovation.

"Mutt and Jeff's Dream" will be presented at the Grand Saturday matinee and evening. Reserved seats can be had at the box office here.

HOW TO KILL DANDRUFF SO IT WON'T RETURN

By a Specialist

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature gray hair, is a well-known fact. We appreciate, therefore, the importance of any agent that will destroy its power. For this reason it is a pleasure to give herewith the prescription which a famous scalp specialist states he has found after repeated tests, will completely destroy the dandruff germs in from one to three applications. It will also almost immediately stop falling hair and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of partial baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you—6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. While this preparation is not a dye it is unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color.

Mr. J. H. Gundy, chairman of the Dominion Special Subscription Committee, wires the Peterborough headquarters as follows:

"Number of units that have left their special subscriptions objective behind fast swelling daily. Increased subscriptions chiefly responsible for early accomplishment of first task. Following units are over the top in specials: Brantford, London, entire Lake Huron Division, Leeds, Grenville, Peel, Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry, Carleton, Dufferin. These are now forging forward to new high records. Reports from other Provinces equally good, with many units claiming honours. This is assuredly a wonderful work."

LABOUR SETS EYES ON UTILITIES COM.

MR. HICKS' TERM EXPIRES THIS YEAR—MR. MATTHEWS MAY RESIGN.

The retiring member of the Utilities Commission this year is Mr. R. Hicks, and it has been generally reported that because he has taken up permanent residence in Toronto, Mr. T. F. Matthews, chairman of the Committee, will tender his resignation probably at the close of the year. In that event there would be two vacancies for which the Labour men of the city would probably put up candidates in the January elections. The same spirit of dissatisfaction with the old conditions that breaks out at every election these days is moving many of the Labour men to consider their chances of securing representation on the Utilities Commission.

They will have to decide for themselves whether they have members capable of assuming the duties that have been so successfully performed by the old commissioners. On that point some of them have no doubt whatever of finding within their ranks men of ability, initiative and caution for either or both positions, if they can be won. They assert that if they can secure men qualified to act as aldermen they can surely obtain the representation on the commission which they have thus far failed to elect.

The opinions expressed on this topic are only the gossip among some members of the Trades and Labour Council and other Labour men, but they are probably the impressions of organized Labour as a whole. It is likely therefore that the Trades and Labour Council when nominating candidates for the council will also select a member or two for the Utilities Commission.

It has been stated that if Mr. Matthews resigns his successor will be chosen by the City Council, and not by the ballots of the people. If this report is correct it will likely be combatted by Labour men, some of whom regard it as an attempt to prevent them from securing two of the seats in the Commission, in the event of Mr. Matthews withdrawing.

The situation presents an interesting possibility in the municipal elections, providing that organized Labour present the determined and united front it directed a year ago.

TO ELECT GOVERNORS FOR FIVE STATES

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Five States, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maryland Kentucky and Mississippi, will elect Governors at the off year elections to be held next Tuesday, November 4th. New York will elect Assembly men. Prohibition is the chief issue in the Ohio elections, where voters will be called upon to vote on two amendments and two referendums on the subject. The referendums relate to Legislative ratification of the Federal Prohibition Amendment and the Prohibition Enforcement Act passed by the last Legislature. Voters of Kentucky will also vote on the question of state-wide prohibition. Massachusetts, New Jersey, Virginia, Kentucky and Maryland will elect new members to the Legislative branches.

WORLD HAPPENINGS

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Oct. 31.—Victory Loan subscriptions up till noon to-day for the whole Dominion are reported as $111,284,800, which compares favourably with last year's total to date of $98,248,380. Ontario's total this afternoon is the same as reported this morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Canadian employee and Labour groups at International Labour Congress here are expected to differ sharply on the eight-hour day and other problems. Congress will elect officers to-day.

JUDGMENT IN THE COUNTY COURT

In the County Court Sittings this morning His Honour Judge Huycke gave judgement in the case of Reuben Castle against Harry Cox allowing Castle $60.00 damages for the taking and selling of his cattle by Mr. Cox.

Judge Huycke allowed Mr. Cox his claim for goods supplied Mr. Castle of $75.75. Judge Huycke gave costs to neither party.

Mr. C. R. Widdifield appeared for Mr. Cox and Mr. G. N. Gordon for Mr. Castle.

IVES RETURNING TO WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Oct. 31.—Wm. Ivens, one of eight labor leaders under indictment for sedition, is to return to Winnipeg, Sunday afternoon. Members of labor organizations plan to give him an ovation on his arrival. At the Board of Trade building, he will address a mass meeting of labor men shortly after arrival. F. J. Dixon, M.L.A., will make the opening speech and will give way to Ivens as soon as the later enters the hall. In a letter to R. B. Russell, Ivens states that the defence fund of $50,000 to be used at the trial of the 8 strike leaders, will be collected in industrial centres in Ontario next week.

READY TO PASS INTO OBLIVION

SIR WILLIAM HEARST HAD A LONG CONFERENCE WITH THE LAIRD OF ONTARIO'S $100,000,000 BUNGALOW.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Oct. 31. — While the Premier prospective, Charles Ernest Drury, Leader of the Farmer-Labour Coalition, is to-day turning up the furrows of his Simcoe County farm, and at the same time turning over in his mind the possibilities for his Cabinet, reporters are waiting at the Parliament Buildings for official intimation that Sir William Hearst has handed his resignation, and that of the members of his Cabinet, to the Lieutenant-Governor, and recommended that Mr. Drury be called upon to form a new Government. Sir William said that this would be done to-day or to-morrow. Before Mr. Drury left the city yesterday for his farm he told some of his friends that he could think better when plowing. It was also conceded that he had not definitely chosen his future colleagues. The inference is that he is doing so to-day while about his chores at the farm. He has left all his political advisors in Toronto, and has promised to return on Monday with his mind practically made up in regard to the Cabinet. In other respects there are no developments in the situation as reported to-day. The Liberals will hold a meeting over the week-end, and the soldier members, irrespective of party affiliation, will meet on Monday to discuss their policy in regard to re-establishment of soldiers in Ontario.

Had a Conference.

Sir William Hearst had a long conference with Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Hendrie at noon to-day, and although it was not officially announced, it is believed that the resignations of the Hearst Government were handed in and the name of Ernest Charles Drury, Leader of the Farmer-Labour Coalition, suggested as the man to form a new Government.

VICTORY LOAN NOTES

"The new crowd at Toronto are not so slow after all. Here's a new lift-lock already," was the remark of a local wag as he slowed up at Victory Loan headquarters this morning, and surveyed the spectacle before him. Then he walked on.

But the idea of the new lift-lock is to impress the people of Peterborough with the fact that it's a long lift to the top and many more subscribers to the Victory Loan must "come across" if the city and county are to show up well when the campaign is over.

The slogan is, "Help the Lift-Lock lift it over." So if you have not already subscribed, the Lift-Lock must remind you. Subscriptions will be received at the Loan headquarters.

Among the splendid window decorations for the campaign, is the display at Grafton's It is interesting to note that ex-Mayor Rush, who is to be seen in the group of Veterans of 1916, is one of the busy salesmen in the 1919 Victory Loan campaign. It's a long jump from the days of the Fenian raid to the present.

Bonds and Wheat.

Miss Canada beckons at Cressman's, where the large display space has been given over to boosting the Loan. Several of the most attractive lithographs have been arranged on pedestals, and framed with sheafs of wheat. Victory Bonds and wheat mean much to Canada, and this thought has been brought out splendidly.

Scouts' V. L. Bonfire Postponed.

Owing to the heavy rains, it has been impossible to gather enough dry brush for a real bang-up bonfire, so that it has been considered advisable to hold this event later.

Canadian General Electric employees opened their V. L drive this morning. The following wire was received by Mr. R. E. Layfield:

"Were delighted hear from Mr. Fry you have decided canvass your Peterborough establishment from within. Feel satisfied this will undoubtedly produce best result. J. J. Turner and Sons, Peterborough, already won their Honor Banner but have great hopes Canadian General Electric with all their electrical appliances will be able get up such speed they will overtake all others and surpass excellent result of last year."

Gordon T. Finch,
Vice-Chairman, Employees' Committee, Toronto, Ontario.

SAY GOVERNMENT SCORED A TRIUMPH

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Oct. 31.—The press today is unanimous in acknowledging that the Government scored a triumph in the financial debate yesterday. Even the Daily News, the most severe critic of the Government, generally admits that the Premier's speech was a great oratorical success and made a tremendous impression on the House. 'The discussion, it states, fizzled out by the time the Premier had resumed his seat. Nevertheless, some of the newspapers continue criticism of what they call the Government's faith-healer finance. They accuse the Government of replying with rhetoric and despising logic and facts. The "Times" states that there will be widespread amazement that the Commons is so easily cajoled and those believing in representative institution will tremble for democracy's failure.

AY HAIR BECOMES DARK AND BEAUTIFUL

Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and gloss to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

THE BUSY RUBBER TREE.

There are 2,000,000 acres of producing cultivated rubber trees in the world. Of these 1,600,000 acres are under British control. The market value of the shares representing this immense acreage was in August last, according to The London Times, $780,000,000.

KEEP PETERBOROUGH HUMMING

Canada is running a great National Store.

Great Britain and other lands come here to buy our surplus agricultural and industrial products. These are the orders that are keeping Canadians busy and prosperous. That is where the money comes from that is paying our farmers for their surplus products and providing full pay envelopes for our workers.

But Great Britain and our allies are temporarily short of "cash." So Canada must extend them "credit"—just as any storekeeper extends credit to any customer whose financial standing is good.

The success of the Victory Loans 1917 and 1918 made possible the giving of these credits.

A continuation of these credits and the maintenance of our valuable overseas markets—depend upon the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

You will therefore plainly see how closely bound up with the Victory Loan 1919 is the prosperity of everyone in Canada, without exception.

Do not think your individual co-operation "does not matter."

It does matter.

Unless Canadians to the last man support the Victory Loan, it will not be the success that our continuous prosperity demands.

Let Peterborough do its share to keep things humming.

TO BUILD MODEL TOWN.

General Motors to Spend a Million on Workmen's Homes.

Purchase of 600 acres in Sandwich East recently by General Motors Corporation was announced by officials of the company. The land, which is near the $6,000,000 plant the corporation is building on the Walkerville Road, Walkerville, will be used as the site of a model town for employees. In the meantime temporary quarters will be erected by the corporation. More than $1,000,000 will be spend in building workmen's houses, the officials said.

PUTTING PEST DAMAGE TO PROFIT.

Everyone who has a garden detests a mole—everyone, perhaps but a certain woman gardener out in Bryan county, Okla. This ingenious person, who reported her experience to the United States Department of Agriculture, puts them to work. A number of these pests undermined her garden this season, digging diminutive tunnels here, there and everywhere. It would have discouraged the average woman; it didn't disturb this one. She started a little irrigation plant of her own, using its tunnels as irrigation ditches. She filled the tunnels with water repeatedly, until the garden was well watered, and finally drove the moles off the premises.

Not a Bite of Breakfast Until You Drink Water

Says a glass of hot water and phosphate prevents illness and keeps us fit.

Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind incombustible ashes so the food and drink taken day after day leaves in the alimentary canal indigestible material which if not completely eliminated from the system each day becomes food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. From this mass of left over waste, toxins and ptomaine-like poisons are formed and sucked into the blood.

Men and women who can't get feeling right must begin to take inside baths. Before breakfast each morning drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash out of the bowels the previous day's poisons and toxins and to keep the entire alimentary canal clean, pure and fresh.

Those who are subject to sick headache, colds, biliousness, constipation, others who wake up with bad taste, foul breath, backache, rheumatic stiffness, or have a sour, gassy stomach after meals, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, and begin practicing internal sanitation. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on the subject.

THE ELEVENTH HOUR

(By B. P. GADSBY)

OTTAWA.—The last days of Parliament are clouded by a great sorrow. Its mind is not on its work—that is to say that half and more which sits on the Government side of the House. The Opposition is cheerful enough, and Mr. Crearer's little band is joyously confident, but for the Unionist party—that cold abstraction which has no existence whatever outside the House of Commons—the election in Ontario is big with fate.

Mr. Rowell's joy is far from being unalloyed. True prohibition carried by a vote a long way short of the three-fifths which good Ontario common sense insisted should be behind the local option law—and is therefore no great thing to crow about—but it is doubtful whether the Ontario Legislature will reckon it a sufficient mandate to apply for further restrictions on the importation and manufacture. Dispassionate critics look upon the vote as a sort of as-you-were minus the orders-in-council which prevented the private consumer shipping it in from Montreal. It is quite conceivable that the latest Doherty Act may never be invoked by Ontario. The result in Ontario makes Mr. Rowell's colleagues just a little less willing to be led round by the nose—particularly the answer to question four. It is likely that from now on the Dominion Government will adopt a policy of let-well-enough-alone toward the liquor question which means that Mr. Rowell's influence is proportionately curtailed.

Another razor-edged feature of the referendum vote is that the prohibitionists are party men first and prohibitionists afterwards and this causes politicians to wonder if it is good business to go out of their way to please them. The particular lesson to Mr. Rowell, as it has also been to Sir William Hearst, is that a great cause does not make up for personal unpopularity. Mr. Rowell's experience is that people suspect a politician who hitches his career to the water wagon—they apprehend that he has ulterior motives, that he is six for prohibition we will say, and a dozen for himself. At all events Ontario told Mr. Rowell in 1914 that it was unwilling to have him and prohibition together. It told him practically the same thing in 1917 when the Hon. Frank Cochrane interviewed some twenty constituencies before he could get a home for Mr. Rowell.

And last week Ontario said the same thing to Sir William Hearst. It's words were short and sharp. "We take prohibition, but we don't take you or your Government." To some extent it was the Conservative party's revenge on a leader who put Mr. Rowell run his mind, and to some extent a rebuke to Mr. Facing-Both-Ways.

Be that as it may the Ontario election is no great source of satisfaction to Union Government and its supporters at Ottawa. Indeed the blamed thing may be said to have cast a deep gloom over No. 16 which even Premier Borden's promise that there will be at least two more sessions fails to dispel. The feeling is all too strong that Ontario is the measure of what will happen to Union Government when the cold world and Bob Rogers get a chance to pounce on it.

They do say that when Premier Borden heard the news at Virginia Hot Springs he swallowed enough sulphur water to start a small well of his own and immediately called to Sir George Perley "Come back at once. I want that job for myself." This, together with the fact that Sir Robert is now selling his house in Ottawa gives rise to the story that Premier Borden is shaping up to make his get-away.

Mr. Crearar is authority for the statement that there is an excellent prospect for a third or farmers' party in the next Parliament. There have been as we all know, farmres' parties in the House before and there probably will be farmers' parties again. Judging from the past a farmers' party is good for one election to the ample bosom of the good old party whose opinions resemble it most. The trouble with formers' parties is that they are not bold and that when they get to the House of Fine Talk they melt into its larger vociferousness, say nothing at all or say it badly.

I cannot testify that the Western farmers who were sent to Ottawa to speak up for their interests have either talked or voted like men who had ideas of their own. I except, of course a paladin of debate like Dr. Michael Clark, also Mr. Crearer and his Wee Frees, but instead of that they have made a poor showing. In some cases they have done worse. What did the English language, for example, do to Maharg that he should murder it so cruelly whenever he gets up—which is seldom enough. Moreover they have sat mumchance under every assault on their principles, and have received in return for their complaisance a mess of pottage—an extra session and the Government's promise that it will not take a chance until 1921 A.D.

What farmers' party we have in the House now is a sad warning to other farmers' parties here and elsewhere to come to their duties well equipped with rhetoric, a sound knowledge of English grammer and a stiff backbone. Principles alone will not carry them through. It is likewise worth nothing that principles fed only twelve of them in Mr. Crearer's direction when that valiant gentleman, cheerfully surrendering seven thousand dollars a year asked them to follow him, not right out of their jobs, but merely to middle ground where they would continue to draw their sessional indemnities.

Practical politicians are asking what need there is of Mr. Crearer's third party to meet the same fate as the Patrons of Industry and the Grange, when the latest Liberal platform contains all the reforms that the most advanced farmer can demand—and then some. If these principles are sincere and if the Liberal party intends to work at them there is about as much use for a farmers' party in the House of Commons as a dog has for two tails. If the Liberal party is a real Liberal party and is willing to behave accordingly it will swallow a farmers' party in the good old geometrical principle that the whole is greater than any of its parts. It is true that a farmers' party might hold the balance of power in Parliament but it would naturally have recourse to the Liberal party as to logical reinforcement to achieve its ends.

The farmers have a numerical superiority in the Ontario Legislature but not enough to form a Government or put anything over without making alliances. A partnership of U.F.O. and Labour would be a partnership of cat and dog not to mention the fact that it would fall two short of a bare majority, and a partnership of U.F.O. and Conservatives would be against nature. It looks as if the only way out is a partnership of U.F.O. and Liberal and this, with all its direful implications, is what is throwing Union Government at Ottawa into a cold sweat right now.

GRIP, INFLUENZA

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive

During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and snuff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "Flu" germs.

Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza.

Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back.

Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whips, pleasant little pink pills, 30c at druggists. Guaranteed.

MAKE SURE WATER SUPLY IS SAFE.

Water for domestic use should be clear, lustrous, odorless, colorless, wholesome, soft, neither strongly acid nor alkaline, and its temperature for general fram purposes should be about 50 degrees F. These characteristics, however, must never be deemed proof of purity, for a glass of water may possess them all and yet contain millions of disease-producing germs. Any suspicious water should be rejected until both the water and the surroundings where it is obtained are passed upon by competent sanitation authority, generally the State Board of Health.

KEEP ACCOUNTS.

Farming is a business the same as banking or running a mercantile establishment. There are products to be sold and articles to be bought. The keeping of a record of these and determining the relation of the outgo to the income are important considerations on every farm. The farmer should know what his income is and just how he is disposing of it. He can know this only by keeping books and the first of the new year is the proper time to begin.

THE COAL OF POLAND.

Next to the textiles, mining is the principal industry in Poland, especially that of coal, which was considerable in the years before the war. The quality of coal mined in Austrian Poland is better than in the German portion. Before the war Russia started to open some mines in Poland, but the work was never completed.

ROAD BUILDING ON THE DESERT.

There is now nearing completion a 17-mile tangent of Lincoln Highway which cuts across the Salt Lake Desert, shortening the highway by some fifty miles. The desert surface is broken up by means of gang plows and shaped by means of road graders hauled by caterpillar tractors. Owing to the nature of the soil difficulty was experienced in moist weather, due to the weight of the tractors which sank into the mud despite their broad bearing surfaces. The difficulty was solved by bolting timbers to the caterpillar belts so as to broaden the treal of the machines. As the road bed is completed the gravel is hauled and dumped over it by means of motor trucks mounted on broad steel-tired wheels which serve to pack the road material.

TESTS GARNISHEE LAW.

Endicott-Johnson Co. Will Carry Case to Highest State Court.

BINGHAMPTON. — The Endicott-Johnson Company of this city, on behalf of its 28,000 employees, has begun an action to test the constitutionality of the garnishee law, which compels an employer to set aside a portion of the weekly wage of an employee against whom a judgment is obtained under this law.

The small sum of $3.25, an unpaid balance on a clothing bill of a woman employee, is the item involved, and the action brought against the woman is being defended by Maurice E. Page, attorney for the big corporation, with instructions to carry it to the Court of Appeals on the ground that no specific authority is given in the Constitution for the enactment of laws for judgments against wages; second, that the judgment takes the debtor's property without due process of law; third, that its operations are inequitable, as no allowance is made for sickness of dependents; fourth, that no allowance is made by the law for the increased cost of living; and, fifth, that the enforcement of executions violate contracts between employer and employee.

ERECT NEW HOTEL AND TERMINAL C.P.R. TO USE "MYSTERY BLOCK"

HAVE PURCHASED LAND FOR UNDERGROUND TUNNEL TO REACH THE NORTH TORONTO STATION.

HOTEL TO COST $3,000,000

Toronto is to have a new $3,000,000 hotel, and the site on which it is to be built is the long famous "mystery block," bounded by Carlton Street on the south, Alexander Street on the north, Yonge on the west, and Church Street on the east.

This property, it turns out, has been bought some time ago by the C.P.R., and the only piece of it they at present do not own is the Carmichael property at No. 60 Wood Street, which they are negotiating for at the present time.

A Well-Kept Secret.

At one time this property was said to have been bought by the Eaton people, then again it was said that this was to be the new terminus of the C.N.R., and that Mackenzie and Mann had bought the property. Still later other rumours had it that the Hudson Bay stores were going to build there, while other rumours had it that a large department store from the United States was going to open up. Purchase of this property was started as far back as eight years ago.

Hotel and Terminal.

Not only is the C.P.R. to build this hotel, but they have acquired considerable other property north of where the hotel is to be built, from Alexander Street to the new North Toronto station. It is intended by the company to have a first-class hotel and terminal in this district.

North of Alexander Street to Bloor Street the company has purchased property 100 feet wide for a distance which, measured on the map, makes it 6,000 feet long, to reach their station. It is proposed that an underground tunnel be built here to reach the station, and the company intends to erect a hotel and terminal second to none anywhere.

Equal to the Best.

The erection of this terminal means that the city of Toronto will have one of the finest railway terminals and hotels on the continent of America, equalling that of the New York Central in New York or the Chicago and North-Western in Chicago. It will also mean that a great deal of the traffic from the Union Station will be transferred to the North Toronto station. There are those in the railway business who believe this is an indication of a separation in terminal facilities of the C.P.R. and G.T.R., and that a greater part of the Union Station will be occupied by the Government railways, the G.T.R., when it is taken over, and the Canadian National Railway.

NEWS HAPPENINGS FROM MILLBROOK

MILLBROOK, Oct. 30.—The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held their annual hot supper and entertainment on Tuesday evening and were very fortunate in having good weather. The attendance was large. The supper provided was all that could be desired and there was plenty and to spare, despite the large throngs who partook of the excellent repast. The tables and dining hall were prettily decorated, due to Miss Hampton's artistic eye. The program by Ivon Simily, Canada's foremost Elocutionist, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston, two of Millbrook's leading vocalists, the Misses McBean and Elson, and the S.S. orchestra was a real treat. The efficient accompanists were Misses Eleanor McBean and Ella Elson. Warden A. J. Henderson filled the chair in his usual happy manner. The recipts were over $250.00

Women's Auxiliary.

The monthly meeting of the Women's auxiliary of the Millbrook Methodist church was held at the home of Mrs. Noble Stewart. There was a large attendance. Miss Byam gave an interesting report of the convention held at Lakefield. Thoughts gathered at this convention were given by Mrs. Tucker, and the Misses Hampton, Hetherington and Burnham. Lunch was served by Miss Stewart. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. Lixon on Nov. 5, when all members are requested to attend. A collection will be taken for the "Rest Fund."

Among those who attended the Epworth League convention held at Port Hope were Rev. S. T. and Mrs. Tucker, Miss Burnham, Miss S. Hetherington, Mrs. Byam, Mrs. W. Sayles, Mrs. Nichols, Miss Phyllis Richards, Messrs Bruce Dawson and Loyd Byam.

Mrs. Pascal Metherall, of Weyburn, Sask., was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Noble Stewart.

Mr. Basil Richards was in Peterboro Saturday.

The anniversary services of Centreville church will be held Sunday, Nov. 9, 1919, at 10.30 a.m. and 7 p. m. Rev. Geo. Yule, of Oshawa, will be the special preacher for the occasion.

The Sacrament will be administered at the close of the morning service in the Methodist church, Millbrook, next Sunday. In the evening a special service in the interests of the Epworth League will be held. Service will be held at Falls line at 3 p.m.

Mount Pleasant Women's Institute will hold a pie social and entertainment in the Temperance Hall, Mount Pleasant, on Friday evening, Nov. 7, a good program will be given and lunch served.

Mr. J. H. Wilson, of Port Hope was in Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stanton, of Peterboro spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stanton.

Rev. S. T. Tucker preached in George Street church Sunday.

The many friends of Mr. Geo. Sanderson will be pleased to learn that he is improving. Mr. Sanderson has been seriously ill.

BEAT HUSBAND BECAUSE HE WAS "SO PROVOKING"

NEW YORK.— Charging that his wife constantly beat him on the slightest provocation and that he was constantly in such a battered condition from her attacks that he was afraid he would lose his position, Timer E. Forget, fifty-six years old, of No. 169 East 112th street, requested Magistrate Levine, in the Harlem court, to use legal powers to extract a promise from his wife that she would leave him alone in the future.

Elmer stood five feet eleven inches and his wife, Mary, who was in court, was five feet six. She admited that she did beat her husband occasionally because he "was so provoking." She admited breaking a soap dish on his head last Tuesday, but declared her husband "thought he was running the house." She promised not to beat her husband any more and the Magistrate discharged her.

MIDDLE CLASS PARTIES WIN.

Elect Majority of Swiss Parliament—Proportional System in Force.

BERNE.—Middle class parties will hold a majority in the new Swiss Parliament of reports from the election held Saturday and Sunday continue to show their present trend.

The Socialists will probably have thirty-four seats instead of nineteen, which they hold at present.

Extraordinary interest was taken in the balloting, it being estimated that from 80 to 90 per cent. of the voters went to polls. The adoption of the counting of the ballots and the exact results will not be known for some days.

The Seal Ring.

The seal ring dates back to the days of the Old Testament, and products of the glyptic art, as gem engraving was called, were known in the most remote times. In Exodus xxviii, 17-20, mention is made of the following stones, upon which the names of the twelve children of Israel were engraved: The sardius, the topaz, the carbuncle, the emerald, the sapphire, the diamond, the ligure, the agate, the amethyst, beryl, onyx and jasper. In verse 2 of the same chapter we find mention of the engraving of signets upon the hardest stones. It is believed that the Egyptians instructed the Israelites in the art of stone engraving. The Egyptians used the lapidary's wheel and emery powder and knew the use of the diamond in engraving other hard stones. Among the Assyrian and Babylonian ruins were found fine specimens of signets on gems, many of them set in rings.

Dublin Castle.

Dublin castle has a history of over seven centuries, for it was King John who in 1204 ordered it to be built, "well fortified, with good fosses and thick walls strong enough to defend or control the city." Henry III., when about to visit Ireland in 1243, ordered the addition of a hall, "with sufficient windows and glass casements," and other improvements were made in succeeding reigns, particularly by the Duke of Clarence, son of Edward III., who as viceroy spent much money on the castle to make it convenient (as his father complained when called upon to pay) "for his sports and other pleasures."—London Standard.

Realistic Play.

"Can't you children play without continually ringing the doorbell?" asked mother, who had been trying in vain to get an afternoon nap.

"No, mother," said Alice, "it's quite impossible. You see, Edith and I are playing house, and Freddie is the collector."

DRESSMAKER SAVED FROM OPERATION

BIG AMERICAN PACKING FIRM BUYS A PLANT IN CHATHAM.

CHATHAM, Oct. 27. — The Wilson Company, the third largest packers in the United States, have purchased the Chatham Abattoir, which has been idle for more than a year, and have made arrangements for the plant to be put into operation at once. Officials of the company have been installed in the new branch, and expect the plant to be running at capacity in three weeks. They have plans for extending the building. W. W. Bowers announced that for the present the plant will be devoted to killing and curing hogs, but in the future will include sheep and cattle.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy, Sickness and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless, if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried pepsin, bismuth, soda, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble — in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little bisurated magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate, oxide or milk, but the pure bisurated magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powdered or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, faintness, heartburn, and that bloated or heavy lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little bisurated magnesia immediately after a meal you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the bisurated magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Nothing ruins a woman's complexion quicker than marrying a man to reform him.

PRESENTATION TO MISS NETTA JOLIFFE

A MEMBER OF PARK STREET BAPTIST CHURCH, SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Miss Netta Joliffe remembered on the eve of her departure for Detroit. The Cavell class of Park street Baptist Sunday school gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O'Neill Hunter street, on Wednesday evening to bid farewell to one of their number who was leaving for Detroit to reside. The evening was spent in songs and games. During the evening the following address was read by Miss Myrtle O'Neill, and at the proper moment Miss Lily Feasey presented Miss Joliffe with a beautiful suitcase umbrella suitably engraved:

Peterboorugh, Oct. 29, 1919.

Dear Netta,—It is with deep regret that we learned of your departure from our midst at an early date, and we cannot let you leave us without in some way showing to you the esteem and love we have for you.

Your deep interest in the work of our class and all other church work has been a noble example to us all.

We would ask you to accept this umbrella as a slight token of the many happy hours spent in our midst. We wish you peace and happiness in your new home and trust that you will continue to work in His Master's vineyard.

Signed on behalf of the Cavell class of Park street Baptist church Sunday school—Mrs. O. S. Matchett, Myrtle O'Neill, Lilly Feasey, Lila Campbell, Thelma Purvis, Mary Hunt, Winnie Cooper, Katharines Feasey, Norma Johnston.

Refreshments were served and a vote of thanks was moved to Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill for entertaining the class.

VICTORY BONDS

Somebody has dicovered that one of Shakespeare's books is the most valuable book in the world, but can you imagine what this newspaper will be worth a few hundred years hence.

Man hopes for little here below,
To grab, he'd get in dutch;
But buying Victory bonds to-day,
He gets that little, much.

This one is worse, but it has a good moral;
Buy and the Bonds stay with you,
Spend and lose a heap;
Leave your Bonds deep in your trousers,
They're safe from your wifey — she'll sleep.

No Real Estate Angels.

"What were you in civilian life?" asked St. Peter as McCannan approached the gate.

"I was a Victory Loan salesman," replied Mac.

"That's the only thing that saved you, then. Pass in."

A miss is as good as a mile and a Bond is the start of a pile.

Mary sheared her little lamb,
The wool was very dear;
She used the cash for Victory Bonds,
The little profiteer!

The Stillest Thing in Town.

The still is still a still,
But it's empty and it will
Be still
Till they kill
The bill
That killed the empty still.
But there's something stiller still—
He's the man who needs a pill;
He never bought a Victory Bond
And swears he never will!

A Miss
A Man.
A Bond.
A Man.

There was a young lady named Min
Who was so exceedingly thin,
That when she essayed
To drink lemonade
She slipped through the straw and fell in.

Eventually you will buy Victory Bonds. Why not to-day?

BAR TOBACCO, RAISE FOOD, WOMEN URGE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Gloomy news for smokers:

The wives of several million farmers are out with the W.C.T.U. to knife Lady Nicotine and rid the nation of her seductive charms.

The national congress of farm women, which opened in Hagerstown, Md., to-day will present a resolution to congress petitioning for the legislation to prohibit the growing of tobacco in the United States.

"Not that we think smoking a vice," explained Mrs. Benigs G. Dalb of Houston, Texas, secretary of the congress, "but we do feel that eating is more essential. If we're going to get enough to feed ourselves and Europe until Europe is rehabilitated, we'll have to produce more food.

"There are about 1,870,000 acres in this country devoted to tobacco growing. We want to have this immense acreage converted to the raising of food crops."

AIM TO CONQUER THE ZUYDER ZEE

HOLLANDERS START ON 20 YEAR TASK TO RECLAIM HALF MILLION ACRES NOW UNDER WATER.

Without waging war against any of its neighbors, without risk of shedding the blood of a single one of its citizens, Holland is preparing to increase its territory by one sixteenth of its present surface. Land-hunger there must be in a rapidly increasing agricultural community, and the Dutch nation, which did not even undergo the blood-letting to which most of the surrounding countries have been subjected, aspires to its place in the sun as much as any other. But not every country has the privilege of being able, when trying to satisfy the appetite, to extend its frontiers as though they were an elastic cord, and to keep its emigrants within its own territory. Holland's conquests are of a peaceful character, but conquests they are, and fruits of a hard and unrelenting struggle with a terrible and treacherous enemy. At peace with men for generations, Holland has been fighting the sea, with varying fortunes. Defeats there have been, catastrophes, such as the loss of the Biesbosch in 1421, when on St. Elizabeth's Day a great flood broke the dykes and kept submerged ever since a rich portion of the province of South Holland, or when, earlier still, the North Sea, out of the small Lake Flevo, made what is now the Zuyder Zee.

Blameless Annexation.

It is against the Zuyder Zee that Holland will now concentrate her efforts. Within the last fortnight the works have begun which will in less than twenty years, reclaim 464,000 acres of good soil from the sea. Like the Channel tunnel, the reclamation of the Zuyder Zee has its history. From 1848 onwards plans have been drawn and books published advocating various schemes. A society was formed, which collected all the data, and finally decided for one of the plans on which it concentrated, and by an intense propaganda, raised a new form of annexationism in the Dutch nation. Parliament expressed unanimous will of the country when in March, 1918, it passed the bill which empowered the State forthwith to undertake the works of reclamation in accordance with the plans of the "Zuyder-Zee Vereeniging."

These plans are not the most ambitious of those that have been propounded. The more hazardous ones have been put aside, but the system now adopted by no means precludes further works at a later date. But they will be left to a following generation. Care has been taken to reclaim only fertile clay, while sandy parts will remain submerged, but in such a way, the engineers expect that a layer of good soil will gradually form on top of them. In due course, in place of the Zuyder Zee with its salt water, its tides, its tempests, and its inundations, the last of which occurred in 1916, there will come four agricultural districts and a fresh-water lake, the Yselmeer, the level of which can be regulated by sluices.

CUT THIS OUT

OLD ENGLISH RECIPE FOR CATARRH, CATHARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrhal Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatmen and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climate conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmint (Double strength). Take this home and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four imes a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflamation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmint used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is hard of hearing should give this treatment a trial.

STORE PENALIZED.

A profiteering committe, sitting in London, has ordered the Selfridge department store to refund $2.50 on a cost for a five-year-old girl, which was sold for $12. After retiring from the firm of Marshall Field, & Co., in Chicago, H. Gordon Selfridge went to London, and founded the first big department store in England.

MR. BLACK'S SALE BILLS.

It will pay you to get a copy of P. Black's Fall Sale bills now being distributed in the homes of the city. After many days' careful buying in Toronto and Montreal, Mr. Black believes he has collected a large and varied stock of men's and women's fall clothing, millinery and general household goods. Mr. Black is a close and careful buyer, and being a cautious storekeeper, can afford to mark his goods on a smaller margin of profit. Read the bill and see for yourself. 1d

SCOUT NOTES TO THE PUBLIC.

A public meeting will be held in the Lecture Room of the Library on Monday, Nov. 3rd at 8 p.m. Every Scout is asked to be on hand in uniform and to bring at least one of his parents if possible with him. The election of officers will take place at this meeting and it is important for the parents to have a say in who shall look after their boys in the coming year. It is hoped that the public will show its interest by attending and boosting the movement.

LOCAL COUNCIL SECY.

Y.M.C.A. BOWLING NEWS.

Stanfield's five captured three games from the Rollers in last night's bowling at the "Y." In spite of the fact that the Rollers worked hard they were unable to shake the hard luck which favored them. Some remarkable frames were the features of the games and scores were greatly good. The men from the C.G.E. are out to make all comers travel, while the Rollers promise their next opponents a thorough going over.

Scores:

	1	2	3	Total
Winners
Seaton	161	136	139	436
Stanton	106	122	143	371
Huffman	123	173	122	418
Brewett	119	175	163	457
Stanfield	171	154	120	445
Grand Total	680	760	687	2127

	1	2	3	Total
Rollers
Taylor	116	178	24	318
Loucks	145	180	188	513
Herbison	141	160	167	477
McLeod	76	67		143
Pogue	122	82	74	278
Roper			117	117
Grand Total	600	616	630	1846

Stanfield and Seaton starred in the first game, while Taylor, Loucks and Herbisch worked hard to counterbalance their efforts. Loucks topped all scores in the second game but with hard luck working against them his team mates were unable to give the necessary support. The last game looked promising to the Rollers with a good start and a pinch hitter in but the Jonah made himself known again while Stanfield's five sped on to a victory in all three games.

The next game is scheduled for Monday, November 3rd, Centrals versus Busy Bunch at 7.30 p.m.

MEAT DEALERS WILL HAVE TO COME DOWN FROM ABOVE—NEW PRICE LISTS TO BE ISSUED.

MARCH 10TH PRICES

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Nov. 1.—It is not expected that the retail meat dealers will reduce prices to-day in accordance with the orders of the Board of Commerce, Mr. J. S. Lundy, representative of the Attorney-General's department said to-day in reference to the statement of some of the retailers that they had not yet received lists on which to base their prices. "These lists would go out from the wholesalers to-day and that the retail prices will not be revised from these until next week. "The whole list will not go out to-day," said Mr. Lundy, "and I suppose the butchers have to drop first. For instance they will have the same percentage of profit on the prices as they did on the old list."

"Has the Board of Commerce send out new lists?"

"No, they have the wholesale price lists out to trade. These price lists are not the same in every case but will be the prices that obtained on March 10th."

"Will these the prices for Winnipeg cattle higher?"

"They will have to drop them to what they were on March 10th. The prices of one of the abbatoirs might be a little better than those of another as they have to go down to the March 10 prices, so that the retail lists will not be exactly the same."

"It will be well on in the week before you institute any prosecutions from any violations of the order?"

"We do not like to make any prosecutions," said Mr. Lundy. "These prices are not going to be issued from here to-day by the wholesalers and it will be next week before the retailers fix their prices. The retail price will not go down to-day."

Mr. Lundy has a list of wholesale prices issued on September 22nd and from which the retail prices will be based.

GRATUITY TO POLICE COMMISSION

$100 FOR JUDGE HUYCKE AND $50 EACH TO HIS ASSOCIATES.

That an allowance of $100 be granted Judge Huycke and $50 each to Inspector Dumble and Mayor Duncan for their week's session in connection with the Police Commission's investigation of the charges made against members of the Police Department, was the recommendation of the finance committee of the City Council last night. The resolution was moved by Ald. Turner and seconded by Ald. Morrison.

Ald. Edgar proposed an amendment that the three commissioners be paid $50 each, but failed to obtain a seconder. He said that Judge Huycke received a salary of $2200 as chairman of the Police Commission, but no remuneration was provided for the two other members.

SUICIDE EMPLOYS STRANGE METHOD

(Canadian Press.)

CHATEAU, Thierry, France, Nov. 1.— Thirty-five pounds of melanite set off by detonator, was the method employed by Adrien Thumerel and his sweetheart to end their lives here to-day. Thumerel, an employee of the explosives depot at Mezy, near here, was charged with the theft of hams from stores destined for war prisoners, and was to appear in court to-morrow to answer to the charge. He is said to have decided upon suicide. The melanite was ready in a shack where Thumerel and his sweetheart met. The explosion which followed was heard for miles and destroyed property within a radius of one hundred yards.

SHORTAGE OF CARS IS RESPONSIBLE FOR SITUATION

(Specail to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1. — The embargo on the Winnipeg and St. Boniface stock yards is still in force and the situation while slightly better is far from cleared away. Shortage of cars for shipments south is the crux of the situation. At present time there are 2,800 Canadian stock cars of all roads south of the boundary. Various railways have held conferences, and through the Government at Ottawa, pressure is being brought to bear on Washington to insist on the return of these cars. Last night not a single beast could be shipped out of the Winnipeg yards for the south because there was not a car to ship in. There should have been 700 cars go out.

KETCHECUM PARTY PREPARED FOR HUNT

ARE ALL SET AND READY TO GO—LEAVE DURING WEEK END.

The Ketchecum Lake Hunting party are all ready for their annual outing. Some of the members will leave on Sunday afternoon and the others will follow on Monday morning.

The party includes the following members: Harry Winch, J. D. Collins, H. A. Morrow, W. G. Morrow, Dr. McPherson, E. F. Mason, M. Comstock, W. J. Thompson, W. C. Ackerman, W. H. Hill, Robert Stuart, of the Quaker Oats Company, Chicago, Mr. Andrews of Akron, O., R. J. Munro, and Fred McKibbon, of New York.

The party's dogs and baggage were sent on in advance yesterday.

MAYOR TO SUMMON HOUSING COMMISSION

WILL PROBABLY CALL A MEETING NEXT WEEK.

Mayor Duncan intends calling a meeting next week of the Housing committee, which has been gradually gathering up members and making a preparatory progress that should have all the preliminary details ready for the initial business. His Worship is confident that 1920 is going to be a big year for Peterborough. While other cities in the province have made greater advancement this year because of a willingness to accept as permanent the condition after the war, Peterboro has not fallen behind. There has been substantial growth and especially the foundation for a record expansion year.

Mayor Duncan remarked that the citizens might as well realize that the conditions accepted by the cities that are booming appear to be universal and that they will remain. Prices of materials are high but they have not deterred builders elsewhere proceeding to supply the urgent demand for houses. Industrial organizations are also putting up factories and otherwise recognizing the present scale of costs as established facts.

Peterborough's prospects for 1920, Mayor Duncan declared, warranted the fullest confidence among the citizens. A strong united front, the spirit of co-operation and faith in the city were factors, said His Worship, that would carry the city to a new record of building and expansion in the first year of the next decade.

WHERE ARE MY READING GLASSES?

You often hear that question asked by persons who wear two separate pairs of glasses. They probably have never heard of our Kryptok lenses, the two vision lenses with the reading portion invisible.

There is no line or crack to make them look unsightly. They are wonderfully convenient for everything and cost less than two seperate pairs. Specify Kryptok when you consult W. H. Lacey, Optical Specialist, George street. Open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

ALL EUROPE INTERESTED IN COAL MINERS' STRIKE

NOT SATISFIED WITH THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SOLDIERS' CIVIL RE-ESTABLISHMENT.

DEBATE COMING

(United Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 1 (by Ed. L. Keen).—Europe was tense to-day, awaiting the reaction from the American coal miners' strike. That both the direct and indirect effects of the strike would be only secondary in importance on this Continent to that in the United States was the general impression here, causing a feeling of depression that temporarily overshadowed Europe's own social and economic ills.

Even greater than the realization of the widespread commercial and industrial backfire was the gripping fear that the clash between capital and labour would provide the spark that would ignite class hatred. Government, the Press and the public were intensely interested in this testimony of the American Government's strength. The majority foresaw a violent struggle, with the result in doubt.

"The strike is likely to develop into the biggest industrial upheaval ever seen outside Russia," declared the London Globe. "Whatever the merits of the dispute, it does not justify such action. Such a movement will undoubtedly have re-percussions in other countries and revive everywhere the spirit of labour unrest, no happening on such a scale can be isolated."

The Times expressed fear that the Federal injunction will tend to arouse radical tendencies among the entire American labour element, pointing out that the injunction—"peculiar to America"—has been labour's particular grievance for years.

"Nevertheless," The Times said, "some strong Governmental action seemed inevitable — the miners had nothing to say about the strike which their chiefs ordered without consulting them."

SOME IGNORED THE CALL.

(United Press.)

PITTSBURG, Nov. 1.—Over 100,000 Union miners in the Pittsburg and Clearfield districts were on strike to-day, early reports to Union leaders indicated.

Operators admitted the effectiveness of the walk-out order in Union fields, but asserted that 40,000 non-Union miners in the Lower and the Upper Connellsville regions ignored the strike call.

Leaders of the Clearfield section, comprising Cambria, Clearfield, Indiana, and Jefferson Counties, boasted of nearly 50,000 strikers out of 65,000 employees, who produce 50,000,000 tons of coal for the Eastern markets annually.

Alabama fields, 20,000 out.

Eastern Tennessee and South-eastern Kentucky, 17,500 out.

Punxsutawney District, Pa., 9,000 out.

Wheeling, W. Va., District, 17,000 out.

CLAIMS STRIKE EFFECTIVE.

(United Press.)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 1.—Union leaders early to-day claimed the full Union strength of 80,000 Illinois miners went on strike.

Operators and state officials said the number cannot be ascertained before Monday, since Saturday is a semi-holiday and Sunday a full one.

Government Ready.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1. — The miners must make the next move in the soft coal strike, was the opinion to-day of government officials. The strike was a reality to-day, even though the directing heads of the United Mine Workers of America were restrained from activity by Federal court injunction. Government officials awaited reports as to the extent of the walk-out, for upon this information rests the future course of the government. Should reports show that any considerable number of miners desire to continue work, the government was prepared to furnish them with protection. Should disorders occur the government was ready with all the police force at its disposal to put it down. But the government's activities were not alone in the coal fields. Maximum prices for bituminous coal, formulated to meet the war's necessity were again in effect. Priority of distribution based in part of war schedule, was in one ration. All steps to protect the miners who refused to heed the call of Union heads to preserve peace in bituminous fields and to lessen in so far as possible the suffering of the public and disruption of industry incident to such a strike had been taken. Nothing more can be done by the government, officials intimated, until the way was shown by the strikers themselves. For this reason officials were not prepared to discuss the government's course other than has been outlined.

EIGHT HOUR DAY FOR ALL WOMEN

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.— A resolution favoring an eight hour day for employed women of the world was before the International Congress of Working Women at to-day's session. In opening the discussion of the eight hour day, Madame Marie Majerova, an alderman of the City of Prague, declared there must be no shackles on the underdog. She must be a thoroughly free body, spiritual mother of a freed generation of human beings.

YESTERDAY IN THE COMMONS

SOLDIERS' RE-ESTABLISHMENT AND THE G. T. R. BILL DISCUSSED.

(Special to The xEaminer.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—The tabling of the report of the committee on soldiers civil re-establishment and the moving by Hon. W. S. Fielding of an amendment to the third reading of the Grand Trunk bill, calling for the appointment of a commission to inquire into and report upon the physical, financial and other conditions of the system, these formed the two main features of yesterday's deliberations in the Commons. The report of the Committee is unanimous but concurrence in it by Liberal members is modified by a resolution to the effect that, "We deem it necessary to record our opinion that many of the Government existing, and contemplated commitments are wholly unwarranted and that the financial condition of the country has been brought about by the committments and by the Government's past and present extravagance." Under the condition as set forth by Sir Thomas White and Deputy Minister of Finance Boville, Liberal members of the committee believe that the recomendations go as far as the financial position of the country will justify.

COMPARISON OF RESULTS

THE PETERBORO LIFT LOCK HAD A BUSY DAY.

A comparison of the results in Peterborough days of the campaign follows:

	1918	1919
City and factory teams	$251,050	$309,450
Spec. Subs. Com. mittee	195,000	217,000
Outside City	168,800	97,450
Grd. Tl. for Cnty.	$614,850	$623,900
No. of Appl'tions	1,292	1,137

Peterborough Lift Lock had a busy day of it, and went over the top many times.

The Toronto wags wonder why it didn't reach a final resting-place in the Mayor's chair.

Publicity Organiser Blackadar is itching to display the official flag.

Come on, Peterborough! We must win that flag, and then for the captured German gun.

ANNIVERSORY OF ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

DEDICATION FESTIVAL WILL BE OBSERVED TO-MORROW

On to-day, All Saints' Day, 37 years ago (1882) St. John's church was reopened after restoration, the Chancel being added, and the beautiful grounds laid out, under the then Rector, Rev. Canon Beck. The Dedication Festival will accordingly be kept to-morrow, and on the following Sunday. An All Saints' Memorial Service is being held this afternoon.

To-morrow's Parochial Communion Services will be celebrated at 8 and 11 a.m., with commemoration of the departed and remembrance of past parishioners. There will be Festal Choral Evensong in the evening.

The church was built in 1835-36, when the population of Peterborough was 500. Rev. Mr. Armour, who came in 1827, was the first Rector, after whom Armour's Hill was called.

St. John's has been closely associated with the history of Peterborough from the early pioneers having been members of the congregation.

The "People's Chimes" were given by citizens generally in 1911 to mark the 75th anniversary of the church. One of the chief supporters of this project was the late Mr. F. B. Yokome, Editor of the Examiner, who suggested the name given to the bells.

POLICE REPORT ON HALLOWE'EN NIGHT

IT WAS A QUIET ORDERLY NIGHT REPORT THE BLUECOATS

A miniature Klu Klux Klan paraded George Street last night in the regulation white sheets and white masks. They were flanked by dozens of youngsters in all hues of the rainbow, and their coming was heralded by sundry horns, trumpets and drums.

According to the Police Department, Peterborough enjoyed a "safe and sanitary Hallowe'en." Only one report of damage has been reported to the police, and this only the turning of a wooden sidewalk. One fire also is reported in connection with the general rejoicing. Candles set fire to the window curtains of Mrs. Friedman, 289 Dalhousie Street, last night. The fire brigade was called and the mounting flames soon extinguished.

Police Court To-Day.

The usual $13.10 was appended after Mr. David McIntyre's name for speeding on Charlotte Street last Sunday.

Lots of men who have an aim in life lack ambition.

A ball dress is cut low but the bill for it comes high.

WAR VETERANS MAY CALL EMERGENCY CONVENTION

LARGE BODY OF MEN WENT OUT AT MONDAY—EXACT NUMBER WILL NOT BE KNOWN UNTIL MIDNIGHT—MAY BE A VIOLENT STRUGGLE.

PRESS COMMENT

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 1.—It had been rumoured that there was to be a minority report on the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Committee's findings. It was stated that Liberal members of the committee would stand upon the resolution passed at the National Convention in August, in which the principle of cash grants is distinct from vocational training and land settlement, and would present a report of their own along that line, but apparently it is not competent for such a committee to present majority and minority reports, so the Opposition contented itself by moving a rider to the effect that while under the present financial conditions it was impossible to do more than was recommended, and that these conditions were due to the extravagance of the Government.

There will undoubtedly be a debate on the reports of considerable length and acrimony. The Opposition's attitude in that debate may easily be guessed, and is suggested by the above reservation to the report.

Among the "unwarranted" commitments will no doubt be mentioned the Grand Trunk acquisition proposals.

On the other hand, the Veterans are far from satisfied with the report which they declare is not comprehensive enough, and there is talk of an "emergency" convention being called to Ottawa.

As to expenditures for work carried on to date, the committee finds the same, including estimates to the balance of this year, to be as follows:

Pensions, $53,536,408.74; gratuities, $153,686,537.98; dependents' fares, $1,016,578.00; Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, $47,624,654.26; soldiers' settlement, $48,228,103.12; Labour Department, $135,324.52; total, $514,368,726.62.

The committee further find that in order to carry to completion the various provisions that have already been made for re-establishment work, no less a sum than $176,971,000.88 will be required. By totalling the amounts, it will be noted that the total expenditures for re-establishment work heretofore provided and now being carried on will amount to $491,340,623.50 to carry the same to completion. This amount includes $176,000,000 for soldiers' settlement work, and ing these two amounts [illegible] over $53,000,000 for pensions. Deducting these two amounts there remains a balance of over $263,000,000 for other classes of benefits.

DEATH RATES MUCH LOWER THIS MONTH

VITAL STATISTICS FOR THE MONTH —THE BUILDING PERMITS

October's death rate in the city for 1918 was practically twice that of the same month this year while the marriages and births were considerably fewer. The difference in the death rate was due to the epidemic of the Spanish Influenza which was raging in October of last year.

	1919	1918
Births	47	31
Marriages	21	15
Deaths	35	57

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits for $99,390 were issued during the past month while in October of last year the 22 issued amounted to $37,113.

TURNER'S FLAG IN BRIGHT SPOTLIGHT

BEAUTIFUL EFFECT FROM SIMPLE DEVICE ATOP THEIR BUILDING

Their hundred per cent. Victory Loan flag is not only an object of pride to the management and employees of J. J. Turner and Sons, Limited, but as it sways in a flood of electric light it becomes an animated out sharply set against the night sky. The artistic touch and sense of value that are characteristic of everything this company produces has provided for the citizens a simple but arresting attraction, and for the Victory Loan one of the most conspicuous and effective advertisements that could be wrought for it.

PETERBORO HUNTERS ARE READY TO HIT THE TRAIL ON MONDAY

A FEW OF THE PARTIES THAT WILL LEAVE FOR THE NORTHERN WILDS.

The hunting mania is on. Guns are being oiled and supplies laid in, and next Monday and Tuesday sees the being oiled and supplies laid in, and grounds of many parties who would as soon go without a week's pay as miss their annual deer hunt. As one old hunter said to-day. "If a man retires from the business (meaning the hunt) he is ready to die. The war departure for the different hunting turning from the desk and factory to go to nature, to get in the great outdoors and leave behind them the memory of the high cost of living and the political situation and campaigns of various kinds which repeated as regularly, going the way, as a dose of Epsom.

The old time hunt party, the Gold Lake Hunt Club, which has gone back to Gold Lake regularly for the last thirty-eight years, is packing up ready to leave Monday. This year sees Mr. A. W. Blade, the florist, his son Percy Blade, Charlie Curtis, Albert Curtis, Thomas O. Donaldson, Charles Mills, Jack Stanger and Dr. Pentland of the Gold Lake Hunt Club going to their headquarters at Mr. Blade's cottage on an island in Gold Lake. It is a famous spot and no fewer than twenty-three different American parties this year came from their homes in the States to fish in Gold Lake at Mr. Blade's cottage. Recalling the Gold Lake Hunt Club brings back to the memory of old timers such names as George Fitzgerald, Chief Thomas Rutherford, Larry Steele, Ned Brown, Larry Bennett and Ed. Brown, Bob Flie and Johnnie Kirns. Bertie Morrow and Mr. Harry Winch are also two of the old originals. Out of that party of seventeen only three are now left (Mr. Harry Winch and Mr. Bertie Morrow were not members of the Gold Lake Hunt Club' and they still hunt the buck with as much vim and enthusiasm as ever. Mr. A. W. Blade has hunted in the Gold Lake district for the last 38 years and this year with only two of the originals, Jack Stanger and William Snowden and the newer members before mentioned, they hit the trail Monday morning for their old haunts.

Thompson Party.

The Thompson party, composed of Chief Thompson, Constable William Wigg, George Yeotes, William Calder and likely Charles White, take to the woods on Tuesday. Their particular favourite spot is in the region of Jack's Lake and Haultain, and they never come back without their count, The party will likely be out for a week or ten days.

Nicholls Party.

Then Nat Nicholls' party are leaving soon, and Mr. Nicholls expects to be divorced from the barber's chair for the whole hunting season, sixteen days. A number of Americans are going with the party. Last year the party of four bagged eight deer and came home well content.

A great hunting district is between Parry Sound and Sudbury and the little village of Parksley. In that region will see the Gladman-Best party there on Monday. Charles Gladman and Dickson Best always get their count and they will likely cut the butcher's bill in half after November 20.

Miller Brothers at Warsaw will be on the scene again this year around the old spot at Burleigh Ranch. A deer thinks twice before coming in range of their guns.

Fitzgerald Party.

Pat Young and party of Young's Point, will also be found on the deer trail in the Stoney Lake district, and J. E. A. Fitzgerald and party are preparing to go back to Bottle Lake for deer with an occasional diversion with the fishing rod.

Hunters are also going to the east, in the Ottawa valley, among them being Jack and Tom Brightman and the rest of them. A Lakefield party usually goes into the Parry Sound district and another one from Lakefield like the Burleigh district, and even goes as far as Apsley.

Dr. Fraser, William Stabler and the two Spence boys, who are likely going this year, will be found hunting the hunted in the daytime until they can't see and then laying around a camp fire until it is rather late (8 p.m.) when they retire until about three a. m. and after consuming a loaf of bread each and another one in their side pocket go out to see what they can bring down, where the deer come down the gully to drink or a spot where they must be seen if they cross the horizon.

LITTLE CHILD DIES UNDER CHLOROFORM.

Fenelon Falls Gazette: The entire neighbourhood, as well as the village of Fenelon Falls, were shocked to hear of the sudden death of Lloyd Leonard Brooks, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Brooks, Verulam.

The little fellow was only two years and 7 months old, and was the very picture of health. He was troubled with his tonsils and adenoids. Drs. Graham were going to operate on them, but as soon as the chloroform was administered the little chap's heart stopped beating. The doctors worked hard with him for almost an hour, but it was impossible to do anything for him.

WATER PUMPED ELECTRICALLY SAVES MONEY FOR PUEBLO.

At the South Sidewater works at Pueblo, Colo., an electrically driven, direct-connected pump, of a capacity of 8,000,000 gallons daily was installed during the year 1918. The city is now preparing to install a second unit with 6,800,000 gallons daily capacity, and it is the intention of the trustees to electrify th entire pumping system during 1919. The trustees estimate an annual saving of $10,000 when the plant is completely equiped for electrical operation.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Help Canada by helping yourself. Help yourself by helping Canada. Buy Victory Bonds.

SUFFICIENT REASON.

Canada's farm products cannot be sold without the help of the Victory Loan. That should be reason enough for the farmer to invest. Ontario heard from the concession lines a few days ago: Let Canada hear now a general response to the Victory Loan appeal.

AN OTTAWA TRIBUTE.

The Ottawa Citizen hands Mr. Burnham the following tribute: Mr. J. H. Burnham, in supporting a motion of Mr. D. D. McKenzie, that the Government appeal to the country, said that the idea had his approval "as a patriotic Canadian, who never expects to get back to this House." It is unfortunate that any patriotic—really patriotic—Canadian, such as the member for Peterborough undoubtedly is, should be compelled to make that statement. It is to be hoped that whatever befalls the member for Peterborough will be in the next House. His views may not always meet with general approval, but he is at least a courageous and outspoken representative and one whose absence would be felt.

THE NEW CABINET.

The question of the leadership of the Farmers' party having been settled, Ontario awaits with keen interest to hear the names of the members of the new Cabinet. As to its personnel there is naturally much speculation. The newspapers are indulging in the usual amount of guessing, and the people are engaged in the same occupation. Those who know the most about it, the members of the Farmers-Labour alliance, are silent. It has been admitted that the new party intends to go outside of its own ranks to secure a number of Ministers. It is also stated that there will be several surprises in the appointments that are to be made. Canon Cody, Minister of Education in the defeated Hearst Government, has been spoken of in many quarters as likely to remain at his post, but he has declared that even if approached by the new Government to remain, he has no intention of continuing his connection with the Department of Education, so that one rumour is disposed of. There are many others, however, that will continue in circulation until dispersed by the official announcement of the personnel of the new Cabinet.

A WAR SOUVENIR.

A year ago it was announced that Peterborough was to receive a number of captured German guns as souvenirs of the great war and as an appreciation of this city's efforts on behalf of the Empire's cause. Just what has become of the promised trophies, no one seems to know. They have not arrived in Peterborough, and no one locally knows anything about them. Peterborough, however, has still a chance to secure a German gun, in view of the announcement from the Dominion Publicity Committee of the Victory Loan that two captured German field guns of large calibre are being offered as prizes to the units making the best showing in the present campaign, one gun to be awarded to the unit attaininb the highest percentage of its combined team members and special subscriptions objective, and the other to the centre which is successful in securing the largest percentage of its team members' objective. The announcement will spur the local Victory Loan Committee and canvassers to new activity for the winning of a war trophy of this nature would be an exploit well worth executing. The canvassers may be expected to do their best to see that Peterborough obtains a German gun, but after all, the issue depends upon the individual citizens. If they respond to the appeal to their patriotism and common-sense and invest to the limit in Victory Bonds, there is no reason why the end of the campaign should find Peterborough not only the proud possessor of an honour flag, but also of one of the banner prizes, a captured Hun field piece.

SPEEDING AT CORNERS.

The article on the enforcement of the Motor Vehicles Act, written by a reader of the Examiner and published in last evening's issue, is timely, in view of the number of accidents that has occurred at down-town corners in the past few weeks. There seems to be on the part of many motorists a failure to understand that although the law permits a speed of twenty miles an hour within the city limits, there is a qualifying section which distinctly states that at any street intersection where the driver has not a clear view of approaching traffic, the speed must be cut down to a rate not exceeding ten miles an hour. There are far too many drivers who ignore this regulation and swing across George Street from Charlotte, Simcoe, Hunter and other intersecting streets at a rate that is dangerous to themselves, to other motorists and to pedestrians. Most of them, no doubt, believe that so long as they do not exceed twenty miles an hour, they are within their legal rights. The fining of a few offenders would probably do much to check speeding at busy corners and to reduce the number of accidents.

CANADA AS A JOBBING CONCERN.

Under the system rendered possible by the Victory Loans of the past, and which the 1919 Victory Loan will continue, the Canadian Government becomes a great jobbing concern for the disposal of this country's agricultural and manufacturing products in the British and European markets. Most people know what a jobbing warehouse it, It is the middleman's establishment, whereby the products of the farmer or of the small manufacturer are handled and marketed. In the provision business for instance the jobber pays the farmer cash for his apples and eggs, and sells to certain customers of established solvency, on credit. Thus the stream of commerce flows steadily.

Now this is just what Canada has been doing on an enormous scale in the case of wheat and cheese, salmon, lumber, manufactured articles and other commodities too numerous to mention. The Canadian producer gets the cash and the Victory Bond holder, whose money furnishes the capital for these enormous transactions, gets the profits in the shape of interest. The great jobbing house of Canada is at the turning of the ways. It can shut its doors and liquidate, or it can go on and hold the markets for its countless producing clients. It must have the capital to continue and the people of Canada have the option of providing it through 1919 Victory Bonds.

WHAT ONTARIO WANTS.

Ontario hopes that when the Seven Sleepers move out of Queen's Park in a few days Sloth and Inefficiency will move out with them. The most serious charge against the Hearst Administration is that it left undone those things which it ought to have done. It was inert and inactive. It settled into a self-satisfied indolence. It exhibited no initiative. In days when the Province yearned for leadership and progress it slept.

With administrative example which was somnolent it naturally followed that departmental conduct became sluggish. Great branches of government, capable not alone of producing much revenue but also of contributing generously to the prosperity of the people and their happiness, went to seed. Where any activity was manifest it was partisan and political activity. Public service seemed to be the last thing which concerned the public administration.

The Attorney-General's Department became notorious by reason of its inertia. No alarm clock could wake it. The Department of Agriculture muddled along, the mire getting deeper all the time. The Department of Lands, Forests and Mines, having to do with the development of great natural resources, the settlement of the North, and the supervision of the mining industry, was left to run itself while the Minister devoted practically all his time and attention to party politics. The Department of Public Works and the Department of the Provincial Secretary, both of which call for the most earnest and energetic administrative activity, deadened and dulled into hopeless lethargy. The Department of the Provincial Treasurer worked only when it had to, while the Department of Education, up till the last few months, was the despair of practical and progressive educationists.

This state of affairs must not continue. If Ontario is to meet effectively the testing time of readjustment and reconstruction and to take her rightful place in the van of national endeavour there is call for thorough regeneration. The new Government should not delay. It should set itself forthwith to the task of cleaning up—if necessary, of cleaning out. Its determination ought to be to give the people who entrusted it with their confidence a wide-awake, vigorous, efficient, clean, and hopest administration. That this is its purpose The Globe does not doubt.

There are matters awaiting investigation. The administration of the Ontario Temperance Act is one of them. Serious and definite charges have been made in connection with the alleged vishnick scandal and other happenings with which the License Commissioners have had to deal, and it is commonly alleged on the streets that in the matter of prosecutions and in the matter of collecting penalties all men have not been regarded as equal before the law. In view of the overwhelming mandate of the electors on the referendum there should be no hesitancy on the part of the incoming Government in providing and exercising such machinery as is necessary to insure effective and impartial enforcement. A thorough investigation might well be instituted, and if it is necessary to the proper administration of the Act to change the personnel of the Commission that course unhesitatingly should be followed.

The public is tired of trifling. It is tired of sloth. It is tired of inefficiency. It would like to have its inning. It would like to be given a Government which earnestly concerns itself with the people's welfare. — Toronto Globe.

JAPAN AND U. S. A.

Both Show Rapid Shipbuilding Progress During War.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Lloyds shipping report for 1918-19 states that at the end of June, 1919, a record amount of shipbuilding was going on throughout the world, namely, 4,800,000 tons, of which two million were building in the United Kingdom. During the year to June 30 there were 9,800,000 gross tons registered at Lloyds, of which the United States built 1,900,000 tons, the United Kingdom 1,300,000, Japan 360,000 and Canada 200,000. Next to the United States Japan showed the greatest increase in shipbuilding in wartime.

RAILWAY GRABS A WIDOW'S HOME

PATHETIC SCENE AS WIDOW FALLS TO THE FLOOR IN A FAINT.

TORONTO, October 31. — One of the most pathetic cases that ever came before the Dominion Railway Board was that of Mrs. Sarah Annie Mahood's, a widow of Gravenhurst, who became hysterical in the court yesterday at the city hall, when the order was read by Hon. F. B. Carvell, K. C., giving permission to the Grand Trunk Railway to expropriate her home in that town. "It's killing me," she said, as she fell to the floor, and an ambulance had to be sent for to take her to the home of some relatives in the city.

"Thirty years ago this woman and her husband, built their home," said Mr. Andrew Dodds, the counsel for Mrs. Mahood. "They planted the all the trees and the shrubs, and made the place. She has a deep-rooted affection for this place where she and her husband built their home, and brought up their children. It isn't a question of compensation. One cannot account for the sentiment that moves a mother's and a wife's heart." He asked that she might retain the house, claiming that all that was required by the railway was the rear of the lot.

Mr. W. C. Chisholm, solicitor for the G.T.R. stated that expropriation of the whole lot was necessary. He agreed however that Mrs. Mahood should be left in possession till the spring.

Mrs. Mahood, who had been crying, fell to the floor at this point.

IT certainly is exasperating to soil the cuff of a perfectly fresh shirt when attending to the furnace.

If you don't change it, you'll feel uncomfortable all day fearing some one will notice the soiled cuff—

Unless you are lucky and are wearing a W. G. & R. shirt with Double Wear Cuffs. Then, all you have to do is to turn the cuff and it's as good as new.

These new Double Wear Cuffs are a convenience men have longed for. Now that they have been invented, men are taking to them enthusiastically.

Double Wear Cuffs look equally dressy and lie perfectly flat either side out. A clever new idea in cuff designing makes this possible. Ask your dealer to show you

ONCE MORE BARBARA CONFIDES IN MR. FREDERICK

CHAPTER CVI.

While I was glad of Blanche Orton's visit, it in a way made me very uncomfortable. More so perhaps than I had been since the day I had been so snubbed by Scott. I tried to put myself in a business man's place, but try as I would I could see no reason why a legitimate business should be carried on in such a way; why it should be necessary to use the means Neil was using to interest them in his projects—if those projects were perfectly legitimate ones.

But I said nothing to Neil, although I told him of Mrs. Orton's visit. He seemed rather surprised I thought at first, but afterward I concluded I had been mistaken. He asked me no questions, and seemed to take it for granted that it was simply a social call without any ulterior object.

Yet while I said nothing to Neil, I did not keep her visit—the cause of it rather, a secret. Mr. Frederick called in the afternoon of the following day and found me alone, although it was my afternoon at home. My afternoons were not as well attended as formerly, a cause of chagrin to me.

I poured him tea, then said:

"I had a caller yesterday; Mrs. Orton. You know she was so nice to me the other night that I began to like her again—I used to think she was really charming when her husband was alive—she came to tell me why she received those women." I would not betray her in any way, but I felt I must put the questions which were so bothering me to someone. "She said that men like Tearle and Connor were'nt happy unless they were entertained by handsome women who could play cards." I realized as I finished that I had not said what I intended, and that it sounded rather peurile.

"Yes, they are rather fond of the ladies."

"Tell me please, Mr. Frederick, is it necessary to do business in that way — legitimate business I mean? It seems so strange to me. Father always attended to business at his office. I thought that was what offices were for." I tried to speak lightly. I did not want him to think I was too much worried.

"I scarcely know how to answer you,—Barbara." he had hesitated over my name. He seldom addressed me so. "But it is done sometimes. Men like Tearle and Connor are hard to handle sometimes. They are hard drinkers, and want their own way, especially when in New York. They have the arrogance of men who have made great fortunes quickly."

"But why mix business with cards and — ladies?' I asked. "Why not keep them separate. Can it not be done?"

"I — perhaps—" he slowly sipped his tea, and I knew he was trying to think how to satisfy me without blaming Neil.

"Please Mr. Frederick don't treat me as a child. Neil won't tell me anything about his affairs. I hear things but I can't stand being kept in the dark any longer. You are my good friend, aren't you? If you are, please tell me what to do to get Neil away from those people and from—that business."

I was so ignorant, so absolutely unversed in Neil's affairs that he, any one could see at once how little I knew of business. I think that was why he was sorry for me and tried to help me. I had shown him I wanted to help Neil. It made no difference that he cared for me, really I think it made him more anxious to help Neil. He knew that I loved my husband passionstely, and that I would be true to him always no matter what happened.

"I wish I could. I honestly do," he replied in his peculiar way. "I'd give a good deal to set him straight. But I'm afraid he'll have to come a croper first—before he will listen to anyone."

"You have talked with him?"

"Yes, only yesterday. I called at his office. I had seen Scott, and Scott means mischief. He claims that Mr. Forbes has misrepresented his properties and so has induced him to invest. He didn't say misrepsented, but that sounds better. I tried to pacify him, but he wouldn't listen to me Then I went to your husband, and he wouldn't listen either. I guess I'm not a very convincing talker. Mr. Forbes thinks Scott is bluffing when he threatens I am not so sure Sometimes a snapping dog bites."

"I saw Mr. Scott, he ignored my greeting."

"Um—so he can bite! We must try and make his bite harmless but I can't see how unless your husband helps us."

COMMON MAN FREED BY WAR

Baptist Minister Tells Ottawa Convention of Britain's Action in East.

OTTAWA, Oct. 31.—One of the great incidents in the recent war, Dr. Mullins, of Louisville, told the Baptist Convention to-day, was the enterprise of Great Britain in the East. He expressed the belief that Balfour's declaration favouring the return of Palestine to the Jews would be carried out in fact and that the East would soon come into its own again. The great war, Dr. Mullins thought, had emancipated the common man, but, while it was true that the common man had earned his liberty, the speaker was afraid the common man did not know what to do with it.

NOTHING TO EQUAL BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. Alfred Naud, Natagan River, Que., writes: "I do not think there is any other medicine to equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones. I have used them for my baby, and would use nothing else." What Mrs. Naud says thousands of other mothers say. They have found by trial that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, and thus banish indigestion, constipation, colic, colds, etc. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MAN'S DECREASING HEIGHT.

When Adam and Eve Walked Around They Were as Tall as Trees.

It was a French savant named Houriou who 200 years ago gave to the world authoritative statement as to the height of Adam and Eve. He said that the tallest of the race was 120 feet 9 inches high and Eve 11? feet 9 inches. He noted that from the creation of these enlarged editions of humanity degeneration had been rapid; that Noah was only twenty-seven Abraham only twenty and Moses but thirteen feet in height.

According to this French authority the Christian dispensation had no arrested this decrease man by the time—200 years ago—would have been a mere microscopic object, and we may conclude that by our time he would not have been at all. M. Houriou did not give any explanation as to how he arrived at his estimate of the height of these ancients.

Perhaps the most gigantic story of record is that concerning the immense skeleton, said to have been 'ab Shirli which measured 300 feet in length This story, however, carries its own refutation, as it is said that found beside this giant was his walking stick which was thirty feet long and thick as a telegraph pole. A clever calculator made the estimate that a walking stick only thirty feet in length for a man who measured 300 feet would be as ridiculous as one of seven inches for a man of ordinary stature.

Enough Said.

"Thrifty, is she?"

"Thrifty! I won't go into a long discourse. I merely tell you that she banks money in December."

Just as you are pleased at finding faults you are displeased at finding perfection.—Lavater.

GIRL ASKS FOR KISS FROM THE PRINCE OF WALES

French-Canadians Thank Heir to Throne for Visiting Them.

Canadian Press:

MONTREAL, Oct. 31. — Here are some odds and ends of the great Montreal reception to the Prince of Wales, as the auto slipped along crowded St. Catharine Street Wednesday night. A fourteen-year-old girl jumped on the running board of the Prince's car. She was a very beautiful child, and her eyes were pleading as she caught the Prince by the coat with both hands. "Oh kiss me just once, Prince," she begged, her voice shaking with emotion. "Don't be silly," replied the Prince, shyly and brusquely. When she was removed he turned to Admiral Halsey, and he said with sadness, "What a pity I could not do it; she was so very beautiful." Twice people sprang forward from the crowd yesterday and gave the Prince flowers. Three roses carried a card in French, signed by Therese Gratton, 354 Rue St. Denis. Little Therese Gratton's sentiments freely express this beautiful greeting translated: "Because your young highness condescended to pass through the French-Canadian quarter, spring has returned. A rose given by a little child is enough to prove how sincerely you are loved."

LATEST INVENTION WILL REVOLUTIONIZE AEROPLANE FLYING.

DAYTON, Ohio, Oct. 31. — Announcement from McCook aviation field that successful tests have been made with a reversible airplane propeller means, according to officials, that the day of the "backyard airplane" is here. With the new propeller airplanes can land and be brought to a stop within 50 feet by actual test, officials said.

The new device will also increase the climbing speed of an airplane 40 per cent. and permit of higher altitudes, flying to 50,000 feet being a possibility. Seth Hart of Los Angeles, Cal., is the inventor of the propeller.

The Highlander's Patriotism.

A story is told, illustrating the humor of the British Tommie, even under the most adverse conditions. A Highlander had been taken to the base hospital so badly wounded that it was thought he could not survive. The nurse, in attending to his wounds discovered, tattooed on the right side of his breast, a picture of King George, and remarked as to his great patriotism.

"But that's nae a'," he said, as he bared his other breast, and showed the picture of the Queen.

The nurse again commented on his patriotism, and was answered with another, "And that's nae a'—I hae the Union Jack tattooed on my back."

The astonished nurse believed that to be a great manifestation of his patriotism, and told him so, but again received the reply:

"But that's nae a'. I'm sitting on the Kaiser and von Hindenburg."—Landis Record.

Remarkable Experience of Mrs. Ripley

Mrs. Millanor P. Ripley, of Williamsdale, East, has good news for all who suffer from aches and derangements caused by Kidney Trouble. Read her letter:—

"Before taking Gin Pills I had suffered dreadfully with my back and headaches, and had suffered for 20 years. I tried almost everything but got no relief until I got Gin Pills. I have taken 6 boxes and now I have not a sign of a pain or an ache. I am now 48 and feel as well as ever I did in my life."

In Gin Pills, all the valuable diuretic Juniper element in the Gin has been utilized, and the alcohol eliminated. Combined with other highly efficient diuretics and antiseptics, Gin Pills present the most scientific and effective remedy for Kidney and Bladder trouble that can be secured. They give sure, quick and safe relief. If you have backache, headache, highly-coloured urine, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, dizziness, lassitude, floating specks before the eyes, unaccountable uneasiness of mind and general debility, lose no time. Treat yourself with Gin Pills before it is too late. At all druggists and dealers, 50c. Money refunded if not relieved. Free sample on request.

VETS. SAY EDITORIAL IN KITCHENER PAPER SHOWED DISLOYALTY

DEMAND APOLOGY FOR ALLEGED RIDICULING OF PRINCE OF WALES.

LONDON, Oct .31. — The Great War Veterans' Association of Kitchener and Waterloo have forwarded to a London paper, with a request that it be published, a resolution pased at an open meeting on Tuesday evening with reference to an editorial which appeared in the Kitchener News-Record on October 22. The resolution and a copy of the editorial follow herewith:

"We strongly condemn the editorial concerning His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, published in the News-Record on Wednesday, the 22nd inst., which we consider holds His Royal Highness up to ridicule, and, therefore, demand an apology from the editor.

"The returned soldiers of Kitchener and Waterloo request the citizens not to subscribe to or publish any advertisements in the News-Record as they consider its sentiments anti-British."

The ediorial to which exception was taken was as follows:

"OVERDOING THE WELCOME."

"What Democrats we are to be sure. The Prince of Wales is a nice, pleasing young man, and so long as we must have kings and emperors (I almost said kaisers), I suppose it is all right to have the prince visit the country whose king he is to be some day. But it is amusing and a bit disgusting to see how silly and humble people will be in the presence of a person of flesh and blood, like themselves if only he has a title. Toronto, which is the most "English" city in the empire, and which calls itself the most loyal, is as usual the worst offender. A city that elects a demogogue like Tommy Church as mayor and does it five times in succession cannot be expected to be anything but hysterical when it tries to be patriotic.

"This Mayor Church wanted to spend $200,000 in decorating the Toronto streets in honor of the prince. That is being patriotic by proxy with other people's money. However the council would not stand for it. By the way, Mayor Church is quite a young fellow, is unmarried, and saw the war begun and finished from a safe seat in the Toronto city hall."

ASK COUNCIL TO PROBE DISMISSALS

LABOURERS' UNION ALLEGE UNFAIRNESS IN TREATMENT OF MEN ON BRIDGE WORK.

Complaint of dismissals, said to be unwarranted, of workmen on the Hunter street bridge, has been forwarded to the City Council in a letter, of which the following is a copy:

Peterborough, Oct. 31, 1919.

I have been instructed by the Labourers' Union and workers of the Hunter street bridge to write and inform the City Council of the very unfair conduct being shown toward city men Men are being dismissed without any intimation of the cause, and men from outside the city limits taking their jobs. As citizens of Peterborough and taxpayers we call upon the Council to hold an investigation of these matters in an unbiased and fair manner, get witness from both sides, in order that the Council may at least be fair and just, and so place the responsibility to where it belongs.

Yours respectfully,
James Grisdale, Secretary,

God Save the King.

The only unpleasant incident attending the visit of the Prince of Wales on Friday, was in connection with the closing part of the reception when the band was playing "God Save the King," the Prince and his suite standing at attention, all the men on the platform uncovering their heads, except P. M. Friesen, the reeve of the Rural Municipality of Excelsior, who had to be told by one of the Prince's attendants to remove his hat. The incident is most regrettable, but Mr. Friesen was invited as the reeve of the rural municipality, and the city of Swift Current has no apology to offer; that is up to the municipality which he represents.

After the departure of the Prince on Friday afternoon, an open air concert was given by Reeve Friesen on behalf of the people of the Rural Municipality of Excelsior, No. 166, from the reception platform in the C.P.R. gardens. P. M. gave a very acceptable rendition of the National Anthem, and was attended by an escort of the Royal North West Mounted Police; there was a fair attendance of the Great War Veterans, under whose auspices Reeve Friesen has been brought out as a public vocalist. He held a Union Jack above his head, which heightened the patriotic effect of the stage setting, and the outstanding vocal qualities of the entertainer. —Swift Current Sun.

The New Motor Car

Overland

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since the Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car, built in Canada by Canadians, for Canadians. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large, heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small, light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads: they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed driving gears and shafts are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is like that of expensive cars: Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System, Electric Horn — Specially Resilient Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor, and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick, sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in and get a Booklet. The demand for Overland 4 will be greater than the supply for some time. Overland 4 Touring, $1195; Roadster, $1195; Coupe, $1845; Sedan, $1995. Prices f. o. b. Toronto, War Tax included.

GRASSHOPPERS STOP GOLF GAME; RAISE INTERESTING DISCUSSION

ARMY OF JUMPING INSECTS LANDS ON BALL AND KNOCKS IT OFF RIDGE AND INTO BUNKER—PLAYER FAILED TO QUALIFY.

Does the golf rule of an agency outside the match apply in the following cases reported from the Ekwanok links of Manchester, Vt., by the veracious Boston Transcript? In the qualifying play at the recent Equinox Cup tournament, it seems that the greens for the most part were lightning fast, especially that at the short eleventh. One of the contestants in the qualifying round put a ball on this green and it finally brought up on top of the last ridge on this undulating green. Beyond the ridge is a slope of six or seven feet, leading into a bunker.

The player's ball stopped on the apex of the ridge and he walked down from the tee fully expecting to go down in two putts for a 3. He was doing pretty well in the scoring line at the time, so that he was feeling quite chipper over his prospects for qualifying. But the ball which sat up so plainly on top of the ridge when the player left the tee was not there when he arrived.

An army of grasshoppers were disporting themselves all over the course and one of them, practicing high jumping, landed on the contestant's ball. It roosted there long enough to arouse ambition for broad jumping and unfortunately it turned in the wrong direction. The kick of its hind legs started the ball rolling off the ridge and it brought up in the bunker. The player took 10 for the hole and failed to qualify.

Where the laugh comes in doubly on the unfortunate contestant is that, under the rules of a ball displaced by an outside agency, according to the Transcript, he could have replaced the ball without penalty. The question naturally arises, Who saw the grasshopper deliver the kick? And if the kick was not seen, how does the rule apply?

This case is not like the instance noted in a match out in the Chicago district, where much money depended on the winning of a certain hole. One player's ball hung on the lip of the cup and and seemed destined to sit there long enough for him to lose the hole, but just as the players approached the ball they saw a fly light on it and began to walk in a way that might start the ball toward he cup.

"Walk the other way," shouted the opponent while the player told the insect to keep right on. The result was that the weight of the fly sent the ball into the cup for a win! Now, could the loser have had the ball replaced on the ground that the ball had been displaced by an agency outside the match?

BANDIT, 17, BOASTING 15 PARK ROBBERIES, CALLS FOLK HERE "EASIEST IN WORLD TO STICK UP"

YOUNG SEAMAN READS FROM NOTEBOOK OF HIS ACHIEVEMENTS AND TELLS OF GIRL WITH HATPIN WHO SCORNED HIS PISTOL AND CHASED HIM AROUND LAKE.

NEW YORK—"Your honor, my little memorandum book shows fifteen stick-ups in Central Park since October 5," nonchalantly explained Charles Amendinger, 17 years old, a seaman, when he was arraigned before Magistrate Douras in West Side Court on charges alleging highway robbery. The youthful Dick Turpin recited the tale of his brief career of crime as though he were reading a chapter from a popular novel. Lack of parental advice, he said led to his misdoings.

Amendinger, who said he was stopping temporarily at No. 1,021 Fox street, the Bronx, was arrested late Wednesday night by Detectives Bertram Maskiel and Cornelius Manning of the West Forty-seventh Street Station. The detectives were assigned to make an investigation of a series of robberies in Central Park and came upon the young seaman. They found a fully loaded pistol in one of his hip pockets.

"Your Honor, I am to be pitied," pleaded Amendinger when the detectives had completed their story. "I am an orphan, and do not know the tender touch of a mother's hand, nor have I ever had the advice of a father, that most boys have had. When the war broke out I left the Wartburg Orphan Asylum, at Pelham, N.Y., where I had been confined since I was three years of age. I enlisted in the United States Navy and did my bit for Uncle Sam.

Recently Back From France.

"A few months ago I came back from France and was assigned to the Great Lakes Training Station, in Illinois. I received a twenty day leave of absence from the station and came to New York city, where I got into bad company. I was taught how to stick up."

"What do you mean by stick up?" inquired the Magistrate.

"To point a gun at a person and relieve the person of ready cash and jewels," the youth declared.

The prisoner then told in detail of the hold-ups he had noted in his memorandum book. This provoked an outburst of laughter from persons in the court and not even the Magistrate could keep a straight face.

"Were you never afraid?" the Magistrate asked.

"No sir," the youth replied, "New York people are the easiest in the world to stick up.

"Among my victims, Your Honor, were eleven men and four women, and the only time that fear ever entered my system was when I held a young lady up about midnight near the lake in Central Park. She came after me, although I stuck a gun up in her face, and pulling a hatpin gave me a merry chase. The only thing that prevented her from getting me was her dress. She couldn't run as fast as I did.

"I never would have killed any of these people, Your Honor. But, gee! they were scared—and, Your Honor, all that I ever got out of the fifteen I held up was $32.25, and the twenty-five cents was a war savings stamp. I never took jewels from them although they were as easy to get as the money."

"This is the most astonishing case I ever heard of," the Magistrate declared when the youth had completed his story. "Any one to look at you would never think that you were a bandit, but would think you led a boy's choir in some church."

Magistrate Douras commended the detectives for the arrest and asked them to have all the persons Amendinger had robbed in court when he is arraigned. The Magistrate set the youth's bail at $5,000 and remanded him to the West Side Prison.

ALL EUROPE INTERESTED IN ETC.

the Pittsburg district went on strike to-day in response to the order of the United Mine Workers of America, according to officers of District Number Five of the organization. The number represents practically one hundred per cent. of coal production of Western Pennsylvania.

No Response.

(Canadian Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 1.—Early indications to-day were that the eighty thousand soft coal miners in Illinois responded almost simultaneously to the strike call, effective at midnight last night. Machinery was ready at almost all of the mines to begin work at the usual hour this morning, and the whistle sounded the "work to-day" signal, but there was no response.

In Kentucky.

(Canadian Press)

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 1.—Affected for the first time in ten years by a strike of a large magnitude, Kentucky to-day was within the grasp of a nation-wide strike of soft coal miners, which went into effect last midnight. Approximately ten thousand miners of the State had joined the walkout early to-day according to Union officers who predicted that several thousand additional men would quit before Monday.

Extend Strike.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Upward of 384 thousand bituminous coal miners throughout the nation of a total of six hundred and fifteen thousand employed in that industry to-day were on strike in response to the general strike call, effective at midnight last night, according to report in some instances estimated received by Union leader. Despite the general injunction issued at Indianapolis against the strike, leaders who generally stated they would disregard it, answered that the strike to-day would be extended to more than five hundred thousand miners. The exact strength of the walk-out probably will not be known until Monday. However, since in many of the country's mines Saturday has been recognized as at least a half holiday and work suspended altogether in others on Sundays. Mine operators early to-day had announced n oplans for carrying on mining despite the precautionary steps taken and promised by Federal and different State governments. Neither had they given out an estimate of number of men on strike.

IRRITABLE NERVES RESTORED AND HEALTH REGAINED IN A SIMPLE WAY

The man or woman who is run-down, not feeling up to the mark, perhaps irritable, nervous or sleepless can well afford to learn about the wonderful results the newly discovered blood-food is giving to folks that use it.

There is wonderful power in this new blood-food, and every weak, pallid person can be quickly nourished back to health that uses it as directed.

After each meal, with a sip or two of water, you simply take two little chocolate-coated tablets, sold in all drug stores under the name of "FERROZONE."

The effect is noticeable at once. You feel happier, brighter, more contented. That old-time feeling of weariness departs—you forget your "nerves" and no longer get irritable or cross over trifling annoyances.

There is a reason for this change and that reason consists of the fact that Ferrozone contains blood-making materials you can get in no other way.

Ferrozone makes the blood tingle and sing with new vitality. This ensures lots of nourishment and strength being supplied to every part of the body.

No wonder the eyes brighten and the cheeks radiate color and happiness: With abundance of strength, a keen appetite, good digestion and plenty of sound sleep all the result of Ferrozone you quickly feel as if life held new charms and pleasures.

SUPERBAS OF 1900 GREAT MACHINE ALLIANCE OF BRAINS AND ABILITY

OLD-TIME FOLLOWERS ARGUE PRESENT DAY CLUBS NOT IN CLASS OF OLD SUPERBAS GIANTS, ATHLETICS OR CUBS

With activities in the major leagues finally ended for the season of 1919, fans are now given to comparisons of the great teams and players of other years with those in the limelight today. The older generation of fans will argue until the cows come home that the pennant winners and stars of their early days surpassed those that are now basking in the glory of their triumphs.

The White Sox and the Reds, the pennant winners this year, were teams of recruits, but it can hardly be said that either was a great outfit. They well deserved their victories, but in the past there were a number of teams which over-shadowed either of them. This leads to question which was the best team that ever had a place in the big leagues?

The question is a simple one, but an all-fired difficult one to answer without inviting arguments from every quarter. There are those that claim that the old pennant-winning Orioles of Baltimore, under Hanlon, never had an equal. Others put forth the great Boston team under Selee in 1896, while others claim the pennant-winning Athletics of a few years back set the highest mark for efficiency. Then again there are the legions of admirers of the Pirates under Fred Clarke, when they were sweeping all in front of them, while many contend that the crown should go to the famous Cub machine under Frank Chance. Giant followers declare that the McGraw ensemble of 1904 and 1905 was the greatest that ever strutted across the diamond.

There is merit in all of these opinions, for all of the above teams were great, and undoubtedly over the run of a season's play would have led either the White Sox or the Reds to the wire. On the other hand the consensus of opinion is that all of these teams would have had to bite the dust of defeat if pitted against the famous Brooklyn team of 1899 and 1900. This team came into being when the National League was reduced to ten clubs, and represented the combination of the best material of the Brooklyn and Baltimore clubs.

This team was made up of Kennedy, McJames, Hughes, Dunn, Kitson and, later, McGinnity, pitchers; McGuire and Farrell, catchers; McGann, first base; Daly on second; Bill Dahlen at short, Lave Cross on third, Kelly, Keeler, Jones and Sheckard in the outfield. This combination made up about the finest alliance of brains and mechanical ability in the history of the national pastime.

Of course there could be other individual players that have surpassed in greatness some of those in this old Brooklyn outfit, but they are not to be found on any one team. This team, led by Hanlon, proved to be easy pennant winners. Not only could they bat and field, but never were they guilty of technical blunders. Their triumphs were due as much if not more to their mental rather than their mechanical ability.

The margin of superiority of the Brooklyn teams of 1899 and 1900 over other great teams is not so wide as to preclude argument. Still close followers of baseball for the last thirty years are generally agreed that Brooklyn outfits under Hanlon, whose efficiency won for them the title of "The Superbas," would have shown the way to the wire in a pennant race that included any or all of the great teams of baseball.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

The third seal speaks of a terrible condition on the earth. When the Lamb opens the third seal the living creature that has the face of a man, sends forth the black horse. This living being has supervision over God's mercy in providing food and clothing, or the natural wants of man. The rider of the horse has a pair of balances and the high price of living is spoken of. Famine comes not because of war but because the curse on the ground spoken of in Genesis is in force. It is God's reply to the godless and atheistic science that thinks it can obtain food and other necessaries without God, and does not believe that Christ is needed to sustain the productive powers of nature. Hebrews i., 3, says, not only that the worlds were created by Christ but also that He upholds all things by the word of His power. So He should have the glory and famine will be God's judgment on atheistic argicultural science.

When the Lamb opens the fourth seal, the living creature that is like a flying eagle sends forth the black horse. This being has supervision over the mercy of God in history, and as most people think that man can manage history without God, the Lord lets them do so, and retires His blessing, with the result that a war breaks out, in which one-quarter of the population of the earth is wiped out. That number would make three rows of corpses round the earth's equator. What a colossal judgment, and yet God does nothing but retire His influence from history. It shows that man cannot rule himself.

When the Lamb opens the fifth seal the souls of the martyrs are seen under the altar unavenged, and when they cry for vengeance they are told that will come when the martyr list is complete, which takes place in chapter 20, where they are raised and reign with Christ.

When the Lamb opens the sixth seal we have one of the most awful seismic movements that the world has ever known in reply to man's theory of the cosmic order. He never thanks God for this wonderfully beneficent order. He has an atheistic theory of God's order. He is a materialist and God disproves His theory by a universal shaking of this order that brings the atheist to his knees and makes him seek for some hiding place from the wrath of God and the Lamb.

Before the seventh seal is opened there is an interlude, in which two companies are mentioned: (1) A company of sealed Jews on earth, and (2) a company of saved Gentiles in heaven. These Jews appear again in the 14th chapter in company with the Lamb upon Mount Zion, the place of His crucifixion. Now He is victor and these Jews have lived through. No power could kill them. But the Gentiles are in heaven before the throne. They have been martyred. They came out of the great tribulation by martyrdom, and are before the throne because they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. They rise in the 20th chapter.

CONSTIPATION or COSTIVENESS

Constipation, although generally described as a disease, can never exist unless some of the organs are deranged, which is generally found to be the liver.

There is nothing more productive of general ill health than constipation of the bowels, and a regular action is absolutely essential to general health. One of the most common, painful and troublesome troubles caused by constipation is piles, and unless the bowels are kept open by the use of a good laxative such as Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills the whole system will be poisoned and many different complications of diseases arise, so if you would be well, keep your bowels regular.

Mr. A. Roder, Hastings St. E., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I desire to express my thanks for what Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills have done for me. Had been suffering from constipation for two years and also had a bad cough and headaches. I tried all sorts of cures and remedies, but got no relief until I was advised to try your pills. I got great relief after the first few doses."

Get Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills when you ask for them or send 25c. and they will be sent by return mail by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Warm Woollen Undies for Frosty Days

ALTHOUGH the weather continues mild and we have had no forerunner of winter, Jack Frost lurks just around the corner and wise is the woman who prepares herself before the chill winds of the north swoop down. : : :

There is Knit Underwear here a-plenty—Vests with low necks and no sleeves, low necks and short sleeves, V-necks and elbow sleeves, V-necks and long sleeves, and high necks and long sleeves. There are ribs both wide and narrow; weights light, heavy, and medium; there are some All-Wool—of course, they are the most expensive—Wool and Cotton, and Silk and Wool; but all have a softness of finish and a snugness that make them desirable companions. The Prices range from $1.00 upwards. Drawers in the same qualities in ankle and knee length at similar prices.

Combinations of Sea Island Cotton (much favoured because of its soft, pliable qualities). They come from a maker that puts quality into his goods. You can have either ankle length or knee length, with low neck, short or long sleeve, whichever you prefer. A mercerised tape is run through a hemstitched opening at the neck. Price $3.25.

Another quality that is good value, but not quite so closely woven as the above, at $2.75.

Bloomers, in Pink, White, and Pale Blue, with elastic at waist and knees. Price $1.00.

Vests and Drawers, in Natural and White, long sleeves, 59c garment.

Vests and Drawers, in Natural and White, long sleeves, 89c garment.

If You Motor We Have a Glove You Need

They are made of chamois and can be had in either brown or buck color. Like all motor gloves they are made with a wide bell cuff. They are certainly quite the thing for the woman who sits behind the wheel of an auto. Moderately priced at $2.00.

Just the other day we were pleased to receive a shipment of "Dent" Gloves, in medium coloured Grey Suede and a whole series of Tans and Browns in Glazed Kid. There is a complete range of sizes, and the price is $2.95 pair.

There Will Come a Time, Maybe in a Day or Two—When You'll Want to Be Muffled Up

Brushed Wool Sets—Tam and 54-inch Scarf—in many pleasing colour combinations, such as: Purple and Grey, Rose and White, White and Rose, Cardinal and Green, and Grey and Cardinal. The last-named colour in each case is the trimming, which is two wide stripes across the ends of the Scarf and fringed to match, and the large wool ball that sits on top of the tam. The price is $3.50.

Three-piece Pure Wool Knitted Sets, with Scarf, Toque, and Mitts. The Scarfs are 54 inches long and the Mitts come up high over the wrists and on to the arms. The trimmings are the colours last named, and there are two inch-and-a-half stripes on the Toque, three slightly narrower on the Mitts, and three the same width as on the Toque. The price per Set is $4.75.

Hosiery! It's on a Cold Day that You'll Appreciate Them

Here is a Pen-Angle Stocking of seamless Black Cashmere, with spliced heel and toe, full fashioned, hemmed garter top, and above all, a fast dye. Full range of sizes from 8½ to 10. Price 98c pair.

You will find this "Penman" O.S. size All-Wool Cashmere Stocking most satisfactory. It is substantially made with double heel, sole, and toe, and the top is a deep garter hem. Sizes 8, 9, 9½, and 10. Price $1.50.

The same as above in Cashmerette, and priced at 85c.

At $1.50 we have a range of plain Browns and Heather Mixtures that are suitable for wear with Brogue Oxfords. Also Black.

Children's heavy ribbed Cotton School Hose that are made for rough and tumble wear. Such brands as "Knockabout," "Winner," "Hercules" and "Holey Tearer." Some are 1|1 and others 2|1 rib. Sizes 6 to 10. Prices 49c, 59c, and 69c pair.

Some of the Prettiest Bits of Ribbon that Ever Came From a Loom

A piece of ribbon can contain so much loviness and can be used so effectively in so many ways that we naturally suppose you are interested. We secured this assemblage after much searching.

There is an array of light Taffeta Dresden patterns, in Pale Pink, Pale Blue, and Pale Yellow, with faint shadings of Pale Green. The widths range from 3 to 5 inches. The Prices from 29c to 59c.

Then there are deep rich Oriental patterns on dark grounds, with shadow effects, that have a sort of misty beauty that is not to be ignored. They are of Duchess Satin and Taffeta, ranging in width from 4 to 7 inches, and priced from 65c to $1.75.

CALEDONIAN CLUB CAME TO LIFE IN OLD TIME FORM

BANQUET HELD LAST EVENING IN THE WOODMEN OF THE WORLD HALL—THE PROGRAMME.

Like Rip Van Winkle the Caledonian Club, dormant since the beginning of the war, woke up in earnest last evening, when the members of the Club entertained the returned Scotsmen and their families at a huge banquet in the Woodmen of the World Hall. The affair, which was attended by some two hundred and fifty sons and daughters of Scotland from every point on the island, will be long remembered in the history of the city as one of the most successful gatherings ever held in Peterborough, both from the standpoint of numbers who attended and from the genuine good time spent by all present.

The Toasts.

After a most sumptuous repast served at six large tables, each prettily decorated in flowers and Scotish flags, Mr. Alex Gibson, chairman and toast master of the evening, proposed the health of the King and Mr. Alex. Dick, in a short speech, overflowing with patriotism, responded. In replying to the toast to the returned men, Mr. Robert Hendry spoke of the wonderful heroism of Scotland's sons in the past wars and of the debt the country owes them.

The Programme.

The programme, which interspersed the dances and toasts was particularly well chosen and some rare talent displayed. Those taking part in this were:

Solo, "Hurrah for the Highlands"—Mr. Robert Hendry.
Solo, "The Battle of Stirling"—Mr. John Smith.
Solo—Mr. Weatherstone.
Solo—Mr. John Anderson.
Solo—Mr. Thomson.

Those Present.

A few of those present were: Mr. Alex. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. John Wylie, Mr. and Mrs. S. Leith and son, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Charteres, Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. McArthur, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Alex. McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. P. McArthur, Jr., Mr. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hardie, Mrs. Hurry and Mr. Neil Hurry, Mr. and Mrs. Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Irwin, Mr. Weatherstone, Mr. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Bob French, Mr. J. Gildespie, Sergeant and Mrs. James Reid, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. John Naples, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. James Sands and family, Mr. Bertie Smith, Miss Smith, Miss Eva Rhodehouse, Mr. Alex. Hardie, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Petrie, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Young and Mr. Eliott.

Outstanding Feature.

The outstanding feature of the evening's entertainment was the splendid display of fancy dancing which interspersed the regular programme of waltzes, two-steps and one-steps, and which was keenly appreciated by all who were fortunate enough to be present.

WILLIAMS
NEW SCALE PIANO

YOU would be very much interested if you could see the wood being scientifically prepared for the Williams New Scale Piano. Every inch of it goes through a special process which removes all sap and sugar. When this wood is being cut up, there is a great deal of waste, because only absolutely flawless pieces can measure up to the standard that we have maintained during many years for Williams Pianos. The woodwork on this famous Canadian piano—not only the case, but on all the unseen parts also—will never shrink, warp or decay. The Williams is built to last a lifetime.

Write us for illustrated literature and ask any Williams dealer to show you this beautiful instrument.

THE NERVOUS SCHOOL CHILD

Needs Rich, Red Blood to Regain Health and Strength.

Many children start school in excellent health, but after a short time home work, examinations, hurried meals and crowded school rooms cause their blood to become weak and thin, their nerves overwrought and their color and spirits lost. It is a great mistake to let matters drift when boys and girls show symptoms of nervousness or weak blood. They are almost sure to fall victims of St. Vitus dance, or drift into debility that leads to other troubles. Regular meals, out-door exercises and plenty of sleep are necessary to combat the nervous wear of school life. But it is still more important that parents should pay strict attention to the school child's blood supply. Keep this rich and red by giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills according to directions and the boy or girl will be sturdy and fit for school. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. Pearl G. Hollington, Kingsville, Ont., who says:—"I have often felt that I should write you and let you know what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me. A daughter of thirteen I was afflicted with St. Vitus dance. The trouble became so severe that I had to be taken from school. I was given medical treatment but it did not help me, in fact I was steadily growing worse. Then a friend advised my mother to give me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which she did, with the happiest results, as the pills completely cured me and I was again able to take up my studies and attend school. Again about three years ago I was attacked with nervous prostration and once more took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after using five boxes was fully restored. I cannot praise these pills too highly as I believe they will cure any case of St. Vitus dance, or restore anyone who is weak, nervous or run down.

You can safely give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to the most delicate child, or take them yourself with equally good results when you need a blood tonic. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or will be sent by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

STAND BY CANADA IN VICTORY LOAN

TURN IN THE TIDE OF PROSPERITY IS IMMINENT IF VICTORY LOAN SHOULD FAIL.

Did you ever stand at the Exhibition and watch the merry-go-round? Have you stood entranced as it got up speed and then went along full tilt for a while? It was fine, and all went merrily.

But all at once something happened, and the works were shut off. Then the whizz ceased and the gay whirl began to slow down. Slower and slower it went, and at last stopped.

Then those who were on climbed off, and others got on. Then the machinery started again, and away they went pell-mell.

Canada is at full speed. All is going merrily and prosperity is in full command. To keep things running the Victory Loan must be a success. Otherwise—

Things will gradually slow down and stop.

If Canada cannot supply credits to Great Britain, other countries will. In other words, other countries will climb on and the wheels of prosperity will turn again, but—Canada would not be on.

Don't let it happen. Buy Victory Bonds and prevent it.

REV. J. R WEBB VICE-PRESIDENT

NOTES OR THE BAPTIST CONVENTION.

Some most regrettable errors occurred in certain Toronto papers in their report of the discussion of theological editorials at the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec held at Ottawa this week.

Rev. J. L. Gilmour, D. D., who has many friends in this city is by one or more papers credited with being the author of the articles against which the convention so stoutly objected. The fact is that the announcement was clearly made that Dr. Gilmour did not write the offensive editorials and was in no way responsible for any part of them.

The same papers state that Rev. J. R. Webb of Peterborough "made a plea for greater freedom of thought." This, as is well known to all the delegates who were present is quite contrary to the facts, for the pastor of the Murray street Baptist Church, not only voted for Dr. Shield's resolution, but advocated it from the platform and urged the withdrawal of the amendment which course was finally agreed upon.

Mr. Webb was elected first vice-president of the Home Mission Board for Ontario and Quebec. Mr. James Ryrie of Toronto, is the president.

Above is shown the new made-in-Canada Overland 4. It is being manufactured at Toronto by Willys-Overland Limited, who announce that production on a quantity basis has now been reached.

The chassis is illustrated along with the highest touring car model because of the radical departure in the spring suspension. It will be seen from the drawing that the spring base exceeds the wheelbase by 10 inches. This exclusive "three-point" principle is the basis of the manufacturers' claim that the springs of the Overland 4 give it a riding comfort hitherto not realized in a light car of the economical short wheelbase.

Willys-Overland Limited claim that this new spring scope has been subjected to the most rigorous mechanical laboratory and road tests that engineers have ever devised, including 250,000 miles of road testing. The hill-climbing scene above was taken in Hell Canyon, near Allenquerque, New Mexico.

Introductory Demonstration of the Famous

Topic Ranges

On Our Big Top Floor, Commencing Monday

These famous Ranges require no special recommendation to people of Peterborough and country around, but to introduce this new line, which will be added to our Kitchen Department in the Basement as soon as alterations are completed, we have secured the services of "Aunt Jemima" herself, who will show how to make Pancakes from "Aunt Jemima" Flour at the Demonstration Section on the Top Floor.

"Aunt Jemima" will be here all next week, and you should not miss coming and testing her delicious Pancakes made from "Aunt Jemima" Pancake Flour as she serves them hot from a Tropic Range.

There will be a Special Showing of these Tropic Ranges in our Simcoe Street Window, of "Aunt Jemima" will make her Pancakes and serve them on the Top Floor. It will be worth your while coming to see how these delicious Pancakes should be made, and how well a Tropic Range cooks them.

THE PRACTICAL USE OF THE X-RAY IN DENTISTRY

(By J. J. Craig, D.D.S., Peterborough.)

Radiography has become one of the most important branches of dentistry. The X-ray is to the dentist what the periscope is to the submarine, only the periscope reveals to the undersea craft what is occurring on the surface, while the X-ray enables the dentist to see conditions as they are below the superficial tissues, i.e., it reveals what we cannot see by clinical examination.

Systematic Disturabnces Due to Defective Teeth.

I do not believe many will dispute the statement that pain is not a rel liable symptom of disease, as we find cases every day where there are very large areas of infection and absolutely no local pain, yet were it not for the aid of the X-ray, those hidden face of infection would pass unnoticed and go on indefinitely producing bacteria, which having no other means of escape, gain entrance to the blood stream and are carried to other parts of the body, setting up a disturbance.

To Determine if the Teeth Are the Cause of Reflex Irritations.

Patients are asking repeatedly if their headaches or neuralgia are caused by their teeth. Where they are endeavoring to locate the cause of a reflex disturbance, it is not enough in every case to simply make an ocular examination, and give a positive statement that there is no trouble, for without the aid of an X-ray, it is impossible to determine whether or not there is a facies of infection in a case where there are devitalised teeth. Also in numerous cases, trouble of a reflex nature is the result of hidden dental cavities; inpacted or unerupted teeth; or pulp modules encroaching on the nerves of the tooth; or an unsuspected pyorrhea pocket; any of which the most thorough clinical examination will not reveal.

To Determine the Condition of Teeth When Contemplating a Restoration.

The first questoin that interests the construction engineer is the nature of the ground upon which he is going to erect his bridge. No effort is spared to ascertain fully the character of the foundation and to provide by every available means its stability, thereby insuring the durability and safety of the structure. It is on the same principles that the successful crown and bridge worker, calls to his assistance the X-ray for ascertaining the conditions of the tissues, both hard and soft, before laying out a detailed plan for the construction of the prosthetic appliance to be inserted in each case. The precaution not only spares the operator the humiliation of failure ,loss of time, and valuable material, but safeguards the public's faith in the efficiency of crown and bridge work. Since Dr. William Hunter, of London, and after him scores of others, have arraigned the dental profession for causing oral sepsis by their disregard of the physiologic and anatomic basis of their work, the responsibilities involved in any intervention in the human mouth are, being more fully realized than ever before. The spectre of "septic denistry" has alarmed the practitioners and patients alike, especially since the findings of such investigators as Billings, Rosenow, Mayo, Grieves, Hartzell and others have substantiated Hunter's timely warning.

As An Aid to Extraction of Impacted Teeth.

In the case of an impacted tooth the use of the X-ray is a humanitarian aid to a speeding diagnosis. Before the development of the radiograph, operations on impacted teeth were made, owing to imperfect diagnosis, with a feeling of uncertainty as to the possible delivery of the tooth in toto from its socket, and any such feeling of uncertainty has a tendency to militate against the success of the operation. In short, dental radiographw, more than any other branch of dentistry, has, despite the remarkably short period of time in which it has [illegible] science, availed itself of every innovation in its arduous stife to word perfection. It therefore behooves the dental surgeon who is called upon to make the most skillful restorations, delicate operations and difficult diagnosis, to avail himself to the fullest of Rontgen's discovery.

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINIPEG, Nov. 1.— Farmers of Manitoba, judged by resolutions passed this week, are strongly in favour of polilteal action at the next Federal elections.

According to W. R. Wood, secretary of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, resolutions have been passed by many of the local branches of the Grain Growers' Association throughout the province favoring the election of afrmers only to the Commons.

COMPANIES CHARGED WITH PROFITEERING

ELEVATOR COMPANIES IN THE WEST ARE AFFECTED

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1. — Before Judge Robson, chairman of Canada's Board of Commerce, investigating profiteering, eight of the largest elevator companies in Western Canada were charged yesterday afternoon with having formed a combine and selling all their grain screenings in Chicago and Minneapolis and refusing to sell to Canadian feed firms. All the elevator companies charged are controlled by United States' capital.

Port Arthur Elevator Company, Grand Trunk Elevator Co., Empire Elevator Co., Thunder Bay Elevator Co., Consolidated Elevator Co., and Western Elevator Co. are attacked. Feed dealers present said yesterday they are willing to pay Minneapolis prices if supplied.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

For Colds, Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross."

LINDSAY WANTS INTERMEDIATE HOCKEY LEAGUE

(Lindsay Warder.)

With a lot of good material in town the question has been asked, whether or not Lindsay will have a team in the intermediate series of the O.H.A. It is high time those interested in hockey should get together and talk the mater over, especially the players, who after all are most vitally interested.

Among the players in town can be mentioned the following who would no doubt try to catch a place on the team: C. O'Loughlin, R. Dennis, W. Garnett, E. Coombs, C. Carew, C. McElroy, N. Wettlaufer, Lipsett, Ryckman, Richman, P. Spratt and others.

It looks as if the boys will have to get together if they wish to play hockey, as the management of the junior team have already decided not to dabble with an intermediate team.

O.R.F.U. SENIOR
Hamilton Rowing Club at T.R. & A.A.

The four major league rugby events scheduled for this afternoon are engrossing the interest of all lovers of the gridiron game. The Big Four teams are all tied with two wins and two losses apiece, and today's events will likely indicate the contenders for the finals. This series has been featured by so many upsets in the "dope" that anything is likely to happen. Hamilton "Tigers" will turn out their strongest team of the season against the Argonauts with a wing line and back division that has aroused all old time rugby fervour of the loyal followers of the bengals. Peterboro will be represented by Ross Craig who with Isbister will share the brunt of the Tiger's line smashing. They opened the season with a loss to Toronto but with their remaining games at home are regarded as having the edge on the others for the championship. As intimated anything may happen but it looks like Hamilton or M.A.A.A. for the winner with next Saturday's game at Hamilton deciding it.

In the College series McGill and Varsity meet for the first time since the war, and the Toronto stadium will likely be choked with a record crowd. Shaughnessy is reported to have a fast well-balanced, clever team with a bag of tricks that are barely within the rugby regulations. Judging by their scores with Queens the two teams appear to be about evenly matched.

The Examiner will bulletin the final scores.

LINDSAY HAS JUNIOR LEAGUE

With a good junior team in the O. H. A. Lindsay fans are bound to see some fast hockey this year, and the management has the right idea when deciding to get behind the Junior Town League. In this way new material for the O.H.A. team can be fostered and nursed along. The juniod league was a hum-dinger last year with four good teams, and several nifty stick-handlers, were brought to the front, notably Balfour, Sutton, Mills, Chambers, Armstrong, Goodhand, McWatters and others.

Hockey fans will be glad to hear that there will at least be a junior town league this season.

GOOD PICTURES FOR THE GRAND

Toronto, Oct. 31st, 1919.

Mr. Harry Dahn,
Manager Grand Opera House,
Peterborough, Ont.

With a view to giving your patrons at the Grand Opera House a line of film attractions such as have never before been presented in Peterborough, I have made arrangements for the exclusive presentation in your city of the latest releases of the celebrated Big Four Combination which includes Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith. You will also receive from time to time the complete series of films now in course of production by the world-famous screen star, Madame Nazimova, who will present at the Grand during the first half of the coming week her most recent success, entitled "THE RED LANTERN." I am also sending you for early presentation D. W. Griffith's wondrous creation called "BROKEN BLOSSOMS." Mary Pickford has been booked for November engagements in both "DADDY LONGLEGS" and "THE HOODLUM."

A. J. SMALL.

MUTT AND JEFF

In presenting "Mutt and Jeff's Dream" this season Mr. Hill offers an entire new show. This frolicsome hodge-podge of the stage, which has weathered many seasons successfully will be the next attraction at the Grand, (to-day, matinee and evening. It is said to be newer and better than ever before, which is "going some" to use the vernacular, when it is considered that this entertainment has already reached the acme of perfection.

A company of real fun makers, a concourse of singing and dancing girls who embody the art of terpischore at its best, a scenic equipment that compare favorably with the most pretentious production before the public, and stage settings that appeal both to the eye and heart, are employed in this thoroughly up-to-date offering. It is reported that there is not a dull moment in the entire entertainment, applause, infectious laughter and continuous merriment attending the piece from the rise to the fall of the final curtain.

CHARLES RAY SCORES BIG SUCCESS IN "THE BUSHER"

To see any picture starring Charles Ray is a delight, but to see him in "The Busher," his latest picture, is a motive which, once enjoyed, cannot be forgotten in a hurry. This was the verdict of the audiences that greeted this meritorious production at the Allen Theatre yesterday.

This is a capital story of the small town baseball player who migrates to the city, and, finding himself more than usually prosperous as a member of a big league team, gets chesty and is dropped from the roll to teach him a lesson. There is an excellent love story which holds the interest to the final scenes.

The picture was finely produced and the supporting company, headed by Colleen Moore, is far above the average. The picture scored a decided hit.

IN CHARGE OF RUGBY TEAM

The City Football League of Ottawa is providing a great race this year for the championship. The fight appears to be between St. Brigids and St. Patrick's. On Saturday last St. Brigids defeated St. Patrick's by a score of 10 to 5, after a sensational game for the winners.

Mr. Leo Derocher, former goalkeeper of the Peterborough Intermediate hockey team, was in charge, together with Mr. Le Fleur. Newspaper reports state that their handling of the team was a big factor in the winning of the game.

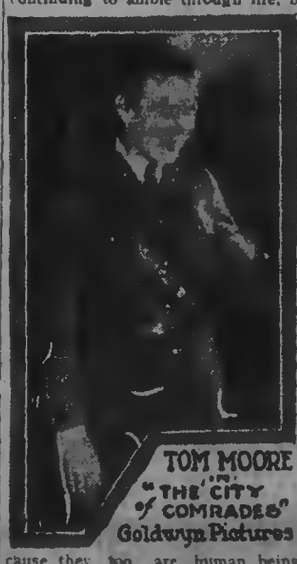
TOM MOORE'S NEW PLAY, "CITY OF COMRADES," ABOUNDS IN VIVID CONTRASTS

Contrast of character and situation, of locales and of types,—the prime element of drama, is exemplified in Tom Moore's production, "The City of Comrades," by Basil King, which is to be shown at the Allen Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

At variance are the two extremes of human society, on one hand the pampered members of the social four hundred, on the other, the down-trodden, suspected, disheartened creatures of the slums, haunted by the police, yet continuing to amble through life, because they, too, are human beings with a right to live. One of the latter is Frank Melbury (Tom Moore), the erstwhile respectable son of a respectable family, now an exile through drink. Opposite him is Regina Barry (Senna Owen), a daughter of the rich, her demeanor proud but not unkind.



Still greater contrast in "The City of Comrades" exists between Lovey (Otto Hoffman), a true down and outer, who refuses to listen to thoughts of reformation, and Melbury, who cannot bring himself to adopt the principles of the gutter. He wants to leave "the old life"; Lovey does not; and the contrast in their views creates both comic and pathetic situations throughout the upfolding of the play.

The gorgeous gown worn by Seena Owen and Mary Warren contrast sharply with the raggedness of Melbury in the first part of the picture; the luxury of the Barry home opposite the slum refuge of Lovey and Melbury; and finally, the psychological processes of the rich and the poor are poignantly set forth.

In "The City of Comrades" the utmost subtlety is shown in character contracts, with the results that the production is one of the best. There is no explanation of motive, but the motive acts itself on the screen through the medium of Basil King's pen and Tom Moore's art. As Mr. Moore aptly describes it, "A Man May Be Down, But Never Out."

BRINGING UP FATHER COMING

An attraction sure to be discussed, enjoyed and remembered, is underlined to hold the boards at the Grand next Saturday, matinee and evening. The new piece is called "Bringing Up Father in Society" and based on the famous comics of George McManus. As usual Gus Hill will present the offering. This season the noted Jiggs Mahoney, as "Father" is familiarly known, will be surrounded by all his friends —the favorites we have long ago learned to love and anticipate. And for the occasion they will appear in a series of typical adventures, complications and situations in which the social aspirations of "Mother" (Jiggs' better half) receive a decided jolt, of course, for the time being Jiggs is made the "goat." But like the proverbial worm he has a chance to turn. And he does. Naturally all is done for the purpose of creating laughter which mission is ably fulfilled.

The words of a weak woman often carry more weight than the muscles of a strong man.

If the hay trust will only put hay fever beyond the reach of mankind it will not have been in vain.

One song sung amid a storm is of more benefit to mankind than a whole concert when the sun is shining.

TWO POEMS BY A NONOGENARIAN

Here are two little poems, written by one of the oldest residents of Peterboro', Mr. William Rowley Hayes, 533 Concession St., who celebrated his 95th birthday during the past summer.

MY BIRTHDAY WISH

To My Daughters.

Send me a wish for my birthday.
Others may send me kind words;
Theirs will be like distant music,
Yours like the sweet song of birds.

Theirs may be fond, kindly greetings;
Theirs may be loving and true;
But theirs won't be half so cheering,
As one loving wish from you.

So send me a wish for my birthday,
Only breathe me a prayer,
And at the footstool of mercy,
May it find acceptance there.

Something to praise and lighten,
Something to cherish and cheer,
Something to gladden and brighten
The dawn of my ninety-fifth year.

Welcome, bright harbinger of happier days.
We hail thy rapid flight,
And give to God our humble praise,
Who helped us win the fight.

HALLOWE'EN FIRE DALHOUSIE STREET

To Mrs. R. Frideman, 268 Dalhousie Street, fell the distinction of having the only Hallowe'en fire in the city yesterday, at 5.30 p.m. This was caused by a triple candle Jack O'Lantern hung near a window curtain, which, when lighted, during Mrs. Frideman's absence at a neighbour's house, ignited the window drapes. The Fire Department was called, and the damage limited to the destruction of the window curtains and part of the wallpaper.

BRITISH EMPIRE WOULD FALL TO THE GROUND WITHOUT THE NAVY.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—Earl Beatty, the new First Sea Lord, speaking here, declared that while public economy was essential, Britain's vast lines of communication were as important as before the war, and the navy the only insurance of maintaining them. The League of Nations was a pious hope for relieving us of some of that insurance which he hoped might be fulfilled, but without the navy the Empire would fall to the ground.

MISUNDERSTOOD

(Appended is the sixth and final chapter of "Misunderstood," written by Evangelist H. D. Kennedy of this city. Three editions of this book have been issued, and the work has been copyrighted. The publisher is William Briggs, of Toronto.)

THE EMPTY SEPULCHRE.

To give the world a new thought, a new conception of truth, was the mission of Jesus. And, think of it! He had not three years to accomplish His work, and remember how young He was. If anyone ever saw the need of living on, He did, but He submitted to the will of His Father. In His prayer in the garden the temptation may not have been to have the cup taken away, but to have it pass on for a few years; for His work seemed in but poor shape to leave in the hands of twelve fishermen. Was there ever such a prayer offered by man before as when that "Man of Sorrows" for three hours bore up the bosom of this world into the very heavens? Alone! yes alone! The disciples are near, but they guard Him not; they sleep, and let the traitor lead His foes upon their Master. "Whom seek ye?" He cries, "If ye would slay the shepherd spare the sheep." Where is the boasting Peter? Sleeping! Where is the trusted Judas? Standing by, ready to betray! Can he do it? He looks into the face of the Man who, a few hours before, had ridden in triumph into the city. Can this be the same face? What anguish is depicted there! Judas raises his torch full in His Master's face, when, look! what is that he sees? Blood! Drops of blood? Great drops of blood! Oh, Judas, forbear! But he reaches forward, when on the lips he would kiss he sees blood, drops of blood! He must surely have shut his eyes to have betrayed his Lord with a kiss. Denied, betrayed, forsaken, even by His friends, led like a lamb to the slaughter, yes, He trod the winepress alone through the agonies of Gethsemane.

"Was it for me He wept and prayed,
My load of sin upon Him laid.
That night within Gethsemane—
Was it for me that agony?"

Was ever sorrow like this before, and none to stand by Him? If Jesus needed the human sympathy He asked for in the solitude of the garden, how much more does He need true sympathy now, as He stands in the midst of His fierce captors. They bind Him and cruelly lead Him forth to be judged by the unjust judges of this sinful world. Falsely accused, He stands before them their Prisoner. Is there no eye to pity or no arm to save? Where are the twelve who promised to be true? where the brave Peter, the first to draw the sword in defence of his Master? The sheep are scattered, and the heroic Peter is far back in the rear. And, when his own life seems in danger, he denies again and again his Lord, endeavoring to prove, by his furious manner and curses on lips, that he at least belonged not to this meek and lowly prisoner. Oh, how easy it is for us all to sit in judgment on the act of this wayward disciple. And yet have we not many a time been a partaker with him in his sin? Are we indeed true to Jesus and to the least of His brethern in their hour of loneliness? Have we not too often, like Pharoah's butler, forgotten our promise to the Joseph in prison? Peter had boasted, the butler had promised, yet one denied and the other forgot. Oh, how much joy we miss and how much pain we cause by not fulfilling the promises we have made or might have made to the lonely ones in this cheerless world! After all, is there any happiness that comes to us like that of knowing we have lightened another's burden? Is there not always some one near us that is more needy than we?

"Seldom can the heart be lonely
If it seek a lonelier still;
Self forgetting, seeking only
Emptier cups of love to fill."

The arrest of Jesus was no mere stage play. He was not, in the scenes that followed, simply acting a part and assuming certain experiences. It was real. He was human. The more musical an instrument is the more sensitive it is to your touch. So with Jesus. His perfectly human soul was more easily hurt than any other, and the sorrow and suffering He endured was keener than that of any other man. All the world seemed bent on His destruction, and the city He came to redeem cried, "Away with Him! away with such a man from the earth!" But a drop more bitter still was in the cup He must drink. His friends had forsaken Him; one had proven false, another had denied Him. Rejected and despised, crushed and bleeding, tired and cheerless, denied and forsaken! Was it any wonder that the Son of man, bearing His cross alone up Calvary's hill, sank under the burden of that awful load? Surely here "He trod His winepress alone, and of the people there were none with Him."

Pilate has the greatest opportunity of the ages, that of setting at liberty the most innocent prisoner that ever stood before a judge. He knew Jesus was innocent; three times before the people he declared it. And then this weakling, this compromised judge, commanded Him to be scourged and crucified.

We speak of the cross and use the word "crucify" with a kind of sacredness and tenderness because of the agony He suffered for us. The torture and agony of having the body suspended in such an unnatural position was the most to be abhorred of all deaths. But it was not the pain of the cross that satisfied the Father in Christ's death, but the surrender, of which the pain, the blood and death were evidences. Without a murmur He meekly submits to His Father's will for Him and never once does He complain.

Jesus, the Lamb of God, slain from the foundation of the world, to whom John the Baptist had pointed at the River Jordon, now hangs upon Calvary's tree. Behold Him! The nails are through His hands and through His feet, and the crown of thorns on His brow! Between two thieves, as if He were the chief transgressor! What infamy was heaped upon Him! Yet not a murmur escapes His lips. He was about His Father's business. No man had any power over Him unless it were given him from above. He had power to lay His life down and power to take it up again. Nothing could happen to Him here but His Father's will for Him. Nowhere is He more master of Himself and more the unselfish worker for others than on the cross. His mother stands near. She had loved Him; she loved Him still. What could it all mean? Would He leave her alone? No, to the care of the gentle John He entrusts her. In all the world who would be more likely to befriend His precious mother? He feels relieved now that Mary is cared for.

Some one is watching, a heart is touched, a voice is heard, "Lord, remember me when Thou comest into Thy kingdom." The dignity and majesty of the suffering Christ must surely have suggested the thought of a king and of a kingdom to this dying thief. Will the Christ who cared for His mother heed the cry of this criminal? Has he any claim on Him? Dare he make a petition at such a moment? What will Jesus do? What can He do? The hands that so often had cleansed the leper and healed the blind are nailed to the cross. The feet that so often had carried benediction and blessing over the hills of Judea and Galilee can serve Him no longer. But see! His eyes open. His great heart, which none could bind, begins to heave. His lips move; the promise is given, "To-day shalt thou be with me in paradise."

Three times even on the cross He is thinking of the immediate help He can give others. He loved His mother; that was natural. He forgave a penitent sinner; why should the Savior not do so? But listen! Hear His prayer, "Father, forgive them," as His murderers howl round His cross, lusting for His heart's blood. Was ever love like this? Though despised and rejected by men, still He loved them. Even in the agony of that awful hour no resentment is shown. Nothing could sour His nature; nothing could embitter His mind against any one. He was sweet and forgiving to the end. What wonderful love and what a brave spirit is shown here! In this act He coverted the symbol of all that was base into what is now the most glorious thing in the world. To save Himself had been the temptation of his life, but not even here does He in any sense yield, thus inspiring all self-denying and self-sacrificing ones ever since.

Look again to Calvary! For three hours He hangs there, the sun beating down upon Him, looking down in those angry faces driven on by the power of darkness to destroy Him. There He sees the wickedness of the human race, what pierces like a dagger into His own mighty heart, now almost broken. Had the prince of the power of the air marshalled the hosts of hell? Yes, it would seem so, to overthrow this one lonely man, this champion of the human race.

"And my Lord they crucified;
Bleeding hands and feet and side,
Show the cruel deed was done,
Though the darkness hid the sun."

What could it mean? Why should the heavens darken over the head of this Innocent One? Who can tell? The sun refuses to shine, darkness clothes the earth, and the forked lightnings of heaven dart in anger round His cross like the flash of the Almighty's eye, and the crashing thunder rolls in tremendous fury like the voice of Jehovah as He passes, and the earth trembles, and the foundations are shaken. Golgotha for three hours was desolate.

The very angels must have looked over the battlements of heaven and their tears have fallen upon the Sufferer, but only to behold Him. No legion with wings of light and wheels of flame thundered down to His rescue. Forsaken by His nation, forsaken by His friends, was there no star to shine in the night? Was there no rock to stand upon in the storm? Was there no eye to pity? Was there no arm to deliver? Men and angels, hide your faces from this awful tragedy. Forsaken! forsaken in the darkness of that hour, with no friend to help, with no Gethsemane angel now!

Where must His soul have sunk when He cried, "My God (not my Father), my God, why hast Thou forsaken me?" Why did He shrink in Gethsemane's garden? Was He afraid of death? Would his brave spirit falter at death? Was it not rather this hour of loneliness on the cross, this moment of extreme isolation that was the "cup" He feared to taste? The hour when, like the scapegoat, bearing the sins of the people into the country uninhabited, He bore away the sin of a lost world in His own body on the tree. "And the Lord hath laid on Him the iniquity of us all."

At this moment the veil of the temple was rent in twain from top to bottom, and the Holy of Holies became forever a thing of the past, for He was the last Sacrifice for sin. Yes, a sacrifice indeed, He gave His life a ransom for many. Surely here "He trod the winepress alone, and of the people there were none with Him."

But what had He done? Was He overthrown on this battlefield? Was He subdued in this conflict? Oh, no; a thousand times no. Look again. The sun shines forth, the clouds lift and the voice of the VICTOR is heard. Oh, hear it, ye ransomed sons of men, "It is finished." "I have finished the work Thou gavest me to do." Hell is defeated, the usurper is overthrown, the Conqueror rides on, and He shouts to a trembling world, "Be of good cheer, for I have overcome."

Yes, Jesus, the "Son of man" has finished His work. He has redeemed us, not with corruptible things, such as silver and gold, but with "His precious blood." He has thrown Himself between a sin-cursed world and an endless hell; and the man that is lost is lost by trampling over this sacrifice.

But Jesus is dead. Has He won? They take Him down from the cross, "wounded for our transgressions." "Five bleeding wounds He bears." They carry Him to the tomb, His lifeless body borne by loving hands. Look once more at Calvary, forsaken now by friend and foe. But I can imagine I see the angels who desired to look into these things hovering near. See! they light upon the ground near the cross where had hung heaven's King. Look! Gabriel, who had announced to Mary that He would reign, picks up the crown! "Can this be the crown?" he whispers. "Can this cross be His throne?" Blood on the crown! Blood on the thorns! See, the others are picking up the nails red with His blood! Awe stricken they stand holding them in their fingers. Blood on the nails! Look! Michael holds the spear that the soldier surely must have thrown away. What! Blood on the spear!

"Let me nearer Jesus view
Till I see the crimson hue;
Oh, my sins, my sins were there!
In His death they had a share."

Yes, blood on the crown, blood on the thorns, blood on the nails, blood on the spear! Blood! the precious blood of earth's Redeemer! Blood on the cross! Blood on the ground! Drops of blood mark all the way from the cross to the grave.

His lifeless body is laid in the tomb. Was He really dead? Yes, but man had not slain Him. He had power to lay down His life, He had power to take it again. And though they looked upon Him whom they had pierced, yet not a bone is broken. When He cried, "It is finished," Sin

Beautifully Knit from the Softest Wool

FINER children's stockings than these cannot be made.

For there is no finer wool than the soft, silky Australian lambs' wool from which we spin the yarn.

And there is no better process than ours of knitting that lovely yarn into hosiery.

Little Darling Stockings are made especially for babies and kiddies up to seven. Soft and warm, silken heel and toe. Not a fear of chafing—knit closely, but affording perfect ventilation. You will admit you never saw anything finer in infants' clothes.

Little Daisy Stockings are made in sizes up to twelve years. They have extra strength in heel and toe. There is unusual wear, as you know, in these famous stockings. And there is the protecting warmth that romping, tireless legs must have.

A wide range of colors—dainty shades, and dark—or fast black.

Ask for Little Darling or Little Daisy where you buy your children's clothes. Write to us if they cannot supply you.

A NEW TINLESS BEARING METAL.

Letters have been granted W. D. Berry for a tinless phosphor bronze bearing metal. During the war and while the Government was pleading for every one to conserve tin, Mr. Berry made experiments, the outcome of which resulted in the development and perfecting of a bearing metal alloy without the use of tin.

Victory Loan Notes

MEETING AT HAVELOCK.

Havelock is holding a large Victory Loan meeting on Monday night. Rev. F. E. Malott, G. O. Cameron, and J. W. Worth, of Peterborough, are the speakers, and F. C. McRae, of Norwood, is to show his four Victory Loan movie films.

CLERGY TO SPEAK.

The executive committee of the Victory Loan for Ontario are requesting the clergymen of the various churches throughout the Province to make Sunday, 2nd November, Victory Loan Sunday. The committee believe that a great impetus will be given to the campaign if the clergy will speak of it from their pulpits and remind their congregations that it is an opportunity for every patriotic citizen to help Canada complete her war work.

The latest Dominion total shows an increase of $14,050,300 in three days' campaigning.

The latest reports by Provinces give for two days, with the exception of Ontario, which is for three:

Alberta	$1,342,750
Saskatchewan	1,371,800
Manitoba	1,381,650
Ontario	52,099,300
Quebec	24,444,500
New Brunswick	908,650
Nova Scotia	837,600
Prince Edward Is.	56,000

In Toronto five teams are working on the special subscription work, each with an objective of $8,800,000.

Messrs. E. R. Wood and J. H. Gundy, the Dominion and Ontario chairmen, are after the odd $10,000,000.

In the Toronto factories comparative figures show some firms' employees doubling their subscriptions over last year:

	1919	1918
Gunn's, Ltd.	$70,000	$55,000
Star Pub. Co.	55,000	36,000
Can. W. A. Rogers	38,000	11,000
Harris Abattoir	192,000	158,000
Southam Press	27,000	16,000
P. W. Ellis	31,000	18,000
Dunlop Tire Co.	132,000	82,000

London is planning a carnival for to-day, as she has the proud distinction of leading the cities as far as objective goes, with 58.68 per cent. of objective already raised for a total of $4,283,700. Hamilton has $5,340,800, being 41.08 per cent. of objective; and Toronto with $20,042,800, being 11.16 per cent. of objective.

THE NEED FOR PREACHERS

BY J. E. MIDDLETON.

In order to meet the demand for technical experts in the great industrial plants, many of the universities have been compelled to broaden their scientific courses, sometimes to the detriment or disadvantage of the Arts and Divinity faculties. Research Chemists, like Mining and Electrical Engineers, have been in great demand. Young men going to College have marked the contrast between ten thousand a year which a Consulting Technical Specialist can command, and fifteen hundred a year which is the usual reward of a teacher, or even a professor's assistant. The high place given to money in the thought of most folk induces a certain contemptuous pity for educated men, who are not making or selling something. It is not surprising therefore that students looking toward the Church as their life work were growing scarce in the years immediately preceding the war.

To men who had chosen to study Divinity the call to arms was irresistible. The Cause was one worthy of defence. The idealism which brought Great Britain and all British peoples into the war found its clearest reflection in the minds of men who already had chosen Duty rather than money-making. Thus the Theological Colleges were depleted. Many lads never returned. Of course as the years of conflict rolled on, scarcely a new candidate for Holy Orders appeared; and the Churches were embarrassed to make provision for the fields already opened. Meanwhile greater opportunities appeared. The scope of Home Mission Work broadened. The need for men became insistent. Despite a "Gentleman's Agreement" among the denominations not to "invade" one another's territory, preachers were scarce to fill even the pulpits of Canada.

A still sharper need appeared in the Foreign Mission fields in where Canadian churches were established. From India, Africa, China and Japan, similar stories came; a more cordial attitude towards Christianity on the part of the population, a greater opportunity for greatly extended work, and a painful lack of missionaries.

If there had been no war it is possible that the Home work could have been supplied, for though the number of Divinity students had been dwindling the crisis would have been postponed. But difficulties in manning the Foreign staffs would have appeared in any case. The materialistic spirit had risen high by 1913. Some extraordinary method would have been necessary to check that curious fever which was reducing the life force of Canada.

The sudden demand for soldiers to face the most remarkable and the largest army in Europe restored the national health. East and West, young men deserted well paid positions in industry, of finance, to suffer and endure on behalf of Canada and the Flag. There were no illusions about the task. The soldiers knew that they were facing war in its grimmest aspect. But they enlisted by tens of thousands and the whole Dominion felt the thrill of their sacrifice.

So all through the struggle, the triumphant record of the Canadian corps had a reflex action. It inspired a national pride and exultation, which made great efforts possible at home as well as in Flanders. The pessimists declared that when the soldiers returned they would not be interested in any sort of idealism. They would demand soft things and easy money, since they had done their full share of sacrifice. The facts deny that unhappy prophecy. Every Theological College this year is crowded and the majority of the students are returned men. But next year another freshman class, equally large, is necessary; and the next year, and every year. Even then, the churches will have difficulty in meeting all the pressing needs of home and foreign work unless the willingness of the young men is matched by the generosity or enthusiasm of the congregations.

Those who have devised the Inter-Church Forward Movement declare that the call for money is a secondary issue. The first object of the United National Campaign is to awaken luke-warm church members to the splendor of their high calling. The superabundance of Laodiceans in every modern congregation is a cause of real concern to denominational leaders. Luke warm homes mean luke warm children and no candidates for the Ministry.

BRIGHT NIGHT SKIES IN ENGLAND.

The report of the Photographic Section of the British Astronomical Association of the year ending September 30, 1918, comments on the unusual amount of light in the sky during the nights of that period. It has, says the report, been possible to read the face of a watch at all hours. The contrast of astronomical negatives has been much reduced. This illumination was not due to searchlights, nor did it seem to be auroral; moreover lighting in towns has been much reduced, under war regulations, so the cause remains a mystery.

and Poverty dared not claim Him longer, and He is laid in the grave of the rich. Hell and earth rejoice. He is dead. They lay Him in the tomb. A great stone is rolled upon the mouth of the sepulchre, sealed with Roman seal, and guarded with Roman guard. But His friends mourn. Has God forsaken Him? Will He leave His soul in hell or suffer His Holy One to see corruption? Can the Prince of Life be held by the powers of Death?

On the third morning, when the first ray of the rising sun is heralding the coming day, in that silent hour when the world is sleeping, an angel wings his way from heaven to earth, and, with a touch of his finger, the stone is rolled away, and He who was dead steps forth. Hear the shout of the VICTOR as He stands upon the edge of the tomb: "I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth on me shall never die."

"Alone the dreadful race He ran,
Alone the winepress trod;
He died and suffered as a man,
He rises as a God."

Conqueror of the last enemy of man, the death of Death, truly Jesus, the "Son of man," opened again the way to the "Tree of Life," and is forever the Prince of Life. He came that men might have life and that they might have it more abundantly. The wages of sin is death, and the guilty sinner should die; but Jesus took his place and died in his stead that the gift of God might be eternal life through His finished work. Oh that the dying sons of men would return to the Author of life and the Giver of life! Oh listen to His call! Hearken to His word! On Tabor's Mount, "Hear Him," was God's command to a heedless world. Guilty sinner, hear Him: "I can save to the uttermost all that come unto me." Worldly one, hear Him: "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness." Backslider, hear Him: "I will heal all your backslidings and love you freely." Trembling one, hear Him: "Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid." Weary one, hear Him: "Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Discouraged one, hear Him: "I will not leave you comfortless, I will come unto you." Lonely one, hear Him: "I have trodden the winepress alone, and of the people there were none with me; and lo! I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

What precious promises to all the children of men! Ho, every one that thirsteth, come, and he that hath no money, come; though your sins be as scarlet, come; though they be red like crimson, come; for He whose name is above every name and whose word endureth forever hath said it. Hear Him: "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out." The Spirit and the Bride say, come; the Father says, come; the angels say come, the archangels say, come; the seraphim say, come; the cherubim say, come; and the redeemed say, come; but, best of all, Jesus says, come—"Whatsoever will, let him come and take of the water of life freely." "And let him that heareth say, COME." To the lonely say, come; to the discouraged, to the weary, to the trembling, to the tempted say, come; to the backslider, to the worldly, to the sinsick say, come. Come unto Jesus, with all your burdens—Jesus, the same yesterday, to-day and forever; the friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

"Oh, I want to feel His presence
when I waken in the morn,
With the hours of toil before me and my work yet unbegun;
Oh, I want His strength to help me
lift the burdens of the day,
And to honor His commandments,
'Little children, watch and pray.'"

He is always the same. He is always near. After His transfiguration He was the same Jesus. He returned not with Moses and Elias to the Heavenly world, but for our sakes alone He remained. After His resurrection He was the same kind, sympathetic friend. How tender His words to the Magdalene. How loving His reference to His friends. He was seen in different places, and never in more than one place at the same time. "In all things it behoved Him to be made like unto His brethren." He can be touched now with the feelings of our infirmities because tempted then. Before leaving the earth He explained why He must go. "It is expedient for you that I go away." He would go because better for us: that He might ever live to make intercession for us. And when He comes to judge the world it will be in righteousness. The Father hath committed all judgment to the Son, for He alone, in all the universe of God, is capable of judging man, because He was man. He will never leave you alone. He will stand by you in the storm. He will sustain you in the conflict, and though you be lonely yet you will not be alone.

Our Master Instrument—
The Organola

THE test of the control Pipes of the Organola is a Band Record or a Quartette.

The ordinary talking machine will reproduce a record of band instruments or quartette as one co-ordinated sound and in doing so loses the beauty and character of the individual instruments or voices. The tone control pipes of the Organola are so tuned that each individual sound—instrumental or voice—is distinctly reproduced because the pipes embrace every note in the scale and vibrate in sympathy as their notes are given forth by the record which happens to be playing.

Mode Organola

"Phonolas" are made in eight different styles and sizes.

Phonola

Our magnificent "Organola" model is the only phonograph equipped with a full set of tone control pipes. The aid of these pipes in the true and harmonious reproduction of tones has made the Organola the master instrument of the phonograph world and a triumph to the true lovers of music.

If you have not heard the "Organola" an artistic treat is awaiting you.

ENGINEERS' CLUB WILL BECOME BRANCH OF ENGINEERING INSTITUTE

WILL RECEIVE CHARTER AT MEETING NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT, AT WHICH SOME OF THE FOREMOST ENGINEERS OF CANADA WILL BE PRESENT.

AN IMPORTANT STEP

The Engineer's Club of Peterborough, at a banquet in the Empress Hotel, on Thursday evening, Nov. 6, will receive a charter as a branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

The Engineering Institute of Canada was formed in 1887 as the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, but in 1918 the name was changed to the present one. This was done because the original name was somewhat misleading, in that the organization included in its members practically all the leading electrical, mechanical, mining, and other engineers.

The objects of the Institute as set forth in its charter are to facilitate the acquirement and interchange of professional knowledge among its members, to promote the professional interests to encourage original research, to develope and maintain high standards in the engineering profession, and to enhance the usefulness of the profession to the public.

The total membership in the Institute is 3500, and includes engineers in all parts of Canada. Mr. R. B. Rogers of this city is a charter member.

Prominent Guests.

The Institute will be represented at the banquet by its President Col. [illegible] Lea[illegible] ampbell, and its Vice-President Walter J. Francis of Montreal, a former resident of this city. Fraser S. Keith, the General Secretary will also be present, and the following well known engineers, —R. A. Ross, Consulting Engineer of Montreal, who is a member of the City Commission, and who will be the next President of the Institute, J. B. Challies of Ottawa, Superintendent of the Dominion Water Power Branch of the Department of the Interior, John Murphy of Ottawa, Electrical Engineer of the Department of Railways and Canals, Prof. Peter Gillespie of Toronto University, A. H. Harkness and Frank Barber, Consulting Engineers of Toronto, E. R. Gray, City Engineer of Hamilton.

The afternoon preceeding the banquet will be spent by the visitors in inspecting the various manufacturing plants of the City, and new Hunter Street Bridge, and the Lift Lock.

Take Your Time, Don't Hurry!

There is no need for so much rushing on baking days, hurrying to get your cakes in the oven—such exhausting exertion adds baking to the list of household drudgeries.

You can take your time yet do more with

EGG-O Baking Powder

than with other brands because the leavening action of Egg-O only ceases when your cakes are properly baked—No matter if you do have to wait several hours for your oven.

And don't worry if your oven does cool off. Egg-O will leaven your baking with less heat than most other brands.

And above all, don't worry about fallen cakes, follow the directions on the label. You will use less Baking Powder, and have better baking.

PETERBORO WOMEN FORM LOCAL BRANCH OF CANADIAN CLUB

MRS. JAMES KENDRY ELECTED PRESIDENT—MR. G. O. CAMERON GAVE AN INTERESTING ADDRESS.

With a large and representative body of the women of the city present, the Women's Branch of the Canadian Club was formally organized yesterday in the Green Room of the Y. W. C. A., and the officers for 1919-1920 elected as follows:

President—Mrs. James Kendry.
1st Vice-Pres.—Miss Archer.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Miss Ross.
Secy.-Treas.—Mrs. Basil D. Hall.

Members of Executive—Mrs. Duncan Walker, Mrs. Gerald A. Wood, Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner, Mrs. Wilfred R. Morris, Mrs. J. W. Fraser, Miss Erskine and Miss Faint.

Confirmed the Constitution.

Mrs. James Kendry, who occupied the chair, explained the purpose of the club, and read the constitution and by-laws as drawn up by the executive, which were subsequently confirmed by the members of the club.

Constitution and By-Laws.

1. The club shall be called the Women's Canadian Club of Peterborough.

2. The purpose of the club is to promote intelligent citizenship, based on true patriotism.

(a) No party or sectarian question shall be introduced or debated by the club.

3. Sound reading and study of national questions shall be encouraged and promoted to ensure the club's purpose.

4. Periodical meetings open to members only, shall be held; said meetings to be addressed by speakers competent to instruct along the lines of national development, and an informed public opinion.

Three Classes.

5. There shall be three classes of members:

(a) Active members, consisting of British subjects, who shall pay in advance a membership fee of $2 per annum.

(b) Associate members, consisting of other than British subjects, who shall not be eligible to vote or hold office. Membership fee, $2 per annum.

(c) Life members—Any member may become a life member of the club on the payment of $10.

(d) Members in arrears in the annual fee for three months from each annual meeting may, in the discretion of the executive, be deemed to have resigned from membership.

6. Application for membership shall be in writing, signed by applicant and her nominee, addressed to the Executive, and there dealt with after being seconded.

The Officers.

7. The officers shall consist of a President, 1st and 2nd Vice-Presidents, Secretary-Treasurer and an Executive Committee of seven members, to be elected by ballot at the annual meeting of the Club, which shall be held on or about Oct. 15th of each year. The officers and Executive Committee shall be charged with the general conduct of the club.

An Auditor shall be elected at the annual meeting.

(a) Seven members of the Executive shall form a quorum, and twenty-five members in meetings of the club.

By-Laws.

1. A member may bring a non-resident visitor to the club on payment of 25 cents. Members must present their membership ticket at each meeting of the club or pay a fine of 10 cents.

2. The absence of an officer or executive member from three successive meetings, without just cause, shall entitle the Executove to appoint a successor from among the club members.

3. Notices of all meetings, special or otherwise, shall be mailed to members in good standing at least one week prior to the date for holding meeting.

4. A notice of motion shall be given to the Executive at least two weeks before an annual meeting, should any member desire to amend the constitution, but such an amendment will require a two-thirds vote in favour thereof of the members present at the meeting.

Interesting Address.

At the conclusion of the reading of the constitution and by-laws, Mr. G. O. Cameron, president of the Peterborough Canadian Club, gave a brief and interesting address, outlining the purposes of the club, and congratulating the ladies on forming their branch of it. He concluded by referring to the speakers whom the club expect to bring to the city presently, and which include Bishop Fallon, Dr. Robertson, Hon. Mr. Tomlie, Eugene Le Fleur, also Ernest Lapointe, M.P., who will be the first speaker this season. It was hoped that the women's branch of the club might induce the speakers to address their club in the afternoon. Dr. Symonds will probably be the first speaker brought by the women's branch.

TWO CAPTURED GERMAN FIELD GUNS OPEN FOR COMPETITION

PETERBORO HAS AN OPPORTUNITY OF SECURING ONE OF THESE WEAPONS.

The Dominion Publicity committee advise the local organization that two captured German field guns of large calibre have been secured, through the courtesy of the Archieves Department, and are available for competition among units in the Province of Ontario.

The Ontario commitee have been very anxious to secure these guns which, owing to the tremendous demand for them from battalions of the Expeditionary Forces, Municipal Corporations and other organizations, the claims of some of which are very strong and must be satisfied, has been very difficult to arrange. Every unit in Ontario will be very anxious to secure one of these guns, not only for the honor of the award, but also because they will stand as an enduring mark of local effort, public siprit and patriotism at a time when every community was called upon to do a great national service. What about Peterborough?

The following basis of award has been approved by the Ontario Executive committee:

1. That one gun be awarded to the unit attaining the highest percetnage of its combined team members and special subscriptions objective.

2. That one gun be awarded to the unit attaining the highest percentage of its team members objetcive.

3. That one unit cannot win both guns; should one unit be first on both bases above mentioned the unit which attains the second highest percentage of team members objective would be awarded the second gun.

4. That, if practicable, the Ontario Executive committee arrange to have a plate attached to the guns on which would be engraved a suitable inscription and the names of the Executive committee of the winning units.

Lemon meringue pies can be made with tapioca.

MR. TOOMS WILL OBTAIN INFORMATION REGARDING ENFORCEMENT OF GAME LAWS.

Mr. Thomas Tooms, M.P.P., will obtain from the Game and Fisheries Department at Toronto information pertaining to the Provincial Government's laws and administration for the protection of fish in the local waters. Since Tris Speaker's visit the local opinion that adequate measures should be enforced to prevent netting and other unfair and illegal practices has consolidated. It is a certainty that when a meeting is called here for the purpose of organizing a Fish and Game Association the sportsmen will attend in large numbers and show by their co-operaiton that they want the supply of fish maintained in the local waters.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

In these days of high prices we should be careful not to live beyond our means. A rainy day may come when we will need a little extra money, and it is a good plan to put aside a few cents or dollars whenever possible. A little "skimping" won't hurt anyone, and it is not at all necessary that we should buy the highest priced goods in the market. A shoe dealer said recently that people refused to buy the lower priced shoes. They demanded the goods with the highest price tag, and then complain of the high cost of living.

Existence for both men and women is a continuous battle, sometimes waged in an office, sometimes in a factory, sometimes out in the fields or forests, and sometimes in the kitchen. Everywhere it is necessary that we fight against either mental or physical forces. And, because life is long and the battle continuous, it is the persistent person, the one who hammers away continuously, rather than the spasmodically forceful person, who wins out.

Oftentimes we lavish a great deal of sympathy upon a friend or relative who has a brief period of illness, while we are neglectful of even the comfort of a confirmed invalid. Perhaps it is only natural that we should become hardened to seeing the continued suffering of an invalid, and yet we should not forget that the one who is ill never can become hardened to the pain he endures. We ought to remember this, and try to be cheerful and patient, bringing as much sunshine as possible into the lives of all sufferers.

It is only by doing things which appear almost impossible, that we are able to test our own powers. We will never grow if we continue to do only those things which are easy for us. There are very few things in this world within reason which everyone of us cannot accomplish if we have the will to do them. I rather imagine that, a few years ago, had some stranger come into our quiet little village and told our boys what it meant to go "over the top" in France, or engage in dangerous air battles, they might have thought it impossible for them to do these things. Yet they have done them, and with credit.

There are few of us who are not called upon to do what seems to us the impossible. Afterward we look back and wonder how we had the courage and strength, but it always comes to us and always will, if we but do our best.

It is a fine thing to stand in the midst of busy belts and whirling pulleys, with the knowledge of the governing laws in your brain, and the quick control of them in your right hand; but it is finer and grander to stand where any mother may stand, if she will, among the living spirits which are to dominate the wheels; pondering the laws of human agency; directing the development of human activity, bearing the supreme weight of human responsibility; doing it all in utter unconsciousness of self or of sacrifice, strong in the wondrous love which alone of earthly emollients is all persuasive and all powerful against the grind and wear and worry of the world.

One of the most contemptible tricks in the universe is "listening in" on a telephone wire. To be sure sometimes drastic measures are necessary in order to get the use of the wire, but ordinarily most people listen merely out of curiosity and then instead of treating the conversation they have heard as private, they set about publishing it in some such way as this: "You know, the other day I didn't know Mrs. Jones was using the wire but just as I took the receiver off the hook, what do you suppose I heard her tell Mrs. Smith," etc., etc.

Now you know, my good woman, you can't take the receiver off the hook more than a dozen times just at the psychological moment to hear that juicy bit of gossip and still make people believe it was an accident. In speaking of you they will soon begin to say, "I'm glad I'm not on Mrs. Brown's wire. All she does is tell me what she hears by accident over the telephone. Well-timed accidents, I would say."

So beware, Mrs. Brown, wherever you are (and there are a lot of you in the world) and don't hear too much over your 'phone. You know how well you like to have someone "listen in" on you.

COMPLIMENT AND CONTRAST IN APPEARANCE OF CITY

A WORD PICTURE OF FIVE CITY BLOCKS AND CHANGES IN OVER A HALF CENTURY.

(BY FRANK H. DOBBIN)

A former Peterborough man, who had been absent for over thirty years, walking the length of the business section of George street, in the evening and the fine business places brilliantly lighted, broke into praise of the creditable showing. Averred that in all his travels he had not found a city, for size and extent of population, that had the well-dressed appearance of the old home town. Declared that the stores were equal of the very best as seen abroad and that they displayed, outwardly at least the evidence of enterprise and prosperity. And closed his pronouncement by saying, "tell us how the town looked sixty years ago." For sixty years past in his estimation seemed a very long time on which to base a comparison and indeed quite sufficient. So let us take a look, so far as mere words on paper may picture the appearance of the centre section of the now city about the time mentioned, and as it appeared to a boy of ten years of age.

City Has Grown.

The reservation on which the city has grown was set apart as early as 1818, and a tentative selection made as to the location best adapted for the town plot. It was in mind that the hamlet would grow to a village, and on to the importance of a town, as becomes faith in high enterprise, and that the centre of civic placing would well be made along the shore of the Little Lake, and that the civic growth would follow the line of least resistance, out into the level plains of what is now North Monaghan. South and west, and that the river down as far as the "Yankee Bonnet" as the shoal was named, would be the eastern border of the town.

The survey, completed by Richard Birdsall in 1825, showed a generous part of North Monaghan appropriated, and for the sake of symmetry the northern boundry was carried so far as Smith street. The line of Park street being on the west, with a range of park lots adjoining, all that property east to the boundry and extending from Smith street to Lansdowne street. It is related though verification seems lacking that when the surveying party left what is now Port Hope that it was perfectly sober. That at Rossmount, on the main road it became joyous, as Bewdley boisterous and under the influence. In a state of comparative indecision, while entangled in the eastern edge of the Cavan swamp, and decently sober about the time it reached the confines of what was afterward to be Peterborough. However this may be, and there are grounds for looking on it as a piece of relative fiction, the party did perform some feats of surveying around the borders of Cavan and South Monaghan. Indeed at one point the lines became somewhat mixed, to the effect that a farmer stands on the platform of his well, agitates the pump in one township and the water flows from the spout into the pail in another township. Fact.

"Field Notes"

Perusal of the "field notes" as the writings made at the time of the survey, disclose certain quaint and illuminating observations. Such as that the line of Lake street terminated "at a windfall in the lake." Now a fallen tree, immersed in the water is not much of a permanent survey mark, but such as it was used. And having finished the general plotting of the contours and profiles and the many Blocks, the decision was reached, quite in line with probabilities, that the incoming people would at some time need the convenience of a cemetery. It was decided to go up the river, quite a long way up, away up in the woods, and designate a spot for the purpose and one that would not be disturbed from its functions for many long years to come. The ground selected is now Central Park, and in the very centre of the city activity. The ground was in use for interments so late as 1858, to be superseded by the organization of the Little Lake Cemetery Co. and the occupancy of the beautiful peninsula that juts out into the lake from the south. A most worthy and fitting selection.

Too Many Stumps

All this is no doubt interesting but not illuminative as to our word picture of the city of 1858 or, say 1860. George street from London street north, was not popular for horse racing. And because there were too many stumps as yet in the street. The popular half-mile course on May 24th was from London street down George street as far as the concourse could get, which was about at the now C.P.R. crossing. The balance of the course to Lake street was punk. Too much irrigation from the creek and the confines of Spaulding's Bay. George street from below Dalhousie street required much striving with and had to be resuscitated very many times before it became decently passable. The northern end of George street stopped at Smith street and as Water street north was only a well defined line, the practical road cut across the property afterwards built on by Mrs. James Dennistoun, skirted the Benson house, (now the residence of Richard Hall), and continued on to the Blythe Mills, the centre of manufacturing activity, in flour, oatmeal and lumber.

A "Pitch-hole"

Just above Edinburgh street was a violent hollow in the street, and the hollow carried on to the edge of the river. This ravine was partly filled in and in after years definitely so, and the George street and Water street frontakes built upon. But at the time written of the vehicle would dip down out of sight and then come up to view as the hollow was crossed. A popular remark was "here we go-there we are again." The block bounded by London and Harvey streets held only one house, that of Rev. John Sanderson, at the south-east corner of London and Waterford streets and two boarding houses for sawmill hands. The ground covered by the residence of Mr. Matthews was a hollow, and was filled in by Mr. T. G. Hazlitt, when he built the residence for his own use. From London street to the river, Harvey street being the western boundary, of the land was in a state of nature, thickly covered with a growth of small pines, and on this ground the Indians from Curve Lake (Selwyn) reservation came annually in the fall of the year, set up their wigwams, and sold articles of tribal manufacture, such as baskets and bead work. In the evening, with the camp-fires lighted it was considered a sort of Midway performance to visit the camp, and small boys and girls, taken with their elders would crowd close to paternal protection and instinctively pass hands over their heads to see if their juvenile scalps were as yet in position. For remember, as to boys of immature age, the Beadle's Dime Novel period was in full fling.

Local Cricket Club

A section that has entirely changed is that around and about St. Paul's church. At time I mentioned the whole of the now Victoria Park was an open common. The bottom of the hill was much lower than now, and a distinct gully, starting about the north-east end of College street came diagonally across the park, to dip deeply into the hollow that now shows behind the Fitzgerald Carriage Works building. This gully gave drainage for the district along its borders. All the storm water and from the spring melting of snow flowed down and collected where St. Paul's church now stands. In the month of April the boys collected pieces of boards and planks and made rafts and sailed the deep with great glee. The location of the dwellings adjoining the church show to some extent the ground level, and these were supposed to be placed on elevated ground. Back in the woods, close to College street and midway beween Murray and McDonnel streets stood the old log school of Parson Taylor. Attempt had been made to level the ground at front of the park, including the side of Water street and it was used as the public arena for sports. The local Cricket Club met and played the old English game. The Rifle Company, our first warriors, used the place as a drill ground, and on summer evenings made quite a bright spot in the scenery, arrayed in uniforms of rifle green. Protection Hose Co. No. 1, would fetch the hose reel and practice laying and picking up the hose, that it might distinguish itself in some outside competition. The old house of Alex. McNeil, at corner of Brock and Water streets was a local landmark.

Much of Time.

With the ground at the corner of George and Hunter streets at least seven feet lower than at present, the corner now covered by Kent's drug store building and those adjoining, was a peach. Only the board walks around the corner kept the pedestrian from dropping into the cavity. Indeed the editor of the local paper, sitting in his office, in the Haffey Building, (the first real brick building on George street, now occupied by Gainey's shop, and the meat store), glances from the window, seizes his pen and writes scathing criticism on the reckless way in which the public use the spot as a reservoir for used up vehicles, extinct cans and barrels and other debris, and implores that public spirit be aroused to cease the infliction.

The march of time effaces local landmarks. The only building left, quite the oldest, is that known for many years as the Commercial Hotel, at corner of George and Hunter streets. It is likely that it is the only building remaining of those that at times covered the east side of George street from Brock to King streets. Its survival indicates its strength. Built of old fashioned timber frame construction, securely pinned and mortised, such buildings kept dry are practically if infinite service. They can be turned around, upside down, end for end, twisted and wrenched with impunity and still do duty at the old stand. It was built to be used as a factory in which fanning mills were made, at a time when the farmer did his own fanning. The hands also made washboards and churns and such wooden ware. Just about the level of the top of the store windows was the base of the building when it stood on the ground. All the first buildings to be put up on the east side of the street, as far down as Hoopers store, were cocked up on the bank of the canal through which the street had been cut. The surface contour of the ground from Hunter street to fifty feet beyond the crossing of Brock street and on each side of George street, including Chambers street has been completely changed in the course of years. Most of the material removed was dumped into the hollow, referred to before, and at the corner of George and Hunter streets. Also distributed along George street to raise the level from that of the original swamp. For northward the trend of empire made its way, and instead of locating the city out in Monaghan the worst part of the ground surveyed was, from force of circumstances, used as on which to place the principal business district.

The Cemetery.

So long as the old cemetery was in use for purposes of interment, it was a source of deep anxiety to the small boy sent on an errand after dark. The belief in ghosts was much more prevalant than now. So the boy sent on an errand of a night, and at a time when the only glim in sight was from the deeply shaded house windows along the roads, begged for the friendly company of the family lantern. These were often of home construction and fearfully and wonderfully made. Glass was at time of very early settlement at a premium, but some sort of tin can could be had. Any man who could get a can of suitable size, a log of wood, round, say a stick of firewood; a hammer and nail, and a firm purpose to succeed, could have his lantern. He slipped the can over the end of the log and with the hammer and nail punched the sides of the can so full of holes that nothing was left but air with some shreds of tin around it. Fitted with one tallow candle and wire grip and the lid, the whole thing could defy rain, wind and hard usuage. The trouble was that it gave about light enough to let one fall over something and not quite light sufficient to see what one had fallen over. So the boy, comforted with the lantern, would wait at the corner, (now the Y.M.C.A.) until some big brave man came along, and then fall in by his side and fearfully get past the cemetery, watchful that the goblins did not get him even if he did watch out.

St. John's Corner.

The ground now covered by the city post office is of historic interest. If one could follow the original slope of the west side of the hill on which St. John's church stands, it would be found that the western side of the sloping ground ended about the corner of Hunter and George streets. In fact Water street from Hunter street to Brock street is all made ground. In the hollow, at the south east corner stood an old log and clapboard building of two storeys, used as a hotel. The reputation of the house was none of the best and the frequenters were of the rather reckless kind. Among the stories told of the hotel and those who frequented it one has a tragic importance.

It is a matter of history the expedition and attempt made by Sir John Franklin to find the North-West passage, around the Artic continent, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Many attempts were made to effect such a purpose. It inspired navigators and adventurers, and several such expeditions were financed by the great English trading companies. Sir John Franklin and his companions were lost in the Artic seas. His second in command was a Capt. Crosier, who perished by dropping between ice floes, while the party were endeavoring to make for land to the South from where the vessels were deserted.

Living at the old hotel, in Peterborough, was the twin brother of Capt. Crosier, and the brother was an inveterate drunkard, excessive in his sprees and in habit. During a prolonged spree he became nerveless and unmanned. Rising from his bed, one night, and in a state of partial intoxication, he stumbled at the top of the stairs, fell down and to the bottom, breaking his neck. Afterwards it was learned, that almost to the hour and minute that his twin brother disappeared in the Artic sea, the fall down stairs ended his brother's life in Peterborough.

So far in our sketch of Peterborough in 1858, and we have covered only three or four blocks. There is much of interest in connection with other parts of the old town, and which may be taken up further on.

THE LORD IS GOOD.

PSALM 115.

The Lord is good and kind to all
The creatures of his hands;
His goodness and His mercies fall
Like showers on thirsty lands.

He gives the beasts that roam the hills,
Their rich supply of food,
To quench their thirst the pools He fills,
To them the Lord is good.

The feathered tribes that range the air,
And throng the shady wood,
In songs of gratitude declare,
That God to them is good.

His ever kind and watchful care,
Supplies our daily food,
And all His works to us declare,
This truth—the Lord is good.

Then let us all our voices raise
In humble gratitude,
And thus show forth in songs of praise
That God to us is good.

GAS PRODUCER BUILT OF CONCRETE STAVES.

Owing to the high price and scarcity of steel during the war, a gas company in Syracuse found it necessary to build the shells of a 200-horse power gas producer and scrubber out of concrete staves. The shells are eight feet in diameter and the staves measure 4 by 10 by 2 1-2 inches. They are connected by tongue and groove joints. Between the concrete and the fire brick lining there is a three-inch space filled with a heat resisting material.

THE HACKING COUGH STRAINS THE LUNGS

The terrible, hacking, lung-wracking cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it is a great source of danger to your health, and the longer it is allowed to stick the more serious the menace becomes.

You can easily get rid of a cough or cold at its inception by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used throughout Canada for the past 30 years.

Mrs. Samuel Matthews, Portage, P. E.I., writes:—"Last winter I caught a heavy cold, and was laid up for some time. I had such a hacking cough I could not sleep at night, and did not think I could ever get over it. One day a friend dropped in to see me, and was surprised to see how bad my cough was. She advised me to use Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so the next day I sent for a bottle and soon got relief, and by the time I had taken two bottles, my cough was all gone. I doubt there is anything to equal it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

HEALS INFLAMED NOSTRILS STOPS CATARRHAL DISCHARGE CURES COLDS QUICKLY

Poor remedies have given Catarrh the reputation of being incurable. But it is curable, easily and quickly, if the right method is employed. Sniffing a powder or ointment up the nose won't cure Catarrh, neither will tablets, douching, or stomach medicines cure. These treatments fail because they only affect local conditions, they do not remove the cause, which is germ life established in the lungs, bronchial tubes, and nasal passages. Ordinary remedies do not reach these remote parts, but Catarrhozone does, for it is breathed through the inhaler into every air cell in the lungs, into every air passage in the head and throat. No matter where the Catarrh is Catarrhozone will reach it. It kills the germs, heals sore spots, clears the nose and throat instantly. Universally used; pleasant and clean; guaranteed to cure or money refunded.

Don't be an object of aversion to everyone you meet—get Catarrhozone today and use it regularly; it will cure your Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Trouble, spitting and gagging. Large size lasts two months, price $1.00; smaller size, 50c; sample size, 25c; at all dealers.

DAVID K. BYRNE WILL NOT AID MRS. SARAH KIDD

TELL MAGISTRATE SHE HAS NO CLAIM ON HIM.

His Money is to Spread the Gospel, He Says.

The following are extracts from a letter received from David K. Byrne in reply to a letter recently addressed to him by Magistrate Jelfs, of Hamilton, and which was published in a recent issue of the Herald.

In opening his letter, Mr. Byrne refers to court proceedings taken in Hamilton 25 years ago, and adds that Mrs. Kidd is not his wife.

With regard to the telephone conversation referred to in Mr. Byrne's letter, Magistrate Jelfs said: "I pointed out to Mr. Byrne that I had not suggested that he was under any legal obligation to assist Mrs. Kidd, but merely meant to convey that, if he were possessed of the wealth with which he has been credited, any assistance rendered to one in her circumstances would have been, at least, a becoming act on his part."

The extracts from Mr. Byrne's letter are:

Mr. Byrne's Letter.

"I am living an honorable, Christian life, and trying to do God's will, and do not wish to be implicated with the past. Mr. Hunter knows the addresses of her sons and relatives, so kindly, in the future, never refer or implicate my name with this woman.

"Re our telephone message: I regret to say that I am sorry for the assertions you made, wanting me to send money to support this woman. This money is not for the support of such persons. It is for the spread of the gospel, so I decline to have anything to do further in the matter. I have been away from home for over a month, and did not receive any letter from you until I saw the article in the paper. I have given the case over to my attorney, D. L. Sinclair, 303 Temple Building, Toronto, who will look after my interests, and who has been acting for me for the past ten years. I have not seen nor had anything to do with the woman for the past 25 years, only that Mr. Brown, your postmaster, and Mr. Hunter handed me over my son, Clarence, who died October 8, 1918. If it is necessary to produce copies of proofs I will send them. Yours very truly,

"D. K. Byrne."

Reports were made that Mr. Byrne received a fortune of about $9,000,000 for saving a girl from a life of shame.—Hamilton Herald.

SPIRIT OF HALLOWE'EN PERVADED THE CITY

OLD SCOTCH FESTIVAL BROUGHT THE YOUNG AND OLD TOGETHER

The witchery of Hallowe'en was in full play last night. Throughout all parts of the city, in the suburbs and along the main streets, in private homes and public assemblies, the spirit of youth and night of fun made a happy trinity. Many of those whose youths were long ago caught the reflected light of gladness in the pranks of the children, in their mystification at the frolics familiar to Hallowe'en and in the dances of the "witches" in all the halls where mirth reigned until late hours of the morning.

It was remarked that never had so many of the young folks been seen in the fantastic and burlesque dresses, the high hats, masks, the trailing white sheets affected by ghosts, and all the other peculiar touches befitting the occasion. In fact Hallowe'en seemed to be undergoing a revival, and if the children enjoyed it with harmless fun the festival more than justified its celebration. Among the older boys and girls it was difficult to tell which was which in many groups, for girls appeared in boys' clothes, some in the discarded uniforms of recent glory, and here and there boys awkwardly paraded in their sisters' clothes. The old forms of Hallowe'en pleasure are passing, the "rough stuff" has disappeared, and as a result there was practically no damage to property last night. Even the favourite batteries of pea-shooters were decimated by the new and apparently saner method of celebrating the eve of All Saints.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get 16 ounces—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Indigestion!

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the quickest, surest relief for a Sour, Acid, Gassy Stomach—Distress vanishes!

Stomach acidity causes indigestion! Food souring, gas, distress! Wonder what upset your stomach? Well, don't bother! The moment you eat a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin all the lumps of indigestion pain, the sourness, heartburn and belching of gases, due to acidity, vanish —truly wonderful!

Millions of people know that it is needless to be bothered with indigestion, dyspepsia or a disordered stomach. A few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin neutralize acidity and give relief at once—no waiting! Buy a box of Pape's now! Don't stay miserable! Try to regulate your stomach so you can eat favorite foods without causing distress. The cost is so little. The benefits so great. You, too, will be a Diapepsin enthusiast afterwards.

HALLOWE'EN IN PETERBOROUGH

SPOOK NIGHT WAS OBSERVED AT A NUMBER OF SOCIAL GATHERINGS HELD THROUGHOUT THE CITY—A FEW OF THE FUNCTIONS.

AT THE CONSERVATORY.

The renovated Conservatory of Music Hall was officially opened last night, and with it the dancing season began. The Bachelors and Benedicts held their third annual "At Home," and 150 couples occupied the dancing floor. It was Hallowe'en, and the decorations suggested the night that witches ride on brooms and fences and door steps disappear.

Grinning men (?) with saw teeth lighted from the inside by a candle guarded each window, while Indians, cowboys, Irene Castles and other characters, too numerous to mention, all made from ma's rag bag in the attic, stood guard at the doors.

Mr. Al. Linton's six-piece orchestra had as much "pep" on the "Good-Night Waltz" as at the beginning.

Mr. Jim Macdonald, honorary secretary of the B. and B. Club, ably presided at the switch. Mr. Chris. Graham was an efficient understudy.

Among Those Present.

Mr. Percy Hooper was official cake cutter and coffee served. Some of those who took part were: Misses Dora Lafferty, Edith Delaire, Geraldine Delaine, Kathleen Conroy, Meda Richardson, Marion Byers, Berghetta Conroy, May Newman, Jessie Cameron, Helen Bulmer, Daisy Stocker, Marguerite Macdonald, Maimie Cottingham, Elizabeth Macdonald, Jean Kemp, Doll Evans, Marjorie Evans, Grace Evans, Emma Vincent, Ruth Buchanan, Myrtle Buchanan, Kathleen Byers, Grace Patterson, Hazel Henry, Jean Eastwood, Lenore Lyle, Laura Soden, Geraldine Glover, Jessie Cameron, Elva Jackson, Elva McIntyre, Helen Londrigan, Leona McGinty, Bessie Janes, Agnes Eastwood, Esme Aylmer, Joan Girard, May Perry, Irene Scott, Mrs. N. AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Dimly lighted with grotesque Jack o' Lanterns and charmingly decorated with flags of the Allies, pumkin faces, witches and black cats, the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium was the scene last evening of the most successful Hallowe'en party ever held in the building. The costumes worn by the girls surpassed an yothers ever seen, both in ingenuity and variety and the judges, Mrs. Reg. Turner, Mrs. Morrison and Miss Morrow had a difficult time in giving judgment for the different masquerades, awarding them finally, the first to Miss Grace Allen as Minnehaha and to Miss Johnson, as a black mamy, second. The music was supplied by Miss Layton and Miss Walker.

The Costumes:

A few of the splendid costumes worn by the girls were:

Pumkin Lady—Miss Leta Bronscombe.
Mickey—Miss C. Kempt.
Boy—Miss K. Hopwood.
Royal Air Force—Miss Florence Johnson.
Officer—Miss Burgess.
Spanish Lady — Miss Florence Harrison.
Spring—Miss Price.
Topsy—Miss Irene Bates.
Charlie Chaplin—Miss "Mike" Edgar.
Spring—Miss Thompson.
Italian Lady—Miss Alma Morrison
Boy—Miss Walker.
Japanese—Miss Eva Sturgeon.
Pink Lady—Miss Grace Northcott.
Hallowe'en—Miss Allen.
Ghost—Miss M. Lindsay.
Robber Bold—Miss Layton.
Gypsy—Miss Margaret Turner.
Lavender and Old Lace — Miss Dora Pembworthy.
France—Miss Prout.
Witch—Miss Kennedy.
Fatima—Mrs. Davy.
Nurse—Miss Pearl Mason.
Folly—Miss V. Ewart.
Private Thomas Atkins—Miss Hazel Otram.
Witch—Miss Allen.

QUAKER OATS WELFARE NOTES.

Under the auspices of the Girls' Welfare Club of the Quaker Oats Company, a very enjoyable Masquerade Party was held last evening in the spacious dining room that has been so generously provided for the convenience and comfort of the girls working at the plant.

On entering the dining room, which is on the fourth floor of the main building, facing Hunter Street, one is at once attracted with the well laid out plan of the dining tables with their profusion of flowers and plants; the tea and coffee room, where we are assured that the very best tea and coffee are served free of charge to the girls.

Rest Room.

Then on the left of the dining room a well laid out and secluded rest room, with rugs on the floor, couches to rest on, lounge chairs, and a profusion of books and magazines for the use of the girls, also a very fine toned phonograph discoursing sweet music from the latest productions.

Last evening's party was a treat to behold, to see between 50 and 60 bright, intelligent young women, in all manner of costumes from Britannia down to apple women and flower girls, red cross nurses and not forgetting the many who, realizing the absence of the men, tried in their feminine way to fill in by posing as young men, in very fancy suits, soldier suits, clown, boys of the street, etc.

About 9.30 p.m. dainty refreshments were served, which were very appetizing, consisting of cakes, dough-nuts, pumkin pie, tea and coffee, apples, marshmallow and taffy, which were all fully enjoyed. The happy party dispersed a few minutes after 10 o'clock, looking forward to the coming socials which take place every second Wednesday during the winter months.

The last social that was held the girls were honored with a visit from Mr. and Mrs. Cormack, the superintendent of the Company, and after a very enjoyable evening spent together the girls tendered a very warm welcome to Mr., Mrs. Cormack, and family to Canada, and more especially to Peterboro'. The welcome was very modest but sincere from the girls and Mr. Cormack very suitably replied for himself and Mrs. Cormack, assuring those present that they desired to help all of them, not only in regard to welfare work, but in every way possible that would tend to their interest.

The business of the Girls' Welfare is presided over by an executive committee, elected by themselva, the officers fir the present year are as follows:

President—Miss E. Carter.
Vice-President—Mrs. L. Mesley, (Forelady),
Secretary—Mrs. M. Warman.

BARRIE'S WELFARE CLUB.

A masquerade Hallowe'en party was held last evening by Barrie's Welfare Club in their rooms in the Barrie Building, which were artistically decorated. Games suitable for the occasion were played until supper was served, when masks were taken off. There were some real surprises as the identity of each was revealed. After supper, which chiefly consisted of pumpkin pie, an impromptu concert was given by the following:

Recitation by Miss Elliott.
Solo by Miss Clancy.
Violin selection by Mr. Mather.
Mandoline selection. Mr. Loescher.
Solo by Mr. Mather.
Pianist, Mr. Fylands.

After which "Good-night, Ladies" was sung, and all voted a very pleasant evening.

TRUE BLUE DANCE.

One of the biggest Hallowe'en successes in the city last evening was the masquerade dance given by the True Blue Society in Victoria Hall, and the 150 couples present will long remember the splendid time spent. The varied costumes worn by the ladies and gentlemen represented practically every age in history and every country, while ghosts and devils wandered unmolested amongst the gay throng. Suitable prizes were awarded at midnight.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Belford Nelson entertained last evening at her home, 227 Sherbrooke Street, twenty little girl friends. The house was prettily decorated in Hallowe'en style. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

Miss Mary Farnell, Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, is visiting friends in the city.

A Euchre Party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Price, 57 Olive Avenue last night. An enjoyable time was spent after cards. Mr. Dickinson entertained at the piano while his bride, just from England, sang. Mr. Prevost and Mr. Wilford also sang after which the guests sat down to a real Hallowe'en supper.

Mrs. W. R. Morris left to-day for a month's visit with her mother, Mrs. Dench, in Windsor.

Mr. Reginald Cuffe has gone to Chicago, Ill., for a couple of weeks.

WEDDING BELLS

EDWARDS—SHEARER.

At Mark Street Methodist Parsonage on Monday afternoon, 27th October, at two o'clock, the marriage was solemnised of John Edwards, of Otonabee, to Sarah Helen Shearer, of Keene. The couple are highly respected, and have the good wishes of a large circle of friends.

IN MEMORIAM.

KNOWLES.—In loving memory of my dear Husband, Gunner H. Knowles, who died of wounds at Passchendaele, 1st November, 1917, 26th Battery, 5th Brigade (late 33rd Battalion).

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away!
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of there as the love of here.
The silent grief that's in the soul
No human lip can trace.
For many a breaking heart is hid
Behind a smiling face.

Inserted by his loving Wife and Children, Mrs. E. Knowles, 632 Union Street.

ST. ANDREW'S BANQUET.

The same success that attended the congregational banquet by the Young Ladies' Mission Band last spring, is now assured for the one to be given the returned men of the church on Tuesday night next at 6.30 o'clock. The affair is in charge of the same organization as before with the help of the newly organized Young Men's Guild and the support of the Session and Managers. This week the sale of tickets is open only to members of the congregation. On Monday tickets are open for anyone who may desire to attend and St. Andrew's has always a number of visitors who thoroughly enjoy themselves at functions of this kind. Tickets may be had from Miss Morrison at the Royal Bank and may be reserved by phone. They are limited and as the demand is heavy it would be best to secure tickets at once.

Mr. R. H. Elliott, a former president of the Young Men's Guild, will be present on the occasion.

A Montreal Woman's Experience---Says Internal Bathing Saved Her Life.

If the thousands of men and women with constipation and the many ills which follow would bathe internally instead of continually dosing themselves with drugs, they would soon realize why every user of the J.B.L. Cascade is so enthusiastic in its praise. There should be one in every home. Keep the colon clean and free from poisonous waste and you will not need the Doctor.

Mrs. Robert Gordon, 422 Cadillac St., Montreal, Que., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of the J.B.L. Cascade. It has saved my life. I have been troubled with constipation, piles and ulceration of the bowels for years, have only been using the Cascade for three months, and am happy to be doing my own work again after having been laid up for many months. I would not take one hundred dollars for my Cascade if I could not procure another."

The J.B.L. Cascade is the only perfect appliance for Internal Bathing, the invention of Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell, of New York, and is doing more towards improving the health and efficiency standard of the nation than all other means combined.

This appliance is shown and explained at Warne Drug Co.

Phone or ask them for free booklet, 'Why Man of To-day Is Only 50% Efficient'—or write Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College St., Toronto.

HOW PORT HOPE MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER BEAT THE TOWN COUNCIL

WAS GRANTED AN INCREASE IN SALARY BY THE COUNTY COURT TO WHOM HE APPEALED—TOWN COUNCIL PEEVED OVER THE MATTER.

At a recent meeting of the Port Hope Council, Mr. Hayden asked if any report had been received by the Council in connection with the case of Dr. Dickenson, Medical Health Officer who, in order to obtain a higher salary, had to appeal to the County Judge. The appended report appears in the Port Hope Guide:

Mayor Burnham—The only report I am aware of appeared in The Guide. Nothing has come to this Council. I consider the judgment an imposition on the town and a disgrace to civilization. I think now with a change of Government fe may be able to secure some redress as I believe we are suffering from a gross injustice.

Mr. Hayden—I will oppose payment of the bill because I do not think any Government has a right to pass statutes contrary to the laws of a democratic country.

Mr. Curtis—We have one card yet to play. This evidence will be produced in due time and I am sure it will have the desired effect.

Mr. Davidson—Unfortunately the decision was given against us. I can't understand Judge Ward not taking in consideration the salaries paid in other towns the size and importance of Port Hope. The Judge said these other towns were receiving the services they paid for. If that reasoning were applied to our case then the former salary of three hundred dollars paid to Dr. Dickinson was far too excessive. But we are not through yet. No Government can saddle towns with officials who are not wanted. The election a week ago should show these autocrats that the Government must pay attention to the will of the people. About the only duty imposed on the Medical Health Officer is that he shall attend the annual convention. He MAY do many things, but there are few things he is obliged to do.

Mr. Hayden. The town is saddled with an unfair burden. The law was made by medical men simply to suit a bunch of doctors. There was quite a shaking up last week in the Provincial Legislature and I think it is up to the town to immediately get busy with the new Legislators and have this Medical Halth Act amended. You can circulate a petition and have ninety per cent. of the residents sign it, as opposed to Dr. Dickinson.

Mr. Smith—I pleaded with this Council not to let the matter go to a suit as I felt sure that there was no remedy. We should have first shown to the Provincial Board that Dr. Dickinson was neglecting his duties. Of the evidence I heard submitted the Council was unable to establish a case. It was shown that the doctor was not at fault but rather the officers under him. I am not in favor of the present Act, but to get away from it is to establish a case to be presented before the Provincial Board. I don't know the costs but it will be big enough, and it is very unfortunate that the ratepayers will have to do the settling. Mayor Burnham made the statement that the Solicitor for the Town told him early in the enquiry that the decision would go against the Town. Would it not have been judicious than to withdraw the case.

Mayor Burnham—The Solicitor made that statement because he thought we were facing prejudice, not because we had not sufficient evidence.

Mr. Finlay—In all my experience I have only heard two men speak in favor of Dr. Dickinson. I have known Judge Ward all my life and always considered him a man of justice but he certainly has disappointed me on this case. I defy Judge Ward or any other man to show where Dr. Dickinson has been worth twenty-five cents to this town. These men are sent out as parasites.

E. C. Drury Asked To Form A New Cabinet

Russian Troops Are Again Falling Back

ANTI-BOLSHEVIK FORCES ADMIT LOSS OF SEVERAL IMPORTANT POSITIONS—BOLSHEVIK BATTERIES ARE SILENCED.

(United Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 3.—An unofficial despatch from Helsingfors reported to-day that troops of the Russian north-western army evacuated Gachina Thursday night. Anti-Bolsheviki Russian troops under General Yudenitch captured Gatchina several weeks ago, using it as a base for their advance upon Petrograd. The evacuation presumably was caused by the Bolshevlki counter offensive reported in recent despatches.

(Canadian Press.)

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 3.—Reports that Bolsheviki batteries in and around Kronstadt and Krasnaia Gorka, on the Gulf of Finland have been silenced by bombardment by Allied warships lasting several days, are contained in despatches to-day. Heavy explosions are said to have occurred in both places named, presumably being due to ammunition dumps blowing up.

General Denikine's current communication, received by wireless, claims the capture of Bobrov, southeast of Voronezh, towards the right flank of the line. He concedes the abandonment of Kromy, in the Orel region, in Archadinsky district. General Denikine's troops, he reports, surrounded the Bolshevik division and took numerous prisoners.

MR. E. C. DRURY,
Who to-day accepted the responsibility for the formation of a new government to succeed the Hearst administration.

OLD JOHN D. HOPS THROUGH AGAIN

THIS TIME THE OIL KING MAKES IT TEN MILLION.

(Special to The Examiner.)

NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 1.—John D. Rockefeller's public benefactions for medical research and medical education to-day totalled $239,000,000, following the announcement of a gift of an additional $10,000,000 to the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

The gift for the Institute now makes the endowment for research work amount to $877 million.

DRURY ASKED TO FORM CABINET

NEW LEADER MET SIR JOHN THIS MORNING—A NARROW ESCAPE

Canadian Press:

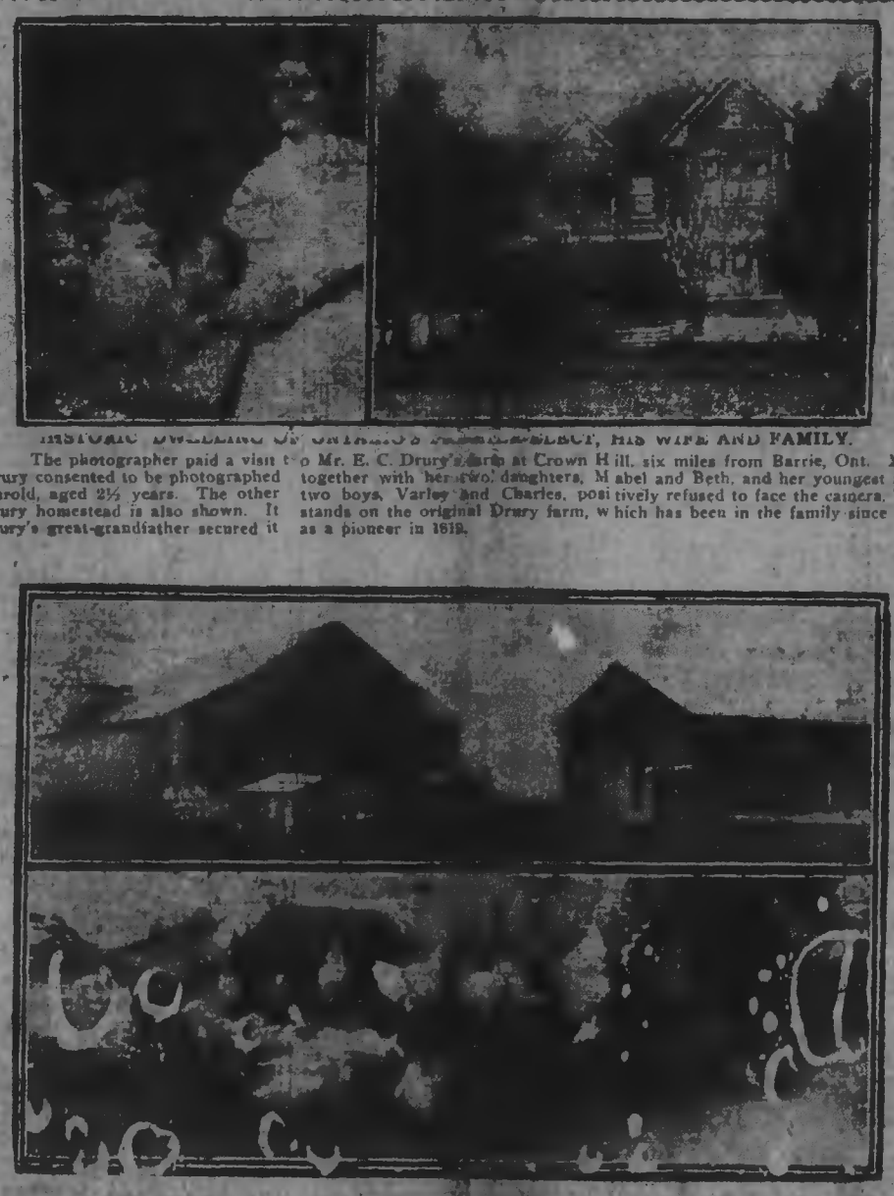
TORONTO, Nov. 3.—The responsibility for the formation of a new Cabinet, to carry on the government of the Province of Ontario, was accepted to-day, during a short interview with Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Hendrie, by Ernest Charles Drury, leader of the U.F.O.-Labour Coalition in the newly elected Provincial Legislature. It was the matter of only a few minutes. Mr. Drury was accompanied by J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers' organization. They drove up to the Government House in an automobile, precisely at 11 a.m., and were admitted to the Lieutenant-Governor's office immediately. It is understood that, in reply to Sir John's questions, Mr. Drury stated that he was ready to form a Cabinet that would command the allegiance of the majority of the House, but that he would not be ready to name his colleagues for a few days, possibly a week. An understanding has been reached with the outgoing Conservative Government of Sir William Hearst to carry on in the meantime.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Premier Designate Drury immediately left the Government House. Incidentally he narrowly missed the unprecedented experience in Canadian politics of receiving congratulations and expressions of confidence from the heir to the Throne. The Prince of Wales arrived at the Government House just a few minutes after the departure of Mr. Drury. On leaving the grounds of the Government House, Mr. Drury was held up by a troop of press reporters and photographers. To the former he related his intentions of forming his Cabinet entirely from U. F. O. and Labour members. There would be two of the latter in the Cabinet, he said, one as Secretary of the Department of Labour and the other still to be decided on. Mr. Drury will leave for his farm near Barrie to-night, according to his present programme. This afternoon he is holding various conferences and interviews in regard to the selection of his Cabinet. In intfrviews yesterday, Mr. Drury is reported to have stated that he would go outside the Farmer-Labour ranks for a Minister of Education, as well as for the Attorney-General. The unofficial Cabinet makers are to-day making many guesses as to the probable make up of the Government, but Mr. Drury so far has not given anything out for publication, keeping his own counsel.

MISSION CIRCLE.

The Young Ladies Mission Circle of Trinity Church will hold their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening November 4th, at the home of Miss Elliott, 93 Aylmer street. A good attendance is asked for.



HISTORIC DWELLING OF ONTARIO'S PREMIER-ELECT, HIS WIFE AND FAMILY.

The photographer paid a visit to Mr. E. C. Drury's farm at Crown Hill, six miles from Barrie, Ont. Mrs. Drury consented to be photographed together with her two daughters, Mabel and Beth, and her youngest son, Harold, aged 2½ years. The other two boys, Varley and Charles, positively refused to face the camera. The Drury homestead is also shown. It stands on the original Drury farm, which has been in the family since Mr. Drury's great-grandfather secured it as a pioneer in 1819.

Here are two typical views of Mr. E. C. Drury's 300-acre farm at Crown Hill, six miles from Barrie, on the Penetang Road. That the Premier-elect is a real farmer, these photographs plainly attest, for they were taken since Mr. Drury's election. The barns shown above are where Mr. Drury keeps his herd of Shorthorn cattle, of which he is extremely proud. He also keeps large numbers of chickens, turkeys and geese, some of which are also shown.

DECLARES M'BRIDE WAS ONLY BOLTER

SIMPSON CLAIMS BRANTFORD MAN IS TRYING TO JUSTIFY HIS POSITION

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 3.—There was no wholesale "bolting" from the Farmer-Labor convention last week, according to James Simpson, who denies the allegation of Mayor McBride, of Brantford, who holds a contrary view.

Mayor McBride, Independent Labor M.P.P. for South Brant, is reported as having said; "I was not the only real Labor man who went home. Greenlaw, of St. Catharines; Scott, of Woodstock; Crawford, of Sarnia, and others did."

Mr. Simpson, who was present throughout the conference, in an interview to-day, would not agree to this suggestion of Labor's desertion from the U.F.O. leadership.

"If these men went home, they did so after the Labor party of the conference," said Mr. Simpson. "They couldn't stay for the evening session, because thy had to go to work."

"He (McBride), was the only bolter, and now he is just trying to justify his own position. These other men have expressed no opposition to the coalition; on the contrary they worked to bring about the co-operation between the two groups. They have accepted Mr. Rollo as their leader, and they are prepared to follow him.

"McBride is the only one who at any time tried to sever his connection," declared Mr. Simpson.

DOCK STRIKE IS BROKEN

Longshoremen Return to Work When Whistles Sound.

Canadian Press:

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The backbone of the longshoremen's strike is believed to have been broken this morning when the full force of the men employed on the Chelsea piers between West Fourteenth and West 23rd Streets returned to work. When the stevedores' whistles sounded this morning gangs of men filed through the gates and were immediately put to work.

PATHETIC LETTER FROM CONDEMNED MAN

SAM ZALUSKY, NOW AWAITING EXECUTION OF DEATH SENTENCE IN COUNTY JAIL, IMPLORES AID OF THE G.W.V.A.

Sam Zalusky, who, with four other men, are awaiting the death penalty in the County Jail here, has written a pathetic appeal to Secretary W. E. Turley, of Toronto, declaring he is not guilty, and begging for the help of the G. W. V. A. to get a repeal of the sentence. The letter, in very broken English, reads:

Dear Sir,—I undersigned, want to request your favour, to call if you please after me. I am sentenced to death; and have recommendation for mercy. I hope, that Minister of Justice reduce it, if somebody attend for it, to sent a letter to beg the Government for. It is evidently who done fire the shot, and I think the man which fire the shot, have to be respond for. I am not guilty for murderer. But also they blame us all five the same. I haven't a friend to help me, and shall be hang on 14th of January, 1920, if no body help.

Dear Sir Secretary, so and friend soldiers. I beg you favour help me if you please.

I am soldier returned from France 31st of March, 1919, to Toronto. 5th C. R. T. Regiment, No. 2500153. No. of Battalion 157919. Please don't forget me.

I expect a answer. Excuse that I can't write English. I explain more on my own language.

Sincerely yours, SAM ZALUSKY.

My address: Mr. H. Nesbitt,
Court Jail, Peterborough Ont.

Mr. S. Whatley, the local secrtary of the G. W. V. A. has been instructed to see Sam Zalusky and the matter will probably come before the Ontario Command at a future meeting.

HOME RULE FOR IRELAND

COUNTIES HAVE OPTION OF VOTING THEMSELVES OUT.

Canadian Press:

LONDON, Nov. 3. — The British Government will announce during the present week a new scheme of Irish government, according to a strongly-supported report in Parliamentary circles to-day. Under the plan said to be in prospect there would be a form of Home Rule to Ireland, with power for the counties to vote themselves out and form a governing body for the areas which might be thus excluded from the general scheme. A supreme body, however, presided over by the Lord-Lieutenant, would have authority over both the other bodies.

Strike Reduces the Production of Coal

STRIKING COAL MINERS, MINE OPERATORS AND THE GOVERNMENT STANDING PAT —INDUSTRIES CLOSE.

ATTORNEY'S ANSWER

(By J. L. O'Sullivan.)
(United Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 3. — Striking coal miners, mine operators and the government to-day stood pat while the public watched its coal pile steadily diminish.

Miners believed the coal production was reduced 90 per cent. by the strike. Mine operators said these figures were high but stated they did not have complete data with which to compile accurate estimates.

The strike was expected to take definite form to-day. Many miners usually take a holiday on Saturday and the mines are not operated on Sunday, so that if any men did not strike, but remained away, the first two days of the walk-out, because of the holiday, they would return to work to-day.

The shortage of coal has already begun to be felt by many industries.

Reports from South Bend stated the Oliver Plow Works and other concerns had wired Washington officials that they would be forced to shut down if coal is not forthcoming.

Miners' attorneys gathered to frame the answer which they will make in Federal court next Saturday to the government's petition for a temporary injunction and for a court order that union leaders withdraw the strike order.

A. W. Kerr, Springfield, Ill., attorney for the Illinois district of miners, and Harold Henderson, Terre Haute, Ind., counsel for miners in District Number 11, conferred with Henry Warrum, the miners' chief attorney. Other lawyers were expected to arrive during the day to assist in presenting the union case.

Developments To-day.

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—[illegible] to-day is the strike of [illegible] 000 soft coal miners throughout the country were expected to clarify the situation to the extent of determining whether production was to be stopped indefinitely in a large part of the bituminous zone or whether any considerable number of workers were willing to return to work. No plans have been made for opening any of the mines with imported labor, and old men who return to work are to be treated as though they had never laid down their tools, according to Thos. T. Brewster, chairman of the Coal Operators' Scale committee. No miner will be discriminated against, he said.

Reports from most of the large mining centres indicated that while a large number of mines would be in shape for the miners to resume work, operators did not expect any union men to re-enter the workings to-day. Union leaders who were temporarily restrained by the Federal court at Indianapolis last Friday from further activity in the strike have observed order, but whether plans have been discussed regarding a modification of the strike order was a matter of conjecture to-day. Federal troops to-day were in the mining regions of West Virginia, Tennessee, Wyoming and New Mexico, under orders to preserve peace in case disorders arise in connection with the strike. Troops have been ordered to be held in readiness in every department of the army for service whenever State authorities ask for assistance in keeping down disorders.

TO-DAY'S EXAMINER

Owing to rapidly increasing circulation and large issues being published on account of advertising and news matter demands the Examiner of 12 pages is being printed to-day on 6 separate sheets, a car of paper of proper sizes which is on the way, not having arrived in time. While in some cases it might be considered a convenient form in which to issue a paper as all members of a family can divide it up yet it is not desirable and every means is being used to get the regular paper delivered at once.

PETERBORO LADY MIGHT QUALIFY

UNUSUAL PROVISIONS OF WILL PROBATED TO-DAY.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Novemebr 3rd. — "Wanted, — A Young Lady, twenty years old, marriageable, and a daughter of the common people, whose conduct and family virtues makes her deserving of the annual interest of ten thousand dollars."

This virtually is one of the provisions of an unusual will offered for probate to-day. The only other provision is that the exemplary young lady shall reside in Providence, R. I. The question of beauty is not involved.

The will is that of Count Paul Bajnotti of Turin, Italy, who died several times a millionaire last March. In the course of his diplomatic career in this country he met and married Miss Carrie M. Brown, daughter of Nicholas Brown of Providence, whose family founded Brown University.

Upon the Mayor of Providence, according to the will, shall rest the duty of the Judges who annually are to decide what young lady in that community best deserves the bequest.

HE IS PRESIDENT OF THE ENGINEERING INSTITUTE OF CANADA.

Lieutenant-Colonel R. W. Leonard, of St. Catharines, president of the Engineering Institute of Canada, will be [illegible] distinguished guests of the [illegible] Club at their banquet at the Empress Hotel on Thursday when they will receive a charter from the Engineering Institute. He was educated at the Brantford Collegiate Institute, and at the Royal Military College, Kingston. He served in the Northwest Rebellion, before and after which he was engaged as an engineer with the C.P.R. In 1887 he became chief engineer of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co., Nova Scotia, resigning in 1890 to accept the positions of chief engineer and manager of construction of the St. Lawrence and Adirondack railway, and consulting engineer of the Cape Breton railway. From 1899 to 1901 he was chief engineer of the Cape Breton railway. At various times since 1892 he constructed hydro-electric power plants at Niagara Falls for the Park and River Railway Co., at St. Catharines for the Hamilton Cataract Power Co., and near Fort William for the Kaministiquia Power Co. In 1906 he promoted the Coniagas Mines, Ltd., and became president of the Coniagas Reduction Co., which he organized in 1908. Col. Leonard is a governor of Toronto University, of the School of Mines, Queen's University, Kingston; of Wycliffe College, Toronto; and of Bishop Ridley College, St. Catharines. He is a member of the Council of the Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, London, Eng., member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, and ex-president of the Royal Military College. From 1911 to 1919 he was chairman of the National Transcontinental Railway Commission.

City High Man for Day—J. R. Corkery.
High Team for Day—V. J. McElderry.
County High Man for Day—Thompson Braden.

Manager Hill, of the Mutt & Jeff show, insists on taking Victory Bonds for the proceeds from his gate receipts. Saturday afternoon and evening one of the members of the company addressed the audience at the end of the second act on behalf of Canada's Victory Loan.

Peterborough's Lift Lock has had many trials and tribuations during the past week. First of all it posed serenely on the corner of the Custom House, but the heavy storm proved too much for it, and Hallowe'en Day found it anchored in front of the Victory Loan office. Many times the pontoons went over the top.

Apparently the change was a happy one, as Friday and Saturday results showed, and the board is now resting serenely where everyone can see it. And if it could only talk—Oh, Boy!—that Prince of Wales Flag would be ours.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Warburton, of Toronto, came up for the dance on Friday night, and were the guests of Mr. Harry Cressman and Mr. O. De Dra wat luncheon on Saturday.

LAKEFIELD NEWS

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 3.—Mrs. R. H. Alford and Miss Melissa Alford were the guests of friends in Toronto last week.

Messrs. Nicholls and Bell shipped three carloads of hogs last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackmore have closed their cottage at Kawartha Park for the season and with a party of their friends passed through the village en route for Toronto last Friday.

Miss Walters of Pompadorer Island, Stoney Lake, was the guest of friends in Lakefield and Peterboro last week.

Mr. Ben Yelland of Peterboro, came down from his cottage "Ellwood Glen" on Friday.

Mrs. Osborne and Miss Angela returned on Friday from a three week's visit with friends in New York.

Mrs. George Spence was in Peterboro on Friday.

Mrs. Gillman spent Friday in Peterboro.

Mr. McLeod of Orillia, spent a few days in the village last week.

Mrs. Marling - as a visitor to Peterboro on Saturday.

Miss Emma Corkery spent the week end at her home in Peterboro.

Messrs. Albert Ball and Arthur Webster left on Friday for a couple of week's hunting.

The A.Y.P.A. held their annual Hallowe'en party on Friday evening The affair was very successful and took the form of a Ghost party and included a street parade by the white clad band.

Hallowe'en celebrations were conducted in the village on a more elaborate scale than for several years past. Gates were removed from their hinges and hung gaily from telephone poles and stray waggons and carts were to be seen in unexpected quarters. With few exceptions there was no real damage done to property and a spirit of harmless merriment pervaded the village.

THE MOTOR CAR HAD RIGHT-OF-WAY

Peterboro's semi-weekly automobile accident took place yesterday afternoon at the corner of Charlotte and Rubidge streets when Henry Wills, 147 aPrk street failed to give the righ of way to Vincent Weatherup of Lindsay.

The Lindsay car rammed into the Wills' car damaging the running board, one fender and a door while Weatherup's car had radius rods and axle badly bent and ane fender broken. Wills stated to the policeman that he did not see the other car until too late to avoid the accident and said he would pay for the repairs on Weatherup's car.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

THERE MUST BE NEW STANDARDS OF LIVING DECLARED DR. GANDIER

TWO EXCELLENT SERMONS YESTERDAY IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH—THE MISSION FIELD.

Dr. Alfred Gandier, Principal of Knox College, Toronto, who has occupied local pulpits, on several previous occasions preached at both services at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church yesterday. Dr. Gandier is generally recognized at sponsor of the Forward Movement in the Presbyterian Church in Canada and both his themes yesterday were in support of that movement. At the morning service he took his text from the book of Isiah his subject being "The Challenge that is coming to the Church in our day. He said that there must be new standards of giving and service and that there was the need of a Forward Movement such as never before.

New Standards.

At the evening service he showed why there must be new standards of giving and service in one department alone, one which he has especially to do with and his sketch of conditions in the Foreign Mission Field was at once enlightening and instructive. It was an incentive for better giving in this great enterprise of the Presbyterian Church.

"We must share our good with others or they will share their bad with us," declared Dr. Gandier. At present more than fifteen million people depend on the Presbyterian Church in Canada for the gospel. For the tremendous work there are only 303 missionaries including wives and single women. This is totally inadequate explained Dr. Gandier and he went on to show how only the fringe of that vast multitude is at present touched.

"You often hear people say that the church carries things on in such a small way", said the Principal, and that we should carry on in a broad and statesmanlike way, but what statesman could win in a country of fifteen millions with a force of 303 with an annual budget which would pay Great Britain's war bill for twenty minutes! What.. chance is there."

Want More Missionaries.

In the Presbyterian Mission fields at present there is one missionary, his wife and a single lady to every 50,000 people ninety-five per cent. of whom are totally illiterate. There are no schools, no hospitals, doctors or nurses. Dr. Gandier pictured Hamilton and Ottawa (approximately 150,000) in the same condition with a Christianity missionary force of three.

"How could we convert them?" asked Dr. Gandier.

"There we are only touching on the fringe even if he trebled the number of missionaries. It would only be a beginning of the task. Missionaries now are overworked, under paid and poorly equipped and in need of re-inforcements." He read from a newspaper clipping of a minister in Korea, the only ordained Presbyterian in the field. He is pastor of forty churches, superintendent of eight schools, teacher in several colleges and treasurer of Christian funds, lecturer at a number of academies besides being head of innumerable Christian socities. This man asked for help in his field.

High Cost of Living.

"The high cost of living is being felt in the Orient", said Dr. Gandier. "Western influences are coming in and missionaries need more to pay to live than formerly. A native pastor gets now $200 a year and other workers less. They will need double that. In some departments we will have to double our present income without any provision for enlarging our work", declared the doctor. "New equipment is needed and of the great $4,000,000 Thank-offering Fund which is being taken next February a large part will go for equipment."

A few of the Needs.

A few of the things that the Presbyterian Church needs in the mission field were enumerated by Dr. Gandier:—four college buildings, ten residential buildings, academies, forty school buildings, seven hospitals, twenty dispensaries and forty-five houses for missionaries.

A vivid picture of a native hospital with its mud platforms and bed was painted by Dr. Gandier. He spoke of China in particular and stated that they need scientific methods at once, medicine surgery, sanitation "and we owe it to the millions in China. They call for modern hospitals and unless the church takes a forward step she shows herself unworthy of the age in which she lives. Formerly attempts were made to convert individuals but now it is great nations."

BARONET'S HEIR TO WED COBOURG GIRL

A despatch from London, England on October 28th says: Robert Peel son and heir of Sir Robert Peel, baronet, announces that shortly after the Christmas holidays he will marry Miss Beatrice Lillie, of Cobourg, Ont.

Miss Lillie is the most popular revue artist now in London. She is a winsomely pretty brunette, who came on here just before the war and quickly enraptured the hearts of Londoners by her naive manner and delightful singing. Canadian and American soldiers claimed her as their own, and whenever she appeared in London she was always assured of a rousing reception.

Robert Peel is 21 years of age. When he succeeds to the title he will be the fifth baron. He is the great grandson of the famous statesman, Sir Robert Peel, and is also a grandson of the Marquis of Tweeddale.

A man sometimes builds better than he knows, but the contractor on a political job is reasonably sure to know better than he builds.

ANNIVERSARY OF WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

A PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS—CHARTER MEMBERS PRESENT.

The 25th Anniversary of the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's Church was held at the residence of Mrs. John Scott, Maria street, Ashburnham, on Thursday 30th October 1919 After the usual business of the Society had been disposed of a very happy event took place, when Mrs. Scott, a faithful member for so many years was presented with an address and made a life member of the W.A. There followed another presentation to Mrs. W. H. Gibbs of a life membership from her mother, Mrs. Phillips. It is interesting to remember that in July 1894, a meeting was held in St. Luke's schoolroom to discuss forming a branch of the W.A. The members present on that occasion were Mesdames Scott, Marshall, Gibbs, Phillips, Bennett, and on the 30th of November of that year the branch was formed. And it was a very great pleasure to meet again at Mrs. Scott's house, those of the W.A. who had started the good work 25 years ago. We much regretted that Mrs. E. A. Peck, Mrs. W. McGregor and a few others were prevented from being with us that afternoon. When the meeting was over we were invited into the dining room where high tea was served Twenty-five members sitting down to the first table, after which a very pleasant evening was spent. Those present were Mesdames Scott, Phillips, Tivey, Heap, White, Curtice, J. Butcher, C. Butcher, H. Butcher, J. Turner, E. Turner, Hunter, Jemirson, McKee, Gibbs, Long, Maniece, H. Adams, Hickey, Moore Thompson, Whitehouse, Laurence, Wickenden, E. Scott, also the Misses Graham, Peck, Gaskin, Scott.

TAKE OVER LOCAL CHEESE FACTORIES

A MEETING WILL BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 11TH TO DISCUSS PLANS

The success of the United Farmers in the recent Provincial elections has increased the interest in the proposal, which has been under consideration for some months, to form a big dairy company to take over and operate on a co-operative basis many of the cheese factories in Peterborough, Hastings and Prince Edward counties. Some of our local farmers have been asking what is being done in reference to the formation of this company. We are advised that a meeting of the representatives of the cheese factories in Peterboro County is to be held on Tuesday, November 11th, to receive reports from the committee that has been at work upon it. It is likely that steps will then be decided upon to form the company and that a couple of provisional directors will be appointed. As shortly after that as possible it is proposed to hold meetings of the representatives of the cheese factories in Hastings and Prince Edward Counties, at which similar reports will be presented and an opportunity will be given to those present to decide if they are in favour of proceedings with the organization of the company.

Arrangements are in the hands of a committee composed of representatives of the United Farmers of Ontario and of the Eastern and Western Ontario Dairymen's Associations. This committee is hopeful that the company can be launched this fall in time to take over a considerable number of the factories before spring in order that operations may be commenced on a large scale in the spring. The action of the British Ministry of Food in setting the price of cheese last spring without consulting the dairy farmers has given a decided impetus to the formation of this company, as many dairy farmers have become convinced that not until they become organized and look after the marketing of their products themselves, will they receive the consideration at the hands of the Government and the buyers that they feel they are entitled to and which was given the grain growers of the West when the price of grain was fixed both last year and this year. The meetings are being called by Mr. H. B. Cowan, of Peterborough, who is the chairman of the committee that has been handling negotiations so far.

WAS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Beware all ye wreckers of pavements and destroyers of other people's health for the day of reckoning is at hand. One, Jake Masinok, said to be a descendant of one of the twelve tribes and an employee of a local fish company did use one of the city pavements as a spittoon causing thereof a checker board effect which sundry citizens going to work in the morning did not appreciate as a work of art.

The magistrate didn't like it either and Jake didn't like the $5.10 fine.

Spend less time in envying the success of your neighbours and a little more in trying to get there yourself.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

To-night Mr. E. W. Brown will continue his addresses on the "Revelation", dealing with the last of the "Gentile World Powers."

Last night he preached the gospel in the Gospel Hall from the old familiar text John 3:16. He showed that "justice is a presupposition of love". No person believes in the professed love of another if that person has not dealt justly and honestly with him. All protestations of love are useless; no person does or can believe in the love of an unjust person. Debt and credit are terms entirely understood by all, but when people begin to reason on matters relating to God they use an entirely different kind of reasoning; the devil's reasoning. The Bible begins with the creation of the world by God. This includes man's own being. But on this new species of reasoning man does not consider that he is debtor and God the creditor. We are debtors to God for everything we have even the powers we possess for "in him we live and move and have our being." How thankful we should always be if we did not use this other species of reasoning.

But on top of all this kindness of God and unthankfulness of man, comes the fact that we have sinned We do not need to look any farther away than our own breasts to find that out. Our own conscience reafirms this and God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have everlasting life. God hath set forth Christ Jesus to be a propitration to declare his righteousness that he might be just and the justifier (of him that believeth in Jesus) of the ungodly. And now a poor guilty sinner may come to Jesus in an easy way. He may receive a bit of scoffing on the part of a few of his old time friends he might be ostracised for a little time but if he neglects his salvation during this age of grace he will find it a thousand times more difficult and dangerous. During the time of the "Great Tribulation" the Gentiles who are saved will be persecuted alike by the political (atheistic) Government and by a religion that is not true to God. For all that dwell upon the earth shall worship the Beast whose names are not written in the book. And the second beast had power to cause that "As many as would not worship the image of the (first) beast should be killed." And John saw the scarlet "woman" (the false religion) drunken with the blood of the saints and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus. On the other hand, "If any man worship the beast and his image and receive his mark in his forehead or on his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God. . . . . and the smoke of their torment ascendeth forever and ever and they have no rest day nor night." Similar terms are used of Babylon, the false religion. How much easier now to be saved than in those awful times.

"Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy ladened and I will give you rest". Be saved now my dear unsaved hearer.

I sat beside my boy until Neil came in a little after midnight. When he insisted that I go to bed I had no strength to resist so gave up my place to him. We had a nurse but both idolized my boy and would not have dreamed of leaving him alone with her under the circumstances.

They did not call me until almost time for Neil to go to the office. He had snatched a little rest on a couch he had brought into Robert's room, but he looked white and worn.

"A good bath and some coffee will set me up," when I told him he looked tired and then he hurried away to get ready for the day. He looked in and bade us good bye before he went down town but we had no time for any talk, even had we had the inclination.

All day I was kept too busy to think. It is hard to take care of a sick person, no matter what their age. But when an active, healthy boy is obliged to remain quiet, one's wits must be sharp indeed if they succeed in entertaining him. Robert like all boys tired of things quickly. I spent most of my time devising means to amuse him. I told him stories and when all else failed carried him down to the music room, and played for him. He loved music and always kept very quiet when I played.

About four o'clock I heard Neil come in. I called:

"We are here in the music room, dear, come in." When he did not reply I swung around on the stool to see him standing in the door, a grayness in his face, a despair in his eyes that frightened me. He motioned me to say nothing. He carried Robert upstairs and left him with his nurse. I had followed slowly wondering what dreadful thing had happened. That it was dreadful I was sure.

ARE THE DAYS OF MIRACLES OVER?

IS SUPERSTITION AND FALSE BELIEF TO OVERSHADOW FACTS ANY LONGER?

When a woman who has been sick for years becomes well after taking a certain scientific preparation—can you deny that the remedy must be good?

Read these extracts taken from a letter written to us by Mrs. H. Cress, of 362 King Street West, Toronto:—

"I suffered for several years with inflammatory Rheumatism and could hardly get up or down stairs. My husband bought me a box of Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules, and almost immediately I felt relief. The swellings started to go down and the stiffness left my knees. I might say that previously to using T.B.C.'s I had tried almost everything under the sun without success. I am a happier and wiser woman now, and I cannot thank you enough for the aid T.B.C.'s have given me."

It's the same story from hundreds of other Rheumatic sufferers. They tried T.B.C.'s and T.B.C.'s fixed them up. If you suffer, try them.

Ask your Druggist or write us for our new booklet; it is interesting and costs you nothing (Templetons, 142 King West, Toronto). We mail T.B.C.'s anywhere on receipt of price.

CAPTURE MORE LIQUOR.

Five Thousand Bottles Seized in Last Three Days.

TORONTO, Oct. 30.—John Barleycorn is getting a rough passage from the police of Court Street Station, Inspector Alex. Mackie's division.

The third seizure in thre days has been made by Patrol Sergt. Oxland and Constable Pennock when they took charge of 480 bottles of booze loaded in a Grand Trunk car in the Simcoe Street yards. If the seizures keep up, Court Street Station will look like a distillery, as no fewer than 5,000 bottles have been seized in the last three days.

Harmless Means of Reducing Fat

Many fat people fear ordinary means for reducing their weight. Here is an extraordinary method. Extraordinary because while perfectly harmless no dieting or exercise are necessary. Marmola Prescription Tablets are made exactly in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription. A reduction of two, three or four pounds a week is the rule. Procure them from any druggist, or if you prefer send $1 to the Marmola Company, 864 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., for a large case.

RAISED VEGETABLES FOR LUNCH ROOM.

Vegetables canned from the gardens cared for by the school children will be a feature of the school lunch rooms in Wyandotte county, Kan., this winter. The vegetables were put up by volunteer helpers under the direction of the home demonstration agent of the Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College. At the school cannery 1000 bushels of tomatoes, among other vegetables, were canned.

OIL PRODUCTION GAINS THREE PER CENT. OVER 1917

A gain of three per cent. over the record production of petroleum in 1917 is indicated in the preliminary estimate for 1918. An estimate of nearly 350,000,000 barrels, as against the record for 1917 of over 335,000,000 barrels is made. The reserve of crude oil held by all producers and pipe-line companies in the United States at the end of 1918 is estimated at 123,000,000 barrels, as compared with 150,000,000 barrels at the end of 1917.

Large Party Leaving Toronto for Eagle Lake.

Bear is said to be plentiful in the Eagle Lake region, 80 miles north of Lindsay, and a large hunting party leaves Toronto on Wednesday with the object of reducing the surplus stock by rifle fire. The party, who will be the guest of Sir Sam. Hughes, will comprise the following: Gen. J. A. Drain, Washington; Col. John T. Thompson, New York; Col. Herbert Bruce, Dr. Norman Allen, Dr. J. L. Hughes, E. W. J. Owens, K.C.; Tom Hook, Magistrate Cohen and some gentlemen from Ottawa. Messrs. Owens and Hook are said to be taking rifle practice at the Island in preparation for the "kill."

STOMACH DISORDER
ONLY 6 MONTHS TO LIVE
READ WHAT B.B.B. DID FOR HIM

Mr. Hans Kehki, Magnolia, Alta., writes:—"Some years ago I became very sick from stomach disorder, which the doctor told me had started from drinking bad water. I tried local doctors, but finding I got worse from day to day I went to a doctor in Edmonton. He told me that I must have an operation, and that if I didn't I couldn't live any longer than six months. I told him I had better die after six months than be cut to pieces. I did not have the operation, but returned home. No one was there to meet me at the station, because they did not know I was coming. I felt so bad I couldn't walk farther than 10 yards without resting. It took me 6 hours to walk two miles; the distance from the station to my home.

Some weeks later I read an advertisement about your Burdock Blood Bitters. After I had used one bottle I felt much better, and after I had used three bottles I was completely cured; therefore you see your B. B. B. has saved my life, and I cannot praise it too highly."

Burdock Blood Bitters puts the stomach into shape by promoting perfect digestion, and restoring health and strength to the system. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

SINCE KATE LEARNT HOW TO VOTE.

By Joseph Begley, (Poet Laureate.)

As our immortal Shakespeare says:
"Every man must play a part,
And all this world is but a stage,
And success depends on art."
It is well worth while in passing,
To not forget to note,
That woman cuts some figure,
Since Kate learnt how to vote.

Daddy plays the funny part,
Shows up in all the scenes;
It is hard for him to see the joke,
While everybody screams.
Every home must have a head,
And a handy family goat—
Father plays the double part,
Since Kate learnt how to vote.

Hear Ma recite the leading lines,
And then pass in your cheques.
We'll have no more tobacco fiends,
Nor whiskey total wrecks.
To be a mother to a slave
If you paddle alone your boat;
No cash, no kids, is the battle cry,
Since Kate learnt how to vote.

When you see our little sister dress,
Don't say they go too far:
Her lines are not the heavy kind,
As a show—well, she's a star.
How the vulgar envy Adam.
We have often seen it wrote,
Their desire may be gratified,
Since Kate learnt how to vote.

Our sissy youth and batchelor man,
Shine in the silly farce,
The emptiness of their false life,
Is caused by means too harsh.
To pink tea dope and social club
Women must time devote.
No wonder we have such a fake,
Since Kate learnt how to vote.

Is Your Wife a Maggie, a Min, or a Ma?

Hos it ever occurred to you, gentle reader, how much the popular cartoons of the present day have to do with discouraging matrimony? We are greeted daily with Jiggs and Maggie, that son-in-law of Pa's, Andy Gump and Min, to mention but a few; and everybody scans them. What must the effect be on bachelors who take them at all seriously? After the country has been made safe from prohibition, the women and the preachers should turn their batteries on the cartoonists. For who can be sure that in the lottery of life, he will not draw a Maggie, a Min, or a Ma.—Melville Progress.

The Promoter's Wife

BY JANE PHELPS

ROBERT FALLS AND BREAKS HIS ARM.

CHAPTER CVII.

Just after Mr. Frederick had said he could do nothing for Neil unless he himself wanted to help, others came and we had no further opportunity for talk together. I urged him to remain to dinner but he had an engagement. I hoped that Neil would come home and that if we both talked to him he might listen. I knew from Frederick's manner that things had reached some sort of a crisis.

Miss Wilson came in just as Frederick was leaving. She persuaded him to wait until she had a cup of tea, promising to drop him at his hotel if he would.

"I have a new Rolls Royce. I should like you to see it," she had said with an arch look at him. All the women I knew that had met him liked this blunt friend of mine, this man who called things by their names and whose word was never questioned.

—"That is an inducement. I mostly ride in flivvers at home," was his characteristic answer. Then Maud Wilson remarked:

"I haven't seen you at Mrs. Powers lately, Mrs. Forbers. She had a wonderful affair the other night. I looked for you and your handsome husband."

I made some sort of a reply, my cheeks burning. Fortunately no one save Mr. Frederick heard her. He ignored what she had said and without giving me time to reply commenced to talk of her new car. She was immediatly interested and so I was spared the mortification of an answer.

So we were absolutely dropped by Mrs. Powers, and of course by her set. The one in which I had hoped to move. It had been a large affair and we had not been invited. I was very glad I had not gone any further with my social planning. I should have been laughed at, my efforts a failure. My lips quivered as I thought of it. I caught the pitying look in Mr. Frederick's eyes and pulled myself together sufficiently to bid them good afternoon in my usual way. But after everyone had gone I threw myself on my bed and sobbed for half an hour. It was hard to be slighted, harder because I knew I had done nothing to deserve it. I would tell Neil. It might be a good reason to urge more caution on his part as to his associates and his business methods.

But when finally Neil came in I had forgotten that such people as the Powers existed or that I had ever had any social aspirations.

I was bathing my face so that Neil might not know I had been crying when I heard a scream, then my boy calling for me. I rushed from the room and then down the stairs. While playing in front of the house Robert had fallen in such a way as to break his arm. We carried him up to his room, then called a doctor. I was almost mad with pity for the poor child until he came; then faint as Robert screamed as it was set. Fortunately Neil did come home and although he went out later he re-

YOU DON'T GIVE— YOU LEND

In deciding how many Victory Bonds you will buy, remember this important point—you are not giving—you are lending to your country.

You are lending at a good rate of interest.

You are lending on the highest security.

You are lending to maintain your own and your country's prosperity.

In your own personal interest you should make strenuous efforts to buy as many Victory Bonds as you possibly can.

You can't put you money in a better place.

You want to save money—everybody does.

It is the only way to get ahead.

And Canada needs to borrow your money to bridge the gap from war to peace.

It's your duty to lend.

Take the proper view of this Victory Loan.

Say to yourself—"I am going to buy all the Victory Bonds I can pay for now and in the next ten months.

What if it is an effort to pay for them.

Look ahead a little.

Think of what you will own when your Victory Bonds are paid for.

Every cent you pay on your Victory Bonds you LEND to your country—you save!

Remember that, and

BETTER THAN EVER.

Victory Bonds are a little better investment now than ever they were.

WHAT ABOUT THE TOWNSHIPS

The city and factory Victory Loan teams are well ahead of last year's record at this date, but the rural sections have only done a little better than half as well. Let us hear from the concession lines this week.

OVERLOOKING TOMMY.

The Toronto Telegram is so busy screeching about the new Premier these days that it is about forgetting to get the annual boom for another term for Mayor Church under way.

GOVERNMENT EXTRAVAGANCE.

In adding a resolution to the report of the Special Committee on Soldiers' Re-establishment to the effect that the Dominion government's past and present extravagance has left the financial condition of Canada so that it is impossible to afford any further assistance to the soldiers, the Liberal members of that committee were thoroughly within their rights. To have simply concurred in the findings of the committee without such a rider would have been to condone the extravagant record of the government. The members of the Opposition do not feel that commitments for which they have been in no way responsible and which they opposed within the House, should be left on their doorstep. It is right that the people generally, as well as the returned soldiers themselves, should understand that Canada is unable to carry out any further general scheme of assistance for her soldiers because the gross extravagance and mismanagement of the Dominion government has placed such a strain on the financial resources of the country that even the re-establishment scheme of the G.W.V.A., which is moderate, contrasted with the Flynn plan, cannot be considered.

MORE WARDENS WANTED.

The discussion in the Examiner during the past few days over the question of better protection for the fish and game of the Peterborough district has apparently aroused considerable inetrest among local sportsmen. It is hoped that the bringing of this matter before the public will lead to some definite action and to the formation of a local Association whose aim it will be to see that illegal methods are as far as possible elminated. Among anglers there is a feeling that special wardens should be appointed during the spawning season. It seems to be no exaggeration to say that hundreds of spawning lunge are speared or netted every spring, and that there seems to be no interference on the part of any one with this wholesale destruction. One reason is that there are apparently far too few officials and those who are on duty are much too poorly paid to give proper attention to the responsibilities of their position. The danger time, so far as the fishing is concerned is, of course, the spawning season. Nine-tenths of the illegal destruction of fish is done at that time, which prompts the suggestion that it would be in the public interest to appoint a sufficiently large number of special wardens and pay them in proportion to the importance of their work to protect the spawning fish. The spectacle of a score of men spearing lunge at Rice Lake, which one angler describes in a letter to the Examiner, is one that should be banished.

A MIDDLE CLASS UNION.

The great number of people who cannot be said to belong to the employing class or to organized labour—the middle classes, to use a description that is not particularly apt—are the greatest sufferers from the continuous warfare that is being waged between employers and labour. Every great strike at the present time injures thousands who have no direct connection with the particular dispute under argument. It is not surprising to find, therefore, in emergencies such as the Winnipeg strike last June, citizens banding themselves together for mutual protection and assistance, nor to know that in England there is a rapidly growing organization known as the middle classes' union, formed to look after the interests of the public in industrial disturbances. A Tunbridge Wells paper, just to hand, contains an interesting announcement of a public meeting to be held in that town under the auspices of the middle classes' union, "to discuss and consider," so reads the advertisement, "the best means to take for the protection of the general public from the calamitous position which may be occasioned by trade disputes affecting undertakings of a national nature." The announcement winds up with the significant invitation, "All who can claim the right to live are earnestly invited to attend." There is much in the movement that will commend itself as a possible necessity on this side of the Atlantic if labour troubles continue to increase. Neither employer or labour seems to have had much regard for the rights of the public in some of the disputes that have occurred, and a union along the lines mentioned might improve conditions.

THE VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN.

The city of Peterborough has reason to feel satisfied with the record set up for the first week of the Victory Loan campaign, the figures reached by the canvassing teams and by the special subscriptions committee being well in advance of last year's figures on the same date. The showing so far is a splendid one, but there must be no resting on the laurels already won, for other cities are setting a rapid pace and several have won their honour flags. Peterborough has yet to achieve that distinction and after that there is the greater prize, the winning of one of the captured German field guns, a trophy that will indeed be worth capturing, for there are but two to be awarded in Ontario. The spirit of the committee and of the canvassers is admirable, but they cannot achieve their ambition without the hearty support of their fellow citizens. There are hundreds of people in Peterborough who can afford to buy Victory bonds and who have so far failed to do so. There are scores more who have subscribed to the Loan but in nothing like the proportion they are financially able to do. To both of these classes the appeal goes out this week to buy Victory Bonds to the limit.

And from our friends in the townships, now that they have become accustomed to the glow of triumph following the spectacular victory of the United Farmers in the battle of the ballots, there should be better results this week; no one class in Canada should be more vitally interested in the Loan than the farmers. One-third ofg the last Loan was spent in financing the purchase by Great Britain and our Allies of Canadian wheat and other foodstuffs. A very large proportion o fthe present Loan will be used in the same way, and the money will therefore flow back into the pockets of Canadian farmers. For this reason, if for no other, the repponse to the appeal should be an enthusiastic one in the rural sections. And yet in Peterborough county at least, the reverse has been the case. In the first week of the campaign the townships have failed to keep pace with the city; in fact have failed to come anywhere near equalling their own record of last year. Peterborough county has been asked for $1,800,000. Peterborough itself will pass its objective in the next few days, but the returns in the county have been disappointing. The farmers have shown they know how to win elections; they should afford a proof of what they can accomplish in other lines by working together.

DIVIDED MONARCHISTS.

How many Germans want a restoration of the monarchy we shall learn in the spring elections for the Reichstag. Undoubtedly there are a great many, particularly since it was discovered that the mere substitution of a nominally Republican Government did not absolve the Germans for their crimes in the war; if the Baltic adventure succeeds, there will be many more. Dispatches from Holland, however, report that the monarchists are unable to agree on the Prince who is to lead the party of legitimacy when it tries to come back.

One faction still stands behind the old, tried, august, and gottfreundlich William. But there are others who think that William's day is past, and that an attempt to take him back to Potsdam in triumph would create a regrettable confusion between the theoretical advantages of monarchy and recollections of the practical shortcomings of William. Another group favors the late Emperor's brother, Prince Henry; still another the Crown Prince; a fourth one of his younger brothers, either August William or Eitel Frederick; and still another the Crown Prince's heir, who, being still in nonage, would offer no inconvenient personal objections to the plans of those who would like to direct the restored monarchy.

In the road of these far-flung plans is one very serious obstacle, which is the Hohenzollern sense of family loyalty. If William were convinced that he could recover his throne, and forbade other members of the family to aspire to it, he would probably be obeyed without hesitation by his brother and his younger sons. And perhaps by the Crown Prince, too; but the Hohenzollern tradition of strife between father and eldest son has been illustrated by differences between Frederick William and his imperial-all-too-imperial parent, and reports from Holland say that these differences still exist.

The Crown Prince, it seems, is very short of money; his father has cut down his allowances until he has to sell fur coats to pay the rent. All this is very pathetic, and may evoke a sympathetic tear in Germany; but legitimist pretenders who have a fair chance of recovering a valuable throne are never hard up for money. Somebody will save the Crown Prince's overcoats, if there is any great likelihood of his return to power. Meanwhile Frederick William takes occasion to inform the world once more that he is one of the most democratic and constitutional persons of all history, and that never, never, never would he think of taking the throne save upon "the peaceably expressed desire of a majority of the "German people." However, in case a malicious minority should prove to be bad losers, "military preparations are in readiness."

There is said to be a smart but influential party in England which favors a constitutional monarchy in Germany. Perhaps in theory something could be said for this as the form of government best suited to the present political development of the German people, but unfortunately the Hohenzollerns are a condition and not a theory. They have had a long experience with democracy and constitutions, and the prospect that a German constitution would be respected by them is not very bright. Once back in Berlin, they would be ruling as they did before last year. And no other dynasty seems even a possibility for the German throne.

All these monarchist schemers are dangerous to the world at large, still more dangerous to whatever is worth saving and educating in, Germany. One may express a pious hope that their dissensions may be continued and violent, and that the spirit of unity may remain far removed from their counsels.—New York Times.

Tobacco Habit Dangerous

says Doctor Conner, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital. "Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health to-day were it not for the deadly drug, Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed, and lo! the pernicious habit quickly vanishes. Druggists refund the money if they fail. Be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Conner soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning, and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets, you will be surprised at the result. (46)

PETERBOROUGH Must Win The PRINCE'S HONOUR FLAG

Peterborough has been allotted and is expected to lend $ of the Victory Loan, 1919.

When this allotment is reached, we can fly the Prince's Honour Flag.

The Prince said: "The Victory Loan 1919 is the bridge between War and Peace, and which is finishing off the job. I hope every city and district will win my flag."

It is a white flag with a red border. In the upper left-hand corner is the grand old Union Jack—in the lower right-hand corner the Prince's crest.

The day this flag is run up will be a proud one for Peterborough. It will mean that our citizens have once again done their full duty.

It will mean that in this district the Victory Loan 1919 has gone "over the top."

And the Victory Loan 1919 must be a success.

It is a matter of the utmost importance.

It is needed to discharge our obligations to the army.

It is needed to extend credit to those overseas countries with which we were allied in the fight and which now want to buy our surplus food and other products.

The motto of the Prince of Wales is "I serve."

Will you also serve your country?

Will you help to make the Victory Loan 1919 an overwhelming success? Wil you help to earn for Peterborough the right to fly the Prince's Honour Flag? Buy to the utmost.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES WERE HELD YESTERDAY IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

CANON DAVIDSON PREACHED AT BOTH THE MORNING AND EVENING SERVICES.

THE MUSIC

In his sermon at the morning service at St. John's church, Canon J. C. Davidson referred to the fact that yesterday marked the 37th anniversary of the restoration of the church.

The history of the old church commenced before the naming of the city in 1827 in compliment to Hon. Peter Robinson. Some time previous to that in laying the plan of the town, the lot on which the Trinity Methodist church now stands, was chosen, it being the intention of the founders of the town site to place the three churches, the Anglican, Roman Catholic and Presbyterian at the end of the three streets—Simcoe, Hunter and Brock streets. It was later considered advisable to take over the present site.

In 1831 tenders were invited for the church, with John Scobell as the contractor and Mr. Covert as architect. Captain Rubidge, R. N., who was largely instrumental in obtaining funds for the building, in cooperation with others from England, was the chairman of the Building Committee. Rev. R. H. D'Olier was the first rector of the church, Rev. Samuel Armour having previously acted since 1827 as a missionary in the settlement. The church was formally opened for worship in 1835.

Rev. C. J. Wade succeeded Rev. R. H. D'Olier and officiated at the laying of the corner stone of the Court House by Lieut.-Governor Sir George Arthur in 1838. In 1842 Rev. R. J. C. Taylor succeeded Mr. Wade and in 1846 the plates still in use were presented to the church. In 1853 St. John's was restored for the first time the old wooden clock being removed from the tower, and alterations done under the direction of Kivas Tully. The first organ was installed at the same time, heretofore the choir having been led by a small orchestra in the gallery. One year previous to the rebuilding of the church Rev. Mark Burnham had been appointed Rector.

In 1873 the bell at present at All Saints' church was installed. At this time Rev. J. W. R. Beck was rector, having succeeded Mr. Burnham in 1858.

Completely Renovated.

In 1882 the entire church was completely renovated, the chancel added, modern seats replaced the old square pews, the gallery removed, the lawns laid out, and the weekly Eucharist instituted. The church was formally opened on All Saints' Day. Mr. A. P. Pousette was chairman of the Building Committee. Mr. R. A. Morrow, secretary, and Mr. Belcher, architect of the restoration plans.

The present Rector, Canon Davidson, was appointed in 1889, to succeed Rev. J. W. R. Beck.

Evening Service.

At the evening service, the Rector made a strong plea for a better understanding amongst Christians urging all to move more freely among their fellow citizens.

He based his sermon upon the text "Now therefore ye are no longer strangers."

No enterprising man or woman he remarked would choose to be an outsider when he could be a privileged member of any body. No one would be an outsider when he could enjoy the privileges of the home, and to this though he may be an undeserving member, the doors are always open. The Father in Heaven, he continued, has a household on earth, broader and more glorious than we can understand. All baptized Christians are members of the family. Many however do not value the privileges offered. Members of God's family are frequently referred to as Saints by St. Paul, and today there are saints, however, obscure, amongst us — Saints who are bravely fulfilling their duties and in so humble a spirit that they deem themselves unworthy of enjoying the privileges they have. God's message to such is to "be encouraged and confident." Saints besides being in God's family, should be good citizens brave citizens, expert and enthusiastic workers. We have, he said, a standard before us; let us look up to it. Let us all get into constant contact with the saints of to-day, and live amongst them. "It may," Canon Davidson concluded, "seem strange to talk of saints of to-day, but they are amongst us."

The Music.

All the music for the Festival of All Saints in St. John's yesterday had been carefully rehearsed, and the large choir splendidly led both the choral eucharist and evensong. The anthems, "Who are these, and whence came they?" and "God shall wipe away all tears," were finely sung, amply repaying the choristers for many hours of arduous rehearsal. The Festival concluded with Bishop Walsham How's beautiful hymn, "For all the Saints," to Sir Joseph Barnby's impressive music, and the "Alleluias" of the white-robed choristers were succeeded by the triumphant strains of the "Hallelujah" Chorus, played as a voluntary by Mr. R. J. Devey.

BE SUSPICIOUS OF TENDER GUMS

Be suspicious of any tenderness or bleeding of the gums. This is usually the first stage of Pyorrhea—an insidious disease of the gums that destroys the teeth and undermines bodily health.

Gradually the gums become spongy. They inflame, then shrink, thus exposing the unenameled tooth-base to the ravages of decay. Tiny openings in the gums form gateways for disease germs to enter the system. Medical science has traced many ills to these infecting germs in the gums weakened by Pyorrhea.

They are now known to be a frequent cause of indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious conditions.

So watch carefully for that first tenderness or bleeding of the gums. Try Forhan's immediately. It positively prevents Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) if used in time and used consistently.

And in preventing Pyorrhea—it guards against other ills.

Forhan's (For the Gums) cleans teeth scientifically as well. Brush your teeth with it. It keeps the teeth white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

MILKMEN WERE NOT UNANIMOUS

MILK PRODUCERS WILL HOLD ANOTHER MEETING TO DECIDE ON NEW PRICE.

"We have nothing to give out for publication", said Mr. T. D. N. Kelly of Bridgenorth, secretary of the Peterboro Milk Producers Association. The producers held a meeting Saturday evening in the Board of Trade Rooms. The meeting was called to consider the advisability of increasing the price of milk to the retailers which would ultimately result in an increase to the consumer. At present milk is selling in Peterboro for eleven and twelve cents a quart and the proposed new price would mean an increase to fourteen cents. The milkmen could not agree on a straight price of fourteen cents to the consumer with the result that another meeting will be held in the course of a few days. As the situation stands to-day the milkmen are selling their product all the way from eleven to fourteen cents a quart with little hope of standing together on a straight fourteen cent rate.

GERMANY TO MAKE GOOD SHIPS SUNK

Allies to Demand Payment for All Violations of Armistice Terms.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—Demands will be made of Germany that all violations of the armistice shall be made good. This has been decided upon by the Supreme Council, which has completed the protocol to the German Treaty.

The protocol provides that Germany shall surrender cruisers and destroyers to replace those sunk at Scapa Flow, and also surrender floating dry docks, lighters, trains, tugs and other naval equipment equal in value to that of the first-class battleships destroyed, which Germany cannot replace.

There is no provision in the protocol as to how the warships and naval supplies shall be divided among the allied and associated powers. Germany has been asked to send a Commission to Paris to sign the protocol and attend the formal ratification of the treaty.

The Supreme Council has completed its reply to the Bulgarian request for changes in the Peace Treaty, and will probably submit it to the Bulgarian representatives tomorrow, granting ten days for the signature.

SERIOUS DISEASES MORE PREVALENT IN PROVINCE

Smallpox, scarlet fever and diphtheria are much more prevalent in the Province just now than they were a year ago, according to the October report of the Provincial Board of Health. There are also more cases of whooping cough. There is, however, a decrease in the number of cases of measles, typhoid fever and tuberculosis. The mortality from diphtheria was 10.9.

Influenza was not reported to the board when the epidemic was at its worst last year, but undertakers' reports showed 8,000 deaths from this disease for the month. This year there have been few deaths from this disease.

BOY SHOOTS CHUM AND THEN HIMSELF

ACCIDENTALLY KILLS HIS COMPANION AND ENDS HIS OWN LIFE.

SARNIA, Nov. 2.— Laboring under the apprehension that he might have to face trial for the death of his chum, Joseph R. Barnes, aged 16, who was accidentally killed while on a hunting expedition in the woods near the town of Alvinston on Saturday afternoon, it is believed that John A. Horspool, also aged 16, turned the rifle on himself, death resulting almost instantaneously.

According to information received in this city, Barnes and Horspool, who reside a short distance from the town of Alvinston, accompanied by several other boy chums, started out on a hunting trip. After journeying a short distance in woods they sighted a squirrel, and armed with .22 calibre rifles, stood one on each side of the tree awaiting its descent. When the squirrel descended, Horspool fired but instead of snuffing out the life of the furry creature, the bullet found lodgment in Barnes' brain, causing almost instant death.

As Barnes fell, Horspool ran away, stating he was going for medical assistance. His last words were: "I've killed him, I've killed him." A minute later his companions heard another shot quite near by. An investigation was held and the body of Horspool was found with a gaping wound through his head. His body was but a few yards from that of his dead companion, accidently killed by the same gun.

The funerals of both youths will be held Monday, but the whole countryside has been stirred up over the tragedy, as both boys were well known throughout the county.

SPIRITUAL ADVISOR DIFFICULT TO GET

So far no spiritual comfort has been provided for the five prisoners awaiting execution in the goal. The chief difficulty one member of the Greek Catholic Church stated to-day lies in the fact that the Greek Priests in Toronto speak the Greek language while the prisoners speak Russian. He said that a Serbian priest of the Greek Church could understand the Russian tongue if one could be found.

POLICE USE AIRPLANE FOR WORK IN SAN FRANCISCO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 3.—The success of the airplane as an aid to police work was demonstrated here when San Francisco's aerial patrolman, Ivan Gates, made his first trip. He flew to Alameda, across the bay, and took aboard James M. Kelly, wanted on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Gates brought his prisoner to the city jail. City officials witnessed the landing.

CLAIMS STREET RAILWAY WILL MAKE PROFIT.

Winnipeg City Solicitor's Statement Derided by General Manager.

WINNIPEEG, Nov. 3.—That the Winnipeg Electric Railway stands to make three times as much money under the increased fare award as it will take to meet the additional wage outlay is the gist of a letter from T. A. Hunt, City Solicitor, to the Transportation Committee, which is to meet soon to discuss street railway affairs. General Manager A. W. McLimont of the Street Railway characterizes Mr. Hunt's statements as ridiculous.

NO PAY FOR CHINESE ARMY.

Even the President is Unpaid and Has to Borrow $1,000,000.

PEKING.—The financial situation in China is increasingly acute. The Government's inability to pay the troops occasions fear of general mutinies. Consequently pro-Japanese officials are endeavouring to negotiate a loan unofficially from Japan, ostensibly to preserve peace, but really to retain their posts. Government employees have not been paid since April. The President himself has received no salary and has had to borrow $1,000,000 to enable him to meet his official expenditures.

The House of Representatives has voted to reduce military expenditures 20 per cent.

A movement has been started for abolishing the autonomony of Outer Mongolia on condition that China undertakes the responsibility for the foreign loans which have been contracted. The movement is expected to have good influence when the Tibetans, who have been agitating for independence.

It takes a hundred cents to make a dollar, but it takes more than a dollar's worth of sense to make a man.

COATS!

Any Day Now, Maybe To-morrow, There'll Be Snow in the Air

No matter how mild the weather we must remember that it is the month of November and sooner or later the Autumn sky will give way to snow-laden clouds of winter. It may be to-day or it may be to-morrow, or a week hence, but assuredly it cannot be postponed for long. Then what a hurry-scurry there'll be for warm wraps Alteration rooms will be over-crowded and vexatious delays will follow. She who is far-sighted will select now, and for her we have an assemblage of Coats in a variety of styles that embody gracefulness of line and protect the wearer on bleak days.

THERE is a Coat here of Brown Silvertone Velour that some Woman will purchase before many days, and we hope this message reaches her. It has the fashionable ripple back and two pleats commence under the Opossum collar and disappear under the arms. The cuffs are Opossum, and there is a double string belt in front. The pockets are tiny slot affairs, and there is Satin Lining to the waist and interlined. Price $95.00.

IF we called this Taupe Velour Coat a Dolman, it would be a misnomer, for the sleeves, though on the Dolman order, differ because the material under the arm and draped to the back is single, not double. They would be better described as Butterfly or Bat Wing pattern. The back is adorned with a broad belt, and the shawl collar and cuffs are of Hudson Seal, and the pockets are trimmed with same. It is lined throughout with Pussy Willow Taffeta. Price $149.00.

ONE of the smartest backs that this season has produced is defined on the Russian Blouse order, with the characteristic fulness above the waistline, and garnished with a row of three buttons on either side. The material is Brown Silvertone and the collar is the desirable three-way pattern. The cuffs are deep, and like the front are trimmed with bone buttons. Price $48.50.

THIS number of Grey Silvertone Velour makes a special appeal to the woman whose price for a Coat is $45.00 The back is loose swanger fashion, with a bone button to cap the box pleats that commence on the shoulders and soon lose themselves in the fulness of the other ripples. The collar is muffler fashion, and a string belt commences at the sides and fastens in front; patch pockets button trimmed; lined to the waist with Silk Poplin. Again we mention the price for it is worth while—$45.00.

THE wearer of this Coat will find much comfort within its spacious folds. The material is Prunella Silvertone Velour. The sleeves are the Dolman pattern, and the pockets are uniquely arranged. The belt is on the front only, the collar is the three-way style. The back panel is formed of pin tucks and in a row, up the centre, to the waist line, are self-covered buttons. The lining is a fancy floral Satin. Price $87.00.

THE quality of Black Plush is "Salts"—this is sufficient to recommend its durability. Across the back of the shoulders is a gathered yoke, finished with six plush buttons, and it is from here the Skirt of the garment secures a comfortable fulness. The collar is of Kolinsky, which means much to the wearer. The front is plain, except for the large Plush buttons used for fastening. Lined throughout with a heavy quality Black Italian Satin. Price $69.00.

PETERBORO WILL BE ABOUT SIX HOUSES RICHER AS RESULT OF NEW BUILDINGS

FEW OTHER CITIES IN THE PROVINCE HAS SHOWN AS LITTLE PROGRESS AS THE CITY IN WHICH WE LIVE—A SUMMARY OF THE YEAR'S ACTIVITIES.

Ontario, excluding the city of Toronto, will be about 1,500 houses the richer by the end of November through the season's activities of the Provincial Housing Commission out of this number Peterboro can boast of about six. This is really a remarkable achievement when it is borne in mind that the municiptlities which availed themselves of the housing scheme passed by the Legislature did not start building until last April, and that many of them could not begin work until about three months ago. The rural districts have certainly "got a move on."

Applications approved for loans number 1,500, and of this number approximately 600 were granted to returned soldiers. In over 500 of the latter cases the full cost of the house and land has been made without any cash payment being required. Between 300 and 400 houses have already been completed and are in occupation, while every one of the remainder has a tenant-owner awaiting completion by the end of November.

93 Municipalities in it.

Altogether 93 municipalities have come under the act including 18 cities, 43 towns, 18 villages, and 14 townships, while about 10 other cities and towns contemplate following their example. This means that all the cities in the province, with the exception of two, will take advantage of the Provincial Housing Commission's scheme and practically all the towns.

Appropriations aggregating $10,620,000 have been granted to 83 of the municipalities, and 70 of them are actually building. The others are developing their schemes and will put them into effect next year.

Windsor Leads.

Windsor heads every place in the province with a building programme for 1919 of about 150 houses, while Hamilton, Oshawa and Niagara Falls are each constructing approximately 100 houses. Approximate figures for other municipalities are: Brantford, 30; New Toronto, 60; the Soo, 60; Ford City, 30; London, 20; Ottawa, 50; Paris, 20; Port Colborne, 30; Sarnia, 20; St. Catharines, 25; Sudbury, 30; York Township, 50; Iroquois Falls, 50; Hawkesbury, 50; Port Credit, 30. The whole of the houses at Port Credit are for returned soldiers.

4,000 Next Year.

"Next year," said J. A. Ellis, the director of the Provincial Housing Commission, "the municipalities contemplate erecting 4,000 houses at least. None of the other provinces, with the exception of British Columbia, has yet started actual building, so that Ontario is again the first province in the Dominion."

Windsor has the most ambitious scheme for 1920, planning to put up between 600 and 700 houses. Ottawa has already mapped out a scheme for the construction of 300 houses in the spring, every one of which is already taken. Niagara Falls contemplates erecting 300 while Hamilton can easily do the same.

Hamilton's Methods.

Hamilton, perhaps, leads every place in the province in its methods of convenience to home-builders. The city has a complete list of all vacant land within its borders, and each piece has its price. Anybody seeking for land on which to erect a home calls at the office of the local Housing Committee, and takes his choice from this list. If the site or the cost does not suit him he is at liberty to get a better bargain. Providing he is shown a set of 30 approved plans from which he may select, each plan being priced. This system provides for individuality as far as is humanly possible.

The general average cost of the houses being erected in the province runs between $3,000 and $4,000 each.

SUNKEN EYES BRIGHTEN QUICKLY, HEALTH RETURNS

IN A MESSAGE TO AILING WOMEN DR. HAMILTON TELLS HOW IT IS DONE.

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to, which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all womankind is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvellous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Butternut, every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition that any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c boxes.

PLENTY OF WORK AND GOOD WAGES

CONTINUANCE OF HAPPY CONDITIONS LARGELY DEPENDENT ON VICTORY LOAN.

Steady employment at good wages is the fortunate position of most of the workers in Canada at the present time. This is as it should be and it must be kept that way. Employers and employees alike are greatly concerned in the continuance of the propsperity prevailing in Canada now. The future depends on the success of the Victory Loan 1919.

The workers are getting so used to "good times" that they are taking a lot for granted but they must not shirk their plain duty in regard to the purchase of Victory Bonds. The proceeds of the loan will be spent entirely in Canada which means that millions of dollars, much of it now idle in the banks, will be put into circulation. It will provide work in plenty in all lines of industry and will benefit everyone in the land, directly or indirectly.

These are facts to be considered seriously by the workers. The Victory Loan 1919 has a most important bearing on their good jobs besides being an investment beyond comparison. Victory bonds must be subscribed for most liberally if Canada's present prosperity is to continue.

EVERY MOTHER WHO LOST A SON IN WAR TO GET A SILVER CROSS

VICTORIA, B.C., Nov. 3.—Major-Gen. Mewburn, minister of militia and defence, speaking at a re-union of 16th Battalion members here, announced that a silver cross, hung from a purple ribbon, would be given to every mother who had lost a boy at the front. Eight war memorials were to be erected to the memory of Canadians who fell overseas. One of them would take the form of a hall of records, while the others would be memorials commemorating the fallen.

A BODY HUNG TO RAFTERS IN HEART OF TOWN

DISCOVERED IN STABLE LOFT NEAR TOWN HALL IN WHITBY.

WHITBY, Nov. 3.—Whitby found itself very much excited when the news was spread around that a suicide by means of hanging had been committed in the loft of an old stable to the rear of Tony Calderone's fruit store, south of the town hall. Whether it was a case of suicide or a case of foul play has not yet been determined as the deed must have been committed several months ago. The body has decayed so badly that there is no flesh left and the cuticle is dried on the bones. The clothes have become rotten. The odor emanating from the body was horrible.

Chinese Boy?

While considerable mystery surrounds the identity of the dead person, it is believed he is Seto On, a brother of Joe On, who runs the Chinese restaurant here. The Chinese lad who was fifteen years old, and attended Henry street school, was last heard of, according to his brother, on March 25th last, the latter stated that he had telephoned to Toronto, Hamilton, Oshawa, as to his whereabouts, but never received any information.

Inquest Held.

The body was discovered by Tony Calderone who went to the stable in order to prepare the loft to take in a load of hay. The officials were notified and an inquest was immediately held, Dr. McGillivray, coroner, presiding. After being sworn in the jury went to the stable to view the body. The position of the corpse indicated hanging as a cause of death, as a barrel was placed at the feet and the body was suspended from a beam by means of a narrow rope.

STOLE RUG IN BROAD DAYLIGHT.

Daring Thief Entered Butler House and Carried Away Expensive Rug.

A daring thief, and one with a considerable amount of gall, walked into the Butler House, Lindsay, and stole a large and expensive rug from the sitting-room floor. The robbery was committed in broad daylight, and the wonder is that he did not carry away the other rug on the same floor.

THE MILK DRIVERS THREATEN STRIKE

WANTED FIFTY DOLLARS A WEEK AND ANNUAL VACATION.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 3. — Governor Alfred Smith was credited to-day with averting a threatened milk drivers' strike. Appearing before a meeting of eight thousand drivers and helpers, the Governor over-rode the radical councillors.

The men accepted a compromise offer of $35 a week with two per cent. of the collections and a six day week. They had asked $50 weekly with one week's vacation a year.

Voice Of The People

The Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—An Irishman has the privilege of speaking twice, and so I crave space to have another word with Mr. Burnham. He has failed utterly to reply to my contention, which was, that the Creator never intended the excreta of the yeast germ, or of any other germ, for man's consumption. I know that all living things, even those which are microscopic, live and move and have their being in God. What I intended saying in my recent letter was not to deny this, but that God is not responsible for the mischief which certain germs work when they get into grains or grapes, any more than He is responsible for the mischief which the germ which causes blood poisoning works when it gets into man's body. God made man: He did not make man's sin,—that is the product of a wrong use of man's powers. God made the yeast germ: He did not make alcohol, which is the waste product, the excreta, of this germ, and He did not intend for man's consumption a poison so deadly. A writer in Saturday's "Globe" puts the matter in the same way. He says: "Just as ptomaine is the product of germs in the decay of animal matter, so alcohol, one of the poisons of the decay of vegetable matter, is inimical to life Neither of these poisons was made to be injected into the human system, even though the Creator made the germs which produce them.

INDICT 21 FOR MURDER.

Arkansas Court and Grand Jury Prosecuting Elaine Negro Rioters.

HELENA, Ark., Oct. 31.—The Phillips County Grand Jury returned twenty-one indictments charging murder in the first degree against negroes held for participation in the negro insurrection at Elaine, Ark., the first wek in October. There are two charges of murder against some.

Approximately 100 cases are to be investigated and the Grand Jury will resume work to-morrow. The session of the court has attarted much interest, but no excitement or demonstration has marked the conduct of those in the court room. G. P. Casey, a white lawyer of Helena, will be brought here to-morow. The charge against him has not been made public, but he is wanted in connection with the insurrection.

Faint and Dizzy Spells

Weakness and Shortness of Breath

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinking, all-gone feeling, choking sensation, etc.

Many men and women becomes run-down and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes:—"I have used on towards the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

NINETY TONS OF COAL ON FIRE

LINDSAY, Nov. 3—All day and all night on Thursday and all day Friday Chief Beadle, of the Fire Department, watched carefully the smouldering of fire in ninety tons of coal at the Central School, Lindsay. Shovel by shovel the coal is being moved until the firemen get at the seat of the trouble. Very few scholars knew that there was a fire smouldering in the basement.

FORMAL RATIFICATION HARDLY BEFORE NOV. 20.

PARIS, Nov. 3—The Supreme Council of the Peace Conference held a long discussion Saturday of the date for the formal ratification of the German Peace Treaty. No positive decision was reached, but it is said to be unlikely that the date will be an earlier one than November 20.

A MAN MAY BE DOWN— BUT HE'S NEVER OUT

TOM MOORE DEMONSTRATES Th. FACT IN "THE CITY OF COMRADES."

That a tramp with a valet is an anomaly everyone will agree. A masculine motion picture star without one is even more of a rarity. Yet, Tom Moore as a star in Goldwin pictures has in the person of "Lovey" a companion who is a more faithful valet than can be found in many a millionaire's palace. It is a curious association. "Lovey," a tramp by inclination and desire, surrounds Frank with a devotion that is dog-like; yet withal it is not a good influence. For his devotion Frank has to pay in loss of character. The old man encourages him to drink, to give away to every temptation, to resist the promptings of conscience, to descend from rather than to regain the position he has lost. Yet in return he gives genuine devotion even though it is selfish.

Events change the lives of both. Frank rehabilitates himself despite the efforts of "Lovey" to prevent it, and when he puts behind him the old life it means everything but "Lovey." He sticks, himself reformed through sheer devotion, and instead of giving that affection, the only tangible evidence of which was constant companionship, he becomes Frank's valet.

When the young man enlists in the Canadian forces and is sent to Halifax, the old fellow goes with him. He does not hope to follow his master overseas, but merely wants to be with him until the last hour. In the terrible disaster which cuts short Frank's plans, both are buried beneath the ruins of a demolished building. Then the young soldier proves his devotion by rescuing "Lovey" at the imminent risk of his own life. That is how Tom Moore pays.

At that the star of "The City of Comrades," which will be shown at the Allen Theatre to-day and to-morrow, has not changed his inflexible views on the subject of valets in real life. For himself he says they are superfluous.

WANT TO GRIN? SEE "RIP AND STITCH, TAILORS" AT THE ALLEN

It may be far-fetched to say that a screen comedy will make even a blind man laugh, but it may be accepted as true that "Rip and Stitch, Tailors," the new Mack-Sennett comedy, which is being shown to-day and to-morrow at the Allen Theatre, will make anybody except a blind man grin to the limit of his cachinatory muscles. It could not be otherwise with such sterling fun-makers as Harry Gribbon, Alice Davenport, Hughie Mack and Myrtle Lind portraying the leading roles.

This is a charming comedy dealing with the love affairs of an amorous tailor and his fair customers. Even a dog and cat, not to speak of a cute baby, assist in the development of the story. The comedy is guaranteed to make you laugh side splittingly every ten seconds.

"ZEPPS" MADE HIM STEAL.

London.—The novel plea that nervousness occasioned by the Zeppelin and airplane raids on England during the war had caused him to steal was entered by counsel for Alfred Harpham, a Midland railway goods foreman. "My client has never been sane since the narrow escape he had in three bombing raids," the solicitor declared. The magistrate reserved decision in the case.

DIED IN WINNIPEG

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 3.—The death of Dr. Allen Henry Weagant, dentist, took place here on Saturday. He was born at Williamsburg, Ont., in 1851. He practiced for many years at Smith's Falls, Ont., and came to Winnipeg in 1908. His only son, Grant Allen, died in 1907, at the age of 16 years. He is survived by his widow, one brother Alex of Autsville, Ont., and three sisters.

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—By their spectacular playing here on Saturday, when they defeated Ottawa by 15 to 6. Montreal earned the right to battle with Hamilton for the championship of the Interprovincial Union The game was considered by old-time football authorities as one of the most thrilling gridiron contests ever witnessed here. It kept a crowd of 5,000 fans alight with excitement from start to finish, and during one of the tense moments in the last quarter a spectator, Harry L. Shaw, died from heart failure.

UNION OF FORCES AMONG CHURCHES

BIG MEETING WILL BE HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The arrangements for the great Inter-denominational Forward Movement involves a most pleasing expression of Church unity.

On Wednesday evening of this week every church in our city will abandon the usual mid-week service and a great union of forces will take place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The one speaker will be Rev. Dr. Graham, of the Methodist body, than whom this great denomination has no more capable speaker between the two oceans. The service of praise will be led by a large union choir. There is no doubt, about St. Andrew's being crowded to capacity. It would be well for those planning to hear Dr. Graham to be in their places early.

This is the first of a series of union meetings to be held on the first Wednesday of each month during the entire Forward Movement campaign, under the auspices of the Ministerial Association.

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatisms, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

VALUES IT MORE THAN A FORTUNE

POWER GAINS EIGHTEEN POUNDS—RHEUMATISM DISAPPEARS AFTER TAKING TANLAC.

"I consider what Tanlac has done for me to be worth more than a fortune," said George Power, of Halifax, N.S., while talking to the Tanlac representative a few days ago. Mr. Power lives at 20½ Rottenberg St., Halifax, has lived in Nova Scotia all his life, and is a well known employee of the Nova Scotia Tram and Power Co.

"I've actually gained eighteen pounds since taking Tanlac, and I feel better in every way than I have in twenty-eight long years, and what's more, I have spent hundreds and hundreds of dollars on medicines and never got a particle of good until I found Tanlac," continued Mr. Power.

"I had rheumatism in both my legs from the knees down, and in damp weather I just had to stay at home from work. My ankles bothered me too, and I don't believe anybody in the world ever suffered from rheumatism as bad as I did, for it was just a sharp shooting pain that would go through my knees, down my legs and into my ankles like somebody was sticking a knife through me, and I would be in such agony that I would turn as white as a sheet. When these attacks came on me I wouldn't be able to sleep a wink, but would roll and tumble all night long, and my joints would swell and my knees would be as stiff as a board and I couldn't walk a step for two or three days at a time, and would be laid up at home flat on my back with my knees so stiff I couldn't bend them at all.

"I noticed where Tanlac was being highly recommended by people right here in Halifax, so I decided to try it. And I wouldn't take anything in the world for the good it has done me. If anybody don't believe that I am a well man, and that the rheumatism has left me entirely, and that I never feel even a trace of it, just tell them to see me. My appetite has picked up and I have gained in weight and feel better in every way, and can sleep fine at night. Tanlac is the greatest thing I have ever seen, and I want you to publish this statement for I want everybody to know what this medicine will do."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd.; in Havelock by A. C. Denike; in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd.; in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter; in Gelert by A. J. Scott; in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son.

DISPENSING CHEMIST

407 George Street. - - Peterborough, Ont.

DON'T you feel the spell of our old town? It is our home, our refuge. Sometimes we feel the charm of the place so intensely that we wonder why anybody lives elsewhere. But all experience the same sentiment about their own home-town.

The aim is to build it up—to make it larger, richer, happier for ourselves and our children.

This you can only do by being faithful to its interests—by buying the things you need from your local merchants. They deserve your patronage—the distant mail-order houses don't. Then quit using their catalogues and magazine advertisements as your store.

When you send money away from your town, it never comes back. When you spend money in your town, the chances are that it will again find its way nto your pocket.

Watch Running?

Is it always running fast or slow? Never quite on time? Perhaps the watch is capable of very accurate running, but it is not in perfect order.

You know the tiny mechanism of a watch absolutely demands that each of the dozens of little parts—springs, wheels, jewels, etc,—be just right, or good timing is out of the question.

WATCH REPAIRING is a specialty of ours.

OH! THAT LITTLE WORD "IF."

If you don't want to be "served with chaff,"
Go to Nelson's, George Street 332 and a half;
When wanting a typewriter, don't mind the cost,
If you pick a poor one, your money is lost;
A good one will last you for many a year,
Will give good service by keeping in gear.
Nelson knows what's the best and will show how each works, and how fast they can go.
His Typist, too, will serve each patron in turn,
While her fingers flip on—her salary to earn.

Y.M.C.A. MINSTRELS:

Every member of the Y. M. C. A. Minstrels is asked to be present at the regular practice to-morrow evening at 7.45. The date of the show is approaching, and less than one month remains now. After the practice to-morrow evening a social time with refreshments will be on the programme.

The songs and special numbers this year will undoubtedly make the programme much more attractive even than last year, and those who are looking forward to this big event can be assured that it will be unexcelled as a musical attraction. The subscription lists are now out, and those desiring the best seats should see that their names are on one of these subscribers' lists, which are in the hands of members of the chorus and those interested, as well as some of the younger members of the association. From present indications the Opera House will be sold out both nights in advance of the dates, Nov. 27th and 28th.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

MUTT AND JEFF'S DREAM.

Mutt and Jeff took capacity audiences at the Grand by storm on Saturday in their latest success, "Mutt and Jeff's Dream," which is conceded to be the funniest of all their exploits. Every feature of the play was new and the plot cleverly worked out from the time the two principals were overcome by drugs until the last of their dream exploits, which included a little bit of everything, even to the murder of their wives. The chorus was composed of pretty girls who had mastered the art of singing clever and witty songs and of dancing.

"HAVEN'T GOT TIME"

Of all the excuses there are
By which this old world is accursed,
This "haven't got time" is far
The poorest, the feeblest, the worst.
A delusion it is, and a snare;
If the habit is yours, you should shake it;
For if you want to do what is offered to you
You'll find time to do it, or make it.

A MOTHER'S EXPERIENCE.

Almost invariably it falls to the lot of the mother to buy the clothing for the younger boys of the family, and with it she assumes the responsibility of getting the best value for her money. Often, the temptation comes to refer to an out-of-town catalogue that might be lying around in the hope that she may save a dollar or two on the transaction.

Recently the mother of two growing boys needed a suit for each of the lads; and, realizing something of the upward tendency of clothing, decided to try her chances by ordering from a Toronto catalogue. The suits were picked out and arrived in due time, but so completely disappointing in quality that they were forthwith returned. It was hinted that if a little better price would bring a better quality of goods the house might try and do better next time. Along came the second lot of suits, but these turned out equally unsatisfactory, to the consequent annoyance and discomforture of the anxious mother. The result was that these suits also went back, after all the trouble and bother, and thus the two boys were still unsuited. Finally the lady came to inspect the boys' clothing in a George street clothing store, where she purchased just what she wanted without any trouble, and at a price twenty-five per cent. less than was asked for the Toronto suits. The lady left the store perfectly satisfied with her purchase, with the remark that she was through with out-of-town catalogues.

The home merchants have your interests at heart. Away from home you deal entirely with strangers, who care little or nothing for your future welfare.

THE PETERBORO RUGBYISTS LOST TO BELLEVILLE BY SCORE OF 5-1

LOCAL BOYS GOT AWAY TO A BAD START—STORY OF THE GAME.

Fatigued by a 75 mile ride in automobiles and an almost sleepless night spent on the mats in the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium for lack of other accommodation, the local Collegiate Institute rugby team went down to defeat before the Belleville High school team on Albert College Field Saturday afternoon in Belleville by a score of 5-1. The local boys put up a hard fight but were handicapped by the loss of Hunter, the flying wing, who was injured early in the game.

First Half.

After the kick-off, Belleville, by a series of bucks led by McGee, the star back, pushed the ball well up toward the Peterborough goal line, and for a time things looked rather dangerous. Peterborough, however, held them, and soon turned the tables, when Hunter, the flying wing, was tackled and fell, injuring his ankle. Pogue took his place, but from then on Belleville had matters much their own way, and it was with difficulty that the local boys prevented them from scoring. Score at the end of the first half—Belleville 0, Peterborough 0.

Second Half.

Soon after the second half opened the effects of the preceding night began to be noticeable on the P. C. I. team and Belleville scored a rouge and a goal kick in rapid succession. P. C.I. then got the ball to within a few yards of the Belleville goal twice, but each time they were pushed back to their own goal. The second time Deacon of Belleville broke through the Peterborough line and scored an unearned try. P.C.I. made one last effort to tie the score by a touchdown, but were only able to score a goal kick. Score at the end of the second half—Belleville 5, Peterborough 1.

The Line-Up.

The teams line-up as follows:

Peterborough—Flying wing, Hunter, Pogue; backs, Green, Mowat, Brooks; quarter-back, Stevenson; scrimmage, Fanning, McBrien, Mason; inside wings, Sloane, Huff; middle wings, Elshor, Bleacker, Young; outside wings, Carmichael, Shortly, Pogue.

Belleville — Flying wing, Dyes; backs, McGie, Weir, Cooper; quarter-back, Deacon; scrimmage, Kerr, Hagerman, Rightmeyer; inside wings, Cole, Vanderwater; middle wings, Diamond, McWilliams; outside wings, Swain, Maddens.

Referee—C. S. Brown.

After the game the two teams were entertained in the High School by the Belleville girls at a supper and dance.

LOU MARSH RECALLS A HISTORIC RUGBY INCIDENT

To the Toronto Telegram.

Sir,—In view of the fact that in Wednesday's paper I fully, and without prompting or pressure, explained the mistake by which "things" was changed into "thugs" in my comment in Tuesday's paper on the Burkart-Herescontch incidents, I do not think you should have published "Fair Sport's" letter on Wednesday. He wants to know what happened to me for planting one on Bill Crowley's jaw in days of old. Sure I'll tell him. I'm not ashamed. The O.R.F.U. was preparing to suspend or expel me for rough play, when I got word of it, and prevailed on the late W. J. Slee, then president or secretary, to squelch action on my promise to quit football. I haven't played since. When I cracked Crowley I was giving him a receipt for a rap on the mouth he gave me a short time before. His was a dandy, too, because it stopped me dead in my tracks. I didn't "make myself scarce," as "Fair Play" alleges, and I met Crowley after the game and we dressed in the game room. The battle was not resumed then, because Crowley's jaw was fractured. He promised me a lacing later, but I am still in his debt. The management of the Victoria team knows why I did not go to Lindsay for the play-off, and either they or I will tell "Fair Play" privately. By the way, Crowley was not at Lindsay, either, for the play-off. His jaw was too sore. I was right back in Peterborough the next time the team went, and Crowley came here. I was carried off the field in Peterborough twice, from good, healthy haymakers with big Gene Hurtubise, the heavyweight wrestling champion, but nobody ever thought of expelling "Hurty" for rough play; and I was right back in Peterborough for the next game.

I've met all the boys right down in Peterborough since, while refereeing hockey matches, and they are the best friends I have.

Don't worry, I got plenty of hard knocks in the old days, and I guess I handed out a few, too, and I guess if the O.R.F.U. had expelled me they would have been doing about what was right. I know now what I didn't admit then—that there is no place in Rugby or any other sport for a player who deliberately uses his fists, feet, head, or elbows to disable an opponent. The sooner a few battlers are expelled the better it will be for the game and its future.

If "Fair Sport" is such a "Fair Sport," why does he take refuge behind a nom de plume in seeking publicity for his ideas? I don't.

Lou E. Marsh.

PETERBOROUGH TRUCK WHICH NEARLY WENT OVER BRIDGE

A heavy oil tank, driven by William Clancy, Jr., crashed into the railing of the Smith Street Bridge a few days ago, carrying it away for a distance of thirty feet, and leaving the truck stranded over the base of the cement pickets, with the front part of the car suspended in mid-air and the rear wheels on the sidewalk. Fortunately no one was hurt. The river is quite deep at this point.

BROMWICH TAKE SECOND PLACE — 40,000 AT CHELSEA GAME.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Notts County, who were beaten a week ago by West Bromwich Albian 8 to 0, turned this into a 3-0 victory yesterday, despite the fact that West Bromwich had their international players. Bromwich, therefore, takes second place in the league. Aston Villa at half-time were behind Middlesboro' 3 to 2, but came up handsomely later. G. Cook, formerly of Huddersfield, helped Chelsea finely against Bradford, Chelsea getting their most decisive victory this season. There was an attendance of 40,000, including King Alfonso.

Woolwich proved as difficult as ever to beat away from home, although they had much the worse of the play before the interval. Manchester United look like being the surprise team of the season. Burslem-Portvale proved an easy victim to Tottenham Hotspur, but have the satisfaction of having forfeited fewer goals than any other team meeting Tottenham this season.

Stoke, with their attack strengthened by Brown and Whittingham, scored a great success at Rotherham. Reading regained the leadership of the Southern League, Swindon making a mess of Queen's Park's fine goal record.

THE FINAL VICTORY LOAN

Editorial in The Globe, Toronto, Sept. 16, 1919

Preparations for the launching of the final Victory Loan have been begun. From this time forward until the end of the campaign public interest in the financial condition of the Dominion will increase steadily. There is need for a discussion not only of the fundamentals of National Finance, but for the diffusion of information all over the country as to the purposes for which this specific loan is required. The war is over. The appeal to the win-the-war spirit—so effective in the floating of former loans—cannot be made upon this occasion. Instead, there must be an appeal to the common sense of the people and to their desire to do all that is possible to bring about the restoration of normal conditions in the Dominion.

The first thing that must be impressed upon the public mind is the fact that a large part of the money called for is required to wipe out the indebtedness of the Government to Canadian banks that have advanced great sums—almost a quarter of a billion dollars—to enable the Government to grant credits for the purchase of goods for export to Allied countries that are unable to pay cash for all the Canadian provisions and other products they require. The loan is needed also to meet the heavy expenditures attending the demobilization of the Canadian overseas forces. Gratuities and back pay run into enormous sums. The credits to Great Britain to enable her to continue buying Canadian products have been very large. Greece, Roumania, and Belgium have been supplied with foodstuffs, clothing, and implements through a loan of seventy-five million dollars made by the Canadian Government to the Governments of these countries. Sir Henry Drayton says that further credits will have to be made to finance the export of our natural products. The loans will be repaid in time, and such portions of them as are not promptly liquidated by the importation of British and continental European goods into Canada will remain to the credit of the Canadian people as an investment of capital on which interest will be drawn.

It is good to have considerable investments abroad instead of remaining—as Canada was before the war—almost exclusively a debtor nation. In pre-war days, for example, the British people had almost three billion dollars invested in Canada. They owned huge blocks of national, Provincial, and municipal securities. They held the bulk of the bonds and stock of our railways. They had much money in Western lands and in Eastern manufacturing enterprises. Large blocks of bank capital were British. It required the export of about a hundred and fifty million dollars' worth of Canadian products yearly to pay even the interest on this great investment. That fact indicates why Canadian exports to Great Britain were greater than Canada's imports from Great Britain. They had to be about a hundred and fifty million greater if we were not to keep going more deeply into debt year by year through the reinvestment of British money in Canada.

During the war the British people sold or put in pledge large amounts of Canadian securities—not less probably than half a billion dollars' worth—and Canadians have been buying these securities by means of a large surplus of exports. It is anticipated that after all the war accounts are balanced Canada will have reduced her debt to British capital by at least half a billion dollars, and that hereafter she will have to export twenty-five million dollars' worth less of her products than in pre-war years to pay her annual interest bill to Great Britain.

But it may be argued that the Canadian people as a whole will not benefit because some of them owe less to some of the British people than they did before the war. This is a mistaken view. It is true that there has been a vast increase of Canada's internal debt because of the war. For a period of years too long to estimate with any degree of certainty all the people of Canada as taxpayers will have to pay about $120,000,000 a year as interest on the war debt to the much smaller number of Canadians who hold war bonds. But when we get down to concrete cases instead of dealing in the mass the debt burden of two billions does not look so hopelessly large. The interest amounts to about $15 per year per head. Every shop girl or domestic or workingman who has been able to buy three hundred dollars' worth of Victory bonds—and their numbers run up into hundreds of thousands—will get annually in interest from the Government a little more than enough to pay his or her share of the taxation due to war debt. In other words, their savings cancel their share of the debt.

Had the country tried to finance its war expenditure by foreign instead of internal loans—supposing that to have been possible—the condition of Canada would have been vastly more serious to-day. Our debt to external creditors would have been over four and a half billion dollars, and to pay the interest at the current rate would have involved the export of about two hundred and thirty million dollars' worth of Canadian products yearly without any corresponding imports. The effect upon the manufacturers and merchants of Canada of such a drain would have been almost ruinous, for the people of the Dominion would have their buying capacity very seriously reduced by the export of their products to pay interest on the external debt. It is therefore of great importance that the Canadian people as a whole should owe some of the Canadian people the bulk of the money spent in prosecuting the war. The interest is spent in the country, and benefits in the spending all classes of the community—the debtor as well as the creditor.

If the argument here presented is a sound one, then it follows that to the very limit of our capacity we should continue to buy Victory Bonds. The new issue will have to yield at least four hundred million dollars to enable the National Treasury to discharge its obligations during the current financial year. Victory Bonds are an excellent investment, but they are more than that. They are a sign that Canadians have faith in their country, in its vast resources, in the stability of its Government, in the will and the power of the people to build up and maintain a civilization which will stand the greatest stress that can be brought to bear upon the foundations whereon the Dominion has been reared.

Um! Um!—But It's Good!

GIVE the growing youngsters plenty of Maccaroni, the muscle-building food.

They'll enjoy the wholesome, delicious succulence of Puccini's "Lion Brand." It has more food value than most foods that cost much more. That's worth knowing in these days of high prices.

Insist on Puccini's "Lion Brand." No other make is "Just as Good."

Dead Town Is Always Shunned

Community With Such a Reputation Suffers As from a Pestilence

Rests With The Citizens

People Can Create and Maintain Prosperity If They will Keep Their Money at Home In Circulation

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

"Stay away from that town. It's a dead one."

Do you want that to be said of your town? Of course you don't, for you wish, as a matter of local pride, if for no other reason, to have your town stand high in the estimation of the world. But are you sure that you are doing everything in your power to place your town in the position which you wish to occupy? That is the question that every person should ask himself or herself at frequent intervals.

When things are running smoothly, when times are good, and when it is fairly easy to make a good living for the wife and kiddies, it is so easy for a man to forget that these things do not come to a town as a matter of course, but are the result of the right kind of effort on the part of the citizens of the community. It is so easy for a man to grow careless and think that because this condition existed it will continue to exist without any effort on his part or that of the other residents of the community. That is why it is important for every one to stop and think seriously once in a while about what it would mean to him if the prosperity that makes life worth living for him should take wing and fly away.

Nobody Loves a Dead Town.

Nobody likes to live in a dead town. No one even likes to visit a dead town. That is why you sometimes hear that warning, "Stay away from that town. It's a dead one." The town which has the reputation of being a dead one suffers as if from a pestilence. Business men seeking new locations will have none of it. The live travelling salesman, even, will give it a wide berth. Those who live in it will get away if they can.

When a town is live and prosperous local business is good, real estate values are high and stable, labour is in demand and wages are good, the streets are well lighted, the residents and their property are protected from robbery and fire, and good schools are maintained for the education of the children. When a town is dead, there is little money in circulation, store buildings stand empty with "For Sale" signs hanging on the front door, there is little employment for the labouring man, the streets are dark, the schools are crippled.

What sort of town do you want to live in? There is only one answer to that question. You want to live in the live town and enjoy all the good things that come to the residents of such a community.

Answer Easily Found.

The only question then is as to how these prosperous conditions can be created or maintained, and it is the easiest thing in the world to find the answer to that question.

If the people of a community will keep their money at home and keep it in circulation among themselves, they need have no fear of ever being compelled to live in a dead town. If the people will patronise their own business men instead of sending their dollars to the mail order houses, the prosperity of the community will take care of itself.

The local stores, to a very large extent, make every town. The taxes paid by the business men of the community are the principal support of the schools and public institutions. It is the taxes paid by the storekeepers, to a large extent, that make possible the public improvements, the fire protection, the street lighting, and the many other things which make a town worth living in. The mail order house does not pay any taxes in the town from which it gets its money. It does not help to support schools or the churches. It does not help light the streets or maintain the fire department. It is the aim of the mail order houses to drive small town merchants out of business, so that the people will be compelled to send to the cities for their merchandise and they are spending thousands of dollars every month to accomplish this purpose. If they should succeed, who would pay the taxes that are now paid by the local merchants? It's a certainty that the mail order house would not pay them.

Issue Is Clear Cut.

Every dollar spent at home helps to make the town a live one.

Every dollar sent away from home to the mail order house helps to make the town a dead one.

The issue is a clear-cut one, and is squarely up to every resident of the town itself or of the country surrounding it. The man who does not care whether he lives in a live or a dead town, if there is such a thing, need waste no thought on the subject but the man who wants to live in a live town cannot get away from it. It is up to him to make his town a live one or a dead one.

CHLOROFORM IN SURGERY.

The Horrors That Were Stopped by Its Use as an Anaesthetic.

Sir James Simpson, who was connected with the medical department of Edinburgh university, if not actually the discoverer of chloroform, was at any rate the first to introduce its employment as an anaesthetic into surgical practice. This was in 1846.

Previously all operations were performed without anaesthetics, the patient being drugged with whisky and held down by strong men while the operation was performed. No medical discovery ever did more to alleviate human suffering.

Sir James is generally given credit for the actual discovery of chloroform, but it is stated in some works that it was discovered some years previous to his first experiments by an American doctor named Guthrie and by a French physician named Soubeiran. In any case, it was Dr. Simpson who proved its great value as an anaesthetic, and the room in which he made his first experiments still exists in Edinburgh.

The story goes that he tried the chloroform on himself and two medical friends. They proved its efficacy by simultaneously falling beneath the table. Sir James had considerable prejudice to overcome before chloroform was adopted generally by the medical profession, it being denounced at one time as dangerous to health, morals and religion. — Pearson's Weekly.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Burton, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Burton that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

A YOUTHFUL GENERAL

CANADIAN OFFICER GIVES LACONIC ACCOUNT OF CAREER

Few cases of rapid rise in rank of soldier can compare with the record of Brig.-Gen. Alfred Cecil Critchley. When the war began he was 24 years old and a lieutenant in the Canadian army. In February, 1918, he had reached the brigadier's grade, and assumed command of the air and ground training school of the Royal Flying Corps.

In New York the other day he was asked how it had happened. His answer was laconic and without frills.

"I started soldiering back in 1908. When the war broke out I was a lieutenant in Lord Strathcona's Horse. That is the name of the Canadian permanent forces. We went over to England soon after the war started. The Canadian Division was held over there for a while in training camps. I was made captain in February, 1915. We were originally a cavalry regiment, but the army in France was so hard pressed for infantrymen that we were transferred into that service. By December, 1915, I was promoted to the rank of major, and shortly afterward was made brigade staff captain. (In the British army a brigade staff captain is a rank higher than a regimental major.) Next came the grade of general staff officer of the third grade in a Canadian division, followed by the rank of brigade major.

"By August, 1916, I was general staff officer of the second grade. I was then asked by Gen. Byng, who was in command of the Canadian army, to organize an officers' training school for the Canadian corps. I went back to England for this purpose in November, 1916, with the rank of colonel. We started the school at Hexhill, where I was made general staff officer of the first grade. I kept up constant liaison between England and France, continually crossing and recrossing the Channel to see how the officers trained at the school were coming on. The school proved a great success, and in February, 1918, I was assigned the command of the officer and cadet training school of the Royal Flying Corps with the rank of brigadier general.

"Active participation in the war was over for me when I left for England in 1917. Up to that time I had been stationed at the front. While I was in active service my father and two brothers came out to my regiment as junior officers. I was captain at the time, while my father, G. A. Critchley, now a major, was a lieutenant."

Gen. Critchley wears two wound stripes on his left arm, and one red the war in 1914; the four blue stripes The red stripe means that he was in thewar in 1914; the four blue stripes indicate his four years of service. He was wounded in August, 1915, while fighting with the French at Mesines Ridge, and later in 1916 in the Ypres salient. He received the Distinguished Service Order in 1918, and in 1918 was made a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. When asked to tell what special feat of bravery had given him the two decorations he replied:

"Nothing; the same things that were done by thousands of other men. Usual thing in war. Nothing extraordinary about it."

TWELVE MISTAKES

One Dozen Popular Fallacies Regarding Good Values.

Most of us are wont to accept the often-stated as proven truth in dietetic matters. The common fallacies about food are repeated from generation to generation. Scientific analysis disproves many suppositions. Here are instances:—

1. It is often said that beef is more nourishing than bread and cheese. There is, however, far more nutriment in one shilling's worth of bread and cheese than in beef of the value of one shilling. Lean beef is very inferior to cheese as nutriment.

2. Skim milk is supposed to be valueless as food. This is an error. Skim milk taken with bread constitutes a sustaining meal.

3. Most persons imagine that butter is considerably more nourishing than margarine. The fact is that the best fresh butter and the best kinds of margarine contain almost exactly the same amount of nutriment per pound.

4. It is believed that costly cheese is the most nourishing. The cheaper cheeses are mostly richer in proteid than the expensive sorts.

5. That potatoes are a cheaper food than bread is incorrect. If potatoes are eaten as substitutes for wheaten bread the quantity must be very large and the cost will not be less than that of bread.

6. We are often told that oatmeal is not so nutritive as wheatmeal. On the contrary, oats contain more fatty ingredients than wheat and are the most nutritious of grain foods.

7. Most people think that rice is indigestible. Experiments prove that well cooked rice is easily digested.

8. Maize is thought to be inferior to wheat as human food. Maize undoubtedly contains more fat than wheat.

9. A Dover sole is esteemed as more valuable food than a dried herring. Generally speaking, cured fish is more nourishing than fresh. A kippered herring is better food than a sole of first quality.

10. Nuts are regarded as dessert dishes and not as nourishing food. Brazil nuts, almonds, and walnuts have 50 per cent. of fat and are very good foods. Butter made from nuts is nearly as nourishing as milk butter.

11. It is thought that fruit is not a food. This depends on the kind of fruit. Dates are a staple diet in parts of the east, and figs and raisins in a dry state are very nutritive.

12. Tea and coffee are supposed to be "sustaining." Neither of these beverages contains nutriment. Milk and sugar give a small food value to the ordinary cup of tea or coffee.

Burnishing Silver.

A machine for burnishing silver, the invention of a Swiss citizen, is now extensively used in many large hotels, restaurants and club-rooms. It is so simple that even an inexperienced person can operate it successfully.

The silverware is placed in a cylinder immersed in a soap solution and containing a quantity of small steel balls and pins. The cylinder is slowly rotated by a motor or any other suitable source of power. As the cylinder turns, the minute balls and pins, each constituting a small burnishing tool, slide, tumble, or roll over the silvery removing all tarnish and dirt, and imparting to its surface that high gloss and finish which only well-burnished silver will show.

The small balls and pins are of several sizes, and as they roll over the silver they reach every corner and every crevice of the most delicate ornamentation. The surface of the silverware is cleansed as thoroughly as if a scratch-brush had been used, but there is practically no abrasion. Ten per cent. of the silver is lost every year in using the scratch-brush and buffer. — Popular Science Monthly.

DECLARED A DESERTER MAN'S SCULL IS FOUND

Is the Latter That of Private J. D. Pike?—Full Enquiry Demanded.

ST. JOHN, Nov. 3.—A startling development which may lead to further investigation of the case of Private J. D. Pike, who disappeared while on sentry duty at West St. John, in May, 1918, was brought to light here.

A court-martial declared the man a deserter, but discovery of a man's skull and a military rifle in the mud near the dock is accepted as evidence of the reason for his disappearance. In telephone communication with Bathurst, N.B., where the widow of the soldier now resides, it is learned that she was married a few weeks ago to John Agray, of that place. As a reason for her conviction that she was free to marry, in spite of the verdict of the court-martial, she said that she had received a letter from Michael Blair, a member of her husband's corps, written in the hospital in St John while he was dying of influenza last fall, in which he said that he had seen her husband fall over the wharf into the harbour. The fact that this news was communicated only when the writer was at the point of death, and that he had not informed the military authorities of what he had seen, has caused suspicions that there is something about the case which demands the fullest investigation.

To Hold False Teeth In Place Use COREGA

Daughters of Canada

The mother, the nurse, the women with the needle, the ambulance driver, the canteen worker, the "farmerette" and the daughters of industry in factory, office and store—all—inspired the manhood and ennobled the womanhood of Canada by their labours of love and sacrifice in the days of the nation's anguish—now happily past.

And their response, to give and to lend of their money time and time again—was beyond all praise.

And—Canada—being mindful of their past example—and conscious of their all-pervading influence again asks her Countrywomen to buy Victory Bonds. Yes, she asks them to buy them, even at the sacrifice of some cherished longed-for purchase.

It is self denial to do without something that will lend background to ones charm, but the time is not long and the debts of honour must be paid.

There is another thought, too, that wives and mothers will appreciate. The success of the Victory Loan makes for Prosperity. Steady employment is dependent upon prosperity. Without prosperity uncertainty will follow.

Hence Canada sounds a clarion call to her daughters for their aid in making an abundant success of the Victory Loan 1919.

Climax of Strike Expected Before the End of This Week

ORGANIZED LABOUR THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY IS PREPARING TO EXTEND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO THE STRIKING MINERS.

FEELING THE PINCH

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov 4.—Organized labour throughout the country is preparing to extend financial assistance to the four hundred and eighty-five thousand coal miners whose strike benefits, it is found, are tied up by the temporary restoring order of Judge Anderson at Indianapolis, according to information received by labour men here to-day.

Reports of plans to help to help the miners began to arrive coincidentally with reports indicating that schools and factories are beginning to feel the pinch and are closing down for lack of fuel.

"Every union man in the country will do his share to prevent the miners being starved into surrender, said L. E. Sheppard, President of the Order of Railway Conductors.

The leaders made light of reports that the strike has begun to disintegrate. They aclled attention to rumors that regional railroad directors are considering curtailing passenger service to save fuel. Tonnage being mined by non-union men is but a small percentage of the demands of the country, their chiefs claimed. They asserted that reports, even of operators, showed practically all mines are closed in Indianapolis and Ohio and that ships are being held in Atlantic ports for lack of coal.

The government, through the Railway Administration, is commandeering coal in transit for rationing to industrials, schools and hospitals throughout the regian coal committees. Nearly 100 cars were taken in the Pittsburg yards.

Attorney-General Palmer, just before leaving for his home in Pennsylvania, near Harrisburg, where he will make a speech to-day, expressed the opinion that the climax of the strike would come before the end of this week.

(Canadian Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4— With officials of the United Mine Workers of America maintaining an attitude of nothing to say as a result of the Federal Court restraining order issued here last week, both Union leaders and Government officials apparently are awaiting the outcome of the hearing in the Federal Court next Saturday as the next development in the coal strike situation here.

End Is Near.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4— Developments to-day were looked forward to here as likely to afford an index to the duration of the coal strike. A spirit of hopefulness that the end of the strike was near, was prevalent.

(United Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Confidential reports received at the White House to-day encouraged belief among Government officials that striking miners are looking with more favor upon President Wilson's offer of arbitration.

Reiteration of the arbitration offer by Secretary Tumulty and Attorney General Palmer yesterday and Tumulty again to-day is believed to have had a "good psychological effect," it was said at the White House.

MINERS WILL FILL CANADIAN ORDERS

Special to the Examiner:

SYDNEY, N.S., Nov. 4.—"We will fill all Canadian orders, but should we be asked to attend to orders from the United States, I fear there will be trouble," said J. B. McLachlan, secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of Nova Scotia, discussing the possibility of attempt being made to coal American boats here. "The bituminous miners of Cape Breton are talking the matter over, but so far have taken no official stand in the matter, waiting word from international headquarters. They have not officially brought the U.S. strike to our attention."

A FIRE DESTROYS LAKEFIELD GARAGE

INTENSE HEAT CRACKED A NUMBER OF PLATE GLASS WINDOWS IN THE VILLAGE.

LAKEFIELD, Nov. 4. — About 12.30 this morning fire started in Mr. Russell Ball's garage, next to Tanner's drug store. The garage was completely destroyed by fire, including all the tools and a second hand Studebaker car.

The chemical engines were used, and also a line of hose from Moore's planing mill but they could not save the building in which the fire originated. By good work on the part of the villagers who were at the fire, they saved Tanner's drug store, which was in very grave danger, the upstairs where Miss Tanner lives being badly damaged by fire and water, including her furniture. There was considerable damage to the stock in the drug store.

As Mr. C. S. Tanner, Miss Tanner and Mr. Russell Ball are away from home the loss cannot be estimated. The insurance on the property is not known.

Although the fire fighting the heat was so intense that the plate glass in J. C. Sherin and Sons, and F. J. Burgess' stores, were broken across the road.

The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Mr. E. A. Tanner of Toronto, who owns the building, is expected here to-day.

PETERBORO MAN KILLED IN TORONTO

AUTOMOBILE COLLIDED WITH SIDE-CAR WHICH HE WAS RIDING.

Frederick H. Hickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hickey, 255 Engleburn avenue, died in the Western Hospital, Toronto, on Monday after noon as a result of injuries received in a motor accident on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Hickey had been waiting near his home, 36 Wright avenue to start for a neighbour's home when a friend offered to take him for a short run in theside car of his motor cycle. They had only proceeded a few blocks when a motor car driven by Edgar Ree of Brantford, ran into the motor cycle broadsides knocking Hickey out of the side car onto the road with such force he received a four inch fracture of his skull behind his ear and internal injuries. He was immediately taken to the hospital in which he died and his parents wired from Peterboro. He never regained consciouness. Ree is held by the police of Toronto, on a charge of criminal negligence. The driver of the motor cycle escaped with a broken ankle and internal injuries.

Mr. Hickey who was thirty years of age, was a boat builder by trade and previous to going to Toronto had been engaged in the business in the city. He leaves of the immediate family, his wife and five small children, the oldest of whom is eight years of age, his parents, two sisters Mrs. Chris Hughes, 76 Sophia street and Mrs. T. B. Greenway, Cleveland and one brother Mr. George Hickey of this city. The remains will be brought to the city tomorrow

Veterans Call Upon Government to Resign

PETERBORO BRANCH CHALLENGE UNIONIST ADMINISTRATION TO GO TO THE PEOPLE ON GRATUITY QUESTION—PASS RESOLUTION RECOMMENDING MERCY FOR SAMUEL ZALUSKI.

NOMINATIONS ARE MADE

The Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, at a largely attended meeting in the G. W.V.A. Hall last night, unanimously passed a vote of confidence in the Dominion command of the G.W.V.A. in regard to its handling of the re-establishment and gratuity question. "We entirely approve the demands made by the Dominion command in their entirety, and request the Union government to go to the people on this question."

There was little discussion over the matter, although one comrade emphatically declared that there was no use in expecting the government to do anything more for the returned men and that the appointing of a special committee to investigate the question was merely camouflage.

Vice-President Primeau presided in the absence of President H. J. Staunton, who was in Toronto attending a meeting of the Ontario Provincial executive of the G.W.V.A.

A large number of applications for membership was favourably passed upon and eight candidates were initiated. The membership of the local branch has reached the 900 mark.

Nomination Night.

Last night was nomination night and as the list given below shows, there is a healthy interest in the question of what members are to fill the chairs next year. The election of officers will take place at the first meeting in December. Ballots will be printed and voting will take place under the same conditions as at a municipal or political election.

The following scrutineers were appointed: Comrades F. Board, Morley, W. Stanley, and W. Dalliday. They will appoint their own chairman, who who will act as returning officer.

Two offices were filled by acclamation. Comrade Canon Davidson being appointed chaplain, and Comrade Wm. Cole re-elected to the position of sergeant-at-arms without a contest.

Following are the nominations:

For President — Comrades H. J. Staunton, C. H. Ackerman, R. H. Muir, T. R. Cooper.

For 1st Vice-President—Comrades R. H. Muir, M. J. Clancy, T. Williams

For 2nd Vice-President—Comrades J. Allen, C. R. Widdifield, A. White.

For Treasurer—Comrades S. Whatley, Geo. Coleman.

For Sergeant-at-Arms — Comrade W. Cole (re-elected by acclamation.)

For Chaplain—Comrade Canon Davidson (re-elected by acclamation).

For Auditors—Comrades D. Lawrie, A. Perks.

For Executive (five to be elected)—Comrades L. Lebarr, W. Perks, J. R. Davis, Harold Graham, Dr. A. W. McPherson, Frank Bradburn, D. Lawrie, T. Williams.

A motion passed by the executive and submitted to the meeting for approval, calling for the adoption of the Dominion by-laws and the rescinding of the local constitution, and also for the combining of the office of secretary-treasurer, was given a hoist until the annual meeting, which takes place in January.

Recommend Mercy.

The letter of Samuel Zaluski, one of the five Russians confined in Peterborough jail awaiting execution on a murder charge, which appeared in last evening's Examiner, was read to the meeting. Zaluski, who is a returned soldier, having been a member of the 5th C.R.T., appealed to the Association to intercede on his behalf.

A resolution was passed that as the jury which tried Zaluski had recommended him to mercy, that the Peterborough branch of the G.W.V.A. petition the proper authorities to have mercy upon the prisoner.

It was decided to hold an 'At Home' on the evening of November 12th when Major General Victor Williams, G.O.C. No. 3 Military District will be the guest of the Association. General Williams may possibly review the veterans on Armistice Day, November 11th.

The annual Christmas treat for the children of Peterborough's soldiers will be undertaken by the G.W.V.A. again this year. As usual Mr. G. N. Gordon has started the ball rolling with a subscription of $50 to the funds.

A resolution passed by the Montreal branch and introduced therein by Canon Scott, protesting against the sending of shell shock cases to asylums and calling for special treatment of such cases in institutions provided for them was unaniomusly endorsed by the Peterborough branch.

Past President Morrison was during the evening presented with the Past President's gold button. He is the second president to receive this honour.

PROHIBITION AN ISSUE IN STATES

SEVERAL ELECTIONS ARE BEING HELD TO-DAY—THE VOTING.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Electors in five States went to the polls to-day to ballot for Governors, while election of lesser officials and decisions on constitutional questions faced the voters of several other States. Governors are being elected in Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi and New Jersey. Elections in Ohio are being watched with interest by "wet" and "dry" advocates, as there, for the first time in any State, a popular vote is being taken on the 18th amendment to the constitution. This is being accomplished by referendum on Legislature's action in ratifying the amendment. Ohio also is taking a referendum vote on Prohibition Enforcement Act adopted by Legislature, and is voting on two proposed constitutional amendments touching on prohibition. Kentucky, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Virginia and New York are electing Legislators. Constitutional questions confront the voters in Illinois, Nebraska and Texas.

A STIMULUS FOR THE CONSERVATIVES

(Special to The Examiner.)

NORTH TORONTO, Nov. 4.—At the monthly meeting of the North Toronto Conservative Association last night several speakers declared that the defeat of the Hearst Government had provided a much-needed stimulus for the adherents of the Conservative Party, who had felt too secure in their big majority for some years past.

MARS REPLACED BY DAN CUPID

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—When Mars stepped out, Cupid stepped in. And now, practically a year after the signing of the armistice, births and marriages for the last month show a decided increase over the same month last year, according to nation-wide reports.

OPPOSITION TALK TO EMPTY BENCHES

(Special to The Examiner.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 4. — The debate on the third reading stage of the Grand Trunk bill has reached that point where Government members are mostly silent and when the brunt of carrying on the discussion fell upon the Opposition. Yesterday afternoon and evening the government benches were but sparsely occupied, while half a dozen members to the left of Mr. Speaker held forth in opposition to the bill and in support of the Fielding amendment which proposed that it be held over until such time as a Royal Commission of railway experts and financiers have inquired into and reported upon the condition of the system which it is the intention of the Government to acquire. On arrangement no vote was taken yesterday and the House adjourned at 10.30. In the meantihe the Senate is sitting awaiting the arrival of the measure in that chamber probably on Wednesday. The rumor has been revived that the Government will fill the existing four vacancies in the Upper House and it is stated that Col. Gerald White, formerly M. P. for North Renfrew, and Hon. Martin Burrell, Secretary of State, will be among those elevated.

THE CERTIFICATES TO BE PRESENTED ON ARMISTICE DAY

Memorial certificates to the next-of-kin of those from the city and county who made the supreme sacrifice will be presented in the G.W.V.A. Hall by the Board of Trade on November 11 Major-General V. A. S. Williams, V.C., of Kingston, who himself has seen long service in the war, and was a prisoner in Germany, has kindly consented to be present and present the certificates. Other gentlemen of the locality will also be on hand. Invitations have been sent to all entitled to receive the certificates. The Great War Veterans are co-operating to make the presentation a function to be remembered and one fitting to be held on Armistice Day.

SUBSTITUTE APPOINTED

SAMUEL GOMPERS WILL BE UNABLE TO ATTEND INTERNATIONAL LABOUR CONFERENCE.

HINDU DELEGATE

United Press:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4. Samuel Gompers, who was unable to attend the International Labour Conference on Monday, has appointed as his substitute Mr. Narayan 'Muthar' Joshie, the workers' delegate from India. Mr. Joshie is the president of the Trades Unions in Madras, and states there are 25,000 members in Madras alone. He is a dignified, dark-skinned citizen of the Indian Empire, speaks perfect English, and is thoroughly acquainted with industrial progress. He told the writer that the workers in the textile industry in India worked 12 hours a day six days a week.

Until President Gompers reappears, the workers' delegate from India represents the workers of the United States of America. This is indicative of how close the workmen in all the countries at the conference are getting together through common interests. The same can be said of the employers. There is a suggestion abroad that the employers from all countries discuss trade relations among themselves as well as the labour problems at the conference, and Canada will be right on hand when the discussion takes place

THE MEETING HAS BEEN POSTPONED

The meeting of the Manufacturers' section of the Board of Trade, which was to be held Thursday, has been postponed on account of the Engineers' and Underwriters' Convention, which is to be held in this city on that date. The meeting will be held Friday, November 14.

OLD FOLKS' COUGHS, CATARRH, BRONCHITIS QUICKLY CURED

THIS TELLS OF A METHOD THAT CURES WITHOUT USING DRUGS.

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia.

Cough Syrups seldom do much good because they upset digestion. Any doctor knows that a much more effective treatment is "Catarrhozone," which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In using Catarrhozone you do not take medicine into the stomach—you simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs rich piney balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchiel tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached and harm would result through benumbing the stomach with drugs.

A Catarrhozone inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00 and supplies treatment for two months, small size, 50c; trial size, 25c; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

AERO CLUB WOULD PUT PETERBORO ON NEW AERIAL ROUTE

DE LAVAL COMPANY ASK FOR ADDITIONAL FIRE PROTECTION—OFFERS PHOTOGRAPHS OF BRIDGE.

A letter to the Council from the Aero Club of Canada, asking whether Peterborough desired to secure a station on one of the aerial routes which it is proposed to establish in this country, provided a salient indication of the trend of these momentous times.

Mayor Duncan said he didn't know which committee should deal with this question.

Ald. Hamilton—It would come under the Railway commitee I think.

Mayor Duncan—Let the Committee of the Whole discuss it.

The letter was from Lieut.-Col. W. G. Barker of the Aero Club, and intimated that an aerodrome might be opened by the municipality and leased to responsible parties. It is proposed to build up air routes, one of which would pass over or through Peterborough. The officers of the Aero Club are experienced aviators who saw service during the war.

Ask For Hydrant.

The De Laval Company asked that a hydrant be located at the corner of Lansdowne and Park streets. It would not only give additional fire protection to the factory, but also to the houses in that section. Mr. W. R. Breyfogle wrote that the company's factory in Montreal had been destroyed by fire despite all possible factors for protection.

Pictures of Bridge.

Mr. Malcolm L. Campbell offered to supply the city with photographic prints of the progress of the work on the Hunter street bridge. The cost is $1.00 a print, eight by ten inches. Mr. Campbell is supplying the Quaker Oats Company and the Russell-Townsend Company.— Referred to the Bridge committee.

Want Park Location For Rink.

The Alert Bible class of St. James' church asked for permission to use part of King Edward park for a skating rink this winter, and also for an estimate of the cost of flooding it. It is intended to charge an admission fee if the Council will allow part of the park to be used. The secretary of the Alert Bible Class is Clifford Rusaw.—Referred to Property committee.

INFLAMMATORY RHEUMATISM PERMANENTLY CURED

NEW BRUNSWICK LADY GIVES FULL PARTICULARS OF HER RECOVERY.

There are many types of rheumatism, but none worse than inflammatory.

It was this kind that almost killed Mrs. Edw. Warman, of Kent Jct., N.B.

Every known remedy she tried, different doctors gave their advice, but the disease increased

Weak and despairing, she was at her wits' end when the remarkable cure of Thos. Cullen was published. This gentleman was cured of rheumatism by "Ferrozone." Consequently Mrs. Warman used the same remedy. Here is her statement:

"For five years I have been rheumatic. I tried various forms of relief without success. The disease increased, settled in my joints and muscles; these swelled, caused excruciating pain and kept me from sleeping. My limbs and arms stiffened, my shoulders were lame and prevented me from working. Weak by week I was losing strength and despaired of finding a cure. It was a happy day I heard of Ferrozone. Every day I took Ferrozone I felt better; it eased the painful points, gave me energy and a feeling of new life. Ferrozone cured my rheumatism, cured it so that not an ache has ever returned. Even damp weather no longer affects me.

Ferrozone has power to destroy Uric Acid, neutralize and enrich the blood, and therefore does cure the worst cases. Mrs. Warman's statement proves this.

By removing the cause of the disease and building up a reserve of energy, Ferrozone is certain to cure. Sufferer, isn't it about time to stop experimenting? Ferrozone is a CURE, order to-day. 50c per box, or six for $2.50, sold by all dealers or direct from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Eczema

Come in and we will tell you something about what D.D.D. Prescription, made in the D.D.D. Laboratories, Toronto, has accomplished in your own neighborhood. Your money back unless the first bottle relieves you.

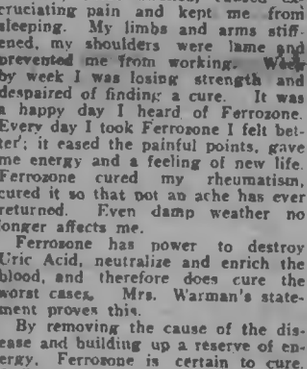
LIFT OFF CORNS!

Freezone is magic! Corns lift off with fingers without pain



Hurt? No, not one bit! Just drop a little Freezone on that touchy corn, instantly it stops aching, then you lift that bothersome corn right off. Yes, magic! Costs only a few cents.

Try Freezone! Your druggist sells a tiny bottle, sufficient to rid your feet of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes and calluses, without one particle of pain, soreness or irritation. Freezone is the mysterious ether discovery of a Cincinnati genius

WILSON WILL KEEP HIS HANDS OFF

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES LOOMING UP ON THE OTHER SIDE.

(United Press.)
(By Hugh Baillie)

WASHINGTON Nov. 4.—Presidential possibilities were beginning to come to the fore in Washington to-day.

In the national capital the men most widely discussed for the democratic nomination were A. Mitchel Palmer, Attorney General of the United States and W. G. MacAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury.

President Wilson not only will not be a third candidate according to all indications but he will not enter the campaign even to the extent of giving his backing to one of the aspirants. He will keep "hands off" and will not consider going on the stump in behalf of any one. This is partly because he would not want to undergo the strain of an arduous speaking trip and partly because he is tired of politics and, when his duty to the country is done, he desires rest and quiet.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp, and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all that you need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

TRAIN STRUCK LOAD OF MASQUERADERS

Fourteen Persons Killed and 13 Injured in Party of Hallowe'en Celebrators.

WOODBURY, N.J, Nov. 2.—Fourteen persons were killed and thirteen injured, some of them seriously, in the grade crossing accident at Clarksboro', eight miles from here, late last night, when a Pennsylvania R[R. train struck an automobile truck-load o f masqueraders. Twelve of the victims were killed instantly and two others died at the Cooper Hospital, Camden. Two of them were women. Ten of the injured were from the Kensington Mill district of Philadelphia.

There were 32 persons in the truck. They were returning home after attending a Hallowe'en party at Billingsport.

The accident occurred in a driving rain, and it is believed the driver failed to see the approaching train until it was too late to stop.

WILL ATTEND THURSDAY NIGHT'S BANQUET AT EMPRESS.

Among the distinguished engineers who will be in the city next Thursday for the inauguration banquet of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada will be R. A. Ross, and Fraser S. Keith, of Montreal, and J. B. Challies, of Ottawa.

R. A. Ross is well known in Peterborough, and was born in Woodstock, Ont., on August 29th, 18 5, and graduated from the University of Toronto, in Electrical Engineering in May, 1876. He was connected with much of the earlier electrical work in Canada, and has reached the position of being one of the outstanding electrical engineers in this country, being consulting engineer to the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

He is chairman of the Lignite Utilization Board of the Dominion government now engaged in solving the fuel problem of the prairie provinces. He is a member of the Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific Research He is one of the five Civic Commissioners of Montreal, where his ability and practical knowledge are being given for the benefit of the citizens of that city.

Fraser S. Keith is the General Secretary of the Engineering Institute of Canada, having succeded the late Professor C. H. MacLeod, on March 1st, 1917. He was born at Smith's Falls, Ont., June 8th, 1878, and graduated in 1908 from McGill University with honors in Electrical Engineering. After spending a year as senior demonstrator in Electrical Engineering at McGill, he became editor and later manager of "Canadian Machinery." In 1907 he became editor of the "Canadian Manufacturer." He went to Vancouver in 1908, where for several years he was engaged in the manufacture of concrete materials and concrete construction.

In 1915 he returned to Montreal to become manager and editor of "Construction," which position he left to become General Secretary of the Institute.

During Mr. Keith's regime as secretary nine branches of the Institute have been formed, which speaks well for his energy and devotion to its interests.

J. B. Challies of Ottawa, holds one of the most important positions in the Dominion Government service, being Superintendent of the Water Powers Branch of the Department of the Interior. He is a member of the Dominion Power Board, Honorary Secretary of the Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific and Industrial Research, Chairman of the Ontario Provincial Division of the Engineering Institute of Canada and one of its most active workers.

Mr. Challies was born at Winchester, Ont., on April 23rd, 1862 and was graduated from the University of Toronto in 1903.

The Government is fortunate in having a man of Mr. Challies' ability at the head of this department, which is such an important one in its relation to the development of this country.

CRIED PEACE WHEN FOE NEAR PARIS

Premier Hughes Makes Some Charges Against Labor Party of Australia.

MELBOURNE, November 3. — Premier Hughes opened the general election campaign with a speech at Bendigo. He reminded his hearers that he was expelled from Labour party because in response to the Imperial Government's appeal in 1916 for more recruits he had submitted the question of compulsory service to the people.

The people would now choose whether they wanted to be governed by men who denounced and vilified him and others in 1916 because they refused to be their tools and who had throughout the darkest days of the war hampered every effort to achieve victory, or by those who had kept their pledges and placed the honor of the country high above all party consideration.

Premier Hughes said that the Labour party not only opposed conscription but hampered voluntary enlistment, and even when the foe was within striking distance of Paris and menaced the Channel ports, they babbled about peace negotiations.

Referring to high prices he said the only remedy was to increase production and reduce their paper currency. Work and work alone and safe finace could solve them.

A Royal Commission was being appointed to report on profiteering, and the electors were asked to give by the referendum increased power to enable profiteering and monopolies to be dealt with by Commonwealth legislation.

BOYS MURDER FATHER.

Said to Have Confessed Crime Without Compunctions.

(Canadian Press.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—Two brothers, one fourteen years old and the other eleven, murdered their father, Alexander Karolyk, in cold blood at the Karolyk home, near Poplar Plains, Man., early last Tuesday morning, according to an alleged confession made to the Constable and Coroner, B. J. McConnell, in which they declared they laid their plans deliberately and executed them at 3 o'clock in the morning while their father slept with his face turned toward the wall. "We are not sorry, either," said Antoine, who admits he pointed and discharged the gun Antoine, the elder, will be charged with the crime, Constable Bain declared.

In confessing, the boys said they killed their father because he had been cruel to them, forcing them to work very hard.

POISON GAS STORES EXPLODE PUTTING MUNSTER IN DANGER

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 31. —The Berlin Lokal-Anzeiger, a copy of which has been received here, re[illegible] poison gas and ammunition near the Munster Camp caught fire. An explosion resulted. The stores were destined for delivery to the Entente.

The military authorities ordered the region evacuated and gas masks were issued to the population and troops, says the newspaper, and when the dipatch was filed the vicinity of the city was still enveloped in thick clouds of gas and Munster was in danger.

MOVING AS USUAL.

J. H. Burnham, M.P., of Peterboro, at latest accounts was still at large and moving as usual in an eccentric orbit.—Orillia Packet.

WORKING CAPITAL.

Canada must have working capital, buy Victory Bonds.

WHAT IT MEANS.

Every Victory Bond taken adds to the National prosperity.

THAT HONOR FLAG.

Upon those who have not bought Victory Bonds and those who have not invested to the limit depend the question of whether or not Peterboro is to have an honor flag. The next day or two should settle the matter beyond doubt.

GOOD NEIGHBORS.

The United States will not discriminate against Canada in the matter of fuel distribution while the present strike continues. Canada will have her share of the coal as usual. It is nice to have good neighbors.

SOME PROOF, ANYWAY.

More bone-heads and boobs can be found in the average city block in Toronto than in the whole of an average agricultural township declares the Belleville Ontario. The rumor of a sixth term for Tommy Church seems to oe concrete evidence of the Ontario's statement.

INFLUENCING THE FASHIONS.

The cables state that the gold-embroidered cowl of the Emir Feisal famous Arab chief now visiting England may leave its mark upon the fashions. If they are so susceptible to influence as that the result of the visit at a Fiji Island princess in her native garb might be startling.

ENFORCING THE O.T.A.

In an interview Mr. E. C D.rury, Ontario's new premier has indicated the policy of the new government in regard to several of the matters in which the people of the province are mostly deeply interested. Mr. Drury's declaration in regard to the Ontario Temperance Act is of special significance.

"We intend to see that the men in charge are sympathetic with us and the objects of the law and that they squarely enforce it," the Premier-elect declares. "If we find that certain phases of the law are abused in any way we can soon see to that."

The promise will be received with deep satisfaction by the majority of the people of Ontario. The administration of the Ontario Temperance Act under the Hearst government was open to criticism in many respects and such incidents as the sale of vishnick in Toronto before the last election will no doubt be investigated by the new government. The tone of Mr. Drury's remarks leaves no doubt of the intention of the United Farmers to see that the Act is strictly, fairly and impartially administered, and that officials whose record does not stand inspection will not be carried long on the provincial pay rolls.

EXCUSES—NOT REASONS.

Many of the reasons or rather excuses that people give for not subscribing to the Victory Loan cannot be called anything else than stupid. The feature of the Victory Loan that should stand out above all others is that the Loan means a double benefit to those who invest because their money is placed in a sterling security that affords a high interest rate and because the Loan gives the Government a chance to furnish credit to Great Britain and other countries to purchase Canadian goods, thereby increasing production and preventing unemployment. Such excuses as the charge that the Government are entering to deprive the poor man of his beer or that the Union Government does not deserve the confidence of the people, or that profiteers have been allowed to run riot in Canada, or that the soldiers are being neglected, have nothing to do with the necessity of the present Loan being fully subscribed in Canada is to prosper. Resentment against the Government, and it is granted that there are many reasons why there should be such resentment, should not plead people to the fact that this country's prosperity depends upon the Victory Loan. Declining to invest in the Loan in the love of getting even with the Government will do far more harm to Canada that to the administration at Ottawa. And reasons such as have been outlined, however important they may mean to those advancing theirs are really no argument against buying Victory Bonds.

THE PRICE OF APPLES.

The Board of Commerce, in the opinion of many people could find in an investigation of the bargains at the apple market, an opportunity to solve a puzzle that is mystifying those who have had to pay five cents each for apples in local stores, in an effort to find fruit that is eatable. Here in Peterboro, only a short distance away from one of the finest apple districts in the Province, choice Ontario apples seem to be almost extinct. When eating apples are asked for boxes of British Columbia apples are pointed out to the prospective customer. They sell over the counter at from 40 to 60c a dozen. All over the county there are similar puzzling features about the apple market. The Moncton, N.B. Transcript is authority for the statement that Nova Scotia apples for which the grower received $2.75 a barrel are selling at $8.75 a barrel in Winnipeg and that along the St. John Valley many fruit growers are not marketing their apples this season because they claim that the price offered them by the dealers would not pay the cost of picking and packing, while the growers were being offered $1.25 per barrel, inferior apples were selling in St. John at $4.50. There seems to be a chance for the Board of Commerce to be of service in investigating the whole question.

THE VETERANS' RESOLUTIONS

The opinion of the Peterborough branch of the Great War Veterans in regard to the Union government is reflected in the resolution passed at last night's meeting in which they called upon the government to resign and go to the country upon the gratuity question. There was no need of discussing the resolution, the feeling of the members was evidenced by the fact that they called for the question almost as soon as a motion was made, and there was not a dissenting voice. The Veterans feel that the government has failed in its duty to them and are eagerly awaiting a chance to show by their votes what they think of the Ottawa administration.

Another important resolution passed at last night's meeting endorsed a motion passed by the Montreal branch, protesting against shell-shocked soldiers being sent to the public insane asylums for treatment. It was the opinion of the meeting, unanimously expressed, that special institutions for the care of shell-shock cases should be provided, and that it was a disgrace that men who had been so effected by their harrowing experiences at the front should be confined with lunatics. There is nothing unreasonable in the request that such men be taken care of in some other way than by merely dumping them into asylums.

THE RAILWAY PUZZLE.

(Quebec Telegraph.)

The nationalization of the Grand Trunk Railway by the Ottawa uthorities has raised a great deal of turmoil, pro and con, a good deal of the argument on both sides, it must be confessed, being extremely hazy and uninformed. There has been a tendency for advocates of public ownership to champion the scheme, and for the devotees of private operation to head the attack.

As a matter of fact, the principle of public ownership plays but a subsidiary role in the present railway problem of Canada, and the Grand Trunk deal can hardly be either justified or impugned simply on the general principle.

The question is one of practical finance. Canada has been forced in the past to take over a number of unprofitable railways as the only alternative to assuming all the liabilities of ownership without any of the control or other possible advantages. These railways were thrust upon the nation.

The problem was one of making the best of a bad business, and trying to rehabilitate the government system. For this purpose, the first necessity was to obtain a system of feeders in the East, particularly in Ontario. This is the origin of the negotiations with the Grand Trunk.

There were two alternatives: to lease the line of the Grand Trunk or otherwise make a running agreement with them; or, second, to expropriate the road.

As to which of these courses was the wisest, only financiers can say, having the concrete terms in each case before them; such, of course, are not available.

Presuming the taking over of the lines to be the best step—as the government evidently believed—the question of terms is the big point.

What is the Grand Trunk worth?

In the first place, it should be remembered that the government has assumed heavy obligations in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific for the Grand Trunk Company. This should be considered as part payment by the government for the Grand Trunk line.

Over and above this, what is the vaule of the Grand Trunk stock? No quote from the Drayton-Acworth report: "Even if the government were to relieve them (the Grand Trunk Railway) entirely," as suggested by the president, "of their unfortunate Grand Trunk Pacific venture, and as we have already said, we cannot think that this request can be reasonably justified, it is evident that the Grand Trunk Company is not, and will not be for some time to come, in a position entitling it to pay out any money at all in dividends. We regard the entire share capital of the company as being intrinsically of but small value at the present time. On the basis of the present value of maintainable income, the fair compensation would be very small."

In further support of this view it was pointed out that the deferred expenditure for maintenance ($21,181,000) and capital account ($30,150,000, for rolling stock, shops, signal systems, stc.) amounted to more than $51,300,000, which was urgently required to meet the requirements of that day's business (1917). But the government claims not to have relieved the Grand Trunk Railway Company of its obligations in respect of these bond guarantees and government loans amounting to $97,300,000, and that they still remain obligations legally binding upon the Grand Trunk Railway Company. If the government be correct in its contention, it follows that the entire capital share of the company is of even smaller intrinsic value—and this includes the guaranteed stock—than that placed upon it by the Drayton-Acworth report.

Now the question is: How far, in this expropriation, is the government going to go in giving effect to the Drayton-Acworth report, and is it going to take the railway over on terms favorable to the people of Canada, or to the financial interests behind the railway? This is the big point, and one that is very vague.

The Ottawa Journal, which is closely in touch with the government, suggests the following terms:

1. The government guarantees interest on £12,500,000 of guaranteed bonds. This interest will amount to about $2,500,000 annually.

2. The amount which the government may have to pay for the stock to be arbitrated is estimated at between $75,000,000 and $90,000,000.

3. The government, it is stated, anticipates having to issue from seventy-five to eighty million dollars of new non-voting stock in exchange for the preferred and common stock whose value is to be arbitrated.

4. It is stated that in the arbitration, conditions arising out of the war and affecting the earnings of the road will not be taken into consideration, however, in valuing the stock, to the future development of the Dominion, and the increment which may accure to the system thereby.

The main criticism of the Grand Trunk deal should concentrate upon these four points. Is such an award financially fair to the Dominion—is it good business?

That, rather than the question of public ownership, is the issue at stake.

From our point of view, the present deal is not in the interests of Canada, the practical point being that the financial deal promises to enrich special interests at the expense of the Dominion, which will be saddled with an expense it is totally unable to bear. Everything indicates that millions are to be wasted, as a comparison of the Drayton-Acworth report with the terms outlined by the Ottawa Journal-Press clearly shows.

MR. TEARLE BUYS HOUSE AND CONTENTS.

CHAPTER CXV.

Under the flaming caption there followed such a garbed version of what I had said as left me gasping. I had been represented as saying my husband never confided in me, that I knew nothing of him, and his business, but in such a way as carried the impression that Neil and I were not congenial. Then to my horror a reference was made to Mrs. Orton, veiled, but none the less plain. It spoke of a handsome widow; of Neil's acquaintance with her and of the fact that he had been seen with her often. It was a horrid article, scurrilous, in its insinuations, yet never saying a word for which the paper might be obliged to give satisfaction. From that time I have had a hateful admiration for reporters.

Mr. Frederick came that afternoon bringing Mr. Tearle to look at the house. I asked him in, if he had seen the Argus. He let me know that he had, and that he would remain and talk to me about it after Tearle went. He saw my distress, and smiled reassuringly.

Tearle was delighted with the house, and in his rough way so expressed himself.

"My wife couldn't begin to fix up a ranch like this," he told me. "She ain't that kind. She's a rancher's daughter. She can ride a hoss a mighty sight better than she could buy gimcracks like these even if she had all the money in the world. It's most too fine, but I guess as long as I have made up my minds to be a swell like other folks, the best ain't none too good. I've worked like a dog all my life and I'll be damned—beg your pardon ma'am—if I ain't earned the right to throw my money away if I want to."

"It's a good investment Tearle. Dirt cheap at the price I offered you."

"There won't be much investment to these duds inside when my boys and girls get here. They can play rough house with anything in the world."

"Four of them. The huskiests, livliests four you ever set eyes on. There ain't a one of them can't ride a broncho, and do stunts that would frighten a city youngster most to death to look at. They're a fine bunch if I do say it," fatherly pride in his tones, and on his face.

"There'll be room for them all," Frederick told him.

"There would have to be. They'd bust the walls if there warn't. No cooping them youngsters up in two by four rooms. They are used to all out doors you know. They don't think a house is good for anything only to eat and sleep in."

Before he left he had given Mr. Frederick a check for the house and furniture. He also had said that I was to remain rent free for the two months which would pass before he could bring on his family.

"That is very kind of you", I stammered, almost overcome. Surely there was good in everybody. This man whom I had refused to receive was doing me a great kindness, helping us more than he realized.

After he had gone Mr. Frederick turned to me.

"Tell me," he pointed to the paper, "Did you mention Mrs. Orton?"

I repeated my conversation with

I repeated my conversation with the reporter word for word as nearly as I could remember. I told him of the expression of surprise on the man's face at my answers to his questions, and that he had seemingly gone away disgusted because he had been unable to get any information from me.

"Those fellows can make a story out of nothing," he grumbled after laughing at what I told him. "The idea of your telling him you 'didn't know anything about anything.' If I had said that it would have been all right. He saw thru it tho, or he wouldn't have called you clever. He knew you was stalling him."

"But this is awful to have it published—things like this things I never said. Is there nothing I can do? Is one obliged to submit to it?"

"Under the circumstances, yes. Should you make a fuss it will only bring more notoriety. And that we can't afford to have at the present stage of the game." He then told me of the progress they were making in listing the creditors, and brought me a copy of the letter offering to settle which he had drafted. When he left I felt really encouraged to believe that someway we were going to get out of the terrible tangle all right—because of his help. He was very pleased at getting rid of the house so easily.

"Tearle's check will go a long way toward satisfying a lot of small investors," he said as he left me. Neil he told me, would be able to return to me in a day or two.

To-morrow — Frederick Suggests that Neil live in the country.

PIRATES SEIZE SHIP AND ROB THE PASSENGERS.

BLACK SEA PORTS INFESTED BY BANDS OF ROBBERS.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 3. — Pirates concealed in the steerage of the ship Maria overpowered the crew while the vessel was bound from Novoroseysk for Batum, and robbed the passengers, obtaining fifty million roubles.

On arriving at Batum, officers of the vessel made a report of the robbery to the British police, who captured several of the pirates.

Pirates frequently land along the shores of the Black Sea and rob the villages. At Trebizond recently, pirates boarded a Greek schooner and stabbed or threw overboard its crew of fifteen men. They also captured the Russian steamer Constantin while the vessel was bound from aBtum to Constantinople

Prompt Answering is Most Helpful

WHEN you call a number and get no answer, you come to one of two conclusions: either

The party you want is not within sound of his telephone bell; or

"Central" has failed to ring the right number.

The fact sometimes is that your party has heard the bell, but has been so slow in answering that you grow tired of waiting and hang up. Later he may tell you quite truthfully that he was not beyond the sound of his telephone bell all day. You are satisfied that "Central" was at fault.

Prompt answering when the telephone bell rings is a great aid to the service. The person calling is pleased when you answer promptly and will likely show it in the pleasant way he speaks. You in turn are cheered by his pleasant voice, and the ensuing conversation is helpful to both.

Prompt answering when the bell rings is indispensable to good service.

THE MINISTER OF FINANCE OF THE DOMINION OF CANADA offers for Public Subscription the

Victory Loan 1919

300,000,000. 5½% Gold Bonds

Bearing interest from November 1st, 1919, and offered in two maturities, the choice of which is optional with the subscriber as follows:

5 year Bonds due November 1st, 1924
15 year Bonds due November 1st, 1934

Principal payable without charge at the Office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the Office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria.

Bonds may be registered as to principal or as to principal and interest, as hereinafter provided, at any of the above-mentioned offices.

Interest payable, without charge, half-yearly, May 1st and November 1st, at any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Principal and Interest payable in Gold
Denominations: $50, $100, $500 and $1,000

Issue Price: 100 and Accrued Interest,

Income Return 5½% per Annum

The proceeds of the Loan will be used to pay indebtedness incurred, and to meet expenditures to be made in connection with demobilization (including the authorized war service gratuity to our soldiers, land settlement loans, and other purposes connected with their re-establishment into civil life), for capital outlay upon shipbuilding, and other national undertakings forming part of Canada's industrial reconstruction programme, and for the establishment of any necessary credits for the purchase of grain, foodstuffs, timber and other products, and will be spent wholly in Canada.

Payment to be made as follows:

10% on application; 20% January 9th, 1920;
20% December 9th, 1919; 20% February 10th, 1920;
31.21% March 9th, 1920.

The last payment of 31.21% covers 30% balance of principal and 1.21% representing accrued interest at 5½% from November 1st to due dates of the respective instalments.

A full half-year's interest will be paid on May 1st, 1920, making the cost of the bonds 100 and interest.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at the time of application at 100 without interest, or on any instalment due date thereafter together with accrued interest at the rate of 5½% per annum.

This Loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest are a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The amount of this issue is $300,000,000, exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds of previous issues. The Minister of Finance, however, reserves the right to allot the whole or any part of the amount subscribed in excess of $300,000,000.

Payments

All cheques, drafts, etc., covering instalments are to be made payable to the Credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture, and the allotment to cancellation. Subscriptions other than those paid in full on application must be accompanied by a deposit of 10% of the amount subscribed. Official Canvassers will forward subscriptions or any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank will accept subscriptions and issue receipts.

Subscriptions may be paid in full at time of application at 100 without interest, or on any instalment due date thereafter, together with accrued interest to time of making payment in full. Under this provision, payment of subscriptions may be made as follows:

If paid in full on or before November 15th, 1919, par without interest or 100%.
If remaining instalments paid on Dec. 9th, 1919, balance of 90% and interest ($90.52 per $100).
If remaining instalments paid on Jan. 9th, 1920, balance of 70% and interest ($70.84 per $100).
If remaining instalments paid on Feb. 10th, 1920, balance of 50% and interest ($51.08 per $100).
If remaining instalment paid on Mar. 9th, 1920, balance of 30% and interest ($31.21 per $100).

Payment of instalments or payment in full after November 15th, 1919, can be made only on an instalment due date.

Denomination and Registration

Bearer bonds, with coupons, will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, and $1,000, and may be registered as to principal. The first coupon attached to these bonds will be due on May 1st, 1920.

Fully registered bonds, the interest on which is paid direct to the owner by Government cheque, will be issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $25,000, $50,000, $100,000, or any multiple of $100,000.

Payment of Interest

A full half-year's interest at the rate of 5½% per annum will be paid May 1st, 1920.

Form of Bond and Delivery

Subscribers must indicate on their applications the form of bond and the denominations required, and the securities so indicated will be delivered by the bank upon payment of subscriptions in full.

Bearer bonds of this issue will be available for delivery at the time of application to subscribers desirous of making payment in full. Bonds registered as to principal only, or fully registered as to principal and interest, will be delivered to subscribers making payment in full, as soon as the required registration can be made.

Payment of all instalments must be made at the bank originally named by the subscriber.

Non-negotiable receipts will be furnished to all subscribers who desire to pay by instalments. These receipts will be exchangeable at subscriber's bank for bonds on any instalment date when subscription is paid in full. All receipts must be exchanged before 1st June, 1920.

Form of Bonds Interchangeable

Subject to the payment of 25 cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons, will have the right to convert into bonds with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds without coupons, at any time, on application to the Minister of Finance or any Assistant Receiver General.

Forms of application may be obtained from any Official Canvasser, from any Victory Loan Committee, or member thereof, or from any branch in Canada of any Chartered Bank.

Subscription List will close on or before November 15th, 1919

GERMAN ADMIRAL DEMANDS FREEDOM

IS COMMANDER WHO ORDERED SCUTTLING OF SHIPS IN SCAPA FLOW.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—A letter alleged to have been written by Admiral von Reuter to Premier Lloyd-George, protesting against the detention of the Admiral who commanded the German fleet at Scapa Flow when it was scuttled ,and other officers of the sunken fleet, is published to-day in The Taeglische Rundschau.

Regarding the scuttling of the warships, Admiral von Reuter is quoted as saying:

"I was obliged to assume that war had again broken out, from the announcement in the British press regarding the rejection of the German counter-proposals to the Peace Treaty. Eve if my idea that was had again broken out subsequently proved erroneous, nevertheless, I acted in the conviction that it was war, and my subordinates therefore cannot be treated except in accordance with the usaul customs of war."

HE WON OVER ARABS; NOW BACK AT OXFORD.

OXFORD, Nov. 3.—Lieutenant-Colonel Laurence, who, by most astute propaganda, won the Arabs over to the Allied side, has slipped out of his picturesque role, and has gone back to teaching at Oxford University.

Laurence was a most picturesque figure in the Eastern theatre of the war. To get into touch with the Arabs he adopted their kit and their tongue. So secret were his doings that newspapers were forbidden to publish his photographs, even when many of his exploits were known.

Now, since the excitement is over, his Asia Minor mysteries are like Arabian Night tales.

A few people go around the world, but the majority of us are satisfied to go through it.

There is usually more comfort in getting ready to take comfort than there is in taking it.

USES OF PARAFFIN

Paraffine is very useful, and does wonders of the housekeeper, though some people look upon it as a greasy liquid unfit for cleansing purposes. A soft cloth moistened with it and used on the furniture in regular dustings will brighten the wood. Many laundresses put a little into the water in which soiled clothes are soaked, and a little added to the starch will keep th eirons from sticking. Paraffin is also good for cleaning enameled bedsteads, bath tubs, sinks, etc. Paint is greatly improved if cleaned with a soft cloth and paraffin, the dirt coming away without injuring the surface or spoiling the lustre.

RUSSIAN GRAND DUKE IS SEEKING PEACE AND REPOSE

FORMER COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF RUSSIAN ARMIES HAS RENTED A VILLA IN ITALY.

GENOA, Oct. 31.—King Victor Emmanuel, Queen Helena and the Royal children arrived today on their yacht Yela and proceeded by train to Saint Margherita to visit Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholaievitch, former commander in chief of the Russian army, and his brother, Grand Duke Peter, and their wives. The royal party remained with the Grand Dukes for several hours, returning later to Genoa, where they boarded their yacht.

The correspondent of the Associated Press visited the former Russian commander during the day.

"We have received you only so that we may not appear discourteous and as a mark of appreciation to the United States. But heretofore we have received no journalists and granted no interviews," said Grand Duke Nicholas in receiving the correspondent.

By his side was his wife, the Grand Duchess Anastasia, whose face still bears traces of the sufferings she endured during the war.

"Indeed," the Grand Duchess interrupted to say, "deny all interviews attributed to us, as we have refused so far to make any statements, as any expression of our attitude, one way or another, might do more harm than good to our poor distracted country, and any cause we might wish to support.

"We desire on our past life, on our experiences, on all we have felt, that silence should reign. This is our dearest wish, our most fervent request."

Here Grand Duke Nicholas resumed the conversation.

"We have come to Italy," he said, "in this fairylike corner of the world, on the beautiful, smiling Gulf of Sant Margherita, seeking only peace and repose for our spirits and our nerves. We have determined not to talk with anybody on past sad events. All the tortures we endured must, for the outside world, be hidden in our own breasts. The only request we make is that our silence and our sadness be respected.

"For this reason, we lead most retired lives in this villa of Spinola, half hidden in the woods, spending part of the day on the delightful shore of the Gulf, and the remainder with my brother Peter and his wife, Militza, who live nearby at a place known as 'Due Pini,' (Two Pines.) Our whole life is circumscribed within these narrow limits."

Replying to an inquiry whether they would remain long in Italy, the Grand Duchess said:

"We have rented this villa until July, 1920, but between now and then many things may happen to decide us either to prolong or to shorten our stay here."

The Grand Duke and Grand Duchess Nicholas take their meals in their own villa and in the evening generally receive a visit from Grand Duke Peter and his wife. Grand Duchess Anastasia daily either drives with her husband or walks to the nearby village of San Michels, which is celebrated for handmade lace.

The correspondence of Grand Duke Nicholas is attended to by Baron Steel, who acts both as private secretary and master of ceremonies.

AFRICAN ELEPHANTS.

They May Be in Captivity, but They Are Never in Subjection.

For many reasons the chase of the elephant stands at the apex of sport as a man killer in open combat he ranks with the lion and the African buffalo. He is the only beast that fears no other. While he will almost invariably run from the scent of man he is invariably ready to attack on the slightest provocation. Fear does not exist for him. His overwhelming bulk, power, speed and intelligence make him supreme beyond the range of rivalry.

As though this were not enough to establish his pre-eminence, he also carries a trophy which is one of the staple products of the industrial world. The value of ivory rises. It never fluctuates. Nor is this all. In the mind of the east the elephant is intimately associated with dignity, pomp, pageantry and kingship. But in the mind of the native African he is king—a king in his own right.

In this regard let it be affirmed that no elephant born in Africa has ever decilely paced a hippodromed stage, trundled a circus wagon or taken children for a ride in the park. These sleepy walking cattle known to the American public as elephants come from India and are more distant cousins to the king. You may have seen the African elephant in captivity, but never in subjection. Chain him to the floor behind iron bars, and after ten years he is still quick to throw muck in the face of the man that jeers at him.—George Agnew Chamberlin in Century.

CANADA'S PROMISING WATER POWER

An important feature of the water powers of Canada is their fortunate situation with respect to existing commercial centres. With economic transmission range of practically every important city from the Atlantic to the Pacific, except those in the central western prairies, there are clustered water-power sites which will meet the probable demands for hydro-power for generations.

SINN FEIN RAID A POLICE BARRACKS.

MULLINGAR, Ireland, Nov. 3. — The police barracks at Bolliver (about 35 miles north-west of Dublin) were raided here by masked men.

Constable Ogar, who was doing sentry duty at the time, was taken by surprise and shot dead in the course of the struggle that ensued.

The raiders carried off 200 rounds of ammunition and several rifles and revolvers. Extra police have been drafted to patrol the district.

12-YEAR-OLD BOY SHOOTS BIG BEAR.

A few days ago, Master Bruce Givens, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Hugh Givens, of North Harvey, sighted a bear while out looking for the cows. The next day Bruce took his Winchester rifle with him, and was fortunate enough to have another view of bruin. He brought his rifle into play and fired seven shots, four of which found a resting place somewhere within the anatomy of Mr. Bruin, which was sufficient to place him hors de combat.

The bear was about two years and a half old, and weighed 350 pounds. When you consider the age of the youthful hunter, this was quite a wonderful feat, and Bruce has every reason to feel proud of his trophy.

FOUND PIECE OF GLASS IN A CHOCOLATE BAR

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 4.—In the Supreme Court on Saturday a jury brought in a verdict for $700 damages sued for by Mr. Buckley, a young man who came to this city a year ago from St. John. It appeared from the evidence that Buckley several months ago purchased from a store on Hollis street, one of Mott's cream chocolate bars. He ate it, but felt something gritty in it and after swallowing the last of it he found a piece of glass remaining in his mouth. That night he became ill and since then he has had a long term of medical treatment. He saved the piece of glass left in his mouth and also the wrapper of the chocolate, as evidence in a suit he was determined to bring. The case was tried Saturday before Mr. Justice Drysdale and a jury. The jury returned a verdict that the eating of the chocolate bar caused the illness, and with which the defendants, John P. Mott & Company, had shown negligence in not straining the liquid sugar that entered into the chocolate composition, and they then fixed the damage on account of Buckley's illness at $700. Buckley had claimed $10,000.

VICTORY LOAN OBJECTIVE FOR ONTARIO--$225,825,000

MINIMUM FOR TORONTO IS $90,000,000 FROM TEAMS AND SPECIAL SUBSCRIPTIONS—OBJECTIVE OF THE VARIOUS DIVISIONS THROUGHOUT THE PROVINCE.

Ontario's objective for the Victory Loan 1919, covering the four largest cities—Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa and London, and a dozen divisions embracing all centres in the province is $225,825,000. This sum represents the total of the Team Members objectives and the special subscription committee's objectives combined. For instance, Toronto campaigners are out after at least $90,000,000 of which $40,000,000 is to be gathered in by the teams and $50,000,000 is to be the minimum for special subscriptions.

The combined objective for Hamilton is $13,000,000, Ottawa $9,500,000 and London $7,300,000.

Erie-St. Clair division includes Essex North, Essex South, Kent, Lambton and Elgin Counties, with official objective $15,400,000.

Thames Grand division includes Middlesex East, Middlesex West, Oxford North, Oxford South, Brant and Norfolk Counties with official objective $6,975,000.

Niagara division includes Wentworth, Haldimand, Lincoln and Welland Counties with official objective $12,300,000.

Lake Huron division includes Huron, Perth, Waterloo North, Waterloo Sohth, Wellington North and Wellington South, with official objective $16,800,000.

Georgian Bay division includes Bruce, Grey, Dufferin, Simcoe East and Simcoe West, with official objective $9,350,000.

Central division includes York East, York West, York North, Peel, Halton and Ontario Counties, with official objective $10,050,000.

Trent Valley division includes Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton Counties and the districts of Muskoka and Parry Sound, with official objective $6,925,000.

Bay of Quinte division includes Hastings, Prince Edward, Lennox, Addington and Frontenac Counties, with official objective $6,400,000.

St. Lawrence division includes Lanark, Leeds, Grenville, Dundas, Stormont and Glengarry Counties, with official objective $6,450,000.

Ottawa Valley division includes Renfrew, Carleton, Prescott and Russell Counties, with official objective $3,150,000.

Northern division includes Sudbury and Manitoulin, Nipissing district, Temiscaming, Sault Ste. Marie and Algoma, with special objective $6,300,000.

Superior division includes Port Arthur, Fort William, Kenora and Rainy River district, with official objective $2,925,000.

In the last Victory Loan every one of these districts exceeded the objective, some of them more than

REBELLION IN STOMACH

"Pape's Diapepsin" at once ends Indigestion and Sour, Acid Stomach

Lumps of undigested food cause pain. If your stomach is in revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food—just take a tablet or two of Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the pain, acidity, indigestion and distress.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless stomach antacid is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs so little at drug stores.

BRIDGE COMMITTEE TO RECEIVE THE COMPLAINTS OF LABOURERS

COUNCIL TRANSFERS LETTER FROM UNION TO THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE—STEEL ARCH PLANS AGAIN DISCUSSED—PROPERTY QUALIFICATION MOTION DEFEATED.

NEW CLOTHES FOR FIREMEN

The complaint of the Labourers' Union that workmen on the Hunter street bridge were being dismissed without notice of cause, and that some men living outside the city were being employed, was referred to the Special Bridge committee for investigation, on a motion by Ald. Gainey, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, at the regular meeting of the Council last night.

Ald. Edgar said that Mr. Townsend had told him that the work had advanced to a stage at which not so many men would be needed. There was a motion in the Council's records specifying that the employees should be residents of the city, unless labour became scarce. Ald. Edgar added that had the proposal he made last May carried, compelling all employees on the bridge to register their place of residence and the length of time they had lived in the city, the complaints of the Labourers' Union would have been anticipated.

Have Teamsters Licenses?

Ald. Edgar also asked whether teamsters engaged on the bridge who live outside the city had licenses. He asserted that they should pay the same tax that was demanded of the teamsters who are ratepayers. The Bridge committee was instructed to put this question on their list of enquiries.

Mayor Duncan stated that if it could be shown that any injustice had been done he would try to rectify it.

Property Qualifications.

Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Gainey, that the Council petition the Legislature to remove the property qualifications required for municipal elections.

"I'm opposed to that," said Ald. Hamilton. "We've had a striking example of it, and I don't believe it's to labour's interests.

Mayor Duncan—I agree with you. The ratepayers who own property and pay the taxes should have the say in how their money is to be spent. Labour has any amount of good candidates without removing the property qualifications.

Ald. Gainey said he had been impressed by the fact that a member of the Legislature who had a voice in the spending of millions of the public money was not restricted by property qualifications. Hence, why should they be imposed upon members of a city council who had comparatively small sums to handle.

Ald. Hamilton—It's altogether different. The city taxes are collected directly from the people, from the property owners, but in the Provincial Legislature the taxes are levied upon everybody and indirectly.

Ald. Phelan—This motion would give a man power to vote away the people's money although he couldn't vote on a money by-law.

The motion was defeated by the following vote:

For—Aldermen McIntyre, Crowe, Morrison and Gainey.

Against—Mayor Duncan, Aldermen Hamilton, Phelan, Edgar and Garside.

Aldermen Taylor and Turner were absent.

Discussion on Steel Arch.

To the clause in the report of the Board of Works recommending that the original plan of a concrete arch in the Hunter street bridge be adhered to, Ald. Gainey moved an amendment, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, that the price of a steel arch be obtained.

Ald. Crowe—That might tend to make the present builders do their very best.

Mayor Duncan—Ald. Phelan and I stood out for steel, but we were turned down. Now you want the price of a steel arch, but I don't see any use in getting it.

Ald. Morrison—None whatever.

Mayor Duncan—What's the use of getting plans we're not going to use?

Ald. Edgar doubted Ald. Gainey's statement that the plans wouldn't cost the city anything.

Ald. Gainey—I'm taking the companies at their word. The Dominion Bridge Co. promised to give us plans.

Mayor Duncan—That was last spring, but I doubt if they'll do it now.

Ald. Hamilton—If we want a steel arch we should have it designed by outside parties and call for tenders.

The Dominion Bridge Co. make a design cheaper than a concrete arch, but would it be equally as good a bridge.

The amendment was defeated.

Ald. Gainey—I'm not saying I'm in favour of steel, and if we couldn't get the plans for nothing I'd be satisfied to let them go.

Lights For Streets.

Ald. Morrison moved, seconded by Ald. Gainey, that the Utilities Commission be requested to place lamps on the following streets: Four on Romaine street, between Park and Monaghan road; one on Brock street between Park and Donegal streets; two on Hilliard street; and one at the Erskine and Woodbine corner; that lights in front of the Church of the Immaculate Conception be replaced under the supervision of Ald. Morrison.

Firemen's Winter Clothes.

Ald. Morrison was authorized to buy whatever clothing was necessary for the Fire Department, on a motion by Aldremen Gainey and Crowe.

Return Tender Cheque.

Ald. Phelan reported that the Russell-Townsend Company's bond for $80,000 had been received, and moved, seconded by Ald. Hamilton, that their cheque for $10,000, which had accompanied their tender, be returned

'IT SAVED MY HAND.'

"I am a blacksmith.

I contracted a sore finger, which led to blood-poisoning.

After three months of doctoring, the finger had to be cut off.

It was too late! The poison had spread to my hand and arm. My hand was opened and the bone scraped. No use! Doctors said hand would have to be taken off.

I refused, and began to use Zam-Buk. I used it regularly and freely for a few weeks. It subdued the blood-poisoning and by the time I had used 7 boxes of Zam-Buk my hand was quite healed.

Zam-Buk surely saved my hand, and I firmly believe it would have saved my finger too had I used it at first."

These facts were sworn to by Mr. John Evans of 87 Lawrence St., Halifax, N.S., before Supreme Court Commissioner O'Hearn, and the sworn statement may be seen by any person so desirous.

Zam-Buk cures ulcers, eczema, abscesses, piles, cuts, cold sores, burns, scalds, babies' rashes, etc. 50c box, all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 1oc price.

LARGE ARMY OF ELECTION WORKERS ARE WAITING FOR FINAL SETTLEMENT

ELECTION EXPENSES WILL RUN HIGH---OVER EIGHT THOUSAND AFFECTED IN TORONTO---SIMILAR CONDITIONS IN PETERBORO, ONLY ON A MUCH SMALLER SCALE.

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—Over eight thousand people in the eight Provincial constituencies which are wholly or in part in Toronto are wishing with all their might that the U. F. O. would hurry up and get into the saddle, and for a very particular reason.

They are the returning officers, the deputies, the poll clerks, the constables, the printers, the ballot stampers, the owners of homes where polls were held, and all the other cogs in the election machinery. For the said machinery has not been oiled since its performance on 20th October. In other words, nobody has been paid.

The returning officers went with their bills to Queen's Park. The bills necessitated an Order-in-Council, as the law is not very clear as to what should be paid in connection with the Referendum.

The officials at the Parliament Buildings looked thoughtful, shivered a little, and apparently bethought themselves of the safety first campaign. At any rate, they ever so politely suggested that the returning officers would do well not to bother the moribund Government with these bills. The moribund Government was of a like opinion. It decidedly did not wish to be bothered.

So you can just present your accounts to the U. F. O. when they take charge, was the gist of the decision.

And so the returning officers wait, and their deputies wait, and so on down the line—all waiting, and not for any small sum, either.

The bill in North-West Toronto, said to be the largest constituency in Ontario, is alleged to be for about $14,000. The eight constituencies in the city will average $10,000 each, or $80,000 in all.

This is exclusive of the enumeration, which possibly averaged over $6,000 per riding, or $50,000 in all. $6,000 per riding, or $50,000 in all, the accounts for which have been paid.

The election thus cost close to $130,000 in this city for making the enumeration and holding the polls.

If A Disaster Should Strike Peterborough

Suppose some great disaster—a cyclone or a fire struck Peterborough

It had left death—suffering—loss of property in its wake

Would you afterwards say "Well it's over. Thank Goodness I'm safe"—and look calmly on the efforts of others to put things in order?

Would that be your attitude?

Not Much.

You would work day and night—give your time—lend your assistance and give your money to put things as before.

The war was the greatest disaster that affected Canada.

It's over—the fire is out.

November 11th, 1918, ended it.

But since then much work has been done—much expense has been necessary.

We have had to pay, feed and clothe our army and bring them home—provide work for them—succour their widows and orphans.

And now the business and prosperity of Canada must be maintained.

The Victory Loan, 1919, is back of all this.

The Citizens of Peterboro cannot expect others to provide the money to do this work.

It cannot be done unless everbody helps. Each Province—city—town—district—must do its share.

Peterboro must do its part

You must do your part.

Canada is made up of individuals.

Remember that you are one of them.

NORMAL SCHOOL PUPILS ENTERTAINED

The pupils of the Normal School were entertained by the members of the Baptist Young People's Union at a Hallowe'en party held in the Sunday School room of Murray Street Baptist Church last evening. Fortune-telling booths and ghost stories added to the hilarity of the occasion.

Chief Thompson and party left this morning for their dugouts in the deer country.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY BITRO-PHOSPHATE

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well known fact that the lack of phosphorous in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorous may now be met by the use of Bitro-Phosphate, which can be obtained from any druggist in convenient tablet form.

In many instances the assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change—nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a glow of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION: — White Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

CARMANIA DOCKS AT HALIFAX AFTER BAD VOYAGE

Canadian Press:

HALIFAX, Nov. 3.—The Carmania docked this morning, after a somewhat boisterous passage of eight days from Liverpool. After landing her 813 passengers for this port, she will coal here before proceeding to New York. Among the passengers arriving on the Carmania was Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous yachtsman, who is proceeding to New York.

BAD COLD LEFT HUNG WITH BRONCHITIS

However slight a cold you have you should never neglect it; if you do it can have but one result. It leaves the throat or lungs, or both, affected.

Bronchitis is one of the most common affections of a neglected cold, and neglected bronchitis the most general cause of consumption.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is just the remedy you require to cure the bronchitis. It does this by loosening the phlegm and mucous, and stimulates the weakened bronchial organs, allays irritation and subdues inflammation, soothes and heals the irritated parts and thus prevents it becoming chronic.

Mr. R. P. Sundblad, Francis, Sask., writes:—"I had a very bad cold which left me with bronchitis. I tried several cough remedies and oils of all kinds, but they all failed. At last I got Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and after using two bottles I have never had a sign of bronchitis since. I therefore can honestly recommend it for coughs and colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c and 50c. Manufactured by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"THE RED LANTERN"

Few pictures shown in the city have aroused such interest and enthusiasm amongst themovie patrons as "The Red Lantern" which is being shown at the Grand, with the celebrated Russian actress Nazimova in the leading role. The scenes laid in China breathe the mystic atmosphere of the east to such an extent that the audience at the finish of the picture is startled at thefact that they are still in the West. Nazimova plays the part of Mahlee superbly and is supported by an unusually splendid caste.

The plot is based upon the story of Mahlee, the daughter of a British peer and Chinese woman, who left friendless in China is adopted into the household of an American missionary with whose on she falls desperately in love refusing blankly to marry another Eurasian who, having completed his course in medicine in America, whereshe found the yellow races are tolerated btu not accepted socially, has returned to practice in China. Mahlee soon discovers that "East is East and West is West", and that her love for the son of the missionary can never be returned so casts her lot with the Boxers, having found that the Eurasion doctor is one of the officials with them, and poses as the Goddess of the Red Lantern predicting to the ignorant Chinese the success of the Boxers rebellion. With the failure of the rebellion Mahlee desperate takes poison and sends a last message to the home of the Missionary.

The programme is particularly generous having added to the feature picture a clever Charlie Chaplin film an educational picture entitled a "Grain of Salt", which shows the process of mining of salt and a Vod-a-Vil picture.

DOROTHY GISH'S "THE HOPE CHEST" SPLENDID PICTURE

Suppose you were just married. Suppose you were looked upon as one with high social standing, and you had promised to love honor and provide for one of your father's working girls, without his knowledge. Suppose your father found it out and forced you to separate from your wife. Suppose your cousin, who is in love with you, tells you that your wife has been seen at twelve o'clock at night saying goodbye to one of the most widely known rogues of the city. Suppose you later found your wife in his arms. What would you do?

These are the problems that confronted Tom Ballntyne, in "The Hope Chest," Dorothy's Gish's picture which will be shown at the Allen Theatre to-morrow and Thursday.

Their solution by Ballantyne, and the way Dorothy as the wife accepts the solution constitutes one of the most gripping moments of the play.

The girl is innocent. She had met the man by accident but her husband did not know that. The next night when she was found in this man's arms, had her husband been one minute sooner he would have seen her struggling with all her might to save herself from being kissed. And she was fainting when he found them.

There is a splendid supporting cast in "The Hope Chest," with Kate V. Toncray, George Fawcett, Bertram Grassby, Richard Barthelness and Sam de Grasse. Carol Dempster is the juvenile lady opposite Miss Gish.

HALIFAX DISASTER SHOWN IN "THE CITY OF COMRADES"

"The City of Comrades," probably the first motion picture drama of the Halifax disaster, is Tom Moore's newest production. It was shown at the Allen Theatre last night and will be sure to please the patrons again to-day.

In picturing the blast that shook the Canadian city to its foundations, great risk was taken by the members of the company. Mr. Moore, as Frank Melbury, a member of the Canadian army engineer corps, was required to be seated in his office when the shake-up occured. To get the proper realism, Director Harry Beaumont ordered that the set be blown up with dynamite, causing the wreckage to fall on both the star and Otto Hoffman.

A rehearsel of the scene was not made; and at the proper time, the fuse was set off. With debris piled above him, acing from bruises and suffering from a leg laceration, Mr. Moore went through the business of the scene without complaint.

On emerging however, it was discovered that one of the small bones in his right hand was dislocated, a matter that needed instant attention, as the member was commencing to swell and cause the star considerable pain.

At the emergency hospital, it was decided that Mr. Moore should remain in bed a week to recover from any other possible injuries.

In addition to this splendid story of the rise of a self-made failure will be shown the Mack-Sennett comedy, "Rip and Stitch, Tailors" as well as the usual balancing programme.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally That Nobody Can Tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Had to Go to Bed Headaches So Bad

MILLBURN'S LAXATIVE PILLS MADE HER WELL

When your liver gets sluggish and inactive, your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, your head aches, your tongue is coated, breath bad, specks float before the eyes, you are bilious, have heartburn, water-brash, pain under the right shoulder, muddy and brown spotted complexion, etc.

Help the liver to resume its proper function by removing the bile that is circulating in the blood and poisoning the system.

Mrs. E. Bainbridge, 80 Maple Ave., Amherst, N.S., writes:— "I take pleasure in writing you of the good I received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for headaches. I was so bad I had to go to bed, and could not sit up. A friend told me about your wonderful medicine, and two vials have made me as well as I can be." Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are small and easy to take, do not gripe, weaken or sicken, do not leave any bad aftereffects. Price 25c. a vial at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WHY ARE THE "BIG FELLOWS" BIG? THEY BUY GOVERNMENT BONDS

Two men were talking about Victory Bonds and one of them made a remark somewhat to this effect: "My brother has bought a $500 Bond. That is enough for us! Let the "BIG FELLOWS" buy the Bonds! They have made all the money! That remark was overheard in actual conversation and it displays about as great a lack of knowledge of the Victory Loan situation as could possibly exist in Peterborough.

Why are the "BIG FELLOWS" big? One of the main reasons is that they buy Government bonds. They keep their surplus capital in these securities and when they need that capital they borrow on the bonds and when the capital comes in again, they pay off their loan. It is the good judgment of the people who have bought and invest in Victory Bonds that enobles them to become "BIG."

The statement that the "BIG MAN" has made all the money is not correct. Had it not been for Victory Bonds and the money that the sale of those Bonds placed at the disposal of the Government, not only would the "BIG MAN" have lost money, but the small man would have been out of employment and we in Canada would have experienced a period of depression and financial stringency that would have ruined everybody.

All Have Benefitted.

There is nobody, no matter how small, who has not benefited directly by Victory Bonds. The working men of Canada have bought Bonds in large quantities and thus made certain that their employers would have business and that the factories would have work that would give everybody employment.

The man of moderate means who bought Victory Bonds in 1917 and paid for them out of savings, and bought more bonds in 1918, and paid for them out of savings, is now facing this Campaign with a substantial amount accumulated, invested in the best security in the world (and just as good as cash) and bearing him 5½% interest. Is there any wonder that this man is glad to buy more Bonds this year and pay for them out of his earnings? He never saved before and is now starting, by the gradual accumulation of Government Bonds, to reach a position in a few years where he will be one of the "BIG ONES." The foundations of the largest fortunes that have been accumulated were laid in the small savings invested.

The man who refuses to buy Victory Bonds and says that should be left for the "BIG ONES," is showing the poorest possible judgment. The small man needs to take advantage of these bargains much more than the "BIG MAN" and the "BIG MAN" buys Victory Bonds because he knows they are bargains.

Some people have the idea that they are making a contribution, that they are doing the Government a favor when they subscribe for Victory Bonds. This is most erroneous. The man who buys Victory Bonds is taking advantage of a splendid opportunity and he is doing a tremendous service to himself as well as to the community at large.

The "WISE ONES" always buy Government Bonds when they are cheap. Let everybody be a "WISE ONE" for Government Bonds were never cheaper than the Victory 5½% Bonds at par.

Therefore let everybody invest his savings and buy in anticipation of his savings, thus laying the foundation for becoming "ONE OF THE BIG ONES."

INDUSTRIAL DEPRESSION—ITS CAUSE

(By T. Tooms.)

By industrial depression, I mean when we have hundreds of thousands of men idle, men tramping the country looking for work. When our railroad systems have thousands of cars standing idle on the sidings and locomotives rusting in the round house. When millions of dollars lay idle in the vaults of our banking institutions. When the wheels of industry are nearly stopped and business failures increase.

These periods of depression are worse than war and pestilence. They mean starvation to thousands of our fellow citizens.

These depressions appear at regular intervals. What is their cause? Some theories are: Lack of confidence, tariff reduction, threatened free trade. Yet we get these depressions in Liberal and Conservative government alike. Some advance the theory of over-production; but don't let us mistake under-consumption for over-production. To say we have produced too many boots and shoes when so many children are going half shod. Too many clothes when people shiver in the street for lack of clothing. Too much food when hungry men, women and children are looking for relief from charitable institutions, is mockery added to absurdity. If we are going to accept the extravagance theory we are going to stop certain industries. I have heard intelligent men advance the idea that it was our labour organizations that brought about these panics by insisting upon too much wages. This may appear plausible, but remember that increased wages always increase the purchasing power of the great bulk of consumers, and while that consumption is going on, the demand for the goods consumed will grow. So that the few dollars paid extra in wages cannot hurt any business interests. It is only when consumptive and purchasing power is concentrated among the few that disaster awaits us. Not when such power is scattered or distributed among the large mass of wage earners in increased wages.

I believe that industrial depression come in the main from the boom of real estate in cities and towns. There are three factors in the production of wealth, Land, Labor and Capital. Without land no wealth whatever can be produced. We will define the three factors thus:

Land we call rent.
Labor we call wages.
Capital we call interest.

This is a pie. All the trouble with business is the way we cut the pie. One piece of pie is too large and, growing more so, while the other two pieces are getting less. The real estate boom increases rents, and the value of land until capital and labor have very little to divide. The recpients of rent are a very small fraction of the population, while wages and interest comprise the bulk of our people. The conflict between capital and labor is often forced upon them by our land system. The quarrel is not over the division of the total product, but what is left after land takes its share as rent. Capital and labor must get after the real estate boomer who can boom lots from $1,800 to $40,000 in one year as was done in Portland, Oregon and other places. How does this cripple business. Let us take a clerk getting $30 per week. He pays $5 per week for rent. He then has $15 a week to spend on provisions, clothing, luxuries, etc.. This $15 determines to a degree the amount of business the storekeeper does, as well as the amount of business the factories do who sell to the storekeeper, etc., indefintely. A real estate boom sets in; his rent is raised to $7 a week. He then has but $13 with which to go to the stores. The same boom in real estate raises the rent of the store, which causes the storekeeper to raise the price of his goods. Then we begin the period of high prices. This at once forces economy in consumption, which means under-consumption. Under-consumption naturally leaves a surplus stock which creates unemployment and hardships.

The real estate boom is simply a grand game of poker on a larger scale; it simply concentrates the wealth of the many in the hands of the few.

When the mills are running night and day and orders increasing and prosperity rises to the top of the industrial milk pan. Then in steps the landlord and laps up the prosperity by increasing his rents in store, loft, office, house, which he leases to business men at enormous net rental.

Anyone who expects business prosperity to continue with these added rent burdens placed upon it is certainly some optimist. Excessive rents and good business cannot exist together. It simply means that where a person brought in from $14 to $20 a month, he can now only bring in two, the rest goes to the real estate dealer in rent.

NOTHING BUT PRISON TERMS WILL STOP PROFITEERING

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A declaration by Sir Auckland Geddes that the Profiteering Act is working well is received sceptically. It is asserted that the act is merely teaching traders caution and not honesty.

Several newspapers are confident that nothing but imprisonment will eradicate the evil. Meanwhile shopkeepers are indignant against alleged Government encouragement of street trading, which produces nothing for local taxes.

COUNCIL INVITED TO DINNER

An application from Dr. McPherson, Medical Officer of Health, for an increase in salary was referred to the Finance committee by the Council last night. He stated that before the war his remuneration was not what it should have been, and since then the cost of living has more than doubled.

Will Illuminate Smith Street Bridge.

A. C. Woolrych wrote that the Smith street bridge had been unlighted all summer, that it was very dark on the east side and was unsafe for women and girls who had to pass that way. Ald. McIntyre moved, seconded by Ald. Phelan that steps be taken to rewire the bridge and protect the lamps with wire cages in order that they could not be broken by boys.

F. Blodgett wrote that the frost had heaved braces to the Downie street creek walls, which were in danger of tumbling in. The Board of Works will give first aid.

Ald. Gainey urged that the Property committee pay higher wages to Mr. Hawthorne, a returned soldier, who is assistant at the incinerator.

Sewer on Park Street.

Ald. Crowe moved, seconded by Ald. Garside, that notice be given of the city's intention to lay a sewer on Park street from Cedar street to the creek south of McDonnel street.

Want Cedar Street House.

Ald. Edgar moved, seconded by Ald, Crowe, that the City Trust Commission be requested to buy the house and lot on Cedar street, owned by the Board of Education, that is if Mr. Parker of the Albion Knitting Company does not buy it, and that the property be held as an extension to the factory property.

Henry Hope & Sons' Gift.

Ald. Hamilton moved, seconded by Ald. Garside, that the Council offer no objection to Henry Hope & Sons' gift to the Exhibition Board of the old Bolton house on Park street. This house is on the extreme east side of the company's property. The Exhibition directors will move it to the Fair grounds and fix it up as a caretaker's dwelling. Its value is estimated at $1,000.

COUNCIL WOULD PURCHASE RIVERSIDE FOR PEOPLE

POINTED SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO OBTAIN OPTION ON ENTIRE PROPERTY SOUTH OF HUNTER STREET FOR PARK AND ATHLECTIC GROUNDS.

SAVE LAND DAMAGES

The purchase of Riverside Park and property between it and the Hunter Street Bridge for public recreation and for the encouragement of athletics in this city was suggested to Council last night by Ald. Gainey. He said that the city had already bought the lots at the corner of Hunter and Burnham Streets, and that it seemed desirable to secure possession, for the people, of the property now if. This would provide a splendid park, which should become a great asset to the city.

Mayor Duncan remarked that next year's Council should set apart in their appropriations a sum for this purpose, and the proposal appeared to be relegated to the uncertainties of time, when Ald. Edgar reverted to it after other business had been transacted. He pointed out that if the city bought this land it would avoid at least save the land damages which would be claimed by the owners of the lots fronting on Hunter street. The money that would thus be saved would help to pay for the property.

Committee Appointed.

"I would like to see a committee appointed to get options on Riverside Park, the Rapid Tool Company's property, and the Bettis Estate, and by-law prepared for their purchase to be presented to the electors in January for their approval," Ald. Edgar submitted. "The whole scheme would be for park purposes."

The Council adopted this idea, and Ald. Edgar was asked to name the committee. He called Aldermen Hatton and Gainey, Mayor Duncan, himself, asking the Council's permission to include himself.

The motion to this effect was carried at once, and this entire item, of more potential importance than may appear at a cursory glance, was disposed of in a few minutes.

Voice Of The People

RE CASE OF THE HAMILTON MRS. KIDD.

714 Shuter St., Montreal,
Nov. 3rd, 1919.

Editors,—This woman is not the wife of David S. K. Byrne, but is the legal wife of one Phillip Rauch. Mr. Byrne has ample exemplified proofs in his possession that this Mrs. Kidd was a bigamist, and therefore this woman has no claim upon any man except the one she was married to, that was Phillip Rauch, who was married in March, I believe, 1884, in Selkirk, by the Rev. Mr. Oliphant. This woman's name is not Mrs. Kidd, but is Mrs. Sarah E. Rauch. Her maiden name, I believe, was Benner. Exemplified sworn copies of affidavits of this Sarah E. Rauch can be produced from the Court, and I wish to fully explain to the public that this is an injustice to me and a reflection upon my character, as my attorney, Mr. D. L. Sinclair talked to the Hamilton Court officials in reference to the matter, and Inspector Wm. Hunter can confirm the statement that he saw the papers, proving that David S. K. Byrne is not the legal husband of this woman, Mrs. Rauch. The Court official's reply to Mr. Sinclair was, "Has Mr. Byrne got the money?" and "It would be a very charitable act if he would contribute something to this unfortunate woman's support, as he was giving away money in erecting memorials."

I herewith announce to the public that this supposed Mrs. Sarah Kidd, of Hamilton, is not my wife, nor do I want to be implicated with such a woman, as I have proofs and information from other sources that she is and was a bigamist.—Yours truly,

D. S. K. Byrne.

BENEFITS DERIVED ARE FAR REACHING

VICTORY BONDS YIELD FAR MORE THAN THE ATTRACTIVE RATE OF INTEREST

While the interest paid on Victory Bonds is nearly double that which is allowed by the banks for s[illegible] deposits, that is not by any means all the benefit the Victory Bond holder receives for investing money where it will do national service.

The things that prosperity means to all classes of citizens are bound up in the success of the Victory Loan, 1919. The proceeds of this loan, amounting to so many millions of dollars, will all be spent in Canada. This expenditure will ensure the continued industrial activity which is of such moment to the manufacturer and the workers in the factories. It will also keep the market good for the farmer and increase the business of the tradesmen. All lines of industry will be stimulated by the Victory Loan—in fact they are dependent upon it if the prevailing "good times" are to be made lasting.

It is really a great privilege to the people to have the opportunity of investing their money in this manner. There is no question as to the security. It is the best available anywhere and the benefits to be derived from the investment are far reaching aside altogether from the attractive rate of interest paid.

To Help Nature Shed a Bad Complexion

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the beautifying qualities of mercolized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm, at so small expense. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding complexion defects, it removes them. It actually takes off the aged, faded, sallow, freckled or blotchy surface skin—gradually, gradually, causing no inconvenience. It is Nature's way of renewing complexions.

When the natural process is retarded because of deficient circulation or lack tone, mercolised wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drug store, use at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning.

NOW IS THE TIME of the year when it is necessary to start fires in the furnace and range, the same to be kept up for the next six months, day and night, whether you are on hand to look after them or not. It is important to see that everything is kept in good condition to avoid accidents which may occur, and also more important to see that your fire insurance is in force and in a good company. Do not delay to get your policy made out and in your possession. You never know when or where a fire is going to break out. Be prepared for it at all times even if it never happens. The cost of maintaining a good policy is very small if you let us write it. But your protection will be perfect, and your loss, should one occur, promptly settled. NEW SOLUTION OF FIUME PROPOSED.

United Press:

PARIS, Nov. 4.—A new solution for the disposition of Fiume has been proposed to Washington. On behalf of France, the "Echo de Paris" said to-day that Ambassador Jusserand made the proposal, according to the newspaper.

THE KING OF A BACK FOR STAND-UP WORK.

NEW YORK.—How to select people for stand-up work is a simple question of anatomy, according to Dr. Clinton F. Achorn. There are three types of persons, the doctor declares—the flat-hipped, the narrow-backed, and the broad-backed. Those who never tire are the men and women who have flat hips, and broad, flat backs. The person with a narrow back, Dr. Achorn adds, tires easily and cannot stand long on his feet. The broad-backed make excellent workers, unless you try to feed them too much meat. They are natural vegetarians.

The sacrum, or the lowest five bones in the spine, are the tell-tale of the future life of a child. If the sacrum becomes curved, the person will not be fit for any kind of stand-up work and will appear lazy.

Above all the use some men have for the golden rule is to measure the conduct of others.

THE BOOK OF REVELATION

(BY E. W. BROWN)

Last night Mr. Brown gave the eighth address on the Book of Revelation. He dealt with the third and fourth manifestations or revelations of Jesus Christ. One form is the Man Child who is about to rule all nations with a rod of iron. (Ch. 12:4.)

The woman is not a real woman (12:1) as the Catholics say, but rather a sign and so represents the saved remnant of Israel who when Christ was born was looking for the consolation of Israel and the redemption in Jerusalem, as Anna. The Child was the Christ. The Devil tried to kill Jesus in infancy by means of Herod, the Idumean usurper, and all through Christ's ministry the Devil dogged his steps, and tried to defeat God's plan by killing Christ before the time came for him to die. But he died for sinners and was caught up to God and to His throne.

This saved remnant became the nucleus of the church which is composed of Jew and Gentile: 1st, all Jew; 2nd, part Jew and part Gentile, and 3rd all Gentile, practically because of the judicial hardening of the Jew, and as the Jew went out, he will come in again and God's dealing will be largely with the Jews, the Gentiles meanwhile being under judicial hardening.

The war in heaven, between Michael and the dragon or Satan resulted in the latter being cast out of heaven and not having any more the privilege of accusing the saints before God, since God is now manifesting his righteousness before men. This fact is the signal for great rejoicing in heaven as it marks the beginning of the end.

Then the devil persecutes the woman (the remnant) that bore the man child. But she is protected in the dessert possibly by the Jewish nation. So the devil makes war with the rest of her seed (the saints) who keep the commandments of God and have the testimony of Jesus.

The next thing mentioned is the appearance of a Great World Emperor (a man energized by Satan (ch. 11:7) He was beautiful and tameless as the leopard, as strong as the bear, and as destructive as the lion. He sent his brutal force, while his intelligence is stamped with blasphemy.

The Dragon gave to the beast his power and his throne and great authority and the whole earth marvelled after the beast, and they worshipped the Devil and the beast. He continues 42 months. He opens his mouth in blasphemy against God and his own. He makes war with the saints and conquers (kills) them. He has a universal authority and all those dwelling upon the inhabited earth shall worship him except those whose names are written in the Lamb's book of life. Jesus writes these names and He does not take them from the church roll.

A second wild beast appears out of the earth (possibly from Judaism.) He has two horns like a lamb, but speaks as a dragon. He exerciseth all the authority of the first beast, and makes the earth worship the first beast, the Emperor. He also works signs and deceives by his signs. He introduces idolatry in the form of the worshipping of the image of the first beast. He causes the image to speak. He also forces people to wear the mark of the beast on their hands or foreheads so that no man who has not the mark can buy or sell. His number is that of a perfect man, but not God.

So we notice first that this world is to have an Emperor who all must worship except those whose names are written in the Lamb's Book of Life; 2nd, that he will prosecute to the death the saints, especially the Gentiles (the Jewish saints are sealed an cannot be killed.) This is the culmination of the present Gentile monarchies. So the saints of God need not look for anything but decreasing recognition and protection as the world powers unite and approximate that all inclusive world empire that shall prosecute the saints to the death. But the church shall be taken away before this happens while the tribulation saints alone shall experience this persecution.

AN INSIDE BATH MAKES YOU LOOK AND FEEL FRESH

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps fitness away.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, declaring this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do.

Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the alimentary canal before eating more food.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who have bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to show the value of inside bathing.

MAY END THE COAL STRIKE

Basis For a Settlement is Thought to Have Been Reached.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Efforts to reach the basis of a possible settlement of the strike of the bituminous coal miners were made to-day at a conference here between Federal Fuel Administrator Garfield and J. D. A. Morrow, President of the National Coal Association, an organization of the leading coal operators of the country. What proposals the Fuel Administrator had to make were not disclosed in advance of the conference.

A special Presidential Commission to attempt arbitration of the coal strike was proposed in a resolution introduced to-day by Chairman Kenyon of the Labor committee. Without discussion the measure was referred to that committee.

The wedding took place very quietly this morning at 11 o'clock in the Methodist Church, Port Hope of Mr. Stanley Kerneghan, eldest son of Ex-Ald. D. H. Kerneghan, 497 Aylmer street to Miss Elda Florence Millson, daughter of Mrs. Naylor Millson, Port Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. Kerneghan left for Western Ontario and on their return will reside at 499 Aylmer street.

OBITUARY

CHARLES GOULAH.

The death occurred at Hotel Dieu Hospital, Quebec, of Charles E. Goulah, at the age of 32 years. The late Mr. Goulah was purchasing agent for the Campbell-MacLaurin Lumber Co., of Montreal, with whom he has been for the past eleven years. Deceased had not been in good health for some time, but his condition had not been regarded as serious until a few months ago. He was born in Tweed, Ont., and was married over three years ago to Miss Ella Grady, daughter of John Grady of this city. He is survived by his wife and two children, also his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Goulah, of Tweed, and five brothers and three sisters. The brothers are: Messrs. Frank and John of Bogart, Ont.; Joseph, of Fortierville; Noah, of Gray, Sask., and Simon, of Detroit, Mich. The sisters are: Mrs. J. Cournyea, of Bogart, Ont.; Miss Catherine, of Tweed, and Sister M. Petronilla of Rosary Hall, Edmonton, Alta. The burial took place at Tweed, Ont.

HENRY DONNELLY.

After ailing for a period of more than 10 years, Henry Donnelly, aged 75 years, died at his home, 811 Thirteenth Avenue West, on Wednesday morning at 5.30 o'clock. He was a well-kwown and highly esteemed citizen of Calgary, having come here in 1907 from Hartney, Manitoba, where he had farmed since 1892.

Mr. Donnelly was born in Peterborough, Ont., and is survived by a widow and seven sons. Another son, W. H. Donnelly, a former member of the local wholesale firm of Donnelly, Watson and Brown, was killed in action while serving with the 31st Battalion in France. The other sons left to mourn his loss are: W. S. Donnelly, of Nanton; E. J. Donnelly, of Brant; J. H. Donnelly, of Winnipeg; T. H. Donnelly, Vera H. Donnelly, Frank Donnelly, and Ab. Donnelly, all of Calgary.—Calgary Herald.

MARGARET BEATRICE O'CONNELL.

Margaret Beatrice O'Connell passed away yesterday at Lakefield. She leaves to mourn her loss her mother residing in Lakefield, and three brothers, Anthony, of Chicago, Ill., William J., of Buffalo, N.Y., and John of Lakefield, and three sisters, Mrs. Huff and Mrs. Hally, Rochester, N.Y. and Mrs. Dr. Blanchard, Toronto.

The funeral will leave the family residence, Lakefield, on the corner of Ermatinger and Chippewa Streets, on Wednesday, Nov. 5, at 8.45 o'clock a.m., and proceed to St. Paul's Church, Lakefield, for service, thence to St. Peter's Cemetery, Peterborough, for interment.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—The Simplon express, while at a standstill about 6 miles south-east of Paris last night was run into by a train bound for Geneva. Several persons were killed and a number injured.

THE BOY SCOUTS ELECTED OFFICERS

Boy Scouts of the city turned out splendidly for the meeting held last evening in the Public Library for the purpose of the election of their officers for the ensuing year, which resulted as follows:

Honorary President—J. W. Fraser.
President—R. Miles Hamilton.
Honrary Vice-President—Mr. G. A. Gillespie.
Vice-President—C. E. Jameson.
Secretary-Treasurer — Mr. Whitesides.

Mr. R. M. Hamilton, who occupied the chair, after a short address, called upon the different scout-masters for a few words about the Boy Scout movement in Canada.

It as regretted that a great number of parents could not be present.

THE PRINCE GAVE ADDRESS TO-DAY

ADDRESSED A HUGE GATHERING OF BUSINESS MEN IN MASSEY HALL.

Canadian Press:

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—Facing the biggest audience which he has yet addressed in Canada, the Prince of Wales to-day spoke of Canada and his impressions of Canadian people, of the Empire, and, lastly, of himself, before a huge gathering of business and public men in the Massey Hall here to-day. The great building was packed with members of the Canadian and Empire Clubs, which combined to-day to invite the Prince to meet and address them on the occasion of his informal second visit to Toronto. Shorn of all formalities, the meeting of the Prince with Toronto men today was the signal for such an expression of Toronto's affections and loyalty to their visitor as rivals any reception that has been given in the long chapter of ovations which has marked the Prince's progress through Canada. From the time the Prince reached the Massey Hall until he left again, two hours later, the enthusiasm of his audience knew no bounds, breaking out again and again at intervals during the speeches which the Prince delivered in his simple, vigorous manner. After referring with obvious emotion to the reception which Canadians have given him everywhere, he said: "I am not conceited enough to accept these welcomes as personal to myself, and realize that they have been given as the King's representative coming to Canada as the heir to the Throne.

COUNSEL ACTING FOR PRISONERS

Mr. G. N. Gordon, when interviewed by the Examiner to-day, said that Samuel Zalusky, who had written the letter to the Provincial Secretary of the Great War Veterans' Association, was defended by B. W. Essery, of Toronto, and Mr. Essery had applied already for commutation of the sentence of Zalusky.

In addition to that Mr. Gordon said on behalf of Bahri and Martynuk he had applied to the Minister of Justice to commute the sentences, so that everything is being done that could be done in the meantime for the prisoners.

Don't submit to the inevitable until you have positive proof that it is the inevitable.

No dress is immodest unless the wearer is.

Great Britain has spent $700,000,000 on industrial housing since the war began; with our late entrance we have spent $110,000,000, which is but a tithe of the capital that must eventually go into the improvement of our workers' homes.

HOUSE CLEANING PROBLEMS FOR NEW PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

ONLY ONE EMPLOYEE UNDER GOVERNMENT CAN HOLD JOB EXCEPT BY VOTE OF PARLIAMENT---CHANGES IN QUEEN'S PARK.

It's a "cushy" job that the Provincial auditor of the Province of Ontario holds. He has the enviable position of being the only employee of the Government of Ontario who canndt be dismissed from his position except through a two-thirds vote of the members of the Provincial House. James Clancy is the Provincial auditor.

The next "safest" men are the clerk of the House, A. H. Sydere, and the Sergeant-at-Arms, F. J. Glackmeyer, who are appointed by patent and cannot be removed except for misbehaviour, and then the Government in power can remove them.

But there are numerous commissions appointed by the Whitney and Hearst Governments where changes can be made without any particular reason being required for them.

May Put Labour Man In.

There is the Workmen's Compensation Board. The next Government coming into power may decide they want to change the membership of the Board. This may be so, especially now that the Labour Party and the U. F. O. have decided to form a Coalition Government. The Labour men may decide that they want a recognised Labour man at the head of the commission. There is a vacancy now on the board.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board was a creation o fthe Whitney Government. Unlike the Dominion Railway Board, who have a fixed period of ten years to hold office, this Board holds office at the pleasure of the Government in power.

Change Here Likely?

The Board of License Commissioners for Ontario is another commission which sits just so long as the Government wants them, and should the U. F. O. unite with the Liberals, everyone knows just how long the members of that Board will hold office in view of the charges made by Hartley H. Dewart.

The Toronto - Hamilton Highway Commission may also find a new chairman of the Board with G. H. Gooderham, present chairman and defeated candidate in South-West Toronto ,either resigning or being deposed from office. With the opposition of the many farmers on the Highway to some of the actions of the Board, and money being spent than was originally intended, the U. F. O. may decide to make a change there.

Still Keep Sir Adam.

Then there is the Hydro-Electric Commission. There is not likely to be any change in the chairmanship tehre, as the U. F. O. and most of the Labour men are in favour of Sir Adam Beck carrying on. During election time many Liberals professed to be pro-Hydro. To live up to this they cannot kick for the dismissal of Sir Adam. Hon. I. B. Lucas, a member of the Commission, retains his position on the Board even though beaten at the recent elections. He was appointed, not especially to represent the Government on the Board, but as an ordinary member of that Commission. There is still a vacancy on the Commission that can be filled by a nominee of the new Government, which, however, can dismiss Mr. Lucas and make two appointments.

Dissatisfaction Here.

The Civil Service Commissioner may also find that his job is shaky. It is claimed that no report on superannuation has been made by him, although he has the power under the Act that appointed him. He was appointed to go around and grade salaries and the results when the last increases came around were far from satisfactory to most of the employees. Many who were getting large salaries got large increases and those who were getting lower salaries got around $100 increases. The larger ones went as high as $300 and $400, and even, it was reported, in one case, to about $900.

There are a number of other positions in the Civil Service where changes are likely to be made, either by the retirement voluntarily of the officials themselves or by the decision of the party in power to make the changes. There may be several secretaries of the present Ministers who will soon leave the Parliament Buildings, and also some Deputy Ministers, although it is likely with the knowledge the latter have of the workings of their departments, these changes will be very few.

There are certain civil servants who have been in office for a considerable time and with their knowledge of how Government affairs should be run are certain to retain their positions.

"EVEN STEPHEN" FOR POLICE COMMISSION

COUNCIL EQUALIZES REMUNERATION FOR RECENT INVESTIGATION.

By an amendment to the Finance Committee's report the renumeration to the members of the Police Commission for their investigation of charges against the Police Department was fixed at $50 each, instead of $100 to Judge Hoycke and $80 each to Mayor Duncan and Magistrate Dumble.

In submitting the amendment Ald. Edgar said he felt there should be no exception made in this grant for the reason that the Commissioners had all devoted the same time to the enquiry.

In seconding it Ald. Crowe asked "Why should the Judge get anything? You say he is already being paid a salary of $200 and the other two get nothing."

Ald. Edgar—The salary is given to the chairman. He has probably more work to do than the other commissioners.

Ald. Hamilton moved, seconded by Ald. Morrison that the report be adopted without alternation.

Ald. Edgar—I don't want to make fish of one and flesh of another.

Ald. McIntyre—You want to make it "even Stephen."

Ald. Garside—I think the Judge should get nothing just the same as the others. I don't think the city should have to pay anything for the investigation.

Mayor Duncan explained that the Commission had to enquire into the statements and rumors that had reflected upon the conduct of members of the Police Department. It had been said that some of them were grafting, stealing, aiding prisoners to escape, breaking into offices to steal. It was the duty of the Commission to find out whether there was any truth in these reports, and there was no other way but to hold an investigation.

Ald. Garside convulsed the Council by saying "If they had made out a case, if they had proven anyone guilty, I wouldn't mind paying the money."

Ald. Hamilton—I'd rather have it the other way.

Mayor Duncan—We went as far as we could.

Ald. Morrison—Did the Commission ask for remuneration?

Mayor Duncan—Yes.

The vote was as follows:—for the amendment—Aldermen Edgar, Crowe and Garside; against Aldermen Hamilton and Morrison.

Those who didn't vote were Aldermen Phelan, McIntyre, Gainey and the Mayor.

"I ought to take the ayes and nays and make you fellows vote" said His Worship.

The Committee's report passed as amended.

CONCRETE POLES FOR WIRES

Reinforced concrete poles the used for a twenty-two-thousand volt power line six miles long at Brentwood California, supplying a load of about two thousand eight hundred-horse power. The poles are tapered beams reinforced symmetrically on two sides and are forty-one feet long seventeen inches square at the base and eight inches square at the top. The spans vary from two hundred and fifty to three hundred and ninety feet.

We'll be a long time dead, so let's show we're live ones while we're here.

Study the story about the "Big Ones," and you must decide to be one too.

Look out for a biff, bang, biff, from the Canadian General when the totals are given out.

Your's not to reason why, your's but to Buy and Buy.

Save for next summer's vacation. The safe way is to buy Victory Bonds.

The saddest words, of tongue, I trow,
The saddest are these—the U.F.O.

Some team-work in Smith and Douro.

Have you noticed the steam from V. J. McElderry's team.

All the world loves a lover, but the girls are showing a partiality for the kind with Victory Bonds.

There was a young fellow named Fry,
He's boosting the Loan to the sky;
"Buy some bonds" once he said,
But the man turned and fled;
The Doc has him now, it's his head.

Buy Victory Bonds today. Tomorrow may never come.

What are the wild winds saying,
Perhaps already you've guessed;
They say that of all the bonanzas;
The Victory Loan Bonds are the best.

A slogan for the Campaign teams—
If you cannot win, make the team

There was a man in our town,
He couldn't pay his rent,
He dabbled deep in oil and things
And thus his money went.

At last a wise man tipped him off
To Bonds—he bought a few.
He now not only takes the rent
He owns the building too.

FOOLISH HALLOWE'EN PRANK COSTS LITTLE BOY HIS LIFE.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 3.—Little Dick Tieken lies dead in the City Morgue, the victim of a foolish Hallowe'en prank. His lifeless body was found on the pavement huddled beneath a lowered street lamp. The police have ascertained that a number of youths lowered the lamp and left it. Apparently the little victim came in contact with it and was electrocuted. His identity was unknown until the morning.

CLEANLINESS IS HEALTH

By the use of Gillett's Lye, house cleaning is made a pleasure instead of a drudgery. It softens the water and cleans thoroughly whether the dirt is visible or invisible. Destroys all bacteria and infectious germs, removes obstructions from drain pipes, closets, sinks, etc. Refrigerators are made delightfully fresh and clean by using one teaspoonful of Gillett's Lye dissolved in two gallons of water.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON ON FRIDAY

A partial eclipse of the moon by the earth's shadow will take place on Friday, and if weather is favourable, be visible in Eastern Canada and as far west as the Great Lakes. As seen from Toronto, the moon enters the earth's proper shadow at 5.58 p.m. and leaves it at 7.3 p.m. The middle of the eclipse will be at 6.44 p.m. Only about one-fifth of the moon's body will appear eclipsed as seen from any portion of the earth where the moon is above the horizon.

Many of the ancient astronomers were able, by the use of cycle known as the "Saros," a period of about 18 years, to predict eclipses of the moon. The observations of a long series of eclipses led to the discovery that at the end of 223 lunar months, or about 6,585 days, eclipses of the moon return in the same order, and nearly in the same magnitude, but a slight error in this caused more than one ancient astronomer to be severely punished for confidently predicting eclipses that occasionally did not occur.

PRICES OF DRYGOODS

The Hamilton branch of the Board of Commerce has recommended that the retail dry goods merchants of the city be forced to make a 20 per cent. reduction in their prices, and prevented fro madding from 40 to 50 per cent. to the invoice price of goods, and that they be permitted to add only 30 per cent.

FINE MILLINERY REDUCED

Such millinery as must appeal to the woman who dresses well are offered this week at the American Hat Store at most unusual prices for this season of theyear. A reference to the advertisement of this firm in another column will afford conclusive evidence of the sacrifices that are being made. The autumn models spread out in the store are particularly attractive and will well repay a visit of inspection by all those who have not yet procured their autumn hats.

"HAVEN'T GOT TIME"

Of all the excuses there are
By which this old world is accursed,
This "haven't got time" is far
The poorest, the feeblest, the worst.
A delusion it is, and a snare:
If the habit is yours, you should shake it;
For if you want to do what is offered to you
You'll find time to do it, or make it.

IN MEMORIAM.

BRYETT.—In sacred memory of Dorothy Bryett, who passed away on Nov. 4th, 1918.

And thou art dead as young and fair,
As aught of mortal birth;
And forms so soft and charms so rare
Too soon return'd to earth!
The better days of life were ours,
The worst can be but mine:
The sun that cheers, the storm that lours,
Shall never more be thine.
The silence of that dreamless sleep,
I envy now too much to weep;
The flower in ripen'd bloom unmatch'd
Must fall the earliest prey:
Though by no hand untimely snatch'd
The leaves must drop away.
I know not if I could have borne
To see thy beauties fade:
The night that follow'd such a morn
Had worn a deeper shade:
Thy day without a cloud hath past,
And thou wert lovely to the last,
Extinguish'd, not decay'd,
As stars that shoot along the sky,
Shine brightest as they fall from high.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Pte. Burrit Bell, late of 38th Batt., C.E.F. killed in action, near Valenciennes, France, November 4th, 1918.

Remembered, yes, we never can forget.
His cheery words and smiles are with us yet
Remembered with a heart of grief to-day,
Remembered till the shadows flee away
Love's memories never fade.

The Bill Carried

T.R WILL NOW GO TO THE SENATE—MAY BE READY NEXT WEEK

A BIG NIGHT

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Nov. 5—The third read- of the Grand Trunk Railway Ac- isition Bill was carried at 2.30 this orning by 84 to 53, being a Gov- ment majority of 31, after the six onths' hoist motion of James A. bb, chief Liberal Whip, had been feated.

On the same division the reversed l now goes to the Senate, and ould be ready to receive the Royal nt by the end of this week or ly next week.

It was a day and a night of divi- ns, the members being called in no ver than six times to record the es.

The Senate is expected to return Grand Trunk Bill to the House Commons with the amendment ing that guaranteed shares also be mitted to arbitration, if the Bill is through at all. In such case, it believed the Government will ac- t the amendment.

Canadian General Electric Company arded a Victory Loan flag for hundred per cent. subscribers

TO THE BUSINESS MAN OF PETERBORO

Ask yourself a fair and honest question, and give yourself a fair and honest reply.

Ask yourself, "Why am I prosperous? Why does my business prosper? Why does Peterborough prosper? Why does Canada prosper?"

You know what your answer will be!

Something like this, wouldn't it?

"I am prosperous; Peterborough is prosperous; Canada is prosperous—because by the million, men have suffered, men have bled, and men have died to save civilization, to save the Allies, to save Britain, and to save Canada; and I have been protected, and enabled to carry on my business in security.

"The enormous expenditure of the war has put billions of dollars into circulation, and I have received my share, and then some, of this money.

"Yes, I realize that unless there is a continuance of this prosperity, that my business will suffer. I realize that unles the 1919 Victory Loan is over-subscribed that the money necessary to ensure prosperity will be lacking. Being honest with myself, I admit that I realize that my responsibility to subscribe to what should be my share of the Loan, I am sufficient of a business man to know that my Bank—that ANY Bank in Canada—will finance and enable me to purchase 1919 Victory Bonds. All it is necessary for me to do is to make the request.

"As a successful business man, I know that when I am determined to do a thing, I am capable of doing it. I may be able to invest money to an immediate greater advantage, but as a Canadian, as a broad vision business man, I must admit to myself that subscribing to Victory Loan is subscribing, in the broadest sense, to my best interest, and subscribing to that which will give me the greatest profit. Apart from that, as a Canadian, as one who loves his country, I owe it to her on patriotic grounds, to subscribe to the fullest extent of my ability, and in doing so, I will be only doing that which it is my duty to myself, to my family, to the community in which I dwell, and in which I carry on my business, and my Country."

Honestly, isn't that the real answer? You know it is!

NO CHANGE REPORTED IN THE STRIKE SITUATION

COUNCIL FOR THE LABOUR LEADERS

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Man., Nov. 5.—Robert Cassidy, K.C., a prominent Vancouver lawyer, and chief counsel for the eight strike leaders to be tried at the assizes, who has been conducting the defence for five men arrested for having session in Fort William, has arrived here.

Associated with Cassidy in the defence will be J. Edward Bird, of Bird and MacDonald, Vancouver, and E. J. McMurray, of Winnipeg, who had charge of the defence at the preliminary hearing. Mr. Bird is a prominent Socialist lawyer and member of the Ontario and British Columbia bar. They were closeted with accused to-day.

BOTH SIDES ARE STILL MARKING TIME AND WAITING FOR EACH OTHER TO START SOMETHING --NO PROPOSALS HAVE BEEN MADE.

OPERATORS MEET

(United Press.)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 5 (by J. L. O'Sullivan).—An unmistakeable sentiment prevailed among those in close touch with the United Mine Workers' headquarters here that the strike of the coal miners would be of short duration, though no tangible foundation for this belief could be found to-day.

No proposals have been made by the Department of Labour toward lifting the restraining order on the condition that the miners would submit the issue to a Federal Arbitration Board, it was stated positively.

Union leaders, it was indicated, are strongly opposed to arbitration on any basis, although it is not impossible that an arbitration offer might be accepted.

"Joint bargaining" is the only means for strike settlement pointed to by acting president John J. Lewis in the one statement he has issued since the strike was called.

Miner chiefs were waiting to-day for either the government or the coal operators to set the machinery of joint bargaining in motion. No indication that either the Government or the operators would do so could be discovered here.

An important meeting of the mine operators of the Indianapolis field was scheduled to be held at Terre Haute, Ind., to-day The purpose of the meeting was not disclosed, but some answer was expected to the claims made by Ed. Stewart, president of the Indiana coal miners, that he had review the proposals toward a settlement of the strike from a few operators.

Phil Penna, spokesman for the operators, set at rest all reports that the meeting would plan to re-open the coal mines. In view of the situation, Penna said, it would be foolhardy even to think of opening the mines.

Canadian Press:

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 Labour leaders who had taken a hopeful view of the coal strike situation, after hearing Samuel Gompers' suggestion for a settelement, were plainly disturbed be the news that the Department of Justice would let the injunction stand. All agreed that it would keep the strike going for some time. This also was the view of the operators. Confidential reports to-day to the Department of Justice said that fifty per cent. more men worked in the coal mines in Colorado yesterday than the day before. A number of mines were said to be running full force.

GARMENT WORKERS JOIN THE UNION

PROGRESS OF THE ONE BIG UNION IN THE WEST

(Special to The Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, Nov. 5. — Garment workers of the city were formed into a unit of the One Big Union last night. A letter to the Council from Fort William stated that Longshoremen and coal handlers of that city voted to go out. One Big Union Secretary Russell said this organization numbered five hundred men.

The example of Toronto in issuing "Liberty Bonds" for the purpose of raising a fund for the defence of strike leaders is to be followed by the Central Council here. It is proposed to issue "bonds" or certificates in donations of $1, $2 and $5 and by sale of these bonds to raise $25,000 between Fort William and Victoria in the next 30 days.

The idea of starting a "Labor College" for teaching all subjects of working class interest was suggested at the meeting and the idea was referrd to several units for their opinion on the matter.

PRINCE CHARMING LEAVES TORONTO

(Special to The Examiner.)

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—Sleeping, the Prince of Wales came into Toronto two days ago, and sleeping he left it. The C.P.R. Royal train pulled out of North Toronto station at 9.20 this morning on the last lap of its ten thousand mile journey, with the Prince still abed. Three curtains were all drawn on the private car, "Killarney," even the three feathers on the side had a sleepy, early morning sort of look about them, despite the brightness of the sunshine and the clearness of the air.

"MEIGHEN COULD NOT STAND THE GAFF' AND BEAT HASTY RETREAT

The following telegram from Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., was received this morning:

"Your readers will no doubt like to know why I voted against the Government on the Campbell amendment to the Grand Trunk Bill last night. The clause it dealt with reads as follows:

"The present guaranteed stock and the new guaranteed stock or any part thereof may be called in or redeemed by the Government at par at any time after five years from the date of the appointment of the said committee of management on six months' notice by adjournment to the holders thereof."

Stock is very strangely exempted from all conditions and limitations. It was forty-five on the London market a few days ago and no doubt London sharks and their accomplices got options on it. Our government, as you see, agrees to buy it at par and to pay four per cent. meanwhile. The stock amounts to $62,000,000 and no one now knows what was paid for it originally or who bought it. At 45 it was worth a few days ago $27,900,000. This Government, therefore ,agrees to pay $35,00,000 more than the present price, and then people wonder how fortunes are made. As the other clauses of the Bill were provided for in the usual business way, as by arbitration and c., but this clause looks like a frightful business and when in Committee I demanded an explanation of the Government my suspicions were only confirmed. Meighen could not stand the gaff and hurriedly left the chamber. That is life."

LINDSAY MEMBERS VISITED PETERBORO

REGULAR MEETING OF LANSDOWNE LODGE FOLLOWED BY SOCIAL HOUR.

The regular meeting of Lansdowne Lodge held on Monday, November, 3rd was the occasion of a visit from Westminister Lodge Lindsay, who motored down during the evening, There was also a large attendance of Peterboro members. During the evening Brother Boxall of Lindsay Past Supreme President, presented the Past President's Jewel to Brother A. Follis, who had filled the position of President of Lansdowne Lodge for 2 years. The members present testified by their applause to the esteem and respect in which Brother Follis is held by the members of Lansdowne Lodge.

After the Lodge had adjourned the members of both Lodges enjoyed a social hour together around the Festive Board and the following toasts were honored "The King", proposed by Brother R. Waram; "Our Guests" proposed by Brother P. Webb responded to by Brother Boxall; "Our Members who laid down their lives on the Fields of France and Flanders", proposed by Brother A. Follis and honored by all the members in silence.

After the social hour the Lodge resumed its work and 5 candidates were advanced to the White Rose degree. After the degree work was concluded the members stayed enjoying th egood things provided by the committee and participating in games and social intercourse finally separating in the early hours of the morning well satisfied with the evening's work.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY BEFORE THE LABOUR CONFERENCE

CANADIAN WORKERS' DELEGATE OBJECTS TO 48-HOUR WEEK MOTION---DEBATE ADJOURNED.

COMMITTEES NAMED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. — The fight on the 8-hour day has begun. The first rounds indicate that it will be prolonged and that some time will probably elapse before the International Labor Conference pronounces its opinion. It came before the conference yesterday afternoon in the submission by the Organization Committee of the proposed convention for a 48-hour week. Mr. Barnes, the British Government delegate and a member of the British War Cabinet, pleaded for the convention, and was supported in his view by Mayor Desplanches, Government delegate from Italy.

"We cannot do less at this conference," Mr. Barnes argued, "than adopt a convention for a shorter working day. To do less than this would be to break faith with labor. He would have certain amendments to the convention to submit later, but the British government had every desire to fulfill all its obligations. Greater production was needed but it would not be obtained by denunciatory speeches. The only way to get it was by "better organization of industry, by humanizing the conditions of labor." The idea of the convention was not to get more pay, but to get more leisure for the workers.

Mr. Barnes then moved that "the draft convention of the 48-hour week, prepared by the organizing committee be adopted by the conference as the basis for discussion but that its application to the tropical and other countries referred to in Article 405 of the peace treaty be referred in the first instance for consideration by a special committee, which shall report to the conference.

Then came a labor revolt. Mr. Draper, Canadian workers' delegate, led with a query how far acceptance of the motion would bind delegates to the 48-hour week. Could amendments for a 44-hour week be subsequently submitted? The chairman thought that acceptance of the motion did not tie the conference down to any of the provisions of the convention and invited Mr. Barnes to state his views on that point. Mr. Barnes argued that the peace treaty laid it down that "we are to have an 8-hour day or a 48-hour week." The organizing committee put this forward as the basis of discussion in a 48-hour week. I take it that the convention would be open to amendment only in so far as amendments were

IRELAND TO HAVE TWO PARLIAMENTS

ONE IN PROTESTANT ULSTER, OTHER FOR REMAINDER OF COUNTRY.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Cabinet committee in Ireland yesterday accepted the proposals of its sub-committee providing for the creation of two separate Irish Parliaments—one in the Protestant Counties of Ulster and the other for the remainder of Ireland —with some form of supreme authority representative of both to embody the idea of a united Ireland, says the Daily Mail to-day.

"The function of the Supreme Council has not yet been decided" the newspaper adds, "but it is proposed that it shall be elected and that the two Parliaments shall have general direction of all Irish affairs.

"The committee also recommends the immediate introduction of a bill further suspending the operation of the Home Rule Act, but they realize that Parliament will not agree to this unless it is accompanied by a definite proposal from the Government. Frequent meetings of the committee will be held to expedite the work, and the Government may be able to make a statement in the House next week."

Election Results

REPUBLICANS GAINED SEVERAL SEATS IN NEW YORK STATE—STRONG FOR PROHIBITION.

LARGE VOTE

(Canadian Press.)

More complete returns to-day on the off-year election yesterday in several states did not change the outcome in any important respect. The smashing victory of Calvin Coolidge, Republican, in Massachusettes, re-elected to succeed himself as Governor by the largest vote ever polled by a Gubernatorial candidate in that State, shared honours with an almost equally decisive "dry" victory in Ohio as the most striking result of the voting. As a possible indication of the drifting population sentiment preparatory to the national elections next year, yesterday's results were being closely scrutinized by party leaders. Kentucky was swept into the Republican fold in the Governorship fight, but to-day returns made it certain that New Jersey had reverted to the Democratic column. Maryland, the only other State in which there was a serious contest for the Governorship, was still in doubt with the Democratic candidate leading.

BOSTON, Nov. 5.—Governor Calvin Coolidge, Republican, who made the support of law and order the sole issue of his campaign, was re-elected yesterday by a plurality of 124,173 over Richard H. Long, Democrat.

The Coolidge majority was the largest ever given a governor in this State. The entire Republican State ticket was elected by large margins, although the Democrats gained four seats in the House of Representatives.

The Republicans gained three in the Senate, and will have their usual large majority in both branches.

The House will have 176 Republicans, 62 Democrats, and two Independents, and the Senate 33 Republicans and 7 Democrats.

VOTED DRY.

(Canadian Press.)

[illegible] may reach three times the size of that by which it voted Prohibition a year ago, according to incomplete and unofficial returns received early to-day.

Partial returns from half of the counties in the States indicated a dry majority on all four Prohibition proposals of approximately 75,000.

In addition to defeating the proposed repeal of State-wide Prohibition, Ohio yesterday apparently voted by big majorities to uphold the action of the Legislature in ratifying the Federal Prohibition Amendment to kill a proposal for the manufacture and sale of beer containing as high as 2.75 per cent. alcohol, and to put into effect the Crabbe Prohibition Enforcement Bill passed by the Legislature last spring. All of the Prohibition proposals were initiated by the wets.

Yesterday's vote was unusually heavy, in view of the fact that no State officials were to be elected.

Warmly contested municipal elections brought out a large vote.

Mayor Harry L. Davis, Republican, was re-elected in Cleveland; Mayor Cornel Schreiber, Independent, was re-elected in Toledo, and Mayor Geo. Karb, Democrat, was defeated for re-election in Columbus by J. J. Thomas, Republican.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—Indications early to-day were that the Republicans had gained several seats in New York State Assembly as a result of the election yesterday. Their representation had been increased by five, with no reports available on ten doubtful districts in King's County, Brooklyn.

One of the interesting characters at next session will be Lieut.-Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who was elected from Oyster Bay district by a large majority. He will begin his political career exactly as did his father.

The Republicans were successful in most of the up-State municipal elections. The only second-class cities which elected Democratic Mayors were Schenectady, where George R. Lunn was returned to the office he had held as a Socialist on two previous occasions, and Troy, where Ja. W. Fleming, former State Conservation Commissioner, was successful.

Both women who served at the last session were defeated by men for re-election

The Boy Went Whistling Down the Street--

THE other day a woman came from her kitchen to answer a knock at the front door. A boy gave her a telegram. The telegram told her that her son was dead. He died as a result of wounds received more than two two years ago.

The boy went whistling down the street.

The woman went back to her work and--grief.

This incident is told to remind you that, for many people, the war is not yet ended.

Don't you go whistling down the street. The war is not yet ended for you, until war incurred costs are paid. It is your duty to buy Victory Bonds to the limit of your resources.

VACCINATION ORDER BY STRATFORD COUNCIL.

"Curtains in Restaurant Stalls Forbidden. Bills Taboo in "Victories."

STRTAFORD, Nov. 4.—The City Council last night passed a resolution requiring vaccination of all residents of the city who have not been vaccinated in the past seven years. The action is taken because of an outbreak of smallpox. A by-law was passed also forbidding curtains on restaurant stalls. The city decided to invest in $210,000 worth of Victory Bonds.

Isn't This Romantic?

Two toes loved by four corns for five years and sentenced to die by five applications of Putnam's Corn Extractor. If you want to cure corns, "Putnam's" is the only thing—try this painless remedy, 25c at all dealers.

NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Peterborough will take into consideration the passing and approved will pass at its meeting to be held on the 8th day of December, 1919, at the hour of 8 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Council Chamber in the City Buildings of the City of Peterborough, a By-law for stopping up and selling that part of the allowance for Highway lying between Lot Number 2, South of Rink Street, and East of George Street and Block "D" according to Registered Plan Number 7 for the City of Peterborough.

And the Council will at that time and place hear in person or by his counsel, solicitor or agent, any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially effected by the By-law, and who applies to be heard.

DATED the 8th day of November, 1919.

FARMERS WILL PACK PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—Farmers in various portions of York county are talking of coming in a body to Queen's Park the day the Legislature opens. "The assembling of the first Farmers' Parliament is an event which few of us would like to miss," one farmer told The Globe last night.

The opening of the session will come at a time when the tillers of the soil can most easily take a day or a week off, and several farmers think that the farms in the county will be practically deserted for the day. While York county farmers have the advantage of radials on their more distant brethren, it is likely that from all parts of the Province farmers, bringing their wives and daughters, will crowd to Toronto for the opening ceremonies.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Ely's Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

Ah! how good it feels. Your nostrils are open, your head is clear, no more hawking, snuffling, blowing; no more headache, dryness or struggling for breath. Ely's Cream Balm is just what sufferers from head colds and catarrh need. It's a delight.

BETTER RECORD FOR BENGAL.

In the province of Bengal, India, 26,486 animals died of contagious diseases during the year 1917-1918, as against 8,415 in the previous year.

Returned Soldier Stabbed From Behind By a Foreigner—Was a Taxi Driver.

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Nov. 5.—J. G. Rowland, 30 years old, a returned soldier and taxi driver, was brutally assaulted and stabbed in the back at Leaside, one of the north-eastern suburbs of Toronto, shortly after midnight and died in the Davisville Military Hospital after having dragged himself one hundred yards from the scene of the assault to a neighboring residence to obtain assistance. Rowland was unable to complete his story before death ensued, but declared that a foreigner, apparently a Russian, hired him at the Union station to drive him to Leaside. There his story stopped. There were nine different slashes on the victim's face and a great gash in his throat. It was evident that he had been attacked from behind. The police are working on various clues. Rowland served with the second machine gun battalion overseas and was wounded and gassed. He was a quiet, retiring man of exemplary character.

The Plague of Pimples

Body Covered With Them

The primary cause of pimples arises from the blood not being in a good condition. When the blood becomes impure you will find that pimples will break out all over the body but more particularly on the forehead, nose and chin, and although they are not a dangerous trouble, they are very unsightly. What you need when pimples or boils break out is a real good blood purifying medicince such as Burdock Blood Bitters.

This preparation has been on the market for over 40 years and is the most reliable remedy for all troubles arising from a bad condition of the blood. It removes all the impurities from the system and will leave a clear, healthy skin.

Mr. Emerson G. Goodwin, Cambridge, N. B., writes: "For nearly two years I suffered from boils and pimples on my back and nearly all my body was covered with the pimples. I tried most everything but got no relief. One day a friend advised me to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and after using three bottles the pimples and the boils had all left me and there is no sign of them returning. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone who is troubled with skin disease."

EIGHT-HOUR DAY BEFORE LABOUR CONFERENCE

compatable with that principle of a 48-hour week."

Mr. Draper retorted that he could not then accept the proposal. "As the representative of the working people of Canada," warmly declared Mr. Draper.

"I am not in favor of the proposition as submitted by Mr. Barnes. I believe that if we are nailed down to the proposition that we can only have a 48-hour week or an 8-hour day that it opens the door for allowing certain industries to work 9, 10, 11 or 12 hours a day—it makes no difference so long as the 48-hours per week have been worked. I don't think that is a good proposition and of course I would like to hear some further explanation before I cast my vote."

Eventually the debate was adjourned till to-morrow afternoon, with the Barnes motion still before the conference. In the meantime delegates of three groups will confer on their atlitude.

A number of committees were appointed. Subsequently Senator Robertson, Mr. Parson and Mr. Draper (Mr. Draper acting provisionally for Mr. Gompers) were appointed to the committee on unemployment. Mr. Draper was also appointed to the committee on the unemployment of women and children in unhealthy processes and to the committee on the employment of women in industrial establishments during the night. Hon. N. W. Rowell is presiding over a special committee which has under consideration admission of new members to the conference.

OUR VISITING INSURANCE MEN

Arrangements are being made to give the large body of visiting insurance men a motor drive around the city to-morrow afternoon, starting at the Empress Hotel at four o'clock. There will be a considerable number from all points between North Bay and Montreal. Agency staff meetings of all the branch offices in town are being held prior to the opening of the congress.

The lectures at the congress are being given by W. Lyle Reid, Ottawa, J. L. Kavanagh, New York, E. J. L'Esperance, Montreal, A. N. Mitchell, Toronto, and E. J. McIvor, New York. These men are all prominent authorities on life insurance matters, and are promised a hundred per cent. turn out of the local insurance men.

FARMERS, NOT MILK VENDORS, DEMAND INCREASED PRICE

CONSUMERS HAVE MISTAKEN IMPRESSION THAT DISTRIBUTORS ARE DISSATISFIED.

In the recent intimations of the likelihood of an increase in the price of milk in Peterboro it may not have been clearly explained that this movement originates not from the milk vendors or distributors but from the milk producers, the dairy farmers who were organized a year ago into the Milk Producers' Association. Some vendors have their own herds and are therefore both producers and retailers, but the greater quantity of the milk consumed in Peterboro, is bought by the vendors from the producers whose price forms the basis of the price charged by the retailers to consumers. Hence it has been pointed out that if the producers demand a higher price the distributors have no secourse but to pay it, and in turn they must increase their price to the public. Nothing definite has been decided yet by the Milk Producers' Association but it is reported that they will hold another meeting shortly to consider the basic price for their winter milk.

"AUNT JEMIMA'S" LIVING MODELS ATTRACTED THE SIDEWALK CROWD

"Living models" of hearty, unjaded appetites, attracted continuous and perhaps envious crowds about one of the Simcoe street windows of the Turnbull Company's store this morning. The idea, considered in the light of a variation of the practice of employing models in the ladies' clothing departments of the big stores for the display of new millinery, wraps, suits and coats, provided an animated and attractive advertisement of "Aunt Jemima's" pancake flour, which is being demonstrated at the Turnbull store this week.

The big window representing a cosy corner of a kitchen, plus a table moved from the dining room, and two small boys about seven years old, eating pancakes hot off the pan garnished with maple syrup, won the sympathetic humour of the people who clustered about the window. The cook herself closely resembled the "Aunt Jemima" of the magazine advertisements, the laughing face on the packages of flour in many a kitchen cabinet. She was younger than the original, and her appearance as she plied the hungry boys with hot pancakes subtly suggested that she is one of those "prizes" the helpless housekeeper" would gladly pay about a million a dollars a month, or some such inconceivable wage.

The boys seemed to enjoy themselves as thoroughly as older youths who lull and narcotize a great hunger in the seclusion of a stall in a Chinese cafe. They seemed to be unconscious of the smiling spectators, except at times when they glanced appreciatively from their plates to "Aunt Jemima" and then to the sidewalk crowd that felt a sudden reflected relish and a sharpening of appetite that is usually dormant until the noon hour. It was obvious that the boys at a little table for two were in their glory, that the pancakes were actually melting in their mouths, and that their "tummy" capacity was in danger of being strained by an eager appetite that kept calling for more.

PETERBORO IS IN TENTH PLACE

ONTARIO LEADS THE DOMINION IN VICTORY LOAN TOTALS.

Mr. G. R. Warburton, organiser of the Trent Valley Division for the Victory Loan Campaign, is in receipt of a message from Toronto, showing the latest returns for our Division:

Northumberland .... 42.70 p.c. Object.
Durham .... 49.11 p.c. Object.
Peterborough .... 52.05 p.c. Object.
Victoria and Hal. .... 33.67 p.c. Object.
Muskoka .... 48.35 p.c. Object.
Parry Sound .... 82.41 p.c. Object.

Forty-four per cent. of the time is gone, while the team members of our Division have attained 46.08 per cent. of their objective. We have done splendidly so far, and the thanks of the committee are due to all who have put their shoulders to the wheel. Leadership in the Division is shared by Parry Sound, with 82.40 per cent. of their objective, and Peterborough with 52.05 per cent.

Results so far are only an incentive to greater efforts. We have only a little over a week to put Peterborough solidly on the Victory Loan map. There are 60 counties in Ontario. We are now tenth. Where will we finish?

The Province of Ontario continues to lead Canada in the Victory Loan drive, as the following table of totals to date, shows:

Ontario (including Toronto)	$109,120,400
British Columbia	4,445,950
Alberta	3,152,800
Saskatchewan	2,387,050
Manitoba	9,510,750
Montreal and Quebec	38,774,650
New Brunswick	1,674,650
Nova Scotia	3,676,000
Prince Edward Island	202,700
Total for Dominion	$164,584,650
Dominion total some period last year	$155,379,700

BREAD WAR IN ST. KITTS

Prices of Staff of Life Are Going Down Rapidly.

(Special to The Examiner.)

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., Nov. 5.—A bread war started in St. Catharines to-day with a second reduction in prices this week. Monday bread dropped from twenty-four to twenty-two cents for a four pound loaf, and to-day it was again lowered to twenty. A Thorold baker declined to raise prices, it is understood and caused the trouble, and bread may go away down it was predicted this morning.

OLD FOLKS NEED MILD BOWEL TONIC

And Should Avoid the Use of Harsh Pills and Drastic Purgatives.

Old people, no matter how sound and healthy should avoid cathartic pills, purgative water, salts and all such temporary relief measures. They ease conditions to-day, but bind you up worse than ever to-morrow.

It is better to get the bowels into the habit of performing their needful function at a certain time each day and this can be done by strengthening the muscles of the stomach and bowels by the tonic action of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, a mild laxative that acts as close to nature's way as possible.

Thousands of people, old and young, prevent and cure habitual constipation by using Dr. Hamilton's Pills, a mild yet active medicine that is noted for its promptness in curing headaches, belching gas, sourness in the stomach, fullness after meals, liver soreness and muddy complexion. You'll have the best of health, feel good, eat well, digest and sleep well if you regulate the system by Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Buternut, 25c. per box at all dealers.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE.

Victory Bonds are unemployment insurance. And you get the premium yourself instead of having to pay it.

EVERYBODY'S LOAN.

The City of Peterborough is well up in the Ontario list in the big campaign. The townships are however holding their counts totals back. Come on this is everybody's Loan.

THE TANK QUESTION.

While the old country is endeavoring to decide who invented tanks, Ontario has decided to officially abolish them.

THE GOVERNMENT DESERTED.

The Grand Army of Canada has notified Premier Borden that it cannot support the Government at the next election if the National Policy stands. The Ottawa administration will soon not have a friend in the country.

THE PREMIER'S OPINION.

The safest investment you could possibly make is in Victory Bonds and it is the biggest thing you could possibly do for your country at the present time.—Premier-Elect Drury.

ANOTHER CONQUEST.

Not satisfied with their remarkable success in the Ontario general elections of with their spectacular triumph in the Dominion by-election, the United Farmers have begun to extend the field of their operations. The election of the United Farmer candidate in Monday's provincial by-election in Alberta is not only another proof of the effective organization of the farmers but it is an indication that the success they have already won have spurred them on to new activities. The Governments of the three prairie provinces will find little satisfaction in Monday's result in the proof it gives of an intention on the part of the farmers to wrest the reins of Provincial Government from the hands now holding them. As the agricultural vote in the western provinces is the main factor, it is conceeded that the farmers, if they "stick together" as did their comrades in Ontario, would have little difficulties in sweeping into power in any of the prairie provinces. The farmers movement is spreading like wild-fire.

THE VETERANS AND POLITICS.

The entrance of the Great War Veterans' Association into the world of politics, a development that has been expected since the publication of the report of the special Parliamentary Committee on Soldier Re-establishment is foreshadowed by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Ontario Provincial Executive of the G.W.V.A. The Ontario command unanimously decided to call upon the Dominion command to hold a Dominion convention as soon as possible to discuss the problems of re-establishment, to consider the advisability of amending the constitution so as to make eligible for membership all persons who served in the Army, Navy, or Aerial service of Great Britain and her Allies, and to consider at the same tme the deletion how the constitution of the clauses which at present prohibit the G.W.V.A. from taking political action. The different clauses of this resolution considered in connection with each other are not within their significance. It is apparently the desire of the Ontario leaders to have the G.W.V.A. organize on political lines and with that object in view, it is purposed to remove the bars that prevented soldiers who had not been overseas from becoming members. The object being the easily understood one of making the G.W.V.A. a stronger voting machine than it can be under the present restricted membership system. The soldier vote if concentrated in accordance with the G.W.V.A. plan would be a decided factor in a political campaign and if the desire of the returned men to take the plunge continues to increase, it is certain that in a Domnion election would result in the election of a substantial soldiers group.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

Premier-Elect Drury is refusing to be hurried in formation of a cabinet and will not be ready to take over the government until the end of next week. He is showing considerable wisdom in the course for the fate of the Government will depend largely upon the material that Mr. Drury introduces into the cabinet and a hurried selection might be disastrous. The United Farmers of Ontario have before them a huge responsibility. The province has given them a mandate to establish a new order of things, politically and that in itself is an obligation that would place a heavy strain upon the ability of any party. And beyond that there is the realization that upon the result of the efforts of Mr. Drury and his colleagues hinge the fate of the general farmers' movement in Canada. At present if there was to be a Dominion election it is admitted that the representative of the agricultural interest would dominate the next parliament. If the Farmers' Government in Ontario prove itself a capable honest government, then the National Farmers' movement would be as certain of success three years from now as it appears to be at the present moment. But on the other hand if the farmer members of the Ontario Legislature fail to govern in the interests of the province as a whole, and developes into a punch farmers group, with little thought for any other class than their own, they will decide not only their own fate but will throw the Dominion-wide movement entirely out of gear. Under the circumstances Mr. Drury's course in taking time to give a careful consideration to the personnel of his cabinet is undoubtedly the only one that wisdom would dictate.

THE TASK OF THE BOND-SELLERS.

The thousands of enthusiastic workers who are now engaged in the great and patriotic duty of floating the Victory Loan to success in every part of Canada have a somewhat different task from the "originals" who laid the foundations of the first Victory Loan of 1917. Most of them are still in the fight; but they now have to deal with a public which is educated in the national and personal benefits of Victory Bonds. When the first Victory loan was conceived and pressed to a splendid accomplishment, only a small percentage of those who were approached had more than a vague idea of what a bond or an interest coupon meant. Those in charge of publicity had to teach the public the A.B.C.'s of financial investment, as well as to stir the public to a realization of the great national purpose that lay back of the campaign.

Now the public everywhere, even to the children in the schools, knows that Victory Bonds are: what a safe, convenient and remunerative investment they have proved. The only question is, whether the public realizes that the national necessity is as pressing as it was while the war was still in progress. Canada must fulfil her obligations created by the war. She must keep her pledges to the returned soldiers: and to maintain her trade prosperity and conserve it for the fututre, she must obtain a great liquid capital to enable her to do a credit business across the seas. The indications are that the public has become infected with the same enthusiasm that made the past Victory Loans successful and placed Canada where she is to-day. Her people did not fail her in 1917 and 1918: neither will they in 1919.

RIVERSIDE PARK.

The proposed purchase of the Riverside Park and the property between the present northern boundary of the park and Hunter street, by the city, opens the way for the development of a magnificent asset, from the standpoint of healthy recreation. The property, conveniently located and possessing the advantage of being situated alongside the river offers possibilities in the way of an ideal athletic park, and if the proposition is handled in a broad way, with a view to the growth and development of Peterborough, this city will posses a recreation ground unequalled anywhere. As it stands now Riverside Park is one of the best baseball parks in Eastern Ontario. The improvements that might be made there naturally suggest themselves. The houses on the property north of the park could at comparatively little expense, be converted into club houses and dressing rooms. Between them and the present grandstand, tennis courts or lawn bowling greens could be constructed, leaving the playing field intact. At the southern end of the park a swimming beach might easily be arranged. In fact Riverside Park could be made to serve the purposes of the devotees of practically every summer sport, if the matter is approached in the proper spirit and with the necesary vision. The Board of Trade, the Trades and Labour Council, the various Athletic Clubs, should all be willing to co-operate in working for the converting of Riverside Park into a people's playground. It would mean much for Peterboro—more, perhaps, than the average citizen appreciates.

Voice Of The People

To the Editor:

May I, through your columns, correct an impression which seems rather general among our citizens, regarding the salaries which the city pays the women teachers of its Public schools?

At present the highest salary paid, even after over twenty years' service, is $880. The majority, however, range between that amount and $700. A peculiar idea also prevailing is that our increases granted last June are of quite generous sums. These were not given according to standing or length of service, and they vary somewhat. The new salary schedule increases the wealth of no woman teacher beyond $48.75. This was the increase of the more recent members of the staff. The majority of us come considerably below that. Indeed, more than one-third our number are just devising means of disposing of our liberal increases of $14.63½. We shall not really come into our own until February 1st, as the Board of Education do not wish to encourage recklessness among the women teachers.

I believe that an enterprising type of one our city papers, who likes dabbling in the higher mathematics, has figured out that we of the $14.63½ class are receiving an increase of 2-8c. an hour. And at that he did not count in our "over-time."

The Eyes Of Canada Are Upon Peterboro

Every Allied Country has raised a loan from its people since fighting ended. They have all raised loans for the same purpose—to finish paying for Victory.

Of all that were in the war, from the beginning, Canada is the only one to come out of the struggle stronger than she went into it.

Canada has found herself—spiritually and materially.

With reason and pride we can look to the future and proclaim Canada indeed A Promised Land.

The Victory Loan which is needed to finish paying war obligations is the very barometer of our confidence in the future.

In the measure of its over-subscription—we will reap the future benefits.

Come through and come through handsomely.

It was fine enough to buy Victory Bonds when war was on the threshold, but it is the bigger thing to buy them now—when the tumult is over.

Let's show the stuff Peterboro is made of—Let's finish the job and let's see it through.

Let every citizen of Peterboro to the limit of his ability.

WHO SHALL LEAD MANITOBA TORIES?

R. G. Willis, Brig.-Gen. Dyer and A. Prefontaine all Mentioned

WINNIPEG, Nov. 4. — Although R. G. Willis President of the Conservative Association for Manitoba, has been prominently mentioned by Conservatives as a strong contender for the leadership of the Provincial Conservatives, it was stated here that Brig.-Gen. Hugh M. Dyer, D.S. O. and Bar, C.M.G., of Minnedosa, might be chosen as Leader if he could be prevailed upon to allow his name to go before the convention next Thursday. In pre-war days Brig.-Gen. Dyer was a prominent Conservative, and played a leading part in agricultural affairs. Albert Prefontaine Conservatives in the House, has numerous friends and may figure strongly in the ballot if he permits his name to stand.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $5, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a 16-oz. bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth); then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the bottle. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you 16 ounces of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for $2.50.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

FREDERICK SUGGESTED THAT NEIL LIVE IN THE COUNTRY

CHAPTER CXVI

Neil was back home with Robert and me. But he was a changed Neil. At times so quiet, so depressed I scarcely knew him; at others feverishly planning to make good so that he might win back the respect of people, business men and me my place in society.

I pointed out to him that all that must be given up. That not for many years could we hope to regain any sort of social position. One night I said something of the sort when Frederick was with us. The business was not quite settled, and he often came ot the house to talk it over with Neil.

"It may not take so long as you think," he replied. "It will depend entirely upon you—" he looked at Neil.

"I am a pretty poor dependence," Neil spoke moodily.

"As I said it will depend upon you."

"Tell us just what you mean?" I begged. I thought I had detected something encouraging in his voice and manner.

"If Mr. Forbes will accept it I shall offer him the position of Eastern Manager for me. I have contemplated a change for some time. What do you say, Forbes?"

Tears rushed to Neil's eyes. He tried to speak but couldn't altho his lips moved. By a great effort he calmed himself, then said:

"Do you mean it, Frederick? It doesn't see possible a man would do so much for a down-and-outer as you have done for me. And Frederick, would it not be bad for you, your business, ot have it known that I was handling it after all this notoriety?"

"I surely mean it Forbes. It may be hard sledding at first ,and I don't deny that I may lose a little business because of what has happened. But that is my affair. I'll start you at a fair salary and commission. Then it is up to you. Will you take it?"

"Will I? Yes, and thank God every day of my life for such a friend as you have proved yourself to be. I will do my best—my level best to prove my gratitude." He rushed from the room to hide his emotion.

"You are wonderful," I said very low to Frederick when we were alone.

"No, not wonderful. Just anxious to help the woman who is, always will be the one woman in the world to me. Anxious not only to help her, but to help those she loves. But don't think I haven't weighed the results of my act. I am pretty good judge of men, a fair business man myself. Your husband is a keen, quick-witted young man. That he used his keenness in the wrong direction, doesn't prove he cannot use it right if he is persuaded it will be just as profitable. I am putting all moral questions aside, altho I really believe that now he would do right because it IS right even without financial returns. But he will make good for himself and for me too, so do not think you must be overly grateful."

"No one else would give him a chance."

"Perhaps not—not right away. But he couldn't be kept back long he is a born financier. And not much over thirty." Then he changed the subject as Neil returned by asking if we had decided anything about a home. The days were passing and soon we would have to make way for Tearle and his noisy brood.

"I have looked a little, but am almost discouraged. Rents are so high."

"Why not take a little place down on Long Island where you can have a garden and the boy a place to run in. I was down there with some friend the other day, and I inquired something about rents etc., with you in mind."

"I should like to get out doors and dig in the ground once more. That is if Bab would like it," Neil said a light of pleasure at the prospect in his eyes.

"Like it! I'd love it land Robert would go wild. He never has had a place ot run."

"Well suppose I take you down in my car next Sunday. We can look at two or three places. Our cars had been sold to Tearle.

"May we take Robert?" I asked.

"Of course, the little shaver will enjoy the ride," so it was settled, and the first step in making a new home taken.

To-morrow—Neil's Life Job.

How Much Tobacco Will My Heart Stand

A Question Vital to Every Man Who Smokes or Chews

IT MAY COST A PRECIOUS LIFE TO FIND OUT BY EXPERIMENT.

The heart of every user of tobacco bears a double burden. It does its allotted task and then fights nicotine for supremacy. As long as the heart wins he lives; when it loses he dies, but before the final victory of nicotine you pass through many stages of dooling and decay and suffer many pangs. Hearts are like human beings—some are stronger than others; therefore, some hearts will stand more tobacco than others, but there is a limit to what any heart can stand. The man who puts this additional strain on his heart a dozen times a day by smoking cigarettes, a pipe or cigars—or chewing tobacco—is taking a woman's chance with health and life to toss and nothing to win but the chance that he may not lose them. He is indulging in a costly habit at the expense of precious health. Ask any doctor anywhere, and he will tell you that using tobacco is injurious and that it is far better to quit the habit than to experiment to find how much tobacco your heart will stand without serious results.

But the thought of quitting is unpleasant to most men—even to those who know that tobacco injures them—and to really quit takes more will-power than they have, and causes more suffering than they can voluntarily endure. To quit the habit make it easy for yourself by getting Nicotol tablets and taking them as directed. The habit really quits you, and its departure is a pleasure equal to its indulgence.

If you want to know how much easier it is to quit the habit with Nicotol than without it, go twenty-four hours without tobacco and note what an effort it costs you; then begin using it as usual and take Nicotol tablets. At the end of a week discontinue smoking or chewing for a day, and it is probable you will have no desire to resume. At least your desire will be greatly diminished, and another week or two should make it not only possible, but a pleasure, to quit.

Note.—Dr. Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins Hospital, under whose advice Nicotol has often been used, said when this statement was shown to him: "I have known Nicotol to conquer the tobacco habit in less than ten days' time, and I can therefore recommend it highly." When the doctor's statement was shown by one of our leading druggists he said: "Nicotol is truly a wonderful remedy for the tobacco habit, way ahead of anything we have ever sold before. We are authorized by the manufacturers to refund the money to every dissatisfied customer, and we would not permit the use of our name unless the remedy possessed unusual merit." Nicotol is sold in this city under an iron-clad money-back guarantee by all up-to-date druggists. (9)

PEERS AND THEIR PALACES

It is one of life's little ironies that while thousands of families are searching vainly for a roof to cover their heads there are scores of our peers, any one of whom could accommodate fifty families in one or other of his pleasure houses, and yet have abundant r om left for himself, says Answers.

There are a dozen dukes alone who, among them are owners of half a hundred mansions with thousands of rooms in which they practically never set foot. Of them the Duke of Buccleuch has six houses; the Dukes of Devonshire and Sutherland own the same number each; his Grace of Northumberland had five; and the Duke of Atholl four. And each of these palatial homes on an average could comfortably accommodate a score of families.

Earl Fitzwilliam has two castles in Ireland and a spacious mansion in Grosvenor Square, in addition to his Yorkshire seat, Wentworth Woodhouse, which with its 175 rooms, is said to be the largest private house in England. So vast is that that four suburban villas could be placed in the hall.

Blenheim Palace, the Oxfordshire seat of the Duke of Marlborough, is 348 feet long, has fifteen staircases, and so many rooms that the present Duke declares that he has never entered at least fifty of them.

Bedrooms Galore.

Mountstuart, one of the Marquess of Bute's three Scottish seats, which cost over two million pounds to build, covers an acre of ground, and has 150 rooms. And yet it is small compared with Raby Castle in Durham which spreads its bulk over the area and counts its rooms far into the second hundred.

Audley End in Esesx, one of Lord Braybrook's three seats, is so large, that when some years ago a weaving company proposed to convert it into a factory they found its size so formidable that they withdrew their offer. And Petworth House, Lord Beaconfield's Sussex Home, has a frontage of 322 feet and numbers its rooms to well over a hundred.

Castle Howard, one of Lord Carlisle's homes, is credited with so many bedrooms that it would be possible to sleep in a different one every night for three months, while its total number of rooms is 125. And Eaton Hall, the Duke of Westminster's Cheshire Palace, is so vast that one of its corridors is 472 feet in length.

Room 101 Feet Long.

It has been said and probably with truth that Welbeck Abbey, one of the Duke of Portland's fine princely homes, with its acres of rooms above and underground, could provide comfortable accomodation for half a hundred families. And Wynyard Park, Lord Londonderry's seat at Stockton-on-Tees, has a length of 100 yards, and includes one room 101 feet long. In this one room there is abundant room for twenty families, in addition to that of His Lordship.

And these are but a few of the palatial homes owned and many of them seldom occupied by our peers.

At the same time it is only fair to say that it is difficult to see how these great places could be put to any practical uses even were their owners willing to hand them over to the public.

Most of them at any rate are situated in such remote districts that they would be of little use to those who have to work to live.

STATEMENT FROM MAYOR MACBRIDE

The appended interview was forwarded to the Examiner by Mayor MacBride of Brantford, who has been accused of bolting from the new coalition party:

"Not on your life," said Mayor MacBride, when asked if he would sit on the opposition side of the Legislature. "That is merely a brain storm on the part of litle Jimmy. I never said anything about going over to the opposition. You will find me for taking up every good piece of legislation that the Government may bring down. I have every respect for Mr. Drury, and sincerely hope that his Government will prove successful. He will get just as much co-operation from me as from any man in the Legislature. I have spent too much time in public life, and have been connected with sports altogether too long, to ever become a 'sore head.' My difference with the Conference was entirely on the one point, namely, that Mr. Drury be allowed to name Labor's other representative in the Cabinet. That, in my mind, is not co-operation, but subservance, and just as Mr. Drury desires to keep inviolate his honor to the U.F.O., so I also desire to retain my honor to Labor."

"If it was right for Labor to name Mr. Rollo for one Cabinet position, why is it not right that the other position should be filled in the same way. I was one of the committee of two entrusted to conduct negotiations, and was certainly not speaking for myself, but simply doing what I have done throughout all the Conferences, arguing for the rights of Labor. We would have got along much better had it not been for the interference by two gentlemen, who kept running back and forward, taking a very active part in each Conference in turn. The Press reports will show that one man in particular, had more to say both in the Farmers' convention and in the Labor convention, than all the others put together, and he was a defeated candidate at that, and Labor will soon realize its mistake, if he is permitted to continue his domination of our conventions."

"Jack Macdonald, John Vick, Joe Marks, Miss MacNabb, Mrs. Singer, George Marcrow, Mr. Cunningham, Sergt. Macnamara, Frank Greenlaw, Charles Swazie, H. H. Mills, F. Keenan, T. Tooms, Mayor Crawford, John Scott, Dr. Hett, and most of the others who attended, are all sincerely anxious to help along in the Labor movement. They could not know that through out the giant Conferences, of the committee of eleven, I had insisted upon that one point of co-operaiton and not coalition, and that the very basis of our agreement with the Farmers was being violated when Mr. Drury gained the point. I have always been ready to do my part, to promote the best interests of Labor; have given my services freely in a public way, all over the Province. At the present time, I have requests from a score or more industrial cities, asking me to address them on the aims and objects of the I.L.P. Those engagements shall all be filled. My difference on the important point ah to coalition instead of co-operation, does not in any way affect my attitude to the Labor movement. Any person who wants co-operation will find me there 100 p.c., but that is as far as I can go, and still retain my pledges to the Labor party."

RECOUNT COMMENCES IN GRENVILLE RIDING.

WILL PROBABLY TAKE TILL WEDNESDAY EVENING TO REVISE 8,500 BALLOTS.

BROCKVILLE, Nov. 4.—Shortly after one o'clock yesterday afternoon the recount in the Grenville Riding, demanded by G. Arthur Payne, U. F. O. candidate, was opened in the Registry Office in Prescott, Judge Dowsley presiding.

G. Arthur Payne and Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, who was declared elected by 105 majority, are both present, while P. K. Halpin, Prescott, and G. W. Holmes, Toronto, are appearing for Mr. Payne and H. J. and H. A. Setwart, K.C., Brockville, and A. C. Casselman, Prescott, are appearing for Mr. Ferguson. W. S. Johnston, returning officer, is also present.

There are 8,500 ballots to be gone over, and it is expected that it will be at least Wednesday evening before the recount is completed.

There are said to be 250 rejected ballots, mostly unmarked.

Will Nuxated Iron Help Men Of Today Gain Strength And Endurance Like Athletes of Old?

Physician Says "Yes"—Cites Case of Jack Dempsey, Heavyweight Champion of the World

SUPERMAN OF THE AGE

Who Used Nuxated Iron as a Part of the Training Which Gave Him Such Marvellous Physical Development that He Was Able To Whip The Mighty Jess Willard—

To every man who lacks physical strength and energy there comes a longing at times to possess the power and endurance of an athlete, yet they go on struggling through life weak, nervous and rundown, when in reality their trouble may be nothing more than lack of sufficient iron in the blood.

Had they not kept their blood rich in iron the athletes of old might never have achieved such fame, is the opinion of Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, who believes that modern men who are fagged out by worry, work and other strains might readily build up their strength, energy and endurance by increasing the supply of iron in their blood.

As an example of the superb physical condition that may be obtained by a man of today who follows proper methods of living and who keeps his blood filled with strength-giving iron, Dr. Sullivan cites the case of Jack Dempsey, who used Nuxated Iron as a part of the training which gave him such marvelous development that he is now recognized as the Superman of the Age and perhaps the superior of any famous athlete of ancient times. In connection with his use of Nuxated Iron, Dempsey says: "Nuxated Iron put added power behind my punch and helped me to accomplish what I did at Toledo. From the results in my own case, where the possession of super endurance is necessary, I feel that I am in a position to strongly recommend Nuxated Iron to every man and woman who wants to build greater strength, energy and power."

In commenting on the foregoing statement made by Dempsey, Dr. Sullivan says: "It should occur to every thinking person that if a man as physically fit as Dempsey should consider it advisable to take Nuxated Iron how much more important it is for the average man or woman to see that there is no lack of iron in the blood. In my opinion, the man of today who want to be strong, sturdy and successful must either: Eve more as did the athletes of old or else supply the iron deficiency in their blood by taking some form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron. I have used Nuxated Iron in my practice and I know of nothing more effective for building up the system and increasing the red blood corpuscles, thereby enriching and fortifying the blood against the ravages of disease."

If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day, after meals, for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance, which comes from having plenty of iron in the blood, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for lack of iron.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron which is prescribed and recommended above, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.
